10. For Moses said, Honour thy Father and thy Mother; and, Let him who curses Father or Mother be quite put to death.

11. Yet you say; If a Man shall tell Father or Mother, Whatsoever thou mightest be profited with by me is Corban, that is a Gift;

12. You then permit him no more to do any Thing for his Father or his Mother:

13. Repealing the Word of God with your Tradition which you have delivered; and many such like Things you do.

14. Moreover he called thither all the Company, and said to them; Hear me, all, and understand:

15. There is Nothing without a Man that enters into him, which can pollute him; but the Things which come out from him, are those that pollute a Man.

16. If any one has Ears to hear, let him hear.

17. And when he was entered into the House from the Company, his Disciples asked him concerning the Similitude.

18. Whereupon he says to them; Are you also so simple? Do not you understand, that every Thing without which enters into a Man, cannot pollute him?

19. Because it does not enter into his Heart, but into the Belly, and goes out into the Vault, which purges all Meat.

20. But continued he; What goes out of a Man, that pollutes him.

21. For from within out of the Heart of Man evil Reasonings go, Adulteries, Whoredoms, Slaughters,

22. Thefts, Covetings, Spite, Deceit, Wantonness, a spiteful Look, Blasphemy, Pride, Folly:

23. All these wicked Things go out from within, and pollute a Man.

24. Afterwards he rose up, and went away thence into the Limits of Tyre and Sidon; and entering into a House, he would have Nobody know, but could not be concealed.

25. For a Woman whose little Daughter had an unclean Spirit, hearing about him, came, and fell down at his Feet;

26. (Now the Woman was a Greek, by Race from Syro-phenicia) and she intreated

Ver. 2. that is] without a Parenthesis as at Ver. 11.

Ib. they found fault] A few Copies and Versions not having this, Mills reports that Somebody inconveniently put it in to finish the Sentence, which was perfect enough before, Pr. 1196, but it does not appear to me that it would join well with verba next, Ver. 5. without, and certainly not with καὶ for, Ver. 3. Whitby strangely has, as elsewhere, that it is only wanting in the Ethiop.

Ver. 3. rightly] It is uncertain how this was, and therefore I translate according as in Psa. xx. 3. Theophylact expounds it to be up to the Elbow, Hammond up to the Wrist, Beza by rubbing the Hands together, the Vulg. often, others accurately, the Word being only here.

Ver. 4. Jugs] Pots being too vague a Word. It is said to have held about a Pint and half.

Ib. Beds] so rendered every where else by our Translators and in Ver. 30. of this Chap.

Ver. 5. not washed] A few have polluted, whence Grot. and Mills think this fetched from Ver. 2. as a Comment; but surely polluted would not have needed it here, when it was there.

Ver. 6. answer] The Coptick Transf. with three or four others omitting the Word for this, Mills ascribes it to Mat. xv. 3. but, the Copt. has it not there neither.

Ver. 8. the Washing] here being no more [as] than in Ver. 4.

Ver. 9. also said] put foremost by Matthew, Chap. 15.

Ib. effectually] The Addition (for such it is, tho' not marked in the com. Transf.) of full augments the Force of well, which requires to be alleviated.

Ver. 14. all the Company] Some have again for all, the Gr. Words being not very different; which Mills in his Wont would justify, as if this all was made from the other that follows; by Somebody after, Pr. 403, 404.

Ver. 16. This Verse Mills says he very much suspected, Pr. 1475. though he found it lacking only in a single Copy and a Version.

Ver. 19. which] namely the Action of going out.

Ver. 22. Spite] as I render it Rom. i. 29. where see the Note.

Ib. spiteful Look] The Term being general in Gr. as wicked as in Eng. seems rather directed by its own Substantive here before, than by that in Mat. xx. 15.

Ib. Look] rather than Eye, to come out of the Heart.

Ver. 25. little] as Ch. 5. 23. this Gr. Word being only in these two Places.

him, that he would expel the Devil out of her Daughter.

27. But Jesus said to her, Permit the Children first to be filled: for it is not well to take the Children's Bread, and throw to Puppies.

28. Yet she made answer to him, Yes, Lord; forasmuch as Puppies underneath the Table eat of the Boys Crumbs.

29. And Jesus replied to her, For this Saying go: the Devil is gone out of thy Daughter.

30. Accordingly she going away into her House, found the Devil gone out, and her Daughter put on the Bed.

31. And again going out of the Borders of Tyre and Sidon, he came to the Sea of Galilee, through the midst of the Borders of Decapolis.

32. Where they bring to him a deaf Man; who could hardly speak; and besought him, that he would put the Hand on him.

33. So he took him away from the Company privately, and thrust his Fingers into his Ears; as also spitting, touched his Tongue.

34. Besides looking up to Heaven, he groaned, and says to him, Ephphatha, that is be opened.

35. When presently his Ears were opened, and the Bond of his Tongue was let loose, and he spoke rightly.

36. He notwithstanding commanded them, that they should tell Nobody; yet so much as he commanded them, the more abundantly they proclaimed it.

37. And they were surprized above measure, saying, He has done all Things well; he both makes the Deaf hear, and the Dumb speak.

C H A P. VIII.

IN those Days the Company being very much, and not having any Thing to eat,

Jesus called thither his Disciples, and says to them;

2. I am moved with Affection to the Company, because they have remained with me now three Days, and have Nothing to eat;

3. And if I should send them away fasting home, they will be faint in the Way: for some of them came far off.

4. At which his Disciples answered him, Whence can any one fill these here with Bread in the Wilderness?

5. And he asked them, How many Loaves have you? To which they said, Seven.

6. So he ordered the Company to sit down on the Ground. Next he took the seven Loaves, and giving thanks, broke, and gave to his Disciples, that they might set them; which they did before the Company.

7. They had likewise a few little Fishes, and blessing, he bade to set these also before them.

8. With that they eat, and were filled; nay they took up of the Fragments that were over and above seven Baskets.

9. Now those who eat were about four thousand; at last he sent them away.

10. And presently going into a Ship with his Disciples, he came into the Parts of Dalmanutha.

11. Where the Pharisees came out, and began to query with him, and sought a Sign of him from Heaven, tempting him.

12. Upon this he groaned deeply in his Spirit, and says; Why does this Generation seek for a Sign? I tell you certainly, There shall not a Sign be given to this Generation.

13. Thus he left them, and going again into the Ship, went away to the farther Side.

14. Moreover they had forgot to take Bread, and had none with themselves in the Ship, excepting one Loaf.

15. And he commanded them as follows, See, beware of the Leaven of the Pharisees, and that of Herod.

Ver. 31. and Sidon, he came] for which some have, he came by or through Sidon; which might not be worth minding, did not Mills vindicate it, and his Opinion without Proof advances it but little, Prel. 404. which the learned Saubert also confutes, as contrary to Mat. xv. 24. in Proleg. Var. Lest. there; nor does it appear that was the Way to the Sea of Galilee.

Ib. Decapolis] which by this Ver. evidently lay on the west Side of the Sea here mentioned, as likewise by Mat. iv. 25. but by Mar. v. 1, 20, 21. on the east Side, being also a Matter of Controversy among Writers; to be decided, I suppose by its lying on both Sides, and round the north End of that Sea; see of it Whitby in the Table of Places. N. B. it signifies ten Cities.

Ver. 34. Ephphatha] which in the Syriack Imper. of the Conjug. libphal would be Eibphetha, so changed by Dialect, and originally from the Chaldee phetbah; which the Reader may not have met with elsewhere.

Ver. 2. Days] divers have in another Case, and some at Mat. xv. 32. to be thus (it is or there are understood) now three Days; they have remained with me; in no different Sense, and Mills thought was the right Reading, Prolegom. 1343, 1468. but it might be made so by reason of its Position there in Gr. or by the Mistake of for and, and seems too much forced, as it is without the Verb-substantive.

Ver. 12. his] is but an Exposition according to Mills, who has multiplied such in Opposition to the com. Reading.

Ib. not] in the Manner of the Jewish Attestations, or as in Luke xix. 42. & xxii. 42: where it is also thus rendered in the com. Transl.

16. Therefore they reasoned thus one to another, It is because we have no Bread.

17. And Jesus knowing, says to them; Why do ye reason, because you have no Bread? Do ye not yet understand, nor mind? Have ye your Heart still hardened?

18. Having Eyes, do ye not see? And having Ears, do ye not hear? And do ye not remember?

19. When I broke the five Loaves to the five thousand, how many Baskets full of Fragments did you take up? They answer him, Twelve.

20. When the seven also to four thousand, how many Baskets full of Fragments did you take up? And they answered, Seven.

21. He said further to them, How do ye not mind?

22. At length he comes into Bethsaida, and the People bring a blind Man to him, and besought him that he would touch him.

23. And taking hold of the blind Man by the Hand, he brought him out without the Town; and when he had spit in his Eyes, and put the Hands on him, he asked him whether he saw any Thing.

24. Whereupon looking up, he said, I see Men as Trees walking.

25. Afterwards he put the Hands again upon his Eyes, and made him look up; when he was restored, and saw all clearly.

26. Next he sent him away to his House, saying, Neither enter into the Village, nor tell any one in it.

27. Jesus too went out, and his Disciples, into the Villages of Cesarea Philippi; and in the Way he asked his Disciples in this manner, Who do Men say that I am?

28. And they answered, John the Baptist; some, Elias; and others, One of the Prophets.

29. He then enquires of them, But who do ye say that I am? And Peter makes answer to him, Thou art Christ.

30. However he charged them, that they should speak to Nobody concerning him.

31. Besides he began to teach them, that the Man must suffer many Things, and be rejected by the Elders, chief Priests and Scribes, as also be killed, and three Days after arise.

32. And he spoke the Saying so boldly, that Peter took him aside, and began to rebuke him.

33. But he turned about, and looking at his Disciples, rebuked Peter as follows, Be gone behind me, Satan; since thou dost not mind the Things of God, but those of Men.

34. And calling thither the Company, with his Disciples, he said to them; Let him who would come after me deny himself, and take up his Cross, and follow me.

35. For whoever would save his Life, will lose it; but whoever shall lose his Life for my sake and the Gospel's, he will save it.

36. For what Profit will it be to a Man, if he should gain the whole World, and suffer the loss of his Soul?

37. Or what shall a Man give for the Exchange of his Soul?

38. For whoever shall be ashamed of me and my Words, in this adulterous and sinful Generation, the Man too will be ashamed of him, when he comes in the Glory of his Father with the holy Angels.

C H A P. IX.

HE also said to them, I tell you certainly, that there are some of them that stand here, who will not at all taste Death, until they see the Kingdom of God come in Power.

2. And after six Days Jesus takes Peter, and James, with John, and brings them up on a high Mountain privately alone; where he was transformed before them:

3. So that his Cloaths became glittering, very white like Snow, such as no Fuller on the Earth can whiten.

4. Moreover Elias appeared to them with Moses, and were talking with Jesus.

5. And Peter expresses himself thus to Jesus, Rabbi, it is well that we should be here; and let us make three Tabernacles, one for thee, one for Moses, and one for Elias.

Ver 16. one to another] not as in Mat. xvi. 8.

Ver. 22. he comes] by a few they come, which passes with Mills for authentick, and to have been changed into ours, because of the following they bring. Weak Conjecture!

Ver. 25. made him look up] In two Copies and the vulg. Lat. he began to look up: this Mills puts his Approbation to, and says Chrysostome and Victor. Antioch. confirm it; which is giving them a strange Authority.

Ver. 31. three Days after] that is the third Day, as in Ch. ix. 31. Mat. xvi. 21. &c.

Ver. 32. aside] coherent with his turning about to his Disciples, and Peter being then behind him, Ver. 33. but how unintelligible is took alone?

Ver. 34. come] Divers have follow, Mills supposes rightly, and says come is of Mat. Pr. 675. viz. Ch. xvi. 24. he having before remarked that it is follow in Ch. x. 38. so that one might have thought here would not have been an Alteration to either; yet an Alteration there is, and thus attended with Difficulty. However as Mark himself kept much to the Words of Mat. when he made no Addition, we may suppose him here following the Expression that is most like his own, and that was in the same Order of the History, which is that in Ch. xvi.

Ver. 2. takes] Here is no more [with him] than in Mat. xvii. 1. Luke ix. 28.

6. For he did not know what to speak, since they were terrified.

7. Besides there was a Cloud overshadowing them; and a Voice came out of the Cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son; hear him.

8. And suddenly looking about, they saw none any more, but Jesus only with themselves.

9. Now as they came down from the Mountain, he commanded them that they should tell Nobody the Things they saw, except when the Man should arise from the Dead.

10. And they retained the Saying with themselves, so as to dispute together what the arising from the Dead was.

11. With that they thus asked him, Why do the Scribes say, that Elias must come first?

12. And he made answer to them; Elias indeed will come first, and restore all Things; nay there will be so as it is written of the Man, that he will suffer many Things, and be contemned.

13. But I say to you, that even Elias has come (and they did to him whatever they would) as it is written of him.

14. And coming to the Disciples, he saw a great Company about them, and the Scribes disputing with them.

15. When presently all the Company seeing him, were astonished, as also ran thither, and saluted him.

16. Upon this he asked the Scribes, What are you disputing with them?

17. At which one of the Company made answer; Master, I have brought to thee my Son, that has a dumb Spirit.

18. And where-ever it takes him, it tears him; insomuch that he foams, and gnashes his Teeth, and wastes away: so I told thy Disciples, that they might expel it, and they were not able.

19. But he makes answer to him, O unbelieving Generation, how long shall I be with you? How long shall I bear with you? Bring him to me.

20. Accordingly they brought him to him; and when he saw him, presently the Spirit tore him; so that he fell on the Ground, and rolled about, foaming.

21. He further asked his Father, How long ago is it since this came to pass on him? And he said, From Childhood.

22. Nay often it has also thrown him into the Fire, and into the Water, that it might destroy him; but if thou canst do any Thing, help us, and be moved with Compassion for us.

23. And Jesus said to him, If thou canst believe it, all Things may be to him who believes.

24. Upon which the Father of the Lad presently crying out, said with Tears, I believe, Lord, help my Unbelief.

25. And Jesus seeing that the Company ran together, rebuked the unclean Spirit, saying to it, O dumb and deaf Spirit, I bid thee, do thou come out of him, and enter into him no more.

26. Therefore crying out, and tearing him much, it came out; and he became as it were dead, so that many said, He is dead.

27. But Jesus took hold of him by the Hand, and raised him up; so that he arose.

28. Afterwards he being entered into the House, his Disciples asked him privately, Why could not we expel him?

29. And he answered them, This Kind can come forth by Nothing, but by Prayer and Fasting.

30. At length going forth thence, they

Ver. 10. dispute] The King's Translators have not put one with another to this Verb, as Part of it, any where else, and but once together, Ch. xii. 28. tho' the Word is used ten times, and here Ver. 14, 16.

1b. the arising] viz. that of Jesus, which he spoke of; but Somebody to make it plainer it seems altered the Words thus, as three or four Books have them, what it was, when he should arise from the Dead; which Mills nevertheless sets over the common. But who would have made the personal Verb impersonal for the sake of Obscurity? Nay so much that Mills himself did not understand it, but took it for the Resurrection in general.

Ver. 11. Why] The Gr. Particle being very unusual in the Meaning of this, see the Proof of it in Whitby's Annotations.

Ver. 12. restore] fut. like Mat. xvii. 11.

1b. there will be] which is only the Verb-substantive, so frequently understood in Scripture, and needful here to make the Expression intelligible as well as proper. One may perceive our Translators introduced it with told, to make this Part oblique, and not the direct Words of Christ, but the following in the next Verse shew they were the latter.

Ver. 13. as it is written of him] viz. that he should come, Mal. iv. 5. but not the other, which therefore should be in a Parenthesis, as divers more Members of Sentences; and for this read Whitby, with Charles le Cene's French Essay for a new Transl. printed 1696, translated by Hugh Ross, Part 1. 1701, Ch. 7.

Ver. 16. the Scribes] This Mills denies, as a few have them, which he interprets to be the Disciples; when it is plain they were the Scribes, Ver. 14.

Ver. 19. to him] or to it. However I be with you, that is also in Mat. xvii. 17. Luke ix. 41. seems most suitable to the Disciples, and unbelieving Mat. xvii. 17. with their Unbelief, Ver. 20. notwithstanding Guyse labours so hard with a Note in each Book, among so few that he has in his Practical Exposition, printed 1739, to shew these were the Scribes, &c.

Ver. 20. tore] A Copy or two for λωράζαν have ἐδάξαν, and so the vul. Lat. troubled.

Ver. 23. it] τὸ in Gr. the neut. Article as if to or for the Thing, which Deza expounds for this. What Doddr.

went along through Galilee; which he was not willing that any one should know.

31. For he taught his Disciples, and said to them, The Man is delivered up into the Power of Men, who will kill him; and being killed, he will arise the third Day.

32. Yet they did not understand the Saying, and were afraid to ask him.

33. And he came into Capernaum, where being in a House, he asked them, What did you reason with your selves in the Way?

34. Whereas they were silent: for they had reasoned with one another in the Way, who should be greatest.

35. And sitting down, he called the twelve, and says to them, If any one would be first, he shall be the last of all, and Waiting-man to all.

36. He also took a little Child, and set him in the midst of them; then taking him in the Arms, said to them,

37. Whoever shall receive one of such little Children in my Name, receives me; and whoever shall receive me, does not properly receive me, but him who sent me.

38. But John made him answer, Teacher, we saw Somebody expelling Devils in thy Name, who did not follow us; and we forbade him, because he did not.

39. However Jesus said: Do not forbid him; for there is none who shall do a powerful Thing in my Name, can also quickly speak ill of me.

40. For he that is not against us, is for us.

41. For whoever shall give you to drink a Cup of Water in my Name, because you are Christ's, I tell you certainly, will not at all lose his Reward.

42. Whoever too shall offend one of the little ones that believe in me, better would it be for him, if a Millstone were put about his Neck, and he thrown into the Sea.

43. Nay if thy Hand should offend thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter a Cripple into Life, than having the two Hands, to go away into Hell, into unextinguishable Fire:

44. Where their Worm does not die, nor is the Fire quenched.

45. Thus if thy Foot should offend thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter into Life lame, than having the two Feet, to be thrown into Hell, into unextinguishable Fire:

46. Where their Worm does not die, nor is the Fire quenched.

47. As likewise if thy Eye should offend thee, pluck it out: it is better for thee to enter into the Kingdom of God with one Eye, than having two Eyes to be thrown into Hell Fire.

48. Where their Worm does not die, nor is the Fire quenched.

49. For every one will be salted with Fire, and every Sacrifice be salted with Salt.

50. Salt is good; but if Salt become fresh, with what will you season that? Have Salt in your selves, and be at peace among one another.

Ver. 34. in the Way] Three Copies, and no more, being without this, Mills does not stick to say there is Nobody but sees it is repeated (that is taken) from the last Verse, Pro. 1344. but answers Whitby, there is Nobody but sees it ought to be repeated.

Ver. 38. because he did not] which reads heavy in the com. Transf. while our Language has a peculiar Advantage of expressing Repetitions by the Signs of the Verbs, as I rather call them than Auxiliaries. A few have left this out, through some Offence at the Repetition, as Mills quotes Erasmus saying well; yet he himself afterwards in his Prof. N^o 407. says it is Luke's; but how much better according to his own Maxim, did Luke follow Mark.

Ver. 39. quickly] lightly wrong, or at least obscure.

Ver. 49. every one] Expositors are divided in ascribing this former Part of the Verse, some to the Bad, and some (as all do the latter Part) to the Good. Hammond ingeniously, and as it may be allowed rightly, compares the two to Burnt-offerings and salted Oblations, yet is a principal Promoter of the first Opinion, not considering enough perhaps that Burnt-offerings were for a good Use as well as the other; and Fire here, tho' the Term might be taken from the other in Ver. 48. may denote the Suffering of cutting off the Hand or Foot, and plucking out the Eye, as the main Subject of the Matter before; besides for the other Notion one might expect [but] between; of Fire also in this Sense see 1 Cor. iii. 13, 15. 1 Pet. iv. 12. Mal. iii. 2, 3. and the Geneva Note.

Ver. 1. through] which by very obscurely expresses, and rather denotes near by; and that is not the Meaning, as Beza shews.

Ver. 2. coming] One bad Copy alone being without it, Mills says it is of Mat. xix. 3. even though not the same there.

3. And he made answer to them, What did Moses command you?

4. To which they said, Moses permitted to write a Bill of Divorce, and to send away.

5. Again Jesus made answer to them; For the Hardness of your Heart he wrote you that Commandment.

6. But at the Beginning of the Creation, God made them Male and Female.

7. For this cause let a Man forsake his Father and Mother, that he may cleave to his Wife;

8. Since the two shall be one Flesh. So that they are no more two, but one Flesh:

9. What God therefore has yoked together, let not Man separate.

10. And in the House his Disciples asked him again concerning it.

11. Whereupon he says to them; Whosoever shall send away his Wife, and marry another, commits Adultery against her.

12. If a Woman likewise shall send away her Husband, and be married to another, she commits Adultery.

13. Next they brought little Children to him, that he might touch them; but the Disciples rebuked the Bringers.

14. Whereas Jesus seeing, was much displeased, and said to them; Permit little Children to come to me, and do not forbid them: for the Kingdom of God is of such.

15. I tell you certainly, Whosoever shall not receive the Kingdom of God as a little Child, will not at all enter into it.

16. So taking them in the Arms, he put Hands on them, and blessed them.

17. Afterwards he went forth into the Road, and Somebody ran thither, and kneeling down to him, asked him, Good Master, what shall I do, that I may inherit everlasting Life?

18. To whom Jesus said? Why dost thou call me good? None is good, excepting one, even God.

19. Thou knowest the Commandments: Thou shalt not commit Adultery, thou shalt not murder, thou shalt not steal, thou shalt not give Evidence falsely, thou shalt not wrong, honour thy Father and Mother.

20. And he made answer to him, Master, all these Things I have observed from my Youth.

21. Now Jesus looking on him, loved him, and replied to him, There is one Thing wanting to thee: go, sell whatever thou hast, and give to the Poor, and thou wilt have Treasure in Heaven; and come, follow me, taking up the Cross.

22. But he was sad at the Saying, and went away sorry: for he was one who had many Possessions.

23. Therefore Jesus looked about, and says to his Disciples, How difficult will it be for those who have Wealth to enter into the Kingdom of God!

24. Whereas the Disciples wondered at his Words: but Jesus made answer again to them; Children, how difficult it is for those who trust in Wealth to enter into the Kingdom of God!

25. It is easier for a Camel to go through the Eye of a Needle, than for a rich Person to enter into that Kingdom.

26. Which they were surprized at exceeding much, saying with themselves, Then who can be saved?

27. However Jesus looking on them, replies, With Men it is impossible, yet not with God: for with God all Things are possible.

28. Upon this Peter began to say to him, Behold we have left all, and followed thee.

29. And Jesus made answer; I tell you certainly, There is Nobody who has left House, Brothers, Sisters, Father, Mother, Wife, Children, or Land, for the sake of me and the Gospel;

30. But that will receive a hundred-fold now at this Time, Houses, Brothers, Sisters, Mothers, Children, and Land, with Persecutions, and in the Age hereafter everlasting Life.

31. But many first will be the last, and last the first.

32. Now they were in the Way, going up to Jerusalem, and Jesus was going along before them, who wondered, and as they followed, were afraid; when Jesus took the twelve again, and began to tell them the Things that would come to pass on him;

33. Behold we are going up to Jerusalem, and the Man will be delivered up to the chief Priests and Scribes; and they will condemn him to Death, as likewise deliver him up to the Gentiles ;

Ver. 29. Wife] Mills seems well to observe, this is left out with some by means of the or repeated.

34. Who will mock him, whip him, spit on him, and kill him ; and the third Day he will rise up.

35. After this there come to him James and John, the Sons of Zebedee, saying, Master, we would have thee to do for us whatsoever we shall ask.

36. And he said to them, What would you have me do for you ?

37. Whom they answered, Grant that we may sit, one at thy right Hand, and one at thy left, in thy Glory.

38. But Jesus replied to them, You know not what you ask : can you drink the Cup which I drink, and be baptized with the Baptism that I am baptized with ?

39. However they told him, We can. Jesus then said to them, You will indeed drink the Cup which I drink, and be baptized with the Baptism that I am baptized with ;

40. Nevertheless to sit at my right Hand, and at my left, is not mine to give ; but is for whom it is prepared.

41. This when the ten heard, they began to be enraged at James and John.

42. But Jesus calling them thither, says to them, You know that those thought to be the chief of the Gentiles rule over them, and their Grandees have authority above them.

43. Yet it shall not be so among you ; but whosoever would become great among you, shall be your Waiting-man :

44. And whoever would become the first of you, shall be the Servant of all.

45. For even the Man is not come to be waited on, but to wait on, nay give his Life a Redemption for many.

46. At length they come to Jericho ; from whence as he went forth, with his Disciples, and much Company, blind Bartimeaus, the Son of Timeaus, sat by the Way begging.

47. And when he heard that it was Jesus the Nazorite, he began to cry out in this manner, O Son of David, Jesus, have mercy upon me.

48. Many therefore rebuked him, that he should be silent ; but he cried out much the more, Son of David, have mercy upon me.

49. And Jesus standing still, ordered he should be called ; accordingly they call the blind Man, saying to him, Take courage, rise up ; he calls thee.

50. Upon which he threw away his Garment, and arising, came to Jesus.

51. Who made answer to him, What wouldest thou have me do to thee ? The blind Man then said to him, Rabboni, that I may have sight.

52. So Jesus replied to him, Go ; thy Faith has made thee well ; when presently he had sight, and followed Jesus in the Way.

C H A P. XI.

AND when they were come near Jerusalem, to Bethphage and Bethany, at the Mount of Olives, he sends two of his Disciples,

2. To whom he says ; Go to the Village opposite to you, and presently entering into it, you will find a Colt tied, upon which no Man has sat ; him undo, and bring.

3. And if any one says to you, Why do ye this ? answer, The Lord has Need of him ; so he will presently send him hither.

4. Accordingly they went away, and found a Colt tied to a Door without at a double Way ; and they undid him.

5. Whereupon some of those who stood there said to them, What are you at in undoing the Colt ?

6. But they answered these as Jesus bade them ; so they let them go.

7. Thus they brought the Colt to Jesus, and cast their Cloaths on him ; and he sat upon him.

8. Moreover many spread their Cloaths along in the Way ; as also others cut off Boughs out of the Trees, and spread there.

9. They likewise that went before and followed, cried out thus ; Pray save, he is blessed who comes in the Name of the Lord.

Ver. 35. saying] by their Mother, as their Mouth, Mat. xx. 20. Whit. but both in his Paraph. and Annot. it stands as the Exposition of come to him.

Ver. 42. those thought] left out by Wesley.

Ver. 43. among you] The latter Mills imagines to be made from the former, though not with the least Countenance of any single Copy or Transf. If the Scripture throughout was to be pared away, at this Rate, it might look like some modern Composition, and next be taken for such.

Ver. 46. Bartimeaus] The most remarkable of the two I suppose in Mat. xx. 30.

Ver. 51. Rabboni] as in John xx. 16. the two Places where it is ; and Syr. from the Chal. Ribbon, I suppose.

Ver. 1. to Bethphage] repudiated by our Adilis ; but in Mat. xxi. 8. & Luke xix. 29. then see on Ch. v. 22.

Ver. 3. answer, The Lord] By the Pointing and capital Letters in the Gr. here and Luke xix. 31. the Expressions are direct, as thus rendered, without that or because, but in Mat. xxi. 3. oblique with that ; notwithstanding the King's Translators have so varied from it in each.

10. The Kingdom of our Father David which comes in the Name of the Lord is blessed; pray save be to him that is in the highest Places.

11. At length Jesus entered into Jerusalem, and into the Temple, and when he had looked round at all Things, it being now the Evening Hour, he went forth into Bethany with the twelve.

12. The next Day also they coming out from Bethany, he was hungry.

13. When seeing a Fig-tree far off, that had Leaves, he came, if indeed he might find any Thing on it; and coming to it, he found Nothing but Leaves, since it was not a Time of Figs.

14. So Jesus spoke in this manner to it, Let none eat Fruit from thee any more for ever: which his Disciples heard.

15. They also come into Jerusalem; and Jesus entering into the Temple, began to put forth them who sold and bought in the Temple; and he overthrew the Tables of the Money-changers, as likewise the Seats of those that sold Doves.

16. Nay he would not permit that any one should carry an Instrument through the Temple.

17. And he taught, saying to them; Is it not written, My House shall be called the House of Prayer for all Nations; but you have made it a Cave of Robbers.

18. Which the Scribes and chief Priests heard, and sought how they might destroy him: for they feared him, because all the Company was surprized at his Doctrine.

19. Afterwards when it was Evening, he went forth without the City.

20. And in the Morning they going by, saw the Fig-tree withered from the Roots.

21. Upon this Peter called to remembrance, and says to him, Rabbi, lo the Fig-tree which thou didst curse is withered.

22. And Jesus makes answer to them: Have Faith in God.

23. For I tell you certainly, that whoever shall say to this Mountain, Be taken away, and cast into the Sea; and shall not doubt in his Heart, but believe that the Things which he says will come to pass, there will be to him whatsoever he shall say.

24. For this reason I say to you, All Things whatever ye in praying shall ask for, believe that ye will receive, and they will be to you.

25. And when ye shall stand praying, forgive, if ye have any Thing against any one; that your Father also who is in Heaven may forgive you your Offences:

26. Whereas if ye shall not forgive, neither will your Father who is in Heaven forgive your Offences.

27. Next they come again into Jerusalem, and as he was walking in the Temple, there come to him the chief Priests, Scribes and Elders,

28. And say to him, By what Authority dost thou these Things? And who gave thee this Authority, that thou shouldest do them?

29. But Jesus made answer to them; I will also ask one Matter of you; so answer me, and I will relate to you by what Authority I do these Things:

30. Was the Baptism of John from Heaven, or from Men? Answer me.

31. And they counted thus to themselves; If we say, From Heaven; he will retort, For what reason then did not you believe him?

32. On the contrary if we say, From Men; we are those who feared the People: for they all held that John was really a Prophet.

33. So they make answer to Jesus, We do not know. And Jesus gives reply to them, Neither tell I you by what Authority I do these Things.

Ver. 10. in the Name of the Lord] is from the last Ver. Mills says; so we may think too, if we will prefer about four Copies, besides Versions, to all the rest; and it might likelier be left out by those because said before, as which comes is by four or five. Whitby on the other hand brings for it Mat. xxi. 9. & xxiii. 39. Psa. cxviii. 26. where the Reader may see this Part is not, but that in the foregoing Verse.

Ver. 11. Jesus entered] he entered by three or four. Jesus crept in, says Mills in his Note, from the Gr. Readers; but Prol. 408. he asserts it is of (other) Evangelists; why not rather of this, with a vast Majority of Copies?

Ver. 13. a Time of Figs] being not a Year for the Fig-trees bearing, as Hammond with great Judgment and Reason shews, and exposes yet which our Translators added; and tho' Whitby says it was five Months before Figs were ripe, it cannot be proved of that Tree, if of any there:

nor is that in Chap. xiii. 28. Mat. xxiv. 32. about Summer, as he says; but as it seems green Figs were early in the Spring, and so might be fit to eat at the Passover.

Ver. 17. for all] as Isa. lvi. 7. whence it is cited, and agreeable to the Gr. here.

Ver. 24. ask for] The same Verb Mat. xxi. 22.

Ver. 31. counted to] not the same as in Mat. xxi. 25. excepting in some Copies, according to Lucas Burgenfis made from thence.

C H A P. XII.

HE further began to speak to them in Similitudes: A Man planted a Vineyard, put a Hedge about it, dug a Place under the Wine-press, built a Tower, let it out to Husbandmen, and travelled away.

2. And he sent a Servant to the Husbandmen at the Time, that he might receive from them some of the Fruit of the Vineyard:

3. But they taking him, beat, and sent away empty.

4. And again he sent to them another Servant; and him they stoned, nay broke his Head, and sent away disgraced.

5. Again too he sent another; and him they killed, as likewise many others, beating indeed some, and killing some.

6. Having therefore yet one Son, his beloved, he sent him also to them the last, saying, They will reverence my Son.

7. But those Husbandmen said with themselves, This is the Heir, come, let us kill him, and the Inheritance will be ours.

8. Him accordingly they took, and killed, and threw forth without the Vineyard.

9. What therefore will the Master of the Vineyard do? He will come, and destroy the Husbandmen, and give the Vineyard to others.

10. Have you not read that Scripture, The same Stone that the Builders rejected, is become the Head of the Corner:

11. This is come to pass by the Lord, and it is wonderful in our Sight?

12. And they sought to take hold of him, but feared the Company; for they knew that he said the Similitude to them: so leaving him, they went away.

13. However they send to him some of the Pharisees and Herodians, that these might catch him in Discourse.

14. Who coming, say to him; Master, we know that thou art true, and dost not care for any: for thou lookest not at the Person of Men, but teachest in Truth the Way of God. Is it lawful to give Tribute to Cesar, or not?

15. Shall we give, or not give? But he perceiving their Hypocrisy, said to them, Why do ye tempt me? Bring me a Penny, that I may see.

16. Which they brought: and he asks them, Whose Image and Superscription is this? And they said to him, Cesar's.

17. With that Jesus made answer to them, Render Cesar's Things to Cesar, and those of God to God. And they wondered at him.

18. Next the Sadducees come to him, who say there is no Resurrection, and asked him as follows:

19. Master, Moses wrote to us, if any Man's Brother dies, and leaves a Wife, leaving no Children, that his Brother should take his Wife, and raise up Offspring for him.

20. There were then seven Brothers, and the first took a Wife, and dying, left no Offspring.

21. The second also took her, and died, neither left he Offspring; and the third likewise.

22. Nay the seven took her, and did not leave any: the last of all the Wife also died.

23. In the Resurrection therefore, when they rise, whose Wife of them will she be? For the seven had her for a Wife.

24. And Jesus made answer to them, Do ye not for this reason err, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the Power of God?

25. For when they shall rise from the Dead, they neither marry, nor are married, but are as the Angels of God who are in the Heavens.

26. And concerning the Dead, that they are raised up, have not ye read in the Book of Moses, when at the Bush God said thus to him, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?

27. He is not the God of the Dead, but the God of the Living: You therefore err much.

28. And one of the Scribes came thither, who heard them dispute together, and perceiving that he answered them well, asked him, Which is the first of all the Commandments?

Ver. 3. taking him] according to the Pointing of Mills's Edit. &c. as also Ver. 8. and left doubtful in others.

Ver. 4. stoned] not here in a small Remnant of Books, and so cast off by Mills for Matthew's; whereas Mark writing after him, does not use to lessen the Circumstances. But I had almost overlooked his great Plea, that Luke has nothing of stoning; which may shew then the Rule of his adjusting himself to Mark is not universal; neither does Luke mention breaking the head, though he comprehends both under beating.

Ver. 11. Sight?] Here seems the proper Place for the Note of Interrogation, as in Mat. xxi. 42. Luke xx. 17. though Mills has it at Scripture, as if he conformed the Original to our Translation, being supported by inaccurate Opies.

Ver. 14. Is it lawful] This and the first Part of the next Verse would have been much better in one, nay in a Verse separate both from the 14th and 15th; and that not only agreeable to the Matter, but also to the Division of Mat. xxii. 16, 17, 18. Luke xx. 21, 22, 23. and with more Reason here, as the Verse would have been longer. So saying, which ends Ver. 18. begins Mat. xxii. 24. Luke xx. 28. For the Partition of the Books of the New Testament into Verses was made of late, but not of the Old; see Prid. Connell. An. 446.

Ver. 20. then] or therefore, not now.

Ver. 27. the God] the latter several are without, and some have God at first, both as in and from Mat. xxii. 32.

29. Whom

29. Whom Jesus answered; The first of all the Commandments is, Hear, Israel, The Lord our God is one Lord.

30. And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with thy whole Heart, with thy whole Soul, with thy whole Mind, and thy whole Might; this is the first Commandment.

31. Moreover the second being alike, is this, Thou shalt love thy Neighbour as thy self. There is no other Commandment greater than these.

32. Upon which the Scribe said to him; Well, Master, thou hast said in Truth, that there is one God, and there is no other besides him.

33. And to love him with the whole Heart, with the whole Understanding, with the whole Soul, and the whole Might, as also to love a Neighbour as one's self, is more than all Burnt-offerings and Sacrifices.

34. Thus Jesus perceiving that he answered discreetly, said to him, Thou art not far from the Kingdom of God. And none any more dared to enquire of him.

35. Jesus further spoke in this manner, as he taught in the Temple; How do the Scribes say, that Christ is the Son of David?

36. For David himself said by the Holy Spirit; The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at my right Hand, until I make thy Enemies thy Footstool.

37. David himself therefore pronounces him Lord, whence then is he his Son? And a great Company heard him gladly.

38. Besides he said to them in his Doctrine; Beware of the Scribes, that like to walk in Robes, and love Salutations in the Markets,

39. As likewise the first Seats in the Synagogues, with the first Places at Suppers;

40. Who devour Widows Houses, and pray long in Pretence: these will receive more abundant Judgment.

41. Jesus also sitting opposite to the Treasury, saw how the Company put Money into it; and many rich Persons put in much.

42. And one poor Widow coming, put in two Mites, which is a Farthing.

43. Whereupon he called thither his Disciples, and says to them; I tell you certainly; that this poor Widow has put in more than they all who put into the Treasury.

44. For they all put in out of their Abundance; whereas she out of her Want put in all that ever she had, her whole Livelihood.

C H A P. XIII.

AFTERWARDS he going out of the Temple, one of his Disciples says to him, Master, see what sort of Stones, and what sort of Buildings there are!

2. And Jesus made answer to him, Dost thou see these great Buildings? One Stone will not be left at all upon another, which will not be quite demolished.

3. He also sitting down on the Mount of Olives, opposite to the Temple, Peter, James, John, and Andrew asked him privately,

4. Tell us, when will these Things be, and what the Sign when they are all hereafter to be finished?

5. At this Jesus answering them, began to say: Beware that none may seduce you.

6. For many will come in my Name saying, I am Christ; and will seduce many.

7. Besides when you hear of Wars, and News of Wars, be not troubled: for they must come to pass, but the End not yet.

8. For one Nation will rise up against another, and one Kingdom against another; and there will be Earthquakes throughout the Places, as there will also Famines and Troubles: these will be the Beginning of Pangs.

9. But look to your selves: for they will deliver you up to the Councils, and to the Synagogues; you will be beat, and before Governors and Kings will be set for my sake, for Evidence to them.

10. Yet the Gospel must first be preached in all Nations.

11. However when they have you along, delivering you up, be not careful before what you shall speak, nor study; but whatsoever is

Ver. 29. our] Four Versions and a Copy or two having thy, it seemed to Mills to be so at first, hence he writes that our is an Amendment from Deut. vi. 4. Prol. 1197. An Amendment indeed!

Ver. 32. God] Mills thinks is not express'd, only understood, in the genuine Reading, Prol. 1097, 1098, 1101. 'tis true a pretty many MSS. are without it, but there is so much curtailing (more than adding) that it might be so here, and this Word seems necessary.

Ver. 42. which is] i. e. which Money or Sum is, the Gr. Article and Verb being both singular.

Ver. 8. and Troubles] Mills says is of some Glossarist, not St. Mark, and was put in the Marg. to Earthquakes, then at length taken into the Text in a wrong Place. O frightful! what inspired Scripture then is this! Troubles also to be the Interpretation of Earthquakes, as a Gloss is! But let my Reader partake of my Comfort, that these Things have no Proof, and are quite too improbable for Realities. Whitby says Nothing of this.

Ver. 9. to the Synagogues] as to the Councils, and according to the approved Pointing.

Ib. set] being so in the Gr. and different from that in Mat. x. 18. Luke xxi. 12.

Ver. 11. study] Our Translators turn it meditate, 1 Tim. iv. 15. without pre, which the Gr. Word does not signify.

given you the same Hour, speak that : for you are not they who speak, but it is the Holy Spirit.

12. And a Brother will deliver up the Brother to Death, as likewise a Father the Child ; Children too will rise up at the Parents, and cause them to be put to death.

13. Nay you will be hated by all for my Name ; but he who perseveres to the End, shall be saved.

14. And when you see the abominable Thing of Desolation, spoken of by the Prophet Daniel, stand where it should not (let him who reads understand) then let those in Judea flee to the Mountains ;

15. Let him too on the House-top not come down into the House, nor enter in, to take any Thing out of his House ;

16. And let him that is in the Field not return back to take his Garment.

17. Wo also will be to them who are with Child, and to such as give suck in those Days.

18. But pray that your Flight may not be in the Winter.

19. For on those Days will be such Affliction, as there has not been from the Beginning of the Creation which God created till now, nor will be at all.

20. And if the Lord did not shorten the Days, no Flesh would be saved ; whereas for the sake of the chosen ones whom he chose, he has shortened the Days.

21. And then if any one shall say to you, Behold here is Christ, or behold there ; do not believe.

22. For false Christs and false Prophets will rise up, and give Signs and Wonders ; to the seducing away, if possible, even the chosen ones.

23. But do ye beware : behold I have foretold you all the Things.

24. Whereas in those Days, after that Affliction, the Sun will be darkened, the Moon not give its Light,

25. The Stars of Heaven will be falling, and the Powers in the Heavens be shaken.

26. And then will they see the Man come in the Clouds, with much Power and Glory.

27. Then also he will send his Angels, and gather together his chosen ones from the four Winds, from the End of the Earth to that of Heaven.

28. Moreover learn a Similitude from the Fig-tree ; When its Branch is now tender, and sprouts forth Leaves, you know that Summer is near :

29. So also when you see these Things come to pass, know that it is near at the Doors.

30. I say to you certainly, that this Generation will by no means pass away, till all these Things are done.

31. Heaven and Earth will pass away, but my Words will not at all.

32. Nevertheless concerning that Day and Hour none knows, not the Angels in Heaven, nor the Son, but the Father.

33. Beware, watch and pray : for you know not when the Time is.

34. It being as a Man who travelled away, and leaving his Family, gave Authority to his Servants, and to each his Work, in particular commanded the Porter that he should watch.

35. Watch therefore (for you know not when the Master of the Family comes, at Evening ; Midnight, Cock-crowing, or in the Morning)

36. Lest he should come suddenly, and find you asleep.

37. Nay what I say to you, I say to all, Watch.

Ib. but it is the Holy Spirit] Whitby says, *From this and Luke xxi. 14, 15. collated together, it is evident, that this belongs to the Apostles alone, when they were brought before Kings and Rulers, Annot. here ; if so, what was all their Preaching and Writing ? Was it from their own Wisdom ? for thus he expounds ye that speak ; or from their own Abilities, as he says at Mat. x. 20 ? And what Interpretation will prove falser than that of his, if collated with Acts ii. 4. & i. 8. & viii. 29. & xiii. 2, 4. 1 Cor. ii. 4, 5, 13. & vii. 10. & xii. 3. & xiv. 24, 25. 2 Pet. i. 21. Mat. xxviii. 20. Eph. v. 18, 19. Rom. viii. 26. & xv. 19. &c ? What a great Pity it is that this great Commentator of our national established Church, should write so opposite both to the Scripture and Book of Common Prayer in divers Places, in his Rage against the senseless foolish and ignorant Harangues of the Quakers ! which could not merit it from so wise a Man, whatever the far superior Wisdom of his Antagonist Mills might at other Times ; and as his Station of Dr. of Divinity was inconsistent with his certainly knowing much of their extemporary Effusions, it may better be accounted for by some Malice or Revenge, than by mere bearing false Witness, as unknown, against his Neighbours.*

Ver. 14. spoken of by the Prophet Daniel] added from Matthew according to the Criticks ; but Mills owns if so, it must indeed be in the first Ages. Probably then by Mark himself.

Ver. 16. back] as in John vi. 66. tho' Erasmus and Tyndal have rendered it otherwise.

Ver. 18. your Flight may] There is pretty much Variety, but of no great Moment, in this short Verse ; Mills is for the genuine Reading to be it may, he saying, your Flight is drawn hither from Mat. but why might not Mark write it as well as he ? especially as he does not usually omit such of his. And there are not many leave it out, with all their Variety.

Ver. 19. Days will be] thus the Gr. and emphatically, as Amos v. 20.

Ver. 23. all the Things] but not all things indiscriminately.

Ver. 33. and pray] One only, and besides being very ancient, perhaps the worst Copy that is, has not this, and yet by Mills was vehemently suspected of being put in ; and I reckon twenty such with him from the same Copy, in these four Books alone, Prol. 1278, 1279, 1280.

Ver. 34. It being] namely the Matter or Affair, see Mat. xxv. 14.

C H A P. XIV.

NOW there was the Passover, and unleavened Bread, two Days after ; and the chief Priests and Scribes sought, how they might take hold of him by Deceit, and kill.

2. However they said, Not at the Feast, lest at any time there should be a Tumult of the People.

3. And he being in Bethany, in the House of Simon the Leper, as he sate down, there came a Woman who had an Alabaster-box of Ointment, of costly liquid Spikenard ; which Box she broke open, and poured that on his Head.

4. But there were some enraged with themselves, and saying ; What is this Waste of the Ointment made for ?

5. Since that could have been sold for above three hundred Pence, and this given to the Poor : thus they grumbled at her.

6. Nevertheless Jesus said ; Let her alone, why do ye give her Trouble ? For she has wrought a good Work for me.

7. Since ye have always the Poor with you, and when ye will can do well for them ; but have not me always.

8. She did what she had to do : she has undertaken before to anoint my Body for Burial.

9. I tell you certainly, Where-ever this Gospel is preached in the whole World, what she has done, shall also be spoken in Remembrance of her.

10. And Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went away to the chief Priests, that he might deliver him up to them.

11. Which they hearing, were glad, and promised to give him Money : thus he sought how he might seasonably deliver him up.

12. On the first Day too of unleavened Bread, when they sacrificed the Passover, his Disciples asked him, Whither wouldest thou have us go, and get ready, that thou mayest eat the Passover ?

13. So he sends two of his Disciples, and says to them ; Go into the City, and a Man carrying a Pitcher of Water will meet you ; him follow.

14. And wheresoever he shall enter, tell the Housholder, Master says, Where is a Room, whereat I may eat the Passover along with my Disciples ?

15. Upon this he will shew you a great Chamber furnished, and got ready : there get ready for us.

16. And his Disciples went out, as also entered into the City, and found according as he said to them ; so they got the Passover ready.

17. While it was Evening, he also comes with the twelve.

18. Moreover as they sate down, and did eat, Jesus said, I tell you certainly, that one of you who eats with me will deliver me up.

19. And they began to be sorry, and to say to him one by one, Is it I ? and another, Is it I ?

20. At which he made answer to them ; One of the twelve, who dips with me in the Dish.

21. The Man indeed goes, as it is written concerning him ; but wo will be to that Man by whom he himself is delivered up : it would have been well for that Man, if the same had not been born.

22. And as they were eating, Jesus took Bread, and blessing, broke ; then gave to them, and said, Take, eat ; this is my Body.

23. The Cup likewise he took, giving thanks, and gave to them ; and they all drank of it.

24. He also said to them ; This is my Blood of the new Covenant, shed for many.

25. I tell you certainly, that I will no more at all drink any of the Product of the Vine, till that Day when I shall drink it new in the Kingdom of God.

26. And having sung praise, they went out to the Mount of Olives.

27. Besides Jesus says to them ; You will all be offended at me this Night : since it is written, I will smite the Shepherd, and the Sheep shall be dispersed.

28. Yet after I am risen up, I will go before you into Galilee.

Ver. 1. after] See Mat. xxvi. 2. this referring more directly to the Passover, which the other followed.

Ver. 3. he being] See Mat. xxvi. 6.

Ib. liquid] Gr. πρωϊν of which consult Beza.

Ib. broke open] for if she broke the box, would not the Ointment run out without pouring it ? But the Greek Word may denote that the Lid was broke in pieces.

Ver. 14. whereat] with where, as the Gr. ὅπου with ἔνθα.

Ver. 15. got ready] four or five not having this, Mills first supposed it was from Mat. (very well ! by Mark as usual, tho' our Author did not intend so) afterwards an Explanation of furnished, when furnished might rather of that.

Ver. 17. While it was Evening] exactly as in Mat. xxvi. 20.

Ver. 19. and another, Is it I ?] neglected by some of the old Translators, as not necessary ; but from their Omission, our Reading Criticks fancy it added to the com. Text by Way of Interpretation ; of which Mills gives a particular Account, as if he had been at the doing of it, when it is all Imagination.

Ver. 22. eat] Divers Copies have not this Word, and Gratius supposes it added from Matthew.

Ver. 27. this Night] Mills scarce doubted, as he writes, is of Mat. being not in four or five Copies, Prol. 1475. but then Mark left his Custom of keeping Matthew's Expressions, or not lessening them.

29. Whereupon Peter said to him, But if they should all be offended, yet not I.

30. And Jesus answers him, I say to thee certainly, that this very Night, before the Cock has crowed twice, thou wilt deny me thrice.

31. But he replied much the more, If I must die with thee, I will not at all deny thee: and in that Manner also they replied all.

32. Next they came into a Place, the Name of which was Gethsemane, and he says to his Disciples, Sit here, while I pray.

33. So he takes Peter, James and John, and began to be astonished, and grieved.

34. He likewise says to them, My Mind is very sorrowful to Death; remain here, and watch.

35. And going on a little, he fell on the Ground, and prayed, that if it was possible, the Hour might pass away from him.

36. And he said, Abba Father, all Things are possible to thee, take away this Cup from me; yet not what I would, but what thou.

37. Afterwards he comes, and finds them asleep, and says to Peter; Simon, art thou asleep? Wast not thou able to watch one Hour?

38. Watch, and pray, that you may not enter into Trial: the Spirit indeed is ready, but the Flesh weak.

39. Moreover he went away again, and prayed, speaking the same Matter.

40. And when he returned, he found them asleep again: for their Eyes were heavy, and they knew not what to answer him.

41. He comes too the third time, and says to them; Sleep on, and be refreshed; it is received, the Hour is come, behold the Man is delivered up into the Power of Sinners.

42. Rise up, let us go along; behold he that delivers me up draws near.

43. And presently while he was speaking, there comes Judas one of the twelve, and with him a great Company, with Swords and Sticks, from the chief Priests, Scribes and Elders.

44. Now he that delivered him up had given them this Token, Whomsoever I shall kiss is he; take hold of him, and have away safely.

45. And coming, he presently going to him, says, Rabbi, Rabbi; and kissed him.

46. Accordingly they put their Hands upon him, and took hold of him.

47. However one of those who stood by drew a Sword, and smote a Servant of the high Priest, so that he took off his Ear.

48. And Jesus made answer to them; Are you come out as against a Robber, with Swords and Sticks to take me?

49. I was daily with you in the Temple teaching, and you did not take hold of me. But it was that the Scriptures might be fulfilled.

50. Moreover all left him, and fled.

51. And a certain young Man followed him, with fine Linen thrown over his naked Body; whom the young Men took hold of.

52. But he left the Linen, and fled from them naked.

53. Thus they had Jesus away to the high Priest; and all the chief Priests, Elders, and Scribes come together to him.

54. And Peter followed him far off, to within the Hall of the high Priest; so that he sat down along with the Officers, and warmed himself at the Fire.

55. Next the chief Priests, and the whole Council sought for Witnesses against Jesus, to put him to death; yet they found none.

56. For many gave Evidence against him falsely, but the Evidences were not alike.

57. At length some standing up, gave the following false Evidence against him;

58. We heard him say, I will destroy this Temple made with Hands, and in three Days build up another made without Hands.

59. But neither so was their Evidence alike.

60. And the high Priest rising up in the midst, asked him as follows, Dost not thou answer any Thing? What do they testify against thee?

61. But Jesus was silent, and answered Nothing. Again the high Priest asked him in this manner, Art thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed One?

62. And Jesus said, I am; nay you will

Ver. 39. Matter] sing. and as the Continuers of Pool's Annotations observe, blaming the pres. Transf. since Christ did not speak the same Words, as may be seen Mat. xxvi. 39, 42.

Ver. 41. received] as in Mat. vi. 2, 5, 16. Luke vi. 24. Phil. 15. and might it not be the Money by Judas? Since enough borrowed from Bezæ, does not seem sufficiently supported for its Meaning.

Ver. 49. But &c.] The Words of Mark, not of Jesus; being as in Mat. xxvi. 56. which the Verb was done there shews. And the next Verse should have begun here as in Mat.

Ver. 50. all] the Disciples, Mat. xxvi.

Ver. 51. naked] only in the Gr. as in the following Verse.

lb. the young Men] some omit, they being included in the Verb; and this added to be sure, if we hearken to Mills.

Ver. 53. to him] added by the Scribes, says Mills, viz. because a few are without it.

Ver. 65. Strokes] rather of their Staves than Palms; see Bezæ.

see the Man sit at the right Hand of Power, and come with the Clouds of Heaven.

63. Now the high Priest tore his Garments afunder, and says, What Need have we of Witnesses further?

64. You have heard the Blasphemy: how does it appear to you? And they all condemned him to be guilty for Death.

65. Some further began to spit on him, as also to cover over his Face, and to beat him, then say to him, Prophecy; nay the Officers laid him on with Strokes.

66. And while Peter was in the Hall below, there comes one of the young Women of the high Priest;

67. Who seeing Peter warming himself, looked on him, and says, Thou also wast with Jesus of Nazareth.

68. Whereas he denied as follows, I am ignorant of, nor do I understand, what thou sayest. So he went out into the Entry, and the Cock crowed.

69. And a young Woman who saw him again, began to say to those standing by, He is one of them.

70. But again did he deny. And a little after they again who stood by said to Peter, Truly thou art one of them: for even thou art a Galilean, and thy Speaking is alike.

71. He notwithstanding began to curse and swear, I do not know this Man whom you speak of.

72. And the second time the Cock crowed. Upon this Peter called to remembrance the Words which Jesus said to him, Before the Cock has crowed twice, thou wilt deny me thrice. And reflecting on himself, he wept.

C H A P. XV.

PRESENTLY too in the Morning, the chief Priests had a Consultation with the Elders, Scribes, and the whole Council; and bound Jesus, as also carried away, and delivered him up to Pilate.

2. Who asked him, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he made answer to him, Thou sayest it.

3. And the chief Priests accused him of many Things, but he answered Nothing.

4. Whereupon Pilate asked him again thus, Dost not thou answer any Thing? Lo how many Things they testify against thee!

5. Nevertheless Jesus did not yet answer any Thing; so that Pilate wondered.

6. Now at the Feast he released one Prisoner to them, whomsoever they desired.

7. There was also a Person called Barabbas, bound with some that made mutiny together, those who had done Murder in the Mutiny.

8. And the Company crying out loud, began to request, such as he had always done for them.

9. So Pilate answered them as follows, Would you have me release to you the King of the Jews?

10. For he knew that through Envy the chief Priests had delivered him up.

11. But the chief Priests stirred up the Company, that he should rather release Barabbas to them.

12. And Pilate made answer again to them, What then would you have me do with him whom you call the King of the Jews?

13. To which again they cried out, Crucify him.

14. Whereas Pilate said to them, What Evil forsooth has he done? Yet they cried out more exceedingly, Crucify him.

15. Thus Pilate being willing to do what was sufficient for the People, released Barabbas to them, and delivered up Jesus, having scourged him, that he might be crucified.

Ver. 70. is alike] Mills asserts this is not Mark's own, Prol. 396. because it does not occur in two Translations, and two or three Copies, when those are also void of thy Speaking, and yet Mills acknowledges that. But strange as it is, what follows may be stranger, that it is very probable this was brought hither from Mat. xxvii. 73. though it is not there; which however was not an Oversight, since he insinuates it should be there, from one Copy only. And the strangest of all may be, his esteeming it to be put first in the Margin here, when there was Nothing for it in the Text.

Ver. 72. And—crowed] Better in the foregoing Ver. as Mat. xxvi. 64.

Ib. reflecting on himself] or putting it on himself; for the Gr. is casting or putting on. The Eng. Bishops, as well as several others following the old Lat. have, he began to weep; Beza, taking the Meaning from Matthew instead of the Word here, translates, when he had withdrawn himself, he wept; our anonymous Translator in 1729, and J. Wesley, he cover'd his head, and wept; and Hammond expounds it look't on Christ.

Ver. 3. but he answered Nothing] This is but in some Copies, and might be inserted from Mat. xxvii. 12. as Mills thought.

Ver. 7. those who] For who alone is uncertain to which it is referred.

Ver. 10. without a Parenthesis, as in Mills's Edit. and Mat. xxvii. 18.

Ver. 12. him whom you call] the Vulg. (omitted in Mills's Various Readings) and four or five more leave out.

16. Upon this the Soldiers brought him away into the Hall, which is the Judgment-hall, and called together the whole Regiment.

17. And they cloathed him with Purple, as also plaiting a thorny Crown, put it on him;

18. Then they began to salute him, Hail, King of the Jews.

19. Moreover they struck him on the Head with a Reed, and spit on him; after they had put down the Knees, and worshipped him.

20. And when they had mocked him, they stript him of the Purple, and put his own Cloaths on him; so had him out, that they might crucify him.

21. They further compelled Simon a certain Cyrenean, who passed by, coming from the Country, the Father of Alexander and Rufus, to take up his Cross.

22. At length they bring him to the Place Golgotha, which is interpreted The Scull Place.

23. Where they gave him to drink Wine with Myrrh steeped; but he did not receive it.

24. And they crucified him, and divided his Garments, casting Lots for them, who should take any Thing.

25. It was also the third Hour when they crucified him.

26. And there was the Superscription of his Crime written above, THE KING OF THE JEWS.

27. Besides they crucify two Thieves with him, one at the right Hand, and one at his left.

28. So the Scripture was fulfilled which says, And he was reckoned with the Unrighteous.

29. As likewise those who went by blasphemed him, moving their Heads, and saying, Ah, thou who wouldest destroy the Temple, and in three Days build up,

30. Save thy self, and come down from the Cross.

31. And in like Manner also the chief Priests mocking one to another, with the Scribes, said; He saved others, he cannot save himself.

32. Let Christ the King of Israel come down now from the Cross, that we may see, and believe. Nay they who were crucified with him, reproached him.

33. Now it being the sixth Hour, there was Darkness in the whole Country till the ninth.

34. At which Hour Jesus cried out thus aloud, Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani, that is being interpreted, My God, my God, for what hast thou forsaken me?

35. And some of them who stood by hearing, said, Behold he calls Elias.

36. Whereupon one running, filled up a Sponge with Vinegar, which he put on a Reed, and gave him to drink, saying, Doye let alone, let us see whether Elias will come to take him down.

Ver. 16. which is] not called, however it came into the Bish. Transf. which our last followed. Mills mentions four Transf. in Prod. 410. that have of the Judgment-hall (which is not in the Notes, and there is a Contradiction besides) and for that he pleads as Mark's own. But tho' he says the Hall is not the Prætorium, yet if it was of that, it was a Part belonging to or of the same; and he owns from Matthew and John, that Jesus was brought by the Soldiers into the Prætorium or Judgment-hall.

Ver. 19. after] as by Mat. xxvii. 29, 30. and the manifest Coherence of this with Ver. 18.

Ver. 21. Alexander and Rufus] probably those in Acts xix. 33. Rom. xvi. 13.

Ver. 25. third Hour] The Gr. ἡρα βωρα denotes some Space of Time, and not only an Hour, as any one may be fully satisfied by divers Places where it is used in the Writings of the New Testament, so that by this the Quarters of the Day, answerable to the four Watches of the Night, Ch. vi. 48. Luke xii. 38. might be, and it appears were called; by which this is to be reconciled with John xix. 14. where look, for more Exactness. Accordingly as the Day began at Sun-rising, which did not vary much in that Country, and the Length of their Hours varied with it; this third great Hour commenced at Noon, and continued till the Middle of the Afternoon, the Time that Jesus was crucified, which seems to be what Mark here intended, and not the Beginning of it. For Want of this last Consideration Expolitors do not clear it up, tho' they take in the other of the major Hours: 'for the nearest to make the 3d and 6th Hour the same Time, must be at their Beginning; but the 3d greater Hour began in the Middle of the Day, and the 6th lesser one an Hour before; so that if he began to be crucified at that 3d Hour, he could not be crucified an Hour sooner, Mat. xxvii. 45. Luke xxiii. 44. But the Assembly's Annotations have this 3d Hour, nine of the clock in the morning, and the 6th John xix. 14. noon; whereas he was not crucified so long before he was condemned; that also in Heinsius's Exercit. of counting this our modern 3d Hour is a poor Pretence, and altering the Word in Gerhard's Harmony worse; as for what Hammond says on John xix. 14. that all the space from nine of clock till twelve was called the third hour, by which the first must begin at 3 o'Clock in the Morning, neither at Midnight nor Sun-rising; and his expounding the third Hour here to be betwixt the third and the sixth hours, i. e. 9 & 12 of the Clock, as if it was neither of them, and could not be the 3d Hour near our twelve of clock, his supposed time of Christ's crucifixion at John; of those the Reader may think as he pleases.

Ib. when] as Beza shews, and the Context demands.

Ver. 30. Though this Saying is longer in Mat. xxvii. 40. than here, it is there put all into one Verse, which is best, but not and saying with it; so that the Division is ill made in both Places.

Ver. 34. Eloi] See Mat. xxvii. 46.

37. But

37. But Jesus uttered forth a loud Voice, and expired.

38. When the Veil of the Temple was divided into two, from Top to Bottom.

39. So that the Centurion who stood over against him seeing, that so crying out he expired, said, Truly this Man was the Son of God.

40. And there were Women too looking far off: among whom was Mary Magdalene, with Mary the Mother of James the less and Joses, as also Salome;

41. That even when he was in Galilee, followed him, and ministred to him; nay many others who came up with him to Jerusalem.

42. Moreover when it was now Evening (since it was the Preparation, that is before the Sabbath)

43. Joseph one from Arimathea came, an honourable Counsellor, who also himself was looking for the Kingdom of God, went in boldly to Pilate, and asked for the Body of Jesus.

44. Surprized that he should be dead already, Pilate called thither the Centurion, and asked him whether he had been dead some Time.

45. Which knowing from him, he gave the Body to Joseph.

46. Who bought fine Linen, and taking him down, wrapt in it, and laid him down in a Grave which was cut out of a Rock; next he rolled a Stone on the Door of the Grave.

47. Mary Magdalene likewise, and Mary the Mother of Joses beheld where he was laid.

CHAP. XVI.

AND when the Sabbath was passed over, Mary Magdalene, with Mary the Mother of James, as also Salome bought Spices, that they might come, and anoint him.

2. Accordingly very soon in the Morning of the first Day after the Sabbath, they come to the Grave, at the rising of the Sun.

3. And they said with themselves, Who will roll away the Stone for us from the Door of the Grave?

4. And looking up, they beheld that the Stone was rolled away: for it was exceeding great.

5. With that they went into the Grave, and saw a young Man sitting on the right Side, clothed with a white Robe; at which they were astonished.

6. Whereas he says to them; Be not astonished; ye seek Jesus of Nazareth who was crucified; he is risen up, he is not here: there is the Place where they put him.

7. But go, tell his Disciples and Peter, that he goes before you into Galilee; there ye shall see him, according as he told you.

8. They accordingly went out quickly, and fled from the Grave; nay Trembling and Amazement seized them, so that they told Nothing to any one; for they were afraid.

9. Now he rising in the Morning on the first of the Week, appeared first to Mary Magdalene, from whom he had expelled seven Devils.

10. She went, and declared to those that had been with him, who were lamenting and weeping.

11. However when they heard that he was alive, and had been seen by her, they did not believe.

12. But after these Things he appeared in another Form, to two of them walking along into the Country.

13. And though these went away, and declared it to the rest, neither did they believe them.

14. Afterwards he appeared to the eleven, as they were sitting down, and reproached their Unbelief and Hardheartedness, because they did not believe those who saw him after he was raised up.

15. Moreover he said to them; Go into all the World, and preach the Gospel to every Creature.

16. He who believes and is baptized, shall be saved; but he that does not believe, shall be condemned.

Ver. 41. others] without women, as Luke xxiv. 10.

Ver. 44. that] as this Gr. Particle is rendered Acts xxvi. 8, 23.

Ib. Pilate] It having been thought, that the Book of Mark was an Abstract of Matthew's; I would here take notice, that on the contrary I have oftener I think found, the latter enlarging on the same Passages which he has of the former, but has quite omitted a Deal more.

Ver. 47. the Mother] not in the Greek like Chap. xvi. 1.

Ver. 1. bought] besides those which they had got ready before, Luke xxiii. 56. not had bought, as Doddridge observes, that also ill agrees with when.

Ver. 5. astonished] The Word is in Ch. ix. 15. & xiv. 33. with this and the next Verse only.

Ver. 8. nay] for in a Copy or two after the Lat. Vulg. Ib. seized them] according to the Gr.

17. And these Signs shall follow them who believe: they shall in my Name expel Devils, speak with new Tongues,

18. Take up Serpents; and if they drink any deadly Thing, it shall not at all hurt them; they shall put Hands upon the Sick, who shall be well.

19. Therefore indeed after the Lord had spoken to them, he was received up into Heaven, and sat at the right Hand of God.

20. So they went out, and preached every where, the Lord working together, and confirming the Word by Signs that followed after: so let it be.

NOTES upon the BOOK of L U K E.

C H A P. I.

FORASMUCH as many have attempted to compose an Account, concerning the Matters that have been evidenced among us;

2. According as they delivered them to us, who from the Beginning themselves saw, and were Ministers of the Word :

3. It seemed well also to me, having traced up all Things diligently, to write to thee successively on, very powerful Theophilus ;

4. That thou mightest know the Certainty of the Things concerning which thou hast been instructed.

5. There was in the Time of Herod King of Judea, a certain Priest named Zacharias, of the Course of Abia, as also his Wife one of the Daughters of Aaron, and her Name Elizabeth.

6. Who were both righteous before God, going in all the Commandments and Ordinances of the Lord faultless.

7. And they had no Child, because Elizabeth was barren ; nay they were both advanced in their Days.

8. Now in his executing the Priesthood, in the Order of his Course before God ;

9. According to the Ceremony of the Priesthood, he was allotted to burn incense, on going into the Temple of the Lord.

10. And as all the Multitude of the People was praying without, at the Hour of Incense ;

11. There appeared to him an Angel of the Lord, standing at the right Side of the Altar of Incense.

12. Whom Zacharias seeing, was troubled, and Fear fell upon him.

13. But the Angel said to him ; Do not fear, Zacharias : because thy Supplication is hearkened to, and thy Wife Elizabeth shall bear thee a Son, whose Name thou shalt call John.

14. So that thou shalt have Joy and Rejoicing, nay many will rejoice at his Birth.

15. For he will be great before the Lord, and shall not at all drink Wine or strong Drink, and will be full of the Holy Spirit still from his Mother's Womb.

16. Moreover he will turn many of the Israelites to the Lord their God.

17. And he will go before him in the Spirit and Power of Elias, to turn the Hearts of the Fathers to the Children, and the Disobedient into the Prudence of the Righteous, to prepare for the Lord a People made ready.

18. Whereupon Zacharias said to the Angel, By what shall I know this ? For I am aged, and my Wife advanced in her Days.

19. And the Angel made answer to him ; I am Gabriel, who stand before God ; and am sent to speak to thee, and declare to thee these Things.

20. So behold thou wilt be speechless, being unable to speak, till the Day that these Things shall be done ; because thou didst not believe my Words, which will be fulfilled in their Time.

21. In the mean while the People were waiting for Zacharias, and wondered that he delayed in the Temple.

22. At length coming out, he could not speak to them ; and they knew that he had seen a Vision in the Temple, since he himself beckoned to them, and continued dumb.

23. And when the Days of his Service were fully up, he went away home.

24. After which Days his Wife Elizabeth conceived, and hid her self five Months, saying,

25. Thus has the Lord done for me, in

Tit. Luke] mentioned Col. iv. 14. 2 Tim. iv. 11. Phil. 24. It is gathered he wrote or finished this at Alexandria in Egypt, A. Dom. 64. about three Years after Matthew, and one after Mark, had their Evangelical Histories ; but Wall computes it at the Year 56 in Macedonia, Gr. Not.

Ver. 1. made sure] ascertained, or evidenced.

Ver. 3. traced up] strictly to the Gr.

1b. very powerful] as the Gr. Word undeniably signifies.

Ver. 6. Commandments &c.] Wickliff, mandementis and justifyingis—withouten playnt.

Ver. 12. The Ethiop. Transf. tho' only that, is without this Ver. whereas the following But and Do not fear shew it to be authentick. Mills notwithstanding says, if it was not for the Consent of Copies, he should believe it made by Somebody, because of the like Ver. 29. which Whithy very unjustly charges on him, without the Condition that makes it void, Exam. Lib. ii. 2. and also Annot. here.

Ver. 15. Wine or strong Drink] In Wickliff's Transf. wyu ne sydyr.

Ver. 20. speechless] West, deaf.

Ver. 22. dumb] Doddridge translates it deaf and dumb, shewing by Instances that mutus signifies the former as well as the latter ; but has produced none where it signifies both together, and the first being plain, as he says, from Ver. 62. it is not therefore required here.

the Days that he looked on me, to take away my Disgrace among Men.

26. In the sixth Month likewise the Angel Gabriel was sent by God, into a City of Galilee, named Nazareth;

27. To a Virgin espoused to a Man named Joseph, one of the Family of David, and the Virgin's Name was Mary.

28. And the Angel coming in to her, said, Hail, O favoured one; the Lord is with thee, thou art blessed among Women.

29. Whom she seeing, was troubled at his Saying, and reasoned what Sort of Salutation it should be.

30. Whereas the Angel said to her; Do not fear, Mary: for thou art in Favour with God.

31. Inasmuch that behold thou shalt conceive in the Womb, and bear a Son, whose Name thou shalt call Jesus.

32. He will be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest; the Lord God too will give him the Throne of his Father David.

33. Nay he will reign over the Family of Jacob for ever, and of his Kingdom there will be no End.

34. But Mary said to the Angel, How shall this be, since I have not the knowledge of a Man?

35. And he made answer to her; The Holy Spirit will come upon thee, and the Power of the Highest overshadow thee; therefore also the Holy Thing born of thee, shall be called the Son of God.

36. Besides to thy Cousin Elizabeth herself, has also conceived a Son in her old Age, and this is the sixth Month to her who was called barren.

37. Since there will not be any Matter impossible with God.

38. To which Mary replied, Behold a Servant of the Lord, let it be to me according to thy Word. Then the Angel went away from her.

39. Now Mary arising in those Days, went to the Hill-country with Haste, to the City of Juda.

40. Where she went into the House of Zacharias, and saluted Elizabeth.

41. And as soon as Elizabeth heard Mary's Salutation, the Infant leaped in her Womb; moreover she was full of the Holy Spirit.

42. Upon which she called out aloud, and said; Thou art blessed among Women, and the Fruit of thy Womb is blessed.

43. And whence is this for me, that the Mother of my Lord should come to me?

44. For behold as soon as the Voice of thy Salutation was made in my Ears, the Infant leaped in my Womb for Joy.

45. She too who believes is blessed; because there will be an Accomplishment of the Things spoken to her from the Lord.

46. Mary likewise said: My Soul magnifies the Lord,

47. And my Spirit has been joyful through God my Saviour.

48. Because he has looked upon the Lowliness of his Servant; for behold henceforth all Generations will count me blessed:

49. Because the Powerful One has done for me great Things, and holy is his Name.

50. Nay his Mercy is to those who fear him, to all Generations.

51. He has done mightily with his Arm, dispersed the Proud in the Imagination of their Hearts;

52. Put down the Powerful from the Seats, and exalted the Lowly;

53. He has filled the Hungry with good Things, and sent away the Rich empty:

54. Has helped Israel his Servant, by remembering Mercy;

55. According as he spoke to our Forefathers, Abraham and his Offspring for ever.

56. Afterwards Mary remained with her about three Months, and then returned home.

57. At last Elizabeth's Time being fully

Ver. 46. My Soul] Different Translations of this Divine Poem in some old Eng. Manuscripts the Curious may see in Lewis's Hist. of the Eng. Transf. p. 32, 33, 34. This Magnificat, as it is called, because it begins so in the Lat. with the Benedictus beginning Ver. 68. and the Nunc dimittis, Ch. ii. 29. which were used in the Liturgy till the Year 1661, were taken from the Primer of K. Hen. 8. that was published 1546, instead of the Protestant Translations of Scripture then prohibited, Ib. p. 227, 153, 154.

Ver. 46, 47. Soul—Spirit] These, the Geneva Note says, signify the understanding and affection.

Ver. 51. by Wither turned,

He by his Arme declar'd his might:
And this to passe hath brought;
That now the Proud are put to flight,
By what their hearts have thought.

up, for her to be delivered, she brought forth a Son.

58. When her Neighbours and Relations hearing, that the Lord had magnified his Mercy with her, did rejoice as well as she.

59. On the eighth Day also they came to circumcise the Child, and called him, by the Name of his Father, Zacharias.

60. Nevertheless his Mother made answer, No, but he shall be called John.

61. Yet they said to her, There is none among thy Relations who is called by this Name.

62. Therefore they made signs to his Father, what he would have him called.

63. And he asking for a Writing-table, wrote thus, His Name is John; at which they all wondered.

64. His Mouth also was opened immediately, with his Tongue, so that he spoke, blessing God.

65. Whereupon there was Fear on all who dwelt about them, nay all these Words were published in the whole Hill-country of Judea.

66. Which all that heard took notice of, saying, What Child indeed will this be? And the Hand of the Lord was with him.

67. His Father Zacharias too, full of the Holy Spirit as he was, prophesied as follows;

68. Blessed is the Lord God of Israel, because he has visited, and wrought Redemption for his People;

69. As also raised up a Horn of Salvation for us, in the Family of his Servant David;

70. According as he spoke by the Mouth of his holy Prophets since the World has been:

71. Salvation from our Enemies, and from the Power of all who hate us;

72. To perform the Mercy that was with our Forefathers, and to remember his holy Covenant;

73. The Oath which he swore to our Forefather Abraham,

74. To cause us to serve him without Fear, being delivered from the Power of our Enemies,

75. In Holiness and Righteousness before him, all the Days of our Life.

76. And thou Child shalt be called the Prophet of the Highest: for thou wilt go before the Face of the Lord, to prepare his Ways:

77. To give the Knowledge of Salvation to his People, in the Forgiveness of their Sins;

78. By the Affections of the Mercy of our God, in which the Sun-rising from on high has visited us;

79. To appear to those who sit in Darkness and the Shadow of Death, to direct our Feet into the Way of Peace.

80. So the Child grew, and became strong in Spirit, and was in the Wilderness till the Day of his shewing to Israel.

CHAP. II.

NO W in those Days there came out an Order from Cesar Augustus, that all the World should be enrolled.

2. (This Enrolling was the first of what was done when Cyrenius was Governor of Syria)

3. So all went to be enrolled, each to his own City.

4. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the City of Nazareth, into Judea, to the City of David, which is called Bethlehem (by reason he was of the Family and Offspring of David)

5. To be enrolled with Mary an espoused Wife to him, who was with Child.

6. And while they were there, the Days were fully up for her to be delivered:

7. As she was of her First-born Son, whom she swathed up, and laid in a Manger, because there was not Room for them in the Inn.

8. There were also Shepherds in that Country abiding in the Field, and keeping Watch over their Flock at Night.

9. And behold an Angel of the Lord came there, and the Glory of the Lord shone about them: at this seized as they were with a great Fear,

10. The Angel said to them; Fear not: for behold I declare to you great Joy, which will be for all People.

11. Because there is born to you this Day the Saviour, who is Christ the Lord.

12. And this shall be a Sign to you ; ye will find the Infant swathed up, lying in a Manger.

13. Of a sudden too there was with the Angel a Multitude of the heavenly Army, praising God, and saying,

14. Glory be in the highest Places to God, and on the Earth Peace, good Will among Men.

15. As soon as the Angels were gone away from them into Heaven, the Men who were Shepherds said one to another, Let us go along now to Bethlehem, and see this Matter that is come to pass, which the Lord has made known to us.

16. Accordingly they went in Haste, and found both Mary and Joseph, with the Infant lying in the Manger.

17. Which having seen, they made known concerning the Matter spoken to them about that Child.

18. So that all who heard, wondered at the Things spoken to them by the Shepherds.

19. Whereas Mary observed all these Matters, considering them in her Mind.

20. At length the Shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God, for all the Things which they had heard and seen, according as there was spoken to them.

21. And when the eight Days were fully up to circumcise the Child, his Name also was called Jesus, which it was called by the Angel before he was conceived in the Womb.

22. As likewise when the Days of their Cleansing, according to the Law of Moses, were fully up, they brought him to Jerusalem, to present to the Lord,

23. (According as it is written in the Law of the Lord, that every Male who opens the Womb, shall be called holy to the Lord)

24. And to give a Sacrifice, according to what is said in the Law of the Lord, a Couple of Turtle-doves, or two young Pigeons.

25. When behold there was a Man in Jerusalem, whose Name was Simeon ; which Man was righteous and religious, looking for the Comfort of Israel ; and the Holy Spirit was on him.

26. By whom he was divinely admonished, that he should not see Death, before he saw the Christ of the Lord.

27. Thus he came by the Spirit into the Temple : and when the Parents brought in the Child Jesus, that they might do according to the Custom of the Law concerning him ;

28. He himself took him into his Arms, and blessed God, and said ;

29. Thou now lettest thy Servant go, Lord, according to thy Word, in Peace :

30. Because my Eyes have seen thy Salvation ;

31. Which thou hast prepared before the Face of all People,

32. To be a Light for Revelation to the Gentiles, and the Glory of thy People Israel.

33. In the mean while Joseph, and his Mother, were wondering at the Things spoken about him.

34. Besides Simeon blessed them, and said to Mary his Mother ; Behold he is put for the Fall and Rising of many in Israel, and for a Sign that will be spoken against ;

35. (And a Sword too will pass through thy own Soul) that the Reasonings may be discovered out of many Hearts.

36. There was likewise Anna a Prophetess, the Daughter of Phanuel, one of the Tribe of Aser ; she being advanced in many Days, having lived but seven Years with a Husband from her Virginity.

CHAP. III.

37. And she was a Widow about eighty four Years old, who did not leave the Temple, but served with Fastings and Supplications, Night and Day.

38. She also coming thither in that Hour, made confession to the Lord, and spoke concerning him to all that looked for Redemption at Jerusalem.

39. At last when they had accomplished all Things according to the Law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their City by Nazareth.

40. So the Child grew, and became strong in Spirit, being full of Wisdom; and the Grace of God was on him.

41. Now his Parents went yearly to Jerusalem, at the Feast of the Passover.

42. And when he was twelve Years old, they going up to Jerusalem, according to the Ceremony of the Feast;

43. And the Days being ended for them to return, the Boy Jesus staid in Jerusalem; which Joseph and his Mother did not know.

44. But supposing him to be in the Company, they came a Day's Journey; when they looked for him both among the Relations and Acquaintance.

45. Moreover not finding him, they returned to Jerusalem, and sought for him.

46. Whom they found three Days after, sitting in the midst of the Teachers, and not only hearing them, but enquiring of them:

47. Inasmuch that all who heard him, were amazed at his Understanding and Answers.

48. They likewise seeing him, were surprised; and his Mother said to him, Child, why didst thou do so to us? Behold thy Father and I have sought after thee sorrowing.

49. But he said to them, What have you sought after me for? Did not you know that I must be in my Father's Affairs?

50. However they understood not the Saying which he spoke to them.

51. And he went down with them, as also came to Nazareth, and was subject to them; but his Mother preserved all these Sayings in her Heart.

52. Jesus further proceeded in Wisdom and Stature, nay in Favour with God and Man.

NOW in the fifteenth Year of the Reign of Tiberius Cesar, Pontius Pilate being Governor of Judea, Herod Tetrarch of Galilee, his Brother Philip Tetrarch of Iturea and the Country of Trachonitis, and Lyfanius Tetrarch of Abilene:

2. Under the high Priests Annas and Caiaphas, John the Son of Zacharias had God's Commission in the Wilderness.

3. And he came into all the Country about Jordan, preaching the Baptism of Repentance, for the Forgiveness of Sins:

4. As it is written in the Book of the Words of the Prophet Esaias, who says; There is the Voice of one crying out in the Wilderness, Prepare the Way of the Lord, make straight Roads for him.

5. Every Valley shall be filled up, and every Mountain and Hill be made low; as also the crooked shall become straight, and the rough be smooth Ways.

6. Nay all Flesh will see the Salvation of God.

7. He said therefore to the Multitude that went forth to be baptized by him; Offspring of Vipers, who has shewn you to flee from the Wrath hereafter?

8. Therefore yield Fruit worthy of Repentance. And do not begin to say in your selves, We have Abraham for a Father; since I tell you that God can from these Stones raise up Children to Abraham.

9. And now also the Ax is put to the Root of the Trees: therefore every Tree that does not yield good Fruit, is cut down, and thrown into the Fire.

10. Whereupon the Multitude asked him as follows, What then shall we do?

11. And he makes answer to them, Let him who has two Coats, impart to him that has none; and let him who has Meat, do in like Manner.

12. Nay there came also Publicans to be baptized, and said to him, Master, what shall we do?

13. To whom he said, Do no more than is ordered you.

Ver. 37. old] ἡρώ construed as in 1 Tim. v. 9. so not had now been a Widow so long, as by Doddridge.

Ver. 39. returned] See on Mat. ii. 13.

Ver. 40. in Spirit] added, says Mills, from Ch. i. 80. but his Authority for the Omission is too feeble, and the other is Imagination, that in Ch. i. being also said of John; see too Whitby's Annot.

Ver. 44. both among] among being repeated, but the last was omitted in former and some latter Editions of the com. Eng.

Ver. 46. Whom] 'The Word εἰς, it came to pass, is a mere Expletive, and not imagining that the Rules ' of the most exact Translation would oblige me always to retain it, I have frequently omitted it,' Doddr. according to what I done with the Heb. and here before.

Ver. 1. Lyfanius] as Pontius here from the Gr. and as common in other Words of the same Termination.

Ver. 8. in your selves] 'added from Mat.' writes Mills; viz. because a Transf. or two of small Account (or the Lat. Transf. of that, being what he consulted) has not this.

Ver. 13. Do] in the Manner of gathering the Taxes, as well as rating them; seldom signifying to exact actively.

14. And the Soldiers too asked him thus, And what shall we do? To whom he said, Deal with none roughly, nor accuse falsely, and be satisfied with your Wages.

15. Now the People expecting, and all reasoning in their Hearts concerning John, whether or no he was Christ;

16. John made answer to them all; I indeed baptize you with Water; but there comes one stronger than I, the Latchet of whose Shoes I am not fit to undo, that will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and Fire.

17. Whose Fan is in his Hand, and he will cleanse out his Floor; putting the Wheat together into his Granary, but will burn up the Chaff with unquenchable Fire.

18. Therefore indeed many other Things also exhorting, he preached to the People.

19. At length Herod the Tetrarch being convicted by him, concerning Herodias the Wife of his Brother Philip, and concerning all the wicked Things which Herod had done;

20. Added likewise this above them all, that he shut up John in Prison.

21. But when all the People were baptized, Jesus being baptized, and praying, the Heaven was opened;

22. And the Holy Spirit came down in a bodily Appearance, as a Dove on him; when there was a Voice from the Heaven said, Thou art my beloved Son, with thee I am pleased.

23. Now Jesus himself beginning, was about thirty Years old; being (as was supposed) the Son of Joseph, that of Heli,

37. That of Mathusala, that of Enoch, that of Jared, that of Maleleel, that of Cainan,

Ver. 19. Philip] wanting with divers.

Ver. 21. when] Whitby in his Examen Milli says this is wanting in MSS. as if in divers or all Manuscripts, for he mentions all the Versions and no MS. that has it, tho' the Ethiop. Version too has it not; thus in his Manner he tells us from Mills where it is wanting, and yet Mills does not say so of any MS. but relates that one only and the Eth. Vers. have after for when. What an Answer to Mills is this! but such as may stand among Whitby's, than which perhaps I never perused any Treatise more incorrect.

Ver. 23. beginning, was] Verbally, or joined together began; but without to be, which makes poor Sense. It may refer to Ch. iv. 1.

Ib. that] only an Article in Gr. but what is far worse in the com. Eng. than merely adding in [which] is its being made a Relative to the Person next before, instead of [Son] here, and so making Matthew and Luke irreconcilable; for how could Joseph have two Fathers, Heli and Jacob, Mat. i. 16? Whereas now, and as modern Writers expound, Mary the Mother of Jesus being the Daughter of Heli, Jesus himself, not Joseph, was the Son of Heli lineally, and so at last he, and not Adam, the Son of God. Thus the two Genealogies are not so much as redundant, but on the contrary very necessary, this being Mary's, and the other in Mat. Joseph's. And indeed if one is not hers, how is Jesus proved hence to be of the Offspring of David according to the Flesh, as in Rom. i. 3. John vii. 42. Acts xiii. 23? Or to what Purpose did Luke add this to Matthew's? Whitby's Discourse to the contrary, is so confused and infirm, that a clear-headed Reader may peruse it for farther Confirmation. In several Places of the learned Broughton's Works in a large Folio, may be seen how he exclaims against our Translators for putting it as they have done; and the Bish. Bib. 1575, in a Page for that Purpose, has Heli the natural Father of the Virgin Mary.

Ib. Heli] According to Tradition, the Father of Mary the Mother of Jesus, was named Joachim; but Mills shews that Eliakim was a synonymous Name to Joachim, and Eli to Eliakim, Prel. 668, 669.

Ver. 26. Judas] See the same Genitive, Ver. 33. (comp. with Mat. i. 2.) Acts ix. 11. & i. 16.

Ver. 36. Cainan] Though Whitby makes a very great Matter of this Name being here, and not in Gen. nor Chron. reserving it till after his 15 Years Study in the Paraphrase and Commentary on the New Testament, yet at last he has neither, as I think, taken the best nor right Determination, in his 1st Pref. not the best, because he brings it to a Corruption, not inserted by Luke; nor the right, since he labours to shew it was not with the Septuag. as their own, but an Addition in some Copies (and so corrupt indeed, and would be too great a Blemish in our Bible) which is doubly unaccountable (and therefore I suppose wrong) how it came thus into their Version, and being only a various Reading from thence into Luke. Whereas it is easily to be accounted for, that the LXX themselves put it into Gen. xi. 12. to increase the Length of Time, as they added 100 Years to the Age of several others, in order to match the pretended Antiquity in Egypt, where that Translation was made; and that Luke followed them in this, as he did in the seventy five, Acts vii. 14. &c. according to which it is right, as a Quotation from them in Conformity to the vulgar Reading; see the Note of Mills. Beza left it out of his Transl. following, he says the Authority of Moses, and a very old Copy (but withal very erroneous) that he had; for which the Rhemish Translators expose him in their Pref.

38. That

CHAP. IV.

SO Jesus being full of the Holy Spirit, returned from Jordan, and was led in the Spirit into the Wilderness,

2. Being forty Days tempted by the Devil; during which Time he did not eat any Thing, but when they were finished, he afterwards was hungry.

3. With that the Devil said to him, If thou art the Son of God, command this Stone that it should become Bread.

4. And Jesus returned this Answer to him; It is written, Man shall not live upon Bread alone, but upon every Word of God.

5. The Devil further bringing him up to a high Mountain, shewed him all the Kingdoms of the World in a Moment of Time.

6. And he said to him; I will give thee all this Authority, with the Glory of them; since it is delivered to me, and I give it to whomsoever I will.

7. If thou therefore wilt worship before me, all shall be thine.

8. At which Jesus made answer to him; Be gone behind me, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and serve him alone.

9. He also brought him into Jerusalem, and setting him on a Turret of the Temple, said to him, If thou art the Son of God, throw thy self down hence:

10. For it is written, He will command his Angels concerning thee, to keep thee;

11. And they will hold thee up in their Hands, lest at any time thou shouldest strike thy Foot against a Stone.

12. But Jesus made reply to him, It is said, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

13. Thus the Devil finishing all the Temptation, departed from him till the Time.

14. And Jesus returned in the Power of the Spirit into Galilee; at length the Fame concerning him went forth throughout the Country round about.

15. Moreover he taught in their Synagogues, being extolled by all.

16. He likewise came to Nazareth, where he was bred up; and entered into the Synagogue according to his Custom, on the Sabbath-day, and stood up to read.

17. When there was delivered to him the Book of the Prophet Esaias; which unfolding, he found the Place where it was written;

18. The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he has anointed me to preach to the Poor; has sent me to heal those who are of a broken Heart, to proclaim Discharge to the Captives, and receiving sight to the Blind, to send the Bruised away discharged;

19. To proclaim the acceptable Year of the Lord.

20. Then he folded up the Book, and delivering it to the Minister, sat down; when the Eyes of all those in the Synagogue were looking stedfastly at him.

21. And he began to say to them, To Day this Scripture is fulfilled in your Hearing.

22. Upon which they all testified for him, and wondered at the gracious Words that came out of his Mouth, and said, Is not this the Son of Joseph?

23. And he replied to them; You will entirely say to me this Proverb, Physician, cure thy self: what Things soever we have heard done in Capernaum, do also here in thy own Country.

24. But added he; I say to you certainly, that no Prophet is accepted in his own Country;

25. Nay in Truth I tell you, there were many Widows in Israel in the Time of Elias,

Ver. 1. in the Spirit] as at Rev. 1. 10. and more explicitly here in Ver. 14.

Ver. 2. afterwards] which Mills publishes to be Matthew's, Pris. 415. as often; but I would know why Mark might not as well follow him.

Ver. 7. all] Though a great many have it singular, the received Reading is all the Things, but I follow ours.

Ver. 8. Be gone behind me, Satan] Some have not this, and Grotius supposed none of the Greeks before Theophylact owned it here, which Whitby answers: Mills counts it taken from Mat. behind me being added afterwards; but the last, tho' of much greater Moment than the other, Whitby says is not worth searching out. On the Supposition that it is authentick, by the Authority and Advantage of its Copies, the Vulg. might draw others into the Omission of it, and that may be found the likeliest Case. How strange also would it be for this Place to be twice corrupted by Addition, and for behind me to be put in here by the Scribes, and not in Mat. yet for that to be added when the rest was taken from Mat. would be stranger still.

Ib. for] a great many are without, and Grotius thought was added, being one too forward that Way.

Ver. 14. Galilee] where he now spent some Years in a private Life, Wall, Whitby, Usher, &c. as it seems about three and a half.

Ver. 18. to heal those who are of a broken Heart] Nothing will serve Mills, as two Copies, some Translations and Authors are without it, but that this is supplied from the Version vñ 6, of the Septuagint, viz. Isa. lxi. 1. and by Grot. from the Heb. just as if Luke, or rather Jesus, would not quote or read the Scripture right.

Ib. receiving sight to the Blind] in the Version of the LXX Isa. lxi. 1. from which Jesus may be supposed to read, and as not in the Heb. there, taken from Ch. xlii. 7.

Ver. 23. done in Capernaum] which according to Wall's Critical Notes follow after out of Course, at Ver. 31, 33, &c. compared with Mark i. 21, 23.

when the Heaven was shut up for three Years and six Months, when a great Famine was in all the Country ;

26. And to none of them was Elias sent, excepting into Sarepta of Sidon, to a Widow Woman.

27. There were likewise many Lepers in Israel under the Prophet Elifeus ; and none of them was cleansed, excepting Neeman the Syrian.

28. At this all in the Synagogue who heard these Things, were full of Wrath ;

29. And rising up, put him forth without the City ; and brought him to the Brow of the Hill, on which their City was built, to throw him down headlong.

30. Whereas he going through the midst of them, went away.

31. He went down too into Capernaum a City of Galilee, and taught them on the Sabbaths :

32. Insomuch that they were surprized at his Doctrine ; since his Word was with Authority.

33. Besides in the Synagogue there was a Man who had the Spirit of an unclean Devil, and he cried out aloud,

34. Saying, Let alone, what hast thou to do with us, Jesus of Nazareth ? Art thou come to destroy us ? I know who thou art, the Holy One of God.

35. However Jesus rebuked him thus, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. Accordingly the Devil throwing him in the midst of them, came out of him, and did him no more hurt.

36. And there was Astonishment in them all, and they talked together one to another as follows, What Word is this, that with Authority and Power he bids the unclean Spirits, and they come out ?

37. Whereupon the Noise concerning him went forth into every Place of the Country round about.

38. Next getting up out of the Synagogue, he entered into the House of Simon ; whose Mother-in-law was oppressed with a great Fever, and they intreated him concerning her.

39. Upon this he standing over her, rebuked the Fever, and it left her ; so that she immediately got up, and waited on them.

40. And the Sun setting, all whoever had those weak with various Diseases, brought them to him ; and he putting Hands on each of them, cured them.

41. Even Devils also came forth from many, crying out in this manner, Thou art Christ, the Son of God ; but he rebuking, did not let them speak, because they knew him to be Christ.

42. At length when it was Day, being gone out, he went into a desert Place ; yet the Multitude sought after him, and came to him, and held him that he might not go from them.

43. But he said to them, I must preach the Kingdom of God also to other Cities, because for this I am sent.

44. Accordingly he preached in the Synagogues of Galilee.

C H A P. V.

NOW while the Company were urgent at him to hear the Word of God, he was standing by the Lake Genesaret.

2. By which he saw two Ships standing ; but the Fishermen being gone down from them, were washing the Nets.

3. So going aboard one of the Ships which was Simon's, he intreated him to put off a little from the Land ; and sitting down he taught the Multitude out of the Ship.

4. At length as he left off speaking, he said to Simon, Put off into the Deep, and let down your Nets for a Draught.

5. To whom Simon made answer, Master,

Ver. 33. the Spirit of an unclean Devil] Some officious Scribe thinking an unclean Devil was sufficient or more proper, seems to have altered it so, it being thus with a few. Whereas the Opinion of Mills seems too disingenuous, if not absurd (for the sake perhaps of his beloved vulg. Lat. authenticated by the Popish Council of Trent) for that to be Luke's own, and this now of ours Mark's ; when he so much inculcates, that Luke keeps the other's Words. Spirit, he says, was first prefix'd ; but Mark has it in a different Termination, Ch. i. 23. and who would designedly put a Spirit an unclean Devil, though one Copy may have it so by Mistake ? Afterwards, adds he, it was changed as now for right Construction. Was that other Reading then prevalent before ? Incredible ! Or would such as thought it ungrammatical alter it without consulting other Copies ?

Ib. aloud] We are told by Mills these Words in the Original are crept in, as lacking in the Gothick Version, and one MS. but, adds our Author, Mark does not own them. The more Sign, say I, that they are genuine.

Ver. 35. Two Verses Mark i. 25, 26. an Instance how ill they were parted.

Ib. no more] See Mark i. 26.

Ver. 41. art Christ] Some few are without this Christ, which Mills ascribes to Mat. Prolog. 416. yet no such Word appears in the parallel Passage Ch. viii. 16.

Ver. 42. being gone out] viz. long before Day, Mark i. 35. not departed when it was day, but went into the Desert then.

Ver. 1. Now] After those of the two Ships, Ver. 2. had been fishing all Night unsuccessfully, Ver. 5. and were near come to Land, I suppose, Jesus walking there, called to Simon and Andrew as they were casting a Net (not to wash it, as Ham. and Whitby merely fancy, but) for fishing, Mat. iv. 18, 19. and so on Ver. 20, 21, 22. a little after on the same Day a Company resorted to him, as in this Verse, and the two Ships, or Boats as Ham. calls them, lying there vacant, because the Servants were gone out, and washing (not bad washed, as our Commentators would strain it) the Nets, Ver. 2. the Narrative proceeded as here follows.

in labouring the whole Night long, we have taken Nothing; yet at thy Word I will let down the Net.

6. And doing this, they inclosed a great Multitude of Fishes, insomuch that their Net was torn asunder.

7. Upon this they beckoned to the Partners in the other Ship, to come and help them; who came, and filled both the Ships, so that they were sinking.

8. Which Simon Peter seeing, fell down at the Knees of Jesus, saying, Go forth from me, Lord, because I am a Man that am a Sinner.

9. For Astonishment seized him and all those with him, at the Draught of Fishes which they had taken;

10. And in like Manner also James and John, the Sons of Zebedee, who were Partakers with Simon. And Jesus said to Simon, Do not fear, henceforth thou shalt be a Catcher of Men alive.

11. With that they brought away the Ships to Land, and leaving all, followed him.

12. And when he was at one of the Cities, there was a Man full of Leprosy, who seeing Jesus, fell on the Face, and prayed him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst cleanse me.

13. Whereupon he stretching forth the Hand, touched him, and said, I will; be thou cleansed: and presently the Leprosy went away from him.

14. And he ordered him to tell Nobody; but going away, shew thy self to the Priest, and offer for thy Cleansing, as Moses commanded, for a Testimony to them.

15. Nevertheless the Discourse concerning him went about the more; and great Multitudes came together to hear, and to be cured by him of their Ailments.

16. Afterwards he withdrew into the Wilderness, and prayed.

17. Besides on one of the Days he was teaching, when the Pharisees and Teachers of the Law were sitting, who were come out of every Town in Galilee, Judea and Jerusalem; and there was the Power of the Lord to heal those.

18. And behold Men carried on a Bed a Person who had the Palsy; whom they sought to bring in, and put before him.

19. When not finding in what Manner they might bring him in by reason of the Company, they went up on the Roof, and let him down through the Tiling with the Couch, into the midst before Jesus.

20. Who at seeing their Faith, said to him, Man, thy Sins are forgiven thee.

21. At which the Scribes and Pharisees began to reason thus, Who is this that speaks Blasphemies? Who can forgive Sins, excepting God alone?

22. Whereas Jesus knew their Reasonings, and made answer to them, What do ye reason in your Hearts?

23. Which is easier, to say, Thy Sins are forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and walk?

24. But that you may perceive, the Man has Authority on the Earth to forgive Sins (he said to him who had the Palsy,) I order thee, Arise, and taking up thy Couch, go home.

25. Accordingly he forthwith rising before them, took up that which he lay on, and went away home, glorifying God.

26. Amazement seized them all at this, and they glorified God; nay were full of Fear, saying, We have seen admirable Things to Day.

27. After which he went out, and beheld a Publican named Levi, sitting at the Custom-house, and said to him, Follow me.

28. So leaving all, he rose up, and followed him.

29. Moreover Levi made a great Feast for him in his House; and there was much Company of Publicans, and others who were sitting with them.

30. Therefore their Scribes and Pharisees murmured to his Disciples, saying, For what reason do ye eat and drink with Publicans and Sinners?

31. And Jesus made answer to them, Such as are well have no Need of a Physician, but those who are ill.

32. I am not come to call the Righteous, but Sinners to Repentance.

33. In the next place they said to him, For

Ver. 7. were sinking] Here being no other Verb for began, nor is it wanted; yet Beza upon the Faith of two Manuscripts only, adds ωραματι almost, to the Original.

Ver. 10. alive] The Verb signifying to catch alive.

Ver. 12. at] Lepers dwelling without the Cities, Num. v. 2, 3. 2 Kings vii. 3.

Ver. 14. for a Testimony to them] Marcion the Heretick, as it appears, had it, that this may be (for) a Testimony to you, which Mills espouses, Prol. 289, 416.

Ver. 17. those] the Multitudes, Ver. 15.

Ver. 22. Reasonings] from the following Verb; and thoughts seems taken heedlessly from Mat. ix. 4. where the Gr. Word is different.

Ver. 30. Wall in Crit. Not. writes, One would wonder what the Word their does here (but I say if one would, another would not, the Scribes being those that belonged to some of the Company, yet Hammond struggles with it worse than he) but some Gr. MSS. adds Wall, have αυτων yes almost all of them, therefore not many are without it, unless three are many, tho' there are also three Editions and five Versions; but it is apparent Nobody would have framed that Addition to the Text.

Ver. 31, 32. These two Verses might have been one as well as Mark ii. 17.

what reason, when the Disciples of John fast frequently, and make Prayers, and in like Manner those of the Pharisees, do thine eat and drink?

34. However he said to them? Can you make the Sons of the Bridegroom fast, while he is with them?

35. But the Days also will come when the Bridegroom will be taken away from them, then shall they fast in those Days.

36. And he also spoke a Similitude to them; None puts a Patch of a new Garment upon an old one; for if so both the new does rend, and the Patch from the new agrees not with the old.

37. None likewise puts new Wine into old Bottles; for if so the new Wine will break the Bottles, be shed out, and the Bottles will perish;

38. But new Wine is to be put into new Bottles, and both are preserved together.

39. Nay none having drunk old, presently would have new: for he says, The old is better.

CHAP. VI.

AND he went on the first Sabbath after the second Day of the Passover through the standing Corn; and his Disciples plucked the Ears, and did eat, rubbing in the Hands.

2. But some of the Pharisees said to them, Why do ye that which is not lawful to do on the Sabbath?

3. And Jesus made answer to them; Have you not read this which David himself did, when he was hungry, and those who were with him?

4. How he entered into the House of God, and did take and eat the Presence-bread, and gave also to those with him; which it is not lawful to eat, excepting for the Priests only.

5. He said further to them, The Man is Lord even of the Sabbath.

6. Now in another Sabbath also he entered into the Synagogue, and taught; and a Man was there, whose right Hand was withered.

7. At which the Scribes and Pharisees watched him, whether he would cure in the Sabbath, that they might find an Accusation of him.

8. Whereas he knew their Reasonings, and said to the Man who had the Hand withered, Get up, and stand in the midst of them; which he did accordingly.

9. Jesus therefore said to them; I will ask you Something, Is it lawful to do good, or to do evil on the Sabbath? to save Life, or to destroy?

10. When looking round about at them all, he said to the Man, Stretch forth thy Hand; and he doing so, that was restored as sound as the other.

11. Upon this they were full of Madness, and talked publickly one to another what they should do to Jesus.

12. At that Time also he went out on a Mountain to pray, and passed the Night in Prayer to God.

13. And when it was Day, he called to his Disciples; and chose out from them twelve, whom he also named Apostles;

14. Simon, whom he also named Peter, and his Brother Andrew, James, and John, Philip, and Bartholomew,

15. Matthew, and Thomas, James of Alphaeus, and Simon called Zelotes,

16. And Judas the Brother of James, and Judas Iscariot, who also was the Betrayer.

17. Afterwards Jesus going down with them, stood in a Place of the Plain; with the Company of his Disciples, and a great Multitude of People from all Judea, and Jerusalem, nay the Sea-coast of Tyre and Sidon, who came to hear him, and to be healed of their Diseases;

18. As also those that were troubled by unclean Spirits: and they were cured.

19. And all the Company endeavoured to touch him; because there went out Power from him, and healed them all.

20. Besides he looking up on his Disciples, said: Blessed are you that are poor; since the Kingdom of God is yours.

21. Blessed are ye who are hungry now; since you will be filled. Blessed are ye that weep now; since you will laugh.

22. Blessed will ye be when People shall hate you, when they shall separate you, reproach, and cast out your Name as wicked, for the Man's sake.

Ver. 36. the Patch] is not found with divers, and Mills asserts crept from the former Part of the Ver. Prel. 1378. he being at last much inclined to that Way of thinking; but is there not much more Probability it was left out because there, and as that is by fewer than those he supposes took it in?

Ver. 1. first Sabbath] The second first Sabbath, as it is in the Original, being the first Sabbath of some second.

1b. Passover] or Sabbath as it is called Lev. xxiii. 15. this seeming the first of the seven there; for which see Whitby's Annot. here more particularly, with my Notes there and on Ver. 10.

Ver. 5. There is subjoined to this Verse in two Manuscript Greek Copies, both as Junius says very old, and I think was in that called The Gospel of Nicodemus; On the same Day seeing one at work on the Sabbath, he said to him, Man, if thou knowest indeed what thou art doing, thou art blessed; but if thou dost not know, thou art cursed, and a Transgressor of the Law: of which however Beza says, it did not seem to him to savour of the Majesty or Truth of the Gospel.

Ver. 16. the Brother] as Jud. 1.

23. Be glad at that Time, and skip for joy; for behold your Reward will be much in Heaven: for according to these Things your Forefathers did to the Prophets.

24. But wo is to you rich ones; since ye receive your Comfort.

25. Wo is to you who are filled; since ye will be hungry. Wo is to you who laugh; since ye will lament, and weep.

26. Wo is to you, when all Men shall speak well of you: for according to these Things your Forefathers did to the false Prophets.

27. On the other hand I say to you who hear; Love your Enemies, do well to them that hate you,

28. Bless them that curse you, and pray for such as molest you.

29. To him that gives thee a Blow on the Cheek, yield also the other; and to him who takes away thy Coat, do not forbid also the Waistcoat.

30. Nay give to every one that asks of thee, and ask not again from him who takes away thy Things.

31. And as ye are willing that Men should do to you, do ye also to them in like Manner.

32. Since if ye love but those who love you, what Favour is yours? For even Sinners love those that love them.

33. If ye likewise do good but to such as do good to you, what Favour is yours? For even Sinners do so.

34. And if you lend to those from whom you hope to receive back, what Favour is yours? For even Sinners lend to Sinners, that they may receive back equal.

35. But love your Enemies, and do good, and lend, hoping for Nothing back; so your Reward will be much, and you will be the Sons of the Highest; since he is kind to the Unthankful, and the Wicked.

36. Become therefore merciful, even as your Father is merciful.

37. As likewise do not judge, and you will not at all be judged: do not condemn, and you will not at all be condemned: release, and you will be released.

38. Give, and there will be given to you, good Measure, squeezed, shaken, and running over will People give into your Bosom: for with the same Measure which you measure, there will be measured again to you.

39. Moreover he spoke a Similitude to them: Can a blind Person guide a blind one? Will not both fall into a Pit?

40. A Scholar is not above his Teacher; but every one who is compleated will be as his Teacher.

41. And why dost thou look at the Mote in thy Brother's Eye, and not observe the Piece in thy own?

42. Or how canst thou say to him, Brother, let me pull out the Mote in thy Eye, not seeing thy self the Piece in thy own? O Hypocrite, pull first the Piece out of thy own Eye; and then thou wilt see throughly to pull forth the Mote in thy Brother's.

43. For a good Tree does not yield corrupt Fruit, nor yet a corrupt one that which is good.

44. Since each Tree is known by its own Fruit: for People do not pick off Figs from Briers, nor gather Grapes from a Bush.

45. A good Man from the good Treasure of his Heart produces a good Thing; and a wicked Man from the wicked Treasure of his Heart produces a wicked Thing: for his Mouth speaks from the Abundance of the Heart.

46. And why do you call me, Lord, Lord, and not do the Things which I say?

47. Every one that comes to me, and hears my Words, and does them, I will shew you whom he is like.

48. He is like a Man that built a House, who digged, and that deep, and laid the Foundation on a Rock: then there being an Inundation, the Flood dashed on that House, and it could not be shaken; since it was founded on a Rock.

49. But he that hears, and not does, is like a Man who built a House on Earth without a Foundation: on which the Flood dashed; so that it presently fell, and the Overthrow of that House became great.

Ver. 23. skip for joy] comparatively.

Ver. 26. According to this Antisthenes the Philosopher, hearing that a great many spoke very honourably of him, said, What Harm have I done! As Diogenes Laertius in the Life of him relates.

Ib. to you] being absent from many Books, Mills says crept in, Prol. 1230. but he was quite too partial towards such Subductions, I hope not to make his Work the more important; though if I had a less Opinion of his Sincerity, I might suspect it.

Ib. all] Mills thought put in, being indeed out of divers, Prol. 820, 1230. after he had said in his Notes here, There is no Cause for it to be added, some for it to be taken away, which considerable Argument of his own he does not answer.

Ver. 34. equal] wanting only in a single strange Copy, yet to Mills seemed a marginal Interpretation, Prol. 1280.

Ver. 38. you measure] Why is withal thrust in here in the Bishops and K's Translations, without distinguishing it too, any more than at Mat. vii. 2?

Ver. 42. How much better this long Verse is parted Mat. vii. 4, 5. though both together shorter! But how discordant is the Partition there and here?

C H A P. VII.

NOW after he had compleated all his Words in the Hearing of the People, he entered into Capernaum.

2. When a Servant of a certain Centurion, who was dear to him, was ill, and about to die.

3. But hearing about Jesus, he sent to him some Elders of the Jews, intreating him, that he would come, and save his Servant.

4. So being come to Jesus, they besought him earnestly, saying, that he was worthy on whom he should bestow this.

5. For he loves our Nation, and has himself built us a Synagogue.

6. Accordingly Jesus went with them, and he being now not far distant from the House, the Centurion sent to him Friends, saying to him; Lord, do not trouble thy self: for I am not fit that thou shouldest enter under my Roof.

7. Therefore neither did I count my self worthy to come to thee; but speak in a Word, and my Lad will be healed.

8. For thus I, who am a Man appointed to be in Authority, having Soldiers under me; say to one, Go, and he goes; to another, Come, and he comes; and to my Servant, Do this, and he does.

9. And when Jesus heard these Things, he wondered at him, and turning about, said to the Company who followed him; I tell you, I have not found so much Faith in Israel.

10. And those that were sent returning to the House, found the Servant who was sick become well.

11. Besides on the Day following he went to a City called Nain; when many of his Disciples went with him, and a great Company.

12. Now as he came near the Gate of the City, behold also one dead was carried out, the only begotten Son of his Mother, and she a Widow; with whom there was much Company of the City.

13. And the Lord seeing her, was moved with Affection to her, and said to her, Do not weep.

14. Next he went near, and touched the Coffin (those who carried it standing still) and said, Young Man, I say to thee, Rise up.

15. At this the dead one sat up, and began to speak; and he gave him to his Mother.

16. Upon which Fear seized them all, and they glorified God, saying, A great Prophet is risen up among us; and God has visited his People.

17. Nay this Account went forth in all Judea concerning him, and in the whole Country round about.

18. Moreover the Disciples of John told him of all these Things.

19. Who called thither two in particular of them, and sent to Jesus enquiring, Art thou he who was to come, or are we to expect another?

20. And the Men being come to him, said; John the Baptizer sent us to thee with Enquiry, Art thou he who was to come, or are we to expect another?

21. In that Hour too he cured many of Diseases, Sores, and wicked Spirits; nay to many blind ones he gave Sight.

22. Whereupon Jesus made answer to them; Go, and tell John what Things you see and hear; that the Blind have sight, the Lame walk, the Leapers are cleansed, the Deaf hear, the Dead are raised up, the Poor are preached to;

23. And whoever shall not be offended at me is blessed.

24. Besides when John's Messengers were gone away, he began to speak to the Multitude concerning John; What did you go out into the Wilderness to see? A Reed shaken by the Wind?

25. But what went you out to look at? A Man dressed in soft Cloaths? Behold those who are in gay Cloathing and Pleasure, are in Palaces.

26. However what went you out to look at? A Prophet? Yes, I tell you, and much more than a Prophet.

27. This is he of whom it is written, Behold I send my Messenger before thy Face, who shall make ready thy Way before thee.

28. For I say to you; There is not a greater Prophet, among those that are born of Wo-

Ver. 11. many of] Strange, if not incredible, is the Relation which Mills gives, for this to have crept in (irrep-sisse, a trite Word with him) from the following Verse, did not he put to it videtur, it seems, viz. to himself, Prol. 416. when it is used of different Persons, and here plur. there sing. and that only the twelve were in that great Company is unlikely, as well as without any Proof.

Ver. 16. saying, A] Both the ori here, which otherwise signify that, being apparently Expletives, as sometimes.

Ver. 22. Jesus] is Matthew's, says Mills in his Manner, Prol. 417. but as it was not superfluous in Mat. xi. 4. why should Luke leave it out, to give others Occasion to add it in?

Ver. 24. Multitude] as Mat. xi. 7.

Ver. 25. in brilliant Cloathing] So the Gr. has a Prep. Adj. and Subst.

[b. Pleasure] a Noun.

Ver. 27. before thee] not in two very odd Copies, yet adjudged to Mat. by Mills.

Ver. 28. Prophet] about a Dozen are without, and Mills esteemed it born of an Interpretation, that the Bap-tist might not be said to be greater than Christ himself; but would not such careful Notionists then have added it likewise in Mat. xi. 11. ? And how much likelier was it omitted here, because there !

men, than John the Baptizer; yet the least in the Kingdom of God is greater than he.

29. And all the People who heard, with the Publicans, justified God, being baptized with the Baptism of John.

30. Whereas the Pharisees and Expounders of the Law rejected the Counsel of God to themselves, being not baptized by him.

31. The Lord also said; To what therefore shall I liken the Men of this Generation? And what are they like?

32. They are like Boys that sit in the Market, and calling one to another, say, We have piped to you, and ye not danced: we have mourned to you, and ye not cried.

33. For John the Baptizer is come neither eating Bread, nor drinking Wine; and you say, He has a Devil.

34. The Man is come eating and drinking, and you say, Behold a Man who is a Glutton and a Wine-drinker, a Friend of Publicans and Sinners.

35. Yet Wisdom is justified by all its Children.

36. And one of the Pharisees intreated him, that he would eat with him; so going into his House, he sat down.

37. When behold a Woman in the City, who was a Sinner, knowing that he sat down in the Pharisee's House, brought an Alabaster-box of Ointment.

38. And standing by his Feet behind weeping, began to wet them with Tears; and wiped with the Hair of her Head, as also kissed them, and anointed with the Ointment.

39. Which the Pharisee who invited him seeing, he said thus in himself, If this was a Prophet, he would have known who, and what sort of a Woman it is that touches him; since she is a Sinner.

40. And Jesus made answer to him, Simon, I have Something to say to thee; who replied, Teacher, say it:

41. Some Creditor had two Debtors, one owed five hundred Pence, and the other fifty;

42. But they having not to pay, he forgave them both: tell which of them therefore will love him most?

43. To which Simon made answer, I suppose he to whom he forgave most. And he rejoined to him, Thou hast judged rightly.

44. Then turning to the Woman, he said to Simon; Dost thou see this Woman? When I came into thy House, thou gavest no Water for my Feet; but she wet them with Tears, and wiped with the Hair of her Head.

45. Thou gavest me no Kiss; but she, since she came in, has not ceased kissing my Feet.

49. Thou didst not anoint my Head with Oil; whereas she has anointed my Feet with Ointment.

47. For which Cause I say to thee, Her Sins that were many are forgiven, since she loved much; but he to whom little is forgiven, loves little.

48. He likewise said to her, Thy Sins are forgiven.

46. Upon this they who were sitting down together began to say in themselves, Who is this that even forgives Sins?

50. Nevertheless he said to the Woman, Thy Faith has saved thee; go in Peace.

C H A P. VIII.

AND thenceforward he travelled throughout City and Village, proclaiming and preaching the Kingdom of God: the twelve being with him;

2. As likewise some Women that had been cured of wicked Spirits, and Ailments; Mary called Magdalene, from whom seven Devils were come out;

3. And Joanna the Wife of Chuza Herod's Steward, and Susannah, with many others,

Ver. 37. a Woman] That this is not the same Person nor History as in Mat. xxvi, Mark xiv, and John xii. see by Hammond here, and Wall's Critical Notes, with Whitby, &c.

Ver. 38. Tears] by Wesley a shower of tears; though the original Word signifies simply Tears, as he himself also renders it in Ver. 44. and every where else.

Ver. 42. tell—of them]. Some omit one, or the other, or both of these, only at first perhaps because it might be done, and then Mills concludes it should. They came, says he from the Margin, Prolog. 417. but what brought them thither? No Need of Interpretation, or Explanation.

Ver. 43. he] or that he will: for that, as in our com. Reading, disturbs the Propriety of Speech; and the Gr. Particle may be redundant, as at Ver. 16.

Ver. 45. she came] as some Copies and Translations have, and according to the Remark of Doddridge appears undoubtedly right by Ver. 17. and it may be added the common wrong; for how could it be from the Time Jesus came, which is more express in the Gr. than the Eng. when she was not there at first? The Difference is so small as o and e.

Ver. 46. my Feet] Mills suspected to be brought from Ver. 38. though lacking only in three Copies, and necessary here.

Ver. 47. since] Ham. and Whit. strenuously insist this should be therefore, though to say et signifies it; in the plain Scripture Style too, is like calling black white, and as for the latter saying one of the two must bear that Sense in John xiv. 17. there is not the least Necessity for it. Besides For this Cause here is stronger than since or for, and both agreeable to Ver. 50. and since if not casual, may be demonstrative.

Ver. 2. were come out] the Form of the preterpluperfect Tense to a Verb Neuter, and the same as at Ver. 35, 38.

Ver. 3. Joanna] or Joan.

who ministered to him of the Things which they had.

4. At last when a great Company was together, and coming to him throughout the Cities, he said by a Similitude:

5. A Sower went forth to sow his Seed. As he was doing this, some indeed fell by the Way, so that it was trod on, and the Fowls of the Air eat it up.

6. And another Part fell on a Rock, and when it sprung withered, because it had not Moisture.

7. Moreover another fell amongst Briers; which springing together, choaked it.

8. And another fell in good Land, and being sprung produced Fruit a hundred-fold. Having said these Things, he cried out, He that has Ears to hear, let him hear.

9. Afterwards his Disciples asked him thus, What may this Similitude be?

10. And he said: It is given you, to know the Mysteries of the Kingdom of God; but to the rest in Similitudes: that when seeing they may not clearly see, and hearing they may not understand.

11. Now the Similitude is this; The Seed is the Word of God.

12. Next they by the Way, are those who hear; afterwards the Devil comes, and takes away the Word from their Hearts, that they may not believe, and be saved.

13. They also on the Rock, when they hear, take the Word with Joy; and these have not Root, who believe for a Time, and in that of Trial go away.

14. That likewise on which it fell among Briers, these are who having heard, are choaked as they go on, by the Cares, Riches, and the Pleasures of Life together, and do not bring it to perfection.

15. That too of good Land, these are who having heard the Word, with a good and upright Heart keep, and bear Fruit with Patience.

16. And none lighting a Candle, covers it with a Vessel, or puts underneath a Bed; but puts upon a Candlestick, that they who go in may see the Light.

17. For there is not a Thing hid, which will not be manifest; nor has been hidden, which will not be known, and come to Manifestation.

18. Beware therefore how you hear: for to him whoever has, shall be given; and from him whoever has not, shall be taken even what he seems to have.

19. There were moreover come to him his Mother and Brethren, and could not get to be with him for the Company.

20. And it was told him as follows, Thy Mother and thy Brethren stand without, who would see thee.

21. But he made answer to them, My Mother and my Brethren are these that hear the Word of God, and do it.

22. One Day also he went into a Ship, with his Disciples, and said to them, Let us go along to the farther Side of the Lake: so they went off.

23. But as they sailed, he fell asleep; in the mean while there came down a tempestuous Wind into the Lake, and they were filled up, so as to be in danger.

24. So coming near, they awakened him, and said, Master, Master, we are perishing; but he rose up, and rebuked the Wind, with the Waves of Water; which thereupon left off, and there was a Calm.

25. Besides he said to them, Where is your Faith? But they were afraid, and wondered, saying one to another, Who indeed is this, that he even bids the Winds and Water, and they obey him?

26. At length they were sailed to the Country of the Gadarenes, which is over against Galilee.

Ver. 8. Having said &c.] All this to the End of the Ver. Mills says was taken from the Lecturers, and put in the wrong Place, they having it, as also several Copies, at the End of Ver. 15. and it is wanting in a few here, Prel. 1426. What Pity it is that great Man at last so far frustrated the right End of his worthy Labour!

Ver. 14. on which it fell] Let the intelligent Reader consider how necessary this is, with [of] in the next Verse, and compared with Mat. xiii. 22, 23. Mark iv. 18, 20.

Ver. 15, 16. Our Transf. has three its added in, and but one of them Ital.

Ver. 18. seems] Wesley has, what he most assuredly hath, and says on the Note, Wherever this Word occurs, it does not weaken, but greatly strengthen the Sense. Whereas no such Thing appears, it signifying to think or seem; being commonly rendered by the former in his Transf. and the latter Ch. i. 3. Acts xvii. 18. & xxv. 27. 2 Cor. x. 9.

with seem good elsewhere; and suppose Mark vi. 49. Luke xii. 51. & xiii. 2, 4. John xx. 15. Acts xxvii. 13. Heb. x. 29. and was Mary assured Jesus was the Gardener, John xx. 15. as he turns it in John v. 39. for the sake of which the rest seem to be made; or were the Heathen assured they should be heard for their much speaking, Mat. vi. 7? or the Disciples that Jesus spoke of being asleep, when John says he did not, Ch. xi. 13? that he was a Spirit, Luke xxiv. 37. which he disproves, Ver. 39? or that some were assured of what none knew, Ch. xiii. 28, 29? Peter of what was not, Acts xii. 9? and Paul that he ought to do many Things contrary to Jesus, Ch. xxvi. 9? which also would make no Sense, or worse, in divers other Passages. If otherwise, this noted Author's Reply is desired, for clearing up the Truth.

Ver. 19. his Mother and Brethren] Gr. the Mother and Brethren of him, because his is added in the com. Transf.

Ver. 25. that] as Mat. viii. 27. Mark iv. 41.

27. When he coming out to Land, there met him some Man from the City, who had Devils for a great while, and did not wear Cloathing, nor remain in a House, but among the Tombs.

28. However when he saw Jesus, with crying out, he fell down to him, and said aloud, What hast thou to do with me, Jesus, the Son of the Highest God? I pray thee, that thou wilt not torment me.

29. For he ordered the unclean Spirit to come out from the Man: since it many times caught him; upon which he was bound with Chains, and confined with Fetters; yet he tore the Bonds asunder, and was driven by the Devil into the Wilderness.

30. Whom Jesus thus asked, What is thy Name? To which he said, Legion; because there were many Devils entered into him:

31. As also besought him, that he would not bid them go away into the Deep.

32. Now a Herd was there of many Hogs feeding on the Mountain; so they did beseech him, that he would permit them to enter into them, which he did.

33. Accordingly the Devils coming out from the Man, entered into the Hogs; when the Herd ran with violence down a steep Place into the Lake, and were choaked.

34. The Keepers then seeing what was done, ran away; and being gone, told it both in the City and the Fields.

35. So the People came out to see what was done; and when they came to Jesus, they found the Man sitting, from whom the Devils were come out, cloathed, and being sober, at the Feet of Jesus; at which they were afraid.

36. Nay those also who saw told them, how he in whom the Devils were was made well.

37. With that all the Multitude of the Gadarenes of the Country round about intreated him, to go away from them, because they were pressed with great Fear; and he going aboard the Ship, returned.

38. And the Man from whom the Devils were come out prayed him, to be with him; yet Jesus sent him away, saying,

39. Return to thy House, and tell whatever Things God has done for thee. Accordingly he went away, proclaiming throughout the whole City, all the Things which Jesus had done for him.

40. At the Return also of Jesus, the Company received him: for they were all waiting for him.

41. When behold there came a Man whose Name was Jairus, and he was a Ruler of the Synagogue; and falling down at the Feet of Jesus, he besought him to come into his House:

42. Because he had an only begotten Daughter, about twelve Years old, and she was dying. But at his going, the Multitude crowded him.

43. And a Woman that was with a Flux of Blood for twelve Years, who having consumed her whole Livelihood on Physicians, could not be cured by any;

44. Now came near behind, and touched the Skirt of his Garment; and immediately the Flux of her Blood was stanch'd.

45. And Jesus asked, Who touches me? But when all denied, Peter said, and those with him, Master, the Multitude press thee, and throng, and dost thou enquire, Who touches me?

46. Jesus notwithstanding said, Somebody has touched me; for I know that Power is gone out from me.

47. The Woman then seeing that she was not hid, came trembling, and when she was fallen down to him, told him before all the People, by what Motive she had touched him, and how she was healed immediately.

48. Upon which he said to her, Take courage, Daughter, thy Faith has made thee well; go in Peace.

49. While he was speaking, Somebody comes from the Ruler of the Synagogue's, saying to him, Thy Daughter is dead; do not trouble the Master.

50. But Jesus hearing, made him answer, Do not fear; only believe, and she shall be made well.

Ver. 27. from the City] not out of, as Grotius and Wall remark, who take it to mean he was one of the City; but I rather think it was from the Tombs at the Outside of the City.

Ver. 31. As also besought] sing. the very same as in Mark v. 10. and here in Ver. 41. but indeed Beza and the old Lat. have both the same Fault, whom our Translators seem too implicitly to have followed.

Ver. 33. a steep Place] West. the steep only.

Ver. 34. being gone] is not in a great Parcel of Books, and by Mills is of Mat. but as Omission in general, and as it appears in Fact, is far likelier than Addition, by Oversight, why not here?

VOL. II.

Ver. 36. in whom the Devils were] added, says Mills without any Authority at all for it, for the sake of Clearness; but could any one not know who he was? And are the inspired Writings to be handled thus?

Ver. 42. But at] How unsuitably have our Translators here put a long Parenthesis, and not in Mark v.

Ver. 48. Take courage] Matthew's, says Mills; but rather Luke went in his Footsteps.

Ver. 49. the Master] Mills says is Mark's, Ch. viii. 35. and imagines as at Ver. 36. here should be him for it; but why any more than there? Such Work is blasted with such Inconsistency.

51. In the next place when he went into the House, he let none go in, excepting Peter, James and John, with the Father of the Girl, and the Mother.

52. And as they all wept, and lamented her, he said, Do not weep; she is not dead, but asleep.

53. At which they derided him, knowing that she was dead.

54. Nevertheless he put them all out, and taking hold of her Hand, called out thus, Girl, rise up.

55. And her Spirit returned, and she arose immediately; when he ordered there should be Something given her to eat.

56. Whereupon her Parents were amazed; but he charged them that they should tell Nobody what was done.

C H A P. IX.

AND calling together his twelve Disciples, he gave them Power and Authority over all Devils, as likewise to cure Diseases.

1. Whom he sent to preach the Kingdom of God, and to heal the Sick.

3. However he said to them; Take Nothing for the Road, neither Sticks, nor a Bag, nor Victuals, nor Money; nor have two Coats apiece.

4. And into whatever House you enter, remain there, and go out thence.

5. And to as many as ever will not receive you; at coming out from that City, shake away even the Dust from your Feet, for a Testimony against them.

6. So going out, they went through the Towns, preaching and curing every where.

7. Now Herod the Tetrarch heard all that was done by him; and doubted, because it was said by some, that John was risen from the Dead;

8. And by some, that Elias appeared; and by others, that one of the old Prophets was risen up.

9. Whereas Herod said, I have beheaded John; but who is this, concerning whom I hear such Things? Therefore he sought to see him.

10. The Apostles also returning, told him whatever Things they had done; with that he took them, and withdrew privately into a desert Place belonging to the City called Bethsaida.

11. Yet the Multitude knowing, followed him; and he receiving them, spake to them concerning the Kingdom of God, and healed those who had need of Cure.

12. At length the Day began to decline; when the twelve came, and said to him, Send the Company away, that they may go hence into the Villages and Fields round about, and lodge, as also get Victuals; because we are here in a desert Place.

13. But he answered them, Do ye give them some to eat. And they said, There are not with us more than five Loaves, and two Fishes; except we should go, and buy Meat for all these People:

14. For they were about five thousand Men. Next he said to his Disciples, Cause them to sit down by fifties in a Company.

15. And they did so, making them all sit down.

16. When he taking the five Loaves and two Fishes, looked up to Heaven, blessed them, and broke apart; then gave to the Disciples, to set before the Company.

17. Who did all eat, and were filled; nay there were taken up what was over and above to them of Fragments twelve Baskets.

18. While he was praying too alone, his Disciples were with him; and he asked them as follows, Who do the Multitude say that I am?

19. And they made answer, John the Baptist; some, Elias; and others, that some old Prophet is risen up.

20. He further enquired of them, But who do you say that I am? And Peter made answer, The Christ of God.

21. Nevertheless he charging them, ordered they should tell this to Nobody;

22. Saying, that the Man must suffer many Things, and be rejected by the Elders, chief Priests and Scribes, as also be killed, and the third Day be raised up.

23. Besides he said to them all; If any one would come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his Cross daily, and follow me.

Ver. 54. put them all out, and] condemned for Mark's by Mills, Proleg. 417. although he so frequently tells how Luke follows Mark.

Ver. 1. his twelve Disciples] Many have but the twelve, and Mills looked on the other to be taken from the Evangelizers, as tho' he would catch at what he could against the received Reading, and some have the twelve Apostles.

Ver. 3. Sticks] Some have Stick, not well consistent with Mark vi. 8.

Ver. 10. belonging to the City called] Mills discharges, as not in one Copy, Proleg. 417. yet among his various Readings has from the same the Town called (by another Gr. Word;) and as for the Versions, he quotes them having which is, or what is like it.

Ver. 17. were taken up what] The Gr. having a true Concord sing. tho' not the Eng. was taken up twelve.

Ver. 18. alone] from the Multitude, as Mark iv. 10. at his private Devotion.

Ver. 23. come] elthein in the 2 Aorist, which notwithstanding Mills quotes Origen to be of Mat. xvi. 24. Pr.

24. For

24. For whoever would save his Life, will lose it; and whoever shall lose his Life for my sake, he will save it.

25. For what Profit will it be to a Man, when he has gained the whole World, but lost himself, or is ruined?

26. For whoever shall be ashamed of me and my Words, of him the Man will be ashamed, when he comes in his Glory, and the Father's, and the holy Angels.

27. But I tell you truly, There are some of them that stand here, who will not at all taste Death, until they see the Kingdom of God.

28. About eight Days also after these Sayings, he taking Peter, and John, with James, went up on a Mountain to pray.

29. Where in his praying, was another Appearance of his Face, and his Cloathing was glistering white.

30. Moreover behold two Men talked with him, who were Moses and Elias;

31. That appearing in Glory, spoke of his Decease, which he was about to fulfil at Jerusalem.

32. But Peter and those with him were heavy with Sleep; however awaking, they saw his Glory, and two Men standing with him.

33. And at their parting from him, Peter said to Jesus, Master, it is well that we should be here; and let us make three Tabernacles, one for thee, one for Moses, and one for Elias: not knowing what he said.

34. Now as he spoke, there was a Cloud, and it overshadowed them; but they were afraid at their entering into it.

35. And there was a Voice out of the Cloud said, This is my beloved Son; hear him.

36. And when the Voice was done, Jesus only was found; and they held their peace, and declared Nothing of the Things which they saw to any one in those Days.

37. Next on the Day following, as they came down from the Mountain, much Company met him.

38. And behold a Man from the Company cried out loud, saying; Master, I pray thee, look upon my Son, because he is my only begotten one.

39. And lo a Spirit takes him, and he cries out of a sudden, since it tears him with Foaming, and hardly departs from him bruising him.

40. So I prayed thy Disciples, that they would expel him, and they could not.

41. But Jesus made answer, O unbelieving and perverse Generation, how long shall I be with you, and bear with you? Bring thy Son along hither.

42. However while he was coming near, the Devil tore him, and mangled; but Jesus rebuked the unclean Spirit, and healed the Lad, whom he delivered to his Father.

43. Hereupon they were all surprized at the Majesty of God. And they all wondering at all the Things which Jesus did, he said to his Disciples,

44. Do ye lay up these Words in your Ears: for the Man is about to be delivered up into the Power of Men.

45. Yet they did not understand this Saying, and it was concealed from them, that they might not be sensible of it; and they were afraid to ask him concerning the same.

46. Afterwards a Reasoning entered into them, who it was should be the greatest of them.

47. And Jesus knowing the Reasoning of their Heart, took hold of a little Child, and set him by him;

48. And said to them, Whoever shall receive this little Child in my Name, receives me; and whoever shall receive me, receives him who sent me: for he that is the least among you all, will be great.

49. But John made answer, Master, we saw Somebody expelling Devils in thy Name; and we forbade him, because he did not follow with us.

50. And Jesus said to him, Do not forbid; for he that is not against us, is for us.

51. At last when the Days for him to be taken up were fulfilled, he fixed his Face to go to Jerusalem.

52. And sent Messengers before himself; who going, entered into a Village of the Samaritans, for them to make ready for him.

53. Whereas they did not receive him, because his Face was to go to Jerusalem.

679. I should choose to think Luke followed him, and that it was altered to archesthai to be more suitably as imagined in the present Tenic, as some Copies have it.

1b. daily] many Copies are without, and Mills against it, Prol. 676, 1363. tho' Grotius for it; I incline to the former, for though it is notable, it might more likely be added, and as being in 1 Cor. xv. 31. and unlikely to be omitted, whereas the Vulg. having it would promote it, tho' that had it not at first.

Ver. 28. eight] The two Days on which the Things were, being added to the six whole ones of Mat. and Mark between.

Ver. 36. when the Voice was] shewing it spoken of Jesus, not of Moses nor Elias; and agreeable, as it must be, to the Beginning of Ver. 33. as likewise to the Gr. which is, in the being of the Voice: so that the Vulg. and Eras. have dum, while; Cast. Interca dum, In the mean time while; and a late Eng. Transf. before the sound was gone.

Ver. 42. tore] as in Ch. v. 37. Mat. vii. 6. Mark ix. 18. not threw down.

Ver. 44. lay up these Words in your Ears] that is, remember you have heard them.

Ver. 48. will be] Vulg. Lat. &c. is, which Mills allows to be a Mistake among a few others.

54. Which his Disciples James and John seeing, they said, Lord, wilt thou have us speak for Fire to come down from Heaven, and consume them, even as Elias did?

55. But he turning about, rebuked them, and said, You know not what Spirit you are of.

56. For the Man is not come to destroy, but to save Men's Lives. Then they went to another Village.

57. As they were going, Somebody also said to him, I will follow thee whither soever thou goest, Lord.

58. To whom Jesus said, The Foxes have Holes, and the Fowls of the Air Nests, but the Man has not where he may lay down the Head.

59. He also said to another, Follow me; whereas he answered, Lord, permit me first that I may go away to bury my Father.

60. But Jesus replied to him, Leave the Dead to bury their own Dead; and do thou go away, and declare the Kingdom of God.

61. And another likewise said, I will follow thee, Lord; but permit me first to take leave of those at my House.

62. Upon which Jesus said to him, None who puts his Hand upon the Plough, and looks backward, is fit for the Kingdom of God.

CHAP. X.

AND after these Things the Lord also pointed out seventy others, and sent them two together before himself, into every City and Place whither he was about to go.

2. So he said to them: The Harvest indeed is great, but the Workmen few; pray therefore to the Master of it, that he would send forth Workmen into his Harvest.

3. Go; behold I send you like Lambs into the midst of Wolves.

4. Do not carry a Purse, nor Bag, nor Shoes; and salute none by the Way.

5. Besides into whatever House you enter, first say, Let there be Peace to this House.

6. And if indeed the Son of Peace be there, your Peace shall rest upon it; but if otherwise, it shall turn back upon you.

7. Nay in that House remain, eating and drinking the Things with them: for the Workman is deserving of his Wages. Do not depart from House to House.

8. And into whatever City also you enter, and they receive you, eat the Things set before you.

9. As likewise cure the Sick in it, and say to them, The Kingdom of God is come near you.

10. But into whatever City you enter, and they do not receive you; come forth into the Streets of it, and declare,

11. Even the Dust that sticks to us from your City, we wipe off to you; nevertheless know this, that the Kingdom of God has come near you.

12. Yet I say to you, that it will be more tolerable for Sodom on that Day, than for that City.

13. Wo is to thee, Chorazin, wo is to thee, Bethsaida; since if the powerful Things done in you, had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented of old, sitting in Sackcloth and Ashes.

14. But it will be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon, in the Judgment, than for you.

15. And thou, Capernaum, exalted as thou art to Heaven, will be cast down to Hell.

16. He who hears you, does me; and he that rejects you, does me; nay he that rejects me, does him who sent me.

17. At length the Seventy returned with Joy, saying, Lord, even the Devils are subject to us through thy Name.

18. Whereupon he said to them; I saw Satan as Lightning fall from Heaven.

Ver. 54. speak for Fire] In Rider's present Proposals for his Christian's Family Bible, he insists that in 2 Kings i. should be rendered Fire will come down; but this may shew it to be otherwise, especially with Christ's not taking it so, as he apparently did not here in Ver. 56. by his making a Distinction between his own Work and that particular one of the Prophet; see likewise the Power of the two Witnesses, Rev. xi. 5, 6.

Ib. even as Elias did] It did not discourage me from vindicating the Scripture, either to find that Mills was turned against owning this, or that Kuster so gladly embraced his latter Opinion: for what is the Authority of a Couple of stragling Copies, and three loose Versions only, when opposed to all the rest? But there is the vulg. Lat. for one, which Mills manifestly preferred above the present received Original; and what do the Papish Writers more? His Query, What sensible Person would have blotted out such notable Words? may be answered by another, How would Luke then have been sensible in omitting them? And he who did it might not be very sanus, sound, rather than one of the most elegant inspired Penmen.

Ver. 60. Jesus] Mills, as if to swell his Catalogue of Discoveries, refers this to Mat. Prol. 419. for so a very bad Copy, Prol. 1492. and an uncertain Transf. are without it.

Ver. 61. to take leave of those at my House] which is what, and all that the Gr. has. The best I can make of the vulg. Reading is, that the Translator first turned it at home, and then mended it by at my house, without crossing out the other; whereby both were printed, and so have continued.

Ver. 1. seventy] Very few, but the Vulg. for one, have seventy two, from Tradition, says Mills; rather first from Imagination, of six to each Tribe or Apostle.

Ver. 11. near] Some have not to you, which Mills therefore pronounces crept from Ver. 9. Prol. 419. but his Credit in this Respect is almost gone with me.

19. Behold

19. Behold I give you Authority to tread upon Serpents and Scorpions, and over all the Power of the Enemy; nay not any Thing shall at all do you injury.

20. Nevertheless do not rejoice at this, that the Spirits are subject to you; but rather rejoice, that your Names are written in Heaven.

21. At that Hour Jesus was joyful in Spirit, and said; I make acknowledgment to thee, Father, Lord of Heaven and Earth, since thou hast hid these Things from the wise and understanding ones, and revealed them to little Children: yes, O Father; because there has thus been good Will before thee.

22. All Things are delivered to me by my Father: and none knows who the Son is, excepting the Father; and who the Father is, excepting the Son, and he to whom the Son is minded to reveal him.

23. And turning to the Disciples, he said privately; The Eyes are blessed that see the Things which you see.

24. For I tell you, that many Prophets and Kings would have beheld the Things which you see, and did not; and heard the Things which you hear, and did not.

25. And behold some Expounder of the Law stood up, trying him in this manner, Master, what shall I do to inherit everlasting Life?

26. Upon this he said to him, What is written in the Law? How dost thou read?

27. To which he made answer, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with thy whole Heart, with thy whole Soul, with thy whole Might, and thy whole Mind; and thy Neighbour as thy self.

28. And he said to him, Thou hast answered rightly; do this, and thou wilt live.

29. But he being willing to justify himself, interrogated Jesus, And who is my Neighbour?

30. Which Jesus taking up, said; Some Man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among Robbers; who even stripping him, and laying on Blows, went away, and left him being half dead.

31. When as it fell out some Priest went down that Way, and seeing him, passed opposite.

32. And in like Manner also a Levite who was at the Place, coming and seeing, passed opposite.

33. But some Samaritan who travelled, came by him; and seeing him, was moved with Affection.

34. So that going thither, he bound up his Wounds, pouring in Oil and Wine; then setting him on his own Beast, he brought him to an Inn, and took care of him.

35. And on the next Day when he went away, pulling out two Pence, he gave to the Landlord, and said to him, Take care of him, and whatsoever thou spendest more, I will pay thee at my coming back.

36. Which therefore of these three, does it seem to thee, was Neighbour to him that fell in with the Robbers?

37. To this he answered, He who used Mercy with him. Jesus therefore said to him, Go, and do thou in like Manner.

38. Now in their going, he entered into some Village; where a certain Woman named Martha received him into her House.

39. And she had a Sister called Mary, who also sitting by the Feet of Jesus, heard his Word.

40. But Martha was busy about much Service, so that coming thither, she said, Lord, hast thou no Care that my Sister has left me to serve alone? Bid her therefore that she should assist me.

41. On the contrary Jesus made answer to her; Martha, Martha, thou art careful, and troubled about many Things;

42. Whereas there is Need of one: now Mary has chosen the good Part, which will not be taken away from her.

Ver. 20. rather] Such Abundance are without it, that one can scarce pretend it is genuine.

Ver. 22. Mills begins with, And turning to the Disciples, he said, from old Manuscripts, tho' in his Prolegomena, as Kuster observes, he supposes it introduced from the next Ver. Wesley joins it to Ver. 21.

Ib. knows] How much better would our Language have suited the Marcionites, to turn it from the present Time into knew, than as they did from γινώσκου to έγνων but now another Way is taken, to expound or merely assert it away.

Ver. 25. everlasting] Marcion blotted out, says Mills, as he shews from Tertullian; yet afterwards Mills changed his Mind, and pretends it crept in from some other Place, Prol. 291, 1511. Surely he must have entertained a mean Opinion of the received Reading, and have a strange Belief (nec dubito, nec do I doubt) to reject this Word, only because a Heretick and Corrupter of the Scripture (whom he himself reckons such) did.

Ver. 30. taking up] more suitable to the Gr. and that in Acts i. 9. than answering; see also Beza's Annot.

Ver. 31. it fell out] as Hammond says the rendering will most exactly be. And Wesley says, 'The common Translation is, By chance. Which is full of gross Impro-prieties.'

C H A P. XI.

AND at his praying in some Place, as he ceased, one of his Disciples said to him, Lord, teach us to pray, according as John also taught his Disciples.

2. Upon this he said to them : When you pray, say ; Our Father, who art in Heaven, sacredly revered be thy Name ; let thy Kingdom come ; may thy Will be done, even on the Earth according as in Heaven ;

3. Do thou give us our daily Bread according to the Day ;

4. And forgive us our Sins, for we ourselves also forgive every one who trespasses against us ; and do not bring us into Trial, but deliver us from Wickedness.

5. He further said to them : Which of you shall have a Friend, to whom he shall go at Midnight, and say to him, Friend, lend me three Loaves ;

6. Since a Friend of mine is come to me from a Journey, and I have Nothing which I can put before him :

7. To which he from within will make answer, Do not give me Trouble : the Door is now shut, and my little Children are with me in Bed ; I cannot rise to give thee ?

8. I say to you, If he even will not rise and give him, by reason that he is his Friend ; yet by reason of his Importunity, he will get up, and give him as many as he has need of.

9. I also say to you ; Ask, and there will be given you ; seek, and you will find ; knock, and there will be opened to you.

10. For every one who asks, receives ; and he that seeks, does find ; and to him who knocks, there will be opened.

11. And what Father of you, that a Son shall ask for Bread, will give him a Stone ?

And if for a Fish, will he give him instead of it a Serpent ?

12. Or even if he ask for an Egg, will he give him a Scorpion ?

13. If therefore you being wicked, know how to give good Gifts to your Children ; how much more will the Father who is from Heaven, give the Holy Spirit to those that ask of him !

14. And he expelled a Devil, that was dumb ; but when the Devil was come out, the dumb Man spoke ; at which the Multitude wondered.

15. Yet some of them said, He expels Devils by Beelzebub the Prince of them.

16. Whereas others tempting, asked of him for a Sign from Heaven.

17. But he perceiving their Imaginations, said to them : Every Kingdom divided against itself, is made desolate ; and one House against another, falls.

18. So if Satan also be divided against himself, how will his Kingdom stand ? because you say, that by Beelzebub I expel Devils.

19. Nay if I by Beelzebub expel Devils, by whom do your Children expel them ? For this reason they will be your Judges.

20. But if I by the Finger of God expel Devils, then the Kingdom of God is come to you.

21. When a strong Man armed keeps his own Hall, the Things which he has are in Peace.

22. However a stronger than he coming upon him after, overcomes him, takes his whole Armour in which he trusted, and distributes his Spoils.

23. He who is not with me, is against me ; and he that does not gather with me, disperses.

Ver. 2. Why two Verses in Mat. are but one here, may be ascribed to Carelessness, as likewise the Continuance of it ; since Authority has not thought them worth mending.

Ib. Our—who art in Heaven] This too according to Mills crept in, though he found but one Copy without it.

Ib. let thy Kingdom come] By Tertullian, who flourished in the latter End of the 2d Century, we learn that Marcion in the former Part of it had a Copy, which Mills commends in other Things, as had also Gregor. Nyssen. in the 4th Cent. wherein there was for this, let thy Holy Spirit come upon us, and bless us : which might be, as this Prayer besides is not the same with that in Mat. nor delivered at the same Time ; and that Sentence might be an Exposition of the other in Mat. which is obscure of it self ; nor is this the most that may be said for it, since Ver. 13. here, and which is not in Mat. seems to refer to such a Petition, as Mat. vi. 14. does to another. Moreover the great Occasion of altering the Text, being to make it as in some other Place ; that might also be the Case here : and on the other hand, if this had been originally the same as in Mat. one would scarce have been changed without the other.

Ib. may thy Will be] This to the End of the Ver. if Origen and Augustine may be credited, besides the Omission of two or three Copies, does not belong to Luke ; but see Whit. Examen.

Ver. 7. To which he will] Whereby it is good Sense, with the Note of Interrogation at last.

Ver. 13. the Holy Spirit] The chiefest thing, says the Gen. Note, that we can desire of God, is his holy Spirit.

Ib. Holy] Mills reciting six or seven Gr. Copies, with two Versions, and Erasmus assenting, that have it Good, fairly and clearly, as his Practice is ; Whitby falls on him very unfairly, in his Examen, Lib. 2. C. 1. nay with glaring Falsehood, that all the Gr. Copies agree in Holy, when he had mentioned four from Mills which did not ; and that all the oriental Versions render it so, when he saw the Armenian did not, nor the Ethiopic as he says they do, and again Cap. ii. that all the Versions are repugnant to Good. This good undoubtedly came from that before, to make the comparative Clauses more alike.

Ib. ask of him] For ask him in the com. Vers. may be the Holy Spirit, and is doubtful which.

Ver. 21. Hall] Those that have Palaces, do not use to keep them themselves.

24. When the unclean Spirit is gone forth from a Man, he goes through dry Places, seeking Refreshment; and upon not finding, he says, I will return into my House, whence I came forth;

25. And coming, he finds it swept, and adorned.

26. Then goes he, and takes seven other Spirits, more wicked than himself, and they entering in, dwell there; so that the last Things of that Man become worse than the first.

27. Now on his speaking these Things, some Woman of the Company with an exalted Voice, said to him, Blessed is the Womb that did bear thee up, and the Breasts which thou didst suck.

28. But he pronounced, Nay indeed blessed are those who hear the Word of God, and keep it.

29. At length the Multitude being got together, he began to say: This is a wicked Generation; it seeks for a Sign, and none will be given to it, excepting that of the Prophet Jonas.

30. For as Jonas became a Sign to the Ninevites, so will the Man also be to this Generation.

31. The Queen of the South will rise up in Judgment with the Men of this Generation, and condemn them; because she came from the Ends of the Earth to hear the Wisdom of Solomon, and behold one above Solomon is here.

32. The Men of Nineveh will arise in Judgment with this Generation, and condemn it; because they repented at the Preaching of Jonas, and behold one above Jonas is here.

33. And none lighting a Candle, puts in Secret, or under a Bushel; but on a Candlestick, that they who go in may see the Brightness.

34. The Eye is the Lamp of the Body; when thy Eye therefore sees distinctly, even thy whole Body is light; whereas after it is bad, even thy Body is dark.

35. Watch therefore, that the Light in thee may not be Darkness.

36. And if thy whole Body be light, not having any Part dark, the whole will be as light as when a Lamp enlightens thee with the Glittering.

37. Besides at his speaking, some Pharisee intreated him, that he would dine with him; so he went in, and sat down.

38. This the Pharisee seeing, wondered that he was not first washed before Dinner.

39. The Lord notwithstanding said to him: Now ye Pharisees cleanse what is without the Cup and Plate; but what is within you is full of Pillage and Wickedness.

40. Foolish ones, did not he who made what is without, make also what is within?

41. Nevertheless give Alms of the Things possessed; and behold all Things are clean to you.

42. But wo is to you Pharisees; because ye give tithe of Mint, Rue and every Herb, and pass by Judgment, and the Love of God: ye ought to do these, though not to leave them.

43. Wo is to you Pharisees; because ye love the first Seats in the Synagogues, and Salutations in the Markets.

44. Wo is to you, Scribes, and Pharisees, Hypocrites; because ye are as Sepulchres that do not appear, which the Men who walk over know not of.

45. But one of the Expounders of the Law made answer to him, Master, in saying these Things thou also abusest us.

46. Whereupon he said: And to you Expounders of the Law is Wo; because ye load Men with Loads grievous to be born, and ye your selves do not touch the Loads with your own Fingers.

Ver. 29. the Prophet] we need not doubt, says Mills, is of Mat. Prel. 1404. when only a few very exceptionable Books are without it.

Ver. 36. And] A 2d therefore, as in com. Transf. as I have elsewhere remarked of for, when it is to be referred back to the same Matter as the 1st, as this is to Ver. 34. is after the Manner of our Language, in which a close Connection is regarded, more clear and proper to be turned into and, whereby there is a joining also to that immediately before. Whereas Doddridge's Proposal to change the Meanings of so therefore and yet for (by which latter he renders the former here) is the Way to Uncertainty, and may be to hurtful Misinterpretation, which Expositors should endeavour to guard from. Nay, they are so opposite, that it has the very Look of Absurdity.

Ver. 38. seeing, wondered that] three or four have, reasoning in himself began to say, Why; and Mills approves of it, Prel. 240, 291, 420. which may be enough to mention, among so many Criticisms of his remarked besides.

Ver. 41. the Things possessed] The Vulg. having quod superest, what is over and above or remains, Nary in his Pref. would justify it under the Ambiguity of the Latin, as if it might mean like our English; which is intolerable Sophism: nay to help out his Popish adopted Transf. he affirms, The Latin being taken from the Greek, and the Greek from the Hebrew, it is certain the Latin Sentences, &c. can have no other literal Sense than that which the Hebrew has; but this tho' audaciously false, is making the Original the full Test of Scripture Verity.

Ver. 44. Scribes, and Pharisees, Hypocrites] a few Books (and then some Criticks would quite) dismiss.

Ver. 45. as] They being such as are described, and also comprehended in Scribes; which is for, not against, the Genuineness of that in the preceding Verse.

47. Wo is to you; because ye build up the Sepulchres of the Prophets, but your Forefathers killed them.

48. Surely ye testify, and consent to the Deeds of your Forefathers; that they indeed killed them, but ye build up their Sepulchres.

49. For this reason also the Wisdom of God said; I will send them Prophets, and Apostles; some of whom ye will kill, and persecute:

50. That there may be required from this Generation, the Blood of all the Prophets shed from the founding of the World;

51. From the Blood of Abel, to that of Zacharias, who perished between the Altar and the House: yes I tell you, it will be required from this Generation.

52. Wo is to you Expounders of the Law; because ye have taken away the Key of Knowledge: ye your selves neither go in, and those who were going in ye have hindered.

53. But when he spoke these Things to them, the Scribes and Pharisees began vehemently to urge, and to make him speak about many Things;

54. Lying in wait for him, and endeavouring to catch Something out of his Mouth, that they might accuse him.

CHAP. XII.

AMONG which ten thousands of Company being gathered together, so that they trod on one another, he began to say to his Disciples first: Take heed to your selves of the Leaven of the Pharisees, which is Hypocrisy.

2. As there is Nothing covered up, which will not be revealed; and hid, which will not be known.

3. For which cause whatever you have spoken in the Darkeness, will be heard in the Light; and what you have talked to the Ear in the Closets, will be proclaimed on the House-tops.

4. And I say to you my Friends; Be not afraid of them that kill the Body, and after these Things have not any Thing to do over and above.

5. But I will shew you whom you shall fear; Let it be him that has Authority, after he has killed, to cast into Hell; yes I say to you, fear him.

6. Are not five Sparrows sold for two Halfpence, not one of which is forgot before God?

7. Whereas even the Hairs of your Head have been all numbered. Therefore do not fear; you excel many Sparrows.

8. I further say to you; Every one whoever makes confession of me before Men, the Man will also make confession of him before the Angels of God.

9. But he that denies me in the presence of Men, will be quite denied in the presence of God's Angels.

10. And every one who shall say a Word in opposition to the Man, it will be forgiven him; but he that blasphemeth against the Holy Spirit will not be forgiven.

11. However when they carry you to the Synagogues, Principalities and Powers, be not careful how or with what you shall make defence, or what you shall say;

12. Since the Holy Spirit will teach you in that Hour, the Things which you should say.

13. And one of the Company requested him, Master, speak to my Brother to divide the Inheritance with me.

14. To whom he said, Man, who made me a Judge or a Divider over you?

15. He also said to them, See, and take heed of Covetousness; because to any one his Life is not in the abounding of the Things which he has.

16. Moreover he spoke a Similitude to them as follows: The Ground of some rich Man did bear well.

17. And he reasoned thus in himself, What shall I do, because I have not where I may gather together my Fruits?

18. This, added he, will I do: I will pull down my Barns, and build up bigger; and there will I gather together all my Product and my good Things.

Ver. 49. the Wisdom of God] Christ so termed by Luke, as 1 Cor. i. 24.

Ib. said] as in Mat. xxiii. 34, 35, 36. and so these three Verses added by Luke, being what Christ said at another Time.

Ver. 51. House] not temple as Mat. xxiii. 35.

Ver. 53. urges] fasten upon him, by Wesley, and much farther from the Original.

Ib. make him speak] in Imitation of the Heb. Conjug. Hiphil, as Hammond shews on Mark xiv. 54.

Ver. 1. first—to your selves] Mills was so fond of the Vulg. that he would throw these out; but he should not be so free with his aliunde, when he cannot so much as guess from whence his rejected Words are inserted.

Ver. 14. or a Divider] Marcion or some other pruning away this from the Scripture, has notwithstanding the Approbation of Mills, Psal. 292.

Ver. 15. Covetousness] Diver's MS. Copies and some Translations having all to it, though ms the Article might suffer the Change into rooms by Oversight, I suppose it rather designedly, to mend the Scripture; which was a Trade formerly on the Books of the New Test. lately on those of the Old.

Ver. 17. gather together] Wesl. shew.

Ver. 18. and my good Things] These Words being not in two Copies and one Author, Mills declares, but only from Imagination, were first written at the Marg. from the next Ver. and at length crept into the Context. How much has he injured his valuable Labours by his Notions at last! and Whitby's Exam. may be seen.

Ib. good Things] which his Ground should yield.

19. And

19. And to my Soul will say, Soul, thou hast many good Things laid up for many Years; be refreshed, eat, drink, be merry.

20. But God said to him, O foolish one, this Night thy Soul will be demanded from thee; and who will have the Things which thou hast prepared?

21. Thus is he that treasures up for himself, and is not rich to God.

22. Besides he said to his Disciples: For this reason I say to you; Be not careful for your Life, what you shall eat; nor for the Body, what you shall wear.

23. The Life it self is more than the Food, and the Body than the Apparel.

24. Observe the Ravens; since they do not sow, nor reap; have neither Storehouse, nor Barn; but God feeds them: how much more excellent are you than Fowls:

25. Nay which of you being careful, can add one Cubit to his Stature?

26. If you are therefore not capable of the least Thing, why are you careful about the rest?

27. Observe how the Lillies grow; they do not labour, nor spin: yet I tell you, Solomon in all his Glory was not cloathed like one of these.

28. Now if God thus array the Herbage in the Field, that exists to Day, and to Morrow is thrown into the Oven, how much more will be you, ye of little Faith?

29. So do not you seek what you shall eat, or what you shall drink; and get not up in Imagination.

30. Though all these Things the Gentiles of the World seek for; nay your Father knows, that you have need of these:

31. Nevertheless seek the Kingdom of God; and they will all be added to you.

32. Do not fear, little Flock; since your Father is pleased to give you the Kingdom.

33. Sell the Things which you have, and give Alms: make for your selves Purse that become not old, a Treasure in Heaven that does not fail; where a Thief comes not near, nor Moth destroys.

34. For at the Place where your Treasure is, your Heart also will be.

35. Let your Loins be girded about, and the Lamps burning;

36. And be you like Men who look for their own Master, when he will return from the Marriage; that he coming, and knocking, they may presently open to him.

37. Those Servants will be blest, whom the Lord when he comes shall find watching: I say to you certainly, that he will gird himself about, and make them sit down; and passing along, will minister to them.

38. And if he comes in the second Watch, or does in the third, and finds them so, those Servants will be blessed.

39. But this know, that if a Householder had known in what Hour the Thief would come, he would have watched, and not permitted his House to be broke through.

40. And be you therefore ready; since the Man comes in an Hour which you do not think.

41. Whereupon Peter said to him, Lord, dost thou speak this Similitude to us, or even to all?

42. At which the Lord said: Who then is a faithful and wise Steward, whom the Lord will set over his Family, to give their Allowance of Food in Season?

43. That Servant will be blest, whom his Lord when he comes shall find doing so.

44. Truly I tell you, that he will set him over all the Things he has.

45. But if that evil Servant says in his Heart, My Lord delays to come; and begins to beat the Servant-men and Maids, nay to eat and drink, and be drunk:

46. The Lord of that Servant will come in a Day that he does not expect, and in an Hour that he does not know of; and will cut him asunder, and put his Part with Unbelievers.

47. That Servant too who knows his own Lord's Will, and does not get ready, nor does according to his Will, shall be beat with many Stripes.

48. Whereas he that does not know, and does Things deserving of Stripes, shall be

Ver. 21. Several Codices have at the End; Having said these Things, he cried out, He that has Ears to hear, let him hear; but suspiciously from Chap. viii. 8.

Ver. 23. The Life it self is more than the Food] God who has given you your Life, will not fail to give you those lesser things that are necessary to it, Wall's Crit. Note; see also at Mat. vi. 25.

Ver. 24. Fowls] but they instead of it, as Mills would, with scarce any Reading for it, those of Veleius being uncertain. The Explanation, which he says it is, is none, or ridiculous; what to tell Ravens are Fowls!

Ver. 25. one Cubit to his Stature] by West. the least measure to his age, yet owning one Cubit is in the Original; and Means may be of use for lengthening Age, more than Stature.

Ver. 29. get up] according to the Gr. but to be doubtful, which it does not appear the Gr. signifies, though Beza labours for it, is rather to be cast down.

Ver. 31. all] some Copies are void of, but I would not have it therefore counted spurious with Mills.

Ver. 37. and make &c.] This latter Part of the Verse may be found repeated in the next with Mills.

Ver. 38. For second Watch, or does in the third, Marcion had, as in an old Copy or two still, evening Watch, with the well liking of Mills.

Ver. 40. therefore] not in the Vulg. and therefore should not, we may expect, in the Opinion of Mills; and his Pretence, that it was put into ours for the sake of Connexion, is a poor one, that being made by And.

beat with few. Nay every one to whom much is given, there will be much required of him; and him whom Men have committed much to, they will ask for the more.

49. I am come to put Fire on the Earth; and what would I have, if it be already kindled up?

50. But I have a Baptism to be baptized with; and how am I pressed, until it is accomplished?

51. Do ye think, that I am come to give Peace on the Earth? No, I say to you, but Division.

52. For henceforth there will be five in one House divided, three against two, and two against three.

53. A Father will be divided against the Son, and the Son against him; a Mother against the Daughter, and the Daughter against her; a Mother-in-law against her Daughter-in-law, and she against her Mother-in-law.

54. And he also said to the Multitude; When you see a Cloud rise from the West, presently you say, There comes a Shower; and it is so.

55. And when the south Wind is blowing, you say, that it will be hot; and it is.

56. You Hypocrites, see how to find out by the Face of the Earth and the Heaven; but how do you not find out by this Time?

57. And why do not you also of your selves judge what is righteous?

58. For as thou goest with thy Adversary to the Ruler, give a Fee in the Way to be delivered from him; lest at any time he should hale thee away to the Judge, and this deliver thee to the Constable, so that the latter should throw thee into Prison.

59. I tell thee, Thou wilt not at all come out thence, until thou payest even the last Mite.

C H A P. XIII.

AND some were present at that Time who told him concerning the Galileans, whose Blood Pilate mixed with their Sacrifices.

2. To whom Jesus made answer; Do ye think, that these Galileans were Sinners above all the Galileans, because they suffered such Things?

3. No, I say to you; but except ye repent, ye will all in like Manner perish.

4. Or those eighteen on whom the Tower at Siloam fell, and killed them; do ye think, that they were Trespasers above all Men who dwelt at Jerusalem?

5. No, I say to you; but except ye repent, ye will all likewise perish.

6. He further related this Similitude; Somebody had a Fig-tree planted in his Vineyard, and came seeking for Fruit on it, but found none.

7. Upon this he said to the Workman of the Vineyard, Behold three Years I come, seeking for Fruit on this Fig-tree, and find none; cut it down, why should it even make the Ground void?

8. But he made answer to him; Lord, let it alone also this Year, until I shall dig about it, and put Dung.

9. And if indeed it will yield Fruit, let it; but if not, thou mayest cut it down hereafter.

10. Now he was teaching in one of the Synagogues, on the Sabbath.

11. And lo there was a Woman had a Spirit of Weakness eighteen Years; so that she was bowed together, and could not stand upright by any means.

12. Whom Jesus seeing, spoke to, and said to her, Woman, thou art released from thy Weakness.

13. He also put Hands on her, and she was immediately made straight, and glorified God.

14. Yet the Ruler of the Synagogue, enraged that Jesus cured on the Sabbath, said thus to the Company, There are six Days in which it is fit to work; in them therefore come, and be cured, and not on the Sabbath Day.

Ver. 56. see how to find out by] Our Translators have rendered two different Verbs by discern, and left out another.

Ib. find out] not the absurd or unintelligible discern, as in Mat. xvi. 3. from which it is different.

Ib. the Earth and the Heaven] In which Order the Original stands, as our Gen. Verf. did, and Tyndal's; but our last Translators looked too much upon the old Lat. or Beza.

Ib. this Time] Nary, who of late translated the Books of the New Test. from the Lat. Vulg. among a few plain Notes and marginal Glosses (which the common Rom. Catholics might have more Need of than the Protestants) has for one here to this, i. e. The time of the coming of the Messiah so plainly pointed at by your own Prophets; Whilby thus, how do ye not discern (from what I do and teach, that) this (is-the) time (of the Messiah's Advent!)

Ver. 57. righteous] as the Gr. signifies, and as contrasted to their Hypocrisy, V. 56.

Ver. 58. a Fee] Gr. Gain, Acts xvi. 16. 19. & xix. 24. or Workmanship, Ver. 25. but not diligence. New Verf. in 1729. has the interest, less suitable to the Context.

Ver. 59. at all] by a double negative as Mat. v. 26.

Ver. 2. Jesus] left out of the vulg. Lat. as being not of Necessity; so denounced by Mills to be grafted into the Orig.

Ver. 3. in like Manner] as they did when Jerusalem was taken: not the same as in Ver. 5.

Ver. 10. one of the Synagogues] their Synagogue, Vulg. in a loose Way of translating. Mills makes choice of Synagogue for the right Reading, and would degrade ours to a marginal Explanation.

15. The Lord therefore made answer to him; O Hypocrite, does not each of you on the Sabbath let loose his Ox, or Ass from the Stall, and take away to watering?

16. Is it not fit then that she, being a Daughter of Abraham, whom Satan has bound to eighteen Years, should be let loose from this Bond on the Sabbath Day?

17. And he having expressed these Things, all who opposed him were ashamed; and the whole Company rejoiced, at all the glorious Things that were done by him.

18. Moreover he said; What is the Kingdom of God like? And to what shall I liken it?

19. It is like a Grain of Mustard, which a Man took, and cast into his own Garden; and it grew up, nay became a great Tree; and so the Fowls of the Air dwelt in the Branches of it.

20. And again he said; To what shall I liken the Kingdom of God?

21. It is like Leaven, which a Woman took, and hid in three Pecks of Flour, until the whole was leavened.

22. Afterwards he passed throughout the Cities and Villages, teaching, and making a Journey to Jerusalem.

23. When one said to him, Lord, are there few that will be saved? And he said to them:

24. Strive to go in at the narrow Gate; since many, I tell you, will endeavour to enter in, and will not be able.

25. Whenever the Householder is risen up, and has shut the Door: whereupon you begin to stand without, and to knock at it, saying, Lord, Lord, open to us; and he shall make answer to you, I do not know whence you are:

26. Then you will begin to say, We have eat before thee, and drunk, and thou hast taught in our Streets.

27. But he will reply, I tell you, I do not know whence you are; be gone from me, all you that work Unrighteousness.

28. There Weeping and Gnashing of Teeth will be, when you shall see Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, and all the Prophets in the Kingdom of God, but you thrust out abroad.

29. And People will come from the East and West, as also from the North and South, and will sit down in the Kingdom of God.

30. Besides to there are last who will be the first, and there are first who will be the last.

31. On that Day some of the Pharisees came, saying to him, Be gone, and go hence; because Herod is minded to kill thee.

32. And he answered them; Go and say to that Fox, behold I expel Devils, and accomplish Healings to Day and to Morrow, and on the third I shall be compleated.

33. But I must go on to Day, and to Morrow, and the next; since it cannot be that a Prophet should perish out from Jerusalem.

34. O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, that killest the Prophets, and stonest those who are sent to thee, how often would I have gathered thy Children together, in the Manner as a Hen her own Chick under the Wings, and ye would not!

35. Behold your House is left to you desart. And I tell you certainly, that ye shall not at all see me, until the Time comes when ye say, He is blessed who comes in the Name of the Lord.

C H A P. XIV.

AND at his going into the House of one of the Rulers of the Pharisees, to eat some Victuals, they were watching him.

2. When behold there was some Man before him that had the Dropsy before him.

3. And Jesus spoke to the Expounders of the Law, and the Pharisees, in the following manner, Is it lawful to cure on the Sabbath?

4. At which they were silent. And he taking, healed him, and sent away;

Ver. 15. Hypocrite] Not a few have it Hypocrites, which I am inclined to think might be first, as spoken to several, Ver. 17. and made sing. for a more apparent, though less Reason, because but one spoke to Jesus.

Ver. 21. three Pecks of Flour] Flour only Mills would have it, Pr. 425. from Something Ambrose said, one of whom might make a Mistake.

Ver. 24. will not be able] because not done in a right Manner; according to Rom. ix. 32.

Ver. 25. Lord, Lord] being doubled, is with Mills, as of Mat. Pr. 423. which is as if Luke himself might not as well copy him, and as if (for both are necessary) a Copy or two, with a couple of Versions, exceed more than seventy.

Id. not know whence you are] or not know of you whence you are, idiomatical as it may seem from the Heb. as in Gen. i. 4. &c. by Beza as in this Version.

Ver. 32. Fox] as Herod might seek to do it in Subtily; and thus they, or even he, might know that Jesus was not unacquainted with it.

Ver. 33. out from Jerusalem] or without, because the Sanhedrim were there to judge such, according to Lightfoot, Hammond and Whitby; as also Wall with Advantage, Jerusalem monopolizes to it self the Trade of killing Prophets. But perish out of Jerusalem reads as if a Prophet should not fail from thence, or it should not be without a Prophet, as common Readers I suppose generally understand it.

Ver. 35. desart] lacking in about 20 Copies, and has been thought added from Mat. xxiii. 38. but Somebody might leave it out, by taking it substantively for a Desert or Wilderness, and thinking it not suitable to House. Whitby says all the Versions have it, when he might see by Mills not the Copy. and Arm.

5. As also spoke to them in this manner, Which of you shall have an Ass or an Ox fallen into a Well, and will not presently pull him up on the Sabbath Day.

6. And they were not able to give answer against him to these Things.

7. He further spoke a Similitude to them who were invited, giving heed how they chose out the first Seats, saying to them ;

8. When thou art invited by any one to a Marriage, do not sit down in the first Seat ; lest at any time one more honourable than thou should be invited by him.

9. Whereby he that invited thee and him will say to thee, Give the Place to this Man ; and then thou wilt begin with Shame to take up with the last Place.

10. But when thou art invited, go and sit down in the last Place ; that when he who invited thee comes, he may say to thee, Friend, come up hither above ; then wilt thou have Reputation before those who sit down with thee.

11. Since he that exalts himself, will be humbled ; and he that humbles himself, will be exalted.

12. Nay he said also to him who invited him ; When thou makest a Dinner or Supper, do not call thy Friends, nor thy Brothers, nor thy Relations, nor rich Neighbours : lest at any time they also should invite thee again, and a Recompence be made.

13. On the contrary when thou makest a Feast, invite the Poor, the Maimed, the Lame, the Blind.

14. So thou wilt be blessed, since they have not to recompense thee : for it will be recompensed to thee in the Resurrection of the Righteous.

15. And one of them that sat down together hearing these Things, said to him, He will be blessed, who shall eat Bread in the Kingdom of God.

16. Whereupon he told him : Some Man made a great Supper, and invited many.

17. And sent his Servant at the Hour of Supper, to say to those who were invited, Come, because all Things are now ready.

18. But they all began in particular to make excuse : the first said to him, I have bought a Field, and had need go out, and see it ; I intreat thee, have me excused.

19. As another did, I have bought five Yoke of Oxen, and am going to prove them ; I intreat thee, have me excused.

20. Another too said, I have married a Wife, and for this reason cannot come.

21. Upon which that Servant came, and related to his Lord these Things. Then the Householder being angry, ordered his Servant, Go out quickly into the Streets and Lanes of the City, and bring in hither the Poor, Maimed, Lame and Blind.

22. Afterwards the Servant said, Lord, it is done as thou didst bid, and there is yet Room.

23. To whom the Lord replied ; Go out into the Ways and Hedges, and oblige them to come in, that my House may be filled.

24. For I tell you ; that none of those Men who were invited, shall taste my Supper.

25. Now a great Multitude went with him, and turning about, he said to them :

26. If any one comes to me, and does not slight his own Father, Mother, Wife, Children, Brothers, Sisters, nay and further his own Life, he cannot be my Disciple.

27. Moreover he who does not bear his Cross, and come after me, cannot be my Disciple.

28. For which of you being minded to build a Tower, does not first sit down, and count up the Cost, whether he has Things to compleat it ?

29. That when he has laid the Foundation, and is not able to accomplish, all who see may not at any time begin to mock him,

30. Saying, that this Man began to build, and was not able to accomplish.

31. Or what King going to meet with another King in War, does not first sit down, and consult whether he is able with ten thousand, to meet him that is coming against him with twenty thousand ?

32. But if otherwise, while he is yet far off, he sends a Message, and asks for Matters belonging to Peace.

Ver. 5. an Ass] Divers Gr. Copies have a Son, viz. ἵνα for ὅτι, which Mills in his various Readings counts genuine ; but in his Prolegomena to be made from ὅτι a Sheep, and with Kuster that to be genuine. Yet Ass suits better both with Ox, and with the Matter, according to Ch. xiii. 15, 16. And Sheep seems made from Mat. xii. 11. but by another Gr. Word nearly like that for Ass as above, and then Son for Sheep according to Mills, which makes the best Resemblance ; see also Whitby's Exam.

Ver. 7. invited] For bidden in this Sense is so far out of Use, even beneath vulgar, that it is Time for it to be laid aside.

Ver. 8. by any one] Mills rejects on small Authority, Prol. 420,

Ver. 15. Bread] In the greatest Part of the MSS. a Dinner, by ἀπὸν for ἀπὸν.

Ver. 22. there is yet] to distinguish yet from the Conjunction for nevertheless.

Ver. 23. oblige them to come in] Whitby here writes, ' How vainly these Words are brought, to prove that Men may be compelled by the secular Arm to embrace the true Faith, appears, 1st, From the nature of a Banquet, to which no Man is compelled by Force. 2dly, From the Scope of the Parable which respects the Calling of the Gentiles.' See also Doddr. hereon, who translates by press.

Ver. 24. A pretty many Copies conclude it with that in Mat. xxii. 14. taken from thence, says a Note of Weston, by Somebody into the Margin, and by another into the Text.

33. Thus therefore, every one of you, who does not take leave of all that he has, cannot be my Disciple.

34. Salt is good; but if Salt is become insipid, with what shall it be seasoned?

35. It is neither fit for the Land, nor for Dung; People throw it out. He that has Ears to hear, let him hear.

CHAP. XV.

NOW as all the Publicans and Sinners were coming nigh him, to hear him;

2. The Pharisees and Scribes murmured thus, He receives Sinners, and eats with them.

3. Whereupon he spoke to them the following Similitude:

4. What Man of you who has a hundred Sheep, and loses one of them, does not leave the ninety nine in the Wilderness, and go for the lost one, till he finds it?

5. Which finding, he puts on his own Shoulders, rejoicing;

6. And when he comes home, calls together his Friends and Neighbours, saying to them, Rejoice with me, because I have found my Sheep that was lost.

7. I tell you, that so there will be Joy in Heaven for one Sinner that repents, more than for ninety nine righteous Persons, who have not Need of Repentance.

8. Or what Woman who has ten Drams, if she loses one Dram, does not light a Candle, and sweep the House, and seek carefully, till she finds it?

9. This finding, she calls together her Friends and Neighbours, saying, Rejoice with me, because I have found the Dram which I had lost.

10. So I tell you, There is Joy before the Angels of God, for one Sinner that repents.

11. He said further: Some Man had two Sons;

12. The younger of whom said to the Father, Father, give me the Part of the Substance that is appointed: accordingly he divided to them the Living.

13. And not many Days after the younger Son gathering all together, travelled away into a Country far off; and there dispersed his Substance, by living luxuriously.

14. At length he having spent all, there was a great Famine throughout that Country, and he began to be in want.

15. Upon this he went, and got to be with one of the Citizens of that Country; who sent him to his Fields to feed the Hogs.

16. And he wished he could fill his Belly with the Husks which the Hogs eat, moreover Nobody gave to him.

17. Thus coming to himself, he said; How many hired ones of my Father abound with Victuals, while I am perishing with Hunger!

18. I will rise up, and go to my Father, and say to him; Father, I have sinned against Heaven, and before thee,

19. Inasmuch that I am no more worthy to be called thy Son; make me as one of thy hired Men.

20. Accordingly he rose up, and went to his Father: who saw him when he was far distant, and was moved with Affection; so that he ran, and fell on his Neck, and kissed him.

21. And the Son said to him, Father, I have sinned against Heaven, and before thee, inasmuch that I am no more worthy to be called thy Son.

22. But the Father said to his Servants; Bring out the chief Robe, and cloath him with, as also put a Ring on his Finger, and Shoes on the Feet.

23. Moreover bring the fatted Calf, and slay; then let us eat, and be merry.

24. Because this Son of mine was dead, and is alive again; was lost too, and is found. So they began to be merry.

25. In the mean time his elder Son was in the Field; and as he came along, and got near to the House, he heard Musick and Dancing.

26. When calling thither one of the Servants, he enquired what these things were.

27. Who said to him, Thy Brother is come; and thy Father has slain the fatted Calf, because he has received him, and he is well.

28. Angry at this, he would not go in; therefore his Father came out, and besought him.

29. But he made answer to the Father; Behold so many Years I serve thee, and have never transgressed thy Commandment, and thou hast never given me a Goat, that I might be merry with my Friends;

30. Yet when this Son of thine is come, who has devoured thy Living with Whores, thou hast slain for him the fatted Calf.

31. Whereas he replied to him; Child, thou art always with me, and all my Things are thine.

32. But it was fit to rejoice, and be glad, because this Brother of thine was dead, and is alive again; was lost too, and is found.

Ver. 7. righteous Persons] those that are really so, according to Expositors, and the plain Words of the Text; which I mention, because they have been thought pretended ones, like the Pharisees.

Ver. 8. sweep] Several of the vulg. Lat. Copies, we are told, even all that Erasmus had seen; instead of evertit, sweep out, had evertit, overthrow.

Ver. 9. Friends and Neighbours] fem. here, as masc. Ver. 6. so great a Regard there is in the Original to Decency and Propriety.

Ver. 12. appointed] Gr. cast or put on.

Ver. 28. besought] Vulg. began to beseech, and you may think with the Liking of Mills, though desolate before.

C H A P. XVI.

AND he said to his Disciples: There was some rich Man who had a Steward, and the same was accused to him, as squandering away the Things which he had.

2. Upon which he called him, and said to him, What is this I hear concerning thee? Render an Account of thy Stewardship; for thou mayest no more be Steward.

3. At this the Steward said in himself; What shall I do, because my Lord takes away the Stewardship from me? To dig I am not able, to beg I am ashamed.

4. I know what I will do, that when I am removed from the Stewardship, People may receive me into their Houses.

5. So he called thither each one of his Lord's Debtors, and said to the first, How much dost thou owe my Lord?

6. And upon his answering, A hundred Firkins of Oil; he replied to him, Take thy Bill, and sitting down quickly, write fifty.

7. Next he said to another, And how much dost thou owe? Upon whose answering, A hundred Cors of Wheat; he says to him, Take thy Bill, and write eighty.

8. The Lord also praised the unrighteous Steward, since he had done wisely; because the Sons of this World are wiser in their own Generation, than the Sons of Light.

9. And I say to you; Make to your selves Friends out of the Riches of Unrighteousness, that when ye fail, they may receive you into the everlasting Tabernacles.

10. He who is faithful in the least, is also faithful in much; and he that is unrighteous in the least, is also unrighteous in much.

11. Therefore if you have not been faithful in unrighteous Riches, who will intrust you with true?

12. As likewise if you have not been faithful in another's, who will give you to be your own?

13. No Servant can serve different Masters: for he will either hate one, and love the other; or cleave to one, and despise the other: you cannot serve God and Riches.

14. Now the Pharisees too that were Lovers of Money heard all these Things, whereupon they sneered at him.

15. And he said to them: You are Justifiers of your selves before Men, but God knows your Hearts; since what is eminent among Men, is Abomination before God.

16. The Law and Prophets were till John: from that Time the Kingdom of God has been preached, and every one presses into it.

17. However it is easier for Heaven and Earth to pass away, than one Tittle of the Law to fall.

18. Every one who sends away his Wife, and marries another, commits Adultery; and every one who marries her that is sent away from a Husband, commits Adultery.

19. Moreover there was some rich Man, and that wore Purple and fine Linen, taking delight in a splendid Manner daily.

20. There was likewise some Beggar named Lazarus, who was cast at his Gate with Sores;

21. And desiring to be fed with the Crumbs which fell from the rich one's Table: however even the Dogs came, and licked his Sores.

22. At length the Beggar died, and was carried away by Angels into Abraham's Bosom. Nay the rich one also died, and was buried;

23. And in Hell looking up, being in Torments, he sees Abraham far off, with Lazarus in his Bosom.

24. Whereupon he himself cried out, and said, O Father Abraham, have mercy upon me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the Top of his Finger in Water, and cool my Tongue; because I am tormented in this Flame.

25. But Abraham alleged; Child, remember that thou didst receive thy good Things in thy Life, and Lazarus in like Manner ill Things; whereas now he is comforted, but thou art tormented.

26. And beside all this, there is between us and you such a great Gulf fixed, that they who would, cannot go over hence to you, nor pass over thence to us.

27. Then he said; I therefore intreat thee, Father, that thou wouldest send him to my Father's House.

28. For I have five Brothers; in order for him to testify to them, that they may not also come into this Place of Torment.

Ver. 10. He] Clemens in the 2d Epistle ascribed to him has before this, If you have not kept a little, who will give you a great deal? For I say to you; and Irenaeus, If you have not been faithful in a little, &c. which Milli supposed to be taken from some Apocryphal Gospel.

Ver. 12. another's] viz. the Things of this World, Ham. and Whit.

Ver. 17. fall] This, which the Gr. Verb signifies, and may in general by one Word be best defined by sink, appears more apt than fail, or be deficient, both to this Passage, and the parallel ones in Mat. v. 18. Isa. xl. 8. & li. 6.

Ver. 21. however] or but, being an adverbative Conjunction, rather than discretive as in the com. Lat. Gram. denoting what it introduces to be contrary to that before.

Ver. 24. he himself] now turned a Beggar, emphatical in the Gr.

29. Abraham replies to him, They have Moses, and the Prophets; let them hear those.

30. Who said, No, Father Abraham; but if one should go to them from the Dead, they would repent.

31. Whereas he answered him, If they do not hear Moses and the Prophets, neither would they be persuaded, if one should rise from the Dead.

C H A P. XVII.

HE said further to the Disciples; It is impossible Offences should not come, yet wo is to him they come by:

2. It would be better for him if a Millstone were tied about his Neck, and he thrown down into the Sea, than that he should offend one of these little ones.

3. Take heed to your selves: so that if thy Brother sins against thee, rebuke him; and if he repents, forgive him.

4. If he even sins against thee seven times a Day, and so often returns to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him.

5. Moreover the Apostles said to the Lord, Add to our Faith.

6. To which the Lord said; If you had Faith as a Grain of Mustard, you might say to this Mulberry-tree, Be thou rooted out, and planted in the Sea; and it would obey you.

7. Besides which of you has a Servant ploughing, or feeding, who will say to him presently at coming in from the Field, Go along, and sit down?

8. But will not say to him, Get ready what I may sup with, and being girded about wait on me, till I have eat, and drunk; and after these Things thou shalt eat, and drink?

9. Has he Thanks for that Servant, because he did the Things that were ordered him? I presume not.

10. So also do ye, when ye have done all these Things that are ordered you, say, We are unprofitable Servants, we have done but what we ought to do.

11. Now as he was going to Jerusalem, he went through the midst of Samaria and Galilee.

12. And at his entering into some Village, ten leprous Men were meeting him, who stood far off;

13. Where they raised up their Voices, saying, Jesus, Master, have mercy upon us.

14. Whom seeing, he said to them, Go shew your selves to the Priests. And in their going, they were cleansed.

15. When one of them seeing that he was healed, did return, and glorify God aloud;

16. Nay fell on the Face at his Feet, giving him thanks: and he was a Samaritan.

17. At this Jesus made answer; Were not ten cleansed? But where are the nine?

18. There are none found returning to give Glory to God, excepting this Foreigner.

19. And he said to him, Rise, and go; thy Faith has made thee well.

20. Being asked too by the Pharisees, when the Kingdom of God would come, he made answer to them; The Kingdom of God does not come with Observation.

21. Nor shall People say, Behold it is here, or, Behold it is there: for lo the Kingdom of God is within you.

22. Again he said to the Disciples: The Days will come, when you will desire to see one of the Days of the Man, and shall not behold.

23. And some will say to you, Behold it is here, or, Behold it is there; do not go, nor follow.

24. For according as the Lightning that lightens out of one Place under Heaven, gives light into another there; so will also the Man be in his Day.

Ver. 1. impossible] Not absolutely but morally impossible, considering the perverse Temper of most Men, Nary.

Ver. 3. so that] which connects it to the foregoing, as is necessary, and as the Gr. does.

Ver. 4. to thee] left out by many.

Ver. 7. feeding] As our Translators add cattle, some have added Oxen, and others Sheep.

Ver. 10. unprofitable] How astonishing would it be, were it not so common, for Mills to suspect this Word crept from the Margin, when only the Ethiop. Vers. is without it! for which he gives the pretended Reason, that it does not seem to be properly said of him who does all Things that are ordered; then the more unlikely to be added, but doubtless such are unprofitable to God.

Ver. 12. ten] The same Number of Lepers, either Maundrell or Rauwolf (as I remember) relates that he saw not far from hence.

Ver. 21. within] In the 2d Epistle of Clement to the Corinthians, which Ep. Wake ranks with the Genuine ones of the Apostolical Fathers, it is related, that the Lord Jesus being asked by some Person, when his Kingdom would come, answered, ὅταν ἴσται τὰ δύο ἓν, καὶ τὸ ἔξω ὡς τὸ ἔσω, καὶ τὸ ἄρσεν μετὰ τῆς θηλείας ἕτε ἀρσενίτε θήλυ. When two shall be one, and what is without will be as that which is within, and the Male with the Female will be neither Male nor Female. Of this the Author has Part of an Explication, which Wake has translated, and pieced out from Clement Alexandrinus; as that two are one, when we speak the Truth to each other, and there is one Soul in two Bodies; but the spiritual minded may perhaps perceive a higher Meaning, according to what Christ says here: so the Male and Female are interpreted to be Anger, and Concupiscence or Desire; whereas it might be better understood perhaps by 1 Cor. vii. 29, 30, 31. And if that Epistle is supposititious, as has been mostly thought, yet those Words might be really said by Jesus, and preserved among the primitive Christians, as they may seem unworthy of neither.

25. But first he must suffer many Things, and be rejected by this Generation.

26. And as it was in the Days of Noe, so will it also be in the Days of the Man.

27. They did eat, drink, marry, were given in marriage, till the Day that Noe entered into the Ark; when the Flood came, and destroyed them all.

28. In like Manner also as it was in the Days of Lot; they did eat, drink, buy, sell, plant, build.

29. But the Day that Lot went out from Sodom, it rained Fire and Brimstone from Heaven, and destroyed them all.

30. According to these Things it will be on the Day the Man is revealed.

31. On that Day let him who shall be on the House-top, and his Goods in the House, not come down to take them; and let him in the Field in like Manner not return back to the Things.

32. Remember the Wife of Lot.

33. Whosoever shall seek to save his Life, will lose it; and whosoever shall lose it, will revive it again.

34. I say to you; On that Night there being two Men in one Bed, one will be taken, and the other left:

35. Of two Women grinding in the same Place, one will be taken, and the other left:

36. Two Men will be in the Field, one taken, and the other left.

37. And they made answer to him, Where, Lord? At which he replied to them, Where the Body is, thither will the Eagles be gathered together.

CHAP. XVIII.

AND he also spoke a Similitude to them, that they ought always to pray, and not to be slothful,

2. Saying; There was some Judge in a certain City, who did not fear God, nor reverence Man.

3. There was some Widow too in that City, who came to him, saying, Revenge me on my Adversary.

4. And he would not for a Time, yet after these Things he said in himself; If I even fear not God, nor reverence Man;

5. Forasmuch as this Widow gives me Trouble, I will revenge her, that she may not subdue me by coming for ever.

6. The Lord further added; Hear what the unrighteous Judge says.

7. And will not God at all execute the Vengeance of his chosen ones, that cry out to him Day and Night, though he be forbearing to them?

8. I tell you, that he will execute their Vengeance quickly. Yet when the Man comes, will he find Faith on the Earth?

9. And he also spoke this Similitude to some who trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and despised the rest:

10. Two Men went up to the Temple to pray, one a Pharisee, and the other a Publican.

11. The Pharisee standing, prayed thus with himself; O God, I give thee thanks, that I am not according as the rest of Men, Extortioners, unjust, Adulterers, or even as this Publican.

12. I fast twice a Week, I give tithe of whatever I possess.

13. And the Publican standing far off, would not even look up to Heaven, but struck on his Breast, saying, O God, be merciful to me a Sinner.

14. I say to you, this went down to his House justified, more than that: since every one who exalts himself, will be humbled; but he who humbles himself, will be exalted.

15. And they also brought Infants to him, that he might touch them; which the Disciples seeing, rebuked them.

16. Whereas Jesus calling them thither, said; Permit little Children to come to me,

Ver. 25. first] whence may be gathered, that what is related before was soon to follow; and the next in Ver. 26, &c. according as on Mat. xxiv. will belong to the last Day; as Ver. 31. and Mat. xxiv. 17, 18. may very well to both.

Ver. 33. Life] In the Geneva Vers. soule unaccountably.

lb. lose it] his life in our Eng. by a great Oversight.

lb. revive] quicken in the Bish. as also Papish Trans.

Ver. 37. Where] As Jesus answered to their Word, which denoted some particular Place, this to agree with Mat. xxiv. 28. must be referred to that before Ver. 25. nay with respect to the last Day would be every where, or any where; Luke is also observed not to place Things in Order.

Ver. 7. forbearing] namely with their Oppressors; and Wall says it never signifies bearing long with ones Friends before one relieves them, Crit. Not. that being also improper. The Gr. is a Participle, and the Verb as in our com. Trans. after the Vulg. and a few, which Grotius supposed the right; but the Versions, which are most, might probably be made from the Participle like ours, and the three or four Copies be formed to them, or particularly to the Vulg. as Mills remarks of four at Ver. 14.

Ver. 8. will he find Faith] How is this now fulfilling by the overflowing of Deism or Infidelity! look also at 2 Pet. Tit.

Ver. 14. more than that] Upwards of fifty Copies have γὰρ added, which commonly signifies for, but Mills reckons here to be an Expletive, and that it is genuine; but as so it might be rendered indeed.

and do not forbid them: for the Kingdom of God is of such.

17. I tell you certainly, Whosoever shall not receive the Kingdom of God as a little Child, will not at all enter into it.

18. Afterwards some Ruler asked him thus, Good Master, by doing what shall I inherit everlasting Life?

19. To whom Jesus said? Why dost thou call me good? None is good, excepting one, even God.

20. Thou knowest the Commandments; Thou shalt not commit Adultery, thou shalt not murder, thou shalt not steal, thou shalt not give Evidence falsely, honour thy Father and thy Mother.

21. And he said, All these Things I have observed from my Youth.

22. Now Jesus hearing these Things, replied to him, There is yet one Thing deficient to thee: sell all whatever thou hast, and give to the Poor, and thou wilt have Treasure in Heaven; and come, follow me.

23. But he hearing these Things, became very sorry: for he was exceeding rich.

24. Whereupon Jesus seeing him become very sorrowful, said; How difficult will it be for those who have Wealth to enter into the Kingdom of God!

25. For it is easier for a Camel to go into the Eye of a Needle, than for a rich Person to enter into that Kingdom.

26. Which they hearing, said, Then who can be saved?

27. However he replied, The Things impossible with Men, are possible with God.

28. Moreover Peter said, Behold we have left all, and followed thee.

29. And he said to them; I tell you certainly, that there is Nobody who has left House, Parents, Brothers, Wife, or Children, for the sake of the Kingdom of God;

30. Who will not thoroughly receive manifold at this Time, and in the Age hereafter everlasting Life.

31. Besides he took the twelve, and said to them; Behold we are going up to Jerusalem, and all the Things will be fulfilled that are written by the Prophets relating to the Man.

32. For he will be delivered up to the Gentiles, will be mocked, abused, and spit on;

33. Nay they will whip, then kill him; and the third Day he will rise up.

34. And they understood none of these Things; since this Saying was hid from them, and they did not know the Things that were spoken.

35. Now at his being near to Jericho, some blind Man sat by the Way begging.

36. But when he heard the Company go along, he enquired what it was for.

37. Whom they told, that Jesus the Nazorite passed by.

38. Then he cried aloud thus, Jesus, Son of David, have mercy upon me.

39. They therefore who went on before rebuked him, that he should be silent; but he cried out much the more, Son of David, have mercy upon me.

40. At this Jesus stood still, and commanded him to be brought to him; who coming near, he asked him as follows,

41. What wouldst thou have me do to thee? He then said, Lord, that I may have sight.

42. And Jesus replied to him, Have sight; thy Faith has made thee well.

43. When presently he had sight, and followed him, glorifying God; which all the People seeing, gave Praise to God.

C H A P XIX.

AND having entered, he passed through Jericho.

2. Where behold a Man called Zaccheus by Name, that was himself chief of the Publicans, and he was rich;

3. Who endeavoured to see which was Jesus, but could not for the Company, because he was of little Stature:

4. Therefore he ran before, and climbed up into a Sycomore-tree, that he might see him; because he was about to pass along by that.

5. And Jesus, as he came to the Place, looking up, saw him, and said to him, Zaccheus, make haste, and come down: for to Day I must remain at thy House.

6. Accordingly he made haste to come down, and received him joyfully.

7. Which seeing, they all murmured, saying, that he was gone to be Guest to a sinful Man.

8. But Zaccheus stood, and said to the Lord, Behold half of the Things which I have, Lord, I give to the Poor; and if I have got any Thing by accusing any one falsely, I recompense fourfold.

9. At this Jesus said to him; To Day there is Salvation to this House, forasmuch as even he is a Son of Abraham.

10. For the Man is come to seek, and save, that which is lost.

Ver. 35. being near] as he went forth, Mark x. 46. Mat. xx. 29. not was come nigh to Jericho; and so I since find Whitby explaining it on Mark.

Ver. 37. passed] or else that is to be omitted, and not counted expletive, with the Saying direct, as in diverse Places.

11. And on their hearing these Things, he spake further a Similitude, because he was near Jerusalem, and they thought that the Kingdom of God was about to appear immediately.

12. Therefore he said: Some Nobleman went to a Country far off, to receive for himself a Kingdom, and return.

13. And calling ten Servants of his, he gave them ten Pounds, and said to them, Trade till I come.

14. But his Citizens hated him, and sent this Message after him, We will not have him reign over us.

15. Afterwards when he came again, having received the Kingdom, he bade these Servants be called to him, to whom he had given the Money, that he might know what each had done in trading.

16. So the first came, saying, Lord, thy Pound has gained ten Pounds.

17. Upon which he answered him, Well, good Servant, because thou hast been faithful in very little, be thou one having Authority over ten Cities.

18. Moreover the second came, saying, Lord, thy Pound has made five Pounds.

19. And he likewise answered him, Be thou also over five Cities.

20. Another also came, saying; Lord, behold thy Pound, which I had has been laid up in a Handkerchief.

21. For I was afraid of thee, because thou art a sharp Man: thou takest up what thou hast not put down, and reapest what thou hast not sown.

22. But he says to him; Out of thy own Mouth will I judge thee, wicked Servant, that thou knewest I am a sharp Man, who take up what I have not put down, and reap what I have not sown.

23. For what reason then didst not thou deliver my Money into the Bank; that on my coming, I might have had it employed with Interest?

24. Besides he bade those that stood by, Take the Pound from him, and give to him who has ten Pounds;

25. Notwithstanding they said, Lord, he has ten Pounds.

26. For I tell you, that to every one who has shall be given; but from him that has not shall be taken away even what he seemingly has.

27. But those Enemies of mine, that would not have me reign over them, bring hither, and kill before me.

28. Now having said thus, he went before, going up to Jerusalem.

29. And as he came near to Bethphage and Bethany, at the Mount called that of Olives, he sent two of his Disciples,

30. Saying; Go to the opposite Village, into which entering, you will find a Colt tied, on which no Man did ever sit; him undo, and bring.

31. And if any one ask you, For what do ye undo him? thus shall you answer him, The Lord has Need of him.

32. Accordingly those who were sent going, found as he said to them.

33. Nay they undoing the Colt, the Masters of it said to them, Why do ye undo the Colt?

34. But they answered, The Lord has Need of him.

35. Thus they brought him to Jesus; and throwing their Cloaths upon the Colt, they set Jesus on.

36. Moreover as he went along, they spread their Cloaths under in the Way.

37. And he being now come near to the Descent of the Mount of Olives, all the Multitude of the Disciples began rejoicing, to praise God aloud, for all the powerful Things which they had seen, as follows,

38. The King is blessed who comes in the Name of the Lord; Peace be in Heaven, and Glory in the highest Places.

39. Whereas some Pharisees of the Company said to him, Master, rebuke thy Disciples.

40. But he made answer to them, I tell you, that if these should be silent, the Stones would cry out.

41. And as he came near, at seeing the City, he wept for it thus;

42. If thou also wouldest have known, even at this Time too of thine, the Things belonging to thy Peace! But now they are hid from thy Eyes.

43. Since the Days will come on thee, when thy Enemies will throw up a Rampart

Ver. 23. had it employed] not required, much less mine own, taken by some Blunder from Mat. xxv. 27.

Ver. 25. Unless almost all the Copies had been repugnant, Mills says, he should have held this Verse to have crept in, Prol. 1427. 'tis sufficient then that he did not.

Ver. 30. bring] but not hither, that being an Error in our Translation.

about thee, and compass thee about, and press thee all round ;

44. Nay will level thee to the Ground, and thy Children in thee, so that they will not leave in thee one Stone upon another ; because thou wouldest not know the Time of thy Visitation.

45. He also entered into the Temple, and began to put forth those who sold in it, and that bought,

46. Saying to them ; It is written, My House is the House of Prayer ; but you have made it a Cave of Robbers.

47. And he was teaching daily in the Temple ; notwithstanding the chief Priests and Scribes, with the principal of the People, sought to destroy him.

48. Yet they could not find what they should do : for all the People were attentive at hearing him.

C H A P. XX.

NEXT on one of those Days as he taught the People in the Temple, and preached, the chief Priests and Scribes came upon him, with the Elders,

2. And said thus to him, Tell us by what Authority thou doest these Things, or who it is that gave thee this Authority.

3. But he made answer to them ; I will also ask one Matter of you ; so tell me.

4. Was the Baptism of John from Heaven, or from Men ?

5. Whereupon they argued thus to themselves ; If we say, From Heaven ; he will retort, For what reason then did not you believe him ?

6. But if we say, From Men ; all the People will stone us : for they are persuaded that John was a Prophet.

7. So they answered, they did not know whence.

8. And Jesus said to them, Neither tell I you by what Authority I do these Things.

9. Next he began to speak to the People this Similitude : Some Man planted a Vineyard, let it out to Husbandmen, and travelled away a great while.

10. And at the Time he sent a Servant to the Husbandmen, that they might give him some of the Fruit of the Vineyard : but the Husbandmen beat him, and sent quite away empty.

11. And he proceeded to send another Servant ; but him also they beat, as likewise disgraced, and sent quite away empty.

12. He also proceeded to send the third ; but this too they wounded, and threw out.

13. At this the Master of the Vineyard said, What shall I do ? I will send my beloved Son, him perhaps seeing, they will reverence.

14. But the Husbandmen seeing him, reasoned thus with themselves, This is the Heir, come, let us kill him, that the Inheritance may become ours.

15. Him accordingly they threw forth without the Vineyard, as well as killed. What therefore will the Master of the Vineyard do to them ?

16. He will come, and destroy these Husbandmen, and give the Vineyard to others. Which they hearing, said, Let it not be.

17. But he looking on them, replied ; What then is this that is written, The same Stone that the Builders rejected, is become the Head of the Corner.

18. Every one who falls on that Stone, will be broke to pieces ; but it will dash him, on whom it shall fall to shivers.

19. And the chief Priests and Scribes sought to lay Hands on him the same Hour, but feared the People ; for they knew that he said this Similitude to them.

20. However they watched, and sent Spies,

Ver. 48. were attentive] Tynd. slacke by him, Gen. hanged upon him, Bish. did hang of him, Rbcm. worst of all, was suspense.

Ver. 1. in the Temple] Mills supposes to have got into the Text, by a double Action, and at different Times, being first put in the Marg. as a few Copies are without it, Pr. 1476. Should not he have made full Proof, that there were such marginal Books in common, which he builds so much upon ?

Ver. 6. But if] as Mat. xxi. 26. so that and in the com. Transf. is only for Elegancy, if it be such.

Ver. 10. Parted into two Verses Mat. xxi. and Mark xii.

Ver. 16. will] So Wall says, Leg will.

1b. Let it not be] The Ways that Whitby directs, of adjusting the Account given here with Matthew's, how much soever laboured (as his Disquisitions commendably are, but sometimes without a happy Mixture of Judgment) fall short of the Matter : for to reconcile the same Answer being given by Jesus himself to his Question, as those he spoke it to gave in Mat. xxi. 41. (not in Mar. xii. 9.) they might answer it first, as would be proper, and then Jesus repeat their Answer, which you may observe is accordingly abridged, to apply it to themselves, as if he had said in our Manner of speaking, Well then it will be so ; which they apprehending, now said this commented on ; and so Mark having made an Addition to Mat. Luke adds more to Mark, as they often do. Thus beginning right, the Path is plain, but otherwise intricate ; the Deprecation belonging to the whole, both of doing and being punished as the Husbandmen, not to the former and distant only ; and the People Ver. 9. were particularly the chief Priests and Elders, Mat. xxi. 23. with the Scribes, Mark xi. 27. who answered before, Mat. xxi. 31, 41.

Ver. 19. the People] Divers Copies have not this, sufficient perhaps to make it doubtful to some ; but Mills pronounces it not Luke's hand dubie, without doubt, Pr. 294. Whereas it is manifest this was not added from other Places, as Mills pretends, because there is a different Word both in Mat. xxi. 46. & Mar. xii. 12.

who pretended themselves to be righteous, that they might take hold of his Discourse, in order to deliver him up to the Principality and Authority of the Governor.

21. And these asked him as follows; Master, we know that thou sayest and teachest rightly, and dost not respect the Person, but teachest in Truth the Way of God.

22. Is it lawful for us to give Tax to Cesar, or not?

23. But he observing their Craftiness, said to them, Why do ye tempt me?

24. Shew me a Penny; whose Image and Superscription has it? And they made answer, Cesar's.

25. At which he said to them, Render therefore Cesar's Things to Cesar, and those of God to God.

26. Thus they could not take hold of his Words; and wondering at his Answer, they held their peace.

27. Now some of the Sadducees coming to him (who deny that there is a Resurrection) asked him as follows:

28. Master, Moses wrote to us, if any Man's Brother dies, having a Wife, and he dies childless, that his Brother should take the Wife, and raise up Offspring for him.

29. There were then seven Brothers, and the first taking a Wife, died childless.

30. The second also took the Wife, and he died childless.

31. And the third took her, nay likewise even the seven; however they left no Children, and died.

32. Moreover last of all the Wife also died.

33. In the Resurrection therefore whose Wife of them will she become? For the seven had her for a Wife.

34. And Jesus made answer to them; The Children of this World marry, and are given in Marriage.

35. But those who are counted worthy to obtain that World, and the Resurrection from the Dead, neither marry, nor are given in Marriage;

36. Nor indeed can they die any more: for they are like the Angels, and are the Sons of God, being the Sons of the Resurrection.

37. And that the Dead are raised up, even Moses signified at the Bush, when he says, The Lord, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.

38. Whereas he is not the God of the Dead, but of the Living; since they all live by him.

39. To which some of the Scribes made reply, Master, thou hast said well.

40. And they no more dared to ask him any Thing.

41. Now he said to them; How do People say, Christ is the Son of David?

42. When David himself says in the Book of Psalms; The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at my right Hand,

43. Until I make thy Enemies thy Footstool.

44. David therefore calls him Lord, how then is he his Son?

45. Besides while all the People were hearing, he said to his Disciples;

46. Take heed of the Scribes that like to walk in Robes, and love Salutations in the Markets, and likewise the first Seats in the Synagogues, with the first Places at Suppers;

47. Who devour Widows Houses, and pray long in Pretence: these will receive more abundant Judgment.

C H A P. XXI.

LOOKING up likewise, he saw the Rich putting their Gifts into the Treasury.

2. And he also saw some poor Widow put in there two Mites.

3. Whereupon he said; Truly I tell you, that this poor Widow put in more than they all.

4. For these all put out of their Abundance into the Gifts of God; whereas she out of her Want put in all the Livelihood which she had.

5. Afterwards some speaking about the Temple, that it was adorned with good Stones and Presents, he said,

6. As to these which you behold, the Days are coming wherein there will not be left one Stone upon another, that will not be demolished.

Ver. 22. Annexed to the foregoing Ver. Mark xii. 14. so the 43 in Mat. xxii. 44. Mark xii. 36.

Ver. 34. answer] not in 3 or 4 Transf. and a Copy, and so Mills says is Mark's; though he had so much asserted, that Luke follows Mark.

Ver. 37. he says] viz. God, Mat. xxii. 31, 32. Mark xii. 26. Exod. iii. 6.

Ver. 38. since] Doddr. argues for this to be rendered therefore or so that, in a contrary Sense, because what it introduces is plainly the main Proposition to be proved, and not an Argument for what immediately went before. Whereas it was the Resurrection, or living after Death, that was to be proved, and this from God's saying, I am the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob; whence Christ shews that they were then living, that being spoken long after they died, and consequently that there must be such living, as God was the God of the Living, or those who were existent, not of the Dead that had no Being; and because they must all live by him who was their God, therefore it was demonstrably certain that God gave Mankind an immortal living State, and so this was a divine Truth.

Ver. 2. there] Mills more modestly than sometimes, it seems inserted from the Margin, Pr. 420. I would say as modestly, It seems never to have been there, and the Fawness of those that want it will justify me.

Ver. 4. Gifts] as in Ver. 1.

7. And they asked him as follows, Master, when therefore will these Things be? And what the Sign when they are hereafter to be?

8. At this he said; Beware that you may not be seduced: for many will come in my Name, saying, I am Christ; and the Time draws near, therefore do not go after them.

9. Besides when you hear of Wars, and Tumults, be not terrified: for these Things must first come to pass, but the End not presently.

10. Then said he to them: One Nation will rise up against another, and one Kingdom against another.

11. There will even be great Earthquakes throughout the Places, with Famines and Pestilences; as also frightful Things, and great Signs will be from Heaven.

12. Yet before all these, they will lay their Hands on you, and persecute you, delivering up to the Synagogues and Prisons, when you will be brought before Kings and Governors for my Name's sake.

13. However it will come on to you for Evidence.

14. Place therefore in your Hearts, that you should not study before to make defence.

15. For I will give you Mouth and Wisdom, which all who oppose you shall not be able to speak against, nor resist.

16. And you will also be delivered up by Parents, Brothers, Relations and Friends, and some of you will they cause to be put to death.

17. Nay you will be hated by all for my Name.

18. Nevertheless there shall not a Hair of your Head at all perish.

19. In your Patience possess your Souls.

20. And when you see Jerusalem compassed about by Armies, then know that the Desolation of it draws near.

21. Then let those in Judea flee to the Mountains, and those within it go forth, and them in the Countries not enter into it:

22. Because these are the Days of Vengeance, for all Things which are written to be fulfilled.

23. Wo also will be to them who are with Child, and to such as give suck in those Days: for there will be great Necessity on the Earth, and Wrath among this People.

24. So that they will fall by the Edge of the Sword, and be taken captive into all Nations; even Jerusalem will be trod down by the Nations, till their Times are fulfilled.

25. And there will be Signs in the Sun, Moon and Stars; as also on the Earth Distress of the Nations in Perplexity, the Sea and Waves making a noise;

26. Men being disheartened for Fear, and Expectation of the Things coming upon the World: for the Powers of the Heavens will be shaken.

27. And then will they see the Man come in a Cloud, with Power and much Glory.

28. But when these Things begin to come to pass, stand upright, and lift up your Heads; because your Redemption draws near.

29. He further spoke a Similitude to them; Behold the Fig-tree and all the Trees,

30. When they now shoot out, you upon seeing it, do of your selves know that Summer is now near:

31. So also when you see these Things come to pass, know that the Kingdom of God is near.

32. I say to you certainly, that this Generation will by no means pass away, until all the Things are done.

33. Heaven and Earth will pass away, but my Words will not at all.

34. And take heed to your selves, lest at any time your Hearts should be weighed down with Surfeiting, Drunkenness, and the Cares

Ver. 8. and the Time draws near] by West. They are the Words of the Seducers. If it be asked What Time? since it does not at all appear by their Words here recited; he tells us, When I will deliver you from all your Enemies. But is Imagination thus to supplant the Holy Scripture, where the Time is manifest of many coming as said here?

Ver. 9. for] A Version or two has not this Particle, whereupon Mills concludes it brought hither, without the Guess of whence or by whom, Prol. 421. but repeated N. 426. as of other Evangelists; and in the former Place with Fathers or Versions, in the latter without Fathers or Copies, how ingenious is he to multiply the pretended Faults in our Bible!

Ver. 17. This, if not the next Ver. too, should have been annexed to that before, according to Matt. x. 22. Mark xiii. 13.

Ver. 19. possess] Some you will possess, which Mills argues hard for, Prol. 677. but ours has the most Use as well as Authority: that is not all, it being in the 1 Aorist instead of the pres. Tense, and the middle Voice instead of the com. Form, in the imp. Mood, as the Lexicon of Schrevelius has it under πρὸς αὐτοῖς, with some Difficulty both as to the Word and Sense, no Wonder that a Letter was altered to make it the plain fut. of the indic. Mood; whereas if it had been changed from the fut. it would scarce have been other than into the clear pres. Tense of the imperative. Whitby has Something of this misquoted in Mat. Exam. L. ii. 2.

VOL. II.

Ver. 24. their Times are fulfilled] In Beza's Cambridge Copy they are fulfilled, without the other, which Mills says some, who would have the Expression clearer, added in the Marg. and he thought from Eph. i. 10. but Whitby exclaims against him for it.

Ib. are fulfilled] which may be hereafter, and for which read Whitby.

Ver. 25. Sea and Waves] Not only this, but all in this and the 2 next Verses, both Ham. and Whit. apply to the Destruction of the Jews by the Romans.

Ver. 32. all the Things] Wall having an Hypothesis to support as at Mat. xxiv. 29, 30. says, it is in many MSS. all these things, which seems here, adds he, to be the right Reading, Crit. Not. though those MSS. are but three, with two Versions, as may be seen by Mills; and this Work I have several times caught him at.

of this Life, and that Day come upon you of a sudden.

35. For as a Snare will it come on all those who dwell on the Surface of the whole Earth.

36. Watch therefore, making supplication at all Times, that you may be counted worthy to escape all these Things which are about to be, and to stand before the Man.

37. By Day too he was teaching in the Temple, and at Night going out, lodged on the Mount called that of Olives.

38. Moreover all the People came to him at Morning in the Temple, to hear him.

C H A P. XXII.

NOW the Feast of unleavened Bread drew near, which is called the Passover.

2. And the chief Priests and Scribes sought how they might put him to death; for they were afraid of the People.

3. Satan also entered into Judas surnamed Iscariot, who was one of the Number of the twelve.

4. And he going away, talked with the chief Priests and Captains, how he might deliver him up to them.

5. Glad of that, they agreed to give him Money.

6. Thus he engaged, and sought an Opportunity to deliver him up to them when without the Company.

7. Moreover the Day of unleavened Bread came, on which the Passover must be slain.

8. So he sent Peter and John, saying, Go on, and get ready the Passover for us, that we may eat.

9. And they asked him, Where wouldest thou have us get ready?

10. To whom he replied; Behold when you are entered into the City, a Man will meet you carrying a Pitcher of Water; him follow into the House where he goes in.

11. And tell the Householder of the House, Master says to thee, Where is a Room, whereat I may eat the Passover along with my Disciples?

12. Upon this the same will shew you a great Chamber furnished: there get ready.

13. Whereupon they went away, and found according as he spake to them; so they got the Passover ready.

14. Afterwards when the Hour was, he sat down, and the twelve Apostles with him.

15. And he said to them; I have earnestly desired to eat this Passover with you, before I suffer.

16. For I tell you, that I will no more at all eat of it, until it is fulfilled in the Kingdom of God.

17. And he received the Cup, giving thanks, and said; Take this, and divide to your selves.

18. For I tell you, that I will not at all drink any of the Product of the Vine, until the Kingdom of God comes.

19. Taking Bread likewise, he gave thanks, and broke; then gave to them, saying, This is my Body, given for you; do this in Remembrance of me:

20. In like Manner also the Cup after Supper, saying, This Cup is the new Covenant by my Blood, shed for you.

21. Nevertheless to the Hand of him that will deliver me up, is with me on the Table.

22. And indeed the Man is going according to what is determined; yet wo will be to that Man by whom he is delivered up.

23. At this they began to query with themselves, which therefore it might be of them that would do this.

24. Nay there was also a Contention among them, which of them was thought to be the greatest.

25. But he said to them: The Kings of the Gentiles rule them, and they who have the authority over them are called Benefactors.

26. Yet you shall not be so; but let the greatest among you become as the young, and he who is chief as he that waits on.

27. For which is greatest, he who sits down, or he that waits on? Is not he who sits down? But I am in the midst of you as he that waits on.

28. But you are those who have continued with me in my Trials.

29. And I appoint for you a Kingdom, as my Father has for me;

30. That you may eat and drink on my Table in my Kingdom, and sit upon Thrones judging the twelve Tribes of Israel.

31. The Lord further said to Simon; Simon, behold Satan has coveted you, to sift as Wheat.

32. But I have prayed for thee, that thy Faith may not fail; and when thou art converted, establish thy Brethren.

33. At which he answered him, Lord, I am ready to go with thee, even to Prison and to Death.

Ver. 6. to them] Two Copies and as many Transf. being without this, we are not therefore to conclude with Mills it is from Mat. Prel. 421.

Ib. without] as also in Ver. 35. being not resident elsewhere.

Ver. 17. this] Mills affirms is the Scribes, not our Evangelist's, being omitted by the Vulgate only.

Ver. 24. thought to be] omitted by Wesley.

Ver. 32. converted] Wesley, returned.

34. However he replied, I say to thee, Peter, the Cock will not at all crow to Day, before thou wilt thrice deny that thou knowest me.

35. Besides he said to them, When I sent you without a Purse, Bag and Shoes, did you want any Thing? And they said, Nothing.

36. Therefore added he to them; But now he who has a Purse, let him take it, in like Manner also a Bag; nay he who has not a Sword, let him sell his Garment, and buy.

37. For I tell you, that this which is written must yet be accomplished in me, And he was reckoned with the Unrighteous: for even the Things concerning me have an End.

38. And they said, Lord, behold here two Swords; to whom he replied, It is sufficient.

39. Next going out, he went, according to Custom, to the Mount of Olives; and his Disciples also followed him.

40. At length being in the Place, he said to them, Pray, not to enter into Trial.

41. And when he was got away from them about a Stone's Throw, he kneeled down, and prayed,

42. Saying, Father, if thou wouldest take away this Cup from me; nevertheless not my Will, but thine be done.

43. In the mean while there appeared to him an Angel from Heaven, strengthening him.

44. And he being in an Agony prayed more earnestly; insomuch that his Sweat was as it were Clots of Blood falling down to the Ground.

45. Afterwards when he was risen from Prayer, he came to his Disciples, and found them sleeping for Grief.

46. And he said to them, Why are you asleep? Rise and pray, that you may not enter into Trial.

47. Now while he was speaking, lo a Company, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them, and drew near to Jesus to kiss him.

48. With that Jesus said to him, Judas, dost thou deliver up the Man with a Kiss?

49. So those about him seeing what would be, said to him, Lord, shall we strike with the Sword?

50. And one of them in particular struck a Servant of the high Priest, and took off his Ear.

51. But Jesus made answer, Do you let it be thus far; and touching his Ear, he healed him.

52. Jesus also said to the chief Priests Captains of the Temple, and the Elders, who were come to him; Did you come out as against a Robber, with Swords and Sticks;

53. I being daily with you in the Temple, you did not stretch Hands at me; but this is your Hour, and the Power of Darkness.

54. And taking him, they had on, and brought him to the House of the high Priest. Peter notwithstanding followed far distant.

55. And when they had kindled a Fire within the Hall, and were sat down together, Peter sat down among them.

56. But some young Woman seeing him sit at the Fire, looked stedfastly on him, and said, He also was with him.

57. Whereas he denied him as follows, Woman, I do not know him.

58. And a little after another seeing him, said, Thou also art one of them. But Peter said, Man, I am not.

59. And at the distance of about one Hour, some other affirmed thus, Of a truth he also was with him: for even he is a Galilean.

60. Peter notwithstanding said, Man, I am ignorant of that which thou sayest. And immediately while he was speaking, the Cock crowed.

61. Upon this the Lord turning, looked on Peter; and he called to mind the Expression of the Lord, how he said to him, Before the Cock has crowed, thou wilt thrice deny me.

62. And going out abroad, Peter wept bitterly.

63. The Men further who thronged Jesus, did mock him, beating.

Ver. 34. not at all crow] by the double Negative in Gr. and concerning this look at John xiii. 38.

Ver. 36. let him sell—and buy] Forty Copies in Kuster's Edit. of Mills have shall sell—and buy, which Grotius supposes made by some, who were offended at the Novelty of a Command they did not understand; yet that I see but little in, tho' Whitby commends it; and it might be rather to accord better, as imagined, with Mat. xxvi. 52. Now for the Meaning of it, tho' an Imperative Word, it may have a permissive Sense, or let signify may; yet as Christ forbade the Sword in Mat. a more justifiable Interpretation may be, that this Sword to be bought was a spiritual or mystick one. The Passage indeed denotes they would meet with Perils, as the great Commentators expound it, but that was the Cause or Motive, not the Signification of the Expression.

Ver. 42. wouldest take away] or art willing to put away, the latter being infinitive, not imperative, excepting in 9 or 10 Copies, I suppose from Mark xiv. 36. and rejected by the Critics; this being as in Chap. xix. 42. Mark viii. 12. Whitby has the Text let this Cup pass, one of his many hundred Blunders.

Ver. 51. Do you let it be thus far] Permit this Injury, or Assault, offered by one of my Apostles, which I will presently repair, Whitby in Annot. though otherwise in Paraph.

Ver. 61. to him] Like this in Ver. 17. by Mills.

Ver. 63. thronged] as in Ch. viii. 45. Acts xviii. 5.

64. As also covered him over, and struck him on the Face, then asked him as follows, Prophecy, who it is smote thee.

65. Nay many other Things blaspheming they spoke against him.

66. When it was Day too the Elders of the People, along with the chief Priests and Scribes, were gathered together, and carried him up into their Council,

67. Saying, What art thou the Christ? Tell us. And he said to them; If I should tell you, ye would not at all believe.

68. And if I also should ask, you would not at all answer me, or let go.

69. Hereafter the Man will be sitting at the right Hand of the Power of God.

70. Upon which they all said, Art thou then the Son of God? To whom he replied, You say it, I am.

71. Now said they, What Need have we of Witness further? For we our selves have heard from his own Mouth.

C H A P. XXIII.

AND the whole Multitude of them rose up, and carried him to Pilate.

2. When they began thus to accuse him, We found this Person perverting the Nation, and forbidding to give Tax to Cesar, declaring that he himself is Christ a King.

3. At this Pilate asked him as follows, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he made answer to him, Thou sayest it.

4. And Pilate said to the chief Priests and the Multitude, I find no Crime in this Man.

5. But they were forcible, saying, He stirs up the People, teaching throughout all Judea, having begun from Galilee hitherto.

6. Now Pilate hearing of Galilee, asked whether the Man was a Galilean.

7. And upon knowing that he was of Herod's Jurisdiction, he sent him back to Herod, who was himself at Jerusalem at that Time.

8. Whereby Herod seeing Jesus, was very glad: for he wanted to see him a great while, because he had heard many Things concerning him; and he hoped to see some Miracle done by him.

9. So he enquired of him in many Matters; whereas he answered him Nothing.

10. Moreover the chief Priests and Scribes stood, eagerly accusing him.

11. Nay Herod with his Warriors despising him, and mocking, when he had cloathed him with gay Apparel, he sent him again to Pilate.

12. Thus both Pilate and Herod became Friends on that Day with one another: for they were before in Enmity to each other.

13. And Pilate calling together the chief Priests, the Rulers and People,

14. Said to them; Ye have brought this Man to me, as one who turns away the People; whom behold I having examined before you, have found no Crime in, of the Things that ye make accusation against him.

15. Nor yet Herod: for I sent you back to him, and lo Nothing deserving Death is proved on him.

16. Therefore I will chastise him, and release.

17. Now he had a Necessity to release one to them at the Feast.

18. Upon which all the Multitude cried out as follows, Take him away, and release to us Barabbas;

19. Who was, for some Mutiny made in the City, and Murder, cast into Prison.

20. Pilate therefore spoke to them again, being willing to release Jesus.

21. Nevertheless they bawled out thus, Crucify, crucify him.

22. Whereas he replied to them the third time, What Evil forsooth has he done? I have found no Crime for Death in him; therefore I will chastise him, and release.

23. Yet they lay on with loud Voices, requesting he might be crucified; and the Voices of them and the chief Priests prevailed:

24. Insomuch that Pilate gave sentence their Request should be done.

25. Thus he released to them, him that for Mutiny and Murder was cast into Prison, whom they requested; but he delivered up Jesus to their Will.

26. Further as they had him away, they took hold of Simon a certain Cyrenean coming from the Country, and put the Cross on him, to carry after Jesus.

27. Besides a great Multitude of People, and Women, followed him; who also lamented, and mourned for him.

28. But Jesus turning to them, said; Daughters of Jerusalem, do not cry for me, nevertheless cry both for your selves, and your Children :

29. Because to the Days are coming, in which People will say, The Barren are blessed, with the Wombs that have not brought forth, and the Breasts that have not given suck.

30. Then will they begin to say to the Mountains, Fall on us; and to the Hills, Cover us.

31. Since if they do these Things in green Wood, what will be done in dry?

32. And two other Malefactors were also brought with him to be put to death.

33. At length when they were come away to the Place called the Scull one, there they crucified him, and the Malefactors, one indeed at the right Hand, with the other at the left.

34. Jesus notwithstanding said, Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do. Next they divided his Garments, and cast Lots.

35. Nay the People stood looking, and the Rulers also with them sneered, saying, He saved others; let him save himself, if he is Christ the chosen one of God.

36. And the Soldiers likewise mocked him, and coming near, brought him Vinegar;

37. As also said, If thou art the King of the Jews, save thy self.

38. And there was a Superscription too written over him, in Letters of Greek, Latin and Hebrew, THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

39. And one of the Malefactors who were hanged, blasphemed him, saying, If thou art Christ, save thy self and us.

40. But the other answering, rebuked him as follows; Dost not thou fear God, since thou art in the same Condemnation?

41. And we indeed justly: for we receive Things worthy of what we have committed; whereas he has done Nothing amiss.

42. Moreover he said to Jesus, Remember me, Lord, when thou comest into thy Kingdom.

43. To whom Jesus declared; I tell thee certainly, To Day thou wilt be with me in Paradise.

44. Now it was about the sixth Hour, and there was Darkness in the whole Country till the ninth.

45. And not only the Sun was darkened, but the Veil of the Temple was divided in the middle.

46. At last Jesus cried out with a loud Voice, and said, Father, I will commit my Spirit into thy Hands; and having said thus, he expired.

47. So that the Centurion seeing what was done, glorified God, saying, Really this was a righteous Man.

48. And all the Multitude who were come together to that Sight, when they saw the Things which were done, beat their Breasts, and returned.

49. There stood too all his Acquaintance far distant, and the Women who followed him together from Galilee, seeing these Things.

50. Moreover behold a Man named Joseph, being a Counsellor, a good and righteous Man,

51. (Who did not agree to their Counsel and Deed) from Arimathea a City of the Jews, who also even himself looked for the Kingdom of God;

Ver. 31. green Wood] representing the Jews, as dry the Gentiles; and neither suitably nor properly a tree, for which the Gr. too has another Word. But being translated tree, it is interpreted to mean Jesus himself, and then the dry the Jews; the latter of which does not seem so well denoted by a Tree, nor the former by Wood: as also in better represents among, than to; as if he had said, If these Things are done to me among the Jews, what will be done to them among the Gentiles? The Reader that has the Shepherd of St. Hermas, may find a very particular Account of this Kind, in the 8th Similitude of the 3d Book.

Ver. 42. into] Wall turns it in, and Whitby accordingly expounds it to be the Judge of all Men; but by our Saviour's Answer, it appears he did not take it so, and in with a Verb of Motion especially may mean into.

Ver. 43. Mills telling of some from Origen who suspected this Verse, tho' all the Copies and Versions have it, throws in an Objection, For how could it be said he was three Days and three Nights in the Heart of the Earth, who as soon as he departed out of this Life, was to be in Paradise? As if Jesus had not both a Soul and a Body. As for Hammond, he slips over it, and Whitby handles it gently, to avoid the Dilemma doubtless of shewing, that with me is either consistent, or inconsistent with the Article of Christ's Descent into Hell, one being impossible, and the other unsafe. But the latter after meeting with the Company of Bp. Pearson, Barrow, &c. speaks out plainer in an Appendix to Acts ii. 27. and among the rest says, 'The Scripture doth assure us, that the Soul of the Holy Jesus, being separated from his Body, went to Paradise, Luke xxiii. 43.'

Ib. and having said thus, he expired] Mills had a Suspicion these Words were supplied; which however we may not, since only three Copies are without them.

52. He came to Pilate, and asked for the Body of Jesus.

53. Which taking down, he wrapt it up in fine Linen; and laid it in a Sepulchre cut in Stone, where there had not been any one yet put.

54. The Day also was the Preparation, and the Sabbath approached.

55. And the Women likewise, who were come with him from Galilee, following after, beheld the Grave, and how his Body was laid.

56. Who returning, got ready Spices and Ointments; but rested indeed the Sabbath, according to the Commandment.

C H A P. XXIV.

AFTERWARDS on the first Day after the Sabbath, when Day began to break, they came to the Sepulchre, carrying the Spices which they had got ready; and there were some with them.

2. And they found the Stone rolled away from the Grave.

3. With that they went in, but did not find the Body of the Lord Jesus.

4. And while they doubted concerning this, behold two Men stood by them in glittering Apparel.

5. Who upon their being afraid, and bending their Faces to the Ground, said to them; Why do ye seek the Living with the Dead?

6. He is not here, but is risen up: remember how he spoke to you, while he was in Galilee,

7. Saying, The Man must be delivered up into the Power of sinful Men, as also be crucified, and the third Day arise.

8. At which they remembered his Words.

9. And returning from the Grave, told all these Things to the eleven and to all the rest.

10. Now Mary Magdalene, Joanna, Mary the Mother of James, and the rest with them, were they who spoke these Things to the Apostles.

11. But their Words seemed before them as a Trifle, so that they did not believe them.

12. Peter also rose, and ran to the Grave; and stooping down, beheld the Linen Cloaths lying alone: upon which he went away, wondering to himself at what was done.

13. And behold two of them were going on the same Day, to a Village sixty Furlongs distant from Jerusalem, by Name Emmaus.

14. When they talked to one another about all those Things which were come to pass.

15. So while they were talking, and disputing, Jesus himself drew near, and went with them.

16. But their Eyes were held not to know him.

17. And he said to them, What Words are these which you confer with one to another as you walk, and are sorrowful?

18. Upon this one named Cleopas made answer to him, Art thou only a Stranger in Jerusalem, and hast not known the Things that have been done in it in these Days?

19. Whereas he asked them, What Things? And they replied to him: Those concerning Jesus the Nazorite, who was a Man that was a Prophet, powerful in Work and Word, before God and all the People;

20. Especially how the chief Priests and our Rulers, delivered him up to the Judgment of Death, and have crucified him.

21. On the contrary we hoped, that it was he would redeem Israel; but indeed with all these Things, this present makes the third Day since these Things were done.

22. Nay and some Women of us made us amazed, who were in the Morning at the Grave;

23. And when they found not his Body, came reporting, they had seen a Vision of Angels, who said he was alive.

24. Some of those also with us went away to the Grave, and found even so as the Women declared; but did not see him.

25. At this he said to them; O unwise

Ver. 1. and there were some with them] First in his Various Readings Mills signifies these Words might creep in from Ver. 10. then he says it is a Commentary, Prol. 421. and afterwards that it seems they crept in from Mark xv. 41. Prol. 736. because lacking in a few Books.

Ver. 12. Peter also] not Then, as Hammond shews on John xx. n. a. and Whitby n. b. this being before as at John xx. 3. Luke displacing several Matters.

1h. alone] Doddr. says it should be rendered only, but this John xx. 7. contradicts.

Ver. 18. Cleopas] It may be wondered that Beza, &c.

while shewing this was not Luke himself, &c. did not observe it was the Uncle of Jesus, John xix. 25. as Hegesippus who lived in the 2d Century is quoted relating in Eusebius, Eccles. Hist. B. 3. Ch. 11. by being the Brother of Joseph, and according to Whitby on John xix. 25. the same with Alpheus, or rather as at John xix. 25.

1b. Art thou only a Stranger] Wesley, Dost thou alone even sojourn. Why he alone? And of what Use is adding even, except to be unintelligible?

Ver. 25. at believing] For our pres. Reading is, as if it was foolish and stupid to believe.

ones, and flow of Heart at believing in all that the Prophets have spoken !

26. Was it not expedient for Christ to suffer these Things, and enter into his Glory ?

27. And beginning from Moses, and from all the Prophets, he interpreted to them in all the Scriptures the Things concerning himself.

28. In the mean while they came near to the Village whither they were going, when he pretended he would go further.

29. And they constrained him, saying, Remain with us, since it is towards Evening, and the Day declines ; so he went in to remain with them.

30. With whom while he sat down, he took Bread, and blessed, which breaking, he gave to them.

31. Then their Eyes were opened, and they knew him ; whereupon he disappeared from them.

32. And they said one to another, Was not our Heart burning in us, as he spoke to us in the Way, and as he opened to us the Scriptures ?

33. Rising too the same Hour, they returned to Jerusalem, where they found the eleven and those with them got together,

34. Who said, The Lord is really risen up, and has appeared to Simon.

35. They likewise declared the Things that were in the Way, and how he was known by them in breaking Bread.

36. And as they spoke these Things, Jesus himself stood in the midst of them, and says to them, Peace be to you.

37. But they being terrified and afraid, thought they had seen a Spirit.

38. Hereupon he said to them ; Why are you troubled ? And wherefore do Reasonings come up in your Hearts ?

39. See my Hands and my Feet, that it is I my self : feel me, and see ; since a Spirit has not Flesh and Bones, as you behold I have.

40. And saying this, he shewed them his Hands and Feet.

41. Besides while they did not believe for Joy, and wondered, he said to them, Have you any Meat here ?

42. So they gave to him Part of a boiled Fish, and some of a Honey-comb.

43. Which he took, and did eat before them.

44. As also said to them, These are the Words which I spoke to you, while I was with you, that all the Things written in the Law of Moses, the Prophets and Psalms, concerning me, must be fulfilled.

45. Then he opened their Mind, to understand the Scriptures.

46. He said further to them ; So it is written, and so it was expedient for Christ to suffer, and rise from the Dead the third Day ;

47. And for Repentance, and Forgiveness of Sins, to be preached in his Name in all Nations, beginning from Jerusalem.

48. Moreover you are Witnesses of these Things.

49. And behold I will send the Promise of my Father upon you ; but stay you in the City of Jerusalem, until you are cloathed with Power from on high.

50. Lastly he took them out abroad as far as Bethany ; then holding up his Hands, he blessed them.

Ver. 28. pretended he would go further] And West. says, He would have done it, had they not pressed Him to stay. How does he know that, when it may rather appear he intended to discover himself ? Else why did he come to them ?

Ver. 34. Who said] not the two Disciples, which the Gr. will not bear.

Ib. to Simon] as it seems a little before this, 1 Cor. xv. 5. which the Disciples were talking of when the other two came.

Ver. 35. by] Our Translators commonly use so with known, which is better than of.

Ver. 38. wherefore] by Mills as the three Ch. xxii. 70.

Ver. 39. See] as further in this Ver. not the Adverb Behold, as it may be taken for in the com. Version.

Ver. 43. Wall says, Vulg. and many Grec MSS. add at the End, and gave them the rest ; whereas besides three more Versions, those MSS. are but three at most, and they vary, being also rejected by Mills, and supposed made from Mat. x. 41.

Ver. 46. and so it was expedient] wanting in a very few, and in the present Books, says Mills, included in Crotchets, and he adds, taken from Ver. 26. but the following Verb being infinitive shews otherwise, it not cohering well with written, nor is such put to it in the parallel Expression John xx. 31.

Ver. 47. beginning] Instead of it beginning, the Vulg. and three or four have they (viz. the Preachers, as appears by being gen. and abl. absolute) beginning, which both Erasmus and Mills reckoned genuine ; and the latter represents the sing. as being wrong, because those Things (he should have said this to speak properly) cannot be referred to Christ. No certainly, who pretended that ? but it may to the Preaching.

Ver. 49. of Jerusalem] Because not in the Vulg. and Copt. Versions, with the Cambr. and one other Copy, Mills casts it off, Psalm 424. but why then not behold in the same Verse, which is absent so, and further in the Syr. Perf. and Arab. Versions ?

Ib. cloathed] As the Original signifies, and not endued or qualified, or otherwise having a dowry, Gen. xxx. 20. which are other Things, and not the Meaning of this Gr. Word, though endu be a Part of it, which it seems led our Translators into the Mistake ; see the like Judg. xiii. 19. and elsewhere.

51. And while he was blessing them, he became distant from them, and was carried up into Heaven.

52. Upon which they worshipped him, and returned to Jerusalem with great Joy.

53. And were always in the Temple, praising and blessing God : so let it be.

Ver. 52. worshipped him, and] Only one Copy, and that an unaccountable one too, lacking this, yet Mills relates some Reader brought it from Mat. xxviii. 17. hither into the Marg. from whence at length it passed into the middle of the Page. What might the Scripture be reduced to at this Rate ! I suppose more Words might be taken out of the Books of the New Test. (besides Additions and Alterations, which latter are far more numerous) than there are Verses.

NOTES upon the BOOK of JOHN.

CHAP. I.

THE Word was in the Beginning, and it was with God, nay the Word was God,

2. He himself was with God in the Beginning.

3. All Things were made by him, and without him there was not one Thing made which was made.

4. In him there was Life, and that was the Light of Men.

5. And the Light shined in Darkness, but the Darkness did not perceive it.

6. There was a Man sent from God, whose Name was John.

7. He himself came for a Witness, that he might testify concerning the Light, for all to believe by it.

8. He was not that Light, but was to testify concerning the Light;

9. Which was the true Light, that enlightens every Person who comes into the World.

10. He was in the World, and it was made by him; yet that did not know him.

11. He came to his own, and they did not receive him.

12. But to them whoever received him, he gave Authority to become the Children of God, to those that believed in his Name:

13. Who were born, not of Blood, nor of the Will of the Flesh, nor of the Will of Man, but of God.

14. And the Word became Flesh, and dwelt among us (so that we saw his Glory, the Glory as of the only begotten one of the Father) full of Grace and Truth.

15. John testified concerning him, and cried out, as follows; This was he of whom I spoke, One who comes after me is before me, because he was prior to me.

16. And of his Fulness we have all received, even Grace for Grace.

17. Since the Law was given by Moses, Grace and Truth was by Jesus Christ.

18. None has ever seen God; that only begotten Son, who is in the Bosom of the Father, has declared him.

Tit. John] This Book composed the last of all those of the New Testament, is according to the Ecclesiastical Writers placed An. Dom. 97, in the Year after John's Revelation, and in that before his Death. About the Year 99 or 100, as it is computed, these four Histories of our Saviour were put together in one Book; when there was no Apostle, nor probably any immediate Disciple of Jesus, left to relate more concerning him; soon after the Acts of the Apostles, and by the Year 110 Paul's Epistles, besides that to the Hebrews, and the first of Peter and John, with the rest afterwards, but not done by any General Council; consult Mills, Proleg.

Ver. 3. not one Thing made] Some make the Period here, two Writers at the following in him, Mills, Proleg. 796. two more omitting that was made; but as Mills defends none of them, Whitby improperly answers him with a Pother about it, making it seem more uncertain than it is, Exam. Lib. 2. C. 1. S. 1.

Ver. 4. Life] that Life eternal which he revealed to the World, 1 John v. 11. Ch. xiv. 6. Whitby.

Ver. 5. perceive] As Beza expounds his comprehension; whence our comprehension, which is more obscure, and used for contained, Rom. xiii. 9. Isa. xl. 12. that cannot be the Meaning here.

Ver. 7. it] the Light, of which he is speaking; and according to Acts iii. 16. Phil. i. 29. Gal. v. 22. Heb. xii. 2. and were all to believe by or through John? West. thro' it.

Ver. 9. enlightens every Person] What he enlightens every Man (or every Man is so enlightened) with, must be the Light of Men, and what that is we are told Ver. 4. But Gill in his voluminous Exposition, on the Books of the N. Test. in 3 Vols. fol. writes, the sense is, either that every man that is enlightened in a spiritual manner, is enlightened by him—or the meaning is, that he is that light which lighteth all sorts of men; which is true in a spiritual sense. Both Ways you see it is spiritual; yet he concludes, it is best to understand these words (what otherwise than the Sense or Meaning of them is?) of the light of nature, and reason, which—is no other than the light of a natural conscience. However this Light we hear is true, whatever he may call it. And certainly the Words intimate more than the mere Property of Mankind. Besides this Author does not seem to have understood his own Expressions: did he mean by the light of—that it is nature, reason, and a natural conscience? I should think, not so absurdly. Or did he mean Something besides that enlightens these? If so, it may, or indeed must be spiritual still. Nay it is the Life of Christ as he is God, Ver. 1, 3, 4. which surely is Somewhat else than human Reason or Nature; as likewise Whitby pleads, and says, Christ must be said to be the Light of Men, by giving them the Knowledge of eternal Life, and of the way that leadeth to it, Annot. who also on Heb. x. 5. cites from Pajikra Rab. Sect. 31. אתה נואר כל באו עולם Thou art he who enlightens every Man that comes into the World.

Ver. 14. dwelt] West. tabernacled.

Ver. 16. And] Mills finding on instead of and with half a dozen in all, MSS. Versions and Writers, lays hold of that for the right, which would denote a Reason as because, or for want of making Proof of such, he says certainly or that is to say. Weak Work!

Ib. Grace for Grace] a greater Measure of it, for a less which they or Mankind had before, according to Ch. x. 10. and this does no Violence to the Words, like other Attempts at Interpretation.

19. And this was the Testimony of John, when the Jews sent Priests and Levites out of Jerufalem, for them to ask him, Who art thou?

20. Whereupon he confessed, and did not deny, even confessed, I am not Christ.

21. And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? To which he says, I am not. Art thou the Prophet? And he answered, No.

22. Therefore they enquired of him, Who art thou? that we may give an Answer to them that sent us: what dost speak concerning thy self?

23. He replied: I am the Voice of one crying out in the Wilderness, Let the Way for the Lord be straight; as the Prophet Esaias said.

24. Moreover those who were sent were some of the Pharisees.

25. Next they asked him in this manner, Why then dost thou baptize, if thou art not Christ, nor Elias, nor the Prophet?

26. John made answer to them, I baptize with Water; but there stands one amongst you, whom ye do not know.

27. It is he that comes after me, who is before me; the Latchet of whose Shoe I am not worthy that I should undo.

28. These Things were done at Bethabara beyond Jordan, where John was baptizing.

29. The next Day John beholds Jesus coming to him, and says; Lo the Lamb of God, that takes away the Sin of the World.

30. This is he concerning whom I said, There comes a Man after me, who is before me, because he was prior to me.

31. And I did not know him; but for this reason that he should be made manifest to Israel, I came baptizing with Water.

32. Besides John testified thus; I beheld the Spirit come down as a Dove out of Heaven, and it remained on him.

33. And I did not know him; but the same that sent me to baptize with Water, said to me, He, on whom thou shalt see the Spirit come down, and remain on him, it is that baptizes with the Holy Spirit.

34. So I saw, and testified that this was the Son of God.

35. The next Day again John was standing, and two of his Disciples;

36. When he looked at Jesus walking, and says, Lo the Lamb of God.

37. And the two Disciples heard him speak, whereupon they followed Jesus.

38. Who turning, when he saw them follow him, asks them, What do ye seek? And they said to him, Rabbi (which is to say being interpreted Master) where dost thou remain?

39. He replies to them, Come, and see; they came, and saw where it was, and remained with him that Day; it being about the tenth Hour.

40. One of the two that heard it from John, and followed him, was Andrew, the Brother of Simon Peter.

41. He first finds out his Brother Simon, and says to him, We have found the Messiah; which is being interpreted Christ.

42. Nay he brought him to Jesus; who looking on him, said, Thou art Simon the Son of Jonas, thou shalt be called Cephas; which is being interpreted a Rock.

43. The next Day Jesus was minded to go out into Galilee; when he finds Philip, and says to him, Follow me.

44. Now Philip was from Bethsaida, out of the City of Andrew and Peter.

45. Philip finds out Nathanael, and says to him, We have found him of whom Moses in the Law, as also the Prophets wrote, Jesus the Son of Joseph, from Nazareth.

46. To whom Nathanael said, Can there be any good Thing from Nazareth? Philip replies to him, Come, and see.

47. When Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, he says of him, Lo an Israelite truly, in whom there is not Deceit.

48. Nathanael asks him, Whence dost thou know me? Jesus made answer to him, Before Philip called thee, when thou wast under the Fig-tree, I saw thee.

49. Nathanael returns him answer, Rabbi, thou art the Son of God, thou art the King of Israel!

50. Jesus made reply to him; Because I said to thee, I saw thee underneath the Fig-tree, dost thou believe? Thou shalt see greater Things than these.

Ver. 21. the Prophet] as in Ch. vii. 40. by whom according to Mat. xvi. 14. might be meant Jeremias.

Ver. 27. who is before me] Five, of all Sorts, not having this, Mills supposes it taken from Ver. 15, or 30. Prol. 909. whereas Whitby thinks it confirmed by the same; in which Respect Reasoning may vibrate, but the Weight of Books will ponderate.

Ver. 28. Bethabara] Many have Bethany, as being more known, but wrong, Ch. xi. 18.

Ver. 29. next Day] These days were perhaps a Year or more after the baptism and temptation, Wall.

Ver. 38. This is made two Verses in the Gr.

Ver. 42. Cephas] Syr. from the Chald. sp3 or Cepha. Ib. a Rock] by Wesley, Peter; with this Note, Cephas meaning the same in Syriac, which Peter does in Greek, namely, a Rock. But if Peter is Greek, surely this Author's Translation is not; and if Peter means a Rock, is it not in English it means so?

51. I say to thee very certainly, added he to him, Henceforth you shall see Heaven opened, and the Angels of God go up and come down on the Man.

C H A P. II.

AND the third Day there was a Marriage at Cana of Galilee, and the Mother of Jesus was there.

2. Besides both Jesus was invited, and his Disciples to the Marriage.

3. At length there being a want of Wine, the Mother of Jesus says to him, They have no Wine.

4. Jesus answers her, What hast thou to do with me, Woman? My Hour is not yet come.

5. His Mother says to the Waiters, Do whatever he bids you.

6. Now six Water-pots of Stone being there, put according to the Cleansing of the Jews, which held two or three Firkins apiece;

7. Jesus says to them, Fill the Water-pots with Water: so they filled them quite up.

8. Next he orders them, Draw now, and carry to the Master of the Feast; which they did.

9. And when that Master had tasted the Water become Wine (and did not know whence it was, though the Waiters who drew the Water knew) he calls the Bridegroom,

10. And says to him, Every Man first puts good Wine, and when People have drunk plentifully, then smaller; thou hast kept the good Wine till now.

11. This Beginning of Miracles Jesus did at Cana of Galilee, and made his Glory manifest; so that his disciples believed on him.

12. After this he went down to Capernaum, with his Mother, Brethren and Disciples; but did not remain there many Days.

13. The Passover of the Jews also was near, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

14. And he found in the Temple them who sold Oxen, Sheep and Doves, and those that changed Coin sitting.

15. Upon which he made a Scourge of Cords, and put them all out of the Temple, with the Sheep and Oxen; as likewise poured out the Coin of the Money-changers, and overturned the Tables.

16. Moreover he said to them that sold Doves, Take away these things hence; do not make my Father's House a House of Merchandise.

17. And his Disciples remembered that it was written, The Zeal of thy House has eat me up.

18. Therefore the Jews made answer to him, What Sign shewest thou to us, since thou doest these Things?

19. To whom Jesus made reply, Demolish this Temple, and in three Days I will raise it up.

20. The Jews therefore said, Forty six Years this Temple has been building, and wilt thou raise it up in three Days?

Ver. 51. very certainly] Whether it has been remarked, or not, that the other three Writers of the History of our Saviour never begin his Sayings with a double amen, as this is in Greek; and John, where he has it, which is no less than 25 times, always so: I am however ready to conclude, that it would be lost Labour to search the numerous Volumes of Commentators for a rational, if any Enodation of it; which it requires the more for being in the same Passages, as Ch. xiii. 21. with Mat. xxvi. 21. Mark xiv. 18. and Ch. xiii. 38. with Mat. xxvi. 34. Mark xiv. 30. It is therefore to be considered that Jesus did not speak it in Gr. the Language they wrote it in, but Syriack, that of the Country, and in a Dialect not distinctly known now with Certainty. The Word or Words then which he used being a strong Affirmation, our sacred Biographers interpreted by amen from the Heb. either single or repeated. Christ's Word as likely as any might be the Noun אמת or אמת with א prefixed, signifying properly for certain; but that Noun, thus differently spelled, might be rather plural, as it is also used, which would so enhance the Force of it, as aptly to suit the Exposition I have given. I remember in translating several such Heb. Plurals, I have been put to the Stand whether to do it with very, &c. or without. The Reader may excuse with me the Printer from getting Syr. Types, and accept of the Chaldee; from which the others were made so different, tho' the Language was as one.

1b. Henceforth] from Mat. xxvi. 64. according to Mills; whereas the Sayings are neither the same, nor on the same Occasion.

1b. the Angels] Ham. seems best to refer this to Acts i. 9, 10. and Whitby overlooking it, not near so well to Christ's Miracles, which he also condemns himself by saying, They who refer it to Christ's Passion and Resurrection, must shew how the Angels then ascended and descended on Christ in the Sight of the Apostles.

Ver. 3. there being a want of Wine] the Gr. Genitive absolute, not saying the Disciples wanted it. Wesley, Wine falling short.

Ver. 13. Passover] The first in the Time of Christ's Ministry, of his Age the 34th Year began, Wall.

Ver. 15. Cords] I know not why small, when the same too is rendered ropes, Acts xxvii. 32. but Wesley has this Rushes.

1b. put them all out] at another Time of his being at Jerusalem, before that in Mat. xxi. Mark xi. Luke 19.

Ver. 16. them] One Copy, and the Paraphrase of Nonnus in Verse, having it sing. Mills esteemed that genuine, Prol. 911.

Ver. 17. has eat—up] Abundance of Copies have is eat up, which Mills counts genuine, because Nobody, he says, would ever have framed such a Reading, Prol. 1231. as indeed it is a strange one with me, but seems too strange to be authentick, however it was so followed; and in the Vers. of the Sept. Psa. lxxix. 9. is the same as ours.

Ver. 20. has been building] as it still continued; for which look into the Chronology at the End of Dan. and Wall's Crit. Note.

21. Whereas he spoke concerning the Temple of his Body.

22. Therefore when he was risen up from the Dead, his Disciples remembered that he had spoken this to them; so they believed the Scripture, and the Word which Jesus said.

23. Now as he was in Jerusalem at the Passover on the Feast, many believed on his Name, at seeing his Miracles which he did.

24. Yet Jesus did not trust himself to them; because he knew all,

25. And since he had no Need that any should testify concerning Man: for he knew what was in Man.

C H A P. III.

TH E R E being also a Man of the Pharisees, whose Name was Nicodemus, a Ruler of the Jews;

2. He came to Jesus by Night, and said to him, Rabbi, we are sensible that thou art a Teacher come from God: for none can do these Miracles which thou doest, except God is with him.

3. Jesus made answer to him; I tell thee very certainly, Except any one is born from above, he cannot see the Kingdom of God.

4. Nicodemus replies to him, How can a Man be born when he is old? Can he enter the second time into his Mother's Womb, and be born?

5. Jesus answered: I tell thee very certainly; Except any one is born of Water and the Spirit, he cannot enter into the Kingdom of God.

6. What is born of the Flesh, is Flesh; and what is born of the Spirit, is Spirit.

7. Do not wonder that I said to thee, You must be born from above.

8. The Spirit breathes where it will, and thou hearest the Voice of it, but dost not know whence it comes, and whither it goes: so is it with every one who is born of the Spirit.

9. Nicodemus made answer to him, How can these Things be?

10. Jesus made reply to him: Art thou a Teacher of Israel, and dost not know these Things?

11. I tell thee very certainly, that we speak what we know, and testify what we have seen; yet ye do not receive our Testimony.

12. If I have told you earthly Things, and ye do not believe; how will ye believe, if I should tell you heavenly Things?

13. And none has gone up into Heaven, excepting he that came down out of it, the Man who was in Heaven.

14. As Moses too put up the Serpent in the Wilderness, so must the Man be put up;

15. That every one who believes in him may not perish, but have everlasting Life.

16. For God thus loved the World, so that he gave his only begotten Son, that every one who believes in him may not perish, but have everlasting Life.

17. For God did not send his Son into the World, that he might condemn the World, but that it might be saved by him.

18. He who believes in him, is not condemned; but he that does not believe, is condemned already, because he did not believe in the Name of the only begotten Son of God.

19. Now this is the Condemnation, that Light is come into the World, and Men loved Darkness rather than Light: for their Works were wicked.

Ver. 23. in—at—on] all with the Greek.

Ver. 3. from above] So translated, Ver. 31. Ch. xix. 11. James i. 17. & iii. 15, 17. and so signifying, and not again.

Ver. 5. Water] Which, says the Note on the Geneva Bible, is the spirituall water where the holy Ghost doth wash us into newnesse of life; as indeed the Necessity of it shews.

Ver. 8. The Spirit] The same as after in this Verse, and according to the primary and common Signification of the Word, to such a Degree, that I understand one of my Acquaintance searched, and found it never translated wind besides in all the Books of the New Test. where it is so numerously used. I have also heard it remarked, that People are not to be born of the Wind. The Objections of Whitby are, 1st, that it destroys the Comparison intimated in the Word so; but if it is such a Comparison as is a real Objection, that is begging the Question; nay is the Person who is born of the Spirit compared to the Wind? and so may answer as well to the former as the latter. 2dly, They make Christ say that Nicodemus heard the Voice of the Spirit (these are Whitby's Words) which is not very probable; it may be probable then, if not very probable, and by Ver. 2. compared with 1 Cor. ii. 14. as also by 1 Cor. xii. 7. Rev. xxii. 17. Ch. v. 25. &c. It is so. Thus Optatus understood it, he having, God is a Spirit and breathes where he will; and not only the Vulg. has it Spiritus, and its Rhemish Translators, The Spirit breatheth where he wil, but say in the Marg. We follow rather S. August. and those ancient fathers, which most commonly understand this place of the holy Ghost, and not of the winde.

Ib. will] Has the Wind a Will or Lifting to do any Thing? Or if it had, has it Power to perform it? But it is said thus of the Spirit, 1 Cor. xii. 11.

Ib. Voice] the more usual and proper Meaning.

Ib. does not know] Surely Nicodemus could tell what Quarter the Wind blew from and to.

Ib. comes, and—goes] So we read of the way of the spirit, Ecclef. xi. 5.

Ib. so is it with] Such is his State and Condition, which must be the Meaning, by the nom. for the dat. it being not strange with our Apostle to use the direct Case for an oblique, as in Ch. i. 16. & vi. 63.

Ver. 10. Teacher] as Ver. 2.

20. For

20. For every one who commits what is bad, hates the Light, and does not come to it, that his Works may not be reprov'd.

21. Whereas he who does according to the Truth, comes to the Light, that his Works may be made manifest, because they are wrought through God.

22. After these Things came Jesus, and his Disciples into the Country of Judea; where he abode with them, and baptized.

23. And John also was baptizing at Enon near Salim, because much Water was there; so People came, and were baptized.

24. For John was not yet cast into Prison.

25. There was therefore a Question from the disciples of John with the Jews, about Cleansing.

26. Whereupon they came to John, and said to him, Rabbi, he who was with thee beyond Jordan, to whom thou didst testify, behold does baptize, and all come to him.

27. John made answer: A Man can receive Nothing, except it be given him from Heaven.

28. You your selves testify for me, that I said, I am not Christ, but that I am sent before him.

29. He who has the Bride is the Bridegroom; but the Friend of the Bridegroom, that stands and hears him, rejoices with Joy for the Bridegroom's Voice: this Joy of mine therefore is fulfilled.

30. He must increase, but I decrease.

31. He who comes from above, is above all: he that was of the Earth, is of the Earth, and speaks of it: he who comes from Heaven, is above all.

32. And what he has seen and heard, that he testifies; though none receives his Testimony.

33. He who has received his Testimony, has sealed that God is true.

34. For he whom God has sent, speaks the Words of God; since God does not give him the Spirit by Measure.

35. The Father loves the Son, and has given all Things into his Power.

36. He that believes in the Son, has everlasting Life; and he that is disobedient to the Son, will not see Life, but the Wrath of God remains on him.

C H A P. IV.

WHEN therefore the Lord knew, that the Pharisees had heard, that Jesus made and baptized more Disciples than John;

2. (However indeed Jesus himself did not baptize, but his Disciples)

3. He left Judea, and went away again into Galilee.

4. And he must go through Samaria.

5. Therefore he comes to a City of Samaria called Sichar, nigh a Field which Jacob gave to his Son Joseph.

6. And Jacob's Well was there; Jesus therefore being fatigued by the Journey, sat down accordingly on the Well: it being about the sixth Hour.

7. A Woman of Samaria coming to draw Water, Jesus says to her, Give me some to drink.

8. For his Disciples were gone away into the City, that they might buy Food.

9. The Woman of Samaria therefore says to him, How dost thou who art a Jew ask of me to drink, that am a Woman of Samaria? For the Jews do not deal with the Samaritans.

10. Jesus made answer to her, If thou hadst known the Gift of God, and who it is that says to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee living Water.

11. The Woman says to him; Master, thou hast Nothing to draw with, and the Well is deep; whence therefore hast thou living Water?

12. Art thou greater than our Father Jacob, who drank of it himself, his Children and Cattle?

13. Jesus made answer to her; Every one that drinks of this Water, will be thirsty again:

14. Whereas whoever drinks of the Water which I shall give him, will not be thirsty at Ver. 21. through] For this look on Psa. v. 11.

Ver. 25. the Jews] No small Number of the Copies have a Few, but it seems not so genuine, as it might likelier be left out than added, and other Things seem nearly of equal Weight.

Ver. 3. again] a pretty many Copies are without; but Kuster's saying Mills thinks it a Scholium in Pro. 1371. is wrong, nor is it in his Account of the Perfick Vers. the only one that has not the Word.

Ver. 6. fatigued] from the Verb to labour.

all for ever; but the Water which I shall give him, will become in him a Well of Water bubbling up to everlasting Life.

15. The Woman requests of him, Master, give me this Water; that I may not be thirsty, nor come hither to draw.

16. Jesus says to her, Go, call thy Husband, and come hither.

17. The Woman made reply, I have no Husband. Jesus tells her; Thou hast said well, I have no Husband.

18. For thou hast had five Husbands; and he whom thou hast now is not thy Husband: this thou saidest truly.

19. The Woman rejoins to him; Master, I see that thou art a Prophet.

20. Our Fathers worshipped on this Mountain; and you say that in Jerusalem is the Place where one must worship.

21. To her Jesus says; Woman, believe me, that the Hour is coming, when neither on this Mountain, nor in Jerusalem, you will worship the Father.

22. You know not what you worship, we know what we worship; because Salvation is of the Jews.

23. But the Hour is coming, and is now, when the true Worshipers shall worship the Father with the Spirit and the Truth: for the Father also seeks such to worship him.

24. God is a Spirit; and those who worship him, must worship him with the Spirit and the Truth.

25. The Woman says to him, I know that the Messiah is coming, who is called Christ; when he is come, he will tell us all Things.

26. Jesus declares to her, I am he, who speak to thee.

27. And upon this his Disciples came, and wondered that he talked with the Woman; nevertheless none said, What dost thou seek? or, Why talkest thou with her?

28. The Woman therefore left her Water-pot, and went into the City, and says to the Men,

29. Come, see a Man who told me all Things whatever I did; is not this Christ?

30. Therefore they went out of the City, and came to him.

31. Now in the mean while his Disciples thus intreated him, Rabbi, do eat.

32. But he said to them, I have Meat to eat which ye do not know of.

33. His Disciples therefore said one to another, Has any one brought for him to eat?

34. Jesus replies to them; My Meat is, that I may do the Will of him who sent me, and finish his Work.

35. Do not ye say, that there are yet four Months, and then Harvest comes? Behold I tell you, Look up, and see that the Grounds are white already towards Harvest.

36. And he who reaps, does receive Wages, and gather together Fruit for everlasting Life; that both he who sows, and he who reaps, may rejoice together.

37. For in this the Saying is true, that there is one who sows, and another who reaps.

38. I have sent you to reap what you did not labour in: others laboured, and you are entered into their Labour.

39. And many of the Samaritans of that City believed in him, for the Saying of the Woman, who testified, He told me all Things whatever I did.

40. When the Samaritans therefore were come to him, they intreated him to remain with them; and he remained there two Days.

41. Whereby many more believed for his own Saying.

42. So that they said to the Woman, We believe no more for thy speaking; since we have heard our selves, and know that this is truly Christ, the Saviour of the World.

43. But after two Days Jesus came out thence, and went away into Part of Galilee.

44. For he himself testified, that a Prophet has not Honour in his own Country.

Ver. 22. what] viz. an infinite Spirit, that is not only in one place, being the very Scope of the Context; so that there is no Need of Shuckford's forced Interpretation how, against the Greek, in Connection, B. 1.

Ver. 23. the Spirit] demonstrative and distinctive, it being the Holy Spirit, and not a Man's own; of more Importance than inserting in before Truth, which the Gr. has not: and may better be with, that is frequently comprehended in the ablat. Case of Lat. and Heb. which the Gr. Dat. supplies; as also to be more intelligible like that in Psa. v. 11. may the Gr. properly signifying in is thus rendered, Mat. iii. 11. &c.

Ver. 27. the Woman] Wesley, a Woman.

Ver. 35. four Months] By Mills and Kusler, above seventy have it masc. instead of neut. that is with Time understood.

Ver. 37. For] not And.

Ver. 43. Part of Galilee] Not to Nazareth and thereabout, his own Country, but to another Part of it, being large, which accounts for the Particle For that follows. Beza reckons it a deal clearer to translate had testified, which I do not perceive, nor is the Gr. in that Tense. Much less is there Occasion for Alting's Contrivance in his Works, Vol. 5. that For should be Although, which Therefore too at the Beginning of the next Verse overthrows.

Ver. 44. own Country] spoken it seems in Reference to Nazareth, Luke iv. 16, 24. so that though he went into Galilee, where Nazareth was, Mat. ii. 22, 23. he would not go thither.

45. There-

45. Therefore when he was come into Galilee, the Galileans received him, having seen all the Things which he did in Jerusalem at the Feast: for they also came to the Feast.

46. Jesus therefore came again into Cana of Galilee, where he made Water Wine; and there was some Nobleman, whose Son was sick at Capernaum.

47. He hearing that Jesus was come out of Judea into Galilee, came away to him, and intreated him, that he would go down, and heal his Son: for he was about to die.

48. Therefore Jesus said to him, Except you see Signs and Wonders, you will not at all believe.

49. The Nobleman says to him, Lord, come down, before my Boy dies.

50. Jesus replies to him, Go; thy Son will live. So the Man believed the Saying which Jesus spoke to him, and went.

51. Whereupon as he was now going down, his Servants met him, and declared thus, Thy Boy will live.

52. He therefore asked of them the Hour in which he got to be better; and they said to him, Yesterday at the seventh Hour the Fever left him.

53. The Father therefore knew that it was in the same Hour, in which Jesus said to him, Thy Son will live; so that he himself believed, and his whole Household.

54. This again was the second Miracle Jesus did, after he came out of Judea into Galilee.

CHAP. V.

AFTER these Things there was a Feast of the Jews, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

2. And there is in Jerusalem at the Sheep-gate a Pool, which is called in Hebrew Bethesda, that has five Porches.

3. In these lay a great Multitude of ailing

Persons, blind, lame, withered, waiting for the moving of the Water.

4. For an Angel came down into the Pool according to the Time, and disturbed the Water; he therefore who first went in after the disturbing of it, became well, whensoever he had been seized with a Distemper.

5. Now some Man was there, who had been in an Ailment thirty eight Years.

6. Jesus seeing him lie, as he knew that it had been now a great while, says to him, Wilt thou become well?

7. He who was ailing answered him, Lord, I have no Man, that when the Water is disturbed, may put me into the Pool; but while I am coming, another goes down before me.

8. Jesus says to him, Arise, take up thy Bed, and go.

9. And presently the Man became well, so that he took up his Bed, and went; and the Sabbath was on that Day.

10. Therefore the Jews said to him who was cured, This is the Sabbath; it is not lawful for thee to take up the Bed.

11. He answered them; The same who made me well, said to me, Take up thy Bed, and go.

12. They therefore asked him; What Man is it who spoke these Words to thee?

13. Whereas he that was healed did not know who it was: for Jesus was withdrawn, while a Company was in the Place.

14. After these Things Jesus finds him in the Temple, and said to him, Lo thou art become well; sin no more, that Something worse may not come to thee.

15. The Man went away, and told the Jews, that it was Jesus who had made him well.

16. And for this reason the Jews persecuted Jesus, and endeavoured to kill him, because he had done these Things on the Sabbath.

Ver. 2. there is] For the Pool might remain, tho' Jerusalem was destroyed, John writing this Book after that; or by this Time the City might be considerably restored.

Ib. Sheep-gate] mentioned Neh. iii. 1, 32. & xii. 39. according to Beza, however it was that our Translators durst leave him.

Ib. Hebrew] See on Acts xxi. 40.

Ib. Bethesda] the House or Place of pouring out, from the Chald. beth and ashad, with the final s of that Tongue. It is Bethsaida by the Vulg. and a few, which was a City not there, Ch. i. 44. & xii. 21. see on Ch. i. 28.

Ib. Porches] West. porticoes: so portico, Ch. x. 22. Ch. viii. 13, 17, 18.

Ver. 4. This whole Verse being not in two MSS. and the Copt. Transf. Mills says he had a vehement Suspicion it crept from the Gospel according to the Hebrews; Prol. 433, 1422. which there is no Need to allow, yet if it did, it may be received upon such Authority as true. Kistler in Pref. tells of a few more Copies without it, or marked as suspected.

Ib. became well] not more, I suppose, by Doddridge's Mineral Virtue, than by that of the Sacrifices with Hammond.

Ib. whensoever] how long soever he had been ill; the Original having when, and Ver. 6. also favouring it; it is translated too by Time in another Manner, with little Sense.

Ver. 9. And presently the Man became well] Mills counted all this taken from Ver. 4. and there spurious, Prol. 1422. tho' lacking only in two Copies.

Ver. 16. and endeavoured to kill him] Some have not, nor Mills supposes should; but the more Ver. 18. seems directly to require it, by referring to it, and Grotius is sufficient otherwise in Opposition to him.

17. But Jesus answered them, My Father works hitherto, and I work.

18. For this reason therefore the Jews endeavoured the more to kill him, because he not only disannulled the Sabbath, but also said God was his Father, making himself equal to God.

19. Therefore Jesus made answer to them: I say to you very certainly; The Son cannot do any Thing of himself, excepting what he sees the Father do: for what Things soever he does, these also the Son does in like Manner.

20. For the Father loves the Son, and shews him all Things which himself does; nay he will shew him greater Things than these, that you may wonder.

21. For according as the Father raises up the Dead, and makes alive; so the Son also makes alive them that he will.

22. For the Father does not judge any, but has given all Judgment to the Son;

23. That all might honour the Son, as they do the Father. He that honours not the Son, does not honour the Father who sent him.

24. I tell you very certainly, that he who hears my Word, and believes in him who sent me, has everlasting Life; and does not come into Judgment, but is departed out of Death into Life.

25. I say to you very certainly, that the Hour is coming, and now is, when the Dead will hear the Voice of the Son of God; and those who hear, will live.

26. For according as the Father has Life in himself, so has he given to the Son to have Life in himself;

27. Nay has given him Authority even to execute Judgment, because he is the Man.

28. Do not wonder at this: since the Hour is coming, in which all who are in the Graves will hear his Voice;

29. And those who do good Things will come out to the Resurrection of Life, but they that commit bad ones to the Resurrection of Damnation.

30. I cannot do any Thing of my self: as I hear, I judge, and my Judgment is righteous; because I seek not my own Will, but the Will of the Father who sent me.

31. If I only testify concerning my self, my Testimony is not a true one.

32. There is another who testifies concerning me, and I know that the Testimony which he testifies concerning me is true.

33. You sent to John, and he testified to the Truth.

34. However I do not receive Testimony from Man; but say these Things, that you may be saved.

35. He was a burning and shining Lamp; and you were willing for a little while to be joyful in his Light.

36. Yet I have greater Testimony than John's: for the Works which the Father has given me, that I might finish them, these Works which I do, testify concerning me, that the Father sent me.

37. The Father also who sent me, has himself testified concerning me. You have neither ever heard his Voice, nor seen his Appearance.

38. Moreover you have not his Word remaining in you; because the same whom he has sent, him you do not believe.

39. You search the Scriptures, because you think to find everlasting Life in them; and those are they that testify concerning me.

40. Nevertheless you will not come to me, that you may have Life.

41. I do not receive Glory from Men.

42. But I know that you have not the Love of God in your selves.

43. I am come in the Name of my Father, and you do not receive me: if another should come in his own Name, you would receive him.

44. How can you believe, who receive Glory one from another, and do not seek the Glory which is from God alone?

45. Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father; it is Moses who accuses you, in whom you hope.

46. For if you had believed Moses, you would have believed me: for he wrote concerning me.

47. But if you do not believe his Writings, how should you believe my Sayings?

C H A P. VI.

AF T E R these Things Jesus went away beyond the Sea of Galilee, that of Tiberias.

2. And a great Company followed him, because they saw his Miracles which he did on those who were ailing.

3. So Jesus went up on a Mountain, and sate there with his Disciples.

4. Moreover the Passover, a Feast of the Jews, was near.

5. Jesus therefore looked up, and seeing a great Company come to him, says to Philip, Whence shall we buy Bread, that these may eat ?

6. (But he said this to try him ; for he himself knew what he was about to do)

7. Philip answered him, Two hundred Penny-worth of Bread is not sufficient for them, that each of them may take some Little.

8. One of his Disciples, Andrew the Brother of Simon Peter, says to him,

9. There is a Boy here who has five Barley-loaves, and two little Fishes ; but what are these for so many ?

10. However Jesus said, Make the Persons sit down ; and there was much Grass in the Place : the Men accordingly sate down, in Number about five thousand.

11. When Jesus took the Loaves, and giving thanks, gave to the Disciples, and they to those who were sate down ; and in like Manner of the little Fishes, as much as they would have.

12. And when they were filled, he says to his Disciples, Gather together the Fragments which are over and above, that there may not any Thing be lost.

13. Therefore they gathered together, and filled twelve Baskets with the Fragments of the five Barley-loaves, which were over and above to them that eat.

14. The Men therefore seeing the Miracle which Jesus did, said, This is truly the Prophet who was to come into the World.

15. Jesus therefore knowing that they were about to come, and take him by force, that they might make him King, departed again to a Mountain himself alone.

16. And when it was Evening, his Disciples went down to the Sea.

17. Where they got aboard a Ship, and were going beyond the Sea to Capernaum ; and it was now dark ; besides Jesus was not come to them.

18. And the Sea rose up, by a great Wind blowing.

19. Therefore having driven on about twenty five or thirty Furlongs, they see Jesus walking on the Sea, and being near the Ship ; at which they were afraid.

20. But he says to them, It is I, do not fear :

21. They were desirous therefore to receive him into the Ship ; and this it self was presently at the Land to which they were going.

22. The next Day the Company who stood on the farther Side of the Sea, seeing that no other Boat was there, but that one into which his Disciples were gone, and that Jesus was not entered with his Disciples into the Boat, but they went away alone ;

23. But yet other Boats came from Tiberias, near the Place where they had eat Bread, the Lord having given thanks :

24. When the Company therefore saw that Jesus was not there, nor his Disciples ; they also went into a Ship, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Jesus.

25. And finding him beyond the Sea, they said to him, Rabbi, when didst thou come hither ?

26. Jesus made answer to them ; I tell you very certainly, You seek for me, not because you saw the Miracles, but because you did eat of the Loaves, and were filled.

27. Do not work for the Meat that perishes, but for the Meat that remains to everlasting Life, which the Man will give you : for God the Father has sealed him.

28. They therefore said to him, What shall we do, that we may work the Work of God ?

29. Jesus made reply to them, This is the Work of God, that you should believe in him whom he has sent :

Ver. 11: to the Disciples, and they] Some have not, making as appears an Abridgment ; yet it has been thought to be added in ; but see Whit. Exam.

Ver. 14. Jesus] not in one Copy and Version, so adjudged to the Lecturers by Mills, Pr. 434.

Ib. truly] put in from Ch. vii. 40: says Mills, Pr. 1280. only as being out of one strange Copy ; which is not mentioned in Whitby's Exam. as if none of the MSS. had it.

Ver. 23. the Lord having given thanks] crept, says Mills, from the Margin, where it had been put by a Reader from Ver. 11. Pr. 1280. and this but because he found the Lat. of the Copy at Ver. 14. and the Armen. Vers. without it. As he is so much for crept, he might better have put it to have crept all the Way, and to have done that at once ; than first to be put into the Marg. and then to creep thence. But how does Whitby answer him in his Examen ? That these Words are wanting in Chrysost. and the Syr. when the Syr. has them, as Mills says, and I have seen my self, with Jesus instead of the Lord ; and he does not tell where in Chrysost.

Ver. 27. work] as in the next Ver.

Ib. Meat that perishes] that which is gained by the superficial Service of Religion.

30. Therefore they said to him; What Miracle dost thou, that we may see, and believe thee? What dost thou work?

31. Our Forefathers did eat Manna in the Wilderness, as it is written, He gave them Bread to eat from Heaven.

32. Jesus therefore said to them; I tell you very certainly, Moses did not give you the Bread from Heaven; but my Father gives you the true Bread from Heaven.

33. For the Bread of God is that which comes down from Heaven, and gives Life to the World.

34. They therefore said to him, Lord, always give us this Bread.

35. Upon which Jesus replied to them: I am the Bread of Life; he that comes to me shall not be hungry at all, and he who believes in me shall never be thirsty at all.

36. But I have said to you, that you have even seen me, and do not believe.

37. All whom the Father gives me shall come to me, and him that comes to me I will not at all cast forth abroad:

38. Because I am come down from Heaven, not that I should do my own Will, but the Will of him who sent me.

39. And this is the Will of the Father who sent me, that all whom he has given me I should lose none of it, but raise it up at the last Day.

40. This is likewise the Will of him who sent me, that every one who sees the Son, and believes in him, shall have everlasting Life; and I will raise him up at the last Day.

41. The Jews therefore murmured at him, because he said, I am the Bread that came down from Heaven.

42. And they said, Is not this Jesus the Son of Joseph, whose Father and Mother we know? How then does he say, I am come down from Heaven?

43. Therefore Jesus made answer to them: Do not murmur with one another.

44. None can come to me, except the Father who sent me draws him; and I will raise him up at the last Day.

45. It is written in the Prophets, And they shall be all taught by God: every one therefore who has heard from the Father, and learned, shall come to me.

46. Not that any has seen the Father, excepting he who is from God; this has seen the Father.

47. I say to you very certainly; He who believes in me has everlasting Life.

48. I am the Bread of Life.

49. Your Forefathers did eat Manna in the Wilderness, yet are dead.

50. This is the Bread which comes down from Heaven, that any one may eat of it, and not die.

51. I am the living Bread, which came down from Heaven: if any one eats of this Bread, he will live for ever; and the Bread too that I will give, is my Flesh, which I will give for the Life of the World.

52. The Jews therefore contended one with another, saying, How can he give us the Flesh to eat?

53. Therefore Jesus said to them: I tell you very certainly; Except you eat the Flesh of the Man, and drink his Blood, you have not Life in your selves.

54. He that eats my Flesh, and drinks my Blood, has everlasting Life; and I will raise him up at the last Day.

55. For my Flesh truly is Meat, and my Blood truly is Drink.

56. He that eats my Flesh, and drinks my Blood, remains in me, and I in him.

57. As the Living Father has sent me, and I live by the Father; even the same who eats me, shall also live by me,

Ver. 30. Miracle dost] as the same Words are Ch. vii. 31. &c. and the Meaning of the Verb especially is.

Ver. 33. that which] As the Gr. signifies either this or he who, and since those to whom it was spoken took it as here by Ver. 34. because it was not unfolded to them otherwise till by that in Ver. 35. therefore this rendering seems most suitable.

Ver. 39. the Father] crept from elsewhere, writes Mills, after Labour lost we may suppose in finding the Place. Two Copies, &c. are without it.

Ver. 45. all taught by God] The plain and obvious Sense being by God himself, what then, may we suppose Hammond thinking his Paraphrase and Annotations were good for? according to what he says in New Light, Sect. 1, 2, 3, 7. whereas the Primitive Christians, tho' it is allowed they were so taught, were preached and written to by the Apostles, &c. And by what Logick does one Means of Instruction exclude all others? We may be taught some Things immediately, others mediately, or the same both Ways, for greater Confirmation. While Peter was preaching, the Holy Spirit fell upon all that heard him, Acts x. 44. therefore not inconsistent. Nay how does our great Man help himself, by ascribing this being taught to the Grace of God, which he says is the entire importance of this place? Is not that by God in the most immediate Manner?

Ver. 51. which I will give] These Words might be omitted, if is my Flesh were put last; and hence, as it appears, some pedantick Scribe left them out, they being not with a few, and Mills condemns them for spurious, Pr. 429, 641. Nevertheless there is a considerable Advantage of Strength (I might say of Beauty too) in the Text as it stands, by having two Assertions instead of one, besides savouring of this Apostle's Style.

Ver. 55. truly] Several have true both times, but Mills does not join with it.

Ver. 56. Mills reckons there was this at the End, that was genuine, as the Father in me, and I in the Father. I say to you very certainly, If you shall not receive the Body of the Son of Man as the Bread of Life (and drink his Blood) you have not Life in you. [But he that shall eat his Flesh,

58. This

C H A P. VII.

58. This that is the Bread which came down from Heaven; not as your Forefathers did eat Manna, yet are dead: he that eats this Bread will live for ever.

59. These Things he said in the Synagogue, while he taught at Capernaum.

60. When many of his Disciples therefore heard, they said, This is a hard Matter, who can hear it?

61. Now Jesus knowing in himself that his Disciples murmured about it, said to them, Does this offend you?

62. How if therefore you should see the Man go up where he was before?

63. It is the Spirit that makes alive; the Flesh does not profit any Thing: of the Words which I speak to you, it is the Spirit, and it is the Life.

64. But there are some of you that do not believe. For Jesus knew from the Beginning who they were that did not believe, and who it was that would deliver him up.

65. He further added, For this reason I said to you, that none can come to me, except it is given to him from my Father.

66. Thenceforth many of his Disciples went away back, and walked no more with him.

67. Jesus therefore said to the twelve, Are you also minded to go?

68. Therefore Simon Peter answered him; Lord, to whom should we go away? Thou hast the Words of everlasting Life.

69. And we believe and know, that thou art Christ the Son of the Living God.

70. Jesus replied to them, Have not I chosen you twelve, and one of you is a Devil?

71. Which he spoke of Judas Iscariot the Son of Simon: for he would deliver him up, who was one of the twelve.

AND Jesus after these Things walked in Galilee: for he would not walk in Judea; because the Jews endeavoured to kill him.

2. Moreover the Jews Feast of Tabernacles was near.

3. His Brethren therefore said to him; Depart hence, and go into Judea; that thy Disciples may also see thy Works which thou doest.

4. For none does any Thing in Secret; when he himself seeks to be in Publick: if thou doest these Things, make thy self manifest to the World.

5. For his Brethren did not believe in him.

6. Jesus therefore says to them; My Time is not yet come; whereas yours is always ready.

7. The World cannot hate you; but me it hates, because I testify concerning it; that its Deeds are wicked.

8. Get you up to this Feast: I go not up to it yet, because my Time is not yet fulfilled.

9. So having said these Things to them, he remained in Galilee.

10. However when his Brethren were gone up, then he also went up to the Feast; not openly, but as it were in Secret.

11. Therefore the Jews sought for him at the Feast, and said, Where is he?

12. And there was much Murmuring about him among the Multitude: some indeed said; He is good; whereas others said, No, but he seduces the Company.

13. Nevertheless none spoke in Publick concerning him, through Fear of the Jews.

and drink his Blood, has everlasting Life remaining in himself.] Two Gr. Copies having that out of the Crotchets, and Victorinus the African in the 4th Century some of it, and that within. He shews how it might be omitted, by ending with in him as this Verse; which is not very improbable, but I think it would scarce be established so, and both those Gr. Copies I find are loose and straggling from the present. Whitby also remarks against it, that Christ does not use the Word Body throughout the Chapter, &c. Exam. Lib. 2. Cap. 2.

Ver. 58. This that] being the same as me, and then the following not will belong properly, as it does truly, to the foregoing eats.

Ib. Manna] Mills, for two Copies and a Transf. wanting it, imagined was put by some Annotator.

Ver. 64. did not believe] One Copy, and two or three Writers, being without this not, Mills thought it inserted from the foregoing, Pr. 920. So he that expunged it might think, and from thence take Occasion to do it.

Ver 69. Living] To the Use of which Epithet Life before conduces, and thus need not be doubted is genuine; notwithstanding a few are without it, and Mills says it is added from Mat. when that in Ch. xvi. 16. is another Matter.

Ver. 70. Jesus] is wanting in not a few Copies, which the laborious Mills enumerates.

Ver. 1. would] By Mills the genuine Reading was, had not (viz. Power) to walk, as likewise other Criticks fancied before, though there is no Copy nor Version so; but two or three Writers put it that Way, and August. volebat instead of volebat in the Vulg. which might be the Manner it was introduced.

Ver. 4. in Publick] The Gr. parresia being taken in the Sense of the Jewish פְּרִיזָּה

Ver. 8. not—yet] This being but one Word in Gr. and Lat. a few have for it not, and such a Reading there must be in the Time of Porphyry, because he cavilled at it; yet the Opinion of Gratius, Mills, and Wall is inconclusive, that not was genuine: for that Heathen might meet with a various and wrong Reading, which perhaps was made to shun the Repetition of the Word as in ours, since yet might be thought sufficiently denoted by the last; see too Whit. Annot. and Exam.

Ver. 12. indeed] being not for

14. Now at length it being the middle of the Feast, Jesus went up to the Temple, and taught.

15. Whereupon the Jews wondered, saying, How does he know the Scriptures, when he has not learned?

16. Jesus made answer to them; My Doctrine is not my own, but his who sent me.

17. If any one likes to do his Will, he shall know concerning the Doctrine, whether it is from God, or I speak of my self.

18. He that speaks of himself, seeks his own Glory; but the same that seeks his Glory who sent him, is true, and there is not Unrighteousness in him.

19. Did not Moses give you the Law, and none of you performs it? Why do you seek to kill me?

20. The Company made answer, Thou hast the Devil, who seeks to kill thee.

21. Jesus made reply to them; I have done one Work, and you all wonder.

22. For this reason Moses gave you Circumcision (not that it is from Moses, but from the Fathers) and on the Sabbath you circumcise a Male.

23. If a Male on the Sabbath receive Circumcision, that the Law of Moses may not be disannulled; are you enraged at me, because I have made a Person all over well on the Sabbath?

24. Do not judge according to the Sight, but judge righteous Judgment.

25. Some therefore of those of Jerusalem said; Is not this he whom they seek to kill?

26. Whereas lo he speaks in Publick, and they say Nothing to him; have the Rulers known of a truth at any time, that this truly is Christ?

27. Yet we know whence this is; but when Christ comes, none knows whence he is.

28. Therefore Jesus cried out in the Temple, teaching, and saying; You both know me, and know whence I am; yet I am not come of my self, but he that sent me is true, whom you know not.

29. I notwithstanding know him; because I am from him, and he has sent me.

30. They sought therefore to apprehend him; however none put Hand on him, because his Hour was not yet come.

31. Nay many of the Company believed in him, and said, When Christ comes, will he do more Miracles than these which this has done?

32. The Pharisees heard of the Company murmuring these Things concerning him; whereupon they, and the chief Priests, sent Officers to apprehend him.

33. Jesus therefore said to them; Yet a little while I am with you, then I go to him who sent me.

34. You will seek me, and not find; and where I am, you cannot come.

35. Therefore the Jews said to themselves; Whither is he about to go, that we may not find him? Is he about to go to the dispersed ones of the Greeks, and teach the Greeks?

36. What Saying is this which he said, You will seek me, and not find; and where I am, you cannot come?

37. On the last Day too, the great one of the Feast, Jesus stood, and cried out as follows; If any one is thirsty, let him come to me, and drink.

38. He that believes in me, as the Scripture said, Rivers of living Water will flow out of his Inside.

39. (But this he said concerning the Spirit, which they should receive who believed in him: for there was not the Holy Spirit yet, because Jesus was not yet glorified).

40. Many of the Company therefore hear-

How has the Scripture been writhed about, by being in such frequent Use, as the common Words of Language are anomalous! for Instance the Verb-substantive not like other Verbs, Domus, a House, both of the 2d and 4th Declen. with many such in the Gr. and Eng. Dialects. But since dià tūto for this reason does not use to be put at the End of a Sentence, Ch. xii. 27. Mat. vi. 25. & xii. 31. Col. i. 9. and as it is proper here at the Beginning thus, As Moses gave you the Law, Ver. 19. for this reason he did Circumcision; we may fairly refuse the other, as a Witticism.

Ver. 22. For this reason] Because the People did not keep the Law of the Sabbath, Ver. 19. which was prior to Circumcision, the latter might be given in Compliance to their breaking the Sabbath, according to that in Mat. xv. 8. Mark x. 5. See what a miserable Hand Ex-ing the Words, said, This truly is the Prophet.

41. Others said, This is Christ. But others again; Will Christ forsooth come out of Galilee?

42. Did not the Scripture say, that Christ comes out of David's Offspring, and from Bethlehem the Town where David was?

43. There became therefore a Division in the Company by reason of him.

44. And some of them would have apprehended him, but none put Hands on him.

45. So the Officers came to the chief Priests and Pharisees; who said to them, For what reason did not you bring him?

46. The Officers answered, Never did a Man speak so as this Man.

47. The Pharisees therefore replied to them; Are you also seduced?

48. Have any of the Rulers believed in him, or of the Pharisees?

49. But this Company, who are ignorant of the Law, are cursed.

50. Nicodemus says to them, he who came to Jesus by Night, being one of them,

51. Does our Law judge a Man, except it has first heard from him, and knows what he does?

52. They made answer to him, Art thou also from Galilee? Find, and see, that no Prophet rises up from Galilee.

53. Thus each went to his House.

C H A P. VIII.

BESIDES Jesus went to the Mount of Olives.

2. And when it was Break of Day he came into the Temple, and all the People came to him; at which he sat down, and taught them.

3. The Scribes and Pharisees also brought to him a Woman taken in Adultery; and setting her in the midst,

4. They say to him; Master, this Woman was taken in the Crime it self of committing Adultery.

5. Now in the Law Moses commanded us, that such a one should be stoned; what dost thou therefore say?

6. Whereas they said this, by trying him, that they might have Something to accuse him; but Jesus stooped down, and wrote with his Finger on the Ground.

7. However as they continued asking him, he stood upright, and said to them, Let him of you that is without Sin first throw a Stone at her.

8. And again he stooped down, and wrote on the Ground.

9. This they hearing, and checked by Conscience, went out one by one, proceeding first from the eldest to the last; so that Jesus was left alone, and the Woman standing in the middle Place.

10. At length Jesus stood upright, and when he saw Nobody besides the Woman, he said to her, Woman, where are those Accusers of thine? Has none condemned thee?

11. And she said, None, Lord. Upon which Jesus replied to her, Neither do I condemn thee; go, and sin no more.

12. Jesus therefore spoke again to them as follows, I am the Light of the World: he that follows me, shall not at all walk in Darkness, but have the Light of Life.

13. Therefore the Pharisees said to him, Thou testifiest concerning thy self; thy Testimony is not a true one.

14. Jesus made answer to them; Though I do testify concerning my self, my Testimony is a true one; since I know whence I came, and whither I am going: but you know neither whence I come, or whether I am going.

Ver. 45. and Pharisees] One Verf. one Author, neither of them much noted, being without this, though no Copy, Mills puts it as taken from Ver. 47. for Who, he asks, would leave out such notable Words? How notable? Pharisees might be omitted, as being mentioned twice in Ver. 32. as well as at Ver. 47. or these Words, and the like in other Places, might be mis'd, by the Writer taking off his Eye at and, then putting it on at the next and for it.

Ver. 47. Are you also seduced] On this and the two following Verses Whitby has a Sermon (with his Annotations) closely against the Papists, shewing that they plead in like Manner, and that it may be applied to others.

Ver. 49. Company] West. populace.

Ver. 1. Besides] John is much for leaving out Conjunctions; which Translators should rather supply, than omit his. The Omission of this Piece of History to Ver.

12. in some Copies, may be accounted for two Ways: 1. Because it was in that called The Gospel according to the Hebrews; which on the contrary is an Evidence for it, and surely was not all false, but at worst only reckoned erroneous in some Things, as here that the Woman was accused of many Crimes, which yet has been thought to be said there of the Woman of Samarita, it being also a Writing more ancient than either of our four Evangelical Histories. 2. That it was left out through Conceit of an ill Use being made of it; see Mills's and Whitby's Vindications of it.

Ver. 2. Break of Day] according to the Etymology of the Gr. Word.

Ver. 6. Ground] A few Copies add dissembling, which our Translators turn as though he heard them not.

Ver. 9. standing] or being, in another Reading.

Ver. 14. but you know neither &c.] This to the End of the Verse, Mills says, is wanting in many Copies, not naming one, quite out of his Manner.

15. You judge according to the Flesh, I do not judge any one.

16. And yet if I judge, my Judgment is true; because I am not alone, but as well as I there is the Father who sent me.

17. Nay it is written also in your Law, that the Testimony of two Men is a true one.

18. I am one that testifies concerning my self, however the Father who sent me testifies concerning me.

19. They therefore said to him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, You neither know me, nor my Father: if you knew me, you would also have known my Father.

20. These Things spoke Jesus in the Treasury, when he taught in the Temple; and none apprehended him, because his Hour was not yet come.

21. Therefore Jesus said again to them, I am going, and though you may seek me, yet will die in your Sins; then whither I am going, you cannot come.

22. The Jews therefore said; Will he kill himself, because he says, Whither I am going, you cannot come.

23. And he answered them; You are from below, I am from above: you are of this World, I am not of this World.

24. I therefore said to you, that you will die in your Sins: for if you do not believe that I am so, you will die in your Sins.

25. Therefore they asked him, Who art thou? And Jesus replied to them; Even he whom I told you at the Beginning.

26. I have many Things concerning you to say, and judge; but he who sent me is true, and those Things which I have heard from him I speak in the World.

27. They did not know that he spoke to them of the Father.

28. Jesus therefore said to them; When you have lifted up the Man, then will you know that I am so, and that I do Nothing of my self; but as my Father has taught me, I speak these Things.

29. And he who sent me is with me: the Father has not left me alone, since I always do the Things that please him.

30. He speaking these Things, many believed in him.

31. Therefore Jesus said to the Jews who did; If you remain in my Word, you truly are my Disciples.

32. Moreover you will know the Truth, and that will make you free.

33. They answered him; We are the Offspring of Abraham, and have never been in Servitude to any; how dost thou say, You will become free?

34. Jesus answered them; I say to you very certainly, that every one who does Sin, is a Servant of Sin.

35. Now a Servant does not remain in the House for ever, the Son remains for ever.

36. If therefore the Son shall make you free, you will really be free.

37. I know that you are the Offspring of Abraham; but you seek to kill me, because my Word does not come into you.

38. I speak what I have seen with my Father; and you therefore do what you have seen with yours.

39. They made answer to him, Abraham is our Father. Jesus replies to them; If you were Abraham's Children, you would indeed do the Deeds of Abraham.

40. But now you seek to kill me, a Man who has spoken the Truth to you, which I heard from God: this Abraham did not do.

41. You do the Deeds of your Father. Therefore they said to him, We are not born of Whoredom: we have one Father, namely God.

42. Jesus therefore said to them: If God were your Father, you would love me: for I came forth, and am come, from God; nor indeed did I come of my self, but he sent me.

43. For what reason do ye not know my Speaking? Because you cannot hear my Word.

44. You are from your Father the Devil, and the Desires of your Father you like to do. He was a Murderer from the Beginning, and did not stand in the Truth, because the Truth is not in him; when he speaks a Lye, he speaks of his own; because he is a Liar, and the Father of it.

Ver. 20. Jesus] No less than seven of the old Translations, though not the Latin, are cited by Mills as without it; yet it seems but in their abridging Way, because the same is both before and after, so near as the adjoining Verse; in which Case it is not credible to be put in here afterwards, as Mills infers, Prol. 429.

Ver. 24. I am so] as in the Ver. before. Which West. has only I AM, as if this was that at Exod. iii. 14. and by his Note; for which it is improper or imperfect, and at Ch. xiii. 19. he has I am he, as in the com. Transf. both with believe.

Ver. 29. the Father] Notwithstanding Mills says this is a Scribe's, not the Evangelist's, Prol. 430. the Prop of Omission by a few is too weak for its Support.

Ver. 30. Things] as in Ver. 28, &c.

Ver. 34. of Sin] because not in one of the worst Copies, Mills thought added, Prol. 1280.

Ver. 38. therefore] because they opposed Christ, and this the Gr. has.

Ver. 39. indeed] as in Gr. the established Reading, tho' Mills objects to it, Pr. 677. but it might be mis'd at the End of this Verse (or in some old Copy, of the Line, as the Periods were written) after epieite, being not at the End of the foregoing Ver. after poieite.

Ver. 43. hear] cannot bear to hear.

45. And

45. And because I tell the Truth, you do not believe me.

46. Which of you convinces me of Sin? And if I tell the Truth, for what reason do ye not believe me?

47. He that is from God, hears God's Sayings: for this reason ye do not hear, because ye are not from God.

48. Therefore the Jews made answer to him, Do not we say well, that thou art a Samaritan, and hast a Devil?

49. Jesus answered; I have not a Devil; but I honour my Father, and you dishonour me.

50. Nay I do not seek my own Glory: there is one who seeks, and judges.

51. I say to you very certainly, If any one observes my Word, he will not at all see Death for ever.

52. The Jews therefore replied to him; Now we know that thou hast a Devil: Abraham is dead, and the Prophets, yet thou sayest, If any one observes my Word, he will not at all taste Death for ever.

53. Art thou greater than our Father Abraham, who is dead? And the Prophets are dead: whom dost thou make thy self?

54. Jesus answered; If I glorify my self, my Glory is Nothing: it is my Father who glorifies me, of whom you say that he is your God.

55. Nevertheless you have not known him, but I know him: and if I say that I do not know him, I should be a Liar like you; whereas I know him, and observe his Word.

56. Your Father Abraham was joyful that he should see my Day; which he saw, and rejoiced.

57. Therefore the Jews said to him, Thou art not yet fifty Years old, and hast thou beheld Abraham?

58. Jesus said to them; I tell you very certainly, Before Abraham was I am.

59. They therefore took up Stones, that they might throw at him; but Jesus hid, and went out of the Temple, going through the midst of them, and passed away so.

C H A P. IX.

MOREOVER passing away, he saw a Man blind from the Birth.

2. And his Disciples asked him as follows, Rabbi, who sinned, he or his Parents, that he was born blind?

3. Jesus answered; Neither did he sin, nor his Parents; but it was that the Works of God might be made manifest in him.

4. I must work the Works of him who sent me, while it is Day: the Night comes, when none can work.

5. As long as I am in the World, I am the Light of the World.

6. Having said these Things, he spit on the Ground, and made Clay of the Spittle, and anointed with the Clay upon the Eyes of the blind Man;

Ver. 52. for ever] Mills believed crept in, tho' it is only out of one wretched Copy, and one obscure Author.

Ver. 53. our Father] crept from the foregoing, says Mills, Pr. 1280. utterly improbable, since it is not in the Verse before, and back as far as Ver. 39. it is not as here by Apposition; and where is it else, as he has foregoing plural? When the Reader knows it is wanting but in a single Copy, and that the worst of all, he may think I have said too much, and on the other hand be astonished at a Man of such Knowledge and Capacity as Mills.

Ib. And the Prophets are dead] This being not in three or four Copies, may be expected according to others before in this Chap. to be repudiated by Mills, as it is Pr. 1476. yet he does not hold with Numbers of Various Readings supported with greater Authority.

Ver. 57. fifty] A Writer or two, and a Copy have forty, which Mills leans to; but Jesus from the Gravity of his Aspect: 36, could scarce be known by his Looks not to be 40; Chrysostome also, whom Mills quotes for it, mentioning him to be near 40 Years old, tho' he himself, to uphold his Argument, puts it at 32.

Ver. 59. going through the midst of them, and passed away so] Erasmus, Grotius, Beza, Mills suppose this all added, the former Part from Luke iv. 30. the latter mostly from the Beginning of the next Chap. tho' Mills could muster up no more than two or three MSS. without it; but being not in the vulg. Lat. had so great a Sway, that it was not put in some early printed Editions, nor as Ward says in our Eng. of 1561, 1562, 1577, 1579, Pres.

to Errata of Prot. Bib. However MSS. have the Right to decide it.

Ver. 1. passing away] Though Guyse owns that this being the same Word as before carries the Face of a Connection, yet he argues that this was about three Months after the other, Ch. viii. 59. by Ch. vii. 2. & x. 22. whereas I refer the latter Text to that after it, and not this with the following to be then, allowing also Time for the Course of Excommunication, Jesus meeting with him that had been blind afterwards, &c.

Ver. 2. sinned, he] They taking Punishment for the certain Effect of Sin, according to that at Luke xiii. 2, 4. and being mistaken in one Thing, might in another; tho' their Query does not imply, that they thought he sinned, only that they proposed it according to different Notions that were received; one of which was the Transmigration of Souls, or their Passage from one Body to another, according to their Demerits, which by Wisd. of Sol. viii. 20. the Jews seem tinged with. Among other Non-exponents of this Expression, what could induce such a learned Author and great Critick as Wall, to give us this, and no more, as the Exposition of it, in Crit. Not. Whose sin has been the cause that this man was born blind, his own sin, or the sin of his parents? Did he think we should not understand that manifest Meaning by the Text? And that the other would be understood by it, which must be very difficult to common Readers, without Help? see the like in the Assembly's Annot. on the next Verse.

7. As also said to him, Go, wash in the Pool of Siloam (which being interpreted is Sent) he went away therefore, and washed, and came seeing.

8. Therefore the Neighbours, and they who had seen before that he was blind, said, Is not this he that sate, and begged?

9. Others said, This is he; but others, He is like him: however he said, It is I.

10. They therefore enquired of him, How were the Eyes opened for thee?

11. He made answer; A Man called Jesus made Clay, and anointed my Eyes, and said to me, Go to the Pool of Siloam, and wash; so when I went away, and washed, I had sight.

12. Therefore they said to him, Where is he? Says he, I know not.

13. They bring him to the Pharisees who once was blind.

14. Now it was the Sabbath when Jesus made the Clay, and opened his Eyes.

15. The Pharisees therefore asked him also again, how he had sight. To whom he said, He put Clay upon my Eyes, and I washed, and do see.

16. Therefore some of the Pharisees said, This Man is not from God, because he does not keep the Sabbath. Others said, How can a Man who is a Sinner do such Miracles? Thus there was a Division among them.

17. They say to the blind Man again, What dost thou say concerning him, that he has opened thy Eyes? But he said, He is a Prophet.

18. The Jews therefore did not believe concerning him, that he was blind, and had sight; until they called the Parents of him who had sight,

19. And asked them as follows, Is this your Son, of whom you say that he was born blind? How then does he now see?

20. His Parents made answer to them; We know that this is our Son, and that he was born blind.

21. But how he now sees we know not, or who opened his Eyes we do not know: he is of Age, ask him; he will speak concerning himself.

22. These Things said his Parents, because they feared the Jews: for the Jews had already agreed, that if any one did confess him to be Christ, he should not belong to the Synagogue.

23. For this reason his Parents said, He is of Age, ask him.

24. Therefore they called the Man who was blind the second time, and said to him, Ascribe Glory to God; we know that this Man is a Sinner.

25. He therefore made answer, Whether he is a Sinner I know not; one Thing I know, that having been blind, I now see.

26. Whereupon they said to him again, What did he do to thee? How opened he thy Eyes?

27. He answered, I have told you already, and you did not hearken; why would you hear again? Would you also become his Disciples?

28. They therefore railed at him, and said; Thou art a Disciple of him, but we are Disciples of Moses.

29. We know that God spoke to Moses; but we know not whence this Man is.

30. The Man made reply to them; In this indeed there is a wonderful Thing, that you know not whence he is, when he has opened my Eyes.

31. Since we know that God hears not Sinners; but if any one be a Worshipper of God, and does his Will, him he hears.

32. Since the World has been it has not been heard, that any Man opened the Eyes of one born blind.

33. If he was not from God, he could not do any Thing.

34. They made answer to him, Thou wast wholly born in Sins, and dost thou teach us? So they put him out.

35. Jesus heard that they put him out, and finding him, he said to him, Dost thou believe in the Son of God?

Ver. 8. blind] by some a Beggar, because, as it seems, he is mentioned to be such in the following Words, and not as Mills frigidly imagines, that blind crept from Ver. 13.

Ver. 17. that] properly as in the next Ver. and not for seeing that, with which Guyse puzzles himself and his Readers.

Ib. But] left out of the com. Eng. and therefore Ver. 18. wrong translated But, on which the Sense of the Discourse hinges thus: the Gr. Particle just before for that, like the Syriack which was spoken, signifying also because, and the Man taking it so, answered accordingly, not mistrusting that they doubted the Truth of it; and so since he did not affirm what they asked him, but said, He is a Prophet, they therefore did not believe this Miracle was wrought. How well does all this consist together, and I hope now clearly appear!

Ver. 18. therefore] So the Gr. is, and so the Connection bears well.

Ver. 26. again] not with a few; but to be inserted from the next Ver. as Mills speaks, Pro. 430. appears altogether improbable.

Ver. 30. whence he is] viz. from God, according to what follows.

Ver. 31. him he hears] seem added, says Mills, to supply the Defect of the Sentence, Pro. 1422. but if he was candid, how little must he have considered the Style of this Apostle? with which this so much suits, that one might be almost sure it is his own; and why should I say almost, when only one Copy and one Writer omit it, and the Reason plain too, because it is a little redundant?

36. He made answer, Who is it, Lord, that I may believe in him?

37. At which Jesus said to him, Thou hast both seen him, and it is he that talks with thee.

38. Upon this he said, I believe, Lord; and worshipped him.

39. Besides Jesus said, For Judgment am I come into this World; that those who see not may see, and those who see may become blind.

40. And some of the Pharisees being with him heard these Things, and said to him, Are we also blind?

41. Jesus answered them: If you were blind, you would not have Sin; but now you say, We see; therefore your Sin remains.

CHAP. X.

I SAY to you very certainly; That Person who does not enter at the Gate into the Sheep-fold, but climbs up elsewhere, is a Thief and a Robber.

2. Whereas he who enters at the Gate, is the Shepherd of the Sheep.

3. To him the Porter opens, and the Sheep hear his Voice; he also calls his own Sheep by Name, and brings them out.

4. And when he puts forth his own Sheep, he goes before them; moreover the Sheep follow him, because they know his Voice.

5. Nay they will not follow another at all, but run away from him; because they know not the Voice of others.

6. This Proverb Jesus said to them; yet they did not know what Things those were which he spoke to them.

7. Jesus therefore said to them again: I tell you very certainly, that I am the Gate of the Sheep.

8. All that ever came before me, are Thieves and Robbers; but the Sheep did not hear them.

9. I am the Gate: at me if any one comes in, he shall be saved; nay shall come in, and go out, and find Pasture.

10. The Thief does not come, except that he may steal, kill, and destroy: I am come that they may have Life, and have it more abundantly.

11. I am the good Shepherd: it is he yields up his Life for the Sheep.

12. But he that is a hired one, and not the Shepherd, whose own the Sheep are not, sees the Wolf coming, and leaves the Sheep, and flees; so that the Wolf catches them, and disperses the Sheep.

13. Thus the hired one flees, because he is hired, and has no Care about the Sheep.

14. I am the good Shepherd, and know mine, and am known by mine.

15. As the Father knows me, I also know the Father, and yield up my Life for the Sheep.

16. And other Sheep I have that are not of this Fold, and those I must bring, and they shall hear what I say; so there shall be one Sheep-fold, one Shepherd.

17. For this reason my Father loves me, because I yield up my Life, that I may receive it again.

18. None takes it from me, but I yield it up of my self: I have Authority to yield it up, and have Authority to receive it again. The Commandment for this have I received from my Father.

19. There was a Division therefore again among the Jews, by these Words.

20. And many of them said, He has a Devil, and is mad; why do ye hear him?

21. Others said, These are not the Words of one in whom the Devil is; can a Devil open the Eyes of the Blind?

22. Now there was the Feast of Dedication at Jerusalem, when it was Winter.

23. And Jesus walked in the Temple, in Solomon's Porch.

24. The Jews therefore compassed him about, and said to him, How long dost thou hold our Mind in doubt? If thou art Christ, tell us freely.

Ver. 1. climbs]

*So climb this first grand Thief into God's Fould:
So since into his Church lewd Hirclings climb,*

Par. Lost, B. 4.

Ver. 6. Proverb] the indisputable Meaning of the Word, which is the same that is so rendered Ch. xvi. 25, 29. 2 Pet. ii. 22. and may more immediately be referred to the foregoing Verse.

Ver. 8. before me] not in many Copies, yet seems to be genuine, and omitted lest it should be misunderstood of Moses and the true Prophets; though the Meaning is of coming as the Shepherd, Gate or Messiah, which Jesus did. What Need had Guyse to tell us it was not the holy Prophets and John the Baptist?

Ver. 11. yields up] far the more general Reading of the same Verb as in Ver. 15, 17, 18.

Ver. 14. am known by mine] Some have mine know me, which Mills so much prefers, that he says ours was made afterwards, Prel. 430. for which however he gives no Reason, as indeed the mere Authority of a few against many would be a poor Reason, and a worse Expression against a better still poorer: for our Saviour continuing to speak of himself, as we read it, is evidently more pertinent and strong than the other, which checks and flattens this noble Discourse.

Ver. 21. can a Devil] A single MS. only having ixur added, to make it can he that has a Devil, Beza says he very much approves of it; but what will the Writings of the New Testament come to at that Rate?

Ver. 22. Dedication] as in 1 Mac. iv. 59. 2 Mac. x. 5, 8.

Ib. when] and being less proper, as that Feast was always in the Winter; but John might mention it for the Illiterate among the Gentiles.

25. Jesus answered them : I have told you, and ye did not believe: those Works which I do in the Name of my Father, testify concerning me.

26. But ye do not believe : for ye are not any of my Sheep, as I told you.

27. My Sheep hear my Voice, and I know them, and they follow me.

28. So I give them everlasting Life, and they shall not at all perish for ever, nor shall any one pull them out of my Hand.

29. My Father who gave to me, is greater than all; and none can pull out of my Father's Hand.

30. I and the Father are one.

31. Therefore the Jews again carried Stones, that they might stone him.

32. Jesus answered them, Many good Works have I shewn you from my Father; for which of those Works do ye stone me?

33. The Jews made him answer, We do not stone thee about a good Work, but about Blasphemy, and because thou that art a Man, makest thy self God.

34. Jesus replied to them : Is it not written in your Law; I said, You are gods?

35. If he called those gods, to whom the Word of God was, and the Scripture cannot be disannulled;

36. Do ye tell him whom the Father has sanctified, and sent into the World, Thou blasphemest; because I said, I am the Son of God?

37. If I do not the Works of my Father, believe me not.

38. But if I do, though you believe me not, believe the Works; that you may know, and believe that the Father is in me, and I in him.

39. They therefore sought again to apprehend him, but he got away from their Hand.

40. When he went away again beyond Jordan, into the Place where John was first baptizing; and he remained there.

41. Whereupon many came to him, and said, John indeed did no Miracle, but all Things whatever John spoke concerning him were true.

42. So that many believed in him there.

C H A P. XI.

NOW there was a certain Man sick, and Lazarus of Bethany, the Town of Mary and her Sister Martha.

2. (And it was the Mary who anointed the Lord with Ointment, and wiped his Feet with her Hair, whose Brother Lazarus was sick)

3. Therefore the Sisters sent Word to him, Lord, behold he whom thou lovest is sick.

4. Which Jesus hearing, said, This Sickness is not to Death, but for the Glory of God, that the Son of God may be glorified by it.

5. Moreover Jesus loved Martha, and her Sister, as well as Lazarus.

6. When he heard therefore that the other was sick, then indeed he remained at the Place in which he was two Days.

7. Next he after that says to the Disciples, Let us go along into Judea again.

8. The Disciples say to him, Rabbi, the Jews now have attempted to stone thee, and dost thou again go thither?

9. Jesus answered; Are there not twelve Hours to a Day? If any one walks in the Day, he does not stumble, because he sees the Light of this World.

10. Whereas if any one walks in the Night, he stumbles, because there is not Light in it.

11. These Things he said; and after that he says to them, Our Friend Lazarus is asleep, but I am going that I may awake him.

12. Therefore his Disciples said, Lord, if he is asleep, he will be well.

13. But Jesus spoke concerning his Death; whereas they thought that he discoursed about being in a Sleep.

14. Then Jesus therefore said to them publicly, Lazarus is dead.

15. And I am glad by reason of you (in or-

Ver. 26. for] not so strictly dependent on the other as because; however their being not his Sheep was because they did not believe before according to Ver. 25.

Ver. 38. knew, and believe] as Isa. xliii. 10. so 1 Sam. xxv. 17. Jer. ii. 19. for knew being first in Place may not in Time, but it may be understood know as well as believe.

Ib. and believe] By Mills's Account this was not at first in the Text, though wanting in but one strange Copy, and in no Transf. then he reckons that know, the same Gr. Verb as the foregoing in another Termination, was put in the Marg. as more suitable, which at length crept into the Body of the Book after that, as it is in another Copy; and afterwards was changed, to take away the Tautology, into this, which crept from the last believe, Psalm. 434, 753. Let us try whether there may not be as much Probability another Way: suppose it at first in the Text, where it agrees well with the other believe, and is sixty-fold more confirmed by MSS. and Versions; but Somebody might think it improper after know, and so alter it into another know, as some other Person did into perceive, which two Versions have.

Ver. 3. the Sisters] Some Copies have his; but our Translators might rather follow Beza, as he the Vulgate, contrary to his own Copy, by Oversight; since the Geneva Vers. has it Ital.

Ver. 9. The Genevists have here this valuable Note, 'He that walketh in his vocation, and hath the light of God for his guide, needeth to feare no dangers.'

Ver. 9, 10. notably indicate, that Time and Opportunity is to be made use of.

Ver. 10. it] the World, which if we attend to Reason, we may perceive with Wall.

der for you to believe) that I was not there ; but let us go along to him.

16. Therefore said Thomas, who is called Didymus, to his Fellow-disciples, Let us also go along, that we may die with him.

17. Jesus therefore came, and found he had been four Days already in the Grave.

18. (Now Bethany was near Jerusalem, about fifteen Furlongs off)

19. And many of the Jews were come about Martha and Mary, that they might comfort them concerning their Brother.

20. Martha therefore when she heard that Jesus was coming, met him ; but Mary sat in the House.

21. Therefore Martha said to Jesus ; Lord, if thou hadst been here, my Brother would not have been dead.

22. But yet now I know that whatever thou shalt ask God for, God will give thee.

23. Jesus says to her, Thy Brother will arise.

24. Martha says to him, I know that he will arise in the Resurrection on the last Day.

25. Jesus replied to her ; I am the Resurrection, and Life : he that believes in me will be alive, though he is dead.

26. And every one who is alive, and believes in me will not die at all for ever ; dost thou believe this ?

27. She says to him, Yes, Lord : I believe that thou art Christ the Son of God, who should come into the World.

28. And having said these Things, she went away, and called her Sister Mary privately, saying, The Master is come, and calls for thee.

29. When she heard, she rose up quickly, and came to him.

30. However Jesus was not yet come into the Town, but was in the Place where Martha met him.

31. The Jews therefore who were with her in the House, and were comforting her, when they saw that Mary arose quickly, and went out, followed her, saying, She is going to the Grave, that she may weep there.

32. Therefore when Mary was come where Jesus was, and saw him, she fell at his Feet, saying to him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my Brother would not have died.

33. When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews weeping who came with her ; he was grieved in Spirit, and affected with Trouble.

34. At length he asked, Where have you laid him ? They say to him, Lord, come, and see.

35. Jesus shed tears.

36. Therefore the Jews said, Lo how he loved him !

37. And some of them said, Could not he who opened the Eyes of one blind, have caused that he also should not have died ?

38. Jesus therefore again being grieved in himself, comes to the Grave ; now it was a Cave, and a Stone lay upon it.

39. Says Jesus, Take up the Stone. Martha, the Sister of him who was dead, represents to him, Lord, he has a scent already, for it is four Days.

40. Jesus answers her, Did not I tell thee, that if thou wouldest believe, thou shouldest see the Glory of God ?

41. Therefore they took up the Stone where the Dead was laid ; at which Jesus looked up above, and said ; Father, I give thee thanks, that thou hast hearkened to me.

42. Yet I knew that thou always hearkenest to me ; but by reason of the Company standing about I spoke, in order for them to believe that thou hast sent me.

43. And having said these Things, he cried out aloud, Lazarus, come forth.

44. Whereupon he who was dead came out, bound Feet and Hands with the Grave-cloaths, and his Face was bound about with a Napkin. Jesus says to them, Let him loose, and give him liberty to go.

45. Many of the Jews therefore who came to Mary, and had seen the Things which Jesus did, believed in him.

46. Some of them notwithstanding went away to the Pharisees, and told them what Things Jesus had done.

47. Therefore the chief Priests and Pharisees gathered together the Council, and said ; What do we ? since this Man does many Miracles.

48. If we let him alone thus, all will believe in him ; nay the Romans will come, and take away both our Place and Nation.

49. Besides Caiaphas a certain one of them, being high Priest that Year, said to them ; You know not any Thing.

50. Nor consider, that it is profitable to us, that one Man should die for the People, and not the whole Nation perish.

51. Nevertheless he did not say this of himself, but being high Priest that Year, he prophesied that Jesus should die for the Nation ;

Heb. 78 is omitted before under, after, between, &c. ; see Noldius, Heb. Particles.

Ver. 16. die] according to Ver. 8.

Ver. 29. about] The Gr. having both to and about, the former may be included in come, as the same of the 52. And not for the Nation only, but that he would also gather together into one, the Children of God who were dispersed.

53. From that Day therefore they consulted together, that they might put him to death.

54. Therefore Jesus no more walked publicly among the Jews, but went away thence into a Country near the Wilderness, to a City called Ephraim; and there he abode with his Disciples.

55. The Passover of the Jews too was near; and many went up to Jerusalem from the Country before the Passover, that they might purify themselves.

56. They therefore sought for Jesus, and talked with one another standing in the Temple, What do ye think, that he will not come at all to the Feast?

57. Now both the chief Priests and Pharisees had given Commandment, that if any one knew where he was, he should declare it, that they might apprehend him.

CHAP. XII.

JESUS therefore six Days before the Passover came to Bethany, where Lazarus was that died, whom he raised up from the Dead.

2. Therefore they made a Supper for him there, and Martha served; but Lazarus was one of those who sat down with him.

3. So Mary taking a Pound of Ointment, of exceeding precious liquid Spikenard, anointed the Feet of Jesus, and wiped his Feet with her Hair; inasmuch that the House was filled with the Savour of the Ointment.

4. Says one of his Disciples therefore, Judas Iscariot Simon's Son, who would deliver him up,

5. For what reason was not that Ointment sold for three hundred Pence, and this given to the Poor?

6. Whereas he said this, not because he cared for the Poor, but because he was a Thief, and had the Purse, and carried what was put in.

7. Jesus therefore said; Let her alone; she has kept this for the Day of my Burial.

8. Since the Poor ye have always with you, but have not me always.

9. A great Company therefore of the Jews knew that he was there; and came not for the sake of Jesus only, but that they might also see Lazarus, whom he had raised up from the Dead.

10. But the chief Priests consulted, that they might likewise put Lazarus to death;

11. Because many of the Jews went by reason of him, and believed in Jesus.

12. On the next Day a great Company who were come to the Feast, hearing that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem,

13. Took Branches of Palm-trees, and went out to meet him, and cried out, Pray save, the King of Israel who comes in the Name of the Lord is blessed.

14. Moreover Jesus finding a young Ass, sat upon it, as it is written,

15. Do not fear, O Daughter of Zion: behold thy King comes, sitting upon the Colt of an Ass.

16. However his Disciples knew not these Things at first; but when Jesus was glorified, then they remembered that these Things were written of him, and that they did these Things to him.

17. Therefore the Company testified for him, which was with him when he called Lazarus out of the Grave, and raised him up from the Dead.

18. For this reason also the Company met him, because they heard that he had done this Miracle.

Ver. 52. but that] What follows is to be comprehended in the last Part of the Words of Caiaphas, but in another Meaning than he intended, like the other Part. The high Priest supposed that if they let Jesus be counted their King, the Romans would take it for a Rebellion, and destroy them, which would be compleated by dispersing those that were not slain, which the Death of Jesus would prevent; but it prevented their perishing in their Sins, by gathering together a true Israel.

Ver. 3. Mary] Notwithstanding what Authority of Authors Whitby here brings, against this being the same Story or Woman with that in Mat. xxvi. 7. and Mark xiv. 3. I had formed a Judgment to the contrary; but as I was preparing Arguments for it, found my self prevented by those which Hammond produces on Luke vii. 37. though out of Place.

It appears by Mills, whom Wall consulted, Pref. p. 1. that only 3 Copies have ὅτι, the first very corrupt, as Lucas Brugensis shews, as likewise the second, Mills Prol. 1168. and the third the worst of all; so that Mills himself does not receive that Reading, tho' he says the Vulg. has it, which has quando when.

19. The Pharisees therefore said one to another, Do you see that we profit not any Thing? Lo the World is gone away after him.

20. And there were some Grecians of those who came up, that they might worship at the Feast;

21. These came therefore to Philip, who was from Bethsaida of Galilee, and thus intreated him, Lord, we would see Jesus.

22. Philip comes, and tells Andrew; and again Andrew and Philip tell Jesus.

23. Upon which Jesus made answer to them: The Hour is come for the Man to be glorified.

24. I say to you very certainly; Except a Grain of Wheat falls into the Ground, and dies, only that remains; but if it dies, it bears much Fruit.

25. He that loves his Life, will lose it; and he who slights his Life in this World, will keep it to everlasting Life.

26. If any one would wait on me, let him follow me; so where I am, there also will my Servant be: and if any one waits on me, the Father will honour him.

27. My Soul is now troubled, and what shall I say? O Father, save me from this Hour; but for the foregoing I am come to it.

28. O Father, glorify thy Name. Therefore a Voice came from Heaven, I have both glorified, and will glorify again.

29. The Company therefore that stood by, and heard, said it was Thunder: others said, An Angel spoke to him.

30. Jesus made answer; This Voice was not for my sake, but for yours.

31. Now is the Judgment of this World, now will the Prince of this World be cast out abroad.

32. And when I am lifted up from the Earth, I will draw all to my self.

33. (But this he spoke, signifying by what Death he should die)

34. The Company answered him; We have heard out of the Law, that Christ remains for ever; how then dost thou say, The Man must be lifted up? Who is this Man?

35. Therefore Jesus said to them; The Light is with you yet a little Time: walk while you have the Light; that Darkneſs may not seize you; and he who walks in Darkneſs, does not know whither he goes.

36. While you have the Light, believe in the Light, that you may be the Sons of it. These Things Jesus spoke, and when he went away, hid from them.

37. Nevertheless though he had done so many Miracles before them, they did not believe in him;

38. So that the Saying of the Prophet Esaias was fulfilled, which he spoke, Lord, who has believed our Report? And to whom has the Arm of the Lord been revealed?

39. For this reason they could not believe, because said Esaias again,

40. He has let their Eyes be blinded, and their Heart be hardened; lest they should see with the Eyes, understand with the Heart, and when they are converted, I might heal them.

41. These Things Esaias said, when he saw his Glory; and spoke concerning him.

42. Yet indeed many even of the Rulers believed in him; but did not confess, lest they should not belong to the Synagogue.

43. For they loved the Glory of Men, rather than the Glory of God.

44. Jesus further cried out in this manner: He that believes in me, does not properly in me, but in him who sent me.

45. Besides he that sees me, sees him who sent me.

46. I am come a Light into the World, that every one who believes in me may not remain in Darkneſs.

47. And if any one hears my Words, and does not believe, I do not judge him: for I

48. He that rejects you, and does not receive my Words, has what will judge him : the Word which I have spoken, that will judge him at the last Day.

49. Because I have not spoken of my self ; but the Father who sent me, he gave me a Commandment what I should say, and what I should speak.

50. And I know that his Commandment is everlasting Life : what Things therefore I speak, it is so as the Father told me.

C H A P XIII.

AT length before the Feast of the Passover, Jesus knowing that his Hour was come, for him to depart out of this World to the Father ; as he had loved his own who were in the World, he loved them till the End.

2. And when Supper was done (the Devil having now put into the Heart of Judas Iscariot the Son of Simon, that he should deliver him up)

3. Jesus knowing that the Father had given him all Things into Hand, and that he came out from God, and was going to God ;

4. He rises up from Supper, and puts away the Garments ; then taking a Towel, girded himself.

5. Afterwards he puts Water into a Bason, and began to wash the Feet of the Disciples, and to wipe with the Towel that he was girded with.

6. So he comes to Simon Peter, who says to him, Lord, dost thou wash my Feet ?

7. Jesus made answer to him, What I do, thou dost not know now, but thou wilt know when these Things are past.

8. Peter says to him, Thou shalt never wash my Feet at all. Jesus answered him, If I do not wash thee, thou hast no Part with me.

9. Simon Peter replies to him, Lord, not my Feet only, but also the Hands and Head.

10. Jesus rejoins to him, He that is washed has no more Need than to wash the Feet, but is wholly clean ; and you are clean, but not all.

11. For he knew who would deliver him up ; for this reason he said, You are not all clean.

12. When he had therefore washed their Feet, and taken his Garments, being sat down, he said to them : Do ye know what I have done to you ?

13. You call me Master and Lord ; and you say well, for I am.

14. If I therefore the Lord and Master have washed your Feet, you also ought to wash the Feet one of another.

15. For I have given you an Example, that ye should also do as I have done to you.

16. I say to you very certainly, A Servant is not greater than his Master, nor an Apostle greater than he who sent him.

17. If you know these Things, you are blessed if you do them.

18. I speak not concerning you all, I know whom I have chosen ; but it is that the Scripture may be fulfilled, He that eats Bread with me, has lifted his Heel against me.

19. I tell you even now before it comes to pass, that when it does, you may believe that it is I.

20. I say to you very certainly, He that receives whomsoever I send, receives me ; and he that receives me, does him who sent me.

21. Jesus having said these Things, was troubled in Spirit, and testified in this manner, I tell you very certainly, that one of you will deliver me up.

22. Therefore the Disciples looked one at another, doubting about whom he spoke.

23. Now there was leaning on the Bosom of Jesus one of his Disciples, whom he loved.

24. Simon Peter therefore nodded to him, to ask who it would be about whom he spoke.

25. So he lying down upon the Breast of Jesus, says to him, Lord, who is it ?

26. Jesus answered, It is he to whom, having dipt, I shall give a Bit ; and dipping in a Bit, he gave it to Judas Iscariot the Son of Simon.

27. And after the Bit then Satan entered into Kuster writes that Mills thinks it a marginal Scholium ; wherein he wrongs him, Mills only saying, he should entirely replace it among such, were it not for the Suffrage of the present Copies, as notable as it is, Pro. 1460. Being notable then, it is fitter to be thought authentick.

him; Jesus therefore says to him, What thou doest, do quickly.

28. But none who sat down knew why he spoke this to him.

29. For some thought, since Judas had the Purse, that Jesus said to him, Buy what Things we have Need of against the Feast; or that he should give Something to the Poor.

30. Therefore he having the Bit, presently went out; and it was Night when he thus went.

31. Jesus says; Now is the Man glorified, and God is glorified in him.

32. If God be so, he will also glorify him in himself, and will glorify him presently.

33. Little Children, I am with you yet a little while: ye will seek me, and as I said to the Jews, Whither I go, ye cannot come; so now I say to you.

34. I give you a new Commandment, that ye should love one another; as I have loved you, that ye should also love one another.

35. By this will all know that you are my Disciples, if you have Love one to another.

36. Simon Peter says to him, Lord, whither dost thou go? Jesus answered him, Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now, but wilt hereafter.

37. Peter replies to him, Lord, for what reason cannot I follow thee at present? I will lay down my Life for thee.

38. Jesus answered him; Wilt thou lay down thy Life for me? I say to thee very certainly, The Cock will not at all crow, until thou hast thrice denied me.

C H A P. XIV.

LET not your Heart be troubled: believe in God, as also in me believe.

2. In my Father's House there are many Habitations, and if not, I would have told you: I go before to prepare a Place for you.

3. And if I go, and prepare for you a Place, I will come again, and receive you to my self; that where I am, you may also be.

4. Moreover whither I go you know, and know the Way.

5. Thomas says to him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest, and how can we know the Way?

6. Jesus replies to him, I am the Way, and the Truth, and the Life: none comes to the Father but by me.

7. If you had known me, you would also have known my Father; and henceforth you know him, as well as have seen him.

8. Says Philip to him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it is sufficient for us.

9. Jesus says to him: Am I such a long Time with you, and hast not thou known me, Philip? He who has seen me, has seen the Father; and how dost thou say, Shew us the Father?

10. Dost not thou believe that I am in the Father, and the Father is in me? The Words which I speak to you, I speak not from my self; but the Father himself who remains in me does the Works.

11. Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father is in me; but if not, believe me by reason of the Works themselves.

12. I say to you very certainly, He that believes in me, the Works which I do, he shall also do, nay shall do greater than these; because I go to my Father.

13. And whatever you shall request in my Name, this will I do; that the Father may be glorified in the Son.

14. If you shall request any Thing in my Name, I will do it.

Ver. 30. when he thus went] The MS Copies that have therefore here are but few, viz. five or six, and those Grotius reckons were all made to the Lat. Copy of the Vulg.

Ver. 38. The Cock will not at all crow] viz. he that crowed the last, supposing him distinct from the other, Mark xiv. 72. which makes it strictly true to the Words; otherwise twice is to be understood from Mark xiv. 30. or to be in the principal crowing Time at Break of Day.

Ver. 1. believe in God] believe being the same both times, and so Guyse judged they should be rendered alike. Beza also mentions for both to be imperative Nonnus and Theophylact, as likewise Doddr. has it; and how much does the preceding leading Verb, which is thus, conduce to it! Not that alone, but the Sense likewise, as to continue and renew their Belief in God the Father and Christ, might be of great Help for them not to be troubled. And why should Christ preferably to the other tell them only they believed in God, when they did also in him? Besides the Gr. Pronoun you being not to this believe, any more than to the next, may of it self shew this to be imperative like that.

Ib. as also in me believe] Whitby having asserted in his Preface to the Galatians, that in all the Scriptures of the New Testament there is not to be found one Exhortation to any Christian to believe in Christ; which he affirms further in an Advertisement, is as certain and demonstrable as any Proposition in Euclid, because a Christian is one that does or must believe in Christ; and therefore cites the Synopsis (Poole's I suppose) that it may be rendered in the Ind. Mood, and you believe in me: which is easy to know without the Synopsis, if the Context would allow of it; but the Imperative before too strongly requires this to be so, for any to deny it, that by believing in Christ they might not be troubled. And for those to believe who did believe, see 1 John v. 13.

Ver. 10, 11. is] which the Gr. has, but not am.
Ver. 11. me] after the second believe, five, as Mills collected, have not, whence he weakly infers it was fetch'd from the first, Prolog. 434. the Numbers of which I frequently mention, because omitted by Kuster, though he made it his Business to mark them, and would be difficult to find without.

Ver. 12. greater] of Conversion particularly.

15. If you love me, keep my Commandments.

16. And I will ask of the Father, and he will give you another Comforter, that he may remain with you for ever ;

17. The Spirit of Truth, whom the World cannot receive, because it does not see him, nor know him ; but ye know him, because he remains with you, and shall be in you.

18. I will not leave you fatherless, I will come to you.

19. In a little while the World sees me no more, but you see me : because I live, you also will.

20. At that Time you will know, that I am in the Father, and you in me, and I in you.

21. He who has my Commandments, and keeps them, that is he who loves me ; now he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him, as also make my self manifest to him.

22. Judas, not Iscariot, says to him, Lord, how is it that thou art about to make thy self manifest to us, and not to the World ?

23. Jesus made answer to him : If any one loves me, he will keep my Word ; so my Father will love him, nay we will come to him, and make a Habitation with him.

24. He that does not love me, keeps not my Words ; and the Word which you hear is not mine, but the Father's who sent me.

25. These Things have I spoken to you, while I remain with you.

26. But the Comforter, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my Name, will himself teach you all Things, and bring all to your remembrance, which I have said to you.

27. I leave Peace to you, give you my Peace ; not as the World gives, do I give you : let not your Heart be troubled, nor be afraid.

28. You have heard that I said to you, I go away, and come to you : if you loved me, you would have been glad that I said, I go to the Father ; because my Father is greater than I.

29. Besides I have now told you before it comes to pass ; that when it does, you may believe.

30. I shall not speak many Things further with you : for the Prince of this World is coming, though he has not any Thing in me.

31. But it is in order for the World to know, that I love the Father ; and as he has commanded me, so I do. Rise up, let us go along hence.

CHAP. XV.

I AM the true Vine, and my Father is the Husbandman.

2. Every Branch in me which does not bear Fruit, that he takes away ; and every one which bears Fruit, that he cleanses, that it may bear more Fruit.

3. You are already clean by the Word which I have spoken to you.

4. Remain in me, and let me in you. As a Branch cannot bear Fruit of it self, except it remains in the Vine, so neither you, except you remain in me.

5. I am the Vine, you the Branches : he that remains in me, and I in him, bears much Fruit ; since without me you cannot do any Thing.

6. Except any one remains in me, he is cast out abroad as a Branch, even a withered one ; so that People gather them together, and cast into the Fire, and they are burned.

7. If you remain in me, and my Sayings remain in you, ye may request whatsoever ye will, and it shall be done for you.

8. In this my Father is glorified, that you bear much Fruit ; so shall you become Disciples to me.

9. As the Father has loved me, I have also loved you : remain in my Love.

10. If you keep my Commandments, you will remain in my Love ; as I have kept the Commandments of my Father, and remain in his Love.

11. These Things have I spoken to you, that my Joy might remain in you, and yours might be fulfilled.

12. This is my Commandment, that ye should love one another, as I have loved you.

13. Greater Love than this none has, that any one should lay down his Life for his Friend.

14. Ye are my Friends, if ye do whatever I command you.

15. I no more call you Servants, since a Servant knows not what his Master does; but I call you Friends, since all Things which I have heard from my Father have I made known to you.

16. Ye did not choose me, but I chose you, and appointed you, that ye might go, and bear Fruit, and your Fruit might remain; that whatsoever ye shall request the Father in my Name, he may give it you.

17. These Things I command you, that ye love one another.

18. If the World hates you, ye know that it hated me before you.

19. If ye were of the World, that would love its own; whereas since ye are not of the World, but I have chosen you out of it, for this reason the World hates you.

20. Remember the Words which I said to you, a Servant is not greater than his Master. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you: if they have kept my Words; they will also keep yours.

21. But all these Things will they do to you by reason of my Name, since they know not him who sent me.

22. If I had not come, and spoken to them, they would not have had Sin; but now they have no Excuse for their Sin.

23. He that hates me, hates also my Father.

24. If I had not done Works among them which no other did, they would not have had Sin; but now they have both seen, and hated even me and my Father.

25. But it is that the Saying might be fulfilled, which is written in their Law, that they hated me undeservedly.

26. However when the Comforter is come; whom I will send to you from the Father, the Spirit of Truth who comes out from him, he will testify concerning me.

27. And you also will testify, because you have been with me from the Beginning.

CHAP. XVI.

THESE Things have I spoken to you; that ye might not be offended.

2. They will make you not belong to the Synagogue; nay the Time is coming, that any one who kills you, will think he brings Service to God.

3. And these Things will they do to you, because they have not known the Father, nor me.

4. But these Things have I spoken to you, that when the Time comes, ye may remember of them that I told you; however I did not tell you these Things at the Beginning, because I was with you.

5. Whereas now I go to him who sent me; and none of you asks me, Whither dost thou go?

6. Nevertheless because I have spoken these Things to you, Grief has filled your Heart.

7. Yet I tell you the Truth, it is profitable for you that I should go away: for if I do not, the Comforter will not come to you; but if I go, I will send him to you.

8. And when he comes, he will convince the World concerning Sin, concerning Righteousness, and also Judgment:

Ver. 21: all] This Mills would have to be crept in, five having it not, Pr. 1476. so John, he says, simply without all, Ch. xvi. 3. but what so likely as that being the Occasion of leaving it out here?

1b. by reason of my Name] viz. because of their being Christians; but for the sake denotes Regard, being used in a good or respectful Sense.

Ver. 22. they would not have had Sin] Beza, they would not have ceased to say that they were religious, and quite Strangers to Sin. But to me, says Castal. in Defens. p. 186. it seems to be far otherwise, If I had not come, they would not have rejected me, and so not sinned in that Respect. Whereas I think both had need be taken into the Meaning: the former as the next Words here; and the last in Ch. ix. 39. intimate; and the latter apparently from Ver. 24.

Ver. 2. nay] Whitby says ἀλλὰ here signifies yea; but that in the modern English is nay.

Ver. 8. convince] So the Word properly signifies, Doddr.

9. Concerning Sin indeed, because they do not believe in me;

10. Concerning Righteousness, because I go to my Father, and you see me no more;

11. And concerning Judgment, because the Prince of this World is judged.

12. I have yet many Things to speak to you, but ye cannot bear them now.

13. However when the Spirit of Truth himself comes, he will guide you into all Truth: for he will not speak of himself, but whatever he shall hear will speak, and he will tell you Things that are to come.

14. He will glorify me; because he will receive of mine, and tell you.

15. All Things whatever the Father has are mine: for this reason I said, that he will receive of mine, and tell you.

16. In a little while you will not see me, and again in a little while you will behold me, because I go to my Father.

17. Some of his Disciples therefore said one to another; What is this that he says to us, In a little while you will not see me, and again in a little while you will behold me; and, Because I go to the Father?

18. Therefore they said, What is this that he says, the little while? We know not what he says.

19. Jesus therefore knew that they were minded to ask him, so he said to them: Are you seeking one with another concerning this, because I said, In a little while you will not see me, and again in a little while you will behold me?

20. I say to you very certainly, that ye will weep, and mourn, but the World will rejoice; and ye will grieve, yet your Grief will become Joy.

21. A Woman when she is in labour, has Grief, because her Hour is come; but when she has brought forth the Child, she remembers the Affliction no more, for Joy that a Man is born into the World.

22. So ye also indeed have now Grief; but I will see you again, and your Heart shall rejoice, and your Joy none takes away from you.

23. Nay at that Time ye shall not ask me any Thing: for I tell you very certainly, that whatsoever ye shall request of the Father in my Name, he will give you.

24. Hitherto ye have not requested any Thing in my Name: do ye request, and receive, that your Joy may be full.

25. These Things have I spoken to you in Proverbs; but the Time is coming when I shall speak to you no more in Proverbs, but shall tell you freely concerning the Father.

26. At that Time ye shall request in my Name; and I do not say to you, that I will ask of the Father for you.

27. For the Father himself loves you; because ye have loved me, and believed that I came out from God.

28. I came out from the Father, and am come into the World; again I leave the World, and go to the Father.

29. His Disciples said to him; Lo now thou speakest freely, and speakest no Proverb.

30. Now we know that thou knowest all Things, and hast no Need that any one should ask thee: by this we believe that thou camest out from God.

31. Jesus answered them; Do ye now believe?

32. Behold the Time is coming, nay is already come, that you will be dispersed each to his own, and leave me alone; yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me.

33. These Things have I spoken to you, that in me you might have Peace: in the World you will have Affliction; but take courage, I having overcome the World.

Ver. 16. In a little while] for There will be a little while and, to be understood by Ver. 10. till his Ascension.

Ib. in a little] as before, being the same, and not during or for a little, and so to be till his spiritual Coming, Acts ii. 2, 33.

Ib. because I go] belonging to both the Parts before.

Ver. 19. because] not the Relative, as in the com. Eng.

Ver. 22. So] not allowing therefore.

Ver. 23. at that Time] when that Spirit shall come, Ham. so in Ver. 26. he says it belongs not peculiarly to that Time between his Resurrection and Ascension; for which see also Guyse more particularly in his Practical Exposition of the four Evangelists.

Ib. request] There is, writes Wall, in the English a great Amphibology in the Word ask, used in two different Senses, for which the Greek has two different Words; one to ask a Question, the other to request a Benefit.

Ver. 24. in my Name] That I suppose is the Reason, says Wall, that the Lord's Prayer had no Mention of his Name; but now he bids them ask all Things in his Name.

Ver. 25. The former but here a few leave out, and Mills says it has been inserted by reason of Connection, Pr. 434. Why not more likely left out by reason of the other but?

Ver. 26. ask of] being the first of those Words in Ver. 23. and having this double Meaning.

Ver. 30. ask] according to Ver. 19.

CHAP. XVII.

THESE Things Jesus spoke, and looked up to Heaven, and said : Father, the Time is come ; glorify thy Son, that he may also glorify thee :

2. According as thou hast given him Authority over all Flesh, that he may give everlasting Life to all whom thou hast given to him.

3. And this is everlasting Life, for them to know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom thou hast sent.

4. I have glorified thee upon the Earth ; have finished the Work which thou gavest me to do.

5. So now do thou glorify me, Father, with thy self, in the Glory which I had with thee before the World was.

6. I have made thy Name manifest to the Men whom thou gavest me out of the World : they were thine, and thou gavest them to me, and they have kept thy Word.

7. They have now known, that all Things whatever thou hast given me, are from thee :

8. Because I have given them the Words which thou gavest me ; which they have received, and known truly that I came out from thee, and they have believed that thou didst send me.

9. I intreat for them : I do not intreat for the World, but for them whom thou hast given me, because they are thine.

10. Moreover all my Things are thine, and thy Things mine, and I am glorified in them.

11. And now I am no more in the World, but these are, and I come to thee. Keep those, Holy Father, in thy Name whom thou hast given me ; that they may be one, according as we are.

12. When I was with them in the World, I kept them in thy Name : those whom thou gavest me I have preserved, and none of them is lost, excepting the Son of Destruction, that the Scripture might be fulfilled.

13. But now I come to thee, and these Things I speak in the World, that they may have my Joy fulfilled in themselves.

14. I have given to them thy Word, and the World has hated them, because they are not of the World, according as I am not:

15. I do not intreat that thou wouldest take them out of the World, but that thou wouldest keep them from Wickedness.

16. They are not of the World, according as I am not.

17. Sanctify them in thy Truth, thy Word being the Truth.

18. According as thou hast sent me into the World, I have also sent them thither.

19. And for them I sanctify my self, that they likewise may be sanctified in the Truth.

20. However I do not intreat for these only, but for them also who shall believe in me by their Word :

21. That they may all be one ; according as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they likewise may be one in us ; in order for the World to believe that thou hast sent me.

22. And I have given them the Glory which thou gavest me ; that they may be one, as we are one :

23. I in them, and thou in me ; that they may be made perfect in one, and in order for the World to know that thou sentest me, and didst love them, as thou didst me.

24. Father, I am willing that those also whom thou hast given to me, should be with me where I am ; that they may see my Glory which thou gavest me, because thou didst love me before the founding of the World.

25. Righteous Father, though the World has not known thee, yet I have, and these have known that thou hast sent me:

26. To whom I have made known thy

Ver. 11. in thy Name] as in the following Verse:

Ib. whom] A great many have, but some in a different Manner, which, viz. Name ; and that Mills approves of, expounding it to mean Power, or the like ; and Nobody, he says, would change whom into which ; yet it might be put as Name is the nearest Antecedent, or by Oversight, the Difference being small, especially since that in the next Verse seems to confirm our Reading ; where only a few have the other, and which is various, by dat. that tho' most have seems the worst, or acc. nor is Nams thus given, I believe, to be found elsewhere, and indeed the Expression seems too hard.

Ver. 12. in the World] not in the strange Camb. Copy, and the Copt. Vers. so Mills concludes was added from Ver. 11. Wild Inference ! Whitby has it not to be in the Vulg. and yet in all the Versions, Exam. Lib. 2. 2.

Name, and will do it; that the Love which thou hast loved me with may be in them, and I in them.

C H A P. XVIII.

JESUS having said these Things, went out with his Disciples beyond the Brook Kedron, where there was a Garden, into which he entered, and his Disciples.

2. Now Judas too that delivered him up knew the Place; because Jesus often gathered together there with his Disciples.

3. Judas therefore having received a Regiment, and from the chief Priests and Pharisees Officers, comes thither with Lanterns, Lamps and Arms.

4. Therefore Jesus knowing all Things which would come upon him, went out, and said to them, Whom do ye seek after?

5. They answered him, Jesus the Nazorite. Jesus says to them, It is I. And Judas also that delivered him up stood with them.

6. When he therefore said to them, It is I; they went away backward, and fell on the Ground.

7. He therefore again asked them, Whom do ye seek after? And they said, Jesus the Nazorite.

8. Jesus answered, I have told you, that it is I; if therefore ye seek after me, let these go:

9. That the Word might be fulfilled which he said, I have not lost any of them whom thou gavest me.

10. Therefore Simon Peter having a Sword, drew it, and smote a Servant of the high Priest, and cut off his right Ear; and the Servant's Name was Malchus.

11. Jesus therefore said to Peter, Put thy Sword into the Sheath; shall I not at all drink that Cup which my Father has given me?

12. So the Regiment, the Colonel, and Officers of the Jews took Jesus, and bound him.

13. Next they brought him away to Annas first: for he was the Father-in-law of Caiaphas, who was the high Priest for that Year.

14. And it was Caiaphas who advised the Jews, that it would be profitable, that one Man should perish for the People.

15. There followed Jesus notwithstanding Simon Peter, and another Disciple; which Disciple was known by the high Priest, and went in with Jesus into the high Priest's Hall.

16. But Peter stood at the Door without; therefore the other Disciple went out, who was known by the high Priest, and spoke to the Porter, and brought in Peter.

17. The young Woman that was Porter therefore says to Peter, Art not thou also one of this Man's Disciples? He says, I am not.

18. The Servants and Officers also stood by, making a Coal-fire, because it was cold, and warmed themselves; so Peter was standing with them, and warming himself.

19. The high Priest therefore asked Jesus, both concerning his Disciples and Doctrine.

20. Jesus answered him; I have spoken publickly to the World: I always taught in the Synagogue and the Temple, whither the Jews always come together, and have spoken Nothing in Secret.

21. Why dost thou ask me? Ask the Hearers, what I have spoken to them; lo they know the Things which I said.

22. But upon his saying these Things, one of the Officers who stood by gave Jesus a Stroke, saying, Dost thou answer the high Priest thus?

23. Jesus replied to him, If I have spoken ill, testify concerning the Ill; but if well, why dost thou beat me?

24. Annas having sent him bound to Caiaphas the high Priest.

25. Now Simon Peter was standing, and warming himself; therefore they said to him, Art not thou also one of his Disciples? He denied by saying, I am not.

26. Says one of the high Priest's Servants, that was a Kinsman of him whose Ear Peter cut off, Did not I see thee in the Garden with him?

27. Therefore Peter denied again; and presently the Cock crowed.

28. They therefore carried Jesus from Caiaphas into the Judgment-hall, as it was Morning; however they themselves did not enter in thither, that they might not be defiled, but that they might eat the Passover.

29. Pilate

29. Pilate therefore went out to them, and said, What Accusation do ye bring against this Man?

30. They made answer to him, If he was not a Criminal, we should not have delivered him up to thee.

31. Therefore Pilate replied to them, Do ye take him, and judge him according to your Law. The Jews therefore said to him, It is not lawful for us to put any one to death:

32. That the Word of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he said, signifying by what Kind of Death he should die.

33. Pilate therefore entered into the Judgment-hall again, and called Jesus, and said to him, Art thou the King of the Jews?

34. Jesus answered him, Dost thou speak this of thy self, or did others tell thee concerning me?

35. Pilate replied, Am I a Jew? Thy Nation and the chief Priests delivered thee up to me: what hast thou done?

36. My Kingdom, answered Jesus, is not of this World: if it was of that, my Attendants would strive, that I might not be delivered up to the Jews; but now my Kingdom is not from hence.

37. Therefore Pilate asked him, Art not thou then a King? Jesus answered, Thou sayest it, I am a King. I was born for this, and for this came into the World, that I might testify to the Truth: every one who is of the Truth hears my Voice.

38. Says Pilate to him, What is Truth? And having spoken this, he went out again to the Jews, and declares to them; I find no Crime in him.

39. But there is a Custom to you, that I should release one at the Passover; are ye willing therefore I should release to you the King of the Jews?

40. They therefore all cried out again thus, Not him, but Barabbas. Now Barabbas was a Robber.

THEN Pilate therefore took, and scourged Jesus.

2. As also, the Soldiers plaiting a Crown of Briers, put it on his Head, and cloathed him with a purple Garment;

3. Moreover they said, Hail, King of the Jews; and gave him Strokes.

4. Therefore Pilate went forth again, and says to them, Lo I bring him out to you, in order for you to know that I find no Crime in him.

5. Jesus therefore came forth, wearing the thorny Crown, and the purple Garment; upon which he says to them, Behold the Man.

6. So when the chief Priests and Officers saw him, they cried out thus, Crucify, crucify. Pilate says to them, Do ye take, and crucify him: for I find not a Crime in him.

7. The Jews answered him, We have a Law, and according to our Law he ought to die, because he made himself the Son of God.

8. When Pilate therefore heard this Saying, he was more afraid.

9. Whereupon he entered into the Judgment-hall again, and says to Jesus, Whence art thou? But Jesus gave him no Answer.

10. Therefore Pilate says to him, Dost not thou speak to me? Knowest not thou that I have both Power to crucify thee, and Power to release thee?

11. Jesus answered, Thou wouldest have no Power against me, if it was not given thee from above: for this reason he that delivered me up to thee has the greater Sin.

12. Thenceforth Pilate endeavoured to release him; but the Jews cried out as follows, If thou releasest him, thou art not Cesar's Friend: every one who makes himself a King, contradicts Cesar.

Year, as in the Chronology; and so that Jesus eat it with his Disciples the Night before, being Part of the same and the Passover Day, tho' one Night sooner than usual, Exod. xii. 8. because he was to suffer death before that came, as Gratius shews from Mat. xxvi. 18. Luke xxii. 15. Hammond on Mark xiv. 12. and Wall on Mat. xxvi. 17. though Whitby vainly argues to the contrary, Append. to Mark xiv. with Beza at Mat. xxvi. 17. as if there were no such Passages in John, and when he comes hither, slips over them.

Ver. 32. [Word] as we use it in like Cases singularly.

Ib. sayest it, I am] as in Luke xxii. 70.

Ver. 38. no] only as in the next Chap. Ver. 4.

Ver. 6. Crucify, crucify] followed by him in many Copies, but it may be suspected was taken from Luke xxiii. 21.

Ver. 7. our] not in the Vulg. and one Copy, sufficient for Mills to say it was added from the before, Pr. 434. though so unlikely, and more Books so often dissenting from our present, without such Judgment from him; which is to be considered in other Cases, being largely to be seen in his Various Readings.

Ver. 8. more afraid] lest he should be the Son of God, as he might think in the heathen Notion.

Ver. 9. Whence art thou] to know if he came from Heaven.

Ver. 11. the greater Sin] How? Because if Pilate had only earthly Power, he could not have put Jesus to death, Mat. xxvi. 53, 54. besides his Innocency would have preserved him; and so the Sin of delivering him up would have been less.

13. Pilate therefore hearing this Saying, brought Jesus out, and sat down on the Judgment-seat, in a Place called the Pavement, but in Hebrew Gabbatha.

14. Now it was the Preparation of the Passover, and about the sixth Hour; and he says to the Jews, Behold your King.

15. But they cried out, Take away, take away, crucify him. Pilate says to them, Shall I crucify your King? The chief Priests answered, We have no King but Cesar.

16. Then he delivered him up therefore to them, that he might be crucified. Thus they took, and brought away Jesus.

17. And he bearing his Cross, went out to a Place called the Scull one, which is called in Hebrew Golgotha.

18. Where they crucified him, and two others with him, at each Side, and Jesus in the Middle.

19. And Pilate too wrote a Title, and put on the Cross; which was written, JESUS THE NAZORITE THE KING OF THE JEWS.

20. This Title therefore many of the Jews read, because the Place where Jesus was crucified was near the City; and it was written in Hebrew, Greek, Latin.

21. Therefore the chief Priests of the Jews said to Pilate; Do not write, The King of the Jews, but that he said, I am the King of the Jews.

22. Pilate answered, What I have written, I have written.

23. The Soldiers therefore, when they had crucified Jesus, took his Garments (and made four Parts, to each Soldier a Part) with the Coat; now the Coat was without Seam, woven from above all through.

24. They therefore said one to another, Let us not part it, but make lots concerning it, whose it shall be; that the Scripture might be fulfilled which says, They divided my Garments to themselves, and cast Lots for my Cloaths: therefore indeed the Soldiers did these Things.

25. There stood also by the Cross of Jesus, his Mother, and his Mother's Sister Mary the Wife of Clopas, and Mary Magdalene.

26. Therefore Jesus seeing the Mother, and the Disciple whom he loved standing by, says to his Mother, Woman, behold thy Son.

27. Afterwards he says to the Disciple, Behold thy Mother. So from that Hour the Disciple took her to those of his own.

28. After this Jesus knowing that all Things were now accomplished, that the Scripture might be compleat, says, I am thirsty.

29. A Vessel therefore was set full of Vinegar; whereupon they filled a Sponge with it, which putting upon Hyssop, they conveyed to his Mouth.

30. When Jesus therefore had received the Vinegar, he said, It is accomplished; next bowing the Head, he delivered up the Spirit.

31. Therefore the Jews, that the Bodies might not remain upon the Cross on the Sabbath, since it was the Preparation (for that Sabbath was a great Day) intreated Pilate that

If the Darkness also came on gradually, as may seem likeliest, what was done soon after he was on the Cross makes no Difficulty. And this [about] may admit of being as much as a Quarter of an Hour before, which Time would be requisite to take him from Condemnation, out of the City to Execution; and on the other side might be sufficient, as it was near, Ver. 20. and as the Priests may be supposed to hurry him along; lest there should be some Rescuer or Reprieve. What a Wonder it is that the Time of our Saviour's Crucifixion should be so superficially considered, as to remain a Doubt whether it held three Hours or six, and whether it began at our nine in the Morning, or at Noon! of which see on Mark xv. 25. Even Beza, tho' he has there no small Note on it, was inclined to doubt, if not think, the Scripture was corrupted by an Alteration of a Numeral, which he supposed too was the sixth here for third, and so Whitby, &c. but see Mills here and at Mark xv. 25.

their Legs might be broke, and they taken away.

32. The Soldiers therefore indeed came, and broke the Legs of the first, and of the other who was crucified with him.

33. But coming to Jesus, when they saw that he was dead already, they did not break his Legs.

34. Yet one of the Soldiers with a Spear pierced his Side, and presently there came out Blood and Water.

35. And he who saw has testified, and his Testimony is true; nay he knows that he speaks true Things, to the end that you may believe.

36. For these Things were done, that the Scripture might be fulfilled, There shall not a Bone of him be broke.

37. And again another Scripture says, They shall look on him whom they have pierced.

38. Now after these Things Joseph one from Arimathea (who was a Disciple of Jesus, but concealed for Fear of the Jews) intreated Pilate that he might take away the Body of Jesus; and Pilate permitted him: he therefore came, and took it away.

39. Nay Nicodemus also came (who first came to Jesus by Night) bringing a Mixture of Myrrh and Aloes, about a hundred Pounds.

40. Therefore they took the Body of Jesus, and tied it up in linen Cloaths, with the Spices, as the Manner of the Jews is to bury.

41. Besides there was in the Place, where he was crucified, a Garden; and in that a new Grave, into which was not any one yet put.

42. There they therefore laid Jesus, by reason of the Jews Preparation, because the Grave was near.

CHAP. XX.

AFTERWARDS on the first Day after the Sabbath, Mary Magdalene comes in the Morning, while it was dark, to the Grave, and sees the Stone taken away from it.

2. Therefore she runs, and comes to Simon Peter, and to the other Disciple whom Jesus loved, and says to them, They have taken away the Lord from the Grave, and we know not where they have put him.

3. Peter therefore went out, and the other Disciple, and they came to the Grave.

4. However though they ran both together, the other Disciple quickly ran before Peter, and came first to the Grave.

5. Who stooping down, beheld the linen Cloaths lying; nevertheless he did not go in.

6. Simon Peter therefore that followed him comes, and entered into the Grave, and saw the linen Cloaths lying;

7. As also the Napkin that was upon his Head, not lying with the linen Cloaths, but wrapt up in another Place apart.

8. Then went in therefore the other Disciple also, who came first to the Grave; and he saw, and believed.

9. For they did not yet know the Scripture, that he must rise from the Dead.

10. Therefore the Disciples went away to those who belonged to them.

11. But Mary stood at the Grave weeping without; as she wept therefore, she stooped down.

12. With that she sees two Angels in White sitting, one at the Head, and one at the Feet, where the Body of Jesus had lain.

13. And they ask her, Woman, why dost thou weep? She says to them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have put him.

14. Moreover having said thus, she turned about backward, and sees Jesus standing; and did not know that it was he.

15. Jesus asks her, Woman, why dost thou weep? Whom dost seek for? She, thinking that he was the Gardener, says to him, Master, if thou hast carried him away, tell me where thou hast put him, and I will take him.

16. Jesus says to her, Mary. She turning about, says to him, Rabbouni, which is to say Master.

17. Replies Jesus to her; Meddle not with me: for I do not yet go up to my Father; but go thou to my Brethren, and tell them, I am

Ver. 38. concealed] not an Adverb, but Participle.

Ver. 2. That this was not the same with that at Ver. 18. Mat. xxviii. 8. Mark xvi. 10. Luke xxiv. 10. Whitby in Annot. shews; as also that this Passage is only mentioned here, Ham. says.

Ver. 3. beheld] What Need was there to add, and looking in, or Ver. 11. and looked?

Ver. 10. those who belonged to them] Gr. as if themselves.

Ver. 14. Moreover having said thus] Here is to follow next that in Mat. xxviii. 5, 6, 7. Mark xvi. 6, 7. Luke xxiv. 5, 6, 7, 8. see Ham. on this Chap. n. 2.

Ib. sees] being the pres. Tense in the Orig. which has a manifest Advantage, by setting this affecting surprising Particular in a stronger and more striking View, even to one's own Sight. It is the same as Ver. 6, 12. And it may look as if the verbal interlineary Version of Monsieur (if they were so little versed in the Gr.) missed the King's Translators, because he here leaves the vidit, saw of Pagn. unaltered.

Ver. 16. Rabbouni] with a Letter more than in Mark x. 51.

Ver. 17. Meddle not] as the other Women did soon after, Mat. xxviii. 9.

Ib. for I do not yet go up] and so there would be Time sufficient for it afterwards. But what right Sense can be made of our present Reading? see an Essay on this in the Gent. Magazine for Sept. 1757, and Doddr. whom I have consulted since.

Ib. go thou] for go alone might be I go.

going going to my Father and yours, with my God and yours.

18. Mary Magdalene comes, and declares to the Disciples, that she had seen the Lord, and he told her these Things.

19. When it was therefore the Evening of that Day, on the first after the Sabbath; the Doors being shut, where the Disciples were assembled together for Fear of the Jews, Jesus came, and stood in the midst, and says to them, Peace be to you.

20. And having pronounced this, he shewed them his Hands and Side. Therefore the Disciples rejoiced at seeing the Lord.

21. Jesus therefore said to them again, Peace be to you: as the Father sent me, I also send you.

22. This having likewise expressed, he breathed on, and says to them; Receive the Holy Spirit.

23. The Sins of whomsoever you forgive, they are forgiven to them; of whomsoever you hold fast, those are held fast.

24. But Thomas one of the twelve, called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came.

25. Therefore the other Disciples told him, We have seen the Lord. But he said to them, Except I should behold in his Hands the Mark of the Nails, nay should put my Finger on the Mark of them, as also put my Hand on his Side, I would not at all believe.

26. So eight Days after his Disciples were again within, and Thomas with them; when Jesus comes, the Doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, Peace be to you.

27. Afterwards he says to Thomas, Put forth thy Finger hither, and behold my Hands; as likewise reach out thy Hand, and put on my Side: thus be not unbelieving, but believing.

28. At this Thomas made answer to him, Thou art my Lord, and my God.

29. Jesus replies to him, Because thou hast seen me, Thomas, thou hast believed: they are blessed who have not beheld, and yet have believed.

30. Many other Miracles therefore indeed Jesus also did before his Disciples, which are not written in this Book.

31. But these are written, that you may believe that Jesus is Christ the Son of God; and that believing, you may have Life in his Name.

C H A P. XXI.

AFTER these Things Jesus made himself manifest again to the Disciples, at the Sea of Tiberias; which he did thus.

2. There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called Didymus, as also Nathanael from Cana of Galilee, and the Sons of Zebedee, with two others of his Disciples.

3. Simon Peter tells them, I am going a fishing; they say to him, We are also coming with thee: they went out, and got into a Ship presently, and in that Night caught Nothing.

4. But when it was now Morning Jesus stood on the Shoar; nevertheless the Disciples did not know that it was he.

5. Jesus therefore says to them, Children, have you any Meat? They answered him, No.

6. Upon which he replied to them, Cast the Net on the right Part of the Ship, and you will find. They therefore cast, and were no longer able to draw it for the Multitude of the Fishes.

7. Therefore that Disciple whom Jesus loved says to Peter, It is the Lord. Simon Peter therefore hearing that it was the Lord, girded on a Coat (for he was naked) and threw himself into the Sea.

8. And the other Disciples came in a little Ship (for they were not far from Land, but about two hundred Cubits off) haling the Net of Fishes.

9. When they therefore arrived at Land, they saw a Coal-fire laid, with little Fish laid upon it, and Bread.

10. Jesus says to them, Bring some of the little Fishes which you have now caught.

Ver. 19. it was] belonging to Evening, not to first.

Ver. 20. this] the same Ver. 22.

Ib. his] belonging to Hands as well as Side.

Ver. 23. hold fast] which is not only the strictest Signification of the Gr. Word, but the most proper of about 60 to the Latin of it teneo, in Ainsworth's Dictionary.

Ver. 25. the Mark] σῆμα being Mark, and τόπος Place, some Books have the latter.

Ib. put on] both times alike, and not thrust into; put on being to feel, and ἐν signifying on Ch. viii. 6. Luke xx. 25.

Ver. 29. Thomas] left out of many Copies, yet I don't find Mills adopt the Omission.

Ver. 1. The Supposition of Grætius, that this Chapter was supplied by the Church of Ephesus, where John wrote the Book, is sufficiently answered by Mills in Prel. N°.

249. Edit. Kust. However because of the two last Verses of the foregoing Chapter it may be allowed as a Postscript by John.

Ver. 3. presently] Mills exhibits as explanatory, Prel. 432. but I having already answered him in so many Things, wherein is so much Agreement, enough may be found there for this and divers others.

Ver. 9. laid] This first was left out both of the Geneva and Bishops Bibles, and what made our latter Translators turn it so widely as there, which the Gr. κειμενα does not mean in the least, concerns me to mention no further.

Ib. little Fish] as the Gr. Word signifies, and is accordingly translated Ch. vi. 9.

Ver. 10. little Fishes] a few among the rest, that might soon be dressed for Dinner.

11. Simon Peter went up, and drew the Net to Land, full of great Fish a hundred fifty three; yet there being so many, the Net was not torn.

12. Jesus says to them, Come, dine. However none of the Disciples durst enquire of him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord.

13. So Jesus comes, and takes the Bread, and gives to them, with the little Fish in like Manner.

14. This third time now Jesus was made manifest to his Disciples, when he had been raised up from the Dead.

15. When they had therefore dined, Jesus asks Simon Peter, Simon of Jonas, dost thou love me more than these do? He says to him, Yes, Lord, thou knowest that I love thee affectionately. He replies to him, Feed my Lambs.

16. He asks him again the second time, Simon of Jonas, dost thou love me? He says to him, Yes, Lord, thou knowest that I love thee affectionately. He replies to him, Keep my Sheep.

17. He asks him the third time, Simon of Jonas, dost thou love me affectionately? Peter was grieved that he asked him this Question thrice; whereupon he said to him, Lord, thou knowest all Things, thou art sensible that I love thee affectionately. Jesus replies to him; Feed my Sheep.

18. I tell thee very certainly, When thou wast young, thou didst gird thy self, and walk whither thou wouldest; but when thou art old, thou wilt stretch forth thy Hands, and another will gird, and carry thee whither thou wouldest not.

19. Now this he said, signifying by what Death he should glorify God. And having spoken this, he says to him, Follow me.

20. At which Peter turning about, sees the Disciple whom Jesus loved following; who also lay down upon his Breast at Supper, and asked, Lord, who is it that will deliver thee up?

21. Peter upon seeing him, enquires of Jesus, Lord, and what of him?

22. Jesus says to him, If I would have him remain till I come, what is it to thee? Do thou follow me.

23. This Saying therefore went out to the Brethren; that this Disciple should not die; whereas Jesus did not say to him, that he should not die; but, If I would have him remain till I come, what is it to thee?

24. This is the Disciple who testifies concerning these Things, and wrote them; and we know that his Testimony is true.

25. And there are also many other Things all which Jesus did, which if they should be writ particularly, I think the World it self would not receive the Books that would be written: so let it be.

Ver. 12. of the Disciples] Mills without any Authority conjectures this has been put in, with summe probabile est, it is very likely.

Ver. 15. do] for otherwisemight be understood, more than thou dost these. Whitby indeed interprets these to be the Nets and Fisher-boats; which makes the Comparison much lower and wider, than if it was spoken of Peter's loving the other Disciples, nay so wide one may think as not to admit of a Question. But he says, Peter could not answer to this Question (as I understand it) unless he knew their Hearts; yet he might and does answer to it, though he could not answer it, and accordingly does not the latter; which however he might think, as what was intended by the asking, since he must speak that which he thought in any Respect.

Ib. love—affectionately] denoting more ardent loving than the other Gr. Word.

Ver. 16. Keep] not the same Gr. Word as in the Verse before and after.

Ver. 17. art sensible] as we say, and the original Verb properly signifies; see Leigh's Crit. Sacr.

Ver. 22. remain till I come] And as John lived to be very old, it is to be supposed he did, viz. when the Temple was destroyed, and the Mosaical Dispensation actually as before virtually abolished, according so that on Mat. xvi. 28. and Jesus might speak in this Manner to leave it doubtful, and prevent some ill Consequence or other of making it certain.

Ver. 25. other] It is manifest that John's Intent was to relate things omitted by the rest, he therefore concludes thus very aptly.

Ib. receive] as rendered Mat. xix. 11, 12. Mark ii. 2. 2 Cor. vii. 2. contain is hyperbolic, and more so with could; see Whit. Annot.

NOTES upon the ACTS of the APOSTLES.

CHAP. I.

THE first Book indeed I made concerning all Things, Theophilus, which Jesus began both to do and teach;

2. Till the Day that he was taken up, having given command by the Holy Spirit, to the Apostles whom he had chosen.

3. To whom also he shewed himself alive after he had suffered, by many certain Signs, being seen by them for forty Days, and speaking the Things concerning the Kingdom of God.

4. And being assembled with them, he told them not to depart from Jerusalem, but to wait for the Father's Promise, which you have heard from me:

5. For John indeed baptized with Water, but you shall be baptized with the Holy Spirit not many Days after this.

6. When they were therefore indeed come together, they asked him as follows, Lord, wilt thou restore the Kingdom to Israel at this Time?

7. And he said to them, It is not for you to know the Times or Opportunities, which the Father has put into his own Power.

8. But you shall receive Ability from the Holy Spirit that shall come upon you, and shall be Witnesses for me, in Jerusalem, and all Judea, with Samaria, nay to the End of the Earth.

9. Having said these Things, while they beheld, he was taken up, and a Cloud received him away from their Sight.

10. And as they were looking stedfastly towards Heaven, while he went, behold there stood by them two Men in white Apparel;

11. Who also said, Men of Galilee, why do ye stand looking towards Heaven? The same Jesus that is taken up from you into Heaven, will come in the same Manner ye saw him go thither.

12. Then they returned to Jerusalem, from the Mount called Olivet; which is near Jerusalem, being thence the Journey of a Sabbath.

13. And when they were come in, they went up into a Chamber, where there remained Peter, and James, and John, and

Tit. Acts] Published in the same 64th Year of the Christian Æra, and at the same Place, viz. Alexandria, with the History of Jesus, by Luke; as Mills computes the former, and the Subscription of some Copies to that History, with the Syriack and Persian Translators, declare the latter.

Ver. 1. first] rather than former, as Beza observes that Cicero writing two Books concerning Invention says.

Ib. indeed] Gr. μὲν, Lat. quidem, as Ver. 5. Ch. iii. 22. & iv. 16. & xi. 16. Mat. xx. 23. & xxiii. 27. & xxvi. 41. Rom. ii. 25. 2 Cor. viii. 17. 1 Cor. xi. 7. Phil. iii. 1. 1 Pet. ii. 4.

Ver. 3. he had suffered] a Verb in Gr.

Ib. Signs] So Beza and Trem. from the Syr. have signis, Castal. indicis, and Tynd. tokens.

Ib. the Things] themselves directly, not of or concerning them, the Orig. having here no Preposition; see Ver. 9.

Ib. Kingdom of God] Whereby God reigneth in us, Geneva Note.

Ver. 4. which you] The silent Transit, as here, out of oblique Speech into direct, or from the 2d to the 3d Person, is the superior Sort of Sublime, which the Insertion of saith he utterly spoils. There is a beautiful Instance of this Kind, howsoever it escaped the Notice of our Criticks, in Tom. Brown's Translation of Justin, undoubtedly the best English in Prose of any Classic Author, B. 31. Ch. 5. though it be scarce at all striking in the original Latin, where the 2d Person is sometimes used indefinitely. The Passage has the following Turn, Annibal professed that he neither approved the Counsels nor Projects of those who had spoke before him—that it was a mighty Step towards the happy Conclusion of a War, to obtain the first Advantage of Time and Place, but that it was not so when one had to do with the Romans; Take the Field before them, get Battle after Battle upon them, yet you must still contend with this very Enemy, whom you looked upon to be utterly vanquished and undone. But professed, as it does not suit the latter Part, would preferably have been declared, like told here, which is a Circumstance necessary to be observed.

Ver. 7. Opportunities] thus Beza and Mont. opportunitates; which makes no Tautology.

Ver. 8. Ability] not the same Word that is rendered Power just before.

Ib. from] Gr. the Ability of.

Ib. for me] not unto me, but to the People.

Ver. 11. the same] ἴσως, besides which there is Nothing for the so—as in the com. Trans.

Ver. 12. the Journey of a Sabbath] which being two thousand Cubits, according to Godwyn in his Moses and Aaron, B. 3. Ch. 3. amount to five Furlongs and twenty-one Poles; which will agree very well with Certen's Account, that from the Top of this Mount to the present City-gate, is about a Quarter of an Hour's Walk.

Ver. 13. Chamber] rendered every where else in the com. Eng. Bib. upper chamber.

Ib. Peter] To which both here (as in Ver. 8.) seems improper; and τῇ, says Scapula in Lexic. frequentior stipes est, ut passim videre licet; is usually insignificant, as may be seen every where.

Andrew,

Andrew, Philip, and Thomas, Bartholomew, and Matthew, James the Son of Alphaeus, and Simon Zelotes, and Judas the Brother of James.

14. These all continued unanimously in Prayer and Supplication, with the Women, and Mary the Mother of Jesus, and with his Brothers.

15. And in those Days Peter standing up in the midst of the Disciples (the Assembly by Name in the same Place being about a hundred and twenty) said :

16. Men, Brethren, it is expedient this Scripture should be fulfilled, which the Holy Spirit spoke before by the Mouth of David concerning Judas, who was the Guide to them that took Jesus.

17. For he was numbered with us, and obtained a Lot of this Ministry.

18. He therefore indeed procured a Field with the Reward of Unrighteousness; and falling down headlong, burst in the middle, and all his Bowels were shed out.

19. And it was known to all who dwelt at Jerusalem; forasmuch as that Field is called in their own Language Akeldama, that is The Field of Blood.

20. For it is written in the Book of Psalms, Let his Habitation be desolate, and none dwell in it, and let another take his Office of Overseer.

21. It is expedient therefore one of those Men who came together with us, all the Time that the Lord Jesus went in and out among us,

22. Beginning from the Baptism of John, to the Day that he was taken up from us, should be a Witness of his Resurrection with us.

23. So they put up two, Joseph called Barabas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias.

24. And praying, said; Thou Lord, who knowest the Hearts of all, shew which of these two thou hast chosen,

25. To receive a Lot of this Ministry and Apostleship, from which Judas transgressed, that he might go to his own Place.

26. And they gave their Lots, when the Lot falling for Matthias, he was numbered along with the eleven Apostles.

C H A P. II.

AND when the fiftieth Day was fully up, they being all unanimously in the same Place;

2. There was suddenly a Sound from Heaven, as of a strong Blast of Wind blowing along, and it filled the whole House where they were sitting.

3. Then there appeared to them Tongues separated as it were of Fire, and it sat upon each one of them.

4. And they were all full of the Holy Spirit, beginning to speak in other Tongues, as the Spirit gave them to utter forth.

5. Now there were Jews dwelt in Jerusalem, who were religious Men, from every Nation under Heaven.

6. And as there was this Report, a Multitude came together, and were confounded, because each one heard them speak in his own Language.

7. So they were all amazed, and wondered, saying one to another; Behold are not all these who speak Galileans?

8. How then do we each hear them in our own Language, among which we were born?

9. Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and such as dwell in Mesopotamia, with Judea and Cappadocia, Pontus and in Asia, or him who was to be chosen: I incline to the first; for which see the Annot. of Whitby.

Ver. 1. fiftieth] from the Passover: and why should it not be rendered in Eng. what it is in Greek? The Rhemists in their Pres. say, If Pentecost be untranslated, why should not Pasche and Azymes so remaine also, being solemn feastes, as Pentecost was?

Ver. 3. separated] for each Person to have one whole Tongue, not a cloven one.

Ver. 4. Concerning which, and for that Day, Wither writes,

*Whereby those men that simple were,
And fearefull till that howre,
Had knowledge at an instant there,
And boldnesse arm'd with powre;
Receiving gifts so manifold,
That (since the world begun)
A wonder seldome hath been told,
That could exceed this one.*

Ib. to utter forth] an infinitive Verb.

Ver. 8. we each hear] As it is put in the com. Transf. every man is doubtful, and might be the Disciples, which the Gr. shews it was not.

Ib. them] from Ver. 11.

Ib. among which] for Instance, not in but among Latin.

Ver. 15. in the same Place] ἐν τῷ αὐτῷ τόπῳ, as Ch. ii. 1. 1 Cor. xi. 20. which is thus literal, as likewise Beza translates it eodem loco, Castal. ibidem, and the Gen. Vers. has it in one place.

Ver. 16. ibis] some slip over, and Mills thereupon says is an Addition, Pr. 678. but as there would have been so little Demand for it, supposing it absent, it may likelier be Luke's own.

Ver. 17. Lot] as Ver. ult.

Ver. 18. He therefore] as being the Guide to take Jesus, Ver. 16. and thus the Gr. is.

Ib. falling down] probably by the Cord breaking that he hanged himself with.

Ver. 19. was known] being the Remark of Luke the Historian.

Ib. Akeldama] Expositors might have their Reasons, or one Reason, for not shewing the Etymology of this Word. I find it to be from the Chald. ܐܩܠܕܡܐ akal and ܕܡܐ dema. Wesley supposes Luke expounded it for Readers who did not understand Hebrew; when if they had, they would not have known it by that, as it is not Heb.

Ver. 20. Office of Overseer] which is from the Septuag. Transf. Psa. cix. 8. Cast. renders it munus, Office; and Trem. from the Syr. Ministerium, Ministry.

Ver. 25. that he might go to his own Place] It is a contested difficult Point, whether this was spoken of Judas,

10. As also Phrygia and Pamphilia, Egypt and in the Parts of Libya by Cyrene, and Roman Strangers, with Jews and Profelytes,

11. Cretians and Arabians, we hear them speak in our Tongues the great Things of God.

12. Thus they were all amazed, and doubted, saying one to another, What can this be?

13. Yet others scoffing, said, They are full of new Wine.

14. But Peter, joined by the eleven, stood up, and with his Voice exalted solemnly declared to them: Men, Jews, and all who dwell at Jerusalem, be this known to you, and give ear to my Words.

15. For these are not drunk, as you suppose, since it is but the third Hour of the Day.

16. But this it is that was spoken by the Prophet Joel;

17. And in the last Days, says God, I will pour out of my Spirit upon all Flesh, and your Sons and Daughters shall prophesy, your young Men shall see Visions, and your old Men dream Dreams.

18. Moreover upon my Servant-men and Maids, will I pour out of my Spirit in those Days, so that they shall prophesy.

19. Besides I will put Wonders in Heaven above, and Signs upon the Earth below, Blood, and Fire, and Fume of Smoak.

20. The Sun shall be turned into Darknes, and the Moon into Blood, before the great and illustrious Day of the Lord comes.

21. And every one who calls on the Name of the Lord shall be saved.

22. Men of Israel, hear these Words: Jesus the Nazorite, a Man shewn to be from God to you, by the powerful Things, with the Wonders and Signs, which God did through him amongst you, as ye your selves also know;

23. Him, being given forth by the determined Counsel, and the Foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by unrighteous Hands crucifying, did kill:

24. Whom God has raised up, having undone the Pangs of Death; because it was impossible he should be held by it.

25. For David says of him; I have foreseen the Lord before me continually; because he is at my right Hand, that I may not be moved.

26. For this reason my Heart has been glad, and my Tongue rejoiced; and moreover my Flesh shall dwell in Hope.

27. Because thou wilt not leave my Person in the Grave; nor let thy Holy One see Corruption.

28. Thou hast made known to me the Ways of Life; wilt make me full of Joy with thy Presence.

29. Men, Brethren, let me say to you boldly

Ver. 11. Cretians] as Tit. i. 12.

Ib. great Things] So this Word is translated Luke i. 49. where it occurs only besides; and does not signify wonderful works.

Ver. 13. new Wine] of the Growth of the last Season, which they might then lately have begun to drink.

Ver. 14. Jews] It is not of Judea.

Ver. 17. last Days] Hammond, under a great Concern lest his Paraphrase and Annotations should be wholly impertinent and vain, if it should be believed that the Scripture is to be interpreted by the Spirit of God (the extraordinary Help of which he allows to the Primitive Christians, and does not suppose it inconsistent with other Means then) falls first to expounding this noble Passage into a different Sense, viz. that these last days were not ours, but the Time immediately preceding the Destruction of the Jewish City and Temple, Postsc. concerning New Light. But the Jews were not all Flesh, nor all Sorts of Mankind; and his Arguments for its being that Time, don't thereby prove it was not future also; and other Places clearly shew the Continuance of the Spirit of God with his Church and Servants, as John xiv. 16, 17. Mat. xxviii.

20. However our great Author was so intent upon his Hypothesis, that he does not only apply Ver. 20. to that Time, but even 1 Thes. v. 2. 2 Thes. i. 7, 8, 9. 2 Pet. iii. 10, 12. Rev. i. 7. though it was past when the last was written, and it may be doubted on this very Account.

Ver. 20. illustrious] So Erasmus, Montan. Beza, the New Versionist, and Wesley translate; nor does it signify notable.

Ver. 22. shewn to be from God to you] aptly literal in the proper Meanings of the Words, with to be (as often in the Scripture) included or understood; nor do I find that the Verb signifies approved, but properly shewn, according as it is translated 2 Thes. ii. 4. so Erasmus renders exhibitum, Cast. representatum, and Wesl. pointed out.

Ib. powerful Things] rendered in the sing. power, Ch. i. 8. & iii. 12. & iv. 7, 33, &c.

Ver. 23. given forth] as the Gr. Word strictly and properly signifies, from ex forth and didomi give; and as it is said in the Essay for a New Transl. p. 79. denotes the Gift and Present which God had made of his Son to the Jews; I may add, that thus it is agreeable to shewn to be from God to you in the Verse before: so Wall.

Ver. 24. having undone] or when he had undone; being prior to raising up, whether the Pangs signify those before he was dead, or the longing Desire of his Soul to return, and comfort his Disciples, &c. and both may be comprehended.

Ib. Death] the Vulg. and a few Hell, which Mills counted genuine; but as he attempts at no Reason for it, we may leave it to the Authority of Copies, of which he has but two, and those both very ordinary or corrupt ones.

Ver. 26. glad] which is more suitable to Heart than Tongue.

Ver. 27. Person] Doddr. says 'ψυχη can hardly be thought to signify a dead Body.' But why not? when ψυχη which it is correspondent to does, as Buxt. expounds, and shews from Hag. ii. 13. Lev. xix. 28. & xxi. 1. Num. v. 2. & ix. 6.

Ib. Grave] as this Gr. Word is rendered 1 Cor. xv. 55. see Psa. xvi. 10. from whence it is quoted, and Beza's Annot. here, with Whitby's. Wesley has it in the Text Hades, which he expounds The invisible World; but besides this being an arbitrary or forced Interpretation, how well does his Soul not being left there, agree with its returning thither again in forty Days, and being invisible even while here?

concerning the Patriarch David, that he is both dead and buried, and his Sepulchre is among us even to this Day.

30. Therefore being a Prophet, and knowing that God had sworn to him with an Oath, that he would according to the Flesh raise up Christ from the Fruit of his Body, to sit upon his Throne ;

31. By seeing beforehand, he spoke concerning the Resurrection of Christ, that his Person was not to be left in the Grave, nor his Flesh to see Corruption.

32. This Jesus has God raised up ; of which we all are Witnesses.

33. As he was therefore exalted by the right Hand of God, and received the Promise of the Holy Spirit from the Father, he has poured out this which you now behold and hear.

34. For David did not ascend into Heaven ; but he says ; The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at my right Hand,

35. Till I make thy Enemies thy Footstool.

36. Let all the Family of Israel therefore certainly know, that God has made this very Jesus, whom you crucified, both the Lord and Christ.

37. At hearing this, they were pricked to the Heart ; so that they said to Peter, and the rest of the Apostles, What shall we do, Men, Brethren ?

38. Whereupon Peter said to them ; Repent, and be baptized each of you in the Name of Jesus Christ, for the Forgiveness of Sins ; and ye will receive the Gift of the Holy Spirit.

39. For the Promise is to you, and your Children, nay to all that are far off, whomsoever the Lord our God shall call hither.

40. And with many other Words did he testify, and exhort, saying, Be saved from this froward Generation.

41. They therefore indeed received his Word gladly, and were baptized ; so about three thousand Persons were added that Day.

42. Who continued in the Doctrine of the Apostles, and in Fellowship, as also in breaking of Bread, and Prayers.

43. There was Fear too on every Person, many Wonders and Miracles being done by the Apostles.

44. Now all that believed were in the same Place, and had all Things common.

45. For they sold their Possessions and Goods, and parted them to all, according as any one had Need.

46. They also daily continuing unanimously at the Temple, did break Bread from House to House, and receive the Food in Joy, and Simplicity of Heart ;

47. Praising God, and having Favour with all the People. And the Lord added daily those that would be saved to the Church.

CHAP. III.

AT the same Time also Peter and John went up to the Temple, at the Hour of Prayer, which was the ninth.

2. And a certain Man, being lame from his Mother's Womb, was carried along, whom they put daily at the Gate of the Temple, called the beautiful one, to ask

Ver. 37. he would according to the Flesh raise up Christ] Some Books, especially Versions, are without all this, and Mills declares it to be no other than a marginal Note at first, to shew the Resurrection of Christ ; but was more apparently omitted, because not in Psa. cxxxii. 11.

Ib. according to the Flesh] i. e. as Christ was Man ; but doubtful or obscure in the com. Reading.

Ver. 31. his Person] not doubted by Mills to be inserted from Ver. 27. Pr. 1201. for the Vulg. and about half a Dozen of all Sorts are without it. Poor Proof !

Ver. 34. ascend] bodily, Ham. and Whit.

Ver. 37. the rest of] under Sentence of Condemnation from Mills, being not in one Copy, and two Versions, Pr. 440.

Ver. 38. Christ] absent from two Versions, which tho' of so little Signification, is laid hold of by Mills as the right Reading without this. The Discussion of Various Readings already in the Books of the Gospel might be pretty sufficient, as the following are so much alike ; but I think to touch on some others that occur.

Ver. 41. They] those mentioned in Ver. 37.

Ib. gladly] This a few are without, and when Mills found the Vulg. one, whom he had overlooked it seems, he put it down for Marginal, Pr. 628.

Ver. 42. continued] The Gr. has no more steadfastly here than in Ch. i. 14.

Ib. breaking of Bread] as they eat together in common, Ver. 44, 46. 1 Cor. xi. 20, 21, 22. and Bread is commonly mentioned in Scripture for Food, as the principal Part, which is particularly shewn, Ver. 46. and being made in Cakes was rather broke than cut, otherwise the breaking might be distributing of it, see Beza's Annot. here.

Ver. 43. Miracles] as rendered Ch. iv. 16, 22.

Ver. 44. in the same Place] as Ver. 1. and according to the Greek.

Ver. 45. parted them to all] for the Continuance of which J. Wesley pleads, as the Fruit of Love ; yet says on Mat. xix. 21. To sell all would be an absolute Sin to many of us.

Ib. to all] the Believers, not men, which is not in the Original.

Ver. 46. receive the Food] the same Gr. Words as in Ch. xxvii. 33.

Ver. 47. to the Church] Upon the Testimony of three or four, Zegerus and Mills counted it came in from the Margin, Pr. 1201. of little Validity to regard.

Ver. 1. At the same Time] as of Place Chap. ii. 1, 44.

for Alms from those that went in to the Temple.

3. Who when he saw Peter and John about to go in thither, begged Alms.

4. And Peter looking stedfastly at him, with John, said, Look at us.

5. So he gave heed to them, waiting to receive Something from them.

6. But Peter said, I have no Silver and Gold : yet this that I have got I give thee ; by the Name of Jesus the Nazorite rise up, and walk.

7. Then he took hold of him by the right Hand, and raised him up ; when immediately his Feet and Ankle-bones became firm.

8. So that he leaped up, as also stood, and walked ; nay went in with them to the Temple, walking, leaping, and praising God.

9. And when all the People saw him walking, and praising God ;

10. They knew that he was the same, who sat at the beautiful Gate of the Temple for Alms ; upon which they were full of Astonishment and Amazement, at what was come to pass on him.

11. For the lame Man who was healed, holding Peter and John ; all the People ran together to them, at the Porch called Solomon's, being much astonished.

12. Which Peter seeing, he answered the People : Men of Israel, why do ye wonder at this ? Or why look you stedfastly at us, as if by our own Power or Piety, we had made him walk ?

13. The God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, the God of our Fathers, has glorified his Son Jesus ; whom you delivered up, and denied him in the Presence of Pilate, when the same had decreed he should be let go.

14. Whereas you denied the Holy and Righteous One, and asked for a Murderer to be given you.

15. But you killed the Prince of Life, whom God has raised up ; of which we are Witnesses.

16. And in the Faith of his Name, this Man whom you see and know, his Name has made firm ; even the Faith which is by himself, has given him this Soundness before you all.

17. And now, Brethren, I know that you did it through Ignorance, as also your Rulers.

18. However the Things which God foretold by the Mouth of all his Prophets, that Christ should suffer, he has so fulfilled.

19. Repent therefore, and be converted, for your Sins to be blotted out ; as the Times of Refreshment shall come from the Presence of the Lord,

20. And he shall send Jesus Christ, preached to you before.

21. Whom it is expedient indeed Heaven should receive, till the Times of the Restitution of all Things, which God has spoken of by the Mouth of all his holy Prophets since the World has been.

22. For Moses indeed said to the Fathers ; The Lord your God will raise you up a Prophet, from your Brethren, like me ; to him you shall hearken, according to all Things whatever he shall speak to you.

23. Nay every Person who will not hearken to that Prophet, shall be destroyed from the People.

24. And all the Prophets too from Samuel forward, whoever spoke of, foretold likewise these Days.

25. You are the Children of the Prophets, and of the Covenant which God made with our Fathers, saying to Abraham, And through thy Offspring shall all the Families of the Earth be blessed.

26. God having raised up his Son Jesus to you first, sent him to bless you, in turning away each from your Iniquities.

Ver. 4. looking stedfastly] the same Gr. Verb used Ver. 12.

Ib. with John] The great Agreement of our Copies, one alone being without this, scarce hindered Mills, he said, from thinking it crept from the Margin, Pro. 1485. such an Edge had he for paring away the Scripture.

Ver. 6. by] for what else is the Meaning ? And so it is rendered Ch. iv. 7, 9. & iv. 10, 12, 30. & vii. 35. & xi. 14. & xiii. 39. twice, &c.

Ver. 8. to the Temple] into which the common People did not enter, but into the Courts.

Ver. 11. For] as the foregoing shews.

Ver. 12. Piety] Two or three have it Authority, or Power by another Word, which Mills would have be first a Marginal Exposition of the foregoing, and so would thrust this out ; when ἀξια, Authority might be rather a Corruption of our ἐξουσία, as Power and Authority couple well together, but rendered by the Vulgate, potestate, power, since he had the former Word virtute, Ability.

Ver. 13. denied] West. renounced.

Ver. 19. as] See Scap. Lex.

Ver. 20. preached] as Ver. 18, 24. Whit. designed, because divers have it ἐπαγγελισμένον (from ἐπαγγέλλω) instead of ἐπαγγελισμένην.

Ver. 21. since the World has been] Mills says is of Luke Ch. i. 70. but its being differently posited in the Greek is sufficient to take off that.

Ver. 22. For—to the Fathers] This, which stands together in the Gr. Mills supposed was brought hither from Ver. 25. though only the Vulg. and one Copy are without it all, but the Syr. wants the latter, Pr. 1348. What Answer can such want, or deserve ?

Ver. 24. the Prophets] imagined not to be in the Vulg. formerly, and so rejected by Mills ; what Surmise is this !

Ver. 26. Jesus] not with several, but we are not therefore to conclude with Mills factitious, or borrowed from Ver. 13. Pro. 438. How often he would expunge this dear and precious Word [Jesus,] which the inspired Writers were so pleased to use !

Ib. in turning away] Doddridge translates, every one of you turning from ; which is beside the Gr. and what Need is there for any such Shift, since it is not said he did so, but God sent him to do it ? Which some refused to have done, and of you is not in the Greek.

C H A P. IV.

BUT as they were speaking to the People, the Priests, the Captain of the Temple, and the Sadducees came upon them;

2. Being concerned for their teaching the People, and declaring in Jesus the Resurrection of the Dead.

3. So they laid Hands on them, and put them into Custody till the next Day: for it was now Evening.

4. Nevertheless many of those who heard the Word believed, the Number of which Men was become about five thousand.

5. And on the next Day gathered together their Rulers, Elders and Scribes, to Jerusalem;

6. With Annas the high Priest, Caiaphas, John, Alexander, and whoever were of the Kindred of the high Priest.

7. When setting them in the midst, they asked, By what Power, or by what Name, have you done this?

8. Then Peter being full of the Holy Spirit, said to them: Rulers of the People, and Elders of Israel,

9. If we are examined to Day about the Benefit to the infirm Man, by what he is made well;

10. Let it be known to you all, and to all the People of Israel, that by the Name of Jesus Christ the Nazorite, whom you crucified, whom God has raised up from the Dead, by this he stands here before you sound.

11. This is the Stone rejected by you Builders, that is become the Head of the Corner.

12. And there is not Salvation in any other: for no other Name under Heaven is given among Men, by which we must be saved.

13. Now upon seeing the Boldness of Peter and John, and perceiving that they were unlearned and unskilful Men, those wondered, and knew that they had been with Jesus.

14. When they beheld the Man likewise who was cured standing with them, they had Nothing to say against it.

15. However they commanded them to go out of the Council, and talked one to another as follows;

16. What shall we do to these Men? For that indeed a known Miracle has been done by them, is manifest to all who dwell at Jerusalem, which we cannot deny.

17. But that it may spread no more among the People. let us threaten them sharply, that they should not henceforth speak to any Man in this Name.

18. Accordingly they called them, and ordered them not to speak nor teach at all, in the Name of Jesus.

19. But Peter and John made answer to them; Judge you, whether it is righteous before God, to hearken to you rather than to God.

20. For we cannot but speak, what Things we have seen and heard.

21. At last when they had added Threatenings, they let them go, not at all finding how they might punish them, by reason of the People; because these all glorified God for what was done.

22. For the Man was above forty Years old, on whom this Miracle of Healing was done.

23. Thus being let go, they went to their own Company, and told whatever the chief Priests and Elders had said to them.

24. And those hearing, raised up the Voice unanimously to God, and said: Lord, thou art God that madest Heaven and Earth, with the Sea, and all Things which are in them.

25. Who by the Mouth of thy Servant David didst say; Why did the Gentiles make a noise, and the People study vain Things?

26. The Kings of the Earth stood up, and the Princes were gathered together in the same Place, against the Lord and his Christ.

27. For truly there were gathered together at thy Holy Son Jesus, whom thou didst

Ver. 2. in Jesus] in his rising from Death; as the Translator of a New Version renders it paraphrastically, in the Person of Jesus.

Ver. 9. Benefit] So it is rendered in the other Place where it is found, 1 Tim. vi. 2.

Ver. 10. this] Name, as both the Construction and Sense shew; the Name being the Power as Ver. 7. and Ch. iii. 12. which the Apostles were the Instruments of.

Ver. 12. And there is not Salvation in any other] Whitby vindicating these Words, implies that Mills or Somebody rejected them; when it is not so, only one bad Copy is without Salvation: the like of adding the Holy Spirit Ver. 25. and so at other Places.

Ver. 13. unlearned and unskilful] West. illiterate and uneducated.

Ib. unskilful] Doddr. renders it in private Stations of Life, and says the original Word idiot, whence is our Idiot, has literally this Signification: which appears to be taken from Bras; but is it so by its other Places, 1 Cor. xiv. 16, 23, 24. and especially 2 Cor. xi. 6?

Ver. 16. known] as translated Ver. 10.

Ver. 21. God] Mills casts off, for some Scruple about the vulg. Lat. and supposes the Apostles were intended, as whom they glorified. Too weak to hold an Argument about, especially as it is against that well-known Expression glorified God.

Ver. 27. truly] Next follows with several, in this City; but rejected by Mills, Pr. 894. as well as by Grabe and Whit. yet Wall in his Critical Notes since says, So all ancient MSS. and so all the ancient Christians; when there are but 14 or 15 MSS. out of near fifty that have it, and by Mills seven of those Writers.

Ib. were gathered together] the Greek of which is the first Word of the Verse, though this is put last in the comanoint, both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles and People of Israel,

28. To do whatever thy Hand suffered, and thy Counsel appointed before, to be done.

29. So now, O Lord, look on their Threatenings; and grant to thy Servants that they may speak thy Word with all Boldness,

30. By stretching forth thy Hand for Healing; and that Miracles and Wonders may be done, through the Name of thy Holy Son Jesus.

31. And no sooner had they prayed, but the Place in which they were gathered together was shaken; nay they were all full of the Holy Spirit, and spoke the Word of God with Boldness.

32. The Multitude also of those who believed, were of one Heart and Soul; nor did one say that any of the Things he had were his own, but all Things were common to them.

33. With great Power too did the Apostles render Witness of the Resurrection of the Lord Jesus; and there was great Grace on them all.

34. Neither was there any among them that wanted: for whoever were Possessors of Lands or Houses, selling, brought the Prices of the Things sold,

35. And put at the Feet of the Apostles; then there was distributed to each according as any one had Need.

36. Thus Joses, surnamed Barnabas by the Apostles (which is, being interpreted, the Son of Comfort) a Levite, by Race from Cyprus,

37. Selling the Field he had, brought the Money, and put at the Apostles Feet.

BUT a certain Man named Ananias, with his Wife Sapphira, sold a Possession;

2. And took away some of the Price, his Wife also knowing it, so brought a certain Part, and put at the Apostles Feet.

3. But Peter said; Ananias, why has Satan filled thy Heart to belye thy self to the Holy Spirit, and to take away some of the Price of the Land?

4. While it remained, did not it remain thine; and being sold, was in thy Power? Why didst thou propose this Matter in thy Heart? Thou hast not lyed to Men, but to God.

5. And when Ananias heard these Words, he fell down, and expired; so that there was great Fear on all who heard these Things.

6. The young Men also arose, and wound him up, so carrying out, buried him.

7. Moreover it was about the Space of three Hours, when his Wife, not knowing what was done, went in.

8. Upon this Peter demanded of her, Tell me whether you sold the Land for so much? Who said, Yes, for so much.

9. Then replied Peter to her, Why did you agree to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? Behold the Feet of those who buried thy Husband at the Door, and shall carry thee out.

10. With that she fell down immediately at his Feet, and expired; whom when the young Men went in, they found dead, and carrying out, buried by her Husband.

11. So there was great Fear on the whole Church, and on all who heard these Things.

12. By the Hands of the Apostles were further done many Miracles and Wonders among Transf. and a Verb being the principal Word of a Sentence, as at the Beginning of the con. Syntax in Lilly's Gram. &c. may claim most Right to keep its Place, and to have its Nouns transposed to it into their natural Order, when placed out of it, for a right and certain Interpretation: according to which the Words, both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles and People of Israel, would stand before were gathered together, as being to it nominative Cases and belonging thereto; and then To do at the Beginning of the following Verse, would be next to anoint, and evidently belong to that, to which indeed it is nearer now than to the other, and may be supposed to pertain to the nearest, according to the Order of the Words in the Original, which I chose not to alter. But in the Essay for a New Translation, p. 80, 81. it is said 'The Terms of the Original do plainly bear, "That Herod and Pontius Pilate gathered themselves together, with the Gentiles, "and People of Israel, against his holy Child Jesus, "whom he had anointed to do whatsoever his Power and "Wisdom had before determined to be done; as the "Gentlemen of the Port-Royal, who can't be suspected in 'this Matter, have very well rendered it;' where see further.

Ib. San] as the same Word is rendered Ch. iii. 13, 26.

Ver. 28. To do] as Jesus did by his Disciples in curing the lame Man, Ver. 10.

Ib. thy Hand suffered] This, I may presume, needs no Comment.

Ib. to be done] which may be rendered might be done, instead of should be done, as Beza to make it suit his Opinion turns it.

Ver. 29. grant to] West. give.

Ver. 31. Two or three add to the Text at the End, but I think unskilfully, if only as a Note, to every one that would believe; for what can be made of such a Distinction?

Ver. 4. propose this Matter] pretending what he gave was the whole, according to Wall, and as the foregoing Words of Peter require. Nor will the Crime appear so small, if it be considered, that the Christians now sold what they had, and put their Money together, to live on it in common; so that this was also Cheating or Robbery, as well as Deceit and Lying.

the People; and they were all unanimously in Solomon's Porch.

13. But none dared to join with those of the rest; whereas the People magnified these.

14. And Believers were added more to the Lord, Multitudes both of Men and Women:

15. Insomuch that they carried out the Sick into the Streets, and laid on Beds and Couches, that even the Shadow of Peter when he came by might overshadow some of them.

16. And there came together also a Multitude to Jerusalem belonging to the Cities round about, that carried the Sick, with such as were troubled by unclean Spirits; who were all cured.

17. Whereupon the high Priest rose up, as likewise all that were with him, being the Sect of the Sadducees, and were so full of Envy,

18. That they laid their Hands on the Apostles, and put them in publick Custody.

19. But the Angel of the Lord opened the Doors of the Prison by Night, and brought them out, as also said,

20. Go, and stand nay speak at the Temple to the People, all the Words of this Life.

21. Which they hearing, went at Break of Day into the Temple, and taught: whereas the high Priest coming, and those that were with him, they called together the Council, and all the Senate of the Israelites, then sent to the Jail to have them brought.

22. But when the Officers came, they did not find them in the Prison; whereupon they returned, and told as follows,

23. We found the Jail indeed shut in all Security, and the Keepers standing without before the Doors; yet when we opened it, we found Nobody within.

24. Now as the high Priest, the Captain of the Temple, and the chief Priests heard these Words, they doubted concerning them, what this would come to.

25. In the mean time one came, and told them thus, Behold the Men whom you put into Prison are standing in the Temple, and teaching the People.

26. The Captain then went with the Officers, and brought them without Violence: for they were afraid of the People, lest they should be stoned.

27. And having brought, they set them in the Council, when the high Priest asked them as follows,

28. Did not we strictly order you not to teach in this Name? Whereas behold you have filled Jerusalem with your Doctrine, and would bring the Blood of this Man upon us.

29. To which Peter, with the Apostles, made answer; It is fit to obey God rather than Men.

30. The God of our Fathers raised up Jesus, whom you slew, hanging on a Tree.

31. Him has God exalted by his right Hand, for a Prince and Saviour, to give Repentance to Israel, and Forgiveness of Sins.

32. And we are his Witnesses of these Things, and the Holy Spirit also, that God has given to such as obey him.

33. Which they hearing, were so cut, that they consulted to kill them.

34. But there stood up in the Council a certain Pharisee named Gamaliel, a Teacher of the Law, reputable with all the People, and when he had commanded the Apostles to be put forth a little while,

35. He said to them: Men of Israel, take heed to your selves what ye are about to do concerning these Men.

36. For before this Time Theudas rose up, telling that himself was Somebody, to whom a Number of Men, about four hundred adhered; who was killed, and all whoever consented to him were dissolved, and came to nought.

37. After him rose up Judas of Galilee, in the Time of Enrolling, and took away many People after him; and he perished, as likewise all whoever consented to him were dispersed.

38. And now I say to you; Refrain from these Men, and let them alone: for if this Counsel or Work is of Men, it will be destroyed;

Ver. 15. into the Streets] Mills says is of some Annotator, not of the Evangelist; tho' only lacking in the Ethiop. Transf. and some having into differently.

Ver. 17. Sadducees] Wall has here a pious and profitable Note, that the ruling Men being these, who did not believe a future Life, brought Wickedness to such a Height as Josephus describes it to be, before the Destruction of the Jews; whom he matches with the Deists, &c.

Ver. 34. Apostles] The Vulg. and two or three Codes having for it Men, Mills counted that genuine, and says ours is an Interpretation; but it is not Gamaliel speaks here, as Ver. 35.

Ver. 36. Theudas] Josephus tells of such a Theudas, as also Judas, but of Theudas being not only after the other, but after Gamaliel said this; which is accounted for, either by this being some Theudas before that in Josephus, or by that Writer's mistaking the Time, he being an incorrect

Historian, but both Ham. and Whit. are for the former; I may add, that the latter Theudas, supposing there were two, might be nicknamed so from the other, which I think is likelier than to be his Son, thus he mentioned here might be the real one.

Ib. consented] the Verb that is rendered agreed, Ver. 40. in the com. Transf.

Ver. 37. many] left out of the Vulg. and one Copy, and if we will grant Mills his Exposition, that by People here was meant the Jews, he will fasten the Consequence upon us, that this Word was not at first in the Text; but since we need not allow the former, neither the latter. He adds, It seems wholly drawn thither from Ch. xix. 26. Prol. 438. notwithstanding the Substantive is there another Word Company, and the Matter quite different.

Ver. 38. destroyed] the same Verb as in the next Verse, and Ch. vi. 14.

39. But if it is of God, you may not destroy it: lest at any time you should be found Fighters against God.

40. So they consented to him; and calling thither the Apostles, beat them, and ordered they should not speak in the Name of Jesus, then let them go.

41. They therefore indeed went rejoicing from the Presence of the Council, that they were counted worthy to be disgraced for his Name.

42. And every Day at the Temple, as also from House to House, they did not cease to teach and preach Jesus Christ.

C H A P. VI.

AND in that Time, when the Disciples were multiplied, there was a Murmuring of the Hellenists at the Hebrews, because their Widows were slighted in the daily Ministering.

2. Upon which the Twelve called the Multitude of the Disciples thither, and said; It is not pleasing that we should leave the Word of God, to minister to Tables.

3. Therefore, Brethren, look out seven Men among you well testified of, full of the Holy Spirit and Wisdom, whom we may appoint over this Business.

4. But we will continue in Prayer, and the Ministry of the Word.

5. And the Speech was pleasing before all the Multitude: accordingly they chose Stephen, a Man full of Faith and the Holy Spirit, with Philip, Prochorus, Nicanor, Timon, Parmenas, and Nicolaus a Proselyte of Antioch.

6. Whom they set before the Apostles, and these prayed, and put Hands on them.

7. The Word of God too increased, and the Number of the Disciples was multiplied exceedingly at Jerusalem, nay a great Company of the Priests was obedient to the Faith.

8. Besides Stephen being full of Faith and Power, did great Wonders and Miracles among the People.

9. Nevertheless there rose up some of the Synagogue called that of the Libertines, Cyrenians and Alexandrians, with those of Cilicia and Asia, disputing with Stephen.

10. Whereas they were not able to resist the Wisdom, and the Spirit with which he spoke.

11. They then got Men privily who said, We heard him speak blasphemous Words, in relation to Moses and God.

12. Thus they stirred up the People, Elders and Scribes, and coming thither, caught him, and brought into the Council.

13. Moreover set up false Witnesses who said; This Man does not cease speaking blasphemous Words, against this holy Place and the Law.

14. For we heard him say, that this Jesus the Nazorite would destroy this Place, and change the Ceremonies which Moses delivered to us.

15. Now all who sat in the Council looking stedfastly at him, saw his Face as if it was that of an Angel.

C H A P. VII.

HOWEVER the high Priest asked, Are these Things indeed so?

2. Whereupon he said: Men, Brethren and Fathers, hear; the God of Glory appeared to our Forefather Abraham being in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran.

3. And said to him, Go out of thy Country, and from thy Kindred, and come to the Country which I will shew thee.

Ver. 7. of the Priests] This seemed so incredible to Beza, that he suspected the Word, and quotes the Arabick as

Ver. 8. Faith] Several have it Grace, which Mills tells us is entirely right, and that ours crept from Ver. 5. but Whitby says the Words there confirm ours to him, yet I rather suppose Somebody put Grace; that like Power these might vary from those in Ver. 5. and be no Tautology.

4. Then

4. Then going out of the Country of the Chaldeans, he dwelt in Charran; and from thence, after his Father died, God brought him away into this Country wherein you now dwell.

5. Yet he gave him no Inheritance in it, nor the Step of a Foot; but promised to give it to him for a Possession, and to his Posterity after him, when he had no Child.

6. God notwithstanding spoke thus, that his Posterity should be Sojourners in a foreign Country, and those of it would make them Servants, and treat ill four hundred Years.

7. But I will judge the Nation that they shall serve, said God, and after these Things they shall come out, and worship me in this Place.

8. He gave him too the Covenant of Circumcision, and so he begot Isaac, and circumcised him the eighth Day; as Isaac did Jacob, and Jacob the twelve Patriarchs.

9. And the Patriarchs being envious, sold Joseph into Egypt; but God was with him:

10. Whom he delivered from all his Afflictions, as also gave him Favour and Wisdom before Pharaoh King of Egypt; so that he made him the chief over Egypt, and his whole House.

11. Now there came a Famine over the whole Country of Egypt and Canaan, with great Affliction, insomuch that our Forefathers did not find Food.

12. But Jacob hearing there was Corn in Egypt, sent forth our Forefathers first.

13. And at the second time Joseph was known by his Brothers, and Joseph's Kindred were made manifest to Pharaoh.

14. Next Joseph sent for his Father Jacob, with all his Kindred, seventy five Persons.

15. Accordingly Jacob went down into Egypt, where he himself died, and our Forefathers.

16. And these were carried over to Sychem, and they were put into a Sepulchre, be into that which Abraham bought for a Price of Silver, these into that which was from the Sons of Em-mor of Sychem.

17. But when the Time of the Promise drew near, which God had sworn to Abraham, the People increased, and multiplied in Egypt;

18. Till there rose up another King, who had not known Joseph.

19. He dealt craftily with our Kindred, and treated our Forefathers ill; to make their Infants be cast out, that they might not be kept alive.

20. In which Time Moses was born, and was divinely beautiful; who was nourished in his Father's House three Months.

21. And when he was put out, the Daughter of Pharaoh took him up, and nourished him for her own Son.

22. Besides Moses was learned in all the Wisdom of the Egyptians, and was powerful in Words and Works.

23. But when he was fully arrived at the Age of forty Years, it came into his Heart to visit his Brethren the Israelites.

24. And seeing a certain one injured, he defended him, and executed Vengeance for him who was oppressed, smiting the Egyptian.

25. For he supposed his Brethren would understand, that God would give them Deliverance by his Hand; but they did not understand.

26. The next Day also he appeared to some as they were contending, and would have compelled them to Peace, saying, Men, you are Brethren; why do ye injury one to another?

27. Whereas he that did injury to the Neighbour thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a Prince and a Judge over us?

28. Wouldest thou kill me, as thou didst the Egyptian yesterday?

29. At which Expression Moses fled, and was a Sojourner in the Country of Madian, where he begot two Sons.

30. And when the forty Years were completed, there appeared to him in the Wilderness of Mount Sina, an Angel of the Lord in a Flame of Fire at a Bush.

31. Which Moses seeing, wondered at the Sight; and as he went near to observe, there was the Voice of the Lord to him,

32. I am the God of thy Forefathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob: upon this Moses trembled, and did not dare to take notice.

34. I have thoroughly seen the Affliction of my People who are in Egypt, and heard their Groaning; so I am come down to deliver them: come now therefore, I will send thee into Egypt.

35. This same Moses, whom they denied as follows, Who made thee a Prince and a Judge? God sent a Prince and Redeemer, by the Ministry of the Angel that appeared to him in the Bush.

36. He brought them out, doing Wonders and Miracles in the Country of Egypt, at the Red Sea, and in the Wilderness, forty Years.

37. This is the Moses that said to the Israelites, The Lord your God will raise you up a Prophet, from your Brethren, like me; to him do ye hearken.

38. This is he that was in the Church in the Wilderness, with the Angel who spoke to him on Mount Sina, and with our Forefathers; he that received the living Oracles to give us.

39. To whom our Forefathers would not be obedient, but thrust him away, and turned back in their Hearts to Egypt;

40. Saying to Aaron, Make us gods that may go before us; for as to this Moses, who brought us out of the Country of Egypt, we know not what is become of him.

41. And they made a Calf at that Time, as also offered Sacrifice to the Idol, and rejoiced in the Works of their own Hands.

42. Upon which God turned back, and delivered them up to worship the Army of Heaven, as it is written in the Book of the Prophets; Did you bring slain Beasts and Sacrifices to me, forty Years in the Wilderness, O Family of Israel?

43. But you took up the Tabernacle of Moloch, with Remphan the Star of your god, Figures which you made to worship them: so I will carry you away beyond Babylon.

44. The Tabernacle of Testimony was among our Forefathers in the Wilderness, as he had ordered, speaking to Moses to make it according to the Figure that he had seen.

47. But Solomon built him a House.

48. Nevertheless the Highest does not dwell in Temples made with Hands, according as the Prophet says;

49. Heaven is a Throne to me, and the Earth my Footstool; what House will you build for me? says the Lord: or which is the Place of my Rest?

50. Has not my Hand made all these?

51. O Stiff-necked ones, and of uncircumcised Heart and Ears, you always resist the Holy Spirit; even you like your Forefathers.

52. Which of the Prophets did not your Forefathers persecute? Nay they killed those who foretold concerning the Coming of the Righteous One, of whom now you have been the Betrayers and Murderers:

53. You that received the Law at the Appointments of Angels, yet have not kept it.

54. And upon hearing these Things, they were cut to their Hearts, and gnashed the Teeth at him.

55. But he being full of the Holy Spirit, looked stedfastly to Heaven, and saw the Glory of God, with Jesus standing at God's right Hand.

56. Whereupon he said, Behold I see the Heavens opened, and the Man standing at the right Hand of God.

57. Then they cried out aloud, and stopped their Ears, so unanimously ran with violence upon him.

58. Whom they put forth without the City, and stoned; and the Witnesses laid down their Cloaths at the Feet of a young Man called Saul.

59. Thus they stoned Stephen who was calling on, and saying, Lord Jesus, receive my Spirit.

C H A P. VIII.

AND Saul was consenting to his Death: there was likewise at that Time a great Persecution against the Church at Jerusalem; and they were all dispersed throughout the Countries of Judea and Samaria, besides the Apostles.

2. Moreover the religious Men carried away Stephen, and made great Lamentation over him.

3. And Saul laid waste the Church, as he went in from House to House, and haling Men and Women, committed them to Prison.

4. They therefore indeed that were dispersed, went about preaching the Word.

5. So Philip going down to the City of Samaria, preached Christ to them.

6. And a Multitude gave heed unanimously to the Things that were spoken by Philip, through hearing them, and beholding the Miracles which he did.

7. For out of many who had unclean Spirits they came, crying out aloud; as likewise many that had the Palsy, and who were lame, were cured:

8. Inasmuch that there was great Joy in that City.

9. But there was a certain Man named Simon, who had been before using Magick in the City, and amazed the Nation of Samaria, telling that himself was some great one.

10. To whom they all gave heed from the least to the greatest, saying, He is the great Power of God.

11. And they gave heed to him, because he had a great while made them amazed with Magick.

12. But when they believed Philip, as he preached the Things concerning the Kingdom of God, and the Name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized both Men and Women.

13. Nay Simon himself also believed, and was baptized, continuing with Philip; and when he saw the powerful Things and Miracles that were done, he was amazed.

14. And the Apostles who were at Jerusalem, hearing that Samaria had received the Word of God, sent to them Peter and John.

15. Who went down, and prayed for them, that they might receive the Holy Spirit.

16. For he was yet fallen upon none of them, they being only baptized in the Name of the Lord Jesus.

17. Then these put Hands upon them, and they received the Holy Spirit.

18. And when Simon perceived that the Holy Spirit was given by putting on of the Apostles Hands, he offered them Money;

19. Saying, Give me also this Power, that on whomsoever I put Hands, he may receive the Holy Spirit.

20. But Peter said to him; Let thy Silver be for Destruction with thee, because thou hast supposed that the Gift of God might be procured by Money.

21. Thou hast neither Part nor Lot in this Matter, for thy Heart is not right before God.

22. Therefore repent of this Wickedness of thine, and pray to God, if indeed the Thought of thy Heart will be forgiven thee.

23. For I see thou art in the Gall of Bitterness, and Bond of Unrighteousness.

24. To which Simon made answer, Pray you to the Lord for me, that none of the Things which you speak may come upon me.

25. They therefore indeed having testified, and spoken the Word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, preaching to many Villages of the Samaritans.

26. And an Angel of the Lord spoke thus to Philip, Rise up, and go towards the South; to the Way going down from Jerusalem to Gaza, which is Wilderness.

27. So he rose up, and went; and behold an Ethiopian Man, a powerful Eunuch of Candace Queen of the Ethiopians, that was over all her Treasure, who had come to worship at Jerusalem;

28. Was returning, and sitting in his Chariot, and read in the Prophet Esaias.

29. And the Spirit said to Philip, Go near; and join with this Chariot.

30. Accordingly Philip ran thither, and when he heard him reading in the Prophet Esaias, he said, Dost thou know what thou readest?

31. And he said, How indeed can I, if

Ib. Villages] Because the vulg. Lat. though that only, has Countries, as the Rhemists render it, Mills supposed the Original was so; afterwards he relates the Lat. regio in that Age was of a narrower Signification pagus, vicus, Pr. 540 thus struggling contrary ways to defend his precious Vulg. so now by Countries in their Transl. of the Vulg. we are to understand Villages, or else that Eng. of it is wrong.

Nobody guides me? So he besought Philip, that he would come up to sit with him.

32. Now the Passage of Scripture which he read was this; Like a Sheep was he brought to the Slaughter, and was dumb like a Lamb before him who shears it; so he did not open his Mouth.

33. His Judgment was taken away in his Humiliation; but who can tell his Generation, though his Life is taken from the Earth?

34. And the Eunuch made answer to Philip, I pray thee, of whom does the Prophet speak this? of himself, or of some other?

35. Upon which Philip opened his Mouth, and beginning at this Scripture, preached Jesus to him.

36. At length as they went on the Way, they came to some Water; and the Eunuch said, Here is Water, what hinders me from being baptized?

37. If thou believest from the whole Heart, said Philip, thou mayest. And he made answer, I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.

38. Whereupon he commanded the Chariot to stand still; then both Philip and the Eunuch went down each into the Water, and he baptized him.

39. But when they were come up out of the Water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, so that the Eunuch saw him no more; for he went his Way rejoicing.

40. However Philip was found at Azotus; and going through, he preached at all the Cities, till he came to Cesarea.

C H A P. IX.

AND Saul yet breathing out Threatenings and Slaughter at the Disciples of the Lord, went to the high Priest;

2. Of whom he requested Letters for Damascus to the Synagogues, that if he found any who were of this Way, whether Men or Women, he might bring them bound to Jerusalem.

3. And as he was going, when he came near Damascus, there suddenly shone about him a Light from Heaven.

4. Whereupon he fell on the Earth, and heard a Voice say to him, Saul, Saul, why dost thou persecute me?

5. And he asked, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus, whom thou persecutest; it is hard for thee to kick at the Stings.

6. Then he trembled, and astonished as he was, said, Lord, what wilt thou have me do? And the Lord said to him, Arise, and go into the City, and it shall be told thee what thou shouldest do.

7. The Men also that travelled with him stood speechless, hearing indeed a Voice, but seeing Nobody.

8. So Saul rose up from the Ground, and when his Eyes were opened, he saw no Person; and him leading by the Hand, they brought to Damascus.

9. Thus was he three Days without seeing, and did neither eat nor drink.

10. Now there was a certain Disciple at Damascus named Ananias, to whom the Lord said in a Vision, Ananias; who said, Here am I, Lord.

11. And the Lord to him; Arise, go into the Street called Straight, and seek at the House of Judas for one named Saul of Tarsus: for behold he is praying;

12. And has seen in a Vision a Man named Ananias, coming in, and putting the Hand on him, that he might have sight.

13. To which Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard from many concerning this Man, how many Evils he has done to thy Saints at Jerusalem.

14. Here too he has Power from the chief Priests, to bind all who call on thy Name.

15. But the Lord said to him; Go, because he is a chosen Vessel to me, to bear my Name before the Gentiles and Kings, as well as the Israelites.

Ver. 37. This Verse is not in many of the ancient Manuscripts, and Grotius thought it was added afterwards; but see Whitby's Annot.

Ver. 39. the Spirit of the Lord caught away] For this a few Copies have, the Holy Spirit fell on the Eunuch, and an Angel of the Lord caught away; but Mills supposes fetched from Ch. x. 44. or xi. 15.

1b. for] So the Gr. is; and the Meaning, according to Beza, he did not see Philip again, because he went on, without searching after him.

Ver. 3. going] Damascus being six Days Journey from Jerusalem, Rauwolf's Trav. Pt. iii. Ch. 3.

Ver. 5. Stings] as rendered 1 Cor. xv. 55, 56. Rev. ix. 10. that is, as usually expressed, Stings of Conscience; otherwise it might better be rendered Spikes, and not so as to debar Women from repeating this excellent Saying of Jesus from Heaven.

Ver. 5, 6. persecutest—Arise] All between those Words are lacking in many Codes, with but in the room of it; reckoned by Erasmus, Beza, Grotius and others, to be made from Ch. xxii. 10. & xxvi. 14. I had left it therefore as doubtful, but on a Review am inclined to think the intermediate genuine, as all of it is not in those other Places, and because here is not said the second time in Ver. 6. as at Ch. xxii. 10. considering too that Omissions are much frequenter than Additions, and this would the more likely be omitted by reason the Narration is twice repeated after; nay it may be of some Weight that the Vulg. has it, as being so generally received.

Ver. 7. a Voice] that of Saul, but not of Jesus, Ch. xxii. 9.

Ver. 11. the Street called Straight] which, Maundrell says, is about half a Mile in Length, running from East to West through the City; see on 2 King. v. 12.

16. For

16. For I will shew him how many Things he must suffer for my Name.

17. Accordingly Ananias went, and entered into the House, as also put Hands on him, and said, Brother Saul, the Lord has sent me, Jesus who appeared to thee in the Way wherein thou camest, that thou mayest have sight, and be filled with the Holy Spirit.

18. Upon which there presently fell from his Eyes as it were Scales, and he had sight immediately; so rose up, and was baptized.

19. And when he had received Food, he was strengthened. Afterwards Saul was with the Disciples at Damascus some Days.

20. He then presently preached Christ in the Synagogues, that he is the Son of God.

21. So that all who heard were amazed, and said, Is not this he that destroyed such as called on this Name at Jerusalem, and came hither for the same, that he might bring them bound to the chief Priests?

22. And Saul became more strong, and confounded the Jews who dwelt at Damascus, proving that this is Christ.

23. But when many Days were compleated, the Jews consulted together to kill him.

24. Whereas their laying in wait was not unknown to Saul; and they watched the Gates Day and Night, that they might kill him.

25. Whom the Disciples took at Night, and let down by the Wall in a Basket.

26. At length Saul came to Jerusalem, and tried to join with the Disciples; but they were all afraid of him, not believing that he was a Disciple.

27. However Barnabas taking hold of him, introduced him to the Apostles, and told them how he had seen the Lord in the Way, and that the same had spoken to him, and also how he had declared boldly at Damascus in the Name of Jesus.

28. Hereupon he was with them, going in and out at Jerusalem.

29. Nay he both declared boldly in the Name of the Lord Jesus, and disputed against the Hellenists; but they attempted to kill him.

30. This when the Brethren knew, they had him away to Cæsarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus.

31. The Churches therefore indeed, throughout all Judea, Galilee and Samaria, had Peace, and were built up; nay going on in the Fear of the Lord, and Comfort of the Holy Spirit, were multiplied.

32. And Peter going through them all, went down likewise to the Saints that dwelt at Lydda.

33. Where he found a certain Man named Eneas, who had lain in Bed eight Years, having the Palsy.

34. To whom Peter said, Eneas, Jesus Christ heals thee: arise, and make thy own Bed; whereupon he arose presently.

35. And all that dwelt at Lydda, and Saron, saw him, who were converted to the Lord.

36. At Joppa too there was a certain Disciple named Tabitha, which being interpreted is called Roe; she was full of good Works and Alms, which she did.

37. And at that Time being sick, she died; whom they washed, and put in a Chamber.

38. Now as Lydda was near Joppa, the Disciples heard that Peter was in that Place, so they sent two Men to him, beseeching he would not delay to come over to them.

39. And Peter rising up, went with them; whom when he was come, they brought into the Chamber: and all the Widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the Coats and Garments, how many Roe made when she was with them.

40. But Peter putting them all forth, kneeled down, and prayed; then turned to the Body, and said, Tabitha, arise: whereupon she opened her Eyes, and seeing Peter, sat up.

41. And he gave her the Hand, and raised

C H A P. X.

AND there was a certain Man at Cefarea named Cornelius, a Centurion of the Regiment called the Italian;

2. Who was pious, and feared God with all his Family, as also bestowed many Alms on the People, and prayed to God always.

3. He saw in a Vision manifestly, about the ninth Hour of the Day, an Angel of God come in to him, and say to him, Cornelius.

4. On whom he looked stedfastly, and being frightened, said, What is it, Lord? Who answered him; Thy Prayers and Alms are come up into Remembrance before God.

5. So now send Men to Joppa, and send for Simon, who is surnamed Peter.

6. He lodges with one Simon a Tanner, whose House is by the Sea, he will tell thee what thou shouldest do.

7. Accordingly when the Angel who spoke to Cornelius was gone, he called two of his Servants, and a pious Soldier of those that continued with him,

8. And after he had declared all to them, he sent them to Joppa.

9. Now the next Day as they took the journey, and came near the City, Peter went up on the House-top to pray, about the sixth Hour.

10. And he was very hungry, so that he would have eat; but while they prepared, a Trance fell upon him.

11. When he saw Heaven opened, and a Vessel coming down to him, like a great Sheet tied at the four Ends, and let down to the Earth;

12. In which were all Manner of four-footed Creatures of the Earth, wild Beasts, creeping Things, and Fowls of the Air.

13. And there was a Voice to him, Rise up, Peter, slay, and eat.

14. But Peter said, By no means, Lord; since I have never eat any Thing common or unclean:

15. However the Voice was to him again the second time, What God has cleansed, do not thou reckon common.

16. This too was done thrice, and the Vessel taken up again into Heaven.

17. And as Peter doubted in himself what the Vision which he had seen was, behold the Men sent from Cornelius, having made enquiry for Simon's House, were come to the Gate.

18. Who calling, asked if Simon surnamed Peter lodged there.

19. While Peter was thinking about the Vision, the Spirit said to him; Behold three Men seek for thee.

20. So rise up, and go down, as also go with them, being in no doubt, because I have sent them.

21. Peter then went down to the Men sent to him from Cornelius, and said, Behold I am he whom you seek after; what is the Cause for which you are come hither?

22. And they answered, Cornelius the Centurion, a Man righteous, and fearing God, as likewise well testified of by the whole Nation of the Jews, has been divinely admonished by a holy Angel, to send for thee to his House, and to hear Words from thee.

23. He therefore called them in and lodged; so the next Day Peter went away with them, and some Brethren from Joppa accompanied him.

24. The next Day also they got into Cefarea; whom Cornelius was expecting, and had called together his Relations, and intimate Friends.

25. And as Peter was going in, Cornelius met him, and falling down at his Feet, revered.

xi. 6. because some omit it, which is far from a necessary Consequence.

Ver. 17. were come] So the same Verb is rendered Chap. xi. 11. see it also Ch. xxii. 13. & xxiii. 27. Luke ii. 38. & x. 40.

Ver. 21. sent to him from Cornelius] Added in, Mills says, nullus dubito, he does not at all doubt, either from Ch. xi. 11. or Ver. 17. of this Chap. or else by the Gr. Readers for the sake of Perspicuity; it being absent from various Codes. But as there is Cefarea instead of Cornelius, Ch. xi. 11. and not to him in Ver. 17. I must dissent, as I expect most Readers will with me, this being also likely to be left out because of that in Ver. 17.

Ver. 22. by the] the Gr. Particle being the same here as before a holy.

26. But Peter raised him up, saying, Arise; I my self too am a Man.

27. Thus when he had talked with him, he went in, and found many come together.

28. To whom he said; You know how it is unlawful for a Man that is a Jew, to join with, or go to one of another Nation; but God has shewn me, that I should call no Man common or unclean.

29. Therefore without contradicting I came, on being sent for: I ask then for what Intent you have sent for me?

30. And Cornelius answered: Four Days ago I was fasting till this Hour, and at the ninth Hour was praying in my House, when behold there stood a Man before me in bright Apparel:

31. Who said; Cornelius, thy Prayer is hearkened to, and thy Alms are remembered before God.

32. Send therefore to Joppa, and call for Simon, that is surnamed Peter: he lodges in the House of Simon the Tanner, by the Sea, who will come, and speak to thee.

33. At the same Time therefore I sent to thee, and thou hast done well in coming: now therefore we are all come hither before God, to hear all Things given in command to thee by God.

34. Then Peter opened the Mouth, and said: Truly I perceive that God is not a Respector of Persons.

35. But in every Nation he who fears him, and works Righteousness, is accepted by him.

36. The Word which he sent to the Israelites, preaching Peace by Jesus Christ, who is Lord of all,

37. You know; the Matter done through all Judea, begun from Galilee, after the Baptism that John preached:

38. How God anointed Jesus of Nazareth, with the Holy Spirit and Power, who went about doing good, and healing all that were overpowered by the Devil; because God was with him.

39. And we are Witnesses of all that he did, both in the Country of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; whom they killed, hanging on a Tree.

40. Him God raised up the third Day, and caused him to be made manifest;

41. Not to all the People, but to Witnesses appointed before by God, to us who did eat and drink with him, after he rose up from the Dead.

42. When he ordered us to preach to the People, and to testify, that it is he who was determined by God, for the Judge of the Living and Dead.

43. For relating to him all the Prophets testify, that all who believe on him, will receive Forgiveness of Sins through his Name.

44. While Peter was speaking these Words, the Holy Spirit fell upon all that heard the Word.

45. And the Believers who were of the Circumcision, as many as came with Peter, were amazed, that the Gift of the Holy Spirit was also shed out on the Gentiles.

46. For they heard them speak in Languages, and magnify God. Then Peter on this occasion said,

47. Can any forbid Water, that these should not be baptized, who have received the Holy Spirit as well as we?

48. So he commanded them to be baptized in the Name of the Lord. Then they intreated him to stay some Days.

CHAP. XI.

NOW the Apostles and Brethren who were in Judea, heard that the Gentiles had also received the Word of God.

2. And when Peter was come up to Jerusalem, they who were of the Circumcision debated with him,

3. Saying, Thou hast gone in to Men that are uncircumcised, and eat with them.

4. But Peter begun, and expounded it to them successively on as follows:

5. I was at the City of Joppa praying; and saw a Vision in a Trance, some Vessel coming down, like a great Sheet let down by the four Ends from Heaven; and it came quite to me.

6. On which looking stedfastly, I observed, and saw four-footed Creatures of the Earth, wild Beasts, creeping Things, and Fowls of the Air.

Ver. 28. join with] Our Translators having it imperfect without with, some of the Printers put it in; the latter correcting the former in several Places.

Ver. 32. who will come, and speak to thee] is all supposed by Mills to come from Ver. 22. being not in three Copies and as many Versions; whereas the Expression there is quite different.

Ver. 33. come higher] the same Verb as in Ver. 27,

Ver. 36. he sent] God being added by the Translators.

Ver. 46. on this occasion said] being the Meaning, when not any Answer to what was said before, tho' undiscovered by the Translators.

Ver. 48. the Lord] The Gen. Verf. has in the Marg. for an Addition Jesus Christ; but more have it instead of the Lord.

7. And I heard a Voice say to me, Rise up, Peter, slay, and eat.

8. But I said, By no means, Lord; since any Thing common or unclean has never entered into my Mouth.

9. Whereas the Voice answered me the second time from Heaven, What God has cleansed, do not thou reckon common.

10. This too was done thrice, and all were pulled up again into Heaven.

11. And behold at the same Time three Men were come to the House in which I was, who were sent from Cesarea to me.

12. When the Spirit said I should go with them, and be in no doubt. So there accompanied me also these six Brethren, and we entered into the Man's House.

13. Then he told us how he had seen an Angel in his House, who stood, and said to him; send Men to Joppa, and send for Simon surnamed Peter:

14. Who will speak Matters to thee, by which thou shalt be saved, and all thy Family.

15. And when I began to speak, the Holy Spirit fell upon them, the same as upon us at the Beginning.

16. Whereupon I remembered the Saying of the Lord, how he declared, John indeed baptized with Water, but you shall be baptized with the Holy Spirit.

17. If therefore God gave them the like Gift as to us, that believed on the Lord Jesus Christ, who was I to be able to hinder God?

18. And upon hearing these Things, they were silent, and glorified God, saying, Then to the Gentiles also God has given Repentance for Life.

19. Those moreover indeed that were dispersed by the Trouble made concerning Stephen, went about to Phenice, Cyprus and Antioch; yet declared the Word to Nobody, excepting the Jews only.

20. However some of them were Men of Cyprus and Cyrene, who went into Antioch, and spoke to the Hellenists, preaching the Lord Jesus.

21. The Hand of the Lord also was with them; so that a great Number believed, and were converted to the Lord.

22. And when Word was heard in the Ears of the Church at Jerusalem concerning these Things, they sent forth Barnabas to go to Antioch.

23. Who came, and rejoiced at seeing the Grace of God; and exhorted them all to abide firm to the Lord with Purpose of Heart:

24. Since he was a good Man, and full of the Holy Spirit and Faith; so that a great Company was added to the Lord.

25. Afterwards Barnabas went away to Tarsus, to look for Saul.

26. And having found him, he brought him to Antioch; when they assembled together a whole Year among the Church, and taught a great Company; and the Disciples were first named Christians at Antioch.

27. At this Time likewise there went down Prophets from Jerusalem to Antioch.

28. One of whom named Agabus rose up, and signified by the Spirit, there would be after that a great Famine in the whole World; which also came to pass under Claudius Cesar.

29. So the Disciples, according as any one was able, determined each of them to send, for the Service of the Brethren who dwelt in Judea.

30. Which accordingly they did, sending to the Elders by the Hand of Barnabas and Saul.

C H A P. XII.

MOREOVER at that Time King Herod laid on Hands, to treat ill some of the Church.

1. Nay he killed James, the Brother of John, with a Sword.

3. And seeing that it was pleasing to the Jews, he proceeded also to take Peter; then being the Days of unleavened Bread.

4. Whom he likewise apprehended, and put into Prison, nay delivered to four Parcels of Soldiers to keep him, intending to bring him forth to the People after the Passover.

Ver. 12. and be in no doubt] though absent only in one Copy, Mills says it was brought hither from Ch. x. 20.

Ver. 17. The Gen. Marg. adds at the End, not to give them the holy Ghost; but no such Matter appears by Mills.

Ver. 20. Hellenists] That these were not Jews by Lineage, as has been generally thought, may appear clearly by comparing this with the preceding Verse, the Beginning of this being also not properly And. One MS. having Grecians is of very small Weight against it, and the few Versions led by the Vulg. which Mills produces are of none at all, since they have the present Word rendered so elsewhere.

Ver. 26. named] as it seems by others, else it might rather be said named themselves; and Agrippa's using the Name, Ch. xxvi. 28. countenances the same.

Ver. 1. laid] as rendered Ch. iv. 3. & v. 18. Mark xiv. 46. Luke xx. 19. John vii. 30, 44.

Ver. 2. killed James] Thus one Brother died the first of the Apostles, and the other lived the longest.

Ver. 4. Parcels] of four Men each, one such guarding our Lord to his Crucifixion, John xix. 23.

Ib. the Passover] which the Gr. Word signifies, and the Gen. Transf. has, as likewise ours in other Places. Nor did Herod, and the Jews, keep or observe Easter.

5. Peter

5. Peter therefore indeed was kept in Prison; but there was earnest Prayer made by the Church, to God for him.

6. And when Herod was about to bring him out, that Night Peter was sleeping between two Soldiers, bound with two Chains; and the Keepers before the Door kept the Prison.

7. Then behold an Angel of the Lord came there, and a Light shone in the Room; he also smote Peter on the Side, and raised him up, saying, Arise quickly; upon which his Chains fell from the Hands.

8. And the Angel said to him, Gird thy self, and tie on thy Sandals; and he did so: next he said to him, Put on thy Garment, and follow me.

9. Accordingly he went out, and followed him, yet did not know that it was true which was done by the Angel; but thought he beheld a Vision.

10. So going through the first and second Prison, they came to the iron Gate that brings into the City, which opened to them of it self; and going out, they went along one Street, when presently the Angel departed from him.

11. At length Peter came to himself, and said, Now I know truly that the Lord has sent forth his Angel, and delivered me from the Hand of Herod, and all the Expectation of the Jewish People.

12. This being sensible of, he came to the House of Mary, the Mother of John surnamed Mark, where many were got together, and praying.

13. And Peter knocking at the Door of the Gate, a young Woman went near to listen, named Rhoda.

14. Who knew Peter's Voice, and did not open the Gate for Joy; but ran in, and told that Peter stood before the Gate.

15. Whereas they said to her, Thou art mad; but she affirmed it was so; then said they, It is his Angel.

16. In the mean time Peter remained knocking; and when they opened, they saw him, and were amazed.

17. But he beckoning to them with the Hand to hold their peace, told them how the Lord had brought him out of the Prison, and said, Declare these Things to James and the Brethren; then going out, he went to another Place.

18. Thus when it was Day, there was not a little Bustle among the Soldiers, about what was become of Peter.

19. And as Herod sought for him, without finding, upon examining the Keepers, he commanded they should be taken away; afterwards he went down from Judea to Cesarea, and abode there.

20. Herod also was exasperated at the Tyrians and Sidonians; but they came thither to him unanimously, and persuading Blastus the King's Chamberlain, they desired Peace, because their Country was nourished by that of the King.

21. And on an appointed Day, Herod cloathed with royal Apparel, and sitting on the Judgment-seat, made an Oration to them.

22. Upon which the People bawled out, The Voice of God, and not of Man.

23. And immediately the Angel of the Lord smote him, because he did not give Glory to God; so that being eat by Worms, he expired.

24. But the Word of God increased and multiplied.

25. Besides Barnabas and Saul returned from Jerusalem, when they had fulfilled the Service, taking with them also John surnamed Mark.

C H A P. XIII.

NOW there were in the Church that was at Antioch, some Prophets and Teachers, namely Barnabas, Simeon called Niger, Lucius of Cyrene, Manaen who was

Ver. 5. earnest] so rendered in the Gen. Bib. and in our last servant, 1 Pet. iv. 8. where the Word only occurs besides; excepting in the comparative Degree, Luke xxii. 44. where it is applied to praying as here. and turned accordingly by our Translators more earnestly.

Ver. 7. Room] so the late Transf. Tynd. ledge, Gen. Tr. house, Erasim. and the vulg. Lat. habitaculo: Bena thinks it signifies Part of the Prison, but the Gr. Word denotes rather Part of a House.

Ver. 10. Prison] the Word used Ver. 4, 5, 6, 17.

Ver. 16. Peter] This is of the Scribes, if we hearken to Mills, being forsooth not in the wide Cambr. Copy, and there only absent.

Ver. 17. James] the Apostle, called the less, Mark xv.

40. Ver. 2. as it seems for his Person; being so eminent as appears by Ch. xv. 13, 2, 22. and by Whitby in the Pref. to the Epist. of James, where he shews from Dr. Cave, that the Story of three James's is a great Mistake.

Ver. 18. not a little] elegant without Doubt, but Mills gives it for Comment, because not in two Codes; and lest it should be thought the Flourish of some After-writer, the same may be seen Ch. xv. ii. & xix. 23, 24. & xxvii. 20.

Ver. 19. taken away] as the Gr. Word signifies, and as used in our Courts of Judicature to condemned Persons: others render it led or carried away.

Ver. 20. persuading] the very same as in Ch. xiv. 19.

Ver. 24. increased] as translated Ch. vi. 7.

brought up with Herod the Tetrarch, and Saul.

2. And they ministering to the Lord, and fasting, the Holy Spirit said, Separate now for me Barnabas and Saul, to the Work that I have called them to.

3. Then after they had fasted, prayed, and put Hands on them, they let them go.

4. They therefore indeed being sent forth by the Holy Spirit, went down to Seleucia, and from thence sailed away to Cyprus.

5. And when they were at Salamis, they declared the Word of God in the Synagogues of the Jews; and they also had John for an Attendant.

6. Thus as they went through the Isle to Paphos, they found a certain Magician, a false Prophet, that was a Jew, whose Name was Barjesus.

7. Who was with the Deputy Sergius Paul, an understanding Man: the latter calling thither Barnabas and Saul, desired to hear the Word of God.

8. But Elymas the Magician (for so his Name is interpreted) withstood them, endeavouring to pervert the Deputy from the Faith.

9. Upon this Saul, who is also Paul, being full of the Holy Spirit, looked stedfastly at him,

10. And said; O thou full of all Deceit and all Mischief, Son of the Devil, Enemy of all Righteousness, wilt thou not cease perverting the right Ways of the Lord?

11. So now behold the Hand of the Lord is upon thee, insomuch that thou shalt be blind, not beholding the Sun for a Time: when immediately there fell on him a Mist and Darkness, and he going about, sought for some who would lead him by the hand.

12. Then the Deputy seeing what was done, believed, and was surprized at the Doctrine of the Lord.

13. Afterwards those about Paul went off from Paphos, and came to Perga of Pamphylia; but John departed from them, and returned to Jerusalem.

14. Next they went along from Perga, and came to Antioch of Pisidia; where they entered into the Synagogue on the Sabbath-day, and sat down.

15. And after the Reading of the Law and Prophets, the Rulers of the Synagogue sent Word to them, Men, Brethren, if there is the Word of Exhortation in you to the People, speak.

16. Whereupon Paul rose up, and beckoning with the Hand, said: Men of Israel, and you that fear God, hear.

17. The God of this People Israel chose our Forefathers, and exalted the People at the Sojourning in the Country of Egypt, bringing them out of it by a high Arm.

18. About the Time of forty Years also, he bore their Manners in the Wilderness.

19. And when he had overthrown seven Nations in the Country of Chanaan, he gave their Country to them by lot.

20. As likewise after these Things, he gave Judges as it were four hundred and fifty Years, till Samuel the Prophet.

21. And afterwards they asked a King, and God gave them Saul the Son of Cis, a Man of the Tribe of Benjamin forty Years.

22. When he removed him, and raised up to them David for a King, for whom also testifying, he said, I have found David of Jesse, a Man according to my Mind, who will do all my Will.

23. From whose Offspring God, according to the Promise, has raised up to Israel the Saviour Jesus.

Ver. 4. went down] as this Verb signifies, and is translated, Ch. viii. 5. & xii. 19. & xviii. 22. and came down, Ch. ix. 32. & xv. 1. & xxi. 10.

Ver. 6. the Isle] Some have whole to it.

Ver. 7. Deputy] of the country is added by the Translators.

Ib. Paul] from whom on this Account the Apostle probably had his Name, being the same in Greek, and mentioned at this Time, as Jerome also thought; see Ham. Annot.

Ver. 8. so] Halama in Arabick being very knowing or learned, from the Verb alama, to know.

Ver. 17. Sojourning] So this Word is rendered in the other Place where it occurs, 1 Pet. i. 17.

Ver. 18. About] grafted in, says Mills, because not quite all have it.

Ib. bore their Manners] By the Change of π into ϕ in τροποποιήσας, a Copy or two, with three Versions, have nourished, however Mills pleads hard for it to be right; for Answer to which, as it may not merit much, I send the Reader to Whitby's Exam. Lib. 2. 2. and Annot. where this is discussed something largely.

Ver. 19. gave—by lot] Gr. cateclerodotesen, for which a considerable Number of Copies have catecleronimesen, made—inherit; and this latter Mills prefers, as being used by the LXX in Deut. i. 38. but that might make the Alteration, much likelier than the contrary.

Ver. 20. as it were] See the Chronology at the End of 1 Kings. By Wesl. he divided their land—about 450 years, by sad Alteration of the Original, and also Improprity.

Ver. 21. forty] There is Nothing for by the space of in the Gr.

Ver. 23. raised up] Several have it brought, and Mills says ours crept from the foregoing Ver. but might not it as well be altered for Variety, or rather because it was thought Jesus was brought down, more properly than raised up? Yet of the latter see, as in Whit. Exam. Ch. ii. 30. & iii. 26. Luke i. 69. Jer. xxiii. 5. & xxx. 9. I may add Ver. 33. and as many MSS. have Salvation for the Saviour Jesus, that Mills speaks against; which might help to produce the other, if not wholly do it.

24. John having preached, before the Appearance of his Coming, the Baptism of Repentance to all the People of Israel.

25. And as John fulfilled the Course, he said, Whom do you imagine me to be? I am not he; but behold he comes after me, the Shoes of whose Feet I am not worthy to undo.

26. Men, Brethren, Sons of the Race of Abraham, and those among you who fear God, to you is the Word of this Salvation sent.

27. For they that dwell at Jerusalem, and their Rulers, being ignorant of him, and the Voices of the Prophets read on every Sabbath, by condemning him, have fulfilled these.

28. Nay though they found no Cause of Death, they desired Pilate that he might be killed.

29. And when they had accomplished all Things that were written of him, they took down from the Tree, and put him into a Grave.

30. Nevertheless God raised him up from the Dead.

31. Who appeared for many Days, to such as went up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem; that are his Witnesses to the People.

32. And we preach to you, that the Promise made to the Forefathers,

33. God has fulfilled to us their Children, by raising up Jesus; as it is also written in the second Psalm, Thou art my Son, to Day have I begotten thee.

34. And that he raised him up from the Dead, for him no more afterwards to return to Corruption, he said thus, I will give you the sure holy Things of David.

35. Therefore he also says in another Place, Thou wilt not let thy Holy One see Corruption.

36. For David indeed, when he had ministered to his own Generation by the Counsel of God, went to sleep, and was put to his Fathers, so saw Corruption.

37. Whereas he whom God raised up did not see Corruption.

38. Be it therefore known to you, Men,

Brethren, that Forgiveness of Sins through him is declared to you.

39. And from all Things that you could not be justified by the Law of Moses, every one who believes is justified by him.

40. Look therefore, lest there should come upon you what is spoken in the Prophets,

41. Behold, O Despisers, and be astonished, and vanish away: for I perform a Work in your Days, that you will not at all believe, though any one should tell you.

42. Now though the Jews departed out of the Synagogue, the Gentiles besought those Words might be spoken to them on the next Sabbath.

43. And after the Assembly was dissolved, many of the Jews and religious Profelytes, followed Paul and Barnabas; who speaking to them, persuaded them to remain in the Grace of God.

44. On the Sabbath also that was coming almost all the City gathered together to hear the Word of God.

45. But when the Jews saw the Multitudes, they were full of Envy, and spoke against the Things said by Paul, contradicting and blaspheming.

46. Upon which Paul and Barnabas speaking boldly, said, It was necessary that the Word of God should be spoken first to you; but since you put it away, and do not judge your selves worthy of everlasting Life, behold we turn to the Gentiles.

47. For so the Lord has commanded us, I have put thee for the Light of the Gentiles, that thou mightest be for Salvation to the End of the Earth.

48. Which the Gentiles hearing, rejoiced, and extolled the Word of the Lord; and whoever were appointed for everlasting Life believed.

49. Moreover the Word of the Lord was carried about through the whole Country.

50. However the Jews set on the religious and honourable Women, with the principal Men of the City, and stirred up such a Persecution against Paul and Barnabas, that they expelled them from their Borders.

Ver. 33. the second] Mills would have the genuine Reading be the first, as with a few, supposing those two *Psalm*s to be joined in one; to which the Answer of Whitby may be more than sufficient.

Ver. 41. will] So rendered Hab. i. 5. whence it is taken; and Wall on it says, Our Translators were strangely attached to their term shall, which does utterly marr the sense.

Ver. 42. next Sabbath] West. Sabbath between.

Ver. 44. coming] next Ch. xx. 15. & xxi. 26. is a different Word, tho' nearly alike in Letters.

Ver. 45. contradicting and] several leave out, but I don't find Mills or any other justifying it.

Ver. 47. End] sing. in Gr. as in Isa. xlix. 6.

Ver. 48. the Word of the Lord] Instead of this Mills imagines it was only God, Prol. 1252. for which there is but the weak Authority of the Syr. and Eth. Translations, but five Copies have God in the Place of the Lord, yet that Mills does not suppose to be right.

1b. appointed] as fit Persons, or fitted. So this Gr. Word is rendered Ch. xxii. 10. & xxviii. 23. Mat. xxviii. 16. and compounded with a Preposition, Ch. xvii. 26. Whitby, disposed, Wall, fit to receive, Ham. fitly disposed and qualified for, with a long Note.

51. But these shook off the Dust of their Feet at them, and came to Iconium.

52. Besides the Disciples were full of Joy, and the Holy Spirit.

C H A P. XIV.

AN D at Iconium in like Manner they went into the Synagogue of the Jews, and so spoke, that a great Multitude both of the Jews and Grecians believed.

2. Yet the unbelieving Jews stirred up, and made the Minds of the Gentiles ill against the Brethren.

3. A great while therefore indeed they abode, speaking boldly in the Lord, who testified for the Word of his Grace, and granted Miracles and Wonders to be done by their Hands.

4. Thus the Multitude of the City was divided; some indeed being with the Jews, and some with the Apostles.

5. And when there was an Assault both of the Gentiles and Jews, with their Rulers, to abuse and stone them;

6. They knowing it, fled to the Cities of Lycaonia, Lystra and Derbe, and the Region round about:

7. And they were there preaching.

8. Now a certain Man late at Lystra, that was impotent in the Feet, being lame from his Mother's Womb, who had never walked.

9. He heard Paul speaking; who looking stedfastly on him, and seeing that he had Faith to be healed,

10. Said aloud, Stand up straight on thy Feet; whereupon he leaped, and walked.

11. Then the Multitude seeing what Paul had done, raised up their Voice, and said in the Lycaonian Language, Gods who are like Men are come down to us.

12. So indeed they called Barnabas Jupiter; and Paul Mercury, since he was the chief in Speech.

13. Besides the Priest of Jupiter who was before their City, brought Oxen and Garlands to the Gate, and would have sacrificed with the Multitude.

14. Which when the Apostles, Barnabas and Paul heard, they tore their Cloaths asunder, and rushed into the Company, crying out,

15. And saying; Men, why do ye these Things? When we are Persons affected like you, and preach that ye may be turned from these Vanities to the Living God, who made Heaven, Earth, the Sea, and all Things that are in them.

16. Who in Ages past let all the Gentiles go in their own Ways.

17. Although he did not leave himself without Witness, as he did good, giving us Rain from Heaven, and fruitful Seasons, so filled our Hearts both with Food and Joy.

18. And on saying these Things, they scarce made the Multitude rest, not to sacrifice to them.

19. But there came Jews from Antioch and Iconium, who when they had persuaded the Multitude, stoned Paul, and haled him without the City, supposing he was dead.

20. Nevertheless while the Disciples compassed him about, he rose up, and went into the City; the next Day also he went away with Barnabas to Derbe.

21. To which City they preached, and having taught many, returned to Lystra, Iconium and Antioch;

22. Confirming the Souls of the Disciples, exhorting to continue in the Faith, and that through many Afflictions we must enter into the Kingdom of God.

23. Having chosen them Elders also throughout the Church, and prayed with Fasting, they committed them to the Lord, on whom they believed.

24. Next they went through Pisidia, and came to Pamphylia;

25. Moreover declaring the Word at Perga, they went down to Attalia.

26. And from thence they sailed away to Antioch, whence they had been delivered to the Grace of God, for the Work which they fulfilled.

27. When they were thus come, and had gathered together the Church, they rehearsed whatever God had done with them, and that he had opened a Door of Faith to the Gentiles.

28. And they abode there not a little while with the Disciples.

Ver. 1. in like Manner] Gr. according to that, viz. in Ch. xiii. 14. and together, as Beza says, is wrong, as both is added in translating: accordingly he has rendered it itidem.

Ver. 7. This Ver. as I understand, is so short, because when Rob. Stephens the famous Printer first made the Gr. into Verses, printed 1551, there was added to ours in a former Edition, and the whole Multitude were moved at the Doctrine; so Paul and Barnabas abode at Lystra; but only a Gr. MS. or two are found to have it.

Ver. 10. stand] Several Copies prefix, I say to thee in the Name of the Lord Jesus Christ, a few varying a little.

Ver. 14. Which] for this the Gr. has ὅτι, as also at Ch. xv. 31.

Ver. 15. Men] as the Word signifies, and is rendered often besides in this Book; not signifying Sirs.

1b. that ye] The Pronoun by the Case, belonging to the following, and not the preceding Verb; see Beza's Annot.

* Ver. 19. came Jews] thither is added by the Translators, and certain is but in some Copies not reckoned the most authentick.

Ver. 23. chosen] thus rendered 2 Cor. viii. 19. where this Word is only besides.

1b. Elders] West. presbyters.

CHAP. XV.

IN the mean time some came down from Judea, and taught the Brethren, If you are not circumcised according to the Ceremony of Moses, you cannot be saved.

2. Not a little Dissension and Disputing being therefore made, by Paul and Barnabas, against these; the Brethren appointed Paul and Barnabas, with some others of them, to go up to the Apostles and Elders at Jerusalem, about this Question.

3. Therefore they indeed being conducted by the Church, went through Phenice and Samaria, telling the Conversion of the Gentiles; and caused great Joy to all the Brethren.

4. Coming then to Jerusalem, they were received by the Church, including the Apostles, and Elders; when they rehearsed whatever God had done with them.

5. But there rose up some of the Sect of the Pharisees who believed, saying that it was needful to circumcise them, and to order they should keep the Law of Moses.

6. So the Apostles and Elders gathered together, to see about this Matter.

7. At length when there had been much Disputing, Peter rose up, and said to them: Men, Brethren, you know that a long while ago God chose, that among us the Gentiles should hear the Word of the Gospel by my Mouth, and believe.

8. And God who knows the Hearts testified for them, by giving them the Holy Spirit, according as also to us.

9. Nay he made no Difference between us and them, as he cleansed their Hearts by Faith.

10. Now therefore why do ye tempt God, by putting a Yoke upon the Neck of the Disciples, which neither our Fathers nor we were able to bear.

11. But we believe we shall be saved by the Grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, in the same Manner as also they will.

12. Next all the Multitude held their peace, and heard Barnabas and Paul declare, whatever Miracles and Wonders, God had done among the Gentiles by them.

13. And after they had held their peace, James made answer: Men, Brethren, hear me.

14. Simeon has declared how God first visited, to take from the Gentiles a People for his Name.

15. And to this agree the Words of the Prophets, as it is written;

16. After these Things I will return, and build again the Tabernacle of David which is fallen down; will build again its Breaches, and raise it up:

17. That the Remainder of Men may seek after the Lord, and all the Gentiles who are called by my Name, says the Lord, the Doer of all these Things.

18. Known by God are all his Works since the World has been.

19. Therefore I judge they should not be disturbed, who from the Gentiles are turned to God;

20. But that they should be written to, for them to refrain from the Pollutions of Idols, Whoredom, Things strangled and Blood.

21. For Moses from ancient Ages has had such as preach him throughout the City, being read in the Synagogues on every Sabbath.

22. Then it seemed well to the Apostles and Elders, with the whole Church, to send chosen Men of themselves, Judas surnamed Barsabas and Silas, chief Men among the Brethren, to Antioch, with Paul and Barnabas;

Ver. 1. taught] Ignatius writing to the Church of Philadelphia has, If any one shall expound Judaism to you, do not hearken to him.

Ver. 2. and Disputing] a Varj. and a Copy miss, divers lessen the Noun in the Original, as it were to Questioning; Mills gets rid of it by means of the former, as if drawn from Ver. 7. Pro. 441. one of his Particularities, thrown out for the Credulous to stumble at.

Ver. 8. for them] How proper and necessary soever, a single Copy being without it, Mills censures it away from Luke to a Scribe, Pro. 441.

Ver. 10. bear] This Word here Cruden, in his Concordance, says signifies To perform or fully observe; which is not applicable to Yoke.

Ver. 11. they will] that it may not be mistaken for they believe, the Danger being less of referring they to Fathers, which Whitby so guards against.

Ver. 16. After &c.] Doddr. says, 'These Words are quoted from Amos ix. 11. 12. according to the Reading of the Seventy (but very wrong as to this Verse) who ' might probably follow a correcter Copy of the Hebrew than the present.' O fy upon it!

Ver. 17. may] for might is inconsistent with the Sense; see Am. ix. 12.

Ver. 20. A few add at End, and whatsoever they would not have be to themselves, not to do to others; see the Geneva Marg. so Ver. 29.

1b. Things strangled] This some of the ancient Writers, only one Copy, and no Transf. omit, however Mills strives hard to exclude it. I suppose it to be the Apostle's and Council's own: but Blood signified the eating it in Animals strangled, &c. not bled to death; and lest Blood should be mistaken for Murder, as it was, because it was otherwise a Sort of Repetition (but indeed a fuller Prohibition) to Things strangled, Whit. Exam. too may be seen.

Ver. 21. from] not of, as if it was only then, and inconsistent with bath.

1b. throughout the City] Here is not every as in Ver. 36.

Ver. 22. it seemed well] the same Verb as in Ver. 25, 28.

23. Writing by their Hands these Things : The Apostles, Elders and Brethren, salute the Brethren who are of the Gentiles at Antioch, Syria and Cilicia.

24. Whereas we have heard, that some who went out from us have troubled you with Words, and subverted your Souls, saying you should be circumcised, and keep the Law ; whom we did not command :

25. It seemed well to us, being together unanimously, to send chosen Men to you, with our beloved Barnabas and Paul ;

26. Persons who have delivered up their Lives, for the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

27. We have therefore sent Judas and Silas, who will tell these Things by Word.

28. For it seemed well to the Holy Spirit and us, to put on you no more Burden than these necessary Things ;

29. To refrain from Things offered to Idols, Blood, Things strangled and Whoredom : from which preserving your selves, you will do well. Farewel.

30. They therefore indeed being sent away, came to Antioch ; and when they had gathered together the Multitude, gave the Epistle.

31. Which these read, and rejoiced for the Comfort.

32. Moreover Judas and Silas, as they were also Prophets themselves, exhorted the Brethren by many Words, and confirmed.

33. After they had done thus a while, they were sent away with Peace, from the Brethren to the Apostles.

34. Nevertheless it seemed well to Silas to stay there.

35. Paul likewise and Barnabas abode at Antioch, teaching and preaching, with many others besides, the Word of the Lord.

36. However some Days after Paul said to Barnabas, Let us return now to look how our Brethren do, throughout every City in which we have declared the Word of the Lord.

37. Whereupon Barnabas consulted to take with them John called Mark.

38. But Paul did not count him worthy to be taken with them, who went away from them at Pamphylia, and did not go with them to the Work.

39. There was therefore such Provocation made, that they departed asunder one from another ; and Barnabas taking Mark, sailed away to Cyprus.

40. Paul also chose Silas, and went away, being delivered to the Grace of God by the Brethren.

41. Afterwards he went through Syria and Cilicia, confirming the Churches.

CH A P. XVI.

THEN he came to Derbe and Lystra, where behold was a certain Disciple named Timothy, the Son of some Jewish Woman that was a Believer, but the Father a Grecian.

1. Who was well testified of by the Brethren, at Lystra and Iconium.

3. Him Paul would have go out with himself, so took, and circumcised him, by reason of the Jews who were in those Places : for they all knew that his Father was a Grecian.

4. And as they passed through the Cities, they delivered to them the Orders, decreed by the Apostles and Elders at Jerusalem, to keep.

5. The Churches were therefore indeed confirmed in the Faith, and were more in Number daily.

6. Now going through Phrygia, and the Country of Galatia, they were forbid by the Holy Spirit to speak the Word in Asia.

7. When they came against Mysia, they tried to go to Bithynia ; but the Spirit would not let them.

Ver. 23. and Brethren] Mills with a seeming Concern, lest these Brethren should be other besides the Apostles and Elders (as they apparently were, unless the whole Church was Apostles and Elders, Ver. 22.) would expunge the [and,] as being not with the Vulg. and a few, probably for the same Reason. Our great Man in his Wisdom pleads (which I must allow him a larger Share of than many Authors) that only the Apostles and Elders came together, Ver. 6. but I don't find the [soli, only] there, nor can I easily think they were all the Multitude, Ver. 12. or those alone who made the much Disputing, Ver. 7. which seems raised by them of the Pharisees, Ver. 5.

Ver. 29. Whoredom] Seven Copies and the Eth. Vers. add, and whatever you would not have done to your selves, not to do to others (in one of the Copies to another) which Hammond animadverts on as if it might be genuine, but Mills says miserably break off the Series of the Oration, and were drawn from Ver. 20. where 5 Copies have the like, and Mills shews were foisted in to join together the Gentile and Jewish Christians.

Ver. 33. done] as the Greek is.

1b. the Apostles] Some have those that sent them, which Wall, though not Mills, insinuates to be right ; which need not much concern us, since he is extravagant in that Affair.

Ver. 34. This Verse some Copies omit ; I suppose it being just a Line, that was missed by Somebody, then for others to follow in an Error is not unusual.

Ver. 37. to take] Mark being his Nephew, Col. iv. 10.

Ver. 3. have go] For the Gr. Verb does not signify to have, but to be willing, or would have.

Ver. 7. against] So the Gr. Prep. properly signifies, and is concurrent with by, Ver. 8. which to is not.

1b. the Spirit] Some add of Jesus, Part with the Article, Part without, which Mills counts genuine, but gives a strange Reason for leaving it out as such, viz. because it sounded too hard. Whitby indeed remarks that the Spirit of Jesus never goes by it self, but concludes thence that Jesus here may be discerned at first Sight to be an Addition, and suspects that it came from the Controversy that arose about the Holy Ghost proceeding from the Son.

8. So they passed by Myſia, and went down to Troas.

9. And a Viſion appeared to Paul by Night : there was a certain Man of Macedonia ſtood beſeeching him in this manner, Come over to Macedonia, and help us.

10. And when he had ſeen the Viſion, we preſently ſought to go to Macedonia, having proof that the Lord called us thither to preach to them.

11. Therefore going off from Troas, we ſailed directly to Samothrace, and the next Day to Neapolis ;

12. As alſo from thence to Philippi, which is the principal City of Part of Macedonia, a Colony ; and we were in that City abiding ſome Days.

13. And on the Sabbath-day we went out of the City by the River, where Prayer uſed to be ; and when we had ſate down, we ſpoke to the Women who were come together.

14. Which a certain Woman heard, named Lydia, a Seller of Purple of the City of Thyatira, that worſhipped God ; whoſe Heart the Lord opened, to give heed to the Things ſpoken by Paul.

15. And when ſhe was baptized, with her Houſhold, ſhe beſought as follows, If you have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my Houſe, and remain ; thus ſhe conſtrained us.

16. As we were going to Prayer, a certain young Woman that had a Spirit of Divination met us ; who by foretelling Things, yielded much Gain to her Maſters.

17. She followed after Paul and us, and thus cried out, Theſe Men are Servants of the Hiſheſt God, who declare to us the Way of Salvation.

18. And this ſhe did for many Days ; ſo that Paul being concerned, turned about, and ſaid to the Spirit, I order thee in the Name of Jeſus Chriſt, to come out of her ; which he did the ſame Hour.

19. Thus her Maſters ſeeing that the Hope of their Gain was gone, they took hold of Paul and Silas, and dragged them into the Market-place to the Rulers.

20. Next they brought them to the Magiſtrates, and ſaid ; Theſe Men, who are Jews, exceedingly trouble our City ;

21. And declare Ceremonies, which it is not lawful for us to receive, nor to do, being Romans.

22. Whereupon the Company roſe up together againſt them, and the Magiſtrates tearing off their Cloaths, commanded they ſhould be whipt.

23. So they laid many Stripes on them, and caſt them into Priſon, ordering the Jailor to keep them ſafely.

24. Who as he received ſuch an Ordre caſt them into the inner Priſon, and made their Feet faſt in the Stocks.

25. But about Midnight Paul and Silas prayed, and ſung praiſe to God ; ſo that the Priſoners heard them.

26. When ſuddenly there was a great Earthquake, inſomuch that the Foundations of the Jail were ſhaken ; nay all the Doors were immediately opened, and the Bonds of all let looſe.

27. Upon this the Jailor being awakened, and ſeeing the Doors of the Priſon open, drew the Sword, and was about to kill himſelf, as he ſuppoſed that the Priſoners were fled out.

28. But Paul called aloud, ſaying, Do no Harm to thy ſelf ; for we are all here.

29. He then aſking for a Light, ruſhed in, and trembling as he was, fell down to Paul and Silas ;

30. And when he had brought them out, he ſaid, Sirs, what muſt I do that I may be ſaved ?

31. To which they answered, Believe on the Lord Jeſus Chriſt ; ſo thou ſhalt be ſaved, and thy Houſhold.

32. Moreover they ſpoke to him the Word of the Lord, and to all in his Houſe.

33. And he took them the ſame Hour of the Night, and waſhed over the Stripes ; then was he baptized, and all his immediately.

34. Bringing them also into his House, he laid on the Table for them; and was joyful with all the Household, believing in God.

35. Besides when it was Day the Magistrates sent the Serjeants to say, Let those Men go.

36. And the Jailor told these Words to Paul, The Magistrates have sent that you should be let go; now therefore depart, and go in Peace.

37. But Paul said to them, They beat us publickly uncondemned, though we were Roman Men, and cast us into Prison; and now would they privately put us forth? No indeed; but let them come themselves, and fetch us out.

38. And the Serjeants rehearsed these Words to the Magistrates, who hearing that they were Romans, were afraid.

39. So they came, and besought them; and bringing them out, intreated they would go out of the City.

40. Thus they came out of the Prison, and went into Lydia's; and seeing the Brethren, they comforted them, and went away.

C H A P. XVII.

AFTERWARDS travelling through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where there was a Synagogue of the Jews.

2. And Paul according to the Custom went in to them, and on three Sabbaths discoursed with them from the Scriptures;

3. Opening and alleging, that it was needful for Christ to suffer, and rise up from the Dead, so that this, whom I declare to you, is Christ Jesus.

4. Upon which some of them were persuaded, and associated with Paul and Silas, as likewise of the religious Grecians a great Multitude, nay of the principal Women not a few.

5. Yet the unbelieving Jews being envious, took some wicked Men of the base ones, and when they had got a Company, made a tumult in the City; and coming to Jason's House, sought to bring them to the People.

6. But as they did not find them, they haled Jason, and some Brethren to the Governors of the City, crying out; These that make disturbance in the World, are also come hither:

7. Whom Jason has received in; and these all do contrary to the Orders of Cesar, saying that there is another King, who is Jesus.

8. Thus they troubled the Company, and the Governors of the City who heard these Things.

9. However taking what was sufficient from Jason and the rest, they let them go.

10. Whereupon the Brethren presently sent forth Paul, and Silas, by Night to Berea; who when they came, went into the Synagogue of the Jews.

11. And these were more noble than they at Thessalonica, being such as received the Word with all Readiness of Mind, and examined the Scriptures daily, whether these Things were so.

12. Many of them therefore indeed believed, as also of honourable Grecian Women, and Men not a few.

13. But when the Jews from Thessalonica knew that the Word of God was likewise declared by Paul at Berea, they came thither too, stirring up the Multitude.

14. And then the Brethren presently sent forth Paul, to go as it were to the Sea; but both Silas and Timothy abode there.

15. Now those who conducted Paul, brought him to Athens; and having received a Command for Silas and Timothy, that these should come to him as soon as possible, they departed.

16. And while Paul was waiting for them at Athens, his Spirit was provoked in him, upon seeing the City was addicted to Idols.

17. Therefore indeed he discoursed in the Synagogue, with the Jews and those that were religious, as likewise in the Market-place on every Day to such as met him.

18. Upon which some of the Epicurean and Stoick Philosophers talked to him, and some said, What will this Babbler prate? And certain, He seems to be a Declarer of strange Demons; because he preached to them Jesus and the Resurrection.

19. So they took hold of him, and brought him to the Areopagus, saying; May we know what is this new Doctrine spoken by thee?

20. For thou bringest some strange Things to our Hearing: we would therefore know what these may be.

21. Since all the Athenians, and Strangers who were Lodgers, spent the Time in Nothing else, but to tell and hear some new Thing.

22. Then Paul standing in the middle of the Areopagus, said: Men of Athens, I see you are too superstitious in all Things.

23. For as I went along, and considered your Things that are worshipped, I found an Altar upon which there was written, To the unknown God. Him therefore whom you unknowingly worship, I declare to you.

24. God who made the World, and all Things in it, he being Lord of Heaven and Earth, does not dwell in Temples made with Hands.

25. Nor is he served by the Hands of Men, as being in want of any Thing; since he gives to all Life, Breath, and all Things.

26. And has made every Nation of Men of the same Blood, to dwell on all the Surface of the Earth, determining the Times appointed before, and the Bounds of their Dwelling.

27. For them to seek the Lord, if indeed they may feel him, and find; although he is not far from each one of us.

28. For in him we live, move and are; as some of the Poets also with you have said, For we are also his Offspring.

29. Being therefore the Offspring of God, we ought not to suppose that the Deity is like Gold, Silver or Stone, carved by the Art and Thought of Man.

30. The Times indeed therefore of Ignorance God having looked over, now orders all Men every where to repent.

31. Because he has appointed a Day on which he will hereafter judge the World in Righteousness, by the Man whom he has determined; having yielded Belief to all, in raising him up from the Dead.

32. But when they heard of the Resurrection of the Dead, some indeed scoffed, and some said, We will hear thee again concerning this.

33. And so Paul went away from amongst them.

34. Notwithstanding certain Men joined with him, and believed; among whom also was Dionysius the Areopagite, as likewise a Woman named Damaris, and others with them.

CHAP. XVIII.

NOW after these Things Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinth.

2. Where he found a certain Jew named Aquila, by Race from Pontus, who came lately from Italy, with Priscilla his Wife (because Claudius had ordered all Jews to depart from Rome) and he went to them.

He brings for Proof Luke's having it so Ver. 29. by which one might think he was for the former, but the latter is far better supported, which suspended his Choice. While I do not much doubt but Strom, the Deity or Godhead was fetched from thence, and then altered into Strom, God.

4. Then

4. Then he discoursed in the Synagogue on every Sabbath, and persuaded the Jews and Grecians.

5. And when both Silas and Timothy came down from Macedonia, Paul was pressed in Spirit, and testified to the Jews that Jesus was the Christ.

6. But as they opposed and blasphemed, he shook his Cloaths, and said to them, Your Blood will be upon your own Head; I am clean: henceforth I will go to the Gentiles.

7. So he departed thence, and went into the House of one named Justus, that worshipped God, whose House was bordering on the Synagogue.

8. And Crispus a Ruler of the Synagogue believed on the Lord, with his whole Household; nay many of the Corinthians when they heard, believed, and were baptized.

9. Moreover the Lord said by a Vision in the Night to Paul; Do not fear, but speak, and be not silent.

10. Because I am with thee, and none shall put upon thee to hurt thee; because I have many People in the City.

11. Whereupon he staid a Year and six Months, teaching the Word of God among them.

12. However when Gallio was Proconsul of Achaia, the Jews stood up unanimously against Paul, and brought him to the Judgment-seat,

13. Saying, He persuades Men to worship God contrary to the Law.

14. And as Paul was about to open the Mouth, Gallio said to the Jews; If it were then indeed any Injury, or wicked Mischief, O Jews, I should according to Reason bear with you.

15. But if it be a Question about a Word, and Names, and the Law according to you; see your selves: for I will be no Judge of these Things.

16. Then he drove them away from the Judgment-seat.

17. Besides all the Grecians took hold of Sosthenes a Ruler of the Synagogue, and beat him before the Judgment-seat: and Gallio cared for none of these Things.

18. Afterwards Paul abode yet many Days, and when he had taken leave of the Brethren, sailed away to Syria, and with him Priscilla and Aquila; he having clipt his Head at Cenchrea: for he had a Vow.

19. And he came to Ephesus, but left them there; and going himself into the Synagogue, discoursed with the Jews.

21. But took leave of them, saying, I must by all means keep the Feast that is coming at Jerusalem, however I will turn back again to you, if God be willing: so he went away from Ephesus.

22. And going down to Cesarea, when he had gone up, and saluted the Church, he went down to Antioch.

Ver. 10. I am with thee, and] Though none is without this but the Esth. Transl. Mills says he suspects it, for, Who, adds he, would blot out such? But I say, Who might not miss it?

Ib. put upon thee] as commonly said in Eng. and exactly the Meaning of the Gr.

Ver. 17. the Grecians] both Grotius and Mills reckon for an Addition, being not in 2 or 3 Copies, and 2 Versions; the latter also argues that they were Jews who beat Sosthenes, as 1 Copy has it, yet rejects each as a marginal Gloss. Notwithstanding all this, ours may stand in its own sufficient Strength; nay Sosthenes being a chief Man of the Jews, the Grecians were manifestly they who beat him, as likewise Ham. and Whit. shew.

Ib. cared for none of these Things] did not concern himself to hinder them, or punish them for seizing, beating him, &c.

Ver. 18. he having] namely Paul, though Hammond took it to be Aquila; but then it would have been properly who had. Moreover Paul is thought to be going to Jerusalem on that Account, Ver. 21. according to Chap. xxi. 26. Num. vi. 2, 10.

Ver. 21. took leave] as Ver. 18. and farewell is so well Sax. or old Eng. and so not proper to those that stay. And bade being here for pray, according to Johns. in Dict. and 2 John x. 11. bade them farewell is an odd Sort of Expression, though used now from the Scripture.

Ib. I must by all means keep the Feast that is coming at Jerusalem] As 5 or 6 Exemplars and 3 Versions are destitute of all this, our Mills does not stick to affirm it is from elsewhere; but from whence he is at a Loss, nay for even so much as the Occasion given to add it, which latter only he supposes was by either Ch. xx. 16. or xix. 21. and just after by 1 Cor. xvi. 8. How incredible! Besides if the following & but is in those Books, which Mills does not mention to be out, by his Note or Prolog. 1202. that will quite defeat his Attempt against the foregoing.

Ver. 22. going down] which the Gr. Word signifies, not landed.

Ib. gone up] to Jerusalem, according to the Ver. before, and as our Expositors understand it, it being also up thither from thence, Ch. xxv. 1, 6, 7, 9. & xxi. 8, 12. and as Whitby says he otherwise went not now thither at all.

Ver. 23. employed] Gr. doing.

try of Galatia and Phrygia, confirming all the Disciples.

24. And a certain Man named Apollos, by Race from Alexandria, an eloquent Man, came to Ephesus, who was powerful in the Scriptures.

25. He was instructed in the Way of the Lord, and being fervent in the Spirit, spoke and taught diligently the Things of the Lord, though he knew only the Baptism of John.

26. Nay he began to speak boldly in the Synagogue; whom Aquila and Priscilla hearing, took him, and expounded to him the Way of God more thoroughly.

27. And when he would go to Achaia, the Brethren wrote, exhorting the Disciples to receive him; who came, and did much assist those that believed through Grace.

28. For he earnestly confuted the Jews in Publick, shewing by the Scriptures that Jesus was the Christ.

C H A P XIX.

AND while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul going through the upper Parts, came to Ephesus; and as he found some Disciples,

2. He enquired of them, Have you received the Holy Spirit since you believed? To whom they said, No, nor have we heard whether there is a Holy Spirit.

3. Upon this he asked them, In what then were you baptized? And they answered, In John's Baptism.

4. To which Paul replied; John indeed baptized with the Baptism of Repentance, saying to the People, that they should believe on him who was coming after him, that is on Christ Jesus.

5. Which when these heard, they were baptized in the Name of the Lord Jesus.

6. And Paul putting Hands on them, the Holy Spirit came upon them, so that they spoke in Languages, and prophesied.

7. And all the Men were about twelve.

8. He further went into the Synagogue, and spoke boldly for three Months, discoursing and persuading the Things concerning the Kingdom of God.

9. But when some were hardened, and did not believe, speaking ill of the Way before the Multitude; he departed from them, and separated the Disciples, discoursing daily in the School of one Tyrannus.

10. And this was done for two Years, so that all who dwelt in Asia heard the Word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Grecians.

11. Moreover God did extraordinary powerful Things, by the Hands of Paul:

12. Inasmuch that even Handkerchiefs or Aprons, were brought from his Body to those who were sick; upon which the Diseases were sent away from them, and the evil Spirits went out of them.

13. Then some of the Jews that went about for Conjurers, attempted to name the Name of the Lord Jesus for them who had evil Spirits, saying, We conjure you by Jesus whom Paul preaches.

14. And there were some Sons of Sceva a Jew, that belonged to the high Priest, being seven, who did this.

15. But the evil Spirit made answer, Jesus I know, and Paul I am acquainted with; but who are you?

16. Besides the Man in whom the evil Spirit was, leaped on them, and having dominion over them, was so strong against them, that they fled out of that House, naked and wounded.

17. And this was made known to all, both Jews and Grecians, who dwelt at Ephesus; whereupon Fear fell on them all, and the Name of the Lord Jesus was magnified.

18. Nay many of them that believed came, and confessed, rehearsing their Deeds.

19. Many also of those who practised Things too curious, brought the Books together, and burnt before them all; and when they computed the Prices of them,

Ver. 25. He] the same as at the Beginning of the next Verse.

Ver. 27. through Grace] How weak or wild is the Conjecture of Mills, that on the Omission of this in the vulg. Lat. it was added from Ch. xv. 11. the Passages being so unlike! see also Whitby's Answ.

Ver. 28. confuted] so the Genev. Transf. the Bishops Bib. and Tyndal have overcame; whereas convinced is used to denote a Change of Mind, which it does not appear those Jews were brought to, Ch. xix. 17.

Ver. 3. In] for Unto seems improper; and thus others render it, some With; and it is the same as at Ver. 5.

Ver. 9. Two Copies subjoin to this, from the fifth Hour to the tenth; which the Gen. Writers took into their Marg. as if it had been a far more considerable, and doubtful Reading, than it is.

Ver. 14. belonged to the high Priest] or were of the high priest, as the same Word, being in the genit. Case sing. is rendered in the com. Transf. Mat. xxvi. 3. Mark ii. 26. & xiv. 47, 54, 66. Luke xxii. 50. John xviii. 15, 26: by Ham. one (viz. Sceva) of the chief of the families of the Priests. But how unjustifiably have our Translators rendered it in the Nom. plur. making chief of the priests some of them?

Ver. 15. am acquainted with] the Gr. Verbs being different, and the Expression thus sounding best.

Ver. 16. having dominion over them] For them about a dozen have both which Mills says is quite right, and expounds it to be Sceva and his Sons; but I find no intimation that the Father was one, and therefore may well refuse it, as also for its being so oddly between two them, being made perhaps to lessen the three.

Ver. 18. of them] being the genitive Case plur. as in the next and 22 Verse.

they found the same fifty thousand Pieces of Silver.

20. So mightily did the Word of the Lord increase, and was strong.

21. As soon as these Things were completed, Paul proposed in the Spirit, when he had gone through Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying, After I have been there, I must also see Rome.

22. And sending into Macedonia two of them who ministered to him, Timothy and Erastus, he waited a while in Asia.

23. At which Time there was made not a little Bustle concerning this Way.

24. For one named Demetrius, a Silver-smith who made silver Shrines for Diana, yielded not a little Gain to the Tradesmen.

25. Whom he got together, with those who were at such Work, and said; Men, you know that from this Workmanship we have the Wealth.

26. You see too, and hear, that not only at Ephesus, but in almost all Asia, this Paul by persuading, has turned away a great Company, saying that they are not gods which are made by Hands.

27. Thus it is not only dangerous to us, that this Business will come to Nought; but also that the Temple of the great goddess Diana will be of no Account, and her Magnificence be hereafter overthrown, whom all Asia and the World worships.

28. Which hearing, they also became full of Wrath, and cried out as follows, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

29. Whereupon the whole City was filled with Confusion; and unanimously ran with violence into the Theatre, catching Gaius and Aristarchus, Macedonians, Paul's Fellow-Travellers.

30. And when Paul would have gone in to the People, the Disciples did not permit him.

31. Nay even some of the chief of Asia, who were his Friends, sent to him, and besought that he would not commit himself to the Theatre.

32. Divers therefore indeed cried divers

Things: for the Assembly was in confusion, and many did not know for what Cause they were come together.

33. They then brought Alexander out of the Company, the Jews putting him forward; so he beckoned with the Hand, and would have made a defence to the People.

34. But they knowing that he was a Jew, there was the same Voice uttered by them all, who cried out for about two Hours, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

35. At last the Recorder restrained the Company, and said: Men of Ephesus, what Person indeed is there who does not know, the City of the Ephesians to be the Temple-keeper of the great goddess Diana, and of what fell from Jupiter?

36. Therefore these Things being not to be contradicted, it is needful you should be restrained, and do Nothing rashly.

37. For you have brought these Men, who are neither sacrilegious, nor blaspheme your goddesses.

38. If therefore indeed Demetrius, and the Tradesmen that are with him, have a Matter against any one, Court-days are kept, and there are Deputies, let them plead against one another.

39. Whereas if you seek for any Thing concerning other Matters, it may be explained in a lawful Assembly.

40. And indeed we are in danger to be accused, for the Mutiny to Day; there being no Cause whereby we can render the Reason of this Mob.

41. And having said these Things, he sent away the Assembly.

CHAP. XX.

AND after the Tumult was ceased, Paul called thither the Disciples, and when he had saluted them, went away to go into Macedonia.

2. Then going through those Parts, and exhorting them with many Words, he came into Greece.

Ver. 1. to go into Macedonia] Whither he went by Troas, 2 Cor. ii. 12, 13. being northward from Ephesus, both in Lesser Asia, at the west Side of it, against the Egean Sea.

3. Where

3. Where he employed three Months, and lying in wait being made for him by the Jews, when he was about to go away into Syria, he was minded to return through Macedonia.

4. And there accompanied him quite to Asia, Sopater of Berea, as also of the Thessalonians Aristarchus and Secundus, with Gaius of Derbe, and Timothy, as likewise of Asia Tychicus and Trophimus.

5. These went before, and remained for us at Troas.

6. And we sailing away from Philippi after the Days of unleavened Bread, came to them at Troas in five Days, where we abode seven Days.

7. When on the first after the Sabbath, as the Disciples were gathered together to break Bread, Paul discoursed to them, being about to depart the next Day, and continued the Speech till Midnight.

8. And there were many Lamps in the Chamber, where they were gathered together.

9. Now a certain young Man, named Eutychus, who sat in a Window, being sunk into a deep Sleep, while Paul discoursed longer, he sinking with Sleep, fell down from the third Story, and was taken up dead.

10. Upon this Paul went down, and fell on him, then embracing, said, Make no disturbance; for his Life is in him.

11. Next he went up, and when he had broke Bread, and eat, as also talked much till Break of Day, thus he went away.

12. And they brought the Lad alive, so that they were moderately comforted.

13. We then going before to the Ship, went away to Assos, as we were about to take in Paul from thence: for so it was ordered, he being about to go on Foot.

14. Accordingly when he met with us at Assos, we took him in, and came to Mitylene.

15. And from thence we sailed away, and the next Day came over against Chios, and another we arrived at Samos, and staid in Trogyllium, then on the Morrow came to Miletus.

16. For Paul had determined to sail by Ephesus, that he might not spend Time in Asia: for he made haste, to be if he could at Jerusalem the fiftieth Day.

17. So he sent from Miletus to Ephesus, and called for the Elders of the Church.

18. And when they were come to him, he said to them: You know from the first Day that I entered into Asia, how I have been with you at all Times;

19. Serving the Lord with all Humility of Mind, and with many Tears and Trials which beset me, by the lying in wait of the Jews:

20. How I keep back Nothing that was profitable, which I did not rehearse to you, and teach you publickly, even from House to House;

21. Testifying both to the Jews and Grecians, Repentance to God, and Faith to our Lord Jesus Christ.

22. And now behold I am going bound by the Spirit to Jerusalem, not knowing what Things will meet with me in that Place;

23. Besides that the Holy Spirit testifies from City to City, saying that Bonds and Afflictions remain for me.

24. But I make Account of Nothing, nor have my Life valuable to my self; as it is to finish my Course with Joy, and the Ministry which I have received from the Lord Jesus, by testifying the Gospel of God's Grace.

25. And now behold I perceive, that all you among whom I have gone preaching the Kingdom of God, will see my Face no more.

Ver. 4. quite to Asia] two MSS. and three Transf. want, so one of Mills's Marginal Scholiums, for who would omit such notable Words? he says. Answ. Some might not think it material how far those Men went; or it might be missed by Oversight, and so left, not to blemish the Copy, according to the 4th Canon in Westen's Edit.

Ib. Sopater] Some have Sospater, probably from Rem. xvi. 21. more Sopater the Son of Pyrrhus, which seems traditionary.

Ver. 15. staid in Trogyllium then] some leave out, Mills says he knows not from what Cause, Pro. 436. I suppose because meinantes, staid, seemed too much for one Night.

Ver. 23. remain for] West. await.

Ib. in Jerusalem] the Gen. Marg. concludes the Verse with; but it is too surreptitious to gain the Criticks Approbation.

Ver. 24. Ignatius remarkably bold to this Effect, in his Epistle to the Romans writes; when he was in his Journey to their City, to suffer Death by wild Beasts, and his Resolution about to be put to so terrible a Trial before them, Let Fire, and the Cross, as also Companies of wild Beasts, Quarterings, Pullings asunder (so I translate from the Gr.) Scatterings of Bones, Tearing of Limbs, Grindings of the whole Body, bad Torments of the Devil come upon me; only that I may obtain Jesus Christ.

Ib. I make Account of Nothing] closely literal.

Ib. with Joy] Mills first believed this was transcribed, then affirmed it to be a Gloss, from Heb. xiii. 17. there being five or six MSS. four Versions, and three Authors without it; but it might almost raise Indignation to see the blessed Scripture treated thus, since this is with quite another Matter in Heb. and so altogether unlikely to be taken thence.

Ver. 25. perceive] which the Gr. Verb signifying as well as know, must I think be more eligible; since it appears that Paul did return into those Parts afterwards, by 1 Tim. i. 3. 2 Tim. iv. and as the Chronologers shew; particularly Wall here.

26. Therefore I testify to you this Day, that I am clean from the Blood of all.

27. For I have not drawn back, from rehearsing to you all the Counsel of God.

28. Take heed then to your selves, and to all the Flock, among whom the Holy Spirit has put you Overseers, to feed the Church of God, which he has obtained by his own Blood.

29. For I know this, that after my Departure, grievous Wolves will come in to you, and not spare the Flock.

30. Nay from your selves will Men rise up, and speak perverse Things, to get away Disciples after them.

31. Therefore watch, remembering that three Years, Night and Day, I did not cease admonishing each one with Tears.

32. And now I commit you, Brethren, to God, and to the Word of his Grace, that can build up, and give you an Inheritance among all those who are sanctified.

33. Either Silver, Gold, or Cloaths, have I coveted of none.

34. On the contrary you your selves know, that these Hands ministred to my Wants, and to them who were with me.

35. I shewed you all Things, that so labouring you should help the Weak, and remember the Words of the Lord Jesus, since he said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.

36. And having said these Things, he bended down his Knees, and prayed with all of them.

37. There was likewise much Weeping of them all; nay they fell upon Paul's Neck, and kissed him;

38. Sorrowing most for the Words which he had said, that they would see his Face no more: so they conducted him into the Ship.

C H A P. XXI.

AS soon as to go off, we were got away from them, we sailed directly on, and came to Coos, as also the Day following to Rhodes, and from thence to Patara.

2. Where we found a Ship passing over to Phenice, and going aboard, we went off.

3. At length we perceived Cyprus, which leaving on the left, we sailed to Syria, and were carried away to Tyre: for there the Ship was to unload the Cargo.

4. And finding Disciples, we staid there seven Days; who spoke to Paul by the Spirit, not to go up to Jerusalem.

5. Now when we had accomplished the Days, we departed, and went on, they all conducting us, with the Women and Children, to the Outside of the City; then we bended down the Knees on the Shoar, and prayed.

6. In the next place saluting one another, we went aboard into the Ship; and they returned to their own Places.

7. Afterwards we finished the Voyage from Tyre, and came to Ptolemais; and saluting the Brethren, remained with them one Day.

8. And the next Day we who went out belonging to Paul, came to Cesarea, and going into the House of Philip the Evangelist, that was one of the seven, we remained with him.

9. And he had four Daughters, that were Virgins, who prophesied.

10. We also staying many Days, a certain Prophet, named Agabus, came down from Judea.

11. Who when he came to us, took Paul's Girdle, then binding his own Hands and Feet, said; Thus says the Holy Spirit, So will the Jews at Jerusalem bind the Man to whom this Girdle belongs, and deliver into the Hands of the Gentiles.

12. As soon as we heard these Things, both we and they that were in the Place, besought him not to go up to Jerusalem.

13. Nevertheless Paul answered, What do ye, weeping, and breaking my Heart? For I am ready, not only to be bound, but also to die at Jerusalem, for the Name of the Lord Jesus.

Ver. 28. God] Some have the Lord, others the Lord and God, three or four Christ; Grotius made choice of the former of them for genuine; but Mills largely shews that the received God is so.

Ver. 8. belonging to Paul] Several want this, but I don't find Mills espousing it.

Ver. 13. at Jerusalem] is asserted by Mills to be of the 12 Ver. while but two Copies and two Authors omit it, Prol. 1487. and Whitby says the latter as not to their Pur-

15. And after these Days, taking up the Baggage, we went up to Jerusalem.

16. And some of the Disciples too from Cesarea went along with us, bringing us to one Mnason of Cyprus, an ancient Disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17. We being come at length to Jerusalem, the Brethren received us gladly.

18. Moreover the next Day Paul went in with us to James, and all the Elders were present.

19. When he saluted them, and declared what Things God had done among the Gentiles by his Ministry, each one particularly.

20. Which having heard, they glorified the Lord, and said to him: Thou seest, Brother, how many ten thousand Jews there are who believe, and they are all zealous in the Law.

21. And they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Jews who are with the Gentiles to fall away from Moses, saying they should not circumcise the Children, nor walk in the Ceremonies.

22. What then is to be? The Multitude must by all means come together: for they will hear that thou art come.

23. Do therefore this that we say to thee: there are with us four Men who have a Vow upon themselves;

24. Take these, and be purified with them, and be at expence on them: that they may shave the Head, and all may know, that what they have been informed of thee is Nothing, but thou thy self also goest on keeping the Law.

25. And concerning the Gentiles who believe, we have written, judging they should observe no such Thing, except to keep themselves not only from Things offered to Idols, but Blood, Things strangled and Whoredom.

26. Then Paul took the Men, was purified with them the next Day, and went to the Temple; declaring the Days of Purification were fulfilled, till an Offering should be offered for each one of them.

27. But when the seven Days were ready to be finished, the Jews from Asia perceiving him at the Temple, stirred up all the Company, and laid Hands on him;

28. Crying out, Men of Israel, help: this is the Person, who every where teaches all, against the People, the Law, and this Place; nay further he has even brought Grecians into the Temple, and polluted this holy Place.

29. For they had before been seeing Trophimus the Ephesian in the City with him, whom they supposed Paul had brought into the Temple.

30. Whereupon the whole City was moved, and the People were running together; who took hold of Paul, and dragged him without the Temple, and presently the Gates were shut.

31. But as they were seeking to kill him, there went up News to the Colonel of the Regiment, that all Jerusalem was in confusion.

32. Who at the same Time taking Soldiers and Centurions, ran upon them; and when they saw the Colonel and Soldiers, they left off beating Paul.

33. And the Colonel coming near, took hold of him, and commanded he should be bound with two Chains; as also enquired who he was, and what he had done.

Ver. 20. all zealous in the Law] Wall in the Pref. to his Critical Notes on the Various Readings, p. 11, 12. says those Jewish Christians remained to the Time of Epiphanius, 370. and (what is shocking) that the Breach of Communion between them and the Gentile Christians was the greatest Misfortune that ever befel the Christian Church, and that St. Paul never blamed the Use of the Jewish Law in a Jewish Christian; but see Heb. vii. 12, 18. & ix. 10. & x. 9. Rom. vii. 4, 6. Gal. iii. 24, 25. & iv. 3, 4, 5. & v. 1, 4. and this was what Toland made such a Noise in behalf of, a chief one of them whom Wall there so zealously writes against as Atheists.

Ver. 21. Here Wall, in Pursuance of that of his mentioned on the preceding Verse, proposes now for the Conversion of the Jews, not to require them to forsake the Law of Moses, nay what is still stranger, even to conform to them in some Things.

37. However as Paul was about to be brought into the Garrison, he said to the Colonel, May I speak Something to thee? And he asked, Dost thou know Greek?

38. Art not thou the Egyptian, who before now didst make disturbance, and take out into the Wilderness four thousand Men that were Murderers?

39. But Paul said, I am indeed a Man who am a Jew of Tarsus in Cilicia, a Citizen not of an obscure City; so I pray thee, permit me to speak to the People.

40. And when he permitted him, Paul stood on the Stairs, and beckoned with the Hand to the People; whereupon much Stillness being made, he spoke to them in the Hebrew Language as follows:

C H A P. XXII.

MEN, Brethren and Fathers, hear my Defence now to you.

2. And upon hearing that he spoke to them in the Hebrew Language, they yielded the more silence; then he said:

3. I am indeed a Man who am a Jew, born at Tarsus in Cilicia, but bred up in this City at the Feet of Gamaliel, learned thoroughly according to the Law of the Fathers, being zealous for God, as you all are to Day.

4. Who persecuted this Way to Death, binding, and committing to Prisons, both Men and Women;

5. As the high Priest will testify for me, and all the Elders, from whom also I received Letters to the Brethren, and went for Damascus, to bring likewise them that were there bound to Jerusalem, that they might be punished.

6. While I was going, and being come near Damascus about Noon, there suddenly shone out of Heaven a great Light round about me.

7. Then I fell to the Ground, and heard a Voice say to me, Saul, Saul, why dost thou persecute me?

8. And I answered, Who art thou, Lord? Then he said to me, I am Jesus the Nazorite, whom thou persecutest.

9. They also that were with me saw indeed the Light, and were frightened, but did not hear the Voice of him who spoke to me.

10. Upon this I said, What shall I do, Lord? When the Lord said to me, Arise, and go to Damascus, and there it shall be told thee concerning all Things which are appointed for thee to do.

11. And when I could not see for the Glory of that Light, being led with the Hand by those who were with me, I came to Damascus.

12. Now Ananias, a certain Man pious according to the Law, well testified by all the Jews that were Inhabitants,

13. Came to me, and as he stood by, said to me, Brother Saul, have sight; upon which I had the sight of him that Hour.

14. And he said; The God of our Fathers made choice of thee, to know his Will, to see the Righteous One, and hear the Voice from his Mouth.

15. Since thou shalt be a Witness for him to all Men, of what Things thou hast seen and heard.

16. And now why dost thou delay? Rise up, and be baptized, and wash away thy Sins, calling on the Name of the Lord.

17. At length I returned to Jerusalem, and as I prayed at the Temple, I was in a Trance;

18. And saw him saying to me, Make haste, and go quickly out of Jerusalem; because they will not receive thy Testimony concerning me.

19. To which I answered; Lord, they know,

know, that I was he who imprisoned, and beat such as believed on thee, throughout the Synagogues.

20. Nay when the Blood of Stephen thy Martyr was shed, I my self also was one that stood by, and consented to his Death, as also kept the Cloaths of those who killed him.

21. But he replied to me, Go; since I will send thee forth far off to the Gentiles.

22. And they heard him as far as these Words, then raised up their Voice, saying, Take away such a one from the Earth; for it is not fit he should live.

23. So upon their crying out, and throwing off the Cloaths, as also casting Dust into the Air;

24. The Colonel commanded him to be brought into the Garrison, saying he should be examined by Whipping, that he might know for what Cause they exclaimed so at him.

25. However as they were tying him hard with Thongs, Paul said to the Centurion that stood there, Is it lawful for you to whip a Man who is a Roman, and uncondemned?

26. Which the Centurion hearing, he went near, and told the Colonel as follows, See what thou art about to do; for this Man is a Roman.

27. The Colonel then came near, and asked him, Tell me whether thou art a Roman? And he said, Yes.

28. Whereupon the Colonel answered, I procured this being a Citizen with a great Sum; but, said Paul, I was so born.

29. Presently therefore those who were about to examine him departed from him; and the Colonel too was afraid, on knowing that he was a Roman, and that he had been binding him.

30. And the next Day being willing to know the Certainty why he was accused by the Jews, he let him loose from the Bonds, and commanded the chief Priests with all their Council to come; he also took Paul thither, and set him among them.

AND Paul looking stedfastly on the Council, said, Men, Brethren, I have behaved my self to God with all good Conscience to this Day.

2. Upon which the high Priest Ananias bade them that stood by him, to strike him on the Mouth.

3. Then Paul said to him, God will hereafter strike thee, thou whited Wall: for dost thou sit judging me according to the Law, and by transgressing it, commandest me to be stricken?

4. And they who stood by said, Dost thou rail at God's high Priest?

5. To which Paul answered, I did not know, Brethren, that he was the high Priest; for it is written, Thou shalt not speak ill of a Ruler of thy People.

6. But Paul knowing that there was one Part of Sadducees, and another of Pharisees, he cried out in the Council, Men, Brethren, I am a Pharisee, the Son of a Pharisee; concerning the Hope and Resurrection of the Dead am I judged.

7. And when he had expressed this, there was a Dissension made between the Pharisees and Sadducees, so that the Multitude was divided.

8. For the Sadducees indeed say there is no Resurrection, nor yet Angel, or Spirit; whereas the Pharisees confess both.

9. Thus there was a great Cry made, and the Scribes of the Part of the Pharisees rose up, and contested thus, We find Nothing ill in this Man; but if a Spirit or an Angel has spoken to him, let us not fight against God.

10. Now much Dissension being made, as the Colonel feared lest Paul should be torn asunder by them, he commanded the Soldiers to go down, and take him away from among them by force, and bring him into the Garrison.

Ver. 20. Stephen] Mills says he can scarce think but the Omission of this, as in one Copy only, is genuine, Pr. 1351. Who, adds he, would leave out such a notable Word? But any one might, if ever so notable, and this would bear it.

Ib. to his Death] a few omit, and Mills thereupon says is of Chap. viii. 1. rather, say I, as it could better be spared here, the Curtailers laid hold of it.

Ver. 29. and that he had been binding him] Mills fears, he says, that some Scholiast added this, because the Ethiop. Vers. has not it; but since that is all, he may keep his Fear to himself.

Ver. 30. from the Bonds] is added Mills says, Pro. 957. five or six Copies, and four Versions being without it; but then consider how many more have it. This Whitby misses.

Ib. come] not appear. A few have come together, which Grotius says is better, and Wall the true Reading; but there is more Likelihood of Alteration to that than the other, which Mills I suppose saw, and wisely shunned it, as fond as he was of new Readings.

Ver. 3. judging] a Participle of the pres. Tense, and as Whitby says actually was.

Ib. by transgressing it] a Participle in Gr. and contrary to the Law, by a Prep. and Noun, is a Reading but of one Copy according to Mills, with three Versions, and two Authors.

Ver. 5. did not know] West. was not aware, and in his Note, did not advert to it.

Ver. 9. let us not fight against God] Both Erasmus and Mills count this written in from Ch. v. 39. some not having it; which put me indeed to a Stand for an Instant, knowing that [if] is sometimes used imperfectly, but I soon recalled to Mind that it is in Affirmations, being to make them strong, by what is implied, not as I know of imperatively; and a Mistake in this Respect might cause the Omission, nor is it imperative Ch. 5.

11. And the next Night the Lord stood by him, and said, Take courage, Paul: for as thou hast testified concerning me at Jerusalem, so must thou also do at Rome.

12. However when it was Day, some of the Jews raised a Mob, and binding themselves by cursing, affirmed they would neither eat nor drink, till they had killed Paul.

13. And there were more than forty that made this Conspiracy.

14. Who went to the chief Priests and Elders, and said; We have bound our selves with a Curse, to taste Nothing till we have killed Paul.

15. Now therefore do ye, with the Council, inform the Colonel, that he should bring him away to you to Morrow, as if ye would know Things more thoroughly concerning him; and we before he comes near, are ready to kill him.

16. But as the Son of Paul's Sister heard of the lying in wait, he came, and entering into the Garrison, told Paul.

17. And Paul called thither one of the Centurions, and said, Introduce this young Man to the Colonel; for he has Something to tell him.

18. Therefore indeed he taking him, brought to the Colonel, and said, Paul the Prisoner called me thither, and intreated to bring this young Man to thee, who has Something to speak to thee.

19. So the Colonel took hold of him by the Hand, and going aside privately, asked, What is it thou hast to tell me?

20. And he said; The Jews have agreed to intreat thee, that thou wouldest bring Paul away to Morrow into the Council, as if they would ask Something more thoroughly concerning him.

21. Do not thou therefore believe them: for there lie in wait for him more than forty Men of them, who have bound themselves by cursing, neither to eat nor drink, till they have put him to death; and now they are ready, looking for a Promise from thee.

22. Therefore the Colonel indeed sent away the young Man, ordering him, Speak to Nobody, that thou hast informed me of these Things.

23. Next he called two certain Centurions, and said; Get ready two hundred Soldiers, that they may go to Cesarea, with seventy Horsemen, and two hundred Spearmen, at the third Hour of the Night.

24. And provide Beasts, that they may set Paul on, and carry him safely to Felix the Governor.

25. He moreover wrote a Letter that contained according to this Copy:

26. Claudius Lysias salutes the very powerful Governor Felix.

27. This Man, being taken by the Jews, and about to be killed by them, I came upon with the Troops, and delivered him, having learned that he was a Roman.

28. And as I was willing to know the Cause for which they accused him, I brought him away into their Council.

29. Whom I found accused concerning Questions of their Law; but having no Crime that deserved Death, or Bonds.

30. It being also related to me, that there would be lying in wait for the Man by the Jews, I have sent at the same Time to thee, ordering the Accusers likewise to tell thee what there was against him. Farewel.

31. The Soldiers therefore indeed, according as it was ordered them, took Paul, and brought him by Night to Antipatris

32. And the next Day letting the Horsemen go with him, they returned to the Garrison:

33. The other came to Cesarea, and when they had delivered the Letter to the Governor, presented Paul also to him.

34. And after the Governor had read that, he asked of what Province he was, and having enquired that he was from Cilicia;

35. I will hear thee fully, said he, when thy Accusers also come. So he commanded him to be kept in Herod's Judgment-hall.

Ib. called me thither, and] is ejected by Mills, but allowed the Honour of creeping from the Ver. before: however for the first the Evidence of two Versions alone will be invalid, unless that of all the rest, and of all the Copies to the contrary is so, which would be notably absurd; and as for the last, what is more unlikely, since the calling was of another Person there?

Ver. 25. He moreover wrote] The Vulgate has before it, For he was afraid lest perhaps the Jews should take him

Ver. 30. by the Jews] crept, Mills says, from Ver. 27. being not with a few, Pr. 1352. but how much likelier was it left out, since only too by a few, as unnecessary, because it is in Ver. 27.

Ib. at the same Time] None are without this it seems but the Vulg. and Ethiop. Transf. yet Mills refers it to Ch. x. 33. Pr. 442. how incredible!

Ib. what there was against him] the Vulg. only not having, Mills denies to be Luke's, thus taking away three Parcels from this Verse.

Ver. 32. letting] as Ch. xiv. 16. not left.

Ver. 35. So he commanded him to be kept in Herod's Judgment-hall] Mills, how strange soever it is for so wise and skilful a Man in these Matters, counts this all a Gloss to increase the History, though no Copy, Version or Author omits it, only a very few vary a little, Pr. 954.

C H A P. XXIV.

ACCORDINGLY five Days after the high Priest Ananias, with the Elders went down, and Tertullus a certain Orator, who informed the Governor against Paul.

2. And he being called, Tertullus began thus to accuse: The many Things of Peace obtained by thee, and the good Deeds done for this Nation by thy Providing,

3. Both wholly and every where we receive, very powerful Felix, with all Thankfulness.

4. But that I may not hinder thee any longer, I beseech thee to hear us briefly in thy Gentleness.

5. For we found this Man pestilent, and stirring Dissension among all the Jews throughout the World, as also a Ring-leader of the Sect of the Nazorites.

6. Who further tried to profane the Temple, whom then we took hold of, and would have judged according to our Law.

7. But Lyfias the Colonel came, and took him away out of our Hands with much Violence;

8. Commanding his Accusers to come to thee, by examining of whom thou thy self mayest know concerning all these Things, of which we accuse him.

9. And the Jews also agreed, declaring these Things were so.

10. Then Paul answered, as the Governor nodded to him to speak: Knowing thou hast been a Judge to this Nation for many Years, I defend what is relating to my self with Cheerfulness.

11. Thou mayest know, that there are not more than twelve Days, since I went up to worship at Jerusalem.

12. And they neither found me at the Temple discoursing with any one, or making the Company be in a Croud, either in the Synagogues, or throughout the City.

13. Nor can they stand by the Things they now accuse me about.

14. However this I confess to thee, that according to the Way which they call Heresy, so I worship the God of the Fathers, believing all Things written in the Law and the Prophets;

15. And have Hope in God, that which they themselves also look for, that there will be a Resurrection of the Dead, both of the Righteous and Unrighteous.

16. Nay in this I exercise my self, to have a Conscience inoffensive to God and Men always.

17. And in many Years I came to bestow Alms on my Nation, and Offerings.

18. In which some Jews from Asia found me purified at the Temple, not with a Company, nor with Tumult.

19. Who should have come hither to thee, and accused, if they had any Thing against me.

20. Or let these themselves speak, if they found any Injury in me, while I stood in the Council;

21. Or about this one Expression with which I cried out as I stood among them, Concerning the Resurrection of the Dead am I judged to Day by you.

22. So when Felix heard these Things, he deferred them, knowing more fully the Matters concerning the Way, and said, When Lyfias the Colonel comes down, I shall thoroughly know the Things with you.

23. And he ordered a Centurion to keep Paul, and to let him be loose, as also to hinder none that belonged to him, from ministering or coming to him.

24. Moreover some Days after Felix came with his Wife Drusilla who was a Jewess, and sent for Paul, so heard him concerning the Faith in Christ.

Ver. 2. Providing] Providence being applied to God. Very 15. of the Dead] is inserted, writes Mills, for Clearness, 3 Copies and the Vulg. being without it; did he think then the Resurrection would have been mistaken for of the Living? It was left out doubtless as thought sufficiently included in Resurrection.

Ver. 16. always] Mills gives a strange wild Relation of this in Prolog. 1106. only however as vehemently suspected by himself, that the Word was first written in the Marg. to illustrate I exercise, that it might answer to Ch. xxvi. 7. and then crept hither into an unfit Place; which would be creeping indeed; and if this is not exercising Imagination instead of Judgment, what is? He found it wanting in two or three Copies, Kuster in one more, of how little Weight that?

Ver. 18. some Jews from Asia] was written to the Margin, Mills says, by Somebody from Ch. xxi. 26, 27. at length crept into the Text. The Reader may want to know what Foundation there is for it, wherein he may be surprizingly disappointed, this being only absent in one Edition, no MS. Version, &c. which might be owing to Oversight; and it may be doubted whether Mills did not put it in the Text in the worst Manner, to favour his Criticism; but that turns more against it, since it is incredible to be added thus, And some Jews from Asia who should have come &c. which is imperfect.

Ver. 21. Or] the same as the foregoing Verse begins with; and it may seem that these Accusers of Paul, being the chief of the Jews, Ver. 1. as the Pharisees were, did not dislike this Saying of his, Chap. xxiii. 6, 9. Wall complains the Vulg. first made it except.

Ver. 22. knowing] or having known (being a Participle pret. act.) by what Paul said, &c. but Westey, with a very unwarrantable and pernicious Liberty, has removed saying to before this, with Addition and other Alteration thus, After I have been informed. But it was easy to take it from Doddridge, like a deal more.

25. And he discoursing about Righteousness, Temperance, and the Judgment that would be, Felix was afraid, and answered, Have it so now, and go; when I get Time, I will call for thee.

26. And withal he hoped, that there would be Money given to him by Paul, that he might let him loose; therefore also he sent for him the oftener, and talked to him.

27. But when two Years were compleated, Felix received a Successor, Porcius Festus; and as Felix was willing to do the Jews a Favour, he left Paul bound.

C H A P. XXV.

FESTUS therefore entered the Province, and three Days after went up to Jerusalem from Cesarea.

2. When the high Priest, and the principal of the Jews informed him against Paul, and besought him,

3. Desiring Favour against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem; while they made an Ambuscade to kill him by the Way.

4. So Festus indeed answered, that Paul should be kept at Cesarea, and that he himself was about to go quickly.

5. Therefore who among you can, said he, let them go down together, and if there is any Thing amiss in this Man, accuse him.

6. Accordingly when he had abode among them more than ten Days, he went down to Cesarea, and the next Day sitting in the Judgment-seat, commanded Paul to be brought.

7. Who being come, the Jews that came down from Jerusalem stood round about, and brought many and heavy Charges against Paul, which they could not prove,

8. But he made defence, Neither towards the Law of the Jews, nor towards the Temple, nor towards Cesar have I done any Thing amiss.

9. Nevertheless Festus being minded to do a Favour to the Jews, made answer to Paul, Art thou willing to go up to Jerusalem, and there be judged concerning these Things with me?

10. To which Paul said, I am standing at the Judgment-seat of Cesar, where I should be judged: I have done no injury to the Jews, as thou also very well knowest.

11. For if indeed I had done injury, and committed any Thing deserving Death, I would not refuse to die; but if there is none of these Things of which they accuse me, Nobody may deliver me to them: I appeal to Cesar.

12. Then Festus talked with the Council, and answered, Hast thou appealed to Cesar? To him thou shalt go.

13. And some Days being passed over, King Agrippa and Bernice came to Cesarea, to salute Festus.

14. And when they had abode there many Days, Festus communicated the Things about Paul to the King as follow: There is a certain Man left bound by Felix;

15. Concerning whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the chief Priests and Elders of the Jews informed me, desiring Judgment against him.

16. Whom I answered, It is not the Manner of the Romans, to deliver any Man to Destruction, before he that is accused has the Accusers in Presence, and gets Room for Defence concerning the Crime.

17. Therefore when they were come together here, I made no Delay, but the Day following sat in the Judgment-seat, and commanded the Man to be brought.

18. About whom the Accusers stood up, and brought no Crime of what Things I imagined.

19. But had some Questions concerning their own Superstition against him, and concerning one Jesus that is dead, whom Paul declared to be alive.

20. And as I doubted about this Question, I asked whether he would go to Jerusalem, and there be judged concerning these Things?

21. Whereupon Paul appealed that he might be kept to the Knowledge of Augustus; so I commanded him to be kept, till I should send him to Cesar.

22. And Agrippa said to Festus, I would also hear the Person my self. Then to Morrow, replied he, thou shalt hear him.

23. The next Day therefore Agrippa and Bernice coming with much Show, when he was entered into the Place of hearing, with the Colonels too, and Men that were eminent of the City, Festus commanded, and Paul was brought.

Ver. 6. more than ten] West. not more than eight or ten, which some Copies have; others eight only instead of ten, whence Somebody perhaps put both in, and the Gr. Particle signifying than, does also or; further not might be added, as seeming to make better Sense.

Ver. 16. to Destruction] It is certain, says Mills, this was inserted for Interpretation from Ver. 11. whereas it is not there, and might be omitted because of that, neither are those here without it many. Yet Wesley has left it out.

Ver. 17. brought] the very same as in Ver. 6.

Ver. 19. Superstition] West. religious worship.

24. And Festus said; King Agrippa, and all Men who are come hither with us, you see him concerning whom all the Multitude of the Jews have interceded with me, both at Jerusalem and here, crying out he ought not to live any longer.

25. Whereas when I perceived he had committed Nothing that deserved Death, and he himself also appealed to Augustus, I determined to send him.

26. Concerning whom I have not any Thing of Certainty to write to my Lord: therefore have I brought him out to you, and especially to thee, King Agrippa, that Examination being made, I might have Something to write.

27. For the sending a Prisoner seems unreasonable to me, and not to signify the Charges against him.

CHAP. XXVI.

UPON this Agrippa said to Paul, Thou art permitted to speak for thy self. Then Paul made defence, stretching forth the Hand:

2. Concerning all Things for which I am accused by the Jews, King Agrippa, I esteem my self happy, that I am about to make defence to thee to Day;

3. Especially as thou art expert, in all the Ceremonies and Questions with the Jews: therefore I pray thee to hear me patiently.

4. All the Jews therefore indeed know my Living from my Youth, which was from the Beginning among my Nation at Jerusalem:

5. They knowing heretofore, if they would testify, that according to the exactest Sect of our Religion, I lived a Pharisee.

6. And now I stand judged for the Hope of the Promise, made by God to our Fathers:

7. To which our twelve Tribes, earnestly worshipping Day and Night, hope to come; concerning which Hope, King Agrippa, I am accused by the Jews.

8. Why should it be judged incredible with you, that God should raise up the Dead?

9. I therefore indeed thought to my self, it was fit to do many Things contrary to the Name of Jesus the Nazorite.

10. Which I also did at Jerusalem: and many of the Saints I shut up in Prison, receiving Power from the chief Priests; and when they were put to death, I gave a Vote.

11. Nay I punished them often throughout all the Synagogues, and compelled to blaspheme; I was even so exceeding mad at them, that I persecuted them also to strange Cities.

12. In which however going to Damascus; with Power and Commission from the chief Priests;

13. At the middle of the Day I saw in the Way, O King, a Light from Heaven, above the Brightness of the Sun, shining about me, and those who went with me.

14. Upon which we all fell down to the Earth, and I heard a Voice speak to me, and say in the Hebrew Language, Saul, Saul, why dost thou persecute me? It is hard for thee to kick at the Stings.

15. And I asked, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest.

16. But arise, and stand on thy Feet: for I have appeared to thee for this, to make choice of thee for a Minister and Witness, both of the Things which thou hast seen, and of those for which I will appear to thee:

17. As also deliver thee from the People, and the Gentiles, to whom I now send thee;

18. To open their Eyes, and to turn them from Darkness to Light, and the Power of Satan to God; that they may receive Forgiveness of Sins, and a Lot among those who are sanctified by Faith in me.

19. Thereupon, King Agrippa, I was not disobedient to the heavenly Vision.

20. But told first to those at Damascus, as likewise at Jerusalem, and in all the Country of Judea, nay to the Gentiles, that they should repent, and return to God, doing Works worthy of Repentance.

21. For these Causes the Jews took me at the Temple, and tried to slay me.

22. Therefore as I obtained Assistance from God, I have stood to this Day, testifying both to little and great, and said Nothing besides what Things, the Prophets also and Moses spoke of, which would be;

23. That Christ would suffer, that he would rise the first from the Dead, that he might declare the Light to the People, and the Gentiles.

24. While he was making defence thus, Festus said aloud, Thou art mad, Paul, much Learning turns thee to be so.

Ver. 24. and here] being not in the vulg. Lat. Mills was fondly of Opinion it crept hither from Ver. 17. Pro. 445. but what for? Nay and is not there, and he has also omitted both before it here.

Ver. 25. Augustus] West. the Emperor, in a licentious Way of translating the Scripture.

Ver. 26. my] This Mills mentions but eight to have; and was much more likely added to make the Term fuller, than omitted.

Ver. 3. Especially as thou art expert] I know being in few Copies, and there with different Gr. Words. West. has this, art accurately acquainted; but it seems from Doddr. and accurately taken wrong from his Paraphrase.

Ver. 7. earnestly] is Commentary, not Text, affirms Mills; if he had meant only in the Vulg. and Ethiop. it would be granted, but alas he struck at the Original.

25. To which he replied; I am not mad, very powerful Festus; but utter forth Words of Truth and Sobriety.

26. For the King knows about these Things, to whom then I speak out boldly; for I am persuaded that none of these Things are concealed from him, since this was not acted in a Corner.

27. Believest thou the Prophets, King Agrippa? I know that thou dost.

28. Then Agrippa acknowledged to Paul, Thou persuadest me a little to be a Christian.

29. And Paul answered, I pray to God, that both a little and much, not only thou, but likewise all who hear me to Day, may be such as even I am, besides in these Bonds.

30. When he had said thus, the King rose up, as also the Governor, and Berenice, and those that sate with him.

31. And going aside, they spoke one to another as follows, This Man does Nothing that deserves Death or Bonds.

32. Moreover Agrippa said to Festus, This Man might have been let loose, if he had not appealed to Cesar.

C H A P. XXVII.

AND when it was determined that we should sail away to Italy, they delivered both Paul and some other Prisoners, to a Centurion named Julius of the Regiment of Augustus.

2. So we went aboard a Ship of Adramyttium, as we were going to sail by the Places of Asia, and went off; there being with us Aristarchus a Macedonian of Thessalonica.

3. And in another Day we were carried away to Sidon; where Julius used Paul so kindly, that he permitted he should go to the Friends, to obtain some Care.

4. From whence we went off, and sailed under Cyprus, by reason the Winds were contrary.

5. Next sailing through the Sea by Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came down to Myra of Lycia.

6. Where the Centurion found a Ship of Alexandria sailing to Italy, and put us into it.

7. Now as we sailed slowly for many Days, and were scarce come by Cnidus, the Wind not letting us, we sailed under Crete by Salmone.

8. Which scarce passing by, we came to a certain Place called The fair Harbours, near which was the City of Lasea.

9. Thus much Time was passed over, and as Sailing was now dangerous, by reason that the Fast was now past, Paul admonished,

10. Saying to them, Men, I see that the Voyage is about to be with Damage and much Loss, not only of the Loading and Ship, but also of our Lives.

11. However the Centurion believed the Master and Owner of the Ship, rather than the Things said by Paul.

12. And the Harbour being unfit to winter at, most gave Counsel to go away from thence, if they could any how come to Phenice to winter, a Harbour of Crete, that looks against the south-west and north-west Wind.

13. In the mean time as the south Wind blew gently, thinking they should hold their Purpose, they put off, and passed nigh by Crete.

14. But not a great while after there blowed against it a tempestuous Wind, called Euroclydon.

15. Whereby the Ship was caught, and since she could not bear up to the Wind, we gave her up, and were carried away.

16. In the next place we ran under a certain little Island called Clauda, and were scarce able to get the Boat.

17. This having taken up, they used Helps, undergirding the Ship; and being afraid lest they should fall into the Quicksand, they let down the Sail, and were so carried away.

18. As we were exceedingly tossed too with the Tempest, the Day following they caused the Things to be cast out.

Ver. 28. a little] Gr. in a little; rendered in the Bishops Bib. Somewhat, by Tyndal Somewhat; and by the old Lat Transf. and Erasmus after the like Manner.

Ver. 29. pray] as translated 2 Cor. xiii. 7. Jam. v. 16. so Scapula in his large Lexicon puts the Meaning of it, precor, preces fundo, I pray, I utter Prayers; and Castal. turns it precor.

Ver. 2. we] two or three he, enow to bias Mills to it; and that we was inserted from Ch. xxi. 1. is not worth mentioning, but to expose it.

Ver. 3. the Friends] without his.

Ver. 5. by] as Ver. 2.

Ver. 9. the Fast] on the 10th of the 7th Month, Lev. xvi. 29.

Ver. 10. Loss] as translated Phil. iii. 7, 8.

Ver. 13. should] not in the past Tense, as in the com. Transf.

Ver. 14. blowed] This Eng. Verb coming from the Gr. one here used, and not signifying arose. And blowed for this Wind, blew for the other Ver. 13.

1b. Euroclydon] It is pretended this should be euroaculon, the north-east Wind; but called being put to it, may shew otherwise.

Ver. 15. we gave her up, and were carried away] according as the Original is literally.

Ver. 16. get] West. get masters of.

Ver. 18. caused the Things to be cast out] Gr. made or caused a casting out, with Nothing of ship, and not as in Ver. 38.

19. Nay the third Day we threw out the Tackling of the Ship with our own Hands.

20. And since neither Sun nor Stars appeared for many Days, as likewise not a small Tempest lay upon us, all Hope further that we should be saved was taken away.

21. There having also been much Fasting, Paul then stood up in the midst of them, and said; You should indeed, O Men, have been obedient to me, not to go off from Crete, and procure this Damage and Loss.

22. And now I admonish you to be chearful; for there will be no casting away of your Life, but of the Ship.

23. For there stood by me this Night an Angel of God, whose I am, and whom I worship,

24. And said, Do not fear, Paul, thou must stand before Cesar; and behold God has given thee all that sail with thee.

25. Therefore be chearful, Men; for I believe God, that it will be in the same Manner as it was spoken to me.

26. Nevertheless we must fall on a certain Island.

27. And when the fourteenth Night was come, while we were carried about in the Adriatick about Midnight, the Sailors imagined that they were brought nigh some Country.

28. Whereupon they sounded, and found twenty Fathoms; then being at a little Distance, they sounded again, and found fifteen Fathoms.

29. And being afraid lest they should any how fall on rough Places, they cast four Anchors out of the Stern, and prayed it might be Day.

30. At length the Sailors endeavoured to flee out of the Ship, and when they let down the Boat into the Sea, on Pretence as if they were about to put Anchors out of the Fore-castle;

31. Paul said to the Centurion and Soldiers, If these do not remain in the Ship, you cannot be saved.

32. Then the Sailors cut off the Ropes of the Boat, and let it fall.

33. And while it was about to be Day, Paul besought them all to receive Food as follows; Since to Day you have waited the fourteenth Day, as also keep on fasting, having taken Nothing;

34. Therefore I beseech you to take some Food; since this is for your Health: for from the Head of none of you will there fall a Hair.

35. Now having said thus, he took Bread, and gave thanks to God before them all; then he broke, and began to eat.

36. Upon this they all became chearful, and took some Food themselves.

37. And we all in the Ship, were two hundred seventy six Persons.

38. Thus being satisfied with Food, they lightened the Ship, casting out the Corn into the Sea.

39. But when it was Day, they did not know the Country; however they observed a certain Creek that had a Shoar, into which they consulted, if they could, to drive the Ship.

40. So they took away the Anchors, and let them be in the Sea, letting loose withal the Rudder-bands; and when they had hoised up the Main-sail to the Wind, they held on for the Shoar.

41. However they fell into a Place of a double Sea, and struck the Ship; so that indeed the Forepart remained immoveable, but the Stern was made loose by the Violence of the Waves.

42. And the Counsel of the Soldiers was, that they should kill the Prisoners; lest any one should swim out, and run away.

43. But as the Centurion was willing to keep Paul safe, he hindered their Will, and commanded that those who could swim should throw themselves in first, to get off to Land;

44. As likewise the rest, some indeed on Boards, and some on certain Things from the Ship: and so it came to pass that they all got safe to Land.

Ver. 21. procure] rather than to gain Loss.

Ver. 26. fall] thus the Word not only signifies, but is rendered Ver. 29, 32.

Ver. 28. sounded again, and] is repeated, Mills says, from the former Part of the Ver. though the Omission of it as being there is tenfold more likely, and those that have it against the others in a larger Proportion; yet how will some of the Learned impose on their own and others Judgment, to make themselves extraordinary! And what a Flourish is this of Mills, Cant. 2. (that is one Copy) besides the Vulg. and Syr. (2 Translations) want it!

Ver. 29. out of the Stern] Which is done in Danger, and such a one is called the Sheet-anchor; otherwise the Anchor is cast out at the Head.

Ver. 30. endeavoured] or sought which the Gr. Word signifies, and not were about.

Ver. 33. as also keep on fasting] so that there is no Necessity for that to be the fourteenth Day of their fasting; and see the Note on Pope's Homer to Odyssey B. 12.

VOL. II.

Ver. 40. took away] so rendered Ver. 20. 2 Cor. iii. 16. Heb. x. 11. in which other Places this Verb is only found. And what should they take up the Anchors then for? Dodd. has weighed the Anchors, very unfit for the Sea Term weighed Anchor.

1b. let] thus translated Ver. 32. and signifying; not committed.

1b. them] which is better included or understood, than themselves, or the Ship as some would; and thus Castal. translates.

Ver. 41. Stern] as Ver. 29. and Forepart will prevent common Landmen from Mistake. Lewis, in his late Hist. of Eng. Transf. pretending to give us these Things in Sea-Terms, has this after-part, which is far enough from it, and some others awkward, p. 369, 370.

Ver. 43. The sea or rather into the sea is added besides the Original in the com. Transf.

C H A P. XXVIII.

AND being got safe, they then knew that the Island was called Melita.

2. Where the Barbarians shewed us extraordinary Benevolence: for they kindled up a Fire, and received us all; by reason both of the Rain that came, and the Cold.

3. Now Paul made up a Bundle of Sticks, which when he put upon the Fire, a Viper came out of the Heat, and struck him on the Hand.

4. And as the Barbarians saw the venomous Creature hang on his Hand, they said one to another, Doubtless this Man is a Murderer, whom notwithstanding he is got safe from the Sea, Judgment will not let live.

5. He therefore indeed shook off the venomous Creature into the Fire, and suffered no Harm.

6. However they waited for him to be about to swell, or fall down dead suddenly; but when they had waited a great while, and saw Nothing amiss come to him, they were altered, and said he was a god.

7. About that Place also were Lands that belonged to the principal Man of the Island, named Publius, who received us, and lodged courteously three Days.

8. And the Father of Publius lay oppressed with a Fever, and a Bloody-flux; to whom Paul went in, and having prayed, put Hands on him, and healed him.

9. When this therefore was done, the rest too that had Diseases in the Island came thither, and were cured.

10. Who likewise honoured us with many Honours, and bestowed on us at going away Things for Use.

11. And after three Months we went away in a Ship of Alexandria, that wintered in the Island, which had the Sign of Castor and Pollux.

12. Thus we were carried away to Syracuse, and staid three Days.

13. From whence going about, we came to Rhegium; and after one Day as the south Wind came on, we went the second to Puteoli:

14. Where we found Brethren, and were intreated to stay with them seven Days; and so we went to Rome.

15. As the Brethren also had heard the Things concerning us, they came out from thence to meet us, as far as Appii-forum and the three Taverns; whom Paul seeing, gave thanks to God, and took Courage.

16. And when we were come to Rome, the Centurion delivered the Prisoners to the Commander of the Soldiers; but Paul was permitted to remain by himself, with a Soldier that kept him.

17. So after three Days Paul called together the principal Jews that there were: and they being come together, he said to them; Men, Brethren, though I have done Nothing contrary to the People, or the Ceremonies of the Fathers, I was delivered a Prisoner from Jerusalem into the Custody of the Romans.

18. Who when they examined me, would have let me go, by reason there was no Cause of Death in me.

19. Which the Jews speaking against, I was compelled to appeal to Cesar; not as if I had any Thing to accuse my Nation of.

20. For this Cause therefore I have called for you, to see, and speak to; since for the sake of the Hope of Israel I am tied about with this Chain.

21. And they answered him; We neither received Letters concerning thee from Judea, nor did any one of the Brethren who came, tell or speak any Thing ill about thee.

22. But we count it worthy to hear from thee what thou thinkest; for it is known indeed to us, that this Sect is every where spoken against.

23. Whereupon they appointed him a Day, and there came many to him at the Lodging; to whom he expounded, testifying the Kingdom of God, and persuading them in the Things concerning Jesus, both from the Law of Moses and the Prophets, from the Morning to the Evening.

24. And some indeed were persuaded of the Things that were said, but some did not believe.

25. Being thus in Disagreement one to an-

Ver. 1. And being got safe] Mills says is the Lecturers from the last Ver. of the foregoing Chap. not St. Luke's, Pr. 1253. which positive Assertion (wonderful to tell!) has nothing to support it but the Omission of this in the Syriack Transf.

Ver. 2. extraordinary] the Gr. being as in Ch. xix. 11. without the Meaning of little.

Ver. 5. therefore] as the Gr. is, in relation to the 3d Verse.

Ver. 8. flux] In the former Editions of our pres. Transf. flux or flux, but altered by the Printers.

Ver. 9. cured] So the Gr. Verb is different from that in the foregoing Ver.

Ver. 14. went to Rome] as to Puteoli, Ver. 13.

Ver. 15. concerning us] the Vulg. and two other Versions omit, if condemned then by Mills for an Addition of some Scholiast, we need not wonder.

Ver. 16. The Centurion delivered the Prisoners to the Commander of the Army] Not only Zegerus rejects these Words as spurious, but Mills says they are of some Scholiast, who was minded to make this History larger; but how ridiculous is such a pretended Attempt for this small Addition! And we may be easy about it, while but 6 or 7 of all Sorts are found that want it, nay they should also be without [but], which follows to join the rest together.

other, they departed, when Paul said one Expression: Well did the Holy Spirit speak by the Prophet Esaias to our Forefathers, as follows;

26. Go to this People, and say, You shall hear still, though you will not at all understand, and behold still, though you will not at all know.

27. For the Heart of this People is become fat, they hear heavily with the Ears, and wink their Eyes; lest they should at any time see with the Eyes, hear with the Ears, understand with the Heart, and when they are converted, I might heal them.

28. Be it therefore known to you, that the Salvation of God is sent to the Gentiles, and they will hearken.

29. So when he had said thus, the Jews went away, and had much Disputing among themselves.

30. And Paul remained two whole Years in his own rented Place, and received all who came in to him;

31. Preaching the Kingdom of God, and teaching the Things concerning the Lord Jesus Christ, with all Boldness, and was not hindered.

Ver. 29. Mills writes that this Ver. was to him more than suspected, as such and such are without it; but there is no Proof of more than 3 or 4 Copies and 2 Versions, a small Argument for slicing away the Scripture at that Rate.

Ver. 30. Place] which is sometimes contained in the Adjectives of the Original, as here; and appears to be a Room, not House, Ver. 16.

NOTES upon the Epistle of PAUL to the ROMANS.

CHAP. I.

PAUL a Servant of Jesus Christ, called to be an Apostle, separated to the Gospel of God ;

2. Which he promised before by his Prophets in the holy Scriptures,

3. Concerning his Son, that was from the Posterity of David according to the Flesh ;

4. Demonstrated to be the Son of God in Power, according to the Spirit of Holiness, by the Resurrection from the Dead, namely Jesus Christ our Lord :

5. By whom we have received Grace and Apostleship, for Obedience to the Faith among all Nations, for his Name ;

6. Among whom you also are the called ones of Jesus Christ :

7. To all that are at Rome the Beloved of God, called to be Saints. Grace be to you, and Peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

8. First indeed I give thanks to my God by Jesus Christ for you all, that your Faith is declared in the whole World.

9. For God is my Witness, whom I worship with my Spirit in the Gospel of his Son, how I leave not off making mention of you ;

10. Always in my Prayers intreating, if I might any how now at length have a prosperous Way in the Will of God, that I may come to you.

11. For I long to see you, that I may impart to you some spiritual Gift, for you to be established ;

12. And this is, to be comforted together among you, by your Faith and mine among one another.

13. Nor would I have you ignorant, Brethren, that I often before proposed to come to you (but have been hindered hitherto) that I might have some Fruit also among you, as well as among the rest of the Gentiles.

14. Both to the Grecians and Barbarians, both to the Wise and Unwise, am I a Debtor.

15. So with what there is in me, I am ready to preach also to you at Rome.

16. For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ ; since it is the Power of God for Salvation to every one who believes, both to the Jew first, and then to the Grecian.

17. For the divine Righteousness is revealed in it from Faith to Faith ; as it is written, But the Righteous shall live by Faith ;

18. And the Wrath of God is revealed from Heaven, upon all Impiety and Unrighteousness of Men, who hold the Truth in Unrighteousness.

19. Because what is known of God, is manifest in them ; for God has made manifest to them.

20. For the invisible Things of him, from the Creation of the World, being understood

Ver. 3. was] or had being.

Ver. 4. Jesus Christ our Lord] which stands here in the Gr. see the like Ver. 20.

Ver. 9. leave not off] West. incessantly.

Ver. 10. Always] belonging to intreating, and not uselessly with the other Adverb to make mention ; which Mills defends well:

Ver. 13. before proposed] thus the Gr.

Ver. 14. Whitby relates that our Translators begin this Verse with For ; but the latter Translations are without it, howsoever it slipped into Tyndal's.

Ver. 16. of Christ] If many were without this, which there are not, and more Criticks for it than one or two, I should scruple to join them with Mills, Prel. 679. the Reading is so abrupt without it, and it seems so much required, being also in Ch. xv. 19, 29. as here Ver. 5. and but five or six Copies, &c. without it.

Ib. first] cast out by Mills, on very little Evidence, Pr. 450.

Ver. 17. divine Righteousness] as communicated to Man, different from the Wrath, Ver. 18. and this Ch. iii. 5.

Ib. from Faith to Faith] from one Degree or Part of it to another, as of Strength, Psa. lxxxiv. 7. and Glory, 2 Cor. iii. 18. and particularly from the Faith of the Law to that of the Gospel, agreeable to the following Quotation that belongs to both ; besides most or however some of those, to whom Paul here writes at Rome, might have been Jews ; be that as it will, we find him frequently speaking of the Law in his Epistles to the Gentile Places. But Whitby dislikes from, and would have it by in this Sense, The Righteousness of God, which is by Faith, is revealed in the Gospel to beget Faith in Men ; whereas Faith being after revealed, shews with its Propositions the Manner of that, and there cannot without Violence be made which is by Faith, nor much better to beget Faith of to Faith, it may be added also that Faith produces Righteousness, rather than that Faith. Yet Wall is so offended at our Expression, which he says is hard to be explained, or pleased with by Faith, that he imagines to Faith was added, tho' there is no Copy without it.

by the Things that are made, are clearly seen, namely both his eternal Power and Godhead; for them to be without excuse.

21. Because though they knew God, they did not glorify him as God, or give thanks; but became vain in their Reasonings, and their silly Heart was darkened.

22. Notwithstanding they declared that they were wise, they became foolish;

23. And changed the Glory of the Incorruptible God, into an Image in the Likeness of corruptible Man, Fowls, four-footed Creatures, and creeping Things.

24. Therefore God also delivered them up, in the Lusts of their Hearts, to Uncleanneſs, to dishonour their Bodies among themselves.

25. Who changed the Truth of God into Falsehood, and worshiped and served the Creature, above the Creator who is blessed for ever: so let it be.

26. By reason of this God delivered them up to vile Affections: for even their Females changed the natural Use, into that beside Nature.

27. In like Manner also the Males left the natural Use of the Female, and burned in their Leachery to one another, Males with Males acting what is unseemly, and receiving in themselves the Recompence of their Error that was fit.

28. Thus as they did not try to have God in Knowledge; God delivered them up to a reprobated Mind, to do Things not fit:

29. Being filled with all Injustice, Whoredom, Spite, Covetousness, Mischief; full of Envy, Murder, Contention, Deceit, Depravity; Whisperers,

30. Disparagers, Haters of God, Doers of Damage, proud, Braggers, Inventors of evil Things, disobedient to Parents,

31. Silly, Breakers of Agreement, without natural Affection, irreconcilable, unmerciful:

32. Who though they knew the Justice of God, that those who commit such Things are deserving of Death, not only do the same, but also consent to those that commit them.

CHAP. II.

THEREFORE thou art without excuse, O every judging Man: for in what thou judgest another, thou condemnest thy self; since thou who judgest, dost commit the same Things.

2. And we know that the Judgment of God is according to Truth, on those who commit such Things.

3. Dost thou then think this, O Man, that judgest those who commit such Things, and dost the same, that thou shalt escape the Judgment of God?

4. Or dost thou despise the Riches of his Kindness, Bearing and Forbearance; and art ignorant that the kind Usage of God is bringing thee to Repentance?

5. Thus according to thy Hardness and impenitent Heart, thou treasurest up for thy self Wrath against the Day of Wrath, and of the Revelation of the righteous Judgment of God.

Ver. 21. Reasonings] So Beza translates it ratiocinationibus, and even our late Translator, a supposed Deist or Free-thinker, reasoning; and Leigh in Critica Sacra says, it signifieth more than thoughts, even reasonings, disputations, discourses, done with weighing and poising things; from the same Theme also, the Art of Reasoning or Logick, is called the Dialectick Art; nay in the com. Transf. this Word is rendered disputations, Ch. xiv. 1. disputings, Phil. ii. 14. and reasoning, Luke ix. 46. as its Verb is to reason, Mat. xvi. 7, 8. & xxi. 25. Mark ii. 6. & Ver. 8. twice, & viii. 16, 17. Luke v. 21, 22. & xx. 14.

Ver. 23. creeping Things] West. reptiles.

Ver. 28. try] properly; not like, as if from δοῦναι, instead of δομῆσαι.

Ver. 29. Spite] Being here a particular Vice, as Leigh says in Crit. Sac. and seems most aptly express'd by this in English.

ib. Mischief] according to Leigh; who besides remarks, that maliciousness is comprized under envy next following.

Ver. 31. irreconcilable] Mills tries to prove the vulg. Lat. had not this, and thence concludes the Gr. had not.

Ver. 32. that those] Some of the old Writers have it, with the vulg. Lat. which Mills through his Partiality to that contends to be the right Reading, did not understand that they—then after, and not only doing the same, but also consenting to those who commit them, however with Variation. The greatest Pretence of Authority there is for it (since as to the Matter it is weaker than the received Reading) is from the 1st Epist. of Clement to the Corinthi- ans, who Mills supposes saw the very Copy Paul sent, as he wrote himself about ten Years after. Very well! but does Clement quote or mention it? Neither. Does he write the same as to the rest of the Words? No, only Something like it, viz. casting from our selves (for of them he speaks, not of others) all Injustice, Iniquity, Covetousness, Contentions, Depravity, and also Deceits, Whisperings, and also Disparagings, Hatred of God, Pride, and also Bragging, Vain-glory, and also Ambition (not the same as here in Rom.) For they committing these Things are hateful to God; and not only they committing the same, but they also consenting to them (I render strictly from the Original) in which is Nothing at all that conduces to this other Reading but and, and that the Connection of his Words required, so surely he might add it (supposing he made this Passage from Paul's) as well as he did greater Words not requisite; and see Whitb. Exam.

Ver. 1. every] Mills thought was of some Expositor, not the Apostle's, tho' only wanting in the Syr. Prol. 1253. if there, since according to Whitby this is put to Excuse, but in the Transf. of Trem. which I think Mills used is Son of Man, that is Son of for every one paraphrastically.

Ver. 5. of the righteous Judgment] Many have and immediately before this, which is no Wonder then Mills should hold for, but his Exposition of it as so is rather absurd than insipid, Pr. 800. How easily might the and be repeated by Mistake, the Writer having the first in his Mind!

6. Who will render to each according to his Works :

7. To them indeed everlasting Life, who with Patience in good Works, seek for Glory, Honour and Incorruption;

8. But to those Indignation and Wrath, that quarrel, and indeed disobey the Truth, but obey Unrighteousness :

9. Affliction and Distress, on every Soul of Man that does Evil, both to the Jew first, and then to the Grecian.

10. But Glory, Honour and Peace, to every one that works Good, both to the Jew first, and then to the Grecian.

11. For there is not Respect of Persons with God.

12. For whoever have sinned without the Law, will also perish without it; and whoever have sinned in the Law, will be judged by it

13. (Since the Hearers of the Law are not just with God, but the Doers of the Law will be justified.

14. For when the Gentiles, that have not the Law, do the Things of it by Nature, these not having the Law, are a Law to themselves :

15. Who shew the Work of the Law written in their Hearts, their Conscience testifying together, and the Thoughts accusing, or else defending, between one another)

16. On the Day when God will judge the Secrets of Men, according to my Gospel, by Jesus Christ.

17. Lo thou art called a Jew, and retest in the Law, and boastest of God,

18. As also knowest his Will, and likest the Things that excel, being instructed out of the Law ;

19. Nay art confident that thou thy self art a Guide of the Blind, a Light of those who are in Darkness,

20. An Instructor of the Foolish, a Teacher of little Children, who hast the Form of Knowledge and Truth in the Law :

21. Dost thou therefore that teachest another, not teach thy self ? Dost thou steal, that preachest none should steal ?

22. Dost thou that sayest none should commit Adultery, commit it ? Dost thou that abhorrest Idols, commit Sacrilege ?

23. Dost thou who boastest of the Law, by Transgression of the Law dishonour God ?

24. For the Name of God through you, is blasphemed among the Gentiles ; as it is written.

25. Though Circumcision indeed profits, if thou performest the Law ; yet if thou art a Transgressor of the Law, thy Circumcision is made Uncircumcision.

26. If therefore one of Uncircumcision keep the righteous Things of the Law, will not his Uncircumcision be counted for Circumcision ?

27. And one of Uncircumcision by Nature, that fulfils the Law, judge thee, who through the Letter and Circumcision art a Transgressor of the Law ?

28. For it is not a Jew in Appearance, nor Circumcision in Appearance in the Flesh ;

Ver. 9, 10. Grecian] as Ch. i. 16. and different from that in Ver. 14, 24.

Ver. 12. without it] viz. that of Moses; for without law indefinitely it could not be, Ch. iv. 15. & v. 13. as likewise the 14 and 15 Ver. here following shew.

Ver. 15. Parallel to which the great Philosopher Seneca, Every Man has a Judge and Witness within himself, of all the Good and Ill that he does ; which inspires us with great Thoughts, and administers to us wholesome Counsels, Transf. by L'Estrange, p. 138.

Ver. 15. Conscience] Of which Bp. Taylor in his Holy Living and Dying, 12th Edit. 1680. p. 25. God is especially present in the Consciences of all Persons, Good and Bad, by way of Testimony and Judgment : that is, he is there a Remembrancer to call our Actions to mind, a Witness to bring them to Judgment, and a Judge to acquit or to condemn ; as likewise Young's Night-Thoughts, Night 9.

Who Conscience sent, her Sentence will support,
And God above asserts that God in Man.

Ver. 20. Law :] This being joined to the next, both by therefore, and the Sense, with no greater a Partition.

Ver. 26. one of] For whose else does bit mean that follows ?

Ver. 27. And] with no not in the Original here, but from the foregoing.

Ver. 28. it is not a Jew &c.] viz. that fulfils the Law, Ver. 27. The Reader may observe how much better these two Verses are when rendered literally as here, than with the Translators Additions ; and he is not a Jew is not only false in it self, but to what follows, &c.

Ib. nor Circumcision] Wither in Song 48. ingeniously,
*For he that either is baptiz'd,
Or circumciz'd in flesh alone,
Is but as an uncircumciz'd,
Or as an unbaptized one.*

29. But a Jew in Secret, and Circumcision of the Heart, in the Spirit, not the Letter; whose Praise is not from Men, but from God.

CHAP. III.

WHAT is there over and above then to the Jew, or what the Profit of Circumcision?

2. Much in every Manner, though chiefly indeed that they were intrusted with the Oracles of God.

3. For what if some did not believe? Will their Unbelief make the divine Faith void?

4. Far be it; but let God be true, and every Man false, as it is written, By which thou art righteous in thy Words, and overcomest in thy judging.

5. Yet if our Unrighteousness commend the Righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who executes Wrath? I speak according to Man.

6. Far be it; for then how will God judge the World?

7. For if the Truth of God has abounded in my Falsehood to his Glory, why am I yet also judged as a Sinner?

8. And may we not (as we are evil spoken of, and as some say we speak) do Evil, that Good may come? Whose Condemnation is just.

9. What then? Have we the Preeminence? Not at all: for we have before convicted both Jews and Grecians, to be all under Sin.

10. As it is written: There is none righteous, not even one.

11. There is none who understands, is none who seeks God.

12. They are all turned aside, are become useless together, there is none that does Good, there is not so much as one.

13. Their Throat is an open Grave, they have been deceitful with their Tongues, the Venom of Asps is under their Lips.

14. Whose Mouth is full of Cursing and Bitterness.

15. Their Feet are swift for them to shed Blood.

16. Bruising and Wretchedness are in their Ways.

17. And the Way of Peace they have not known.

18. There is no Fear of God before their Eyes.

19. Now we know that what Things soever the Law says, it speaks to those in the Law; to the end that every Mouth may be stopped, and all the World may be under Judgment to God.

20. Therefore by the Works of the Law will not any Flesh be justified before him: for through the Law is the Knowledge of Sin.

21. But now without the Law the Righteousness of God is made manifest, which is testified both by the Law and the Prophets;

22. Even the Righteousness of God by the Faith of Jesus Christ, for all and on all who believe: since there is no Difference.

23. For all have sinned, and are short of the Glory of God;

24. Being justified for nothing by his Grace, through Redemption in Christ Jesus:

25. Whom God before proposed to be an Atonement, through Faith in his Blood, to shew his Righteousness for the Pardon of Sins that are past;

Ver. 3. divine] as Chap. i. 17.

Ver. 4. By which] by their not believing, according as in Psa. li. 4. from whence this is quoted; and the Signification of the Greek Word is given in the Lexicon, quomodo, that is how, in what manner or by which: this too is according to what follows, that Man's sinning justifies and commends God's judging. Thus Men do not sin, to the end or intent that God in condemning them should judge justly.

Ib. overcomest] which Meaning, according to my Countryman Fuller, the LXX Interpreters, whom Paul follows, took from the Syriack, instead of the Heb. Mis. Sacr. L. i. 7.

Ib. thy judging] actively, as Beza translates, and shews it should be, as in Psa. li.

Ver. 5. unrighteous] for punishing what becomes an Occasion of his Praise.

Ver. 7. For] The Objection being continued in this and the next Verse, from the 5th.

Ver. 8. may we not] Ham. and Wall would have it should we not over strongly, for not rather—Let us in the com. Transf. being unwarrantable, as well as very obscure and incoherent; for why should this be rather said, than that in the foregoing Verse?

Ib. Whose] theirs who do Evil, that Good may come; so this is an Answer, as there ought to be, to the preceding Objection: but the Author of the New Version renders it to belong to some, and others so interpret it.

Ver. 9. Not] not in this Respect, though in others, Ver. 1, 2.

Ib. before] Mills excludes by no great Authority.

Ver. 13. Their] On to the 19th Verse is according to the Addition in the Gr. Septuag. Transf. after Psa. xiv. 3. but not in Psa. liii. which Addition might be made mostly from Psa. v. 9. & cxi. 3. & x. 7. Prov. i. 16. (or Isa. lix. 7.) Psa. xxxvi. 1. see Jerome and Amama on Psa. xiv.

Ver. 15. for them] see Prov. i. 16.

Ver. 19. under Judgment to God] so the Gr. strictly.

Ver. 21. testified] West. attested.

Ver. 23. Glory of God] Happiness by him, as Chap. v. 2.

Ver. 24. for nothing] according as rendered 2 Thes. iii. 8. freely being equivocal.

Ib. Christ Jesus] so the Gr. stands.

Ver. 25. before proposed] the same as in Chap. i. 13.

26. In the Forbearance of God, to shew his Righteousness at the present Time; that he might be just, and the Justifier of him who is of the Faith in Jesus.

27. Where then is Boasting? It is shut out. By what Law? Of Works? No; but by the Law of Faith.

28. We count therefore that a Person is justified by Faith, without the Works of the Law.

29. Is God he of the Jews only? And not also he of the Gentiles? Yes, of the Gentiles also.

30. Forasmuch as it is one God, who will justify the circumcised by Faith, and the uncircumcised through Faith.

31. Do we then make the Law void through Faith? Far be it; on the contrary we make the Law stand.

CH A P. IV.

WHAT shall we say then, that our Father Abraham has obtained according to the Flesh?

2. For if Abraham was justified by Works, he has what he may boast of; yet not to God.

3. For what says the Scripture? And Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned to him for Righteousness.

4. Now to him that works, the Reward is not reckoned according to Grace, but according to Debt.

5. Whereas to him that does not work, but believes in him who justifies the Impious, his Faith is reckoned for Righteousness.

6. According as David also speaks of the Blessedness of the Man, to whom God reckons Righteousness without Works;

7. They are blessed whose Iniquities are forgiven, and whose Sins are covered.

8. The Man is blessed to whom the Lord will not reckon Sin.

9. Is this Blessedness then on the Circumcision, or also on the Uncircumcision? For we say that Faith was reckoned to Abraham for Righteousness.

10. How then was it reckoned? When he was in Circumcision, or in Uncircumcision? Not in the former, but in the latter.

11. And he received the Sign of Circumcision, a Seal of the Righteousness of the Faith in Uncircumcision; for him to be the Father of all that believe through Uncircumcision, for Righteousness also to be reckoned to them;

12. And the Father of Circumcision to those who are not of the Circumcision only, but also go on in the Steps of our Father Abraham's Faith in the Uncircumcision.

13. For the Promise was not by the Law, to Abraham or his Offspring, that he should be the Heir of the World, but by the Righteousness of Faith.

14. Nay if the Heirs should be of the Law, Faith would be in vain, and the Promise made void.

15. Because the Law works Wrath: since where there is no Law, neither is there Transgression.

16. Therefore this was of Faith, that it might be according to Grace; for the Promise to be firm to all the Offspring, not to those of the Law only, but also to those of the Faith of Abraham, who is the Father of us all,

17. (As it is written, Because I have made thee the Father of many Nations) before God whom he believed, who makes the Dead alive, and calls Things that are not as if they were:

18. Who against Hope believed in Hope, that he might be the Father of many Nations; according to what is said, So shall thy Offspring be.

19. And as he was not weak in Faith, he did not mind his own Body now become dead, being about a hundred Years old, and the Deadness of Sara's Womb.

Ver. 26. In the Forbearance of God] This, by Mills, only two Copies join to the foregoing.

Ib. of him who is of the Faith in Jesus] Mills in Prol. 644. stretches the Critick's Authority so far, as to cast out distant Words here by that alone, leaving this only to be by Faith, and his Account of it is too romantick to be transcribed.

Ver. 1. What] belonging to say, as in Ch. vi. 1. not obtained, for which a Comma is necessary before that, to make a Separation.

Ib. obtained] or acquired, or got, according as Commentators explain it.

Ib. has obtained according to the Flesh] So the Words stand in the Original, and Wall says much more agreeably to the Scope of the Apostle here.

Ver. 5. the Impious] those that were Ungodly, Essay for a New Transf. Chap. 10. p. 151, 152.

Ver. 14. and] slipped out of the Vulg. and now Mills would keep it out, Prol. 451.

Ver. 16. this] to wit Abraham's Heirship, Ver. 13. which therefore was Ec. and the Original has τὰτο this.

Ver. 17. Because] Gr. ὅτι, as in Gen. xvii. 5. from whence this is cited.

Ib. before] that is to say from the preceding Ver. this was of Faith before God; after the Manner of Paul's writing in long Periods, and bringing in several Things between those that belong to one another, especially in this Epistle.

Ver. 19. did not mind] Mills writes that the genuine Reading is without not, for which he has one Copy, with a Version or two, and pleads Gen. xvii. 17. Pr. 933. 934. on the contrary that more likely gave Occasion to the omitting not, while the Verb was mistaken.

Ib. mind] The Verb coming from a Noun that signifies the Mind, and it appears he did barely consider both these Things, but not regard them. Wall calls it a plain Instance of mind or weigh.

20. Nor was he in doubt at the Promise of God by Unbelief, but was strong in Faith, giving Glory to God ;

21. And assured that what he promised, he was able also to do.

22. Therefore also it was reckoned to him for Righteousness.

23. Now it was not written for him only, that it was reckoned to him ;

24. But likewise for us, to whom it will be reckoned, that believe on him who raised up Jesus our Lord from the Dead ;

25. Who was delivered up for our Offences, and raised up for our Justification:

CHAP. V.

BEING justified therefore by Faith, we have Peace with God, through our Lord Jesus Christ.

1. Through whom also we have Admittance by Faith, to this Grace in which we stand, and triumph in the Hope of the Glory of God.

3. Not only thus, but we triumph too in Afflictions ; as we know that Affliction works Patience,

4. And Patience Experience, and Experience Hope :

5. And Hope makes not ashamed ; since the Love of God is shed forth in our Hearts, by the Holy Spirit given to us.

6. For when we were yet weak, Christ at the Time died for the Impious.

7. Though scarce any one would die for a mere honest Man, although perhaps Somebody would dare to die for a good one.

8. Whereas God so commends his Love to us, that when we were yet Sinners, Christ died for us.

9. Much more therefore as we are now justified by his Blood, we shall be saved from Wrath through him.

10. For if while we were Enemies, we were reconciled to God through the Death of his Son ; much more when we are reconciled, shall we be saved by his Life.

11. Not only thus, but we also glory in God, through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have received Reconciliation.

12. By this as Sin came into the World by one Man, and Death by Sin ; so Death also has come on to all Men, for which all have sinned.

13. For till the Law Sin was in the World ; but Sin is not imputed, when there is no Law.

14. Nevertheless Death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over those that did not sin in the Likeness of Adam's Transgression ; who is the Figure of him that was to be.

15. Yet the Offence is not the very same as the free Gift : for if by the Offence of one, many have died ; much more has the Grace of God, and the Gift by Grace of one Man Jesus Christ, abounded to many.

16. The Gift likewise is not as through one that sinned : for the Judgment indeed was from one, to Condemnation ; but the free

Ver. 20. by Unbelief] On the mere Faith of the Ethiopic Transf. Mills says this crept hither from the Marg. Prol. 1214. and his doubtful Reason that he proposes, is either Way too light to be weighed.

Ver. 21. assured] as Leigh shews in Crit. Sac. and being in the com. Transf. spoils the Construction.

Ver. 22. also] expelled by Mills as a Stranger, because it had stepped forth with Somebody, Prol. 451.

Ver. 1. we have] With several it is let us have, by the Gr. long instead of the short e ; but being unsuitable to the Context both before and after, I don't find the Criticks accepting it, though in the vulg. Lat. and the Lapse might be easy, by copying to the Sound.

Ver. 2. by Faith] is Comment, Mills says with weak Proof.

Ver. 5. makes not ashamed] West. shameth us not ; and having [us] undistinguished, as such with him often, as though they were from the Original.

Ib. given to us] not allowed by Mills, from the Verdict only of two Copies generally alike ; then 'tis taken perhaps from 1 John iii. 24. Prol. 451. but I am not disposed to grant him so much as the perhaps, it is so utterly improbable. Who, says he, in writing it would omit such notable Words ? Would our Apostle then ? But why so notable ; given is in a manner included in shed forth, and to us in our, for which Reason they might be left out.

Ver. 6. weak] for which, and against our com. Transf. see what Gell says, Essay for Amendm. of Eng. Transf. p. 37, 38.

Ver. 7. Though] So Noldius in Concord. Heb. Part.

gives to γὰρ the Meaning of quavis, and particularly in this Verse, as there is the like to ἵνα Heb. with what the foregoing here requires.

Ib. honest Man] who wrongs or hurts Nobody ; and righteous is here improper.

Ib. although] the same as before with sed added.

Ver. 11. glory] the same Word with that in Ver. 3.

Ib. Reconciliation] from the Verb in the foregoing Verse ; and atonement for us to receive improper, which God receives, according to Doddr.

Ver. 12. so Death] Wall writes on Ver. 15. The Apostle seems to me in all this Argument to speak of temporal Death, not eternal, as the Consequence of Adam's Sin to us ; for which see also Whitby there more explicitly, and Hammond.

Ib. so—also] and se being improper.

Ib. Death] The latter Mills weakly rejects, scarce worth mentioning.

Ib. for which] as turned Phil. iii. 12. and their own Sin bringing Death, as well as Adam's, Ver. 14. Gen. vi. 5, 7, 13. & xix. 13. or in which i. e. Death, according to Ver. 21. the latter Word being the Gr. Relative or subjunctive Article.

Ver. 13. Sin is not imputed] as it might not then, in the Omission of those Things which the Law of Moses added to Revelation and Morality, concerning Offerings, &c.

Ver. 14. in the Likeness of] viz. against positive outward Command, as Adam and those under the Mosaic Law did.

Gift is from many Offences, to Justification:

17. For if by one Man's Offence Death reigned through one; much more will they, who receive Abundance of Grace, and of the Gift of Righteousness, reign in Life through one Jesus Christ.

18. Therefore indeed as through the Offence of one, there was for all Men to Condemnation; so also through the Righteousness of one, there was for all Men to Justification of Life.

19. For as through the Disobedience of one Man many were made Sinners; so through the Obedience of one will many be made righteous.

20. And the Law entered in, that Offence might increase; but where Sin increased, Grace abounded more:

21. That as Sin reigned in Death; so also Grace might reign through Righteousness to everlasting Life, by Jesus Christ our Lord.

C H A P. VI.

WHAT shall we say then? Shall we remain in Sin, that Grace may increase?

2. Far be it; how shall we who are dead to Sin, yet live in it?

3. Are you ignorant, that whoever of us have been baptized into Christ Jesus, have been baptized into his Death?

4. We are therefore buried with him by Baptism into Death; that as Christ was raised up from the Dead by the Glory of the Father, so we also may walk in Newness of Life.

5. For if we have been planted with him in the Likeness of his Death, we shall also be on the contrary of the Resurrection:

6. As we know this, that our old Person is crucified with him, that the Body of Sin might be abolished, for us henceforth not to serve Sin.

7. For he who is dead is made free from Sin.

8. And if we are dead with Christ, we believe that we shall also be alive with him:

9. Since we know that as Christ is raised up from the Dead, he dies no more, Death no more has dominion over him.

10. For as to what he died, it was to Sin once; but as to what he lives, it is to God.

11. So also do ye reckon your selves to be dead indeed to Sin, but alive to God in Christ Jesus our Lord.

12. Let not Sin therefore reign in your mortal Body, to obey it in the Desires of it.

13. Nor yield your Members for Instruments of Unrighteousness to Sin; but present your selves to God as those who are alive from the Dead, and your Members for Instruments of Righteousness to God.

14. For Sin will not have dominion over you: since you are not under the Law, but under Grace.

15. What then? Shall we sin, because we are not under the Law, but under Grace? Far be it.

16. Do not you know, that to whom you yield your selves Servants in Obedience, you are Servants to him whom you obey, whether of Sin to Death, or of Obedience to Righteousness?

Ver. 17. the Gift of] Three or four of the old Writers have missed this, who have often quoted carelessly or by Memory; and Mills lays it on the Original, as not there at first.

Ver. 19. were made Sinners] This Hammond expounds by were subjected to Death, and Whitby made subject to Death, the latter undertaking to show the Inconsistency of any other Sense, with the Text, with Scripture, and with Reason, on which he argues strenuously, and something largely, in his Annot. notwithstanding the 9th Article of Religion asserts, Original Sin is the Fault and Corruption of the Nature of every Man, and in every Person born into this World it deserveth God's Wrath and Damnation.

1b. made] Westl. constituted.

Ver. 3. Christ Jesus] so it stands in the Gr. and thus also in Ver. 11, & 23.

Ver. 4. by the Glory of the Father] missed by some of the Primitive Authors, but therefore to conclude with Mills it is a Comment, Pr. 451. may be reckoned rash indeed; and if such, it would likely have been without the Glory of.

Ver. 9. Since we know—as Christ is] Because the Greek abounds in Participles, not only single, but two, three, and even four together, different from the Genius of ours and other Languages, it is necessary to change them often into Conjunctions, which is our principal Manner of connecting the Parts of Sentences. Our Translators being overpowered by them in the Historical Books, commuted them pretty sufficiently, so far as rightly; but in the Epistles, where they are fewer, this appears much neglected, to the Disadvantage of their Version.

Ver. 10. to Sin] Mills suspected did creep from Ver. 2. only because not in the Eth. Vers. Shocking! and when so requisite here. Since this is to, not for Sin, as 1 Cor. xv. 3. or differently in Gr. 1 Pet. iii. 18. I suppose it may mean to Sin in the World, which offended and grieved Christ.

Ver. 11. in] Calvin in his Commentary here says, 'I had rather keep the Words of Paul [in Christ Jesus] for so the Grafting is better expressed, which makes us one with Christ.'

Ver. 12. in the Desires of it] because not with a few, Mills denounces it to be Commentary, not Text; but who would have restricted the general obey, excepting the Divine Penman himself?

Ver. 13. present] not the same Verb as before.

Ver. 16. to Death] thrust out by Mills, on very slight Authority, Prol. 448.

17. But Thanks be to God, that notwithstanding you are the Servants of Sin, you have been obedient from the Heart, to the Pattern of Doctrine which you have been committed to.

18. And when you were made free from Sin, you became Servants of Righteousness.

19. I speak as a Man, by reason of the Weakness of your Flesh: for as you have presented your Members Servants to Uncleanliness and Iniquity, for Iniquity; so now present your Members Servants to Righteousness, for Holiness.

20. For when you were the Servants of Sin, you were free from Righteousness.

21. What Fruit therefore had you then in the Things, of which you are now ashamed? For the End of those is Death.

22. Whereas now being made free from Sin, and become Servants to God, you have your Fruit to Holiness, and the End everlasting Life.

23. For the Wages of Sin is Death; but the Gift of God everlasting Life, in Christ Jesus our Lord:

CHAP. VII.

ARE you ignorant, Brethren (for I speak to them who know the Law) that the Law has dominion over a Man for as long Time as he lives?

2. For a Wife who is subject to a Man, is bound by the Law to him while he lives; but if the Man is dead, she is made void from the Law in respect of him.

3. Therefore indeed if while the Man lives, she becomes another Man's, she is named an Adulteress; but if her Man is dead, she is made free from the Law, that she may not be an Adulteress, when she does become another Man's.

4. So that, my Brethren, you also are made dead to the Law, by the Body of Christ; for you to be another's, who is raised up from the Dead, that we may bear fruit to God.

5. For when we were in the Flesh, the Affections of Sins by the Law did work in our Members, to bear fruit to Death.

6. Whereas now we are made void from the Law, nay are dead in what we were held; so that we should serve in Newness of Spirit, and not the Oldness of the Letter.

7. What shall we say then? The Law is Sin? far be it: on the contrary I did not know Sin, excepting by the Law; for I should not even have known Coveting, except the Law had said, Thou shalt not covet.

8. But Sin took occasion by the Commandment, and wrought in me all Coveting; for without the Law Sin was dead.

9. And I was alive without the Law once; but when the Commandment came, Sin revived, and I died.

10. Thus the Commandment for Life, that was found to me for Death.

11. For Sin took Occasion by the Com-

Ver. 17. that notwithstanding] est absurdissimum; says the judicious Castalis; agi Deo gratias de servitute peccati: it is very ridiculous to thank God for the Service of Sin, by putting the Thankfulness as for two Things, Defensio suarum Translationum, p. 18.

Ib. Pattern] as rendered Tit. ii. 7. Heb. viii. 5.

Ib. you have been committed] so the Gr. agreeable to Acts xx. 32. the Bishops Transf. has ye were brought, Erasmus, Beza and others as here; Wesley into which ye have been delivered. Gell says, It was a foul Oversight of the Translators to render these Words, as in our pref. Bib. Essay, p. 435 but it was much more likely as designed; if not from Regard to some Belief of their own, yet at least for Want of a proper Expression according to the Original.

Ver. 23. in Christ Jesus our Lord] Although none but the Eth. Transf. is without this, yet Mills says (amazing to tell!) it seems to be some old Annotator's, Pr. 1215.

Ver. 1. he lives] Doddr. renders and pleads for it liveth, supposing the Law is represented as the first Husband, Ver. 2, 3. which I take to be the Body of Christ that died, Ver. 4. and that raised up the second Husband, Ib. so Law represents Law, and see Beza.

Ver. 2. Even so (as in this Ver.) are our consciences bound, says W. Tyndal in his large Prologue to this Epist. and in danger to the lawie (by which he seems to mean outward Religion) under olde Adam the flesh; as long as he liveth in us.

Ib. from the Law in respect of him] Though Mills found no MS. Copy without any of this, he mentions the Law of as wanting in some from Carsellæus, and him or the Man in many from Grotius; but the first of those Collectors of Various Readings names no particular Copy, and is doubtful besides, as shewn in Wesley's Proleg. 9, 52, 53. so that his Canon 13 reckons his Copies (not found elsewhere) but for one; and that Grotius did not examine any MS. Mills may be found giving his Opinion, or shewing, in different Places.

Ver. 4. to be another's] in the new spiritual Life, after being dead to the Law, according to Ver. 1; 6. & Gal. ii. 19. Wall says St. Paul means, The Law is become dead to you, which he apparently seems to have taken from Ham. and stamp'd, as other Things, with his Mark of Positiveness; but what is more injurious than superficial Criticism, attended with Confidence?

Ver. 5. the Affections of Sins] West. sinful Passions.

Ver. 6. now are dead] ἀποθανόντες plur. the Copies universally prefer, says Mills; for which see also Whit. Annot. but some printed Editions have ἀποθανόντος that being dead; as in the com. Transf.

Ib. Newness] not new Spirit more agreeable as Doddr. says, when the Holy Spirit.

Ver. 7. Coveting] This being a Noun of the Verb after; and should surely agree.

Ver. 9. without the Law] From this Wall pleads it was not Paul himself, but that he here takes on him, to the End of the Chapter, the Person of a Man under the Law; and not yet influenced by the Spirit of Christ; so Ham. on Ver. 7. and Whitby on Ver. 25. very circumstantially.

Ib. Commandment] When Christ's Spirit came, and expounded the Commandment to my Heart, Caryl on Job, Introd.

mandment,

mandment, and deceived me, and by that killed me.

12. So that the Law indeed is holy, as likewise the Commandment holy, just and good.

13. Was the Good then made Death to me? far be it; but Sin was that it might appear to be Sin, by working Death to me through the Good, that Sin through the Commandment might be made exceeding sinful.

14. For we know that the Law is spiritual; but I am carnal, sold under Sin.

15. For what I would, I acknowledge not: since what I would, that I perform not; but what I hate, that I do.

16. And if what I would not, that I do; I consent to the Law, that it is good.

17. So now I work it no more, but it is Sin that dwells in me.

18. For I am sensible, that no Good dwells in me, that is in my Flesh; since though to be willing is present with me, yet I find not how to work the Good.

19. For what Good I would, I do not; but what Evil I would not, that I perform.

20. And if what I would not, that I do; I work it no more, but it is Sin that dwells in me.

21. I therefore find a Law, that when I would do Good, Evil is present with me.

22. For I delight in the Law of God, according to the inward Person.

23. But I behold another Law in my Members, which makes war against the Law of my Mind, and takes me captive in the Law of Sin, that is in my Members.

24. A wretched Man I! Who shall deliver me from the Body of this Death?

25. I give thanks to God by Jesus Christ our Lord. Therefore indeed I my self with the Mind serve the Law of God, but with the Flesh the Law of Sin.

HERE is now therefore no Condemnation to those that are in Christ Jesus, who do not walk according to the Flesh, but according to the Spirit.

2. For the Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus, has made me free from the Law of Sin and Death.

3. For it being impossible of the Law, in that it was weak through the Flesh; God sent his own Son in the Likeness of sinful Flesh, and for Sin, so condemned Sin in the Flesh:

4. That the Righteousness of the Law might be fulfilled in us, who do not walk according to the Flesh, but according to the Spirit.

5. For they that are according to the Flesh, mind the Things of the Flesh; and those who are according to the Spirit, the Things of the Spirit:

6. For the fleshly Mind is Death; and the spiritual Mind Life and Peace:

7. Because the fleshly Mind is Enmity to God; for it is not subject to the Law of God, since it cannot.

8. Thus they that are in the Flesh cannot please God.

9. However you are not in the Flesh, but in the Spirit, if indeed the Spirit of God dwell in you: whereas if any one has not the Spirit of Christ, he is not his.

10. Now if Christ be in you, the Body indeed is dead by reason of Sin, but the Spirit is Life by reason of Righteousness.

11. Nay if the Spirit of him who raised up Jesus from the Dead, dwell in you; he who raised up Christ from the Dead, will also make your mortal Bodies alive, by his Spirit that dwells in you.

Ver. 13. but Sin was] The com. Eng. Transf. is imperfect, by wrong Pointing and otherwise; Sin belonging to the foregoing Verb, as in Ver. 17.

Ib. that Sin &c.] that there might be a Sinner exceedingly, or Sin by the Commandment, in the ancient Ital. Vers. as Mills says from Augustine, Pr. 549. only by the Mistake of h for a, and the Pointing.

Ver. 15. work] Here are three different Verbs.

Ver. 19. To this belongs the Comment of Jerome on Dan. ix. 5. Peccata populi, quia unus e populo est, enumerat ex persona sua, quod at Apostolum in epistola ad Romanos fecisse legimus: he reckons up the Sins of the People from his own Person, as being one of them, which we read the Apostle has also done in Rom. vii.

Ver. 25. I give thanks to God] Mills finding three Copies with But Thanks to God, and hearing of one or two more quoted so, only without But, fixed on the latter for the genuine Reading; but the Vulg. and others have The Grace of God, translating the Word for Thanks differently. Whereas the Number of Copies, Nothing forbidding, is our Security; yet see Whitby's Exam.

Ver. 1. who do not walk &c.] This to the End of the Verse being omitted by a few, Mills says crept from Ver. 4. Rash, and inconclusive!

Ver. 3. it being] what spoiling the Sense.

Ib. for Sin] where the Want of a Comma in the vulg. Transf. alters the Meaning, or makes none.

Ver. 6. For] to be referred to Ver. 4. as Ver. 3. is.

Ver. 8, 9. Call fleshe whatsoeuer (as long as we are without the spirite of god) we thinke or speke of god, of sayth of good worckes and of spiritual matters. Call fleshe also all worckes which are done without grace and without the working of the spiryte, howsoeuer good holy and spirituall they seme to be, Wm. Tyndal's Prologue to the Romaynes; where the next Paragraph is very remarkable, in Comparison between the fleshy and spiritual State, but what every one cannot hear, and as it strikes particularly against the Papists, has the less Need to be recited.

Ver. 9. the Spirit of Christ] dwelling in him, Whitby's Paraph. and as is manifest from that before.

Ver. 11. by] This is a Various Reading with Mills, the Textual being because of, for which see his Note and Prol. 642. yet on duly weighing them ours may subside, especially with the Testimonies of Orthodoxus and Beza.

12. Therefore indeed, Brethren, we are not Debtors to the Flesh, to live according to it.

13. For if you live according to the Flesh, you will die; and if by the Spirit you put to death the Deeds of the Body, you shall live.

14. Since those are the Sons of God, whoever are led by his Spirit.

15. For you have not received the Spirit of Servitude again, to be in Fear; but have received the Spirit of Adoption, by which we cry, Abba, Father.

16. The Spirit it self testifies with our Spirit, that we are the Children of God.

17. And if Children, then Heirs, those certainly of God, and Heirs with Christ; if indeed we suffer together, that we may also be glorified together.

18. For I reckon, that the Sufferings of the present Time, are not worthy of the Glory that will be revealed to us.

19. Since the earnest Expectation of the Creation, waits for the Revelation of the Sons of God.

20. Because the Creation has been subject to Vanity, not willingly, but by reason of him who made it subject in Hope.

21. For the Creation it self will also be set free from the Servitude of Corruption, into the glorious Freedom of the Children of God.

22. Forasmuch as we know, that all the Creation both groans, and are in labour together, till now.

23. Not only so, but also our selves who have the First-fruit of the Spirit, even we our selves groan in our selves, waiting for the Adoption, the Redemption of our Body.

24. For we are saved by Hope; but Hope that is beheld, is not Hope: since what any one beholds, why does he also hope for?

25. But if we hope for what we do not behold, we wait for it with Patience.

26. And in like Manner also the Spirit assists with our Weaknesses: for we know not what we should pray as we ought; but the Spirit it self makes intercession for us, with our unspeakable Groanings.

27. And he who searches the Hearts, knows what is the Mind of the Spirit; since he interceeds for the Saints agreeable to God.

28. We further know that all Things work together for Good, to those who love God, to such as are the called ones according to the Purpose.

29. Since whom he foreknew, he did also appoint before to be fashioned to the Similitude of his Son, for him to be the First-born among many Brethren.

30. Moreover whom he appointed before, these he did also call; and whom he called, these he did also justify; and whom he justified, these did he also glorify.

31. What shall we say then to these Things? If God is for us, who against us?

32. He indeed that did not spare his own Son, but delivered him up for us all; how shall he not likewise with him give us all Things?

33. Who shall make accusation against the chosen ones of God? He justifies;

34. Who condemns? Christ has died, nay more is also raised up, who is also at the right Hand of God, who moreover interceeds for us.

35. Who shall separate us from the Love of Christ? Affliction, or Distress, or Persecution, or Famine, or Nakedness, or Danger; or the Sword?

36. As it is written, For thy sake we are put to Death all the Day, are reckoned as Sheep for Slaughter.

37. On the contrary we more than overcome in all these Things, by him who loves us.

Ver. 13. Here Calvin himself in his Commentary, Eng. Edit. says, By this they are notably refuted, who brag of Justification by Faith without the Spirit of Christ.

Ver. 19. Creation] as Ver. 22. which also shews it is general.

Ver. 20. in Hope] being or while but in Hope perhaps: for our great Commentators, Hammond, Whitby, Wall, taking him who made subject not to be God, as truly it seems unlikely, since it is to Vanity, which appears to be evil; do, according to some printed Copies, suppose the Point of Partition should be just before this, and all that from Sons of God hither as in a Parenthesis, this beginning the next thus, In Hope that the Creation &c. and indeed the Gr. Particle signifies that, as well as since or because, nor are our Verses, as being modern, of any Validity to hinder it. Yet looking on it as a Subterfuge to shun applying the foregoing to God, I think this may do it better, and not be against all the pointed MSS. all Versions, &c. like that, besides the Uncouthness of the Greek so; tho' I might have advanced my Transf. against the com. on those Men's Authority and Arguments.

Ver. 26. Calvin again, We are blind in praying unto God. If any Man except, that there is a Rule prescribed unto us in the Word of God; I answer, Our Affections nevertheless abide oppressed with Darkness, until the Spirit direct them by his Light. No Man of himself can conceive holy and godly Prayers. The Manner of praying well must needs be taught of the Spirit.

Ib. with our] as here before, and Ver. 23.

Ib. unspeakable] but might be uttered.

Ver. 28. according to the Purpose] of God to call to his Service such as follow, Ver. 29, 30.

Ver. 29. appoint before] according to his Foreknowledge, 1 Pet. i. 2.

Ver. 31. Where the great John Calvin once more, A godly Mind ought to stand upon the inward Testimony of the Spirit, and not depend upon external Things.

Ver. 37. overcome in] As Ignatius in his Letter to Polycarp (both Saint John's Disciples) It is the Part of a brave Combatant, to be wounded, and yet overcome, Wake's Transf. but where to is wanting before overcome, else properly it is passive.

Ib. by him who loves us] because of him who loved us, Vulg. three Copies, and some Authors; for which Millr pleads, especially as being in the former. But his justifying it by our Love to Christ, is making it wrong, as that is beside the Scope of the Matter, Ver. 39. and Beng on 35.

38. For I am persuaded, that neither Death, nor Life, nor Angels, nor Principalities, nor Powers, nor present Things, nor future ones,

39. Nor Height, nor Depth, nor any other Creature, can separate us from the Love of God, in Christ Jesus our Lord.

CHAP. IX.

I SPEAK the Truth in Christ, I do not lye, my Conscience testifying with me in the Holy Spirit ;

2. That I have great Grief, and my Heart continual Sorrow :

3. For I could pray that I might be cursed from Christ, for my Brethren, my Relations according to the Flesh ;

4. Who are Israelites, whose are the Adoption, Glory, Covenants, giving of the Law, Service and Promises ;

5. Whose are the Fathers, and from whom Christ was according to the Flesh ; who is over all, God blessed for ever : so let it be.

6. But such a Thing cannot be, that the Word of God should fail ; for these are not all Israel, who are of Israel :

7. Nor that Abraham's Offspring are all Children ; but of Isaac it shall be called thy Offspring.

8. That is, the Children of the Flesh, these are not the Children of God ; but the Children of the Promise are reckoned for the Offspring.

9. For this is the Word of Promise, According to this Time I will come, so that Sara shall have a Son.

10. Not only so, but also Rebecca having Conception from one, our Father Isaac ;

11. For when the Children were not yet born, nor had done any Good or Evil, that the Purpose of God might remain according to Choice, not from Works, but from him who called ;

12. It was said to her, The elder will serve the younger :

13. As it is written, I loved Jacob, but I hated Esau.

14. What shall we say then ? Is there Unrighteousness with God ? Far be it.

15. For he says to Moses, I will have mercy upon whom I will have mercy, as likewise have compassion upon whom I will have compassion.

16. Therefore indeed it is not of him that would, nor of him that runs ; but of God who shews mercy.

17. For the Scripture says to Pharaoh, For this it self I have stirred thee up, that I might shew my Power in thee, and that my Name might be declared in all the Earth.

18. Therefore indeed upon whom he will, he has mercy ; and whom he will, he hardens.

19. Thou mayest therefore say to me, Why does he yet find fault ? For who resists his Will ?

20. Nay indeed, O Man, who art thou that answerest against God ? Shall the Thing framed say to the Framer, Why dost thou make me so ?

21. Has not the Potter Power over the Clay, to make from the same Lump, one Vessel indeed for creditable, and another for vile Use ?

22. And if God was willing to shew Wrath, and make known his Power ; he might in much Forbearance, bear with the Vessels of Wrath become fit for Destruction :

23. And that he might make known the Riches of his Glory on the Vessels of Mercy, which he prepared before for Glory ;

24. Even us whom he has called, not only of the Jews, but also of the Gentiles.

25. As he says too in Osee, I will call a People not mine my People, and her beloved that was not beloved :

26. And in the Place where it has been said to them, You are not my People ; there

Ver. 38. Powers] being the middle Word of five plural, and the confirmed Reading by Manuscripts ; so that it is strange to find both Mills and Kuster in Pres. doubting whether it should not be Power, under the trifling Pretence that it might be written for is.

Ver. 39. any] Says Mills, this is not Paul's, Pr. 453. for you must know the Vulg. Lat. and two Exemplars, which may seem both made from that, have it not.

Ver. 5. God] Mills, according to his great Abilities, makes very undoubted Proof, against Erasmus and Grotius, that this Word here is genuine ; yet add Whit. in Annot.

Ver. 6. should fail] West. had fallen to the ground.

Ver. 10. Conception from one] The Vulg. and a few have, from one Copulation or Conception ; but it does not appear to be so in any Gr. Copy, Valesius sometimes only making Gr. conformable to the Lat. and if it does seem to make the Argument more like the foregoing, concerning Isaac and Ismael, as Wall pleads, that may make it more suspicious ; and I don't think it likely the abovesaid, as being more modern, was altered to ours, which with the following makes a hardish Apposition, tho' not infrequent in Scripture.

Ver. 11. the Children] which notes the Jews and Gentiles, says Ham. in Paraph. and Whitby, It is evident the Apostle speaks not here of Jacob and Esau personally, but notionally, Annot.

Ver. 16. runs] alluding perhaps to a Race, else runs on.

Ver. 17. stirred] see on Exod. ix. 16.

Ver. 18. whom he will] West. whom he willeth both times.

1b. he will] Two Copies (only) are without the latter, whereupon Mills says he can scarce think but that the Apostle's was, Pr. 1433. but there is much likelier an Abridgment.

1b. hardens] or lets be hardened, as in Exod. vii. 3, &c. according to the Protestant Manner of interpreting Scripture by it self. Otherwise, and if this be understood of particular Persons ; as those whom God has mercy upon are consequently Sinners, so they that in Justice he hardens, are to be supposed worse Sinners ; but the Apostle's Argument ex abundanti leads us to take it, as written of the Gentiles and Jews, particularly see Chap. xi. 25.

shall they be called the Sons of the Living God.

27. Nay Esaias cries concerning Israel; If the Number of the Israelites is as the Sand of the Sea, it is the rest will be saved.

28. For he will finish the Matter, and cut short in Righteousness; since a Matter cut short will the Lord make in the Country.

29. And as Esaias said before, Unless the Lord of Armies had left us Offspring, we should have been as Sodoma, and should have been like Gomorra.

30. What shall we say then? That the Gentiles who did not pursue Righteousness, have obtained it, even the Righteousness which is by Faith;

31. But Israel that pursued the Law of Righteousness, has not come to it.

32. For what reason? Because it was not by Faith, but as it were by the Works of the Law; for they stumbled at the Stone of Stumbling.

33. As it is written, Behold I lay in Sion a tripping Stone, and a stumbling Rock; and every one who believes on him shall not be ashamed.

C H A P. X.

BRETHREN, the good Will indeed of my Heart, and Supplication to God in behalf of Israel is, for their Salvation.

2. For I testify to them, that they have a Zeal of God, but not according to Knowledge.

3. Since they being ignorant of God's Righteousness, and seeking to set up their own Righteousness, are not subject to that of God.

4. Because Christ is the End of the Law for Righteousness, to every one who believes.

5. For Moses writes down the Righteousness which is of the Law, that the Man who does these Things shall live by them.

6. Whereas the Righteousness which is of Faith speaks thus; Thou shalt not say in thy Heart, Who shall go up into Heaven? that is to bring down Christ;

7. Or, Who shall go down into the Deep? that is to bring back Christ from the Dead:

8. But what does it speak? The Word is near thee, in thy Mouth and Heart; that is the Word of Faith which we preach;

9. That if thou shalt confess the Lord Jesus with thy Mouth, and shalt believe with thy Heart that God has raised him up from the Dead, thou wilt be saved.

10. For by the Heart there is believing to Righteousness, and by the Mouth is confessing to Salvation.

11. Since the Scripture says, Every one who believes on him shall not be ashamed.

12. Because there is no Difference too of Jew and Grecian; since the same Lord of all is rich towards all who call upon him.

13. For every one that shall call on the Name of the Lord will be saved.

14. How therefore shall they call upon him in whom they have not believed? And how shall they believe whom they have not heard of? And how shall they hear without a Preacher?

15. And how shall they preach if they are not sent? As it is written, How beautiful will be the Feet of them who preach Peace, who preach good Things!

16. But all have not obeyed the Gospel; for Esaias says, Lord, who has believed our Report?

17. Therefore Faith is from Hearing, and Hearing by the Word of God.

Ver. 28. will finish] Gr. is finishing, with is understood, which Gratius not considering, I suppose, made the Mistake mentioned in the next Note.

Ib. in Righteousness; since a Matter cut short] All this Gratius, with Ham. Mills and Wall approving, would cast out of the genuine Reading, being not in three MSS. and so many Verf. as taken from the Sept. at Isa. x. 22, 23. from whom Paul quoting is likely to use their Words; and that for and since or because standing as here are absurd, which Gret. and Ham. pretend, I don't see, but rather that the other is so, when the above is left out; which I could scarce translate better than, For finishing the Matter, and cutting short, the Lord will do it in the Country: then the Query will arise do what? or to what does do refer that is before? since not to finishing or cutting short, because they are in the nom. Case, and Participles to Lord.

Ib. in the Country] as in Isa. x. 23. from whence it is quoted.

Ver. 29. Armies] sabbath, which unlearned People mistake for sabbath, is the Gr. Word of the Sept. whom Paul followed, in Isa. i. 9. for the Heb. xeuath; not only so, but the Meaning of it might be well known then to Gr. Readers, beyond what it is to Eng. ones; and the early Edit. of 1613 in 4to. having sabbath both here and James v. 4. may raise a Doubt concerning our last Translators themselves.

Ver. 32. of the Law] This a few Copier leave out, and even the Vulg. Lat.

Ver. 1. Israel] by some Copies them.

Ver. 2. their own] without Righteousness here by some, which Mills doubted of; when no Doubt might be made, but that it was occasioned by the Mention of the Word in this Ver. beside, and not being of Necessity in the present Station; otherwise than by the Use of putting the Substantive to this Adjective in Gr. which they nor he seemingly did not enough consider.

Ver. 5. the Righteousness which is of the Law] Mills says Somebody inserted that it might answer to what is in the next Verse, only because the Eth. Verf. has it not.

Ib. these Things—them] Mills affirms both these are of Gal. iii. 12. Pr. 1248. the first an Addition, and the latter for it, as some have; but might be owing mostly to the Authority of the Vulg. see likewise Whit. Exam.

Ver. 17. Therefore] as if the last Verse was added like as in a Parenthesis.

18. But I say, Have they not heard? Nay indeed the Sound of those is gone forth into all the Earth, and their Words into the Ends of the World.

19. But I say, Has not Israel known? First Moses says, I will make you jealous with those who are not a People, will provoke you by a silly Nation.

20. Nay Esaias is so bold as to say; I am found of those that did not seek me, am made manifest to them who did not ask for me.

21. Whereas he says to Israel, I have spread forth my Hands all the Day, to a disobedient and contradicting People.

CH A P. XI.

I SAY then, Has God cast away his People? Far be it; for I am also an Israelite, from Abraham's Offspring, of the Tribe of Benjamin.

2. God has not cast away his People whom he knew before. Do not ye know what the Scripture says of Elias? How he interceeds with God against Israel as follows,

3. Lord, they have slain thy Prophets, and thrown down thy Altars; and I being left alone, they seek my Life:

4. But what says the divine Answer to him? I have left to my self seven thousand Men, who have not bowed the Knee to Baal.

5. So then also at the present Time, there is a Residue according to the Choice of Grace.

6. And if by Grace, no more from Works; for then Grace would no more be Grace: but if from Works, it is Grace no more; for then Work no more is Work.

7. What then? Though Israel has not obtained this which it seeks for, the Choice obtained, and the rest were hardened.

8. As it is written, God has given them the Spirit of sound Sleep, Eyes not to see, and Ears not to hear, to this Day.

9. David likewise says; Let their Table become a Snare, a Gin, an Offence, and a Recompence to them.

10. Let their Eyes be darkened not to see, and bend down their Back continually.

11. I say then, Have they stumbled, that they may fall? Far be it: but by their Offence there is Salvation to the Gentiles, to make them jealous.

12. Now if their Offence be the Riches of the World, and their Defect the Riches of the Gentiles; how much more their Fulness?

13. For I speak to you Gentiles; in how much indeed I am the Apostle of the Gentiles, I glorify my Ministry:

14. If I may any how make those of my Flesh jealous, and save some of them.

15. For if the casting of them away be the Reconciliation of the World; what will the Reception be, but Life from the Dead?

16. Thus if the First-fruit is holy, the Lump also: and if the Root be holy, also the Branches.

17. If some of the Branches too have been broken off, and thou being a wild Olive-tree, hast been grafted in among them, and made Partaker of the Root and Fatness of the Olive-tree;

18. Do not boast against the Branches: nay if thou shouldest, thou dost not bear the Root, but the Root thee.

19. Thou mayest say then, The Branches were broken off, that I might be grafted in.

20. Well! they were broken off by Unbelief, and thou standest by Faith; be not high-minded, but fear.

21. For if God did not spare the Branches according to Nature, neither would he any how spare thee.

22. See then the Kindness and Sharpness of God: on them indeed who fell Sharpness; but on thee Kindness, if thou remainest in the Kindness; else thou too wilt be cut off.

23. Nay they also, if they do not remain in Unbelief, will be grafted in: for God is able to graft them in again.

24. For if thou wast cut off from the wild Olive-tree according to Nature, and grafted into the good Olive-tree beside Nature; how much more may these, which are according to Nature, be grafted into their own Olive-tree?

25. For I would not have you ignorant, Brethren, of this Mystery (lest you should think

Ver. 6. but if from Works &c.] to the End of the Verse is not in 5 or 6 Copies, 2 or 3 Versions, and a few old Authors, nay counted spurious by Erasmus, Grotius, Mills, &c. yet methinks there is more Credit due to many than few of equal Evidence at least, and I suspect the Vulg. was one that influenced the others too much; there is also perhaps more Reason to be given, and consequently more Probability, for the Omission than the Addition, the former might be because the Sense of these Words is included in the foregoing, and because they are a Digression from the Point pursued; but to be added merely for Antithesis seems little, and too little to prevail with so many; Whitby's Examen and Annot. may also be seen.

Ver. 8. God has given them] who had first hardened their Hearts against God, according to Ham. but Whitby explains given by permitted to.

Ver. 11. Offence] as rendered Ch. iv. 25. & v. 15, 16, 17, 18, 20. fall being inconsistent with the Word before.

Ver. 13. glorify] will glorify in the Vulg. Lat. and a few that hang on it, by doxaso for doxazo; and Mills grasps it as accommodatus, more accommodated—surely not to I speak.

Ver. 21. would] Divers have will in the 1 fut. Tense by 1, instead of the 1 Aorist with 1.

your selves wise) that there is Hardness in Part to Israel, till the Fulness of the Gentiles shall come in.

26. And so all Israel will be saved: as it is written; The Redeemer shall come out of Sion, and turn away Impiety from Jacob.

27. And this shall be the Covenant with them from me, when I put away their Sins.

28. According to the Gospel indeed, they are Enemies by reason of you; but according to the Choice, Beloved by reason of the Fathers.

29. For the Gifts and Calling of God will not be repented of.

30. For as once also you disobeyed God, yet now you have obtained mercy by their Disobedience:

31. So also these now have disobeyed, that by your Mercy they too may obtain mercy.

32. For God has shut up all into Disobedience, that he may have mercy upon all.

33. Oh the Depth of the Riches, both of the Wisdom and Knowledge of God! How unsearchable are his Judgments, and inscrutable his Ways!

34. For who has known the Mind of the Lord? Or who has been his Counsellor?

35. Or who gave to him before, that he may recompense him?

36. Since from him, and by him, and for him all Things are. To him be Glory for ever: so let it be.

C H A P. XII.

I BESEECH you then, Brethren, by the Mercies of God, to present your Bodies a Sacrifice, living, holy, well-pleasing to God, being your reasonable Service.

2. And be not fashioned to this World; but be transformed by the Renewing of your Mind, for you to experience what is the Will of God, good, and well-pleasing, and perfect.

3. For I say, by the Grace given me, to every one who is among you, not to think above what he should; but to think soberly, as God has distributed to each a Measure of Faith.

4. For according as in one Body we have many Members, and all the Members have not the same Work:

5. So we being many are one Body in Christ, and each one Members of one another.

6. Thus as we have Gifts, different according to the Grace given us; whether Prophecy, let it be according to the Proportion of Faith;

7. Or Ministry, let it be in ministering: or to be a Teacher, in teaching;

8. Or an Exhorter, in Exhortation; he who distributes, let it be in Simplicity; who rules, in taking care; who shews mercy, in Cheerfulness.

9. Let Love be unfeigned: abhor what is evil, join to what is good.

10. With brotherly Friendship be friendly affectionated one to another, preferring one another with Honour;

11. Not slothful in taking care, fervent in the Spirit, serving the Lord;

12. Rejoicing in Hope, enduring in Affliction, continuing in Prayer;

Ver. 26. will] should or might. Vulg. &c. by the Change of a Letter, which bids pretty fair to be right, as Mills would have it, Pro. 449. if not over curious, as I guess it is: for though it may be the right Meaning, it may not be the right Word, the Weight of Copies overballancing it, and will may bear such a Sense conditionally; but I rather think it a Prophecy, according to that quoted from Isa. lix. 20. that Israel in general would embrace the Gospel; and Whitby in an Appendix to this Chap. against the different Opinions of Lightfoot and Hammond, argues largely, and as it may seem clearly, for the future Conversion of the Jews.

Ver. 29. not be repented of] The vulg. Lat. without Repentance, writes Beza, obscura et periculosa quoque interpretatione, is darkly and also dangerously translated.

Ver. 30. also] in all the Copies excepting 4, and in all the ancient Versions, though not the Eng.

Ib. disobeyed] according as it is translated Ch. ii. 8. & x. 21. 1 Pet. ii. 7, 8. & iii. 1, 20. & iv. 17. so Beza and Cass. have parvultis, and the Author of the New Version obey.

Ib. Disobedience] from the foregoing Verb, and thus rendered Eph. ii. 2. & v. 6. Col. iii. 6. being different from that in Ver. 20, 23.

Ver. 32. shut up all] Wall finds fault that the Eng. add [them] in a wrong Sense, as if it were meant peculiarly of the Jews; but Paul, says he, means both Jews and Gentiles, as likewise others expound it. As for the Verb, the Latin of it being conclude, which signifies to shut up, and accordingly rendered in the old Lat. the Popish Translators of Rhemes turned it into Eng. concluded, and our last followed them; but if they lost the determinate Meaning in Imitation, no Wonder that the Commentators not finding it, slip over the Word: did they mean shut up or included, as they should mean, but which concluded does not mean? Or determined, as concluded indeed signifies, but would want here to be added to make up the Sense? Or did they mean any Thing else that makes no Sense? Or meant they Nothing at all, only anglicized the Lat. Word?

Ib. all—all] matc. or Men after the com. Gr. but according to some neut. or Things, as at John xii. 32.

Ver. 3. given me] I think added, says Mills, from 1 Cor. iii. 10. Pr. 1215. when it is quite another Matter there, and this absent only in the Lib. Transf.

Ver. 8. Or] not in the Vulg. and two or three Codes, so condemned by Mills, Pr. 453. though more likely should be there, besides the Weight of Books for it.

Ib. rules] West. presideth.

Ver. 11. taking care] or Carefulness, the same as in Ver. 8.

Ib. in the Spirit] as Acts xviii. 25.

Ib. Lord] Time is a various Reading, which Mills (whom others too implicitly credit) so approved of, that he put it in the Text, led principally, as I perceive, by its being in the old Italic Transf. or ancient Vulg. that he was very fond of, and which may be allowed him; but that had many Faults, which Jerome altered, Whitby's Examen, Pres. Sect. 6. & Lib. i. Cap. 4. Sect. 5. Cap. 5.

13. Imparting to the Needs of the Saints, pursuing Hospitality.

14. Bless them that persecute you: bless, and not curse.

15. Rejoice with those who rejoice, and weep with such as weep.

16. Be of the same mind one to another: mind not high Things, but be brought off along with lowly ones: do not think your selves wise;

17. Rendering to none Evil for Evil, providing good Things before all Men:

18. If possible, what you can, be at peace with all Men.

19. Not revenging your selves, Beloved; but give Place to Wrath: for it is written, To me belongs Vengeance, I will recompense, says the Lord.

20. Therefore if thy Enemy be hungry, feed him; if he be thirsty, give him drink: for by doing this, thou wilt heap Coals of Fire on his Head.

21. Be not overcome of Evil; but overcome Evil by Good.

C H A P. XIII.

LET every Person be subject to the superior Powers: for there is no Power but by God; and the Powers that are, be appointed by him.

2. So that he who opposes the Power, resists the Appointment of God; and they that resist, will receive Condemnation to themselves.

as he did this, to the pres. vulg. Lat.. Next Mills relating that our supra was written by Contraction sup, but never the other supra, thence it might be that sup being likewise the first and last Letters of Time in Gr. was taken for it, and on Supposition that the Apostle would not mention such a common well known Thing as serving the Lord, neither of which can be said on the contrary. Thirdly, the great Superiority of Manuscripts, Versions, and Primitive Writers for Lord, is visible in Mills's own Account. Fourthly, serving the Time is so odd an Expression, that though some good Sense may be put upon it, will scarce admit of any, unless the Words are receded from, by making serving and Time to mean Something else. Fifthly, the Gr. Word for Time might probably be first transcribed from the other by Oversight, and then on Supposition that Nobody would do that designedly, might be followed by some; see also Whitby, Lib. ii. Cap. 1. Sect. 1.

Ver. 13. Needs] With two or three Copies and some of the ancient Authors it is Remembrances or Memories, which Mills would have to be the Original Writing, because somewhat obscure (but supposed to mean the Needs of the absent Saints) and so made plainer by Somebody afterwards. He brings Clement for it, with far less Countenance, than for that in Ch. 1. ult. And Whitby says, Nobody favours that Reading besides the Latin Fathers of the fourth and fifth Age, after the Manner and Custom prevailed of celebrating the Memories of the Martyrs, and frequenting their Sepulchres by a corrupt Superstition, Examen, Lib. ii. Cap. 1. Sect. 1.

3. For Rulers are not the Fear of good Works, but of evil; wilt thou not then fear the Power? Do Good, and thou wilt have Praise from the same;

4. For such a one is the Minister of God to thee for Good: but if thou doest Evil, fear; for he bears not the Sword in vain, since he is the Minister of God, the Revenger for Wrath to him who commits Evil.

5. Therefore it is necessary to be subject, not only by reason of Wrath, but also because of Conscience.

6. For by reason of this also pay Taxes; for they are the Ministers of God, continuing for this very Thing.

7. Render therefore to all the Dues, Tax to whom there is Tax, Custom to whom Custom, Fear to whom Fear, Honour to whom Honour.

8. Owe Nothing to any, except it be to love one another: since he that loves another has fulfilled the Law.

9. For this, Thou shalt not commit Adultery, thou shalt not murder, thou shalt not steal, thou shalt not give Evidence falsely, thou shalt not covet, and if there be any other Commandment, it is collected together in this very Saying, Thou shalt love thy Neighbour as thy self.

10. Love works no Ill to a Neighbour; therefore Love is the fulfilling of the Law:

11. And this, knowing the Season, that already it is the Time for us to awake from Sleep; for now our Salvation is nearer than when we first believed.

12. The Night is gone on, and the Day

Ib. pursuing] so the Gr. Word signifies, or persecuting as in the next Verse.

Ver. 19. give] rather is unaccountably added in the last com. Trans.

Ver. 20. Coals] See Prov. xxv. 22. and Bona here.

Ver. 1. the Powers that are] they that are, without Powers, by some, which Mills says crept from the former Part of the Verse, Pr. 1287. to whom Whitby's Answer may be sufficient; but Wall's Assertion is a Monster of the Kind, that this Word Powers is not in any old Copy; when no more than four or five Gr. Copies of all Sorts are without it: the same he says at Ch. xiv. 6. where it is the same.

Ver. 9. thou shalt not give Evidence falsely] crept says Mills from Mat. xix. 8. as not indeed with several; but where the Members thus begin with the Repetition of not, one might be missed in transcribing, and it may be safest to keep to the many more that have this.

Ver. 10. Wither well in Hymn 83.

Love is that blessed Cymment, Lord

Which must us re-unite;

In bitter speeches, fire, and sword,

It never took delight:

The Weapons those of Malice are,

And they themselves beguile,

Who dream that such ordained were

Thy Church to reconcile.

Ver. 11. first believed] or began to believe, as began to reign often in the History of the Kings by one Heb. Word.

draws near: let us therefore put off the Works of Darkness, and put on the Armour of Light.

13. As in the Day let us walk comely; not in Revelling and Drunkenness, not in Leachery and Wantonness, not in Contention and Jealousy.

14. But put you on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make no Providing for the Flesh in Lusts.

C H A P. XIV.

RECEIVE one weak in the Faith, not in Debates of Reasonings.

2. One indeed believes he may eat all Things, but another being weak eats Herbs.

3. Let him who eats, not despise him that does not eat; and let him that does not eat, not judge him who eats: for God has received him.

4. Who art thou that judgest another's Servant? To his own Master he stands, or falls: and he will be made to stand; for God is able to make him stand.

5. One indeed judges one Day is above another; and one judges every Day is alike: let each be assured in his own Mind.

6. He who minds a Day, minds for the Lord; and he that does not mind a Day, does not mind for the Lord: he who eats, eats for the Lord, since he gives thanks to God; and he that does not eat, does not eat for the Lord, and give thanks to God.

7. For none of us lives for himself, and none dies for himself.

8. Since if we live, we live for the Lord; and if we die, we die for him: therefore both if we live, and if we die, we are the Lord's.

9. Because for this Christ as well died, as rose up, and revived; that he might have dominion both over the Dead and Living.

10. Why then dost thou judge thy Brother? Or why dost thou even despise thy Brother? For we shall all stand before the Judgment-seat of Christ.

11. For it is written, By my living, says the Lord, to me every Knee shall bow, and every Tongue confess to God.

12. Therefore indeed each of us shall give Account for himself to God.

13. Let us not henceforth therefore judge one another; but judge this rather, not to put a Stumbling to a Brother, or an Offence.

14. I know, and am persuaded by the Lord Jesus, that Nothing is polluted by reason of it self; unless to him that reckons any Thing polluted, to whom it is so.

15. Now if thy Brother is grieved because of the Meat, thou no more walkest according to Love: do not destroy him with thy Meat, for whom Christ died.

16. Let not your Good therefore be spoken evil of.

17. For the Kingdom of God is not Meat and Drink, but Righteousness, Peace and Joy, in the Holy Spirit.

18. For he who serves Christ in these Things, is well-pleasing to God, and approved with Men.

19. Therefore indeed let us pursue the Things of Peace, and those of Edification one to another.

Ver. 13. Leachery] So the Gr. Word seems to mean, as elsewhere a Bed and Conception, and as Whitby quotes it from the great Lexicographers Phavorinus and Hesychius, the Lust of Women; but chambering is a strange made Word.

Ver. 1. in Debates] in seeming more suitable both to the Sense and Gr. than to; nor is there any thing of doubtful, says Wall.

Ver. 3. received him] either the former or latter.

Ver. 6. and he that does not mind a Day, does not mind for the Lord] all wanting in some, which is not to be wondered at, considering the same is affirmatively just before; but it may be wondered that several Criticks should think it added in, which seems so improbable after the foregoing.

Ib. for the Lord] each of them doing what he does religiously.

Ib. give] belonging to does not before: very obscure, if contrary, in the com. Eng.

Ver. 9. as rose up, and revived] Mills instead of this would have the genuine Reading be as lived, Pr. 763. a few (though only one Copy) being without the first Conjunction and Verb, and many having the latter so; but it seems abridged in Conformity to the rest of the Context, this being unaccountable to be added and altered out of that Conformity. The Notion of Estius that rose up was written in the Marg. to explain revived, and then inserted in a wrong Place, n. before instead of after it, might be a Fancy to please himself; and the Vulg. with one or two more leaving out and revived, might be another Attempt at the Conformity before-mentioned.

Ver. 10. then] and not but, makes a suitable Connexion.

Ib. despise] as Ver. 3.

Ver. 16. your] with a few our, which Mills votes for to be authentick, though he acknowledges it also less suitable.

Ver. 17. but Righteousness, Peace and Joy, in the Holy Spirit] How expressive and emphatical! What need, what can, there be better and more? Considering too that Kingdom it self includes Sovereignty, Power, and Honour, as of God does (to make it true Happiness) Divine. Thus Young now in Cent. not fab. Let. 4. The first Moment we take God for our Protector, and his precious Promises for our chief Portion; our Superiors even Kings, shrink to Men, and Crowns imperial lose their Lustre. Little Things are little, and leave our Hearts at rest.

Ib. in] or through, as Psa. v. 11.

20. Destroy not the Work of God for the sake of Meat. All Things indeed are clean; but it is evil to the Person who eats by Offensiveness.

21. It is good not to eat Flesh, nor drink Wine, nor that in which thy Brother stumbles, or is offended, or weak.

22. Hast thou Faith? Have it according to thy self before God: he is blessed who does not judge himself in what he likes.

23. Whereas he that doubts is condemned, if he eat, because not of Faith; since every Thing which is not of Faith is Sin.

CHAP. XV.

WE then who are strong, ought to bear the Infirmities of the weak, and not to please our selves.

2. For each of us should please a Neighbour, for Good to Edification.

3. For even Christ did not please himself; but, as it is written, The Reproaches of those who reproach thee have fallen upon me.

4. For whatever Things were written before, were done for our Teaching; that through the Patience and Comfort of the Scriptures, we might have Hope.

5. And the God of Patience and Comfort, cause you to be of the same Mind one to another, according to Christ Jesus;

6. That you may unanimously with one Mouth glorify the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

7. Therefore receive one another, as Christ also has received us, to the Glory of God.

8. I further say, that Jesus Christ was the Minister of the Circumcision, for the Truth of God, to confirm the Promises to the Fathers;

9. Moreover that the Gentiles might glorify God for Mercy, as it is written, For this reason will I confess thee among the Gentiles, and sing melodiously to thy Name.

10. And again he says, Rejoice, O Gentiles, with his People.

11. Again likewise, Praise the Lord, all you Gentiles, and give him thanks, all People.

12. Nay again Esaias says, There will be a Root of Jesse, and one who will stand up to rule over the Gentiles, in him the Gentiles will hope.

13. Now the God of Hope fill you, with all Joy and Peace in believing; for you to abound in Hope, by the Power of the Holy Spirit.

14. And I my self also am persuaded concerning you, my Brethren, that ye your selves too are full of Goodness, filled with all Knowledge, able also to admonish one another.

15. But I have written to you the more boldly, Brethren, in Part, as reminding you, by reason of the Grace given me from God;

16. For me to be the Minister of Jesus Christ to the Gentiles, exercising the Gospel of God; that the Offering of the Gentiles may be acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Spirit.

17. I have therefore to boast in Christ Jesus, of Things belonging to God.

18. For I will not dare to speak Aught of what Things Christ has not wrought through me, for the Obedience of the Gentiles, in Word and Work;

Ver. 20. Destroy] The com. Eng. sounds like Indicative to meat, and I have known it taken so.

Ver. 21. or is offended, or weak] One MS. three oriental Versions, &c. are without both these, and Mills declares altogether rightly, and afterwards tells us (which who then can scruple?) that Somebody noted in the Marg. stumbles to be the same as is offended or weak, and some Scribe thinking that was Part of the Text, transmitted it into the Body of the Epistle, Pr. 1204. but which of the two, or himself, used the most Judgment, would still remain a Doubt. Oh that ever wise Men should so sacrifice Sense to the Idol Imagination!

Ver. ult. In divers Exemplars are found next to this, the three last Verses of the Epistle.

Ver. 4. written before] Mills says Somebody changed the simple written into this, Pr. 1287. although there is not one Copy that has it so, but two or three Versions and a few Writers, as may be expected when that is in the vulg. Lat.

Ver. 6. unanimously] which is likewise one Word in the Gr.

Ib. the God and Father] as in Eph. i. 3, the Gr. Article for the being at God, not at Father; for which see also Eph. i. 17.

Ver. 9. among the Gentiles] O Lord, is added in 11 or 12 Copies, 3 Translations, &c. as Mills says from Psa. xviii. 49.

Ver. 12. again] seemed to Mills inserted from those above, Pr. 1215. yet only the Vers. Eth. is without it, the Translator perhaps leaving it out, because Esaias did not say any of that quoted before; whereas this belongs to the Matter, not the Person.

Ver. 13. in believing] Mills feared was a Comment, Pr. 1288. while he found but two Copies (Kuster one more since) no Version, nor Author leaving it out. Among so many Omissions that are made, why might not this be one?

Ver. 14. your selves too] These, says Mills, are of some Explainer, Pr. 450. What did he explain? Did any Body not understand the Meaning of you? If it be retorted, What did Paul then put it for? The Answer is as ready, To make it fuller, and more nervous; which a Commentator would scarce have added to the Text for.

Ib. also] wanting in three Books of the four that the foregoing was, and so has shared the like Fate from Mills, Ib.

Ver. 17. Christ Jesus] so the Gr. Order is, which in K. James's Transf. seems to have been altered by Carelessness.

19. By the Power of Miracles and Wonders, in the Power of the Spirit of God: so that from Jerusalem, and round about to Illyricum, I have fulfilled the Gospel of Christ.

20. Nay I endeavoured to preach so, where Christ was not named, that I might not build on another's Foundation;

21. But as it is written, Those to whom it has not been told concerning him shall see, and they that have not heard shall understand.

22. Therefore also I have been much hindered from coming to you.

23. But now as I have Place no longer in these Regions, and have a Longing to come to you;

24. When I go into Spain, I will come to you: for going along I hope to see you, and be conducted thither by you, if I have first my fill of you in Part.

25. However now I am going to Jerusalem, to minister to the Saints.

26. For those of Macedonia and Achaia have thought well, to make some Contribution for the Poor of the Saints at Jerusalem.

27. They have thought well indeed, and are their Debtors: for if the Gentiles have partaken of their spiritual Things, they ought also to minister to them in carnal Things.

28. When I have therefore accomplished this, and sealed this Fruit to them, I shall come by you into Spain.

29. And I know that when I come to you, I shall come in the Fulness of the Blessing of Christ's Gospel.

30. So I beseech you, Brethren, by our Lord Jesus Christ, and by the Love of the Spirit, to strive with me, in Prayers for me to God;

31. That I may be delivered from the Unbelievers in Judea, and that my ministering for Jerusalem may be acceptable to the Saints;

32. That I may come to you in Joy by the Will of God, and may be at rest with you.

33. Now the God of Peace be with you all: so let it be.

CHAP. XVI.

AND I commend to you Phebe our Sister, who is a Minister of the Church at Cenchrea;

2. That you would receive her in the Lord, as is worthy of Saints, and stand by her in whatever Matter she has need of you: for she has also been an Entertainer of many, and of me my self.

3. Salute Priscilla and Aquila, my Fellow-workers in Christ Jesus:

4. Who for my Life laid down their own Necks; to whom not I only give thanks, but likewise all the Churches of the Gentiles:

5. As also the Church at their House. Salute Epenetus my Beloved, who is the First-fruit of Achaia to Christ.

6. Salute Mary, that laboured much for us.

7. Salute Andronicus and Junia, my Relations and Fellow-prisoners; who are noted among the Apostles, that also were in Christ before me.

8. Salute Amplias, my Beloved in the Lord.

9. Salute Urbane our Fellow-worker in Christ, and Stachys my Beloved.

10. Salute Apelles approved in Christ. Salute those of Aristobulus.

11. Salute Herodion my Kinsman. Salute those of Narcissus, that are in the Lord.

12. Salute Tryphena and Tryphosa, that labour in the Lord. Salute the beloved Persis, who has laboured much in the Lord.

Ver. 19. of God] Although this is absent but in one Copy, beside some that have Holy for it, yet Mills counts that one only right, Pr. 453.

Ver. 20. endeavoured to preach] Vulg. preached, by Omission, as Mills confesses, Pr. 549.

Ver. 24. I will come to you: for] some leave out, I suppose because Paul was prevented in his Intention, yet he came to them in another Manner.

Ver. 27. They have thought well indeed] which being a Repetition, is omitted in two or three Copies, yet Mil's suspected it made from the foregoing Ver. in Pr. 1288. but his Argument, that it was done, because otherwise it would not be clearly understood who were the Debtors, the Inhabitants of Macedonia and Achaia, or the Saints of Jerusalem, does not appear to have any Foundation; since that might be easily known, though on the contrary these Words rather obscure it, by coming between the Saints and these.

Ib. indeed] when For would be thus repeated, which to avoid, our Translators left it out.

Ib. have partaken] West. have partook ungrammatical: so having been wrote, on 1 Cor. xvi. 21. and have drank.

Ver. 29. —'s Gospel] omitted by some, and wildly imagined by Mills to be taken from Ver. 19.

Ver. 30. the Love of the Spirit] by which I understand his Love to us, not only as the most excellent Sense, but most suitable to Jesus Christ before.

Ver. 1. a Minister] so rendered first by Tyndal, and afterwards by the Bishops under Q. Elizabeth in their Bible, nay in several other Places of the pres. Transf. as likewise by Erasm. and Ben. ministra, and Cast. ministrum, Calv. faithful minister.

Ver. 3. Fellow] as Ver. 7. nay the same whole Gr. Word is rendered in the com. Transf. work-fellow, Ver. 21. and the like elsewhere.

Ver. 5. Achaia] Some have Asia, which as well as Wall, even Whitby is for, and Mills is positive this came from 1 Cor. xvi. 15. but on the other hand Achaia being there, seems far more likely the Occasion of altering it here to Asia, as being spoken of different Persons; and can it be imagined any would alter Asia here, to be the same as there? Yet Paul might write this of the first Person, that of the first Family in Achaia, which I think may be quite satisfactory.

Ver. 6. as] The Vulg. and several have you, yet Mills pleads for ours to be right, Pr. 1064. and look Whit. Exam.

Ver. 7. Relations] Junia being a Woman.

13. Salute Rufus chosen in the Lord, with his Mother and mine.

14. Salute Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermas, Patrobas, Hermes, and the Brethren with them.

15. Salute Philologus, and Julia, Nereus, and his Sister, as also Olympas, and all the Saints with them.

16. Salute one another with a holy Kiss. The Churches of Christ salute you.

17. And I beseech you, Brethren, watch them that make Dissensions and Offences, contrary to the Doctrine which you have been taught, and turn aside from them.

18. For such do not serve our Lord Jesus Christ, but their own Bellies; and by kind Speech, and speaking well of them, deceive the Hearts of the Harmless.

19. For your Obedience is come to all; I therefore rejoice for you: yet I would have you indeed be wise in Good, but innocent in Evil.

20. And the God of Peace will bruise Satan under your Feet quickly. The Grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you: so let it be.

21. Timothy my Fellow-worker, with Lucius, Jason, and Sosipater, my Relations, salute you.

22. I Tertius, who write the Epistle, salute you in the Lord.

23. Gaius the Landlord of me, and of the whole Church, salutes you. Erastus the Steward of the City salutes you, and Quartus a Brother.

24. The Grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all: so let it be.

25. Now to him who is able to establish you; according to my Gospel, and the Preaching of Jesus Christ; suitable to the Revelation of the Mystery kept silent in ancient Times;

26. But now made manifest, and by the Scriptures of the Prophets, according to the Command of the Everlasting God, made known to all the Gentiles, for Obedience of the Faith;

27. To the only Wise God be Glory, by Jesus Christ, for ever: so let it be.

It was written to the Romans from Corinth, sent by Phebe, a Minister of the Church at Cenchrea.

Ver. 13. mine] for the Care she has taken of me, Wall's Crit.

Ver. 14. Hermas] There is a Treatise of some Length as his, called The Shepherd of St. Hermas, which see in Eng. with Wake's Genuine Epistles. It is reckoned to be written eleven Years after this to the Romans.

Ver. 16. The Churches] to which some have all, and Mills counted rightly. This is a little unusual, since the various Readings generally lessen ours. There might be some Motive for leaving out, and I confess I don't see much for putting in all, unless it was done from the preceding Verse, which might be the Case.

Ver. 18. speaking well of] so it rightly signifies, and not fair speeches. Four or five Copies being without this with and, Mills raises a Scruple of its being put in the Marg. for the Interpretation of kind Speech, and then taken into the Text with and added; but if so, must be wilfully done.

Ib. Harmless] as in Heb. vii. 26. not simple.

Ver. 19. innocent] the Gr. Word is used besides, Mat. x. 16. Phil. ii. 15. where, as well as by its Etymology, it does not appear to mean simple.

Ver. 25. These three last Verses have been supposed to be joined to the End of Chap. xiv. with which Paul first ended, then added the rest as a Postscript, and that Somebody afterwards removed this Conclusion hither; because several Manuscripts and ancient Commentaries have them there. For Marcion (called) the Heretick's rejecting these two Chapters is not to be regarded, since it is not likely either that the Apostle should omit the Salutations, or any other add so many.

Ib. ancient Times] see of it on 2 Tim. i. 9.

Sub. It was written] which the Gr. is, as to the Philippians and Titus. These Subscriptions are not only without Authority, but as will appear sometimes without Truth; being made by one Euthalius a Deacon, A. D. 458, Mills Prolog. p. 90.

Ib. Corinth] situate at the Entrance into the South of Greece, from the North, from whence it appears written by Ch. xvi. 23. with 1 Cor. i. 14. & 2 Tim. iv. 20. and the Date of the Epistle is to be referred to the three Months mentioned in Acts xx. 3. An. Dom. 58, next after the Epistles to the Corinthians, but placed first in Order, as being larger; compare 1 Cor. xvi. 1, 3, 4. with Ch. xv. 25, 26. of this Epist.

NOTES upon the First Epistle of PAUL to the CORINTHIANS.

C H A P. I.

PAUL, called to be an Apostle of Jesus Christ, by the Will of God, and Sosthenes a Brother;

2. To the Church of God that is at Corinth, to those sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be Saints, with all who in every Place call on the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ, both theirs and ours.

3. Grace be to you, and Peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

4. I give thanks to my God always for you, for the Grace of God given you in Christ Jesus;

5. That in every Thing you are enriched in him, in all Speech and all Knowledge:

6. As the Testimony of Christ was confirmed in you.

7. So that you are not behind in any Gift, waiting for the Revelation of our Lord Jesus Christ:

8. Who will also confirm you blameless till the End, at the Day of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9. God is faithful, by whom you were called into the Communion of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

10. And I beseech you, Brethren, by the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that you would all speak the same, so that there may not be Divisions among you, but you may be compleated both in the same Mind and Opinion.

11. For it has been declared to me concerning you, my Brethren, by those of Chloe, that there are Contentions among you.

12. So this I mention, that each of you says, I indeed am Paul's, and I Apollos's, and I Cephas's, and I Christ's.

13. Is Christ divided? Was Paul crucified for you? Or were you baptized in the Name of Paul?

14. I give thanks to God, that I baptized none of you, excepting Crispus and Gaius:

15. Lest any one should say, that I baptized in my own Name.

16. And I also baptized the Family of Stephanas; I know not further, whether I baptized any other.

17. For Christ did not send me to baptize, but to preach; not with Wisdom of Speech, lest the Cross of Christ should be made void.

18. For the Speech of the Cross is to them indeed that perish, Foolishness; but to us who are saved, it is the Power of God.

19. For it is written, I will make the Wisdom of the wise Men perish, and abolish the Understanding of the learned ones.

20. Where is the wise Man? Where the Scribe? Where the Disputer of this Age? Has not God made the Wisdom of this World foolish?

21. For as in the Wisdom of God, the World by Wisdom did not know God; he was pleased by the Foolishness of Preaching to save those who believe.

22. Since even the Jews ask for a Sign, and the Grecians seek Wisdom.

Tit. Corinthians] These two Epistles, written about five Years after those to the Thessalonians, claim the Priority in Time of all the other Books; Mills, as likewise Pearson, states them A. D. 57, and this a little before the Passover, by Ch. xvi. 8. & v. 7, 8.

Ver. 1. called] Merely for not being in three Copies, and the Lat. of two of them, Mills fancied this was inserted from the Beginning of Rom. Pr. 1288. but then would not it likewise have been added to 2 Cor. &c?

Ver. 2. theirs and ours] viz. their and our Lord Jesus Christ, as Whitby says from the Ancient Interpreters.

Ver. 4. in Christ Jesus] so the Gr.

Ver. 7. Revelation] not coming.

Ver. 8. blameless till] This Adjective belonging to the former Part of the Verse.

Ver. 10. Brethren] Only because two of the Primitive Writers omitted this Word in Quotation, Mills peremptorily pronounces it is not Paul's, Prel. 630. which is slenderer than his common slender Pretences against our received Reading, and when he had a little before mentioned another of those Writers quoting too negligently, by Memory, in short, or to the Sense, Pr. 616. Instances of which also see in Whitby's Examen, Cap. 1.

Ver. 12. Paul's, &c.] as in the com. Transf. Chap. iii. ult.

Ver. 18. Speech] the same as in the foregoing Verse, and Chap. ii. 1.

Ib. indeed] Mills cites four Translations and two Authors, for this Particle not being in the Original, and thence concludes it should not be there, being thrust in, Pr. 454. What a parallel Proof he might have had in our com. Eng. &c. that it is not in the Orig. now!

Ib. as] them by omitting the Pronoun in a few, whose Part our great Critick above takes, Ib.

Ver. 20. Age] different from the following.

Ver. 21. as] which does not signify after that as I find in Scripture. Gen. seeing, vulg. Lat. &c. quia, because.

23. Whereas

23. Whereas we preach Christ crucified ; to the Jews indeed Offence, and to the Grecians Foolishness ;

24. But to those who are called, both Jews and Grecians, Christ the Power of God, and the Wisdom of God,

25. Because what is foolish of God is wiser than Men, and what is weak of God is stronger than Men.

26. For you behold your Calling, Brethren, that there are not many wise according to the Flesh, not many powerful, not many noble.

27. But God has chosen the foolish Things of the World, that he might confound the wise ; as he has the weak Things of it, that he might confound the strong ones ;

28. Nay the base Things of the World, and contemptible has God chosen, and Things which are not, that he might make void the Things which are :

29. To the end that no Flesh may boast before him.

30. But you are of him in Christ Jesus ; who is made to us Wisdom by God, with Righteousness, Sanctification and Redemption :

31. That, as it is written, Let him who boasts do it in the Lord.

CH A P. II.

AND when I came to you, Brethren, I did not come according to the Eminence of Speech or Wisdom, declaring to you the Testimony of God.

2. For I did not determine to know any Thing among you, excepting Jesus Christ, and him crucified.

3. Moreover I was with you in Weakness, Fear, and much Trembling.

Ver. 28. and Things] This and Mills would turn off, not found in four Copies, &c. Pr. 1491. though so needful.

Ver. 4. and of Power] None, but the Eth. Transf. being without this, Mills says it is credible that it was added by Occasion of in the Power of God in the next Ver. Pr. 1215. What Imagination is here !

Ver. 7. the Ages] being plural in the Gr. and the Lat. secula, as all render it, the same ; so likewise the late Eng. Transf.

Ver. 9. what Things] not the things themselves entered, the Verb before being singular.

Ver. 11. what] The Gr. has not man here, nor in the latter Part of the Verse, which is making the Spirit in both Places a Man. Μεψ or δυναμς may be understood, to be what Part or Faculty.

Ver. 13. Holy] though omitted by some, and thence only seemed to Mills an Addition, may not to others with me.

Ver. 14. of God] Some Primitive Writers leave out, for Dispatch of Quotation probably, and as the Spirit may be understood without, as also one Copy and Verf. whence Mills denies it to be the Apostle's own, Pr. 455, 737.

1b. spiritually judged of] How opposite to that of Ham-

4. My Speech also and Preaching, was not in enticing Words of human Wisdom ; but in the Demonstration of the Spirit, and of Power :

5. That your Faith might not be in the Wisdom of Men, but in the Power of God.

6. However we speak Wisdom among the Perfect ; yet not the Wisdom of this World, nor of the Rulers of it, who become void.

7. But we speak the Wisdom of God in a Mystery, the hidden, which God fore-appointed before the Ages, for our Glory :

8. Which none of the Rulers of this World knew ; for if they had known, they would not have crucified the Lord of Glory.

9. But as it is written, The Eye has not seen, nor the Ear heard, nor has it come up in the Heart of Man, what Things God has prepared for those who love him.

10. Nevertheless God has revealed by his Spirit : for the Spirit searches all Things, even the deep Things of God.

11. For what of Men knows the Things of Man, excepting the Spirit of Man in him ? So also none knows the Things of God, excepting the Spirit of God.

12. And we have not received the Spirit of the World, but the Spirit from God ; that we might know the Things given us by God.

13. Which Things also we speak, not in the Words taught of human Wisdom, but in those taught of the Holy Spirit, comparing spiritual Things with spiritual.

14. Whereas a natural Man does not receive the Things of the Spirit of God : for they are Foolishness to him ; and he cannot know, since they are spiritually judged of.

15. But a spiritual one indeed judges of all Things ; yet he himself is judged of by Nobody.

mond in New Light, Sect. 26. bound up with his Assertions, ' The understanding the Word of God contained ' in the Scripture, must be attained by the same means, ' or the like, by which other writings of men are ex- ' pounded, and no otherwise ? '

1b. judged of] the same as in the next Verse.

Ver. 15. indeed] as that in Ch. i. 18.

1b. judged of] viz. rightly, as judges before. Hammond to shun the Force of this Text, which stood in his Way as at Acts ii. 17. says in Postf. of New Light, Sect. 12. He that is spiritual is ' such an one, as is said to have received the Spirit which is of God, Ver. 12. Certainly. And, adds he, Such were the Apostles and others of that time. Very true again ; but is there any necessary Consequence from thence, that none in after Ages would or could be spiritual ? God forbid ! and rational inference which he names Sect. 1. does not require it, but the contrary, since without the Spirit of God the Things of God cannot be known, Ver. xi. 12. and a spiritual here is opposed to a natural Man in the foregoing Verse, which Distinction surely still continues ; and I hope some love God now, Ver. 9.

16. For

16. For who has known the Mind of the Lord, that may instruct him? However we have the Mind of Christ.

CHAP. III.

AND I, Brethren, could not speak to you as spiritual, but as carnal, as Babes in Christ.

2. I have fed you with Milk, and not Meat: for hitherto you could not bear it, nay neither yet can you now.

3. For you are yet carnal: for where there is among you Jealousy, Contending and Dissensions, are not you carnal, and walk according to Man?

4. For when Somebody says, I indeed am Paul's, and another, I Apollos's, are not you carnal?

5. Who then is Paul, and who Apollos, but Ministers by whom you have believed, even as the Lord gave to each?

6. I planted, Apollos watered; but God caused to grow.

7. So that neither he that plants is any Thing, nor he that waters, but God who causes to grow.

8. Nay he that plants, and he that waters, are one, and each will receive his own Reward according to his own Labour.

9. For we are Workers together of God: you are God's Husbandry, God's Building.

10. According to the Grace of God given me, as a wise Master-builder I have put the Foundation, and another builds up; but let each look how he builds up.

11. For none can put another Foundation, beside what is laid, which is Jesus Christ.

12. Now if any one build up on this Foundation, Gold, Silver, precious Stones, Wood, Hay, Stubble;

13. The Work of each will be made manifest: for the Day will declare, since it will be revealed by Fire, which will prove of what Kind the Work of each is.

14. If any one's Work shall remain which he builds up, he will receive a Reward.

15. If any one's Work shall be burnt up, he will suffer loss; yet he himself may be saved, but so as by Fire.

16. Do not ye know that ye are the Temple of God, and the Spirit of God dwells in you?

17. If any one spoils the Temple of God, him will God spoil: for God's Temple is holy, which you are.

18. Let none deceive himself; if any one seems to be wise among you in this Age, let him become foolish, that he may become wise.

19. For the Wisdom of this World is Foolishness with God: for it is written, He takes the Wise in their Craftiness;

20. And again, The Lord knows the Imaginations of the Wise, that they are Vanity.

21. So that none should boast in Men: for all Things are yours,

22. Whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the World, or Life, or Death, or present Things, or future Things, all are yours.

23. And you are Christ's, and Christ is God's.

CHAP. IV.

LET a Man so count us, as Ministers of Christ, and Stewards of the Mysteries of God.

2. But further, there is sought for in Stewards, that any one should be found faithful.

3. Yet to me it is for a very small Thing, that I should be judged of by you, or by Man's Day: whereas neither do I judge of myself.

Ver. 2. Milk—Meat] Our two great (Protestant) Translators, viz. Cassiodorus and Beza, fall out concerning these being the same or not; which see together in the Defence of the former, p. 133, &c.

1b. and] several want, whom Mills seems to hold with, Pr. 631.

Ver. 3. and Dissensions] not in three or four Copies, three Versions, &c. so thought by Mills to be brought from Gal. v. 20. but in Prel. 986 or 987. he says it crept from the Marg. as if it were, according to what he writes in other Places, a Scholium or Exposition; so that the Inconsistency may strengthen, more than the whole stagger us; neither are these three Nouns any how in this Order in Gal. v.

Ver. 5. to each] so the Gr. only and in Ver. 8. the new Verf. has to each of them.

Ver. 6. I planted, Apollos watered] according to the Narration in Acts xviii. 1, 11, 18, 24, 27. & xix. 1.

1b. Apollos] Former Editions of our last Transf. have it Apollo, so that Wall wondered what the Translator of this Epistle ailed, that he must call him so, and not Apollos, as in Acts, and as the Gr. Name is.

VOL. II.

Ver. 9. of God] as God's after, not with; which Doddr. calls an improper Rendering on every Account, and against which see also Beza.

Ver. 10. and] Two Copies are without, I suppose because it is repeated; the Reader may find it more unaccountable, that Mills should think the Original at first without so necessary a Connection, and on so small Authority, Pr. 455.

1b. builds up] rendered only build in the com. Transf. Ver. 12. which has also here a Pronoun there—for its Object twice, that is not in the Gr. thereon and thereupon may also seem different.

Ver. 11. put] not the same Verb as the following.

Ver. 13. by Fire] which the Marg. of the Gen. Transf. has, By the triall of Gods Spirit,

Ver. 3. judged of] The Gr. Verb anacrino signifying properly judge of, as crino Ver. 5. does judge. But the common of is old for by.

1b. Man's Day] viz. for such judging, but by God's; the Original Word not signifying judgment.

4. For

4. For I am conscious of Nothing to my self; yet am not I justified in this, but it is the Lord judges of me.

5. So that judge you not any Thing before the Time, till the Lord comes, who will both make light the hidden Things of Darkness, and make manifest the Counsels of the Hearts; and then there will be Praise to each from God.

9. Now these Things, Brethren, I have transformed to my self and Apollos by reason of you; that you may learn in us, not to mind above what is written, that none may be puffed up for one against another.

7. For who distinguishes thee? And what hast thou which thou didst not receive? And now if thou didst receive, why dost thou boast, as if thou hadst not?

8. You are satisfied already, are rich already, have reigned without us; and I wish indeed you did reign, that we also might reign with you.

9. For I think, that God has shewn us Apostles the last, as appointed to Death; since we are made a Show to the World, Angels and Men.

10. We are Fools for Christ, but you are wise in Christ; we are weak, but you are strong; you are glorious, but we dishonourable.

11. Till the present Hour we are both hungry and thirsty, as also naked and beat, and do wander about;

12. Moreover we labour, working with our own Hands: being railed at, we speak well to; being persecuted, we bear;

13. Being spoken ill of, we intreat: we are made as the Scum of the World, the Filth of all Things till now.

14. I do not write these Things to shame you, but as my beloved Children I warn.

15. For though you should have ten thousand Schoolmasters in Christ, yet not many Fathers: for I begot you in Christ Jesus by the Gospel.

16. I therefore beseech you, be Imitators of me.

17. For this I have sent to you Timothy, who is my beloved Child, and faithful in the Lord; who will put you in remembrance of my Ways in Christ, as I teach every where in every Church.

18. Now some are puffed up, as if I would not come to you;

19. Whereas I will come quickly to you, if the Lord is willing; and will know, not the Speech of those that are puffed up, but the Power.

20. For the Kingdom of God is not in Speech, but in Power.

21. What would you? I should come to you with a Rod, or in Love, and the Spirit of Meekness?

CHAP. V.

IT is wholly heard there is Whoredom among you, and such Whoredom which is not mentioned among the Gentiles, that any one should have a Father's Wife.

2. And you are puffed up, and have not rather mourned, that he who has done this Deed might be put out from amongst you.

3. For I indeed, as absent in Body, but present in Spirit, have already judged, as if present, him that has so acted this;

4. In the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ, when you are assembled together, and my Spirit, with the Power of our Lord Jesus Christ,

5. That such a one should be delivered to Satan, for the Destruction of the Flesh, that the Spirit may be saved in the Day of the Lord Jesus.

6. Your Boasting is not good: do not you know, that a little Leaven leavens the whole Lump?

Ver. 4. am conscious of Nothing to my self] very apt to the Gr. and not labouring with Obscurity, like the com. Transf.

Ver. 6. to mind] The Vulg. and four or five Copies have not this, which Mills does not attempt however to vindicate, Pr. 454.

Ib. is written] I incline to think, with Besa, in the Scripture.

Ver. 7. distinguishes] the best English Word I believe to answer to the Gr. here.

Ver. 8. reigned] Our Translators needed not to have added as kings; since reigned implies that and more.

Ver. 11. wander about] a Verb only.

Ver. 14. I warn] By five Copies to warn, and Grotius says rightly, that it may agree with the as; but either of them will agree with that, and not indeed as Whitby asserts, to warn is ill if we are to believe St. Hilary, with all the Gr. Scholiums and Versions, Exam. Lib. ii. C. 3. since they have Nothing of its Disagreement.

Ver. 20. Power] Of the Holy Ghost, Gen. Note.

Ver. 1. is—mentioned] six or seven Copies, the Vulg. &c. are without, so said by Mills to be added to compleat the Sentence. Now what Answer does a simple Assertion demand? And what such as the Assertor could not know to be true? But especially that which has more Evidence against it, than for it? How frequently these are applicable to what Mills positively asserts against our Reading, and almost always the two latter, the Reader may observe.

Ver. 2. put] as Ver. 13.

Ver. 3. judged, as if present, him] judged him as a Judge present there, the Sentence following.

Ver. 4. Christ] The last is affirmed by Mills to be added, Pr. 730. as not in two or three Codes, &c. no great Wonder that the Vulg. should be so accompanied.

Ver. 6. is not good] One Gr. Copy, and Augustine says some Lat. ones, being without not, Mills does not doubt but the Apostolic's own also: for, says he, it is an ironical Reproach; which the Expression seems too positive, and simple for: he adds, like Mark vii. 9. Rom. xi. 20. Jam. ii. 19.

7. Purge

7. Purge out therefore the old Leaven, that you may be a new Lump, as you are unleavened: for even Christ our Passover has been sacrificed for us.

8. So then let us keep the Feast, not with old Leaven, nor with the Leaven of Wickedness and Iniquity, but with the unleavened Cakes of Sincerity and Truth.

9. I wrote to you in the Epistle, not to keep company with Whoremongers.

10. Yet not altogether with the Whoremongers of this World, or the Covetous, Extortioners or Idolaters; for then indeed you should go out of the World,

11. So now I have written to you, not to keep company with any one named a Brother, if a Whoremonger, Covetous, Idolater, Railer, Drunkard or Extortioner, nor to eat with such a one.

12. For what have I to do also to judge those without. Do not you judge those within?

13. Whereas God judges those without. So put out the wicked Man from your selves.

CHAP. VI.

DOES any one of you who has a Matter against another, dare to be judged before the Unrighteous, and not before the Saints?

2. Do not you know, that the Saints will judge the World? And if the World shall be judged by you, are ye unworthy of judging very small Things?

3. Do not you know, that we shall judge

Angels? How much more Things of this Life?

4. Therefore indeed if you have the judging the Things of this Life, place them for it that are contemptible in the Church.

5. I speak to your Shame. Is not there thus a wise Man among you, not even one, who can decide amongst his Brethren?

6. On the contrary one Brother is judged with another, and this before the Unbelievers.

7. There is now therefore indeed wholly a Defect in you, that ye have Trials at Law with your selves: for what reason do ye not rather suffer injury? For what reason do ye not rather be deprived?

8. On the contrary ye do injury, and deprive, and that the Brethren.

9. What do not you know, that the Unrighteous shall not inherit the Kingdom of God? Do not mistake; neither Whoremongers, Idolaters, Adulterers, Effeminate, Buggerers,

10. Thieves, Covetous, Drunkards, Railers nor Extortioners, shall inherit the Kingdom of God.

11. And thus some of you were; but you are washed, but you are sanctified, but you are justified, in the Name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God.

12. All Things are lawful for me, but not all Things profitable: all Things are lawful for me, but I will not be brought under the Power of any.

13. Meats are for the Belly, and the Belly for Meats; but God will make both this and these void. And the Body is not for Whore-

ii. 19. neither of which appear to me such, one would think it would not be pretended of the two latter, and the Shew of it in the first lies in taking the Sense of the Word there too strictly, as in the Eng. The leaving out not might be owing to Oversight, or the Repetition of it.

Ib. leavens] Hereby displaying how the Evil he complained of would spread and operate, not that Leaven is injurious to Dough (quite contrary) but the Comparison is used as the Similitude of the unjust Steward, Luke xvi. Not aware of this, and to make it more explicit, Marcion the ancient Heretick, as it appears, altered it to another Word, that may be best rendered perhaps spoils, but chiefly signifies deceives. Yet Mills argues for that to be the genuine Word, both here and Gal. v. 9. as if our Apostle knew no better what Leaven does to the Dough; see also Whit. Exam. Lib. ii. 3. I am apt to think it was changed first in Gal. and then here to accord with that.

Ver. 7. therefore] not in several MSS. and other Writings, though it has escaped the Censure of Mills, &c. but Whitby relates was omitted because not in the Office of St. Paschal.

Ib. for us] according to Mills is an Explanation, Pr. 759. he finding five Exemplars, the Vulg. and several more without it; but how light are all these to weigh against ours that have it? It being read, Beza says, in the Gr. with a very great Agreement, and, as he subjoins, is not insignificant or useless.

Ver. 8. but with the unleavened Cakes of Sincerity and Truth] Mills thought was all added, that there might be what would answer to the latter Part of the foregoing Verse, merely as being not in the Ethiop. Vers. O fy!

And may there always be some ready to defend the Sacred Writings against such crude Positions! Had Something been so added, doubtless the Word [new] would have been in it; and the Eth. Translator might only miss a Line; see too Whit. Annot..

Ib. unleavened Cakes] being plural, like the Heb. Exod. xii. 8. Josh. v. 11. and in one Word, where neither bread nor cakes is Italic in our com. Vers.

Ver. 9. the Epistle] this same, at the first Inditing of it, according to the Commentators; there being no Account of any Epistle of his to them before.

Ver. 11. keep company with] Thus the Expression is proper, which is so defective in the com. Transf. though be is there added.

Ver. 12. So put out] West. And ye will take away.

Ver. 1. to be judged] West.

Ver. 2. very small Things] according as rendered Chap. iv. 3.

Ver. 4. place them] viz. as I understand it, you may do so, rather than want Persons for it.

Ver. 5. not even one] joined to the foregoing; and three or four are without it, (not only the Ethiop. as Whitby says) with Mills's Approbation, Pr. 457.

Ver. 7. therefore] the Vulg. and one Copy omit, enow for Mills's insertum est, it is put in, Pr. eod.

Ver. 8. that] Clemens of Alexandria alone having not this Particle, Mills could not think (without allowing scarcely) that it was genuine, Pr. 631. which exceeds what was mentioned at Ch. i. 10.

Ver. 9. What] as it is Ver. 16, 19.

dom,

dom, but for the Lord, and the Lord for the Body.

14. Moreover God has both raised up the Lord, and will raise up us by his Power.

15. Do not you know, that your Bodies are the Members of Christ? Shall I then take the Members of Christ, and make the Members of a Harlot? Far be it.

16. What do not you know, that he who is joined to a Harlot is one Body? For, says he, the two shall be one Flesh.

17. And he who is joined to the Lord, is one Spirit.

18. Flee Whoredom: every other Sin whatever a Man does, is without the Body; but he that commits Whoredom, sins against his own Body.

19. What do not you know, that your Body is the Temple of the Holy Spirit in you, which you have from God, and are not your own?

20. For you are bought with a Price: then glorify God both in your Body and Spirit, which are God's.

CHAP. VII.

NOW concerning what Things you wrote to me: it is well for a Man not to meddle with a Woman.

2. Yet by reason of Whoredoms, let each Man have a Wife to himself, and each Woman have her own Husband.

3. Let the Husband render to the Wife the good Will that is due, in like Manner the Wife also to the Husband.

Ver. 19. Body] Nine Copies and some Writers have Bodies, perhaps to suit better, as might be thought, with you and your, or to conform a little to the Vulg. that has Members, though most likely from Ver. 15. yet Mills supposes it was so at first.

Ver. 20. glorify] Some add and carry, which may be seen in Mills's Notes. So Ignatius, that great primitive Father and Martyr, the immediate Disciple of the Apostle John, glorified before the Emperor Trajan of the Name Theophorus, one carrying God.

Ver. 20. both—and Spirit, which are God's] Mills counts added at the Side, from whence it crept into the Text, some being without it; but see Whit. Ex.

Ver. 3. the good Will that is due] Some Copies, &c. have instead of this the Debt, which the Criticks imagine is right, and that it was altered to be modest; but why not as well to be plainer, when it could be made so by shortening opheilomen to opheilen? And why should not Paul write as modest as a Transcriber, or the old Lat. Translator? Hammond says some Gr. Copies read due Honour or Worship, which perhaps, adds he, is the Ground of the Use of the Word {worship} retained by our Church in the Form of Marriage; but this will prove a very slight Ground of it, as it may be questioned whether any Gr. Copy has that, since only Curcellæus mentions such a Reading, whose Collection is very uncertain, as may be seen in Warten's Edit. besides which only Chrysostome has it by Mills's Account.

Ib. good Will] as translated Eph. vi. 7. where it is only

4. The Wife has not power of her own Body, but the Husband; and in like manner the Husband also has not power of his own Body, but the Wife.

5. Do not deprive one another, excepting what may be by Agreement for a Time, that you may be at leisure for Fasting and Prayer; and you should come together again in the same Place, that Satan may not tempt you for your Excess.

6. However I say this according to Permission, not according to Command.

7. For I would have all Men be even as my self; but each has his own Gift from God, one indeed in this Manner, and another in that.

8. So I say to the Unmarried and the Widows, it is well for them if they remain even as I.

9. Nevertheless if they have not Continence, let them marry: for it is better to marry, than to be inflamed.

10. And the Married I order, not my self, but the Lord, that the Wife should not depart from the Husband.

11. But yet if she does depart, let her remain unmarried, or be reconciled to the Husband; and let not the Husband put away the Wife.

12. Moreover to the rest I say, not the Lord; If any Brother has an unbelieving Wife, and she consent to dwell with him, let him not put her away:

13. The Wife likewise who has an unbelieving Husband, and he consents to dwell with her, let her not put him away.

besides. The Gen. Note says, it containeth all duties pertaining to marriage; Ham. all acts of conjugall love.

Ver. 5. Fasting and] A pretty many are found without these Words, which then no Wonder Mills is for; but a great many may have a better Claim, as a Majority in Voting passes, and especially as the Vulg. Lat. seems to have had Influence over those. Nor is it to be thought the Married were to do thus for Prayer only, a frequent or daily Duty, which Consideration may quite determine the Matter.

Ib. come together] Instead of this some have be, mostly of those who omitted the other before, and Mills favours these also, Pr. 680. but that is not to be granted to a Part, which was not to the Whole.

Ib. in the same Place] namely the same Bed, according to Bez. rendered in unum by Eras. but concerning the Gr. which is passed over in the con. Transf. see on Acts i. 15.

Ib. Excess] as rendered Mat. xxiii. 25. being only in these two Places.

Ver. 7. be even as my self] in respect to Chastity, not a single Life.

Ver. 9. Continence] which Grew in his Cosmology, or Account of the World, thus defines, Content without lawful Venery, is Continence; without unlawful, Chastity. If contain, should be contain themselves, as the Gr. also signifies.

Ver. 12. unbelieving] as Ver. 14. and one Gr. Word.

Ver. 13. and he consents] if is not in the Gr. and besides spoils the Eng.

14. For

14. For the unbelieving Husband is sanctified in the Wife, and the unbelieving Wife sanctified in the Husband: otherwise indeed your Children would be unclean, but now are holy.

15. Yet if the Unbelieving will depart, let him: a Brother or Sister is not a Servant in such Things, but God has called us in Peace.

16. For how dost thou know, O Wife, whether thou shalt save the Husband? Or how dost thou know, O Husband, whether thou shalt save the Wife?

17. Else as God has distributed to each, as the Lord has called each, so let him walk; and thus I order in all the Churches.

18. Is any one called being circumcised? let him not become otherwise: is any one called in Uncircumcision? let him not be circumcised.

19. Circumcision is Nothing, and Uncircumcision is Nothing; but the keeping the Commandments of God.

20. Let each remain in the Calling wherein he was called.

21. Wast thou called being a Servant? do not thou care; but yet if thou canst be made free, use it rather.

22. For a Servant called in the Lord, is the Lord's freed Man; in like Manner also a free Man called, is a Servant of Christ.

23. You being bought with a Price, do not become the Servants of Men.

24. Let each in what he was called, Brethren, remain in the same with God.

25. But concerning Virgins I have no Command of the Lord; yet I give my Opinion, as one who has obtained mercy from the Lord to be faithful:

26. I therefore suppose this to be well, by reason of the present Necessity, namely well for a Person to be so.

27. Art thou tied to a Wife? do not seek to be let loose: art thou let loose from a Wife? do not seek a Wife.

28. But yet if thou marriest, thou hast not sinned; and if a Virgin marry, she has not sinned; however such will have Affliction in the Flesh; but I spare you.

29. Yet this I say, Brethren, the Time is short: there is further, that even those who have Wives, are as not having;

30. And they that weep, as not weeping; and they that rejoice, as not rejoicing; and they that buy, as not possessing;

31. And they that use this World, as no misusing: for the Fashion of this World passes away.

32. And I would have you be without Carefulness: the Unmarried is careful for the Lord's Things, how he may please the Lord:

33. Whereas the Married is careful for the Things of the World, how he may please the Wife.

34. A Wife also and a Virgin are different: the Unmarried is careful for the Things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in Body and Spirit; whereas the Married is careful for the Things of the World, how she may please the Husband.

35. And this I say for your own profiting; not that I may cast a Snare on you, but for what is comely, and attending well on the Lord without Interruption.

36. If any one however supposes he acts unseemly to his Virgin, if she is past the Flower of Age, and it should so be done; let him do what he will, he does not sin, let them marry.

37. But he who stands settled in Heart, having no Necessity, and has Power concerning his own Will, as also has determined this in his Heart, that he will keep his Virgin, does well.

38. So then he who gives in Marriage, does well; but he who gives not in Marriage, does better.

Ver. 14. is sanctified] so as to continue married together.

Ib. unclean] in respect to the Parents, as if born out of Wedlock.

Ver. 16. O Husband] this being the same Gr. Noun as just before, as the Particles for how are likewise the same.

Ver. 17. Else] as the Gr. seems to signify, and can scarce be translated nearer in Sense; nor is but, says Wall, any rendering of it.

Ver. 19. but the keeping the Commandments of God] Is all, Nary supplies, Ham. and Whit. is all in all.

Ver. 21. thou care] not care for it.

Ver. 26. Necessity] as the same is rendered Ver. 37.

Ver. 34. are different] Being only a Verb; and that singular in Gr. as also beginning the Verse, is by some joined with [and] before it to the End of the last Ver. which Hammond pleads for, but Mills is for ours. The others also join Unmarried with Wife or Woman; see against that Reading Whitby's Annot.

Ver. 35. attending well] not a Verb, and with tu—for well. Several have another Word for it by the Change of es into as nearly of the same Import, or something fuller for industrious, and was therefore I judge an Attempt at Improvement, tho' Mills thinks it genuine, Pr. 632, 1040. The Vulg. has it, what may give ability of observing the Lord, so wildly that Mills will not allow it favours of the (fancied) Accuracy of the ancient Interpreter, but was thrust in afterwards, Pr. 555. which might indeed be, if this latter Part of the Verse was left out of the Lat. Copies for the Difficulty of translating, as he shews from Jerome.

Ver. 36. his Virgin] a Daughter; for I find it has erroneously been taken to be a Man's own Virginity, even by Whitby.

Ver. 37. settled in Heart] without his, as after.

39. The Wife is tied by the Law, for as long Time as her Husband lives; but if her Husband is deceased, she is free to marry whom she will, only in the Lord.

40. She nevertheless is happier, if she remain so, according to my Opinion; and I also think I have the Spirit of God.

C H A P. VIII.

NEXT concerning Things offered to Idols, we are sensible that we all have Knowledge: which puffs up, but Love edifies.

2. And if any one think he knows any Thing, he knows Nothing yet as he ought to do.

3. But if any one loves God, the same is known by him.

4. Concerning eating therefore of Things offered to Idols, we know, that an Idol is Nothing in the World, and that there is no other God but one.

5. For though indeed there are those called gods, whether in Heaven, or on Earth; according as there are many gods, and many lords:

6. Yet to us there is but one God the Father, from whom are all Things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all Things, and we by him.

7. But there is not the Knowledge in all: since some with Conscience of an Idol till now, eat a Thing as offered to an Idol; and their Conscience being weak, is defiled.

8. Whereas Meat does not make us stand before God: for neither do we abound, if we eat; nor are deficient, if we eat not.

9. But look, lest any how this Power of yours should become a Stumbling to the Weak.

10. For if any one sees thee, who hast Knowledge, leaning down in an Idol-temple; will not the Conscience of him that is weak, be encouraged to eat Things offered to Idols?

11. So through thy Knowledge will the weak Brother perish, for whom Christ died.

12. But when you sin thus against the Brethren, and smite their weak Conscience, you sin against Christ.

13. Therefore if Meat make my Brother offend, I will eat no Flesh for ever, that I may not do that.

C H A P. IX.

AM not I an Apostle? Am not I free? Have I not seen Jesus Christ our Lord? Are not you my Work in the Lord?

2. If I am not an Apostle to others, yet certainly I am to you: for you are the Seal of my Apostleship in the Lord.

3. My Defence to them that examine me, is this;

4. Have we not Power to eat, and drink?

5. Have we not Power to take about a Sister who is a Wife, as well as the rest of the Apostles, with the Brothers of the Lord, and Cephas?

6. Or I only and Barnabas; have we not Power not to work?

Ver. 39. by the Law] Mills did not doubt but was transferred from Rom. vii. 2. some not having it; nevertheless Omissions being so common with the Scribes and Authors, we may well think otherwise.

Ver. 2. Nothing] simply not by Omission of a Gr. Word with some, which Mills thought added for Emphasis, Pr. 633. but I think likelier subtracted as abounding.

Ver. 4. other] crept from the Marg. says Mills; it seems he could not find from whence it came thither, so might more likely never be there, especially if we may credit many rather than some.

Ver. 5. there are many] to the Heathens, Whitby's Paraphrase.

Ver. 6. Christ] Because Mills did not find this Word in the Lat. only of some Copy, and in Ambrose, he says it is an Addition, Pr. 457. Tremble, good Reader, at the Consequence of such Things! or rather believe not the Premises.

Ver. 7. now] How strangely rendered this hour! so while the world standeth, Ver. ult.

Ver. 8. does] will future in some Copies and Authors, which Mills takes to, Pr. 627, 633. but in my View looks like mending the Apostle's, for why should it be altered the other Way?

Ib. abound—deficient] according to the Gr. and quite different from those in Ch. viii. 17.

Ver. 10. thee] the Vulg. and two or three Writers, leave, therefore Mills; but if we should part with Bits of the Scripture thus, we may expect a Demand upon the Remainder in Pieces. His saying however it crept from through thy Knowledge in the next Verse, and that Amb. and Pelag. do not own it, Pr. 457. Whitby mistook for their not owning that, and asserts against him they did, Exam. Lib. 2. 3.

Ib. encouraged] Gr. built up.

Ver. 13. my] The former has suffered a little Omission, whereupon Mills will grant it no Existence but from the latter, Pr. 457.

Ver. 2. in the Lord] crept from the former Ver. Mills says; but as we have already abundantly seen, there is no great Stress to be laid on his Word in these Cases; and it might be rather left out not to have such a Repetition, and because Apostleship would do without it. Wesley omits it, tho' that is weakly supported.

Ver. 5. a Sister] being a Believer or Christian.

Ver. 6. not to work] The Vulg. Lat. on the contrary has to work this; but Mills supposes had not at first, a rare Way of justifying that Transf. so at Ch. xiii. 5. & xv. 51. see his Pr. 552, 553, 554.

7. Who goes to war any when at his own Charges? Who plants a Vineyard, and does not eat of its Fruit? Or who feeds a Flock, and does not eat some of the Milk of the Flock?

8. Do I say thus according to Man? Or does not the Law also say thus?

9. For in the Law of Moses is written, Thou shalt not muzzle the Ox that treads out the Corn. Does God care merely for Oxen?

10. Or does he say it wholly by reason of us? By reason of us indeed it is written; since he who ploughs should plough in Hope, and he who treads out in Hope partake of his Hope.

11. If we have sown to you spiritual Things, is it a great Matter if we reap your carnal Things?

12. If others partake of the Power over you, do not we rather? Yet we have not used this Power, but bear all Things, that we may not give any Hindrance to the Gospel of Christ.

13. Do not you know, that they who work in sacred Things, eat of the sacred Thing? they who attend at the Altar, are Partakers with the Altar?

14. So also the Lord has ordered, that those who preach the Gospel, should live upon the Gospel.

15. However I have used none of these Things; nor have I written them, that it might be done so to me: for it would be better for me to die, than that any one should make my Boasting void.

16. Though if I do preach, there is no Boasting for me: for Necessity is laid on me, and wo is to me, if I preach not.

17. For if I do this willingly, I have a Reward; but if unwillingly, I am intrusted with a Stewardship.

18. What then is the Reward to me? That while I preach, I may make the Gospel of Christ without Cost, for me not to misuse my Power in the Gospel.

19. For when I was free from all, I made myself a Servant to all, that I might gain the more.

20. Thus to the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain the Jews; to those under the Law as under the Law, that I might gain those under the Law;

21. To those without the Law as without the Law (while I was not without the Law to God, but under the Law to Christ) that I might gain those without the Law;

22. To the weak I became as weak, that I might gain the weak: to all I am become all Things, that I may wholly save some.

Ver. 7. of the Flock] Tho' this is left out only in the Dialogue against the Marcionites, Mills writes it was added from the foregoing Things, and a few having of it, he thereby takes occasion to blend them together in the Rejection of both; notwithstanding the Relative must be much more a Sign (which he applies contrarily) of the Noun, than of its Absence, or of Nothing.

Ver. 9. merely] I suppose it will scarce be pretended but that this is the Sense; else read Mut. x. 29. Job xxxviii. ult. Psa. cxlvii. 9.

Ver. 10. since] that spoiling the Sense.

lb. treads out] as in the Verse before.

lb. in Hope partake of his Hope] Some by Omission and Transposition in the Gr. have it in Hope of partaking, which Mills tacitly favours, Pr. 681. and therefore Silence may answer.

Ver. 13. eat] not live.

lb. sacred Thing] The Gr. is either this or Temple; and is thus rendered by Beza and Castal. by Erasmus. Sacrifice: it seems likeliest to be the same Word used before, in the Manner that Altar is, and which wants Nothing to make up the Sense; and so it is ranked in Symson's Lexicon and Concordance, printed 1658; that very valuable Treasure for my Countrymen, though they have suffered it to be out of Print.

Ver. 15. might] should being here improper.

Ver. 16. Though if] thus it agrees with the foregoing.

Ver. 18. of Christ] came from an Interpretation, Pr. 987. Did Mills suppose then there was Danger apprehended, of its being taken for the Gospel of Antichrist? Since of God, or even my, would not make it any other Gospel. And why such poor Pretence for about half a dozen Codes and the Vulg. Lat?

Ver. 20. as under the Law] to which is added not being myself under the Law, in nine or ten Copies, the Vulg. &c. but Mills says Nothing for it; yet on the other hand what Whitby speaks against it may be more for it, that Paul would not write so, because it would have filled the Mouth of the believing Jews with Complaints against him: for might not the following Words as without the Law have caused that as well? And wherein do they come short of these? Nay to be without the Law is more than not to be under it. And why should the Apostle be so cautious of that, in writing to the Gentiles? However perhaps this not being myself under the Law was made from the other as without the Law, to be like the following being not &c.

Ver. 21. not without the Law to God; but under the Law to Christ] These Expressions may signify much the same, viz. in respect to the Law as moral and spiritual, tho' not as Jewish and temporary.

lb. without the Law] This being the same Law as that to which our Translators have not put the Article, tho' they thereby imply it to be otherwise.

Ver. 22. may] A moderate Grammarian may easily see, that might in the following Verse should be may; as it should also here, not only by its Gr. Verb being future, but as it comes after an Eng. present Tense, either pass. or neut. with that.

lb. wholly save some] gain all with a few, but differently Mills owns, though he has not put it in the Various Readings. He pretends the Impossibility of Paul's gaining all was the Occasion of altering it to the pres. but is it not far likelier, that the Apostle would not write such an Impossibility; and that it was altered into gain, to double this Verb as the other become, and into all that it might be as weak was? For the Pretence of impossible besides does not affect or account for changing gain to save, and having been alike to be made unlike is not likely.

23. And this I do for the Gospel, that I may become Partaker of it.

24. Do not you know, that they who run in a Race, run indeed all, but one receives the Prize? Run thus, that you may obtain.

25. And every one who strives is temperate in all Things; they indeed therefore that they may receive a corruptible Crown, but we an incorruptible.

26. I therefore run thus, not as uncertainly; fight thus, not as beating the Air.

27. But I subdue my Body, and bring it into Servitude; lest any how though I preach to others, I my self should become a Reprobate.

CHAP. X.

AND I would not have you be ignorant, Brethren, that all our Forefathers were under the Cloud, and did all go through the Sea;

2. As likewise were all baptized to Moses, both in the Cloud and Sea;

3. Nay did all eat the same spiritual Meat;

4. And all drink the same spiritual Drink: for they drank of the spiritual Rock that followed them, which Rock was Christ.

5. Yet God was not pleased with many of them: for they were overthrown in the Wilderness.

6. Now these Things were Figures to us, for us not to be desiring evil Things, even as they desired.

7. Neither be you Idolaters, like some of them; according as it is written, The People sate down to eat and drink, and rose up to play.

8. Nor let us commit Whoredom, as some of them did, and fell twenty three thousand in one Day.

9. Nor yet tempt Christ, as some of them also did, and were destroyed by Serpents.

10. Neither do ye murmur, as some of them too did, and were destroyed by the Destroyer.

11. Now all these Things came to pass to them for Figures; and were written for our Admonition, to whom the Ends of the World are come.

12. So that let him who thinks he stands, look that he may not fall.

13. No Trial but what belongs to Man has taken you; and God is faithful, who will not let you be tried above what you can bear, but will with the Trial also make an Escaping, that you may be able to endure.

14. Therefore, my Beloved, flee from Idolatry.

15. As to the Wise I speak; judge you what I say.

16. The Cup of Blessing which we bless, is it not the Communion of the Blood of Christ? The Bread which we break, is it not the Communion of the Body of Christ?

17. Since there is one Bread, we being many are one Body; for we all partake of one Bread.

18. Look at Israel according to the Flesh; are not those who eat the Sacrifices, Partakers of the Altar?

19. What then do I say? that an Idol is any Thing? or that what is offered to an Idol is any Thing?

20. But that what Things the Gentiles sacrifice, it is to Devils, and not to God; and I would not have you be Partakers with Devils.

Ver. 23. this] But five or six Copies, the Vulg. &c. have all Things, which Mills passes his Verdict upon to be the true Reading, and to be changed because the Apostle could not do all Things, Pr. 816. Yet why should it be done for that, when Paul had just said I am become all Things? which might administer occasion to introducing the like here, with 2 Cor. xii. 19. 2 Tim. ii. 10. and the Scribes might rather be fond of enhancing Matters; so that Mills's asserting, there was no Cause for changing this into all Things, proves overhasty; tho' Whitby turns it off with a Retort, of his not rendering a Reason for every Thing.

Ver. 27. Reprobate] according as rendered in the com. Transf. Rom. i. 28. 2 Cor. xiii. 5, 6, 7. 2 Tim. iii. 8. Tit. i. 16. that is in all other Places where it is used of Persons.

Ver. 1. And] In some Copies For, which Mills supposes the right.

Ver. 3, 4. the same—the same] wanting in one Copy and one Verf. says Mills, which is all he says of it; yet Whitby, not denying that, sets himself to prove it from others, in Answer to him, and among the Various Readings of greater Moment, Exam. Lib. 2. Cap. 1. S. 1.

Ver. 4. followed] Like what there is Isa. xxx. 21.

Ver. 5. God] Mills reckons added, but by little Authority, Pr. 295, 466.

Ver. 6. Figures] examples unfit.

Ver. 8. three] See the Scholium on Num. xxv. 9.

Ver. 9. Christ] in the room of this a few have the Lord, fewer God, yet Gratius is for the latter to be right, but Mills stands firmly for our Reading.

Ver. 11. World] West. ages.

Ver. 13. that you may be able] Mills would have it to be able, counting you added, Pr. 681. with a small Number of Votes.

Ver. 17. there is one Bread] What Sense can fairly be made, agreeable to the Context, of we are one Bread? And for it our Eng. Translators it appears have from the Beginning put [and] wrong, which the Original is without; see also Beza, Annot.

Ver. 19. that an Idol is any Thing? or] This being not in a single Copy, Mills at first put it down as omitted by the Carelessness of the Transcriber; but afterwards minded to magnify his Work, as it may be doubted or believed, by a great Number of Amendments to the com. Reading, he took in this for one, tho' he had only Euphrosinus besides to uphold it, Pr. 1333.

1b. what] which being improper.

Ver. 20. the Gentiles] is a Scholium, says Mills, taken from Psa. xcvi. 5. Monstrous! How dissimilar are these Passages! Nothing of sacrificing there, and this Word in another Case.

21. You cannot drink of the Lord's Cup and that of Devils: you cannot partake of the Lord's Table and that of Devils.

22. Do we make the Lord jealous? Are we stronger than he?

23. All Things are lawful for me, but not all Things profitable: all Things are lawful for me, but all Things do not edify.

24. Let none seek his own, but each another's.

25. Whatever is sold in the Shambles, eat; and examine Nothing, by reason of Conscience.

26. For the Earth is the Lord's, and what it is full of.

27. And if any one of the Unbelievers invite you, and ye are willing to go; whatever is put before you eat; and examine Nothing, by reason of Conscience.

28. But if any one shall say to you, This is offered to an Idol; do not eat, by reason of the Relater and Conscience: for the Earth is the Lord's, and what it is full of.

29. Yet Conscience I say not thy own, but the other's: for why should my Freedom be judged by another's Conscience?

30. And if I partake by Grace, why am I spoken ill of, for what I give thanks?

31. Whether therefore you eat, or drink, or do any Thing, do all to the Glory of God.

32. Be inoffensive as well to Jews and Gentiles, as to the Church of God:

33. Even as I please all in all Things, and seek not my own Profit, but that of many, that they may be saved.

C H A P. XI.

BE you Imitators of me, even as I of Christ.

2. And I praise you, Brethren, for that you remember me in all Things, and hold the Things delivered, as I delivered them to you.

3. So I would have you know, that Christ is the Head of every Man, and the Man the Head of the Woman, and God the Head of Christ.

4. Every Man who prays or prophesies, having Something upon the Head, shames his Head.

5. But every Woman who prays or prophesies, with the Head uncovered, shames her Head: for it is the very same as to be shaved.

6. For if the Woman be not covered, then let her be clipped; but if it is a Shame for the Woman to be clipped or shaved, let her be covered.

7. For the Man indeed ought not to cover the Head, as he is the Similitude and Glory of God; whereas the Woman is the Glory of the Man.

8. Since the Man is not from the Woman, but the Woman from the Man.

9. For neither was the Man created for the sake of the Woman, but the Woman for the Man's sake.

10. For this reason the Woman ought to have his Authority over her Head, because of the Angels.

11. Nevertheless the Man is neither without the Woman, nor the Woman without the Man, in the Lord.

12. For according as the Woman is from the Man, so is the Man also by the Woman; but all Things are from God.

13. Judge in your selves; is it becoming for the Woman to pray to God uncovered?

14. Does not Nature it self teach you, that if the Man has long Hair, it is a Dishonour to him?

Ver. 24. each] omitted by a few in the curtailing Way, though Mills denies it to be the Text of the Apostle, Pr. 633.

Ver. 28. to you] is a Scribe's, not Paul's, says Mills, Pr. 459. for the important Reason (to him) that it is not in the Vulg. and he adds Ambrose.

Ib. for the Earth is the Lord's, and what it is full of] Several omit all this, which Grotius, Ham. and Mills stagger at, but Whitby pleads to be retained. Well says it is not in almost any Greek Copy, but that which Beza and Eng. translated; when it is not found wanting in a dozen of all Sorts.

Ver. 29. the other's] for of the others is not proper Language.

Ver. 31. all] omitted by no Translator nor Author, but in 2 Copies, Mills in Pr. 1453. surmises came from Col. iii. 17. tho' the Saying is so different there.

Ver. 3. Christ is the Head of every Man] which is the plain and proper Way of Expression in our Language; and that in the com. Transf. must be taken otherwise, or will be very ill.

Ver. 5. prophesies] Doddr. says, he cannot think the Apostle would debate and adjust the Circumstances of doing an unlawful Action, and what Locke in his Paraphrase says of it seems pretty well known; yet the former intimates with Whitby, that prophesying signified singing Psalms. The Proof of which, when that is published, must needs be a great Rarity! As it will shew that Women prophesy now, which is above teaching, Ch. xii. 28. and what is very extraordinary, prophesy by a Form of Words and a Tune.

Ver. 10. his Authority] by a Covering the Sign of it. Thus is this at last become intelligible in a Transf.

Ib. the Angels] at the Place and Time of Divine Worship, as Eccles. v. 6.

Ver. 14. Nature teach] as Edwards largely illustrates in his Enquiry into four Remarkable Texts, of which this is the 2d; but need not have been done here, as he pretends, for the Difficulty, since he allows of the several Interpretations how it is, and joins them together.

15. Whereas if the Woman has long Hair, it is a Glory to her; since the Hair is given her for Cloathing.

16. However if any one seems to be contentious, we have not such a Custom, nor the Churches of God.

17. Moreover in this I am declaring, I do not praise, that you come not together for the better, but for the worse.

18. For first indeed when you come together in the Church, I hear that there are Divisions among you, and I believe some Part.

19. For there must also be Heresies among you, that the approved ones may be made manifest among you.

20. When you come together therefore into the same Place, it is not to eat the Lord's Supper.

21. For in eating each takes his own Supper before; and one indeed is hungry, and another drunk.

22. Though have ye not Houses for eating and drinking? Or do ye despise the Church of God, and make them ashamed who have not? What shall I say to you? Shall I praise you in this? I do not.

23. For I received from the Lord, what I also delivered to you; that the Lord Jesus in the Night that he was delivered up, took Bread;

24. And giving thanks, broke, and said, Take, eat; this is my Body, broken for you; do this in Remembrance of me:

25. In like Manner also the Cup, after he had supped, saying, This Cup is the new Testament by my Blood; do this, as often as you drink it, in Remembrance of me.

26. For as often as you eat this Bread, and drink this Cup, you declare the Death of the Lord till he comes.

27. So that he who eats this Bread, or drinks the Cup of the Lord unworthily, will be guilty of the Body and Blood of the Lord.

28. But let a Man prove himself, and so eat of the Bread, and drink of the Cup.

29. For he who eats and drinks unworthily, eats and drinks Judgment to himself, not judging of the Lord's Body.

30. For this reason many are weak and sick among you, nay many asleep.

31. For if we would judge of our selves, we should not be judged.

32. Yet when we are judged, we are chastened by the Lord, that we may not be condemned with the World.

33. So that, my Brethren, when you come together to eat, wait one for another.

34. And if any one is hungry, let him eat at home, that you may not come together for Judgment. And the rest I will order when I come.

CHAP. XII.

CONCERNING spiritual Things also, Brethren, I would not have you be ignorant.

2. You know that you were Gentiles, taken away to dumb Idols, as you were led.

3. Therefore I let you know, that none who speaks by the Spirit of God, says Jesus is cursed; and that none can say Jesus is the Lord, except by the Holy Spirit.

Ver. 15. given her] Several are without her, so Mills asserts it is added to make the Sentence compleat, Pr. 930. What can be said to one who is determined to write at this Rate? Or what need be said, but that several more have it than those which have it not? And that being easily understood, I commonly omit; tho' Whitby keeps on repeating it, when Something else might be said more peculiar. I may add for this and other omitted Words, that the Body of Copies generally have the Expressions fullest, and so Omissions are more to be suspected than Additions.

Ver. 18. For] added, according to Mills, for Connection, Pr. 459. but how much better, and more probable, was his Opinion before, that the few omitted it, because repeated at the Beginning of the next Verse! But he was now set upon advancing the Vulg.

Ib. Church] or Congregation, as Tyndal renders it; see Chap. xvi. 19.

Ver. 19. among you] The first Mills would have taken from the latter, Pr. 459. though less likely, than to be left out because of that; see also Whitby's Answer.

Ver. 23. delivered up] the same Verb as before in this Verse; and the Gr. Verb does not signify to discover, as betray does.

Ver. 24. Take, eat] Some have not this, and Mills says it came from the Gospels; to which Whitby answers, that it was taken thence by the Apostle, but therein he overshoots the Matter, since they were not yet written. Yet to Mills's Saying there could be no Cause of taking away these Words, I reply (which Whitby should have done) it might be because there is not Take, drink, in the next Verse.

Ver. 27. or] So the Gr. is besides 2 Copies, &c. inasmuch that our Translators have scarce acted uprightly here in respect to the Romanists, who raise an Argument for their Belief from hence; which to enervate, Whitby pleads for [and,] though that being with so few, it tends to overthrow his own principal and general Argument against Mills, for preferring such a small Number; but lest that should not be sufficient, he has exercised his Industry to shew that the Gr. Particle is also put for [and,] which is like getting the Victory at any Rate. Rather allow them [or] as their Right, and let them prove from thence that whole Christ is contained in either Species, if they can.

Ver. 29. Judgment] viz. temporal, as Ver. xxx. 32. Doddr. thought it the most unhappy Mistake in all our Version, that it is rendered Damnation.

Ib. judging of] the same Word as in Ver. 31.

Ver. 31. judge of] not the simple Verb that follows, but a Compound of it.

Ver. 3. Jesus is the Lord] or Jesus to be the Lord, after the received Reading of Accusative in Gr. where hva to be is understood; as with the Nom. which some here have the Words, is must be understood.

4. Now there are Diversities of Gifts, but the same Spirit.

5. And there are Diversities of Ministry, but the same Lord.

6. And there are Diversities of Workings, but it is the same God who works them all in all Persons.

7. And the Manifestation of the Spirit is given to each for his Profit.

8. For to one indeed is given by the Spirit, the Word of Wisdom; and to another the Word of Knowledge, according to the same Spirit;

9. And to another Faith, through the same Spirit; and to another Gifts of Healing, through the same Spirit;

10. And to another Working of powerful Things; and to another Prophecy; and to another Judgings of Spirits; and to another other Kinds of Languages, and to another Interpretation of Languages.

11. But one and the same Spirit works all these, dividing to each particular Person as he will.

12. For according as the Body is one, and has many Members, and all the Members of the one Body, being many, are one Body; so also is Christ.

13. For even in one Spirit are we all baptized into one Body, whether Jews or Grecians, whether bound or free; and have all been made to drink into one Spirit.

14. For even the Body is not one Member, but many.

15. If the Foot should say, Since I am not the Hand, I am not of the Body; is it by this not of the Body?

16. And if the Ear should say, Since I am not the Eye, I am not of the Body; is that hereby not of the Body?

17. If the whole Body was an Eye, where would be the Hearing? If the whole Hearing, where the Smelling?

18. But now God has put the Members each one of them in the Body, as he would.

19. And if they were all one Member, where would be the Body?

20. Whereas now there are indeed many Members, but one Body.

21. And the Eye cannot say to the Hand, I have no Need of thee; or again the Head to the Feet, I have no Need of you.

22. But much more, the Members of the Body that are thought to be weaker are necessary.

23. And on those of the Body, that we think to be more dishonourable, we put more abundant Honour, and our unseemly ones have more abundant Comeliness.

24. Our comely ones also have no Need: but God has mixed the Body together, giving more abundant Honour to what is deficient;

25. That there might not be Division in the Body, but the Members might have the same Care one for another.

26. Thus whether one Member suffers, all the others suffer with it; or one Member be honoured, all the others rejoice with it.

27. Now you are the Body of Christ, and Members in particular.

28. And God indeed has put some in the Church, first Apostles, secondly Prophets, thirdly Teachers, next powerful Things, afterwards Gifts of Healing, Assistances, Governments, other Kinds of Languages,

29. Are all Apostles? Are all Prophets? Are all Teachers? Are all for powerful Things?

30. Have all the Gifts of Healing? Do all speak in Languages? Do all interpret?

31. However be zealous for the better Gifts: and I yet shew you a more excellent Way.

Ver. 7. And] not But after but.

Ib. to each] This 2d Text which Ham. was concerned to deal with as at Acts ii. 17. pinched him closer than that; and finding no other Way to get clear of it, he interprets every one or each to be only such that are thus endow'd with extraordinary gifts of tongues, &c. hiding what he would avoid, and that which would not receive extraordinary under &c. namely Wisdom, Knowledge and Faith, I might add Prophecy and Discerning of Spirits, for which the Manifestation of the Spirit is given, as well as for the rest, and this is again confirmed by Ver. 11.

Ver. 8. For] an Injection with Mills, Pr. 459. and so and which follows, though the Vulg. has that, and yet not the several alike that come after.

Ib. according to] neither the same as before nor after.

Ver. 10. Judgings] plur. but a few have it sing. from the Vulg. Lat. perhaps, as others might from our Eng. Yet Mills puts that for the right, and though it is not to be believed it was altered from sing. to plur.

Ver. 15. should] not shall, since the Foot cannot say it.

Ver. 16. And] The Scribes prefix'd it, Mills says, to join this Verse with the foregoing, Pr. 460. To let alone there being no Verses when this Variation arose, why did not they do the same then in the next, where is the like Repetition? On the contrary they evidently left out and, to make the Reading like that and the preceding.

Ver. 20. indeed] as Ch. i. 18. but absent only in two Copies, Mills Pr. 466.

Ver. 23. put] West. surround with.

Ver. 27. in particular] Some of one another, which the Apostle, quoth Mills, says elsewhere; and therefore those might here, whereby what he speaks for, is against this Variation: after having drawn his weak Plea to a very unusual Length, he concludes, But of this enough and too much, the last of which is right.

Ver. 28. afterwards] Mills supposes it put in by reason of the foregoing next, Pr. 466. when twice as many have the same here.

Ib. Kinds] the same as in Ver. 10.

Ver. 29. powerful Things] the very same with that in the Verse before.

Ver. 31. yet] an Adverb, not Conjunction as by its Position in the com. Eng.

C H A P. XIII.

IF I speak in the Languages of Men and Angels, and have not Love, I am as sounding Brass, or a tinkling Cymbal.

2. Moreover if I have Prophecy, as likewise know all Mysteries and all Knowledge, and if I have all Faith, so that I can remove Mountains, and have not Love, I am Nothing.

3. Further if I feed with all which is mine, nay if I deliver up my Body that it may be burned, and have not Love, I am profited Nothing.

4. Love forbears, is kind; Love is not envious; Love is not rash, is not puffed up,

5. Does not act unseemly, seeks not its own, is not provoked, thinks no Harm,

6. Rejoices not in Unrighteousness, but rejoices with the Truth;

7. Bears all Things, believes all, hopes for all, endures all.

8. Love never fails: but whether there are Prophecies, they will be abolished; or Languages, they will cease; or Knowledge, it will be abolished.

9. For we know in Part, and prophesy in Part.

10. But when that which is perfect shall come, then what is in Part will be abolished.

11. When I was a Child, I spoke as a Child, minded as a Child, thought as a Child; but when I became a Man, I abolished the Things of a Child.

12. For we now look through a Glass obscurely, but then Face to Face: now I know in Part, but then shall know, even as I am known.

13. And now remain Faith, Hope, Love, these three; but the greatest of these is Love.

C H A P. XIV.

PURSU^E after Love, and be zealous for spiritual Things, yet more that you may prophesy.

2. For he that speaks in a strange Language, does not speak to Men, but to God; since none understands, though in the Spirit he speaks Mysteries.

3. Whereas he who prophesies, speaks to Men with Edification, Exhortation and Comfort.

4. He that speaks in a strange Language, edifies himself; but he who prophesies, edifies the Church.

5. I would have you all speak in Languages, yet more that you might prophesy: for he who prophesies is greater than he that speaks in Languages, unless he interprets, that the Church may receive Edification.

6. And now, Brethren, if I come to you speaking in Languages, what shall I profit you, if I do not speak to you either with Revelation, Knowledge, Prophecy or Doctrine?

7. Notwithstanding lifeless Things give Sound, whether Pipe or Harp, if they do not give a Difference of Sounds, how will it be known what is piped or harped?

8. For even if the Trumpet give an uncertain Sound, who will be prepared for the Battle?

9. So you also, if you do not give by the Tongue Speech well signified, how will it be known what is spoken? For you will speak into the Air.

10. Though there are so many Kinds of

Ver. 1. If] Though being improper.

Ib. Languages] Besides Tongues to speak with being improperly ascribed to Angels, Paul did, and others do, speak with the Tongue of Man; and in is here as Ch. xiv. 2, 4, 14.

Ib. Love] for what we understand by charity is expressed in the 13th Ver. Leigh in Crit. Sac. says, It signifieth a vehement affection and ardent love; nay is translated love in this Epist. of the com. Version, Ch. iv. 21. & xvi. 24. and by Tyndal and Wesley here; which Doddridge likewise in his fine Family Expositor prefers; charity also signifying love formerly, as by Wither since on Cant. iii. 10.

And all the pavement (thoroughout)

For you with charitie is wrought:

the late anonymous Translator turns it social affection.

Ver. 2. all] to Faith Mills would exclude; but is not it as necessary as to Knowledge? Nor is any Copy, and only a single Verf. produced without it.

Ver. 3. feed] the poor is added in translating.

Ver. 4. is not rash] so the Gr. seems to signify best; see Scap. Lex. &c.

Ib. &c. Prior finely,

Charity, decent, modest, easy, kind,

Softens the high, and rears the abject Mind;

Knows with just Reins, and gentle Hand to guide,

Betwixt vile Shame, and arbitrary Pride.

Not soon provok'd, She easily forgives;

And much She suffers, as She much believes.

Soft Peace She brings where-ever She arrives;

She builds our Quiet, as She forms our Lives;

Lays the rough Paths of peevish Nature ev'n;

And opens in each Heart a little Heav'n.

Ver. 6. with] thus the Gr.

Ver. 8. Wither, Song 78.

For when our Knowledge Folly turns,

When Showes no Show retain,

And Zeale is selfe to nothing burnes,

Then Love shall still remaine.

Ib. they will be abolished] the same Verb, and passive, that is after in this Verse, and not before, and the same as in Ver. 10, 11.

Ver. 12. For] refused by Mills, Pr. 463. as usual.

Ver. 1. and] not with four or five, might be because another And for yet follows: Mills reckons it added for Connection, Pr. 463. but seems too necessary without.

Ver. 9. For] was put in by some Reader, Mills says, only for being not in a Couple of Translations, Pr. 1254.

Ver. 10. there are] The Gr. has not may be, or another Verb beside; but a Conjunction for Though.

Voices in the World, yet none of them dumb.

11. If I therefore know not the Meaning of the Voice, I shall be a Barbarian to him who speaks, and he who speaks a Barbarian with me.

12. So also you, since you are zealous for spiritual Things, seek that you may abound to the Edification of the Church.

13. Therefore let him who speaks in a strange Language, pray that he may interpret.

14. For if I pray in a strange Language, my Spirit prays, but my Sense is unfruitful.

15. What then is to be? I will pray with the Spirit, and also pray with Sense; will sing with the Spirit, and also sing with Sense.

16. Else if thou shalt bless with the Spirit, how shall he that supplies the Place of the Ignorant say, So let it be, at thy giving thanks? Since he knows not what thou sayest.

17. For thou indeed mayest give thanks well, but the other is not edified.

18. I give thanks to my God, I speak in Languages more than all of you.

19. But in the Church I would rather speak five Words by my Sense, that I might also inform others, than ten thousand Words in a strange Language.

20. Brethren, be not Children in Understanding; yet in Wickedness be Babes, but in Understanding be perfect.

21. In the Law it is written, With other Tongues, and with other Lips will I speak to this People; yet so will they not hearken to me, says the Lord.

22. So that Languages are for a Sign, not to the Believers, but to the Unbelievers; whereas Prophecy is not for the Unbelievers, but for the Believers.

23. If therefore the whole Church comes together into the same Place, and all speak in Languages, and there come in the Ignorant or Unbelievers, will they not say that you are mad?

24. But if all prophesy, and there comes in any Unbeliever or ignorant one, he is convinced by all, judged of by all.

25. And thus the hidden Things of his Heart are made manifest; and thus he will fall down on the Face, and worship God, telling that God truly is in you.

26. What then is there, Brethren? When you come together, each one of you has a Psalm, has a Doctrine, has a Language, has a Revelation, has an Interpretation: let all Things be done to Edification.

27. Or if any one speaks in a strange Language, let it be by two, or at most three, and that by turn, and let one interpret.

28. But if there be no Interpreter, let him keep silence in the Church, speaking to himself, and to God.

29. Let two or three Prophets speak, and the others judge.

30. Yet if Something be revealed to another that is sitting, let the first be silent,

31. For you may all prophesy one by one, that all may learn, and all be comforted.

Ver. 13. that] Whitby strives hard to bring in a strange Sense, which he gives in these Words, Let him pray so as that he may interpret; but seek in the Verse before, as parallel to this, and speaks here, both denote otherwise, and Ver. 5, 27.

Ver. 14. my Sense is unfruitful] to the Congregation, Ver. 19.

Ver. 15. is to be] by West. is my duty; but see Ver. 26.

Ib. with Sense] to the Hearers, but understanding reads as if it belonged to the Speaker, and has been taken so, though not allowed by the Commentators.

Ver. 16. with the Spirit] wanting but in one MS. Copy that Mills found (though Erasmus mentions more, and left it out of his first Edit.) yet he thought it not expressed by the Apostle, Pr. 1486.

Ib. thanks] where the Original and Translations (not ours) have the interrogatory Note.

Ver. 20. perfect] as the Gr. Word signifies, and is rendered Ch. ii. 6. & xiii. 10.

Ver. 21. other] West. foreign.

Ver. 23. therefore] as being necessary, we may suppose genuine, notwithstanding Mills writes to the contrary, Pr. 463.

Ver. 25. And thus] These at the Beginning of the Ver. are not in some Copies, nor with the Vulg. though the latter is not mentioned by Mills, neither does it appear by his Note which and thus it is; and Whitby in Exam. L. ii. 3. quotes him saying, Every one sees it is taken from the latter Part of the Verse, not telling where he says it; but every one may not see with his Eyes. However West. has left them out.

Ver. 26. What [et c.] just as in Ver. 15. but by West. here, What a thing is it that, putting out then, and putting in that.

Ver. 29. two or three] that is, says Hammond in his Annotation, so many in a Meeting, strange to hear from him.

Ver. 30. be silent] as in Ver. 28. But Doddr. expounding this by immediately, says it would introduce a Confusion; therefore he translates, let the first have done speaking. Which is beside the Original, from whence he was lured by Reasoning, instead of being staid by Truth and Judgment, too often: for here the Command is to the first Person as mentioned, not to the second; the Text has also no immediately to make a Confusion; 3d, he joins the immediately to another's intimating he had a Revelation which was human, instead of the Revelation it self that was divine; 4th, the first must have done speaking, if he held his peace; 5th, the Revelation of the Holy Spirit was so to give Way to the Speech of Man; 6th, according to this a divine Revelation was not to be obeyed as to the delivering it in its own Time, nay it may seem, if such Translation be allowed, as if it might be wrong in that Respect. Whereas I understand it thus, according to the Meaning of the Gr. Word, and our com. Eng. that of two so preaching, as they did in the Primitive Church, by Inspiration, when a Revelation was divinely and gradually opened to one who was silent, it would be withdrawing from him that was speaking; of which he might be sensible, as well as the other who was to speak after him, and therefore should be regardful that he might not exceed his Part, and hinder another.

32. And the Spirits of the Prophets are subject to the Prophets.

33. For God is not one of Tumult, but of Peace, as in all the Churches of the Saints.

34. Let your Wives keep silence in the Churches: for it is not permitted to them to speak, but to be subject, as the Law also says.

35. And if they would learn any Thing, let them ask their own Husbands at home: for it is a Shame for the Wives to speak in the Church.

36. Did the Word of God come out from you? Or came it to you alone?

37. If any one think he is a Prophet, or spiritual; let him acknowledge that the Things I write to you, are the Commandments of the Lord.

38. But if any one is ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39. So then, Brethren, be zealous to prophesy, and forbid not to speak in Languages.

40. Let all Things be done in a comely Manner, and according to Order.

CHAP. XV.

AND I make known to you, Brethren, the Gospel which I preached to you, which you also received, and wherein you stand;

2. By which too ye are saved, if you retain what Matter I preached to you, unless you have believed in vain.

3. For I delivered to you first, even what I received; that Christ died for our Sins, according to the Scriptures;

4. As also that he was buried, and that he rose up the third Day, according to the Scriptures.

5. And that he was seen by Cephas, afterwards by the twelve.

6. Next he was seen by above five hundred Brethren at once; most of whom remain till now, but some too are asleep.

7. In the next place he was seen by James, after that by all the Apostles.

8. And last of all he was seen by me, as being born untimely.

9. For I am the least of the Apostles, who am not sufficient to be called an Apostle, because I persecuted the Church of God.

10. However by the Grace of God I am what I am; and his Grace which I have had has not been in vain, but I have laboured more abundantly than they all: yet not I, but the Grace of God which has been with me.

11. Whether therefore it was I, or they; so we preach, and so you believed.

12. Now if Christ be preached, that he rose up from the Dead; how do some among you say, that there is no Resurrection of the Dead?

13. Whereas if there is no Resurrection of the Dead, neither is Christ risen up.

14. And if Christ be not risen up, our Preaching indeed is in vain, and your Faith too in vain:

15. Nay we are also found false Witnesses of God, since we testified concerning him, that he raised up Christ; whom he did not, if certainly the Dead do not rise up.

16. For if the Dead do not rise up, neither is Christ risen up.

17. And if Christ be not risen up, your Faith is in vain, you are yet in your Sins;

18. They also indeed who sleep in Christ are perished.

19. If for this Life only we hope in Christ, we are the most miserable of all Men.

20. But now Christ is risen up from the Dead, is become the First-fruit of those who have been asleep.

Ver. 32. Spirits] Some have Spirit, which Mills judges spurious.

Ver. 33. God is] As Mills would it is, only Ambrose and Tertullian omitting it.

Ib. Tumult] thus translated in the 2 Epist. vi. 5. & xii. 20. and a proper Opposite to Peace.

Ver. 34. Wives] as your annexed, and their Husbands in the next Ver. shew; so Tyndal translated it, and Dr. Barnes in that Tract of his Works for all to read Holy Scrip. gives it; see further on 1 Tim. ii. 11..

Ver. 35. their own] so the Gr.

Ver. 37. the Commandments] a Scholium with Mills, he does not tell us what for, as Explanation, Connection, &c. besides a very few not having it.

Ver. 38. let him be ignorant] not pretend to be otherwise.

Ver. 3. even what I received] a few of the Primitive Writers only omitting, Mills strikes off for a Comment, Pr. 464.

Ver. 5. the twelve] viz. all or the Apostles in general, and Mills says they were strictly but ten, Thomas being absent, so that the eleven of the Vulg. &c. is factitious.

Ver. 10. what I am] seemed to some Reader necessary to be added, says Mills, to make up the Sentence, Pr. 1215. only because not in the Esth. Version; when the leaving it out might be but an Oversight of the Translator.

Ib. has not been &c.] Wall.

Ver. 11. therefore] The vulg. Lat. only having for, Mills puts that as authentick, Pr. 467. though he produces three that have but, and Kuster one more.

Ver. 14. in vain] so Ver. 10, 58.

Ver. 15. also] Mills says from the last Ver. Pr. 465. how much rather dropt by a few, as overcharged!

Ib. if certainly the Dead do not rise up] Mills with Zegerus say came in for the sake of Explanation, because not with a few; but why should the Apostle write so imperfectly? Might it not likelier be omitted by reason of the like which follows, or by missing a Line?

Ver. 20. become] some omit, and why? The Reason may be thought apparent, because, as Mills quotes Zeger saying, it is redundant; yet he himself asserts it was added by Somebody to make the Sentence compleat, Pr. 681. but for that [and] was wanted with it.

21. For since by Man was Death, by Man also the Resurrection of the Dead.

22. For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ will all be made alive.

23. But each in his own Order; Christ the First-fruit, next they that are Christ's, at his Coming.

24. Afterwards will be the End, when he has delivered up the Kingdom to God, even the Father, when he has abolished all Principality, with all Authority and Power.

25. For he must reign until he has put all Enemies under his Feet.

26. Death will be the last Enemy abolished.

27. For he has made all Things subject under his Feet; but when he says that all Things are made subject, it is evident that he who made all subject to him is excepted.

28. And when all Things shall be subject to him, then will the Son himself also be subject to him who makes all Things be so; that God may be all in all Persons.

29. Else what shall they do who are baptized for the Dead, if the Dead rise not up entirely? Why then are they baptized for the Dead?

30. And why are we in danger every Hour?

31. That I die daily, I protest by the Boasting which I have of you in Christ Jesus our Lord.

32. If according to Man I fought with Beasts at Ephesus, what Advantage will it be to me, if the Dead rise not up? Let us eat, and drink; for to Morrow we shall die.

33. Do not mistake; evil Discourses spoil good Manners.

34. Awake to Righteousness, and do not sin; for some have not the Knowledge of God: I speak to your Shame.

35. But Somebody may say, How do the Dead rise up? And with what Body do they come?

36. O foolish one, what thou sowest is not made alive, except it die.

Ver. 28. the Son] not found in some Authors, so sentenced to the Marg. by Mills; but they might slip it over because there is αὐτός, himself.

Ver. 29. baptized for the Dead] Of the Meaning of this, Wall says, there have been many Guesses, but those given by any one have hardly ever seemed probable to any but himself, in his extravagant Way of Expression; and this being one of the four Texts Edwards has made a Book on, these two Writers give a pretty many Meanings, Edwards also disproving them, besides his own, which is baptized with Water, because of or for the sake of the dead Martyrs. But this too labours with Difficulties: for if the Gr. Preposition here means for the sake of, it would be much more significant in Whitby's Interpretation, for the sake of Jesus dead, and for the others sake is scarce consistent with Protestantism, much less for that to be chiefly the Cause as p. 204. Edwards also insisting on keeping to the proper Meaning in baptized, presently runs off from it in the next Word; as likewise in the first of the Sentence, which he would not have to be Else, but Moreover; yet he boasts that in his Exposition, the genuine and proper Signification of the Words is upheld, that all is free and unconstrained, p. 260. But he seems to have taken it from the Assembly's Annotations, with the Alteration of baptized with Water instead of Blood. As for Whitby's applying it to Jesus, taken as may seem from Alex. More's Notes on Select Places, it may be sufficient to say that the Dead here is plural thrice, nay Christ distinct from others, Ver. 13, 15, 16. and his shifting from it is mere Sophism, so much as the Dead in Acts xvii. 31. & Rom. i. 4. certainly was not Jesus, but those whom he rose from, as here Ver. 12. 20. in Acts xxiii. 6. & xxiv. 21. it is the Matter that is spoken of as Ch. xvii. 32. viz. the Resurrection, which will be of more than Jesus, nay was then, Mat. xxvii. 52, 53. and Luke vii. 22. it is plural like the rest, though it might refer there to more Dead than one raised. Wall says the most obvious and general Meaning is, that St. Paul speaks of some Hereticks, who baptized some living Man in the stead of one that had died unbaptized; which Whitby refutes in Dodwell, held also by Erasmus and Grotius, and might be further refuted, since the Apostle would not refer to such as doing right and well, what he manifestly does; see also Edw. Enq. p. 165, 166, 167. The other Interpretation besides his own, which Whitby says the Words are only capable of, is baptized in the Expectation, Hope, or Belief of the Resurrection of the Dead, for which Hammond also holds, not as Wall says of him for as if they were dead, though others do; both which Edwards runs down, especially the first as taking Dead for the Resurrection of the Dead, and wider still for the Confession, Faith, or Hope of that, p. 147, 148, 149, 150.

What then must we do with it? Better Nothing, than that which is erroneous or amiss; and I may help a Passenger by telling him which Roads or Paths are wrong, if I cannot tell him which is the right. However a good spiritual Signification may be, baptized in Suffering or Sorrows for those that are spiritually dead, if we read may not rise up; nor will this be so metaphorical as some may think, since baptized is but a Gr. Word used in English, and signifying plunged, may be into that as well as into Water, Mark x. 38. 39. so preaching to such Dead sea in 1 Pet. iv. 6. with such Dead Eph. ii. 1, 5. John xi. 25. 2 Cor. v. 14. 1 Tim. v. 6. Rev. iii. 1. It will moreover hold thus in the natural Sense, and agree well with Paul's Argument, i. e. plunged in Suffering or Sorrows for Friends or Relations dead, though I know of none that have so expounded it, nor had I read that Part of Edwards's Enquiry from p. 187. to 193. when I wrote it.

Ib. entirely] or wholly, as the Gr. is, and not at all is made by two Gr. Negatives. Besides how could the Apostle make a Supposition of the Dead not rising at all, when several had risen? This also overturns the System of Edwards, who supposes these Dead to be only some good Persons, and his System may be allowed more plausible than others.

Ib. the Dead] at the End several Books have them instead of, plainly enough to shun the Repetition; nevertheless Mills affirms, what a small Consideration disallows, that this for the Dead came from that before.

Ver. 31. Jesus our Lord] Two Copies only being without these Words, Mills ranks that among the sound Readings, Pr. 454, 467. but the Lat. of them both have the Lord.

Ver. 32. fought] Annotators are divided as to whether this was real or comparative; Whitby &c. being for the former, but I think most, with whom I join my self, for the latter: for had Paul actually fought with Beasts, why does he say according to Man, that Manner of fighting being then well known? And why also does he put If to it? Nor is it credible that he would have fought with them. Neither does it appear to have been by Acts xix. 29, 30, 31. whether this is either Way to be referred.

37. And as for what thou sowest, thou dost not sow the Body it will be, but naked Grain, it may be of Wheat or some of the rest.

38. But God gives it a Body as he will, and to each Seed its own Body.

39. All Flesh is not the same Flesh; but one indeed the Flesh of Men, and another the Flesh of Beasts, and another of Fish, and another of Fowls.

40. And there are heavenly Bodies, as well as earthly Bodies; but the Glory indeed of the heavenly is one, and of the earthly another.

41. There is one Glory of the Sun, and other Glory of the Moon, and other Glory of the Stars; for Star differs from Star in Glory.

42. So also is the Resurrection of the Dead: it is sown in Corruption, it is raised up in Incorruption;

43. It is sown in Dishonour, it is raised up in Glory; it is sown in Weakness, it is raised up in Power;

44. It is sown a natural Body, is raised up a spiritual Body: there is both a natural Body, and a spiritual one.

45. So also it is written, The first Man Adam became a living Soul; the last Adam a Spirit making alive,

46. Yet the spiritual was not first, but the natural; in the next place the spiritual.

47. The first Man was from the Earth earthly, the second Man the Lord from Heaven.

48. What the earthly one was, such also are the earthly ones: and what the heavenly one, such also the heavenly ones.

49. And as we have born the Image of the earthly, we shall also that of the heavenly.

50. Now this I say, Brethren, that Flesh and Blood cannot inherit the Kingdom of God, nor does Corruption inherit Incorruption.

51. Behold I tell you a Mystery: we shall not all indeed sleep, but shall all be changed,

52. In a Moment, in the Twinkling of an Eye, when the last Trumpet is; for it will sound, and the Dead will be raised up incorruptible, and we shall be changed.

53. For this corruptible must put on Incorruption, and this mortal put on Immortality.

54. And when this corruptible has put on Incorruption, and this mortal put on Immortality; then will come to pass the Saying written, Death will be devoured in Victory.

55. Where is thy Sting, O Death? Where is thy Victory, O Grave?

56. The Sting of Death is Sin, and the Power of Sin by the Law.

57. But Thanks be to God, who gives us the Victory by our Lord Jesus Christ.

58. So that, my beloved Brethren, be settled, unmoveable, abounding in the Work of the Lord always; as you know that your Labour is not in vain in the Lord.

Ver. 39. and] which the Gr. has before each another; though the first are omitted, and the last put Ital. in the com. Transf.

Ver. 41. and] the first being not in the Vulg. only, Mills supposes was not Paul's; but who would have added it in before the other?

lb. for] which Doddr. turns into [and] saying, else we must suppose the Apostle to assert, that the Sun and Moon were Stars. But may it not be said, There must be a different Splendor of the Sun and Moon, which are so much unlike each other: for even the Stars differ in Brightness, that appear so nearly alike; without asserting the two former are Stars?

Ver. 44. there is both a natural Body, and a spiritual one] according to Mills was noted in the Marg. and thence brought into the Text, as by Erasmus the like, though absent but in three Copies and two Authors; but though eight or ten Copies, a Version, &c. have, if there is a natural Body, there is also a spiritual Body, yet they do not espouse that.

Ver. 45. Adam] the latter omitted in the Ethiop. and Iren. which Mills from so slender Authority would exclude; yet relates that Marcion, or some Reader, put Lord to explain it, as the Marcionites did in its room.

Ver. 47. the Lord] Divers leave this out, especially of the Primitive Writers, and Mills judges it a Comment, Pr. 325, 465, 1319. which I would not dispute against too many, yet rather think Lord as at Ver. 45. was taken hence, and so this to be genuine.

Ver. 49. we shall] with many let us, by the Change of o into u (a short o instead of a long one) as Mills shews through mere Carelessness; see Prok. 373. besides that noticed by Kuster.

Ver. 51. we shall not &c.] Some have, we shall there- *fore all indeed sleep, but shall not all be changed, therefore being made by the Change of o into u: others, and among them the Vulg. or perhaps they from that, we shall all (Mills omits indeed, though the Vulg. has quidem) *rise up, but shall not all be changed; but as Mills, who is so captious at our pref. Reading. especially in behalf of the Vulg. allows it to be genuine, we may rest the better satisfied. By we shall all be changed I understand all the rest that do not sleep or die, and the taking all too strictly I suppose occasioned those Alterations. What Mills says to save the Credit of the Lat. Translator, is too remarkable to be omitted, viz. that the foregoing certainly could not be his, forasmuch as he followed the Truth of the Gr. Copy, but was of some Reader, Pr. 544. but at other Times he himself puts a worse Consequence to such an unwarrantable Position or Supposition, namely tells us our Gr. is of some Reader.

Ver. 52. it will] here being no Noun.

Ver. 54. this corruptible has put on Incorruption, and] Absent from the old Latin, and one or two Writers and Translations under its Influence; and Mills being another of those, would justify the Omission by the slender Supposal that this was made from the foregoing Verse. But how much of the Scripture might we reject at that Rate?

lb. Victory] A Copy and three Authors have it Contention; Beza naming two, says many others, who were deceived by a Transcriber that had written νίκος for νίκος, yet the Rhemists in their Pref. charge him thus, He thinketh the Apostle said not νίκος, victorie, as it is in all Greeke copies, but νίκος, contention.

Ver. 55. The Gen. Vers. has this transposed for a various Reading, O death, where is thy Victory, &c. but I see no such by Mills.

lb. Grave] West. Hader.

CHAP. XVI.

AND concerning the Collection for the Saints, according as I ordered the Churches of Galatia, so also do ye.

2. At the first Day after the Sabbath, let each one of you lay treasured up by him of what he is prospered with; that when I come, there may not be Collections then.

3. And when I am present, whomsoever you approve of by Letters, those will I send to carry your Bounty to Jerusalem.

4. Or if it is worthy of my going also, they shall go with me.

5. However I will come to you, when I go through Macedonia; as this is what I shall do.

6. And perhaps I shall remain, or even winter with you; that you may conduct me whithersoever I go.

7. For I would not see you now in the Way, but hope to remain some Time with you, if the Lord permits.

8. But I shall remain at Ephesus till the fiftieth Day.

9. For there is a Door opened to me, great and effectual; and many oppose.

10. And if Timothy comes, look that he may be with you void of Fear: for he works the Work of the Lord, even like my self.

11. Let not any one therefore despise him; but conduct him in Peace, that he may come to me; for I expect him with the Brethren.

12. And concerning the Brother Apollos, I besought him much to come to you with the Brethren: but his Will was not at all to come now; however he will come when he has Time.

13. Watch, stand fast in the Faith, behave manfully, be strong.

14. Let all your Matters be done in Love.

15. Nay I beseech you, Brethren, who know the Family of Stephanus, that it is the First-fruit of Achaia, and that they have appointed themselves to minister to the Saints;

16. That you would also be subject to such, and to every one who works together and labours.

17. Moreover I rejoice at the Coming of Stephanus, Fortunatus and Achaicus; since they have supplied your Defect.

18. For they have refreshed my Spirit and yours; therefore acknowledge such.

19. The Churches of Asia salute you. Aquila and Priscilla salute you much in the Lord, with the Church at their House.

20. All the Brethren salute you. Salute one another with a holy Kiss.

21. The Salutation of Paul with my own Hand.

22. If any one does not love the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be cursed at the Coming of the Lord.

23. The Grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

24. My Love be with you all in Christ Jesus: so let it be.

The first to the Corinthians was written from Philippi, sent by Stephanus, Fortunatus, Achaicus and Timothy.

Ver. 2. by him] Though Doddr. finds fault of lay by him in store, and leaves out him, the latter is in the Original.

1b. of what he is prospered with] The Vulgate's what shall please him well Mills reckons corrupt, Pr. 554.

Ver. 3. by Letters] of Commendation to carry with them, Acts xviii. 27. 2 Cor. iii. 1. which Whitby, &c. not thinking of, turn it them will I send with my Letters, distorting dis into with.

Ver. 7. would] or am willing, being a Verb in Gr.

Ver. 11. therefore] As necessary a Connection as this is, Mills condemns it for an Insertion, by the Verdict of two Copies and one Author, Pr. 466.

Ver. 15. Nay] Mills finding three without this, turns it off, Pr. 467. he might have made four with our pres. Eng. but is not it therefore in the Gr. now?

Ver. 18. such] Of what Use is ye them that are, for which the Gr. has no Word but the redundant Article? With a Deal of the like, which this may serve for an Instance of.

Ver. 22. at the Coming of the Lord] according to the Meaning of the Syriack Words maran atha, of which see Buxt. Chald. Lex. under mar and as Man could not know who did not love Christ, it was fit for such a one to be cursed then.

Ver. 23. the Lord] our being but in a few Greek Copies; see besides Mills's, the Amsterdam Edition with various Readings, 1711, and there especially Canon 35.

Sub. Philippi] But as appears by Ver. 8, & 19. comp. with Acts xviii. 24, 26. was Ephesus, when Paul was there the second time, Acts xviii. 1. by Ver. 12. here; and not Philippi, Ver. 5. from whence he wrote the 2d Epistle, and it appears was there but a little while, Acts xx. 3, 6. besides Mills collects that Titus, 2 Cor. viii. 16, 17. & xii. 18. & ii. 12. however not Timothy, Acts xix. 22. Ch. xvi. 10. was one of those sent with it, but put here by Mistake of Ch. iv. 17.

NOTES upon the Second Epistle of PAUL to the CORINTHIANS.

CHAP. I.

PAUL, an Apostle of Jesus Christ by the Will of God, and Timothy a Brother; to the Church of God which is at Corinth, with all the Saints who are in all Achaia.

2. Grace be to you, and Peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3. Blessed be God, and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of Mercies, and the God of all Comfort;

4. Who comforts us in all our Affliction, that we may be able to comfort those in all Affliction, by the Comfort with which we our selves are comforted from God.

5. Since as the Sufferings of Christ abound in us, so by Christ our Comfort also abounds.

6. Thus whether we are afflicted, it is for your Comfort and Salvation, that is effectual in enduring the same Sufferings which we also suffer; or are comforted, it is for your Comfort and Salvation.

7. And our Hope is firm concerning you; knowing that as you are Partakers of the Sufferings, so also of the Comfort.

8. For we would not have you be ignorant, Brethren, concerning the Affliction which came upon us in Asia, that we were exceedingly burdened above Strength, so that we despaired even of living.

9. But we had the Sentence of Death in our selves, that we might not be confident in our selves, but in God who raises up the Dead.

10. Who has delivered us from so great Death, and does deliver; in whom we hope that he will too yet deliver:

11. You also aiding together with Supplication for us, that for the Gift to us by means of many Persons, thanks may be given by many for us.

12. For our Glorifying is this, the Testimony of our Conscience, that in godly Simplicity and Sincerity, not in carnal Wisdom, but in the Grace of God, we have been conversant in the World, and more abundantly to you.

13. For we write no other Things to you, than those which you read, or even acknowledge; and I hope that you will also acknowledge to the End.

14. As you have likewise acknowledged us partly, that we are your Glorifying, according as you are ours also in the Day of the Lord Jesus.

15. And in this Confidence I was willing to come to you before, that you might have a second Favour;

16. Even to go by you into Macedonia, and come to you again from Macedonia, as also be conducted by you into Judea.

Ver. 2. our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ] Ambrose, and as it seems Pelagius, says Mills, omit all this; what then? It crept from other Epistles. This is shocking! What because they shortened a Quotation, must we doubt, nay decry, the universal Consent of Copies and Translations? His frequent Query, Who would blot out such notable Words? is unapplicable here: for though the Words are such in an eminent Manner, yet not even necessary with respect to the Matter, since God alone might be sufficient.

Ver. 4. by the Comfort] The Vulg. though having comforts and Comfort before, has now Exhortation and exhorted, another Meaning of the same Gr. Words; but absurdly, as Mills owns, yet ascribes it to the Librarians, to save his esteemed Interpreter, Pr. 556.

Ver. 5. Sufferings of Christ] by Ham. Suffering for Christ; but the simple Meaning those like Christ's Sufferings may be more literal.

Ver. 6. Comfort] both times Exhortation, as also exhorted in the Vulg. like that in Ver. 4. though Comfort both in Ver. 5. and 7.

Ver. 7. And our Hope is firm concerning you] This Clause with divers stands before or are comforted, which seems to make that Part too long; and ours seems best, tho' Mills wrangles at it. With others or are comforted, it is for your Comfort (mostly without and Salvation) comes before that is effectual &c.

Ver. 10. and does deliver] first put for Explanation (but what Explanation is this?) in the Marg. says Mills, and a Scribe thinking it Part of the Text, brought it in, Pr. 1248. How fanciful this! Wanting in 2 Copies &c.

Ver. 11. by means of many Persons] viz. through their Supplication. In the Vulg. Lat. from the Persons of many Faces, than which Nothing is more absurd, says Mills, but he takes care to attribute it to a Scribe, Pr. 556. However that Transf. is so now, and as being so, is dubbed the Authentick Scripture.

Ib. by many for us] Instead of us several have you, which Whitby, though not Mills, staggers at; but this many being the same as the other, and that as you, forbids it.

Ver. 16. into Judea] as before into Macedonia.

17. When

17. When I was therefore willing of this, did I use Lightness? Or what Things I would have be, was it according to the Flesh, that there might be with me Yes, Yes, and No, No?

18. Whereas God is faithful, since our Speech to you was not Yes, and No.

19. For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, preached among you by us, by me, Silvanus and Timothy, was not Yes and No, but was Yes in himself.

20. For all the Promises whatever of God are in him Yes, and in him So let it be, to the Glory of God by us.

21. Moreover he that has confirmed us with you to Christ, and anointed us, is God:

22. Who has also sealed us, and given the Earnest of the Spirit in our Hearts.

23. And I call God for a Witness to my Soul, that by sparing you, I did not yet come to Corinth.

24. Not that we have dominion over your Faith, but are Workers together for your Joy: for by Faith you stand.

C H A P. II.

BUT I determined this with my self, not to come again to you in Grief.

2. For if I make you sorry, who is there then to make you glad, excepting one that is made sorry by me?

3. And I have written this to you, that when I come, I may not have Grief from them for whom I should rejoice, having confidence in you all, that my Joy is all yours.

4. For from much Affliction and Distress of Heart, I wrote to you, with many Tears; not that you might be made sorry, but that you might know the Love which I have for you the more abundantly.

5. If any one then has made sorry, he has not made me sorry, but partly; that I may not burden you all.

6. Sufficient for such a one is this Rebuke from many.

7. So that on the contrary you are rather to forgive, and comfort; lest such a one should any how be swallowed up by too abundant Grief.

8. Therefore I beseech you, to establish Love towards him.

9. Since for this also I have written, that I might know the Proof of you, whether you would be obedient in all Things.

10. And whom you forgive any Thing, I also: for if I too forgave any Thing, I forgave the Person for you, in the Presence of Christ;

11. That no Gain might be got of us by Satan: for we are not unacquainted with his Devices.

12. Besides on coming to Troas for the Gospel of Christ, as a Door was opened to me by the Lord;

13. I had no Ease in my Spirit, for my not finding Titus my Brother; but I took leave of them, and came away into Macedonia.

14. Now Thanks be to God, who always causes us to triumph in Christ, and makes manifest the Savour of his Knowledge by us in every Place.

15. Because we are a sweet Smell of Christ to God, both in them who are saved, and that perish;

16. To these indeed the Savour of Death to Death, and to those the Savour of Life to Life: and who is sufficient for these Things?

17. For we are not as many that sell out the Word of God; but as from Sincerity, but as from God, before him, we speak in Christ.

Ver. 17. Lightness] West. levity, in his Manner of changing plain Words into hard, yet Writing, as he says in Pref. chiefly for plain, unlettered Men.

Ver. 18. is faithful] according to Ver. 20. and which Ver. 21, 22. may explain.

Ib. since] left out of the com. Trans.

Ib. was not Yes, and No] Nary, Had no Contradiction in it.

Ver. 19. himself] this being Christ, as the next Verse shews, and therefore him quite improper.

Ver. 20. and in him] Some Copies have, therefore also by him paraphrastically.

Ver. 21. to] not in as before.

Ver. 22. Spirit] Where the Spirit is there is Feeling: for the Spirit maketh us feel all Things. Where the Spirit is not, there is no Feeling, but a vain Opinion or Imagination, Wm. Tyndal's Parable of the wicked Mammon, printed 1527.

Ver. 2. excepting one] viz. of themselves; as no other could make him glad in respect to them.

Ver. 12. Troas] agreeable to Acts xx. 5, 6. as this was written at Philippi, Subscr.

Ver. 13. came] No body says, he went to the Place where he now is, Wall here; see the Subsc. and Chap. ix. 2.

Ver. 14, 16. Savour] West. odour.

Ver. 16. to Death—to Life] perhaps some scribe put in the margin as interpretation, Wall writes, although it is deficient with none. What new Criticism this is, from one who is a wretched Plagiary, especially to Hammond!

Ib. sufficient] Mills has a long Argument that there should be so before it, meaning as themselves; but when I look for the Proof, not one Gr. Copy has it, and where it is in Lat. might be all from the Vulg. of which he had a better Opinion than Protestants used to have; see Whitby.

Ver. 17. sell out] according to the Original, as the Landlord of a Tavern or Alehouse does the Liquor: thus Montan. renders it; as the proper Meaning of the Word, in his strict Manner cauponantes, Eras. the same, and Beza cauponatur, the Geneva Translators make merchandise of.

Ib. as—but] after but Mills would throw out, the first with, the other without, the Vulg. How busy have some been to strip the Scripture of what it could spare, contrary to the Genius of the Original, as well as modern Language! These Particles are omitted but by a few, and only in one Gr. Copy.

C H A P III.

DO we begin again to commend our selves? On the contrary have we need, as some, of Epistles of Commendation to you, or of Commendation from you?

2. You are our Epistle written in our Hearts, known and read by all Men.

3. Since you are made manifest to be the Epistle of Christ, ministred by us, written not with Ink, but with the Spirit of the Living God; not in Tables of Stone, but in fleshy Tables of the Heart.

4. And such Confidence have we by Christ towards God.

5. Not that we are sufficient of our selves, to think any Thing as from our selves; but our Sufficiency is from God.

6. Who also has made us sufficient for Ministers of the new Testament, not of the Letter, but of the Spirit: for the Letter kills, whereas the Spirit makes alive.

7. And if the Ministry of Death, in Letters engraved on Stones, was done in such Glory, that the Israelites could not look stedfastly at the Face of Moses, for the Glory of his Face, which is abolished;

8. How will not the Ministry of the Spirit be more in Glory?

9. For if the Ministry of Condemnation was Glory, much more will the Ministry of Righteousness abound in Glory.

10. For even what was made glorious was not so in this Respect, because of the Glory that excels.

11. For if that was by Glory which is abolished, much more what remains is in Glory.

12. Having therefore such Hope, we use much Boldness.

13. And not as Moses who put a Veil upon his Face, for the Israelites not to look stedfastly to the End of what is abolished.

14. But their Minds were hardened: for till this Day the same Veil, at the Reading of the Old Testament, remains not unveiled; which is abolished in Christ.

15. But until this Day, when Moses is read, the Veil is laid upon their Heart.

16. However when it shall be turned to the Lord, the Veil will be taken away.

17. And the Lord is the Spirit; and where the Spirit of the Lord is, Freedom is there.

18. And we all with unveiled Face, seeing as in a Glass the Glory of the Lord, are transformed into the same Image, from Glory to Glory, as it were by the spiritual Lord.

C H A P. IV.

BY reason of that in having this Ministry, as we have obtained mercy, we do not faint.

2. But have refused the hidden Things of Shame, and not walked in Craftiness, nor dealt deceitfully with the Word of God; but by Manifestation of the Truth, have recommended our selves to every Man's Conscience before God.

3. Whereas if our Gospel be covered, it is among them that are lost;

4. In whom the god of this World has blinded the Minds of them being Unbelievers, for the Enlightening of the glorious Gospel of Christ, who is the Similitude of God, not to shine to them.

5. For we do not preach our selves, but Christ Jesus the Lord; yet our selves your Servants for the sake of Jesus.

6. Since God that spoke to the Light to shine out of Darkness, is he who has shined in our Hearts, for the Illumination of the

Ver. 14. not unveiled] very literal.

Ver. 16. it] the Heart, because there have been other Opinions of it.

Ver. 17. the Spirit] for here is no more that than before Lord.

Ib. of the Lord] seems to have crept in from the next Verse Mills idly writes, Pr. 1502. for two Books, and no more whatever, were found without it.

Ver. 18. unveiled] so Wesley, as I see since.

Ver. 4. to them] Mills denies to be Paul's, Pr. 682. as not recorded by a few.

Ver. 5. the Lord] weakly disallowed by Mills, Pr. 296. citing a few without it, others with our Lord, and strangely the Syr. for both, which has the latter.

Ib. for the sake of] some by, according to Mills rightly, Pr. 296. but ours seems the better, as well as the established Reading.

Ver. 6. to shine out of Darkness] agreeable to John i. 5. 2 Pet. i. 19.

Knowledge of God's Glory, in the Appearance of Jesus Christ.

7. But we have this Treasure in earthen Vessels, that the Excellency of the Power may be of God, and not from us :

8. Who are afflicted in every Thing, but not distressed ; doubting, but not despairing ;

9. Persecuted, but not forsaken ; cast down, but not destroyed ;

10. Always carrying about in the Body the Dying of the Lord Jesus, that the Life of Jesus also may be made manifest in our Body.

11. For we who live are always delivered to Death for the sake of Jesus, that his Life also may be made manifest in our mortal Flesh.

12. So that Death indeed works in us, but Life in you.

13. And as we have the same Spirit of Faith, according to what is written, I believed, therefore spoke ; we likewise believe, therefore do also speak :

14. Knowing that he who raised up the Lord Jesus, will also raise us up by Jesus, and cause to stand with you.

15. Since all the Things are for your sakes, that Grace, by the Thanksgiving of many, may the more abound to the Glory of God.

16. Therefore we do not faint, but though our outward Person perish, yet the inward is renewed Day by Day.

17. For our momentary light Affliction, works for us an everlasting Weight of Glory exceeding excellent.

18. As we look not at Things that are seen, but at those not seen : for Things seen are for a Time, whereas those not seen are for ever.

C H A P. V.

FOR we know, that if our earthly House of the Tabernacle should be dissolved, we have a Building from God, a House not made with Hands, everlasting in the Heavens.

2. Nay we also groan in this Respect, longing to be cloathed with our Habitation from Heaven.

3. And if then we are cloathed, we shall not be found naked.

4. For even we who are in the Tabernacle groan, being burdened ; for which we would not be uncloathed ; but cloathed, that Mortality may be swallowed up by Life.

5. Now he who works on us for this very Thing is God, who also gives us the Earnest of the Spirit.

6. We are confident therefore always, yet know that being present in the Body, we are absent from the Lord.

7. For we walk by Faith, not by Appearance.

8. Thus we are confident, and are pleased more to be absent from the Body, and to be present with the Lord.

9. Therefore we also endeavour, whether present or absent, to be well-pleasing to him.

10. For we must all be made manifest before the Judgment-seat of Christ, that each may receive according to the Things which he has done by the Body, whether good or bad.

11. Knowing therefore the Fear of the Lord, we persuade Men ; nay we are made manifest to God, and I hope have been also manifested in your Consciences.

Ver. 6. God's] for which a few of little Note having his, Mills in ProL N. 296. rashly pronounces ours a marginal Explanation of that ; but such his, with God so before, certainly could not need : I therefore conclude that God being repeated, was altered by Somebody to his ; as far more likely.

Ver. 14. the Lord] one Copy, one Transf. one Author leave out, therefore Mills says is a Scribe's, ProL 473. for it being neither with Jesus after, nor could be either for Explanation or Connection, he let it rest on such Authority, as he was determined not to lose the Occasion of a new Reading.

Ver. 18. look] West. aim.

Ver. 3. And if] the Sense of which compare with the com. Transf.

Ib. cloathed] A few have uncloathed, which Mills is much for ; see his Note, and ProL 473. Nevertheless his Argument turning on their Desire to be cloathed with the heavenly Body, without the Feeling of Death, appears too extravagant ; and nearly of kin to Castellio's being taken away alive at the Judgment, which to Beza seemed to want no Refutation ; and see the Exam. of Whitby.

Ib. shall not be found naked] though stript of this Body.

Ver. 4. for which] the being burdened : that is, do not merely desire Death to be freed from Suffering. This being according to the Gr. and not for that, because.

Ver. 5. also] as lacking in some, Mills represents it thrust in, Pr. 473. improbably enough.

Ver. 6. are confident] West. behave undauntedly.

Ib. present] as in Ver. 8, 9.

Ver. 7. Appearance] as rendered 1 Thes. v. 22. and Sight may signify seeing, which is not the Meaning of the Gr. Word.

Ver. 9. endeavour] West. are ambitious, on which he thus comments, The only Ambition which has place in a Christian ; but this Gr. Verb being also in Rom. xv. 20. 1 Thes. iv. 11. is there applied to other Particulats, and in the latter would be improper to be ambitious, nor are either of them so rendered by him : for the Signification of Words is by Use, not Etymology.

Ver. 10. the Things—by the Body] his own Things—of the Body is a various Reading with some, as imagined it seems to be so more effectually his, and so more rewardable ; which the vulg. Lat. having, the Protestants kept, as being farther from the Doctrine of Merit by bodily Performances : thus at least I conceive the Case might be in our Transf. tho' Mills sticks close to the Vulg. and seems to argue absurdly, that by the Body is doing more by the Mind than the other, Pr. 473. and see p. 465. with Whit. Exam.

12. For we do not commend our selves again to you, but are giving you Occasion of Glorifying concerning us, that you may have this for them who glory in Appearance, and not in Heart.

13. Since whether we are crazy, it is to God; or are sober, it is to you.

14. For the Love of Christ presses us; we judging thus, that if one died for all, then all were dead;

15. And that he died for all, in order that those who live should no longer live to themselves, but to him who died and was raised up for them.

16. So that we are to be acquainted with none henceforth according to the Flesh; nay even though we knew Christ so, yet now we do no more.

17. So that if any one be in Christ, he is a new Creature: old Things are past, behold all are become new.

18. And all Things are from God, who has reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and given us the Ministry of Reconciliation;

19. As that God was in Christ, reconciling the World to himself, not reckoning their Offences to them, and has committed to us the Word of Reconciliation.

20. We are therefore Ambassadors for Christ, as if God were beseeching by us; we intreat you for Christ, be reconciled to God.

21. For he has made him be Sin for us, who did not know Sin, that we might become the Righteousness of God in him.

CHAP. VI.

AND we who work with him also beseech, that you will not receive the Grace of God in vain:

2. (For he says, I have heard thee in the accepted Time, and helped thee in the Day of Salvation: behold now is the acceptable Time, behold now the Day of Salvation)

3. As we give Nothing to stumble at in any Thing, that the Ministry may not be blamed;

4. But in all Things recommend our selves as the Ministers of God, in much Patience, in Afflictions, in Necessities, in Distresses,

5. In Stripes, in Imprisonments, in Tumults, in Labours, in Watchings, in Fastings,

6. In Purity, in Knowledge, in Forbearance, in Kindness, in the Holy Spirit, in Love unfeigned,

7. In the Word of Truth, in the Power of God, by the Armour of Righteousness on the right and left Hand,

8. By Glory and Dishonour, by ill Report and good Report: as Seducers, and true;

9. As unknown, and known; as dying, and behold we live; as chastened, and not killed;

10. As being sorry, yet always rejoicing; as being poor, yet enriching many; as having Nothing, and possessing all Things.

11. Our Mouth is opened to you, O Corinthians, our Heart is enlarged.

12. You are not streightened in us, but are streightened in your own Bowels.

13. Now for the Recompence of that, I speak as to Children, be you also enlarged.

14. Be not yoked along with Unbelievers: for what Participation is there of Righteousness and Iniquity? And what Communion has Light with Darkness?

15. And what Concord has Christ with Ungodliness? Or what Part has a Believer with an Unbeliever?

16. And what Agreement has the Temple of God with Idols? For you are the Temple of the Living God, as God says, I will dwell in them, and go about among them, and be their God, as they shall a People to me.

17. Therefore come out from among those, and be separate, says the Lord, and do not

Ver. 13. crazy] as thought, or called; and signifying most properly out of one's mind, from ek—out of, &c.

Ver. 14. presses us] where Beza, Mills, &c. end the Verse.

Ib. if] made afterwards to illustrate the Sentence, is said by Mills, there being several without it; but see Whitby's Answ.

Ver. 16. according to the Flesh] According to the estimation of the world: but as he is guided by the Spirit of God, says the Gen. Marg.

Ib. more] for which and henceforth in the com. Eng. Transf. there is but one Gr. Particle.

Ver. 17. all] Mills scarce thought was the Apostle's; for who, says he, would miss it? Pr. 1290. Any one surely might, and others from him, tho' but few have; or it might be left out as not needful.

Ver. 20. We are therefore Ambassadors for Christ] Mills on slight imaginary Grounds would have it For which

(i. e. Word) we are Ambassadors, supposing Christ added, &c.

Ib. for Christ] both times the same.

Ver. 21. For] not with three or four, and so inserted, says Mills, for Connection, Pr. 474. of which truly there is so much Need, that I shall not for my Part be so easily persuaded, that Paul left it out.

Ib. made him be Sin] As the Heb. Word for Sin, unquestionably also signifies a Sin-offering or Sacrifice for Sin, so both Ham. and Whit. interpret this Gr. Word to do here, and even Wesley translates it by the former.

Ver. 3. we give] which is certainly right, and Giving may be too obscure, especially to Hearers.

Ver. 16. you are] eight Copies, &c. have we are, but Mills leaves it.

Ib. God says] he says, God being omitted in the Syr. and there alone, yet Mills says it is a Reader's, not Paul's, Pr. 1254.

meddle with the unclean Thing; then will I receive you.

18. Nay I will become a Father to you, as you shall Sons and Daughters to me, says the Almighty Lord.

CHAP. VII.

AS we have therefore these Promises, Beloved, let us cleanse our selves from all Defilement of Flesh and Spirit, and accomplish Holiness in the Fear of God.

2. Receive us: we have done injury to none, corrupted none, got gain of none.

3. I do not speak for Condemnation; since I said before, that you are in our Hearts, to die and live with.

4. There is much Boldness with me to you, much Glorifying with me for you: I am filled with Comfort, I abound the more with Joy in all our Affliction.

5. For we also being come into Macedonia, our Flesh had no Ease, but we were afflicted in every Thing; without were Contentions, within Fears.

6. But God who comforts the lowly, comforted us by the Coming of Titus;

7. And not by his Coming only, but also by the Comfort that he was comforted with in you, rehearsing to us your Longing, your Mourning, your Zeal for me; so that I rejoiced more.

8. Since if I even made you sorry by an Epistle, I do not repent, if I might even repent: for I perceive that the same Epistle made you sorry, though but for a little while.

9. I now rejoice, not that you were made sorry, but that you were made sorry to Repentance: for you were made sorry agreeable to God, that you might suffer loss from us in Nothing.

10. For Sorrow agreeable to God, works Repentance to Salvation, not to be repented of; whereas the Sorrow of the World works Death.

11. For behold in this very Thing that you were sorry agreeable to God, how much Carefulness it wrought in you, nay Apology, nay Indignation, nay Fear, nay Longing, nay Zeal, nay Vengeance! In every Thing you have recommended your selves to be clear in the Matter.

12. Then though indeed I wrote to you, it was not for the sake of him who did the injury, nor for his sake who received the injury, but for the sake of making manifest to you before God, our Carefulness for you.

13. By reason of this we were comforted in your Comfort; and we rejoiced the more abundantly in the Joy of Titus, that his Spirit was refreshed by you all.

14. Since though I boasted Something to him concerning you, I am not ashamed; but as we spoke all Things to you truly, even so our Boasting which was to Titus is become true.

15. And his Affections are more abundant to you, when he calls to remembrance the Obedience of you all, how with Fear and Trembling you received him.

16. I rejoice therefore, that in every Thing I am confident in you.

Ver. 18. Nay I will] This being quoted from Jer. xxxi. 1. and that in the Verse before from Isa. lii. 11. and both separately with says the Lord, should not be joined together as in the com. Transf.

Ver. 4. Boldness] one Word in Gr. and so rendered in divers Places of the com. Transf.

Ver. 8. if I might even repent] It seems incongruous, says Whitby, that the Apostle should repent of what he writ by the Direction of the Holy Ghost; but I think his Proposal does not sufficiently avoid it, though I should have repented.

Ver. 11. you] the Pronoun was added afterwards, Mills says, to supply the Sentence, Pr. 474. but how supply, when the Verb it self has you?

Ib. nay] yea in this Sense, as well as the other for yes, being obsolete, to which Words our Translators so much inclined: for G. Wither about that Time has in his Concluding Hymne, to the Psalms,

*I have Hopes that shall remaine.
Nay those Hopings which have failed
Are not lost: but much prevailed
My chief Longings to attaine.*

Ver. 12. wrote to you] Two or three being without to you, Mills stigmatizes it to be crept in, Pr. 475. then it must be from somewhere, but is not in Ch. ii. 9. which he mentions; and why must this; so different a Sentence, not have it, because that has not?

Ib. our Carefulness for you] Mills has put in the Text your Carefulness for us, after the Edition of Caryophyllus, yet reckons ours to be right, Pr. 1316: as also to you shews, but that a very few have not.

Ver. 14. become] not found.

Ver. 16. every Thing] all things being according to the vulg. Lat. and does not appear to be in any Gr. Copy.

CHAP. VIII.

AND we let you know, Brethren, of the Grace of God given in the Churches of Macedonia;

2. That in much Experience of Affliction, the Abundance of their Joy, and their Poverty after a deep Manner, has abounded to the Riches of their Liberality.

3. Since according to Power (I testify) and above Power, they did of their own Accord:

4. Nay besought us with much Intreaty, that we would receive the Favour, and the Communion of the Ministry to the Saints.

5. And not as we hoped, but gave themselves first to the Lord, and then to us by the Will of God.

6. So that we besought Titus, that as he had begun before, so he would also accomplish in you this Grace likewise:

7. Thus as you abound in every Thing, Faith, Speech, Knowledge, all Carefulness, and Love from you to us; that you may abound also in this Grace.

8. I do not speak according to Command, but through the Carefulness of others, and to prove the Reality of your Love.

9. For you know the Grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that for you he became poor, rich as he was; that you might become rich by his Poverty.

10. And I give my Opinion in this; since this is profitable to you, who began already last Year, not only to do, but also to be willing.

11. And now then accomplish the doing; that according as there was a Readiness to be willing, so there may also to accomplish of what you have.

12. For if there be a Readiness beforehand, it is acceptable according as any one has, not as he has not.

13. For it is not that there should be Ease to others, and Affliction to you.

14. But by Equality at the present Time, for your Abundance to be for their Want; that their Abundance also may be for your Want, to the end that there may be an Equality.

15. As it is written, He who got much had none over, and he that got little had none wanting.

16. But Thanks be to God, who put the same Carefulness for you into the Heart of Titus.

17. Since indeed he received the Intreaty; but being more careful, he was coming to you of his own Accord.

18. However we have sent along with him a Brother, whose Praise is in the Gospel through all the Churches;

19. Not only so, but was also chosen by the Churches our Fellow-traveller with this Grace, that is ministered by us to the Glory of the same God, and your Readiness:

20. We avoiding this, that none should blame us in this Plenty which is ministered by us;

21. As we provide good Things, not only before the Lord, but also before Men.

22. And we have sent our Brother with them, whom we have often proved to be careful in many Things, and now much more careful, by the great Confidence which there is towards you:

Ver. 4. Favour] the same as rendered Grace in the next Verse, not signifying gift.

Ver. 5. not as we hoped] they hoping not to have that Work put upon them, as appears by their being much besought to it, Ver. 4. the Reason of which may be seen by Acts vi. 2, 3, 4. so that we need not fly with Whitby, to expected or conjectured instead of hoped; nor leave it as unexplicable with Hammond, &c.

Ver. 8. Reality] The ingenium bonum, good Disposition of the Vulg. Mills, careful for the Credit of his favourite Interpreter, supposes was ingenium, and that bonum was added to help out the other, Pr. 557.

Ver. 10. Opinion] This is the same Word, and with the same Verb, as in 1 Cor. vii. 25.

Ver. 12. any one has] Some he or it has, leaving out a Gr. Word: for the Vulg. translating the Will instead of a Readiness, made the latter suitable, which might affect those Copies and Writers; tho' Mills was for Somebody's supplying it, Pr. 633.

Ver. 17. Intreaty] as Ver. 6. shews, and the same Word in Ver. 4.

Ib. was coming] apparently the Meaning; which Wall saw, but being at a loss to express, expounds it, Has undertaken to come, and comes with this to you.

Ver. 18. along] or together, here being μετὰ, which there is not Ver. 22.

Ib. a Brother] mostly thought to be Luke, for which see Whit. Annot. and Wall on Acts xx. 4. or Crit. Not. p. 253, 254.

Ver. 19. your Readiness] Many for your have our, but I don't find the Criticks defending it, tho' it is in the vulg. Lat. excepting Wall, a rash one, who thinks it makes a plainer and more agreeable Sense; what administred by us to our ready Mind? Does not that make little or no Sense? And does not your accord with that in Ver. 11?

Ver. 20. We] for Clearness; this belonging to we have sent, Ver. 18. as Beza shews.

Ver. 22. with them] with whom? with Titus and the Brother, Ver. 16, 18? as it seems our Translators understood it, by putting this before our brother, and adding in for after Providing, Ver. 21. No, since not only by the Subscription there were no more than those two Persons sent, but Brother here appears to be the same as he in Ver. 18. I therefore by this them understand the good Things in the preceding Verse, which might be Presents to their Friends, as may be signified by the Plenty ministered, Ver. 20. and suitable to before Men, Ver. 21.

Ib. there is] in us, as he before said we.

23. Whether it be for Titus, my Partner, and Fellow-worker towards you; or our Brethren, the Apostles of the Churches, the Glory of Christ.

24. Therefore shew to them, in the Presence of the Churches, the Manifestation of your Love, and of our Boasting about you.

C H A P. IX.

FOR indeed concerning the ministring to the Saints, it is superfluous for me to write to you.

2. Since I know your Readiness, which I boast of about you to the Macedonians, that Achaia was prepared last Year; and the Zeal from you has provoked many.

3. However I have sent the Brethren, that our Boasting about you might not be void in this Respect; that, as I said, you may be prepared:

4. Lest any how if the Macedonians should come with me, and find you unprepared; we, that we may not say you, should be ashamed in this Confidence of Boasting.

5. I therefore esteemed it necessary to exhort the Brethren, that they would go before to you, and sit up beforehand your Blessing told before, that it might be ready, the same as a Blessing, and not as in Covetousness.

6. There is this too, He that sows sparingly, will also reap so; and he who sows in Blessings, will likewise reap in the same.

7. Let it be as each chooses before with the Heart, not of Grief, or of Necessity: for God loves a cheerful Giver:

8. And God is able to make all Grace abound in you; that having always all Sufficiency in all Things, you may abound in every good Work.

9. As it is written; He that disperses, gives to the Needy, his Righteousness remains for evermore.

10. And let him who furnishes the Sower with Seed, supply Bread also for Food, and multiply your Seed sown, and increase the Fruits of your Righteousness:

11. You being enriched in every Thing to all Liberality, which works by us Thanksgiving to God.

12. Since the Ministry of this Service, is not only a Supply to the Wants of the Saints, but also abounds by many Thanksgivings to God:

13. (They glorifying God, by the Experience of this Ministry, in your confessed Subjection to the Gospel of Christ, and the Liberality of imparting to them, and to all)

14. And with their Supplication for you; who long after you by reason of the excellent Grace of God in you.

15. Now Thanks be to God for his unspeakable Gift:

C H A P. X.

AND I Paul my self beseech you, by the Meekness and Gentleness of Christ, who according to Appearance was indeed lowly among you, but as I am absent am confident towards you;

2. I even intreat, that when present I may not be confident, with the Confidence which I think to be bold with to some, who think of us, as if we walk according to the Flesh.

3. For though we walk in the Flesh, we do not make war according to the Flesh.

4. Since the Weapons of our War are not carnal, but powerful by God, to the Overthrowing of Fortifications:

5. As they overthrow Thoughts, with every high Thing that is raised up against the

Ver. 23. it be] viz. the Confidence before-mentioned: i. e. whether our Confidence be of your treating Titus, or the other Brethren, well.

Ver. 3. in this Respect] West. on this head.

Ver. 4. of Boasting] Mills twice says, this is added from Ch. xi. 17. being omitted by some: of which we may suspend the Belief.

Ver. 5. your] is some Reader's, not Paul's, if we will believe Mills in his Proleg. 475. but then it must be on small Authority.

Ib. told before] Ver. 2. Doddr. a few have promised before, which Wall says make the better Sense; but that I do not see.

Ib. and] a few miss, those few Mills justifies, Pr. 475.

Ver. 6. also] the latter not with a few, and Mills says crept from the former, Ib. I should think the Apostle would rather put it here than there, as being more elegant.

Ver. 10. let him &c.] Some have he who furnishes—will supply &c. as Mills says rightly, and to the Scope of the Apostle; but Whitby shews from Occumenius otherwise.

Ver. 12. to God] Ambrose only having it in God, Mills grasps that as a Prize, Pr. 476. We may take it for that Playing with the Scripture, which those called the Fathers, as well as the Cabbalist Jews, too much used: for with all the fine Shew, what proper Idea can we have of Ministry or Administration in God? On the contrary this Service is manifestly the Liberality mentioned in the Verses before and after, and the Ministry of it the imparting, Ver. 13.

Ver. 14. their Supplication] that of the Saints mentioned in Ver. 12.

Ver. 15. Now] Mills would call out with his little Number; Pr. 476.

Ver. 5. As they overthrow] not we, as by the 3d Verse in a Parenthesis the Sense would be, which agrees far less to this and what follows: ad omnia referatur, says Beza, it may be referred to the Weapons; Overthrowing and overthrow, from the same Verb in Gr. shewing also that these belong to one another. The Bishop's Transf. has Where-with we overthrow; and Cast. Quibus armis, with which Weapons.

Knowledge of God, and take every Device captive to the Obedience of Christ;

6. And are got in readiness to revenge every Disobedience, when your Obedience shall be fulfilled.

7. Do ye look according to Appearance? If any one is confident in himself of being Christ's, let him think this again of himself, that as he is Christ's, so we also are Christ's.

8. For though also I should even boast something more abundantly concerning our Power, which the Lord has given us for building up, and not for your Overthrow, I should not be ashamed:

9. That I may not seem, as if I would terrify you by Epistles.

10. Since indeed one says the Epistles are weighty and strong, but the bodily Presence is weak, and the Speech contemptible.

11. Let such a one think, that what we are absent in Word by Epistles, such also present in Work.

12. For we dare not reckon or compare our selves, with some who commend themselves; but as those measure themselves in themselves, and compare themselves with themselves, they do not understand.

13. Whereas we will not boast in Things out of Measure, but according to the Measure of the Rule, which God has distributed to us, a Measure to reach even to you.

14. For we do not overstretch our selves, so as not to reach to you: for we have already come even to you in the Gospel of Christ.

15. And boast not in Things out of measure, in the Labours of others; but have Hope, as your Faith increases, to become great among you abundantly according to our Rule;

16. To preach in the Places beyond you, not to boast in another's Rule of Things that are ready.

17. But let him who boasts, do it in the Lord.

18. For not he that commends himself is approved, but whom the Lord commends.

CHAP. XI.

I WISH you would bear with me a little in Folly; but however do bear with me.

2. Since I am jealous of you with a godly Jealousy: for I have fitted you for one Husband, a chaste Virgin to present to Christ.

3. But I fear lest any how, as the Serpent deceived Eve in his Craftiness, so your Minds should be spoiled from Simplicity in Christ.

4. For indeed if one should come, and preach another Jesus whom we have not preached, or you should receive another Spirit that you have not received, or another Gospel which you have not got, you would bear it well.

5. For I count I was nothing deficient of the very chief Apostles;

6. And though even unskilful in Speech, yet not in Knowledge: but we have been thoroughly made manifest to you in all Things.

7. Have I committed a Fault in making my self low, that you might be high, since I preached the Gospel of God to you for nothing?

Ver. 5. and] the last Mills, following two or three, without any Gr. Copy, debases to be a Scribe's, Pr. 476.

Ver. 6. are got] having what? in the com. Transf.

Ib. when your &c.] when they were become good enough to support such Discipline.

Ver. 7. Christ's] the last some have not, and how apparently because the Sentence will do without it! yet Erasmus thought it added for Explanation, which would not have been wanting without it, and Paul might use it only for a more agreeable full Expression.

Ver. 8. also—even] The Gr. having four Conjunctions together.

Ib. us] Another of our Mills's Rejections, esteeming two or three Codes above all the rest, Pr. 476.

Ver. 10. one says] answerable to the Gr. and such a one in the next Verse. The Gen. Marg. has, a certain man which thus spake.

Ver. 12. do not understand] These Words Mills is for throwing out, after a few Books, and reading before them thus, which the same Gr. admits of with the Addition of [are,] but we our selves are measuring our selves in our selves, and comparing our selves with our selves; whereas it is not to be thought Paul would have left out are, if that had been his Meaning, besides the Frigidness of it; so it may be referred to that at the same Ver. of the last Chap. and likewise see Whitby's Exam.

Ver. 13. boast in Things] West. boastingly extend ourselves; but the Gr. has no extend ourselves, that I see; the Verb signifies simply to boast, and the Particle for Things is of the Neut. Gender, so not Personal, with a Preposition for in before it.

Ib. Rule] West. Province, though the Original is Canon, whence ours; which if it is province in Eng. may also in Gr. where it has no different Signification. The Rule might be of divine Direction, as follows, and as in Phil. iii. 16. Gal. vi. 16. where is the same Word.

Ver. 14. overstretch our selves] travel too wide elsewhere.

Ib. so as not to reach] Putting though to as, seems not only to spoil the Sense, but any Sense.

Ib. have] the Auxiliary that this very Word is rendered with Phil. iii. 16. and as the clear Sense requires; not are come, as if Paul was then at Corinth.

Ver. 3. so] put, according to Mills, by reason of the foregoing as, being not in about three Exemplars, Pr. 477. But that Reason might be as prevalent with Paul himself; and that it was so observe, and almost continually observe against those Expurgations of our great Critick, that we have about fifty or seventy ancient Manuscript Copies and Versions for what he objects to.

Ver. 4. would] for is not might opposite to common Sense, and in particular to Gal. i. 8. see accordingly Ver. 20. with Essay for a new Transf. Ch. x. and Wall's Crit. Not.

Ver. 6. unskilful] as I see with Doddr. since.

8. I have taken the Spoil of other Churches, receiving Wages for the Ministry to you.

9. Nay when I was present with you, and wanted, I was not burdensome to any; for my Want the Brethren who came from Macedonia supplied: and in every Thing I have kept my self not to be chargeable to you, and will keep.

10. The Truth of Christ is in me, that this Boasting shall not be stopped to me in the Regions of Achaia.

11. For what Reason? Because I do not love you? God knows.

12. But what I do, I will also do, that I may cut off the Occasion of such as would have Occasion; that they may be found in what they boast even as we are.

13. For such are false Apostles, deceitful Workers, transformed into the Apostles of Christ.

14. And no Wonder; for Satan himself is transformed into an Angel of Light.

15. It is therefore no great Thing; if his Ministers also are transformed as the Ministers of Righteousness; whose End will be according to their Works.

16. I say again, Let none think me to be foolish; yet if otherwise receive me even as foolish, that I too may boast a little.

17. What I speak, I do not speak according to the Lord, but as in Foolishness, in this Confidence of Boasting.

18. Since many boast according to the Flesh, I will boast too.

19. For as you are wise, you bear with the foolish gladly.

20. For you bear, if any one brings you into servitude, if any one devours, if any one takes, if any one is lifted up, if any one strikes you on the Face.

21. I speak concerning Dishonour, as because we were weak: but in whatever any one is bold (I speak in Foolishness) I am bold too.

22. Are they Hebrews? I am too; are they Israelites? I am too; are they the Offspring of Abraham? I am too;

23. Are they Ministers of Christ? (I speak madly) I am above; in Labours more abundantly, in Stripes exceedingly above, in Prisons more abundantly, in Deaths often.

24. From the Jews five times I received forty Stripes wanting one.

25. Thrice was I whipt, once stoned, thrice shipwrecked, a Night and Day I laboured in the Deep;

26. With Journeys often, with Dangers of Rivers, with Dangers of Robbers, with Dangers from my Countrymen, with Dangers from the Gentiles, with Dangers in the City, with Dangers in the Wilderness, with Dangers on the Sea, with Dangers among false Brethren;

27. In Labour and Fatigue, in Watchings often, in Hunger and Thirst, in Fastings often, in Cold and Nakedness:

28. Beside the Croud of Things I have abroad daily, the Care of all the Churches.

29. Who is weak, and I am not? Who is offended, and I not on fire?

30. If I must boast, I will boast of the Things of my Weakness:

31. God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who is blessed for ever, knows that I do not lye.

32. At Damascus the Lieutenant of King Aretas, willing to apprehend me, kept the City of the Damascenes.

33. And through a Window in a Basket was I let down by the Wall, and escaped his Hands.

CHAP. XII.

IT is not expedient now for me to boast; though I will come to Visions and Revelations of the Lord.

2. I knew a Man in Christ fourteen Years ago (but neither know whether in the Body;

Ver. 9. and wanted] the Syr. Transf. only without, yet Mills would have it made by Occasion of my Want; but how much likelier omitted for that!

Ib. and will keep] Mills supposes might come in from Occasion of the like will do, Ver. 12. and that on no other Foundation but the Want of it in the Ethiop. Vers. sufficiently whimsical! for what better can it be?

Ver. 10. stopped] Some have broke, for which Mills pleads, and indeed in such a Manner as not easily to be refuted, unless one had the MS. Copies of 700 Years old, where if the Word begins with o ours is confirmed.

Ver. 15. therefore] Mills says inserted for Connection; Pr. 477. but that also would make, whereby the half dozen mentioned might omit it, or as following one another, which is still to be minded.

Ver. 21. because we were weak] from whence their Dishonour. And as though is like the vulg. Lat. quasi; of which Beka finds fault, that tri (which signifies because) is mislaid:

Ver. 23. Prisons] Clement in his Epistle to the Corinthians, than which Nothing out of the Canon of Scripture is reckoned more authentick in the first Age of Christianity, being also computed to be written 22 or 23 Years before either of John's Epistles, viz. A. C. 69. mentions Paul's having born Bonds seven times.

Ver. 25. laboured] not have been, Gr.

Ver. 26. with] which I distinguish from in according to the Greek.

Ver. 28. Croud of Things] a Noun. West. that which riseth upon.

Ver. 1. though] a necessary Connection, yet omitted in the com. Eng.

Ver. 2. a Man] viz: himself.

or out of it ; God knows) such a one as was caught up to the third Heaven.

3. And I knew that such a Man (whether in the Body, or out of it I know not ; God knows)

4. Was caught up into Paradise, and heard unutterable Words, which it is not lawful for a Man to speak.

5. Of such a one I will boast, but of my self will not, excepting in my Weaknesses.

6. For though I was minded to boast, I should not be foolish, because I should say the Truth : but I forbear, lest any one should think of me above what he sees in me, or hears Something of me.

7. And that I might not be exalted on high by the Excellency of the Revelations, there was given to me a Goad in the Flesh, an Angel of Satan that he might beat me, that I might not be exalted on high

8. Upon this I thrice besought the Lord, that it might go away from me.

9. And he said to me, My Grace is sufficient for thee ; for my Power is accomplished in Weakness. I will therefore most gladly rather boast in my Weaknesses, that the Power of Christ may have a tabernacle in me.

10. Therefore I am pleased in Weaknesses, in Damages, in Necessities, in Persecutions, in Distresses for Christ : for when I am weak, then am I strong.

11. I am become foolish in boasting, you have compelled me : for I ought to have been commended by you, since I was Nothing deficient of the very chief Apostles, if I even am Nothing.

12. The Signs certainly of an Apostle were wrought among you, in all Patience, in Signs, and Wonders, and powerful Things.

13. For what is it wherein you were inferior to the rest of the Churches, except that I my self was not burdensome to you ? Forgive me this Fault.

14. Behold the third time I am ready to come to you, and will not be burdensome to you : for I do not seek yours, but you ; for Children should not treasure up for Parents, but Parents for Children.

15. Nay I will most gladly spend, and be spent for your Souls ; if even the more abundantly I love you, the less I am loved.

16. Let it be that I did not burden you, yet being crafty, I took you with Deceit.

17. Did I get gain of you, by any one of those whom I sent to you ?

18. I belought Titus, and sent a Brother together ; did Titus at all get any gain of you ? Did we not walk in the same Spirit ? not in the same Steps ?

19. Again do ye think that we are making excuse to you ? Before God, we speak in Christ ; but all Things, Beloved, for your Edification.

20. For I fear, lest when I come, I should any how find you not what I would, and should be found by you what you would not ; lest any how there should be Contentions, Jealousies, Wraths, Quarrels, Disparagings, Whisperings, Puffings up, Tumults ;

21. Lest my God should make me low towards you, when I come again, and I should bewail many who sinned before, and have not repented for the Uncleaness, Whoredom, and Wantonness which they committed.

Ib. fourteen Years] Nothing for above, says Wall ; and he refers that Time to Acts xiii. 2.

Ver. 4. caught] Whitby shews this was another Rapture, Ver. 1, 7.

Ver. 5. Of such a one] of being such a one.

Ver. 7. that I might not be exalted on high] the last Zigerus supposes crept in from a marginal Note, no Wonder since the Vulg. is without it, as also five or six Copies, &c. but Mills roundly affirms it has been repeated (viz. taken) from the upper Part of the Verse ; when its being left out because sic is there, may be ten or twenty-fold more likely, if the Comparison could be stated.

Ib. Excellency] for two were not abundance ; and it is the same Word that is so translated Ch. iv. 7. as likewise excellentia here by Erasin. and Beza, as it is præstantiam, excellent, by Cass.

Ib. a Goad in the Flesh] Whitby and Wall count it some bodily Infirmity, the same as at Gal. iv. 13, 14. which made him despicable.

Ver. 9. my Power] my is not in some, with the Favour of Mills, Prol. 477. though so needful, that it is Violence to think the Apostle did not put it.

Ib. rather] absconded from a few, and sent by Mills to the Marg. Pr. 477. but how can it be imagined this would have been added ?

Ib. my Weaknesses] How fond was Mills of a new Reading, Pr. 371. to think from Irenæus only, that this [my] crept in from Ver. 5. why not much rather left out by Irenæus, than added into all Copies and Translations ?

Ib. have a tabernacle] or tabernacle, if that would be allowed for an Eng. Verb. ; not rest as in the vulg. Transf.

Ver. 10. Damages] the same Word as in Acts xxviii. 10, 21. where only it occurs besides.

Ver. 14. the third time] Having been once there, Acts xviii. and intending to come again before now, 1 Cor. xvi. 5. Ch. i. 15, 16. so Whitby and Wall.

Ver. 19. in Christ] Mills asserts is of another Place, namely Ch. ii. 17. Pr. 477. I presume of this too, notwithstanding the Lat. only of two Copies and Ambr.

Ib. all Things] not we do, but speak.

Ver. 21. my] which we need not scruple to be the Apostle's, although Mills says Somebody put it of his own, Pr. 477. on such Authority as commonly elsewhere.

Ib. should] will being very unapt to less, as likewise the that which our Translators have added.

C H A P. XIII.

THIS third time I am coming to you :
in the Mouth of two or three Witnesses every Word will stand.

2. I said before, and do foretel as if present the second time, but being absent now write to those who sinned before, and to all the rest, that if I should come again, I shall not spare.

3. Since you seek for a Proof of Christ speaking in me, who to you is not weak, but powerful in you ;

4. (For even though he was crucified through Weakness, yet he lives through the Power of God : for we also are weak in him, yet shall live with him through the Power of God towards you)

5. Try your selves, whether you are in the Faith ; prove your selves : do ye not know your own selves, that Jesus Christ is in you, unless that you are Reprobates.

6. But I hope that you will know, that we are not Reprobates.

7. I further pray to God you may not do any Evil ; not that we may appear approved, but that you may do Good, though we are as Reprobates.

8. For we can do not what is against the Truth, but for the Truth.

9. For we rejoice, when we are weak, and you are strong ; and this also we pray for, your fitting up.

10. For this reason I write these Things as I am absent, that when I am present I may not use you sharply, according to the Authority which God has given me for building up, and not for overthrowing.

11. Further, Brethren, I bid you fare-wel, be compleated, be comforted, be of the same mind, be at peace ; and the God of Love and Peace will be with you.

12. Salute one another with a holy Kiss.

13. All the Saints salute you.

14. The Grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, the Love of God, and the Communion of the Holy Spirit be with you all : so let it be.

The second to the Corinthians was written from Philippi of Macedonia, sent by Titus and Luke.

Ver. 1. third] as at Chap. xii. 14.

Ver. 2. write] This, Mills, writes, has been inserted to perfect the Sentence, Pr. 1205. a few not having it ; whereas the contrary is more probable.

Ver. 3. Since] Here is to be considered, whether this belongs to the foregoing or following. Since the Corinthians sought for a Proof that Christ spoke in Paul, why should Paul not spare them ? Ought they not to have sought for such a Proof of his Ministry, according to Ch.
iv. 2. & v. 11. & vi. 4, 6. 1 Cor. xiv. 24, 25, 29. & ii.
4, 5, 13. Gal. i. 16. & ii. 8. 1 Thes. i. 5. Mat. x. 20 ?
Besides how apparent is it, that his not sparing was for their sinning mentioned before ! On the other hand does not this Word and Verse connect well with Ver. 5. and Ver. 4. come properly between, as cohering with the latter Part of this ? And are not such long Periods, and Digressions, the very Style of our Apostle, especially to the Corinthians and Romans ? This Gr. Conjunction may also be seen thus in Ch. xi. 18. 1 Cor. xiv. 12. Heb. iv.
6. & vi. 13. and compound AAs xiii. 46. & xv. 24.
1 Cor. i. 21. & xv. 21. Luke i. 1. Now the principal Part of the Argument may be thus express'd, Since you seem to doubt of Christ being spiritually in me, speaking by me to you ; try your own Experience, whether ye do not believe he has spoken in your Consciences, so is in your selves, unless you are Reprobates ; and consequently in us, as you may be satisfied we are not such.

Ib. ubi se] which Alteration of the com. Transf. Wall thought material enough for a Note.

Ver. 4. though] A few are without, whereupon Mills says it was inserted for Coherence, Pr. 1290. but that is on the Supposition the Apostle did not put it, whereas the Coherence with the foregoing Words is too necessary, as well as this Reading too abundant, to be denied to him.

Ib. towards you] One Copy, and the Lat. of two more, with an Author, not having this, Mills does not stick to affirm it has been added from Ver. 3. Pr. 477. sufficiently improbable !

Ver. 8. what] If it be asked from the com. Eng. What could they do for the Truth ? Would not the Answer there be nothing ?

Ver. 11. be comforted] Mills thinking he exhorted unworthy of his dear Vulg. Interpreter, adjudges it to have crept from the Marg. Pr. 557.

NOTES upon the Epistle of PAUL to the GALATIANS.

CHAP. I.

PAUL, an Apostle, not from Men, nor by Man, but by Jesus Christ, and God the Father, who raised him up from the Dead;

2. And all the Brethren who are with me, to the Churches of Galatia.

3. Grace be to you, and Peace from God the Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ;

4. Who gave himself for our Sins, that he might deliver us from the present wicked World, according to the Will of God and our Father:

5. To whom be Glory for ever and ever: so let it be.

6. I wonder that you are so quickly carried away, from him who called you by the Grace of Christ, to another Gospel.

7. Which is not another, otherwise than there are some that trouble you, and would turn aside the Gospel of Christ.

8. Whereas though even we, or an Angel from Heaven, should preach to you, beside what we have done, let him be cursed.

9. As we said before, I also speak now again, If any one shall preach to you, beside what you have received, let him be cursed.

10. For do I now persuade Men, or God? Or do I seek to please Men? For if I should yet please Men, I should not be the Servant of Christ.

11. But I let you know, Brethren, that the Gospel preached by me is not according to Man.

12. For I neither received it from Man, nor was taught; but by the Revelation of Jesus Christ.

13. For you have heard of my Conversation once in Judaism, that I exceedingly persecuted the Church of God, and wasted it;

14. As also proceeded in Judaism above many Equals among my Race, being more abundantly zealous in the Traditions of my Fathers.

15. But when God was pleased, who separated me from my Mother's Womb, and called by his Grace,

16. To reveal his Son in me, that I might preach him among the Gentiles; presently, having no conference with Flesh and Blood,

17. Nor going up to Jerusalem to those who were Apostles before me, I went into Arabia, and returned again to Damascus.

18. Next I three Years after went up to Jerusalem, to be acquainted with Peter, and remained with him fifteen Days.

19. But I saw no other of the Apostles, excepting James the Brother of the Lord.

Ver. 6. him] God, as I have taken it with Whitby, who directs to the like elsewhere, preferably to Paul himself, as Wall interprets it, I suppose, from Hammond; but at the same in Ch. v. 8. Ham. boggles with [or,] and Wall's uncommon Confidence carrying him through, weakens his Interpretation of this by making both alike, since it is unaccountable and ridiculous for the him there to be Paul.

Ib. by] for which consult Doddr. and see the same Rom. v. 15. Col. iii. 16. 2 Thes. ii. 16. 2 Tim. ii. 1. and in the com. Transf. 2 Cor. i. 12. so with the Prep. understood. Rom. iii. 24. & xi. 6. 1 Cor. x. 30. & xv. 10. Eph. ii. 5, 8. Tit. iii. 7. Heb. ii. 9. & xiii. 9.

Ib. of Christ] four or five having not, Mills holds with, Pr. 478. while others have of Jesus Christ, and others of God; not all made from Nothing, I suppose. And the Syr. which he cites as without it, is turned away from Christ, who called you by his Grace.

Ver. 7. otherwise than] and not but, as it belongs to the foregoing; by which, disjoined from this, our Transfers seem to mean, there could be no other Gospel, and yet add any other gospel twice in the two next Verses, even not in Italick.

Ver. 9. preach to you, beside] things unnecessary to be necessary, Whitby's Annot.

Ver. 10. persuade] West. satisfy; though foreign both to good Sense, and the Original.

Ib. Or do I seek to please Men?] omitted in the Ethiop. being perhaps a Line missed, or thought redundant by the Translator; but by Mills in his fond Fashion added.

Ver. 13. exceedingly] beyond being from a wrong Copy.

Ver. 15. God] Mills fetches from his Castle in the Air, the Margin, because a few are without it, Pr. 478. who might think to be quaint, though in plain History, was elegant.

Ver. 16. in me] as Ch. iv. 19.

Ver. 16, 17. presently—I went] For I did not presently converse with Flesh and Blood would be absurd, and taking presently or immediately to belong to that be contrary to Acts ix. 19. and that he did not presently go up to Jerusalem Ver. 18. tells; yet Doddr. argues against Wells and Locke, that Paul did not go into Arabia till after he preached, and preached without consulting any Man, contrary to the Order related in Acts ix. 19, 20. which appears to have been, as clear of such Obstructions, when Paul returned to Damascus, as mentioned here; and so that he was taught the Gospel which he was to preach by Revelation, in his Retirement at Arabia, according to Wells, as here to Ver. 11, 12, 15, 16.

Ver. 19. Brother] As it is not to be thought the Mother of Jesus had any other Husband besides Joseph, see also on John xix. 27. and as the Father of this James was Alphæus, Mat. x. 3. Acts i. 13. he could not be the Brother of the Lord in the strict Sense; besides they were ma-

20. Now

20. Now in what Things I write to you, behold before God I do not lye.

21. I next went into the Regions of Syria and Cilicia;

22. And was unknown by Face, to the Churches of Judea that were in Christ:

23. They having only heard, He who persecuted us once, now preaches the Faith which once he wasted;

24. And they glorified God for me.

C H A P. II.

NEXT I fourteen Years after went up again to Jerusalem with Barnabas, and took also Titus together.

2. Moreover I went up according to Revelation, and communicated to them the Gospel which I preach among the Gentiles; but privately to those who were in repute, lest any how I should run or should have run in vain;

3. (Yet Titus who was with me, being a Grecian, was not compelled to be circumcised)

4. And that by reason of false Brethren brought in, who entered in to spy our Freedom which we have in Christ Jesus, that they might bring us into servitude.

5. To whom we did not give way by Subjection for an Hour, that the Truth of the Gospel might continue with you.

6. Nay of those who seemed to be somewhat (what they were once is no difference to me; God does not accept the Person of Man) though they were in repute, their discouraging was Nothing to me.

7. But on the contrary when they saw, that the Gospel of Uncircumcision was committed in trust to me, as that of Circumcision to Peter;

8. (For he who wrought in Peter for the Apostleship of Circumcision, wrought also in me for the Gentiles)

9. And as they knew the Grace that was given me, James, Cephas and John, who seemed to be Pillars, gave to me and Barnabas the right Hands of Fellowship, that we might be for the Gentiles, and they for the Circumcision;

10. Only would have us remember the Poor, the very same which I was also careful to do.

11. But when Peter was come to Antioch, I resisted him to the Face, because he was to be condemned.

12. For before some came from James, he eat along with the Gentiles; but when they were come, he withdrew, and separated himself, fearing those of the Circumcision.

13. And the rest of the Jews also dissembled with him, so that Barnabas too was taken away by their Dissembling.

14. Nevertheless when I saw that they did not walk rightly to the Truth of the Gospel, I said to Peter before them all, If thou who art a Jew, livest in the Gentile Manner, and not in the Manner of the Jews, why dost thou compel the Gentiles to do in the Jewish Manner?

nifestly first Cousins, their Mothers being Sisters, John xix. 25. 27. and their Fathers Brothers, as on Luke xxiv. 18. of which look too at Mat. xiii. 55. and so in a Note on Eusebius Ecclesiast. Hist. B. ii. Ch. 1. Camb. Edit. 1683.

Ver. 23. He] The Greeks introducing both oblique and direct Sentences with ἐν, we only the former with that, must begin here without it, or be absurd; for that is inconsistent with us and preacheth.

Ib. which once he wasted] The Ethiop. Translator, as if he was designedly brief, leaves out this; yet imagined by Mills, on that Authority alone, to be brought hither from Ver. 13. Pr. 1216.

Ib. wasted] as Ver. 13. nor did Paul destroy the Faith.

Ver. 1. fourteen Years after] after his Conversion, Ch. i. 16. according to Hammond, Pearson, &c. which is thought righter than Usher's after the three Years Ch. i. 18.

Ib. again] not in the Lat. of one Copy, nor quoted by two Writers; what a Matter there is! yet enough with Mills to disallow it.

Ver. 2. should have] For is either lest I had, or should have proper?

Ver. 3. not] neither being improper.

Ver. 4. And that] which must belong to the End of the 2d Ver. as Ham. expounds; and not to the last, as pointed in our Bible, and paraphrased by Whitby.

Ib. entered] as Rom. v. 20. the two only Places of this Verb.

Ver. 5. not] This has been left out, and as so contended for, even by Mills; but the Original Copies almost (or it seems without almost) all have it, and with the same concur the four following Verses, and especially Ver. 14. see also Wetsten's Note, and Beza of it, with Whitby's Examen.

Ver. 6. once] or sometime, as the Gr. Word, which there is for this in particular, signifies; and Paul might mean some false Brethren, Ver. 4.

Ib. though] for being improper, which Ham. would throw on Paul, when the Gr. Word also means this.

Ib. they were in repute] left out of the Syr. and one supposed Copy, yet said by Mills to have crept from Ver. 2. Pr. 1254.

Ver. 7. committed in trust] not merely committed, for that the Gr. does not signify.

Ver. 9. And as they knew] Thus it stands in the Original; so that this was not only James, Cephas and John, but the others also who knew this, as well as saw that in Ver. 7.

Ver. 10. the Poor] of the Circumcision or Jews, consonant to Rom. xv. 26. and with which this is easily to be accounted for.

Ver. 11. Peter] Some have it Cephas, as also at Ver. 14. but fewer there, which Mills holds for, especially as supported by Pearson, because there was anciently a Controversy whether this was an Apostle; but that might arise from the Vulg. which has Cephas, and might be put here, as it is Ver. 9. to screen Peter, and, as Whitby says, obviate the Blasphemies of Porphyry.

Ver. 14. Peter] with Wetst. Cephas, as a few Copies have.

Ib. do in the Jewish manner] Wetst. juda'ze.

15. As

15. As we Jews by Nature, and not Sinners of the Gentiles,

16. Knew that a Man is not justified by the Works of the Law, except through the Faith of Jesus Christ; even we believed in Christ Jesus, that we might be justified by the Faith of Christ, and not by the Works of the Law; because no Flesh will be justified by those Works.

17. But if when we seek to be justified in Christ, we our selves however are found Sinners, is Christ therefore the Minister of Sin? Far be it.

18. For if I build again those Things which I destroyed, I make my self a Transgressor.

19. For I through the Law became dead to the Law, that I might live to God.

20. I am crucified with Christ, yet live; though no more I, but Christ lives in me: and what I now live in the Flesh, I live in the Faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and delivered up himself for me.

21. I do not abolish the Grace of God: for if Righteousness is by the Law, then Christ died for nothing.

C H A P. III.

○ UNWISE Galatians, who has bewitched you not to believe the Truth, before whose Eyes Jesus Christ was written of before, who has been crucified in you?

2. This only I would learn of you, Did you receive the Spirit by the Works of the Law, or by the Hearing of the Faith?

3. Are you so unwise? When you began with the Spirit, are you now accomplished with the Flesh?

4. Have you suffered so many Things in vain? if yet too in vain.

5. He therefore who furnishes you with the Spirit, and works powerful Things among you, is it through the Works of the Law, or through Hearing in Faith?

6. As Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned to him for Righteousness.

7. Know then, that those who are of Faith, are the Sons of Abraham.

8. And the Scripture foreseeing that God would justify the Gentiles by Faith, preached before to Abraham, Through thee shall all Nations be blessed.

9. So that they who are of Faith, are blessed with faithful Abraham.

10. For whoever are of the Works of the Law are under the Curse; since it is written, Every one is cursed who does not continue in all the Things written in the Book of the Law, by doing them.

11. But that Nobody is justified by the Law with God is evident, because The Righteous shall live by Faith.

Ver. 16. When Whitby in his Pref. to this Epist. laid down as certain Articles, that the true Christian Faith in Scripture, is only a cordial and firm belief that Jesus is the Christ, the Lord, the true Messiah, &c. and that Justification, which is Absolution of past Sins, with the necessary and immediate Consequence of that, a being reconciled to God, and received into favour with him, is by St. Paul ascribed to Faith alone, in Opposition to Works of Righteousness, done either by the Jew or Gentile; he seems not to have been aware of the Consequence, that the Christian World continuing to believe so, would continue pardoned and being in the divine Favour, and who when dying believe so especially; or else being aware of some wrong Consequence, he writes differently towards the End, and concludes that the difference between Men of Judgment, as to saving Faith, is more in words than sense: for he says, When Faith is hearty and constant, it will produce sincere Obedience, and Holiness will follow in the Life; and that dead Faith does not deserve the Name of Faith: Nay in his Pref. to 1 John he makes answer to the Author of the Reasonableness of Christianity, for having asserted the like as himself had done in this Pref.

1b. except] the proper Meaning of the Gr. which but is not; though Gell allows it, but not here, Essay, p. 607.

1b. Christ Jesus] here varied thus in the Gr.

Ver. 19. became dead] The 2d Aorist; and if the pres. Tense, should have may, not might, after it.

1b. to the Law] This forsooth Wall supposes some officious scribe did for explication write in the margin, and another scribe put into the text, Crit. Not. though that Omission in the Text is no where known, nor I need not say Addition in the Margin, the latter being as such Criticks Fairy Ground whither Words innumerable have come, and again disappeared, like the fabled Fairies; and what Figure would a Critick of this Kind make after Mills, who rejected many Things thus on the Authority of a single Writer against about fifty or seventy, if he should not exceed him?

Ver. 20. more] not yet a Conjunction as in the com. Transf.

Ver. 21. died] for surely Christ was not then dead.

Ver. 1. not to believe the Truth] according to Mills is from Ch. v. 7. being not with some; but there is this to oppose to it, that it is with many.

1b. believe] which the Gr. Word signifies rather than obey, as Beza confesses; and is seemingly more suitable to the Matter, if compared with Ver. 2, 5, 6, 7, &c. Ch. ii. 17, 20. and thus Eras. turns it.

1b. written before] for so the Original Word signifies, according as it is translated, Rom. xv. 4. Eph. iii. 3. It may denote they were convinced by the Scripture, as in Acts xvii. 2, 3. & xviii. 28.

1b. who has been crucified] or be crucified, or crucified in you joined to Jesus Christ.

1b. crucified] now has been crucified in you, according to Heb. vi. 6. & x. 29. Rev. xi. 8. Jam. v. 6. See likewise Gell's Essay, p. 687. True it is that both Ilam. and Whit. scruple in or among you, as not in the Alex. MS. of the King's Library, to which Mills reckons three more, and four Versions, with Gratius, for omitting it as superfluous; but all may be accounted for one Way, that they did not understand it.

Ver. 3. unwise] West. thoughtless.

Ver. 5. hearing in Faith] according to Mat. ix. 28. 29. & xiii. 58. Mark ix. 23. & x. 52. John xi. 40. Acts xiv. 9.

12. Whereas

12. Whereas the Law is not of Faith; but, The Man who does these Things shall live by them.

13. Christ has redeemed us from the Curse of the Law, as he was made a Curse for us; since it is written, Every one is cursed who hangs on a Tree:

14. That the Blessing of Abraham might be for the Gentiles in Christ Jesus, that we might receive the Promise of the Spirit by Faith.

15. Brethren, I speak according to Man; notwithstanding a Covenant is of Man, being established, Nobody abolishes or adds more.

16. Now to Abraham were the Promises said to be, and to his Offspring: he does not say, And to Offsprings, as if for many; but as if for one, And to thy Offspring, which is Christ.

17. This I say further, The Covenant established before by God in Christ, the Law made four hundred and thirty Years after does not repeal, to make the Promises void.

18. For if the Inheritance be of the Law, it is no more of Promise; whereas God gave it to Abraham by Promise.

19. What then was the Law for? It was added because of Transgression, until the Offspring came, to which the Promise was made; being disposed by Angels in the Hand of a Mediator.

20. And a Mediator is not of one, but God is one.

21. Is the Law then against the Promises of God? Far be it: for if there had been a Law given able to make alive, truly Righteousness would have been by the Law.

22. But the Scripture has shut up all under Sin, that the Promise by the Faith of Jesus Christ might be given to those who believe.

23. And before Faith came, we were kept under the Law, shut up for the Faith to be afterwards revealed.

24. So that the Law was made our Schoolmaster for Christ, that we might be justified by Faith.

25. But Faith being come, we are no more under a Schoolmaster.

26. For you are all the Sons of God through Faith in Christ Jesus.

27. For whoever of you have been baptized into Christ, have put him on.

28. There is neither Jew nor Grecian, there is neither Servant nor free Man, there is neither Male nor Female: for all of you are the same in Christ Jesus.

29. And if Christ's, then are you the Offspring of Abraham, and Heirs according to the Promise.

CHAP. IV.

I SAY further, as long Time as the Heir is a little Child, he is nothing different from a Servant, when he is Lord of all;

2. But is under Tutors and Stewards, till the Appointment before of the Father:

3. So also we when we were little Children, were in Servitude under the Elements of the World;

4. But when the Fulness of Time was come, God sent forth his Son made of a Woman, made under the Law;

5. That he might redeem those under the Law, that we might receive the Adoption.

6. And because you are Sons, God has sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your Hearts, crying, Abba, Father.

7. So that thou art no more a Servant, but a Son; and if a Son, an Heir of God also through Christ.

8. But then indeed as you did not know God, you served them that by Nature are not gods.

9. Whereas now when you have known God, and have been more known by him, how do ye return again to weak and poor Elements, which you would serve over again?

Ver. 12. The Man] some not having, Mills believed was put in from the Verf. of the Sept. Lev. xviii. 5. but why not by Paul himself, as well as at Rom. x. 5?

Ver. 14. in Christ Jesus] omitted by Chrysostome in his Commentary, from whence Mills takes occasion to say, that indeed, if the Copies did not forbid, he should think it put in from Ver. 16. though not there. A Proof of his Prejudice against the com. Reading, it being on such slight Grounds; if not rather of his Vanity, to make his Various Readings more important.

Ver. 16. said] which, and not made, the Gr. Verb signifies.

Ver. 17. in Christ] This also Mills refuses to the primary Text, though but three Copies &c. are without it, and though so necessary. If there was no Cause for omitting it, as he says, it might be done by Oversight; yet the Occasion might be, its not being in Genesis, and for the Mention of Christ just before.

VOL. II.

Ver 19. added] with some put, by cutting off a Piece of the Gr. Word, at which Mills takes occasion to suppose it was joined on.

Ib. disposed] What ordained by angels? Surely not.

Ver. 21. of God] which came in the Place of a Comment Mills reports, Pr. 479. but is it possible for any Person to think this wanted a Comment without it, and being along with Ver. 18? much less for the whole Church. Nor does he produce one Gr. Copy without it, yet one with of Christ.

Ver. 22. shut up] of which Verb these Words in Ver. 23. are a Participle.

Ver. 8. by Nature] as being Metal, Stone, &c. which one would think the great Annotators might have easily explained, and Walt better than by in reality.

Ver. 9. again to weak] to such Elements in Judaism as were in Gentilism, not to the as if the same.

10. You observe Days, Months, Times and Years.

11. I am afraid of you, lest any how I should have laboured towards you in vain.

12. Be as I am, I intreat you, since I am as you were, Brethren: you have done me no injury.

13. Nay you know that through Weakness of the Flesh I preached to you before.

14. And my Temptation in my Flesh you did not despise, nor were disgusted at; but received me as an Angel of God, as Christ Jesus.

15. What then was your Blessedness? For I testify to you, that if possible, you would have pulled out your Eyes, and have given them to me.

16. So that am I become your Enemy, by speaking truly to you?

17. They are zealous for you not well; but they would shut you out, that you may be zealous for them.

18. It is well however to be zealous in Good, and not only at my being present with you.

19. My little Children, whom I am bringing forth again, until Christ is formed in you;

20. And would be present with you now, and change my Voice, because I doubt of you;

21. Tell me, you that would be under the Law, do not you hear the Law?

22. For it is written, that Abraham had two Sons, one of a Servant-maid, and one of a free Woman.

23. But he indeed of the Servant-maid was born according to the Flesh, whereas he of the free Woman by Promise.

24. Which very Things are figurative: for these are the two Covenants, one indeed from the Mountain of Sina, that begets into Servitude, which is Agar.

25. For Agar being Sina a Mountain in Arabia, answers to Jerusalem now, and is in Servitude with her Children.

26. Whereas Jerusalem above is free, which is the Mother of us all.

27. For it is written, Rejoice, O barren who dost not bear; break out and shout, thou that dost not bring forth: because the Children of the desolate shall be many more than of her who has a Husband.

28. Now we, Brethren, after the Manner of Isaac, are the Children of Promise.

29. But even as he then that was born according to the Flesh, persecuted him who was according to the Spirit, so also now.

30. Yet what says the Scripture? Drive out the Maid-servant and her Son: for the Maid's Son shall not inherit with the Son of the free Woman.

31. Then, Brethren, we are not Children of the Servant-maid, but of the free Woman.

CH A P. V.

IN the Freedom therefore with which Christ has made us free stand fast, and be not held again in the Yoke of Servitude.

2. Lo I Paul tell you, that if you are circumcised, Christ will profit you Nothing.

3. For I testify again to every Man who is circumcised, that he is a Debtor to perform the whole Law.

4. You are abolished from belonging to Christ, who are justified by the Law; you are fallen from Grace.

5. For we by the Spirit through Faith, wait for the Hope of Righteousness.

Ver. 12. am as you] in Affection and Regard, suitable to the latter Part of the Ver.

Ib. were] so West. for how can are be consistent?

Ver. 13. before] as properly signified, and translated John vi. 62. & vii. 51. & ix. 8. 2 Cor. i. 15. 1 Tim. i. 13.

Ver. 14. Temptation] probably the same as Good 2 Cor. xii. 7. being both in the Flesh.

Ver. 15. What] Where is a different Reading of some, but not the established; as may be seen by Mills's and Kuster's Editions in Folio, with the various Readings, and by that printed at Amsterdam by Wetsten, besides Beza's, &c.

Ib. was] the preterimp. Tense Gr. see Wall's Crit. Note.

Ib. your] for which our Transf. has you spoke of.

Ver. 17. shut you out] a libertate Evangelica, from the Gospel Liberty, Mills. Yet Beza says, Though in all the Copies it is written you, the Sentence requires we should read us; and Mills gives an imperfect Account of some who have it so; but Wetsten's curious Edition afterwards (by Mistake) reckons only Curcellæus to have you.

Ver. 19. in you] as the Child is in the Womb, Paraph. of Whitby.

Ver. 24. very] μά.

Ib. figurative] a Participle, and as Beza, &c. remark, an Allegory being fictitious; but to prevent any Objection from the Gr. Word, it might be rendered, in the manner of an Allegory.

Ib. Sina] not Sinai in the Greek.

Ver. 26. all] several are without, and so Mills esteems it an Insertion, Net. and Pr. 682. but the likeliest Thing may be, that it was left out by thinking the latter Jerusalem was not the Mother of them all, over-scrupulously.

Ver. 1. In the Freedom &c.] Mills supposed this should be joined to the foregoing, and the Period be here at free, with therefore removed to after stand fast, according to five or six Copies, the Vulg. Eslins, &c. but read Grat. and Whit.

Ver. 2. if] And Ignatius, If we live according to the Jewish Law till now, we confess not to have received Grace, Epist. to the Magnesians, Sect. 8.

Ver. 3. again] Somebody that thought this said of the Words, instead of the Matter, and so a Mistake perhaps of a Transcriber, might therefore leave it out, as is done by a few; whereas Mills from thence would have it put in by some Student. See the like Answer by Whitby, as I have since this was written.

Ver. 4. abolished from Christ] as it is in the literal Lat. and the Eng. Gen. Vers. but as this is not quite proper Expression, neither conveys a clear Idea; belonging to, which the Gr. may signify, well supplies it. Next to this

6. For

6. For in Christ Jesus neither Circumcision is of any Force, nor Uncircumcision; but Faith that works by Love.

7. You did run well; who hindered you not to be persuaded of the Truth?

8. The Persuasion is not from him who called you.

9. A little Leaven leavens the whole Lump.

10. I am persuaded of you in the Lord, that you will be of no other Mind; and he who troubles you shall bear Judgment, whosoever he is.

11. And if I, Brethren, yet preach Circumcision, why am I yet persecuted? Then the Offence of the Cross is abolished.

12. I even wish they were cut off who disturb you.

13. For you have been called to Freedom, Brethren; only let not the Freedom be for an Occasion to the Flesh, but by Love serve one another.

14. For all the Law is fulfilled in one Saying, in Thou shalt love thy Neighbour as thy self.

15. Whereas if you bite and devour one another, see that you be not consumed one by another.

16. But I say, Walk in the Spirit, and you will not accomplish the Desires of the Flesh.

17. For the Flesh does desire against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the Flesh; these opposing one another, that you may not do those Things which you would.

18. But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under the Law.

19. Now the Works of the Flesh are manifest, which are Adultery, Whoredom, Unclean-ness, Wantonness,

20. Idolatry, Witchcraft, Enmities, Contentions, Jealousies, Wraths, Quarrels, Diffensions, Heresies,

21. Envyings, Murders, Drunkenness, Revelling, and the like to these; of which I foretel you, as I have also said before, that they who do such Things will not inherit the Kingdom of God.

22. But the Fruit of the Spirit is, Love, Joy, Peace, Forbearance, Kindness, Goodness, Faith,

23. Meekness, Temperance: against such the Law is not.

24. And those who are Christ's, have crucified the Flesh, with the Affections and Lusts.

25. If we live in the Spirit, let us also go on in the Spirit.

26. Let us not become vain-glorious, provoking one the other, envying one another.

C H A P. VI.

BRETHREN, if a Man also has been taken before in some Offence, you spiritual ones reform such a Person in the Spirit of Meekness, considering thy self, lest thou too shouldest be tried.

2. Bear the Burdens one of another, and so fulfil the Law of Christ.

3. For if any one thinks he is Something, when he is Nothing, he cheats himself.

4. But let each prove his own Work, and he will then have Glorifying in himself alone, and not in another.

5. For each will bear his own Load.

6. However let him that is instructed in the Word, impart to him who instructs of all good Things.

may be that of dear Wm. Tyndal, ye are gone quite from Christ. But the Paraphrase of several others is scarce to be called Translation, especially as not arising from the Original Words.

Ver. 6. Christ Jesus] the Gr. as in Ch. vi. 15. Eph. iii. 1.

Ver. 7. be persuaded of] belonging to the Noun in the next Ver. as well as the proper Signification of the Verb.

Ver. 9. leavens] See 1 Cor. v. 6.

Ver. 12. cut off] from the Society.

Ver. 14. in one Saying] Two or three Copies have in you before it, the Heretick Marcion had only that; from whence so great a Critick (and one might think a great Judge) of the various Readings as Mills infers, that in you was the true Reading of the Apostle, and this added from Rom. xiii. 9. Prolog. N. 296. ad Lect. Var. Well might Whitby, though seventy Years old, not forbear to cry out against some Things in that Performance! How much more probable is it, that Paul wrote like himself in Rom. and here, and that one Saying was altered to you by Marcion, as suitable to the Context both before and after, then in one Saying restored afterwards to his Copy from the true Original.

Ver. 16. Walk in the Spirit] according to the Motions of the Holy Spirit, Rem. viii. 1, 2, 9, 12, 13, 14. Whitby's Paraph. and in his Appendix to 2 Cor. vi. 'As in natural and moral Actions, we cannot be said to live or walk, without an inward Principle of Life and Motion, or to be led or guided in those Actions, but by the Light of Reason; so neither can we properly be said to live, and ' walk in the Spirit, or to be guided by him, if he imparts

' no inward Light to guide us in the Ways of Piety, no
' inward Motions to excite us to walk in them, no in' ward Strength or vital Efficacy for the Performance of ' them.'

Ver. 17. may not] Concerning this see Gell's Amendment, particularly p. 775, 776, 781.

Ver. 19, 21. Adultery—Murders] Several Copies are without these two, as if they were so bad that there was no Need of naming them, and as being so expressly forbid in the Commandments; yet I think the Apostle himself put them, if only for this Reason, that Murders does not stand with those more akin to it in the 20th Ver. as I fancy an Interpolator would have placed it.

Ver. 21. also] wanting with a few, and then Mills relates it should, Pr. 480.

Ver. 22. Kindness] so rendered 2 Cor. vi. 6. Tit. iii. 4. Eph. ii. 7. Col. iii. 12.

Ver. 23. Temperance] The Vulg. and a few add Chastity, not genuine even in Mills's Opinion.

Ver. 2. fulfil] This Verb in the Gr. being imperative in the 1st Aorist, and not as the foregoing in the present Tense, by the Difference only of a Vowel, Mills asserts that other Reading of a few is genuine, Pr. 645. but what Sense is there in his bringing Translations for it, whose Language has no Aorist? And as it is unlikely to be altered from the pres. Tense, and prevail (while the contrary is very likely) the com. Reading may seem to be Paul's.

7. Do not mistake ; God is not to be mocked : for what a Man sows, that he will also reap.

8. Since he that sows to his Flesh, will of the Flesh reap Corruption ; and he that sows to the Spirit, will of the Spirit reap everlasting Life.

9. And in doing well let us not be slothful : for if we are not faint, we shall reap in the Season for it.

10. Therefore indeed as we have Time, let us do good to all, but especially to those of the Family of Faith.

11. You see how large a Letter I have written to you with my own Hand.

12. Whoever would appear well in the Flesh, these compel you to be circumcised, only that they may not be persecuted for the Cross of Christ.

13. For those circumcised do not keep the Law themselves ; but would have you circumcised, that they may boast in your Flesh.

14. But far be it from me to boast, excepting in the Cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the World is crucified to me, and I to the World.

15. For in Christ Jesus neither Circumcision is of any Force, nor Uncircumcision ; but a new Creature.

16. And whoever go on by this Rule, Peace be on them, with Mercy, and on the Israel of God.

17. Henceforth let none give me Trouble ; for I bear in my Body the Marks of the Lord Jesus.

18. The Grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your Spirit, Brethren : so let it be.

It was written to the Galatians from Rome.

Ver. 14. to boast] Ptolemy, cited at Mat. xv. 5. subjoins, in any Thing ; viz. in a free Manner of quoting, not that there was such a Copy.

Ver. 15. in Christ Jesus] Mills on slight Authority rejecting these Words, imagines them to have crept from Ch. v. 6. but Paul is plainly making a Repetition.

Sub. Rome] They could not have pitched, says Hall, on a more unlikely Place, a Place where St. Paul had never been, Usher, Pearson, &c. conclude it written from Ephesus, Cr. Not. Mills from Troas, at the Time mentioned in Acts. xx. 6. at least there and then about ; a little after the Epistle to the Romans, A. C. 58.

NOTES upon the Epistle of PAUL to the EPHESIANS

CHAP. I.

PAUL, an Apostle of Jesus Christ by the Will of God, to the Saints who are at Ephesus, and to the Faithful in Christ Jesus.

2. Grace be to you, and Peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3. Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who has blessed us with every spiritual Blessing, in heavenly Places in Christ.

4. As he chose us in him before the founding of the World, for us to be holy and without blemish, before him in Love :

5. And appointed us before to Adoption, by Jesus Christ to himself, according to the good Pleasure of his Will ;

6. To the Praise of the Glory of his Grace, wherein he favoured us in the Beloved One.

7. In whom we have Redemption, by his Blood, the Forgiveness of Sins, according to the Riches of his Grace ;

8. With which he has abounded towards us, in all Wisdom and Prudence :

9. Making known to us the Mystery of his Will, according to his good Pleasure, which he before proposed in him ;

10. In the Stewardship of the Fulness of the Times, to collect together all Things in Christ, both those in Heaven, and those on the Earth in him ;

11. In whom also we have obtained Inheritance, being appointed before according to the Purpose of him who works all Things after the Counsel of his Will ;

12. For us to be to the Praise of his Glory, that before had hope in Christ :

13. In whom you also had, upon hearing the Word of Truth, the Gospel of your Salvation ; in whom too believing, you were sealed with the Holy Spirit of Promise ;

14. Which is the Earnest of our Inheritance, till the Redemption to what will be obtained, to the Praise of his Glory.

15. For this reason as I also have heard of the Faith in the Lord Jesus that is with you, and the Love to all the Saints ;

16. Do not cease giving thanks for you, whom I make mention of in my Prayers ;

17. That the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of Glory, would give you the Spirit of Wisdom and Revelation, in the Knowledge of him ;

18. The Eyes of your Understanding being enlightened, for you to know what is the Hope of his Calling, what the Riches of the Glory of his Inheritance in the Saints,

19. And what the excellent Greatness of his Power towards us who believe, according to the Working of his mighty Strength ;

20. Which he did work in Christ, at raising him from the Dead, and made him sit at his right Hand in heavenly Places, [Tit. to the Ephesians] Mills labours to prove this Epistle was not written to the Ephesians, but to the Laodiceans, being that mentioned Col. iv. 16. His principal Argument is, that Paul had not been with the People he here wrote to, from Ch. i. 15. & iii. 2, 4. yet the mutual bearing might be of what was since he was there, and particularly of new Converts ; as for at Ephesus not being in the ancient Copies, Ver. 1. it is too weakly supported ; and see a fuller Answer by Whitby, Pref. and Exam. The Time of this see at Philippians.

Ver. 9. The latter his three or four omit, and Mills thereupon denies to be Paul's, Prol. 482.

Ib. him] viz. Christ, according to Ver. 4, 6. may also the two that follow this, and belong to it.

Ver. 12. before had hope] so the Original undeniably ; and seems to mean the Believers hoping in Christ, before his outward Coming.

Ver. 13. too] Mills disowns on the Testimony of a few, and deems it crept from (though it might be likelier omitted for) the preceding also, Pr. 482.

Ver. 14. to what] I suppose it will be pretty difficult, to give a rational satisfactory Meaning to this according to [of,] to which the Gr. genitive Case is not to be confined : so Rom. xii. 8.

Ver. 18. Understanding] Heart in a great Number of MS Copies, Versions, &c. Mills reckons ours an Interpretation, which I confess it seems changed to, because Eyes of the Heart might seem strange.

Ib. being enlightened] An Atticism in Gr. of the Accus. Case instead of the Genitive absolute.

Ver. 19. us] a few having you, Mills says agreeably to the foregoing, Pr. 567. It may be so, and for that Reason be altered ; but is not us as agreeable at least, and of more Authority ?

Ib. Working] W'st. energy.

Ver. 20. did work] a kindred Verb to the Noun before. W'st. exerted.

21. Up above all Principality, Authority, Power, Dominion, and every Name that is named, not only in this World, but also in that hereafter.

22. Nay he has made all Things subject under his Feet, and put him the Head over all Things to the Church;

23. Which is his Body, the Fulness of him who fills all in them all.

CHAP. II.

AND you, when you were dead in Offences and Sins;

2. In which once you walked, according to the Age of this World, according to the Prince of the Power of the Air, the Spirit that now works in the Sons of Disobedience;

3. Among whom likewise we all were once conversant, in the Desires of our Flesh, doing the Will of the Flesh and the Senses, and were by Nature the Children of Wrath, according as the rest;

4. Even God who is rich in Mercy, by reason of his great Love with which he loved us,

5. Did make with us, when we were dead in Offences, alive with Christ (by Grace you are saved)

6. And did raise up together, and cause to sit together in heavenly Places, in Christ Jesus:

7. That he might shew in Ages coming on the excellent Riches of his Grace, in the Kindness to us in Christ Jesus:

8. For by Grace you are saved, through Faith; and this is not of your selves, it is the Gift of God:

9. It is not of Works, that Nobody may boast.

10. For we are of his Making, created in Christ Jesus to good Works, which God before prepared that we should go therein.

11. Therefore remember, that you being once Gentiles in the Flesh, called the Uncircumcision from that called the Circumcision in the Flesh made by Hands,

12. Were at that Time without Christ, alienated from the Common-wealth of Israel, and Strangers to the Covenants of Promise, who had no Hope, and were without God in the World.

13. But now in Christ Jesus, you who were once far off, are become near by the Blood of Christ.

14. For he is our Peace; who made both one, and loosened the middle Wall of Fence:

15. Who abolished in his Flesh the Enmity, the Law of Commandments which is in Ordinances, that he might create two into one new Man in himself, making Peace;

16. And might reconcile both to God in one Body by the Cross, when he had killed the Enmity with it.

17. He also came, and preached Peace to you far off, and to those near.

18. For through him we both have Approach, by one Spirit, to the Father.

19. You are indeed then no more Strangers and Sojourners, but Citizens with the Saints, and the Family of God;

20. Built on the Foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief Corner:

21. In whom all the Building fitly framed together, increases into a holy Temple in the Lord;

22. In whom also you are built together, into a Habitation of God in the Spirit.

Ver. 13. all in them all] all the Faculties in all Persons who receive him, Ch. iii. 19. John i. 12.

Ver. 2. the Power of the Air] the evil Spirits there, but not as having Power over the Air, Jer. xiv. 22.

Ib. the Spirit that now works in the Sons of Disobedience] On this Whitby writes in an Appendix to the 6th Chap. of 2 Cor. 'which Words seem plainly to import some inward Energy of Satan, to excite them to this Disobedience to the Will of God: Since then stranger is he that is in us, than he that is in the World, 1 John iv. 4. 'we must allow the good Spirit to work in the Children of Obedience;' for which see also Phil. ii. 12, 13. Heb. xiii. 21.

Ver. 3. doing the Will] not fulfilling the desires.

Ib. rest] the next being continued from the 1st Ver.

as in Hammond's Paraphrase here, and Annot. on Gal. ii. 6.

Ver. 5. Did make] viz. you in Ver. 1. which you that here follows both agrees with, and corroborates.

Ib. Offences] Sins being a wrong Reading.

Ver. 7, 10. Jesus] Mills tells us is added, Prolog. 482. it being absent from the former Ver. in two or three Copies and one Transl. but from the latter only in two Authors.

Ver. 10. before prepared] according as the very same Word is translated Rom. ix. 23.

Ver. 15. create two into one new Man] So the Original is.

Ver. 17. preached] by the Spirit, Ver. 18. and as 1 Pet. iii. 19.

C H A P. III.

BECAUSE of this I Paul am a Prisoner of Christ Jesus, for you Gentiles :

2. If you have heard too about the Stewardship of the Grace of God, given me towards you ;

3. That by Revelation he made known to me the Mystery (as I wrote before in a little ;

4. At reading of which you may understand my Knowledge in the Mystery of Christ)

5. Which in other Generations was not known to the Sons of Men, as it is now revealed to his holy Apostles and Prophets, by the Spirit ;

6. For the Gentiles to be Heirs together, and with the Body, and Partakers of his Promise in Christ, through the Gospel :

7. Of which I am become a Minister, according to the Gift of the Grace of God, given me according to the Working of his Power.

8. To me, the very least of all the Saints, is this Grace given, to preach among the Gentiles the unfearchable Riches of Christ ;

9. And to make it clear to all, what is the Communion of the Mystery, hid from Ages in God, who created all Things by Jesus Christ :

10. That there might now be made known to the Principalities, and Authorities in heavenly Places, by the Church, the manifold Wisdom of God ;

11. According to the Purpose of Ages, which he made in Christ Jesus our Lord :

12. In whom we have Boldness, and Access in Confidence, by the Faith of him.

13. Therefore I desire you would not faint at my Affliction for you, which is your Glory.

14. Because of this I bow my Knees to the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ,

15. From whom all the Family in Heaven and on Earth is named ;

16. That he may grant you, according to the Riches of his Glory, to be strong with Power by his Spirit in the inward Person :

17. For Christ to dwell in your Hearts by Faith, you being rooted and founded in Love ;

18. That you may be able to perceive, with all the Saints, what is the Breadth, Length, Depth and Height ;

19. And to know the Love of Christ which exceeds Knowledge, that you may be filled in all the Fulness of God.

20. Now to him who can do very far above all that we ask for, or imagine, according to the Power which works in us,

Ver. 1. am] thus translated by Erasm. Bez. and the Bishops, as also in the Tigur. Vers. with Whitby's and Doddridge's Paraph. and surely there must be some Verb to make Sense, and this is frequently understood. Otherwise what is said of I Paul ? Or whither is it to be referred ? To Ver. 13 or 14, or yet more probably to the 1st of the next Chap. as Ham. on Gal. ii. 6. comments ? Which is incredible.

Ib. Christ Jesus] to the Gr. only a few omit Jesus, and Mills approves it, Pr. 482.

Ib. Gentiles] put down by Mills for a Gloss from the preceding Chap. tho' he found none but the Complutensian Edit. that has simply you, Pr. 1108, 1316.

Ver. 2. If you have heard] viz. any of the Gentiles, that being the last Word before ; which may obviate the Objection that this was not written to the Ephesians with whom Paul had been, better than either of the Things Whitby defends it with.

Ver. 3. he made known] Though no small Number have it passively there was made known, and among them the Vulg. yet Mills does not admit it ; which may be an Instance of the Sincerity of that indefatigable Man, and how impartial he would have been, had not he been drawn into too great a Veneration for Antiquity.

Ib. as I wrote before] Ch. i. 9, 10, 11, 12. ii. 19. Whitby.

Ver. 5. in] is not express'd, but only understood in divers Copies, &c.

Ver. 8. the very least] one Word only in Gr. and less than the least he could not be, being one of the Saints himself.

Ib. the Saints] when wanting but with the Heretick Marcion, that Mangler of the Scripture, and in Complut. Mills ascribes it to the Glossaries, Pr. 1108, 1317. added, as he fancies, to soften and make [all] more agreeable to Truth ; though it does not, whatever might be said of the Copy which has Apostles joined to Saints or holy.

Ver. 9. it] or this.

Ib. Communion] So many have Stewardship, that not only Mills, but even Whitby counts it genuine ; yet I am of a different Mind, not only as supposing no less may have Communion or Fellowship, and that the Vulg. might be prevalent for the other, but also as thinking ours more consistent to the Matter treated of, the Mystery being the Blessings of the Gospel imparted to the Gentiles, whereby there was a Coalition of them with the Jews, Ver. 4, 6. according to which it is fitly here called the Communion of the Mystery, as of the Gospel, Phil. i. 5. whereas Paul's great Business was not to make clear to all his own Stewardship of it, or in other Words to preach himself, contrary to 2 Cor. iv. 5. but I suppose Stewardship or Dispensation might be substituted, not in a clear Discerning, from Ver. 2. together with Ch. i. 9, 10. and of all the MSS. of Stephens reckoned for it, I find but few had this Book, or are of Validity.

Ib. by Jesus Christ] a few have not, and Mills reckons it a Comment taken from Col. i. 16. or elsewhere ; too unlikely !

Ver. 10. now] enow leave out to have Mills's Approbation, Pr. 482, 568. but his saying it is tacked on for Explanation is not to be presently granted, till it is shewn to be more likely for another to restrict the Expression than the Apostle himself, which to me is very unlikely.

Ver. 14. of our Lord Jesus Christ] some have omitted, as it appears, that the following might not belong to him ; see Mills's Note.

Ver. 19. in] for with is peculiar to Christ, Col. i. 19. & ii. 9. nor does the Gr. Particle here signify so.

Ver. 20. which works in us] to which the Gen. Note is, In that we feel Christ in us.

21. Be Glory in the Church, by Christ Jesus, to all Generations, for ever and ever : so let it be.

C H A P. IV.

I THEREFORE a Prisoner in the Lord beseech you, to walk worthy of the Calling with which you are called ;

2. With all Humility and Meekness, with Forbearance bearing one with another in Love;

3. Being careful to keep the Unity of the Spirit, in the Bond of Peace.

4. There is one Body, an one Spirit, as you are also called in one Hope of your Calling.

5. One Lord, one Faith, one Baptism ;

6. One God and Father of all, who is over all, and by all, and in you all.

7. Nay to each of us there is given Grace, according to the Measure of the Gift of Christ.

8. Therefore one says, He went up on high, and took the Prisoners captive, and gave Gifts to Men.

9. Now that he went up, what is it, except that he also went down first into the lower Parts of the Earth ?

10. He who went down is the same also who went up above all the Heavens, that he might fill all.

11. And he gave indeed some Apostles, and some Prophets, and some Preachers, with some Pastors and Teachers ;

12. To the fitting up of the Saints, for the Work of the Ministry, for the building up of the Body of Christ :

13. Till we all come into the Unity of the Faith, and of the Knowledge of the Son of God, into a perfect Man, into the Measure of the Stature of the Fulness of Christ.

14. That we may not henceforth be little Children, fluctuating and being carried about by every Wind of Teaching, in the Artifice of Men, in Craftiness according to the Contrivance of Error ;

15. But speaking truly in Love, may grow up into him in all Things, who is the Head, Christ :

16. From whom all the Body fitly framed together and joined together, by every Joint that is furnished, according to the Working in Measure of each single Part, makes the Growth of the Body, to the building up of it self in Love.

17. This therefore I say, and testify in the Lord, that you will not henceforth walk, even as the rest of the Gentiles do, in the Vanity of their Mind ;

18. Being darkened in Sense, alienated from the Life of God, by the Ignorance which is in them, through the Hardness of their Heart :

19. Who being insensible, have delivered themselves up to Wantonness, for the working of all Uncleaness greedily.

20. But you have not so learned Christ ;

21. If indeed you have heard him, and have been taught by him, as the Truth is in Jesus ;

22. That you should put off according to the former Conversation the old Person, which is corrupt according to the deceitful Lusts ;

23. That you should also be renewed in the Spirit of your Mind,

24. And should put on the new Person, which according to God is created in Righteousness and true Holiness.

25. Therefore put away Lying, and speak

Ver. 21. by Christ Jesus] with a few and in or by Christ Jesus.

1b. ever] How world without end in the com. Bib. consists with unto the end of the world, Mat. xxviii. 20. I leave to those that can shew ; but Something also seems wanting before world.

Ver. 5. one Baptism] Whether there can be no Room to oppose Water-Baptism to the Baptism of the Spirit, as Doddr. confidently asserts in a Note here, may be seen by Mat. iii. 11. Acts i. 5. & xi. 16.

Ver. 6. you] In some Exemplars us, through the Negligence or Mistake of some Transcriber writing quoniam for quia (as the Gr. Accents and Aspirations might not be then used) much likelier than the rash Judgment of Mills, that they were both added after, Pr. 299, 565. For the Pronoun not only makes the Expression more elegant, nay more weighty and strong, which I should rather ascribe to our wise and learned Apostle, not to say the Spirit of God, than to any Transcriber ; but may also seem requisite, to accord with your in Ver. 4.

Ver. 8. one] the Psalmist in Psa. lxviii. 18.

Ver. 9. Parts] supplied, in the Opinion of Mills, for which I see not sufficient Proof.

Ver. 10. fill all] rather Places as Chap. i. 20. than Things, and especially Mankind, Chap. iii. 19. thus rendered also Ch. I. ult.

Ver. 13. into] the same all three times, and so signifying.

Ver. 14. fluctuating] as it were on the Waves by the Wind, according to the Original.

Ver. 16. that is furnished] Gr. of the furnishing.

Ver. 17. the rest of] some have not, and Mills repeatedly tells of its being from Ch. ii. 3. too incredible for me when it is not there.

Ver. 18. the Life of God] as in John i. 4. 2 Cor. iv. 10, 11. and Beza expounds it vitam illam qua Deus vivit in suis, that Life by which God lives in his.

1b. Hardness] thus the same is translated Mark iii. 5.

Ver. 19. —ly] for in Gr. A few have and, with whom are the Cler. and Ger. Copies, both Gr. and Lat. Yet Mills gives them up ; look at Ch. iii. 3. & Phil. iii. 12.

Ver. 22. according to the former] This is the same as the next according to ; nor is concerning either the Meaning of the Gr. Word, or proper Sense.

Ver. 23. That you should be renewed] Be you renewed imperat. and so put on, Ver. 24. by several, and Mills at last represents ours made afterwards by reason of That you should put off, Pr. 884. but might not the Sentence be thought to end with the 22d Ver. and these Verbs as well be made imperative, conformable to the following. Speak, be angry, &c.

Truth each to his Neighbour; since we are Members one of another.

26. Be angry, but do not sin; let not the Sun set in your Anger.

27. Neither give Place to the Devil.

28. Let the Thief steal no more; but rather labour, working what is good with the Hands, that he may have to impart to him who has Need.

29. Let not any corrupt Speech go out of your Mouth; but some if it may be good for the Use of Edification, that it may give Grace to the Hearers.

30. And do not grieve the very Holy Spirit of God, by which you are sealed till the Day of Redemption.

31. Let all Bitterness, Indignation, Wrath, Clamor, and Evil-speaking be put away from you, with all Wickedness.

32. And be kind one to another, compassionate, forgiving each other, even as God in Christ has forgiven you.

CHAP. V.

BE therefore Imitators of God, as beloved Children.

2. And walk in Love, even as Christ loved us, and delivered up himself for us, an Offering and Sacrifice to God, for a Savour of sweet Smell.

3. But let not Whoredom, nor any Uncleaness, or Covetousness be named among you, as is becoming Saints;

4. As also Filthiness, and foolish Talking, or Scurrility, Things not convenient; but rather Thanksgiving.

5. For this you know, that any Whoremonger, or unclean, or covetous one, which last is an Idolater, has not Inheritance in the Kingdom of Christ and God.

6. Let none deceive you with vain Words; for by reason of these Things the Wrath of God comes on the Sons of Disobedience.

7. Do not therefore become Partakers with them.

8. For you were once Darkeness, but now Light in the Lord: walk as Children of Light;

9. (For the Fruit of the Spirit is in all Goodness, Righteousness and Faith)

10. Proving what is well-pleasing to the Lord.

11. And do not you partake of the unfruitful Works of Darkeness, but rather even reprove.

12. For it is a Shame even to speak of the Things done by them secretly.

13. Now all Things that are reprov'd, are made manifest by the Light; for all that makes manifest is Light.

14. Therefore he says, Awake, O Sleeper, rise up from the Dead; and Christ will enlighten thee.

15. Look then how you may walk diligently, not as unwise, but as wise Men;

16. Redeeming the Time, because the Days are wicked.

Ver. 26. Be angry, but do not sin] from the Gr. Transf. of Psa. iv. 4.

Ib. Anger] for Wrath, or as we now call it Passion, is of short Duration.

Ver. 27. In the Clementine Homilies, Give not Occasion to the wicked one, Mills's Pr. 671.

Ver. 28. what is good] Unless our Copies forbade it by a full Consent, Mills says, it would scarce be but that he should hold this for a marginal Gloss, taken from Gal. vi. 10. Pr. 1458. it being absent only in one Copy and Tertullian; but how utterly improbable to be taken thence!

Ib. has] Vulg. suffers, than which Mills counts ours less proper, and yet to be the Apostle's, done so unawares perhaps, Pr. 566.

Ver. 29. if] which the Gr. has.

Ib. the Use of Edification] with some the Edification of Faith, as if mistaking chreias for pistecos; but Mills citing two that leave out this Word, because, says he, they did not perhaps understand it, the same might serve for altering it.

Ver. 30. very] for the Repetition of the Gr. Article.

Ib. till] as in Ch. i. 14. Phil. i. 10. unto in com. Transf. besides being now obsolete, as Johns. says in Dict. Eng. Lang. has not by him there at [to] that Meaning.

Ver. 32. in Christ] No more than one Copy and two Authors having the Text without this, Mills thought it not genuine, Note and Pr. 931. to which what need be said?

Ver. 5. know] Gr. are knowing, as used in that Language; but some by the Variation only of ire into ire, have another Word for you know instead of you are, which Mills reckoned genuine, and altered for the Tautology; though perhaps a Slip of the Pen the other Way, if not rather put so by Somebody, to denote their knowing it thoroughly or well.

Ib. which lost is] as Col. iii. 5. and who is may mean if he is, or at least belong to either of the foregoing; but see Beza, Annot.

Ver. 9. Spirit] In several Copies Light, more agreeable to the foregoing, says Gretius, and favoured by Whit. in Annot. and the common may seem, which Mills says was, taken from Gal. v. 22. or made like it, as various Readings often are, according to Canon 16. in Wetsten's Edit. 1711. which should have been more general, since it mentions only the Evangelists.

Ver. 14. Awake, &c.] Ham. Mills, and Wall suppose it cited from Isa. lx. 1. but Nary interprets he that says it to be, The Holy Ghost in thy Heart.

Ib. enlighten] by a few touch, which Whitby refutes, Exam. Lib. 2. C. 1. S. 1.

Awaken thou that sleep'st in sin, and stand up from the dead:

And Christ shall let his light break in, whereby thou shalt be led, Bart. Hymn 180.

Ver. 15. how] Hammond says it is not to be rendered that, but how.

Ver. 16. Redeeming the Time] This, where many may have seen no Difficulty in their common superficial Way of considering the Scripture, might have appeared otherwise on demanding of them a direct Answer to these pertinent Questions; What Time, the past or present? How redeem according to the Meaning of the Word? And how redeem to agree with because? For the Passage cannot be said to be understood without such Relations. To

17. For this reason be not foolish, but have understanding what the Will of the Lord is.

18. And be not drunk with Wine, in which is Luxury; but be full of the Spirit:

19. Speaking to your selves with Psalms, Hymns and spiritual Poems, singing, and that melodiously, in your Heart to the Lord;

20. Giving thanks always for all Things, in the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ, to God and the Father;

21. Being subject one to another in the Fear of God.

22. Wives, be subject to your own Husbands, as to the Lord:

23. Since the Husband is the Head of the Wife, even as Christ the Head of the Church; and he is the Saviour of the Body.

24. Nay according as the Church is subject to Christ, even so should Wives be to their own Husbands, in every Thing.

25. Husbands, love your Wives, even as Christ loved the Church, and delivered up himself for it;

26. That he might make it holy, cleansing by the Bath of Water in the Word;

27. That he might present it glorious to himself, a Church not having Stain, or Wrinkle, or any such Thing, but that it might be holy, and without Blemish.

28. Husbands ought to love their Wives as their own Bodies: he who loves his Wife, loves himself.

29. For none ever hated his own Body; but nourishes and cherishes it, even as the Lord the Church.

30. Since we are Members of this Body, those both of his Flesh and his Bones.

31. For this let a Man forsake his Father and Mother, that he may cleave to his Wife since the two shall be one Flesh.

32. This is a great Mystery; but I speak of Christ and the Church.

33. Nevertheless let each of you also in particular so love his Wife as himself, and the Wife take care that she reverence the Husband.

CHAP. VI.

CHILDREN, obey your Parents in the Lord; for this is righteous.

2. Honour thy Father and Mother (which is the first Commandment with a Promise)

3. That it may be well to thee, and thou mayest live long on the Earth.

4. And Fathers, do not provoke your Children; but nourish them in the Discipline and Admonition of the Lord.

5. Servants, obey the Masters according to the Flesh, with Fear and Trembling, in the Simplicity of your Heart, as Christ;

6. Not according to Eye-service, as pleasing Men, but as the Servants of Christ, doing the Will of God from the Mind;

7. With good Will doing Service, as to the Lord, and not to Men:

8. Since you know that whatsoever good Thing each does, the same will he receive from the Lord, whether bound or free.

9. And Masters, do such Things to them, being slack in Threatening: as you know that there is also a Master of your own in Heaven, and is not Respect of Persons with him.

the 1st I answer, that are distinguishes it to be the present Time, which may overthrow the Notion, I suppose, too generally imbibed of it. And for the two latter this single Response may serve, that redeem being to ransom, they should ransom Time from the Wickedness it was generally employed in, to do the Will of the Lord, Ver. 17. making the Ransom as here by being diligent in doing so.

Ver. 20. Father] of Christ; as may appear when the Words stand in their right Order.

Ver. 21. God] Several have Christ, thought by Mills the right, and altered because the Fear of God frequently, of Christ never occurs; but such as observe how often God, Christ, Jesus and Lord, are changed one for another in the various Readings, may be of another Mind.

Ver. 22. It is remarkable that Lewis in his Hist. of the Eng. Transl. p. 227. says, 'The Places of Scripture at the End of the Matrimonial Office are according to no English Translation of the Bible or New Testament that I have seen;' and guesses they were made from the Latin, namely those used from the Reign of K. Edw. to 1661, when they were altered according to the pres. Transl. of which Places this is the largest, reaching to the End of the Chap. where I may give this for an Instance, Ver. 26. purging it in the fountain of water.

1b. Wives, be subject to your] Some give it, Let Wives be subject to their; nay Mills from Jerome tells us the Verb was not express'd in the Gr. Pr. 564. who however might be mistaken as likely as the many that have it.

Ver. 26. by the Bath of Water] where Wesley annotes,

* In Baptism, if with "the outward and visible Sign," we receive the inward and spiritual Grace.' But Infants being not distinguished by personal Election, according to his Tenets, what if can there be of their receiving the latter in Baptism? They do, or do not, receive it; and the Consequences of either, easy to point out, will as readily follow.

1b. in the Word] of the Gospel.

Ver. 27. present it] Some have that he himself might present, but Mills says he holds both himself and it to be put in, Pr. 1067. though the latter is so necessary.

1b. to himself, a Church] so the Gr. is pointed.

1b. not having] on which see Doddridge's Note.

Ver. 31. that he may cleave to his Wife] This Mills slenderly would have to be an Addition, being not well-affected to the pres. Reading.

1b. the two] as 1 Cor. vi. 16.

Ver. 33. take care] see Gen. iii. 22.

Ver. 1. in the Lord] One would think this so necessary, that none could pretend it should be absent, yet Mills does on small Authority, Pr. 483. This Term is not only frequent with our Apostle, and thus particularly Col. iii. 18. but with great Stress, 1 Cor. vii. 39. see also Col. iii. 20.

Ver. 4. provoke] Our Eng. Addition to wrath is not very suitable to your children; for whom it would be unnatural to be provoked to such Excess.

Ver. 9. being slack] not to have the Monotony of three ings.

10. Further, my Brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in his mighty Power.

11. Put on the whole Armour of God, for you to be able to stand against the Contrivances of the Devil :

12. Because the Wrestling for us is not against Blood and Flesh, but against Principalities, against Powers, against the worldly Princes of the Darkness of this Age, against spiritual Wickedness in heavenly Places.

13. For this reason receive the whole Armour of God, that you may be able to resist in the wicked Day, and by doing all to stand.

14. Stand therefore, having your Loins girded with Truth, and the Breast-plate of Righteousness put on,

15. As also the Feet shod with the Preparation of the Gospel of Peace ;

16. Above all receiving the Shield of Faith, with which you will be able to quench all the fiery Darts of the wicked one.

17. Moreover receive the Helmet of Salvation, and the Sword of the Spirit, which is the Word of God.

18. And in all Prayer and Supplication, pray at all Times with the Spirit, and watch for this same, with all Constancy, and Supplication for all the Saints ;

19. Particularly for me, that Speech may be given me, in opening my Mouth with Boldness, to make known the Mystery of the Gospel :

20. For which I am an Ambassador in a Chain ; that I may speak boldly in it, as I ought to speak.

21. But that you also may know the Things about me, what I do, Tychicus, a beloved Brother, and faithful Minister in the Lord, will make them all known to you :

22. Whom I have sent to you for this same Thing, that you might know the Matters concerning us, and he might comfort your Hearts.

23. Peace be to the Brethren, and Love with Faith, from God the Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

24. Grace be with all who love our Lord Jesus Christ incorruptibly : so let it be.

It was written to the Ephesians from Rome, sent by Tychicus.

Ver. 10. my Brethren] a few have not, others have only Brethren, Mills would exclude both, Pr. 483. but the other might be more eligible as a Medium, and the Reading of the Vulg. however I should want better Confirmation for either.

Ib. mighty Power] so translated Ch. i. 19.

Ver. 12. Princes] as Ch. ii. 2. John xii. 31. & xiv. 30. & xvi. 11. and as the Gr. signifies ; nor may the wicked spirits be properly called rulers.

Ib. heavenly] by the Gr. viz. religious or ecclesiastical.

Ver. 13. receive] for they could not take it themselves ; and the Gr. has not unto you.

Ib. doing] as the Gr. Participle simply signifies ; and how should they fall, when they had withstood all Opposition ?

Ver. 17. receive] some Reader added in according to Mills, Pr. 1291. on the poor Proof of a few being without it.

Ver. 18. this] some miss, as our Transf. does, so that Mills says it is a Reader's, not St. Paul's, Pr. 1291.

Ver. 20. in it] In what, the Mystery, Gospel, or Chain ? It seems the latter, by reason of which the Apostle desired their Prayers for him, notwithstanding that, to be bold.

NOTES upon the Epistle of PAUL to the PHILIPPIANS.

CHAP. I.

PAUL and Timothy, Servants of Jesus Christ, to all the Saints in Christ Jesus who are at Philippi, with the Overseers and Ministers.

2. Grace be to you, and Peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3. I give thanks to my God on every Mention of you,

4. (Always in all Supplication of mine for you all, making Supplication with Joy)

5. On your Fellowship in the Gospel, from the first Day till now ;

6. Since I am confident of this very Thing, that he who has begun the good Work in you, will accomplish till the Day of Jesus Christ :

7. According as it is just for me to think this for you all, by reason of my having you in Heart ; since you are, both in my Bonds, and in the Defence and Confirmation of the Gospel, all Partakers of the Grace I have.

8. For God is my Witness, how I long for you all in the Bowels of Jesus Christ.

9. And this I pray, that your Love may yet more and more abound, in Knowledge and all Sense ;

10. For you to like the Things that excel, that you may be sincere and inoffensive, till the Day of Christ ;

11. And may be filled with the Fruits of Righteousness which are by Jesus Christ, to the Glory and Praise of God.

12. I would have you know, Brethren, that the Things about me, are come rather for the Progress of the Gospel.

13. So that my Bonds in Christ are become manifest in the whole Court, and in all the rest of the Places.

14. And many of the Brethren in the Lord, being confident by my Bonds, are more abundantly bold to speak the Word without Fear.

15. Some however indeed preach Christ for Envy and Contention, but some too for good Will :

16. Those indeed declare Christ out of Quarrelling, not purely, imagining to bring Affliction to my Bonds ;

17. But these out of Love, knowing that I am put for the Defence of the Gospel.

18. What then ? Nevertheless in every Manner, whether in Pretence or in Truth, Christ is declared ; and in this I rejoice, nay and will rejoice.

19. For I know that this will come on to me for Salvation, by your Supplication, and the Furnishing of the Spirit of Jesus Christ ;

20. According to my earnest Expectation and Hope, that I shall be ashamed of Nothing, but that in all Boldness, as always, Christ will now too be magnified in my Body, either by Life or by Death.

21. For to live is to me for Christ, and to die Gain.

22. Now to live in the Flesh, this is the Fruit of Labour to me ; and what I shall choose, I know not.

23. But am pressed from the two ; having a Desire to be let loose, and to be with Christ : for that is incomparably better.

24. Yet to remain in the Flesh, is more necessary by reason of you.

25. And being confident of this, I know that I shall abide, and continue with you all, to your Progress and Joy in Faith :

26. That your Glorifying of me may abound in Christ Jesus, by my Coming again to you.

27. Only behave your selves worthy of the Gospel of Christ ; that whether I come, and

Tit. Epistle] Mills places first this, next those to the Ephesians, Colossians and Philemon, all towards the End of Paul's Imprisonment at Rome, Acts ult. 16, 30. A. D. 62.

Ver. 1. Overseers] as rendered in the com. Transf. Acts xx. 28. and its Verb accordingly 1 Pet. v. 2.

Ib. Ministers] so rendered Mat. xx. 26. Mark x. 43. Rom. xiii. 4. & xv. 8. 1 Cor. iii. 5. 2 Cor. iii. 6. & vi. 4, & xi. 15, 23. Gal. ii. 17. Eph. iii. 7. & vi. 21. Col. i. 7, 23, 25. & iv. 7. 1 Thes. iii. 2. 1 Tim. iv. 6.

Ver. 5. On] as in Ver. 3.

Ver. 8. Witness] so Rom. i. 9. more proper than record.

Ver. 9. yet] is declared by Mills not to be Paul's, Pr. 484. though the Authority for it rises but too little.

Ver. 16. indeed] the same as in the last Ver.

Ver. 23. a Desire] In the Epistle of Ignatius to the Trallians, he expresses his Desire in this Manner, I love or desire indeed to suffer (Death,) but know not whether I am worthy.

Ib. incomparably] the Comparison by the Gr. being as it were beyond Comparison.

Ver. 24. by reason of] or for the sake of, but not for or so as the dative Case.

Ver. 27. worthy] the same Word is so translated, and to the same Purpose, Eph. iv. 1. Col. i. 10. 2 Thes. ii. 12.

see

see you, or be absent, I may hear the Things concerning you, that you stand fast in one Spirit, and strive together with one Mind for the Faith of the Gospel;

28. And are not terrified in any Thing by the Opposers; which relating to them indeed is a Shew of Destruction, but to you of Salvation; and that from God.

29. Since it is given to you for Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for him;

30. As you have the same Striving which you saw in me, and now hear is in me.

CHAP. II.

IF there is then any Comfort in Christ, if any Consolation of Love, if any Communion of the Spirit, if any Bowels and Mercies;

2. Fulfil my Joy, that you should be of the same Mind, having the same Love, agreeing together, so as to be unanimous.

3. Let Nothing be in the manner of Quarrelling, or Vain-glory; but with Humility mutually esteem others to be above your selves.

4. Watch not each your own Things, but also each the Things of others.

5. For let this Mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus:

6. Who being in the Form of God, did not esteem it Robbery to be equal with God;

7. Yet made himself void, as he took the Form of a Servant, became in the Likeness of Men;

8. And when he was found in Fashion as a Man, he humbled himself, becoming obedient even to Death, nay the Death of the Cross.

9. Therefore God also has highly exalted him, and given him a Name above every Name:

10. That in the Name of Jesus every Knee should bow, of Things heavenly, earthly, and under the ground;

11. And every Tongue confess, that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the Glory of God the Father.

12. So that, my Beloved, as you have always obeyed, not as in my Presence only, but now much more in my Absence; work your own Salvation with Fear and Trembling.

13. Since it is God works in you, both to be willing and to work, of his good Will.

14. Do all Things without Murmurings and Reasonings:

15. That you may be faultless and innocent, the blameless Children of God, in the midst of a froward and perverse Generation, among whom you shine as Lights in the World;

16. By holding the Word of Life, for me to glory in the Day of Christ, that I have not run in vain, nor laboured in vain.

17. Nay if I should even be offered up, in the Sacrifice and Service of your Faith, I rejoice and am joyful with you all.

18. For the same also rejoice you, and be joyful with me.

19. I further hope in the Lord Jesus, to send Timothy to you quickly, that I also may be of good courage, when I know the Things concerning you.

20. For I have Nobody of the like Mind, who will naturally be careful of those Things.

21. For all seek their own, not the Things of Christ Jesus.

22. But you know the Proof of him, that as a Child to a Father, he served with me in the Gospel.

Ver. 28. relating to] for to only leaves it doubtful to whom it so appeared to be.

Ver. 4. Watch not] By some Not watching; and Mills says ours is of some Scholiast, that was more careful for the Rules of Grammar than the genuine Text of the Apostle; but hold a little! as neither of them is against the Rules of Grammar, and as there is the like to that, of an Imperative and Participle, in the two last Verses; and for being genuine, ours has the far greatest Authority, and consequently Probability, while the Vulg. might promote the other.

Ver. 7. void] as the Greek signifies, viz. of the fore-mentioned Excellencies; and upon him is added by the Translators.

Ver. 11. confess] with some shall confess, upon which Mills tells us Somebody changed it as we have it by reason of should bow, Pr. 1464. when it might likelier be changed the other Way, to make the Expression stronger.

Ver. 12. much more in my Absence] To this Whitby's Paraphrase is, which God by the Workings of his Holy Spirit supplies, he adds to Workings in his Appendix to 2 Cor. vi. and inward Teachings, and his Annotation thus, God, in my Absence, is more immediately present with you, by the inward Motions of his Holy Spirit—for what other Reason can be offered of those Words than that which this Interpretation gives? so his Paraph. on the next Ver. it is God who [in my Absence, by his inward Teachings] worketh in you, both to will and to do.

Ver. 13. Since it is God works in you] which is therefore great Encouragement for you to work by his Assistance.

h. of his good Will] including and not for your Merit.

Ver. 15. in the midst] A few have midst accus. without in, which Mills would have genuine and to stand for through the midst, and ours to be explanatory of it. Pr. 1483.

Ver. 16. By holding] or Holding in, not Holding forth: thus Tynd. has holdinge faste and so the Bish. Transf. the Vulg. Lat. continentes, Eras. and Cast. with the Tig. Vers. sustinentes.

Ver. 19. hope] as Ver. 23.

23. Him indeed therefore I hope to send, as soon as ever I perceive how Affairs relating to me are.

24. Yet I am confident in the Lord, that I my self also shall come quickly.

25. However I esteemed it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my Brother, Fellow-worker and Fellow-soldier, but your Apostle, and Minister to my Wants.

26. Since he was longing for you all, and grieved, because you heard that he was sick.

27. And indeed he was sick nigh to Death; but God had mercy upon him, and not him only, but me also, that I might not have Grief upon Grief.

28. I have therefore sent him the more carefully, that when you see him again, you may rejoice, and I may be the more without Grief.

29. Receive him therefore in the Lord with all Joy, and esteem such honourable:

30. Because for the Work of Christ he was near to Death, disregarding Life, that he might supply your Defect of Service to me.

CHAP. III.

FURTHER, my Brethren, rejoice through the Lord. To write the same Things to you, is not indeed tedious to me, and to you certain.

1. Beware of the Dogs, beware of evil Workers, beware of the wrong Circumcision.

3. For we are the Circumcision, that worship God with the Spirit, and glory in Christ Jesus, and are not confident in the Flesh;

4. Though I might also have Confidence in the Flesh: if any other thinks he might be confident so, I more;

5. Being circumcised the eighth Day, one of the Race of Israel, of the Tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of Hebrews, according to the Law a Pharisee,

6. According to Zeal persecuting the Church, after the Righteousness in the Law being faultless.

7. But those very Things which were Gain to me, I esteem Loss for Christ.

8. Nay but indeed I also esteem all Things to be Loss, for the Excellency of the Knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I have suffered the loss of all Things, and do esteem them to be Dung; that I may gain Christ,

9. And may be found in him, not having my own Righteousness of the Law, but that by the Faith of Christ, that of God, the Righteousness through Faith:

10. To know him, and the Power of his Resurrection, and the Fellowship of his Sufferings, being conformable to his Death;

11. If I may any how come to the Resurrection of the Dead.

12. Not that I have already received, or am already perfect; but I pursue after, if I may also obtain that in which I am likewise obtained by Christ Jesus.

13. Brethren, I do not count my self to have obtained; however in one Thing, while I forget indeed the Things behind, and reach forth to those before,

14. I pursue according to the Mark, for the Prize of the Calling above, of God in Christ Jesus.

15. Let us therefore, as many as will be

Ver. 30. disregarding] or hazarding, if we join the Criticks in supposing α should be ο, and so another Gr. Word not greatly different in Sense; but the Evidence is too weak for me.

Ver. 1. certain] according as in Acts xxv. 26. & xxi. 34. & xxii. 30. Heb. vi. 19. this Gr. Word being but there and here; and this might be for Confirmation to them. The Vulg. having necessary, Mills says, Who can believe it turned so by the Translator himself? Pr. 571. Why might it not, I answer, as well as safe, by ours?

Ver. 2. wrong Circumcision] The Apostle alluding to Circumcision by a Word made up for it, seems minded to convey this Meaning so, rather than write expressly against it; intimating that the Jewish Circumcision was not the right one for Christians, but that which follows.

Ver. 3. worship God with the Spirit] Divers Copies have it, worship the Spirit of God; which though I do not take for genuine, yet cannot think it changed, as Mills says, by mistaking it for the Holy Spirit; since it is certainly that; this worshipping being the same, what Beza remarks, with that in John iv. 23. The Difference of these Readings in the Gr. is but α and σ.

Ib. with] not in as after; and see John iv. 23.

Ver. 5. of Hebrews] both by Father and Mother, Nary.

Ver. 8. to be] not but.

Ib. gain] as the Noun is translated in the preceding Ver. and certainly better than win.

Ver. 9. Through Faith] lacking in the Syr. only, and favoured by Mills, if worth mentioning.

Ver. 11. of] by some from, the Vulg. encouraging, and Mills approving.

Ver. 12. received] so the Original.

Ib. also] a few leave out, and we need not wonder that Mills promotes it, Pr. 485. but he might better have objected to the following ναλ, τω, which is likewise omitted. The that after if in our Eng. is simply an odd Expletive, and not the Meaning of the Gr. Particle here, as if a Transf. must number Words with the Original, instead of weighing Signification; but what may be expected where Puerilities are not infrequent!

Ib. Jesus] rejected too by Mills, Pr. 485, 635. These Omissions are much in two particular Copies of Paul's Epistles, found in the Convents of Clement and St. Germain in France, that are nearly alike, if not made one from the other.

Ver. 13. not] divers having not yet, Mills counts it but an Exposition, Pr. 646.

Ver. 14. according to] as the Gr. is.

Ib. the Mark] called The Resurrection, Ver. 11. and unless being perfect, Ver. 12. West. goal.

Ver. 15. Let us—mind] with a few we—mind in the indicative Mood, and that Mills falls in with, urging he cannot be called perfect, who does not mind this, Pr. 635. which Thought might rather occasion the altering it the other Way, and the perfect who mind this, may be exhorted to continue doing it.

Ib. will be perfect] and not to contradict that in Ver. 12. As the Verb-substantive is understood, not expressed in the Original, why not to be understood as well in the perfect,

perfect, mind this; and if in any Thing you are of another Mind, God will reveal even that to you.

16. However as to what we are already come, we are to go on by the same Rule, and mind the same.

17. Be Imitators together of me, Brethren, and take notice of them that walk thus, according as you have us for a Pattern.

18. Since many walk, who I have told you often, and now also tell weeping, are Enemies to the Cross of Christ:

19. Whose End is Destruction, whose god the Belly, and Glory is in their Shame, who mind earthly Things.

20. For our Conversation is in Heaven, from which also we wait for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ:

21. Who will transform our mean Body, to become fashioned the same as his glorious Body, according to the Working whereby he is able even to make all Things subject to himself.

C H A P. IV.

SO then, my Brethren, beloved and longed for, my Joy and Crown, thus stand fast in the Lord, Beloved.

2. I beseech Euodias, and beseech Syntiche, to be of the same mind in the Lord.

3. And I also intreat thee, real Yoke-fellow, help the Women who strove with me, with Clement too, and the rest of my Fellow-workers, whose Names are in the Book of Life.

4. Rejoice through the Lord always: I say again, Rejoice.

5. Let your Gentleness be known by all: the Lord is near.

6. Be careful for Nothing, but in every Thing, by Prayer and Supplication, with Thanksgiving, let your Requests be made known to God.

7. And the Peace of God, which is above all Understanding, will keep your Hearts and Minds in Christ Jesus.

8. Further, Brethren, whatever Things are true, whatever venerable, whatever just, whatever pure, whatever lovely, whatever of good Report; if there is any Virtue, and if any Praise; think of these Things.

9. The Things which you have both learned and received, as also heard and seen in me, these do; so the God of Peace will be with you.

10. And I rejoiced through the Lord greatly, that now at length you have flourished again in having regard for me; to whom also you had regard, but had not opportunity.

11. Not that I speak as to Want; for I have learned to be contented in what I am.

12. Nay I know how to be low, as I do how to abound: in every Place, and in all Things, I am instructed, both to be full and to be hungry, both to abound and to want.

13. I am capable of all Things by Christ who strengthens me.

14. Nevertheless you have done well in partaking with my Affliction.

15. And know you also, Philipppians, that at the Beginning of the Gospel, when I was ful. as pres. Tense! One may be amazed that Interpreters have not considered this!

Ib. this] viz. the Mark, Ver. 14. and the Gr. Word is the same as our Translators have here rendered this; but I that for Distinction.

Ver. 16. as] belonging to same, as in Ver. 21. and rule and thing in the pres. Reddition are what was attained to, wherein is the Propriety of it?

Ib. come] so rendered, Mat. xii. 28. Luke xi. 20. 2 Cor. x. 14. 1 Thes. ii. 16. suitable to its Object the Mark, Ver. 14. whereas attained implies a Christian State, not here mentioned.

Ib. the same Rule] of divine Revelation, Ver. 15.

Ib. Rule] Mills puts as interpolated, on slight Grounds; Pr. 571. and says it crept from Gal. vi. 16. Pr. 1291. but then I suppose it would have been in the same Place, being there in Gr. before the Pronoun and Verb, here after both; and is finding a Word in another Text, which a few have omitted, sufficient to say it crept from thence?

Ver. 18. also] admitted in, says Mills, as commonly such Kind of Particles are, for Elegance or Emphasis, Pr. 485. but therein he may be doubly mistaken, since the Power of the Omission is first too weak, and next Paul used it rather for Fulness, or his own Style.

Ver. 21. to become—the same] said by Mills to be inserted from the Marg. to fill up the Sentence, being not with the Vulg. and a few; surely insufficient.

Ver. 2. Euodias—Syntiche] They seem to be two Women of Note, see v. 3. says Wall.

Ver. 3. And I] For Kai divers have Nai Yes; because, as is manifest to me, another nai follows. Itbisby only says of it, as of several others, it is no Matter which one reads, Exam. Lib. ii. 3. but he might better have said Nothing at all.

Ib. Yoke-fellow] Epaphroditus according to Hammond; as it seems also to me; but by others thought now unknown.

Ib. Clement] Two Epistles of his see in English among Wake's Genuine Epistles of the Apostolical Fathers, pr. 1693, and much improved 1710, 1719, &c. 17:7.

Ver. 4. always] not in the Ethiop. and from that only said by Mills to come from 1 Thes. v. 16. Pr. 1216.

Ver. 5. near] the proper Meaning and English of the Word, being also contemporaneous with Acts xvii. 27. and better expressed so Psa. cxix. 151.

Ver. 7. Minds] as in the com. Transl. here, and mine elsewhere, without your, according to the Genius of our Language, though the Gr. has it repeated.

Ver. 8. Further] not Finally doubtless.

Ib. and] omitted by four or five, perhaps to be like the other, but Mills is for the contrary, Pr. 485.

Ver. 10. to whom] not wherein for in which, to be referred to care in the com. Transl. instead of which the Original has a Verb.

Ib. had not opportunity] according to the Gr. but in the vulg. Lat. were busy.

Ver. 11. contented] So Seneca, who might be acquainted with our Apostle, What is it to be happy, but for a Man to content himself with his Lot, in a cheerful and quiet Resignation to the Appointments of God? L'Estrange Transl. p. 144.

Ver. 13. by Christ] with the Vulg. and a few in him, and so Mills calls Christ an Addition, Pr. 1207.

coming

coming away from Macedonia, no Church partook with me in the Matter of giving and receiving, excepting you alone:

16. Since even at Thessalonica, you sent both once and twice for my Need.

17. Not that I seek for a Gift, but seek for Fruit increasing on your Account.

18. However I have received all, and abound: am filled, having received of Epaphroditus the Things from you, a Savour of sweet Smell, a Sacrifice acceptable, well-pleasing to God.

19. But my God will supply every one of your Wants, according to his Riches in Glory, in Christ Jesus.

20. Now to God and our Father be Glory for evermore: so let it be.

21. Salute every Saint in Christ Jesus. The Brethren who are with me salute you.

22. All the Saints salute you, but especially they of Cesar's Family.

23. The Grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all: so let it be.

It was written to the Philippians from Rome, sent by Epaphroditus.

Ver. 18. of Epaphroditus] wanting but in one Copy, and yet Mills says it seems brought hither from Ch. ii. 25.

Ve. 19. in Christ Jesus] the same as in Ver. 21.

Ver. 20. for evermore] The Gr. has not and, and Beza says it is a Hebraism often explained by us for In eternum, viz. as here, by which accordingly I render it elsewhere.

Ver. 23. you all] Some have your Spirit, and Mills says rightly, Pr. 1207. but ours is the strongest Side, NOTES upon the Epistle of PAUL to the COLOSSIANS.

C H A P. I.

PAUL an Apostle of Jesus Christ by the Will of God, and Timothy a Brother;

2. To the Saints and faithful Brethren in Christ at Colossia. Grace be to you, and Peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3. We give thanks to God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, always praying for you :

4. As we have heard of your Faith in Christ Jesus, and Love to all the Saints ;

5. For the Hope of what is laid up for you in Heaven, which you heard of before by the Word of the gospel Truth :

6. That is come to you, according as into the whole World ; and is bearing fruit, even as in you, from the Day you heard it, and truly knew the Grace of God :

7. According as you heard from Epaphras our beloved Fellow-servant, who is a faithful Minister of Christ for you ;

8. Who also declared to us your Love in the Spirit.

9. For this reason too we, from the Day that we heard of it, do not cease praying for you, and desiring that you may be filled with the Knowledge of his Will, in all Wisdom and spiritual Understanding :

10. For you to walk worthy of the Lord in all that is pleasing, being fruitful in every good Work, and increasing in the Knowledge of God ;

11. Being empowered in all Power, according to his glorious Strength, for all Patience and Forbearance, with Joy ;

12. Giving thanks to the Father, who has made us fit for a Part of the Lot of the Saints in the Light ;

13. Who has delivered us from the Power of Darkness, and removed into the Kingdom of his Beloved Son :

14. In whom we have Redemption by his Blood, the Forgiveness of Sins ;

15. Who is the Similitude of the invisible God, the First-born of every Creature :

16. Since through him were created all Things in Heaven and on Earth, visible and invisible, whether Thrones, or Dominions, or Principalities, or Authorities : all Things were created by him, and for him.

17. And he is before all Things, and they all remain together through him.

18. He too is the Head of the Body, the Church : he who is the Beginning, the First-born from the Dead ; that he may be the First among all Things :

19. Because it seemed well that in him all Fulness should dwell ;

20. And by him to reconcile all Things to himself, making peace by the Blood of his Cross ; even by him, whether Things on Earth or in Heaven.

21. And you who were once alienated, and Enemies in Mind through wicked Works, he has now notwithstanding reconciled,

Ver. 2. and the Lord Jesus Christ] Erasmus and Mills thought added, because a small Number have it not, while a great Number have.

Ver. 4. As] Since for After being not the Meaning, and otherwise doubtful.

Ib. Faith] The Geneva Note, according to the old Protestant Doctrine is, For without Christ there is no faith to be saved by, but only a vaine opinion.

Ver. 5. of what] see Rom. viii. 24.

Ver. 6. fruit] Several add and increasing, but thought to be from Ver. 10.

Ib. even] the latter Mills excludes as not in at first, on the single Authority of the Vulg. Lat. Pr. 487. why not the former as well on that of our Eng.

Ver. 9. praying—desiring] Participles in the Gr.

Ver. 10. you] which being not with a few, Mills says is from 1 Thes. ii. 12. Pr. 635. but then it might be expected he you would also have been brought hither, to make that you may walk, though our Translators have confounded the Expressions into one ; however it looks too flighty for them to go thither for you, which does not alter the Sense, and is distinctly express'd in Gr. in the preceding Verse.

Ver. 14. by his Blood] Which several Codes are without, and Mills both in his Notes and Prolegomena takes to be from Eph. i. 7. but Whitby supposes that confirms it.

Ver. 18. of the Body] omitted but in the Ethiop. yet Mills says crept from elsewhere, Pr. 1216. not 332. as by Kuster.

Ver. 20. reconcile all Things] which staggered Wall, but Whitby expounds bringing Men again into Amity with Angels ; see likewise Eph. i. 10.

22. In the Body of his Flesh by Death, to present you holy, and without Blemish, and blameless before him;

23. If indeed you remain in the Faith, founded, and settled, and be not moved away from the Hope of the Gospel which you have heard, that has been preached in every Creature under Heaven, of which I Paul am made a Minister.

24. I now rejoice in my Sufferings for you, and fill up what is wanting of the Afflictions of Christ in my Flesh, for his Body, which is the Church;

25. Of which I am made a Minister, according to the Stewardship of God given me for you, to fulfil the Word of God;

26. The Mystery hid from Ages and Generations, but is now made manifest to his Saints;

27. To whom God would make known, what are the Riches of the Glory of this Mystery in the Gentiles; which is Christ in you, the Hope of Glory;

28. Whom we preach, warning every Man, and teaching every Man, in all Wisdom; that we may present them all perfect in Christ Jesus;

29. For which I also labour, striving according to his Working, that works in me powerfully.

CH A P. II.

FOR I would have ye know how great Striving I have for you, and those at Laodicea, and whoever have not seen my Face in the Flesh;

2. That their Hearts may be comforted, they being compacted in Love, and into all the Riches of the Assurance of Understanding, into the Knowledge of the Mystery of God, and of the Father, and of Christ;

3. In whom all the Treasures of Wisdom and Knowledge are hid.

4. And this I say, that Nobody may beguile you with enticing Speech.

5. For even though I am absent in the Flesh, yet am I with you in Spirit, rejoicing, and beholding your Order, and the Firmness of your Faith in Christ.

6. According as you have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, walk in him;

7. Rooted and built up in him, and confirmed in the Faith, as you have been taught, abounding in it with Thanksgiving.

8. See that none may be making prey of you, by Philosophy and vain Deceit, according to the Tradition of Men, according to the Elements of the World, and not according to Christ:

9. Since all the Fulness of the Godhead dwells bodily in him.

10. And you are full in him, who is the Head of all Principality and Authority:

11. In whom also you are circumcised with the Circumcision not made with Hands, in putting off the Body of the Sins of the Flesh, in the Circumcision of Christ;

12. Being buried with him in Baptism, in which you are also raised up together, by the Faith of God's Working, who raised him up from the Dead.

13. And you, that were dead in Offences, and the Uncircumcision of your Flesh, he has made alive with him, and forgiven you all Offences;

14. As also blotted out that against us, the Hand-writing of Ordinances, which was contrary to us, and took it away from the midst, nailing it to the Cross;

15. Putting off Principalities and Authorities, he shewed it openly with Boldness, triumphing over them on it.

Ver. 23. in every] according to Ver. 27. where the Gr. Prepositions are the same.

Ver. 24. my] before Sufferings, some leave out, therefore Mills writes has been added, Pr. 931. which have no necessary Coherence.

Ib. in my Flesh] i. e. wanting there, not of Christ's own Afflictions.

Ver. 2. may] not might with the present Tense.

Ib. they being compacted] as the Gender shews. Some have it Nom. instead of Gen. — is for — us, in the same Meaning, which Mills took for genuine; and I confess the Reason preponderates with me, that ours was to mend the Gr. Construction, it seeming unaccountable to be the contrary.

Ib. and into] The and has been omitted, peradventure as not being before the next into, yet Mills puts it inserted for Connection, Pr. 487. but then why not with the latter?

Ver. 5. the Firmness of your Faith in Christ] The Lat. of the two Copies mentioned at Phil. iii. 12. being, that which is wanting for the necessities of your Faith, Mills ingeniously conjectures that the Gr. stereoma was first corrupted to usterema, and then christon made chreian; but his Confession that those Copies are depraved, on which he lays so much Stress to alter the pres. Reading, may be put to a good Use.

Ver. 8. be making prey of] As I after see West. has made a prey of: for spoil is likely to be taken in another Sense.

Ib. Elements] Thus Erasm. and Ben. with the com. Lat. and so Ver. 20.

Ver. 9. Fulness] Not by Parts, writes Jerome on it at Isa. xi. as in the rest of the Saints; but according to their Gospel which the Nazarites read written in the Hebrew Tongue, All the Fountain of the Holy Spirit came down upon him.

Ver. 11. of the Sins] Mills from its Absence with some would make an Intrusion, though he presently doubts it, and others leave out Body.

Ver. 15. Putting off] as if clothed with them, as in Ver. 11. Ch. iii. 9.

Ib. shewed it openly] that he did so, not them, much less as if in the Original.

Ib. with Boldness] omitted in the com. Vers. the Verb signifying the other.

16. Let Nobody therefore judge you in Meat, or in Drink, or in respect of a Festival, or of the New-moon, or of the Sabbath :

17. Which are a Shadow of future Things ; but the Body of Christ.

18. Let none defraud you of the Prize, who would in Humility, and the Religion of Angels, by intruding into Things he has not seen, being vainly puffed up by his carnal Sense ;

19. And not holding the Head, from which all the Body, furnished and compacted, by Joints and Bonds, grows with the Growth of God.

20. If you are therefore dead with Christ, from the Elements of the World ; why, as those who live in the World, are you subject to Ordinances,

21. (Do not touch, nor taste, nor handle ;

22. Which are all to perish in using) according to the Commandments and Teachings of Men ?

23. Which Things indeed have the Speech of Wisdom, in Religion to the Will, and Humility, and without sparing the Body ; being not in any Credit to the satisfying of the Flesh.

C H A P. III.

IF you are therefore raised up with Christ, seek the Things above, where Christ sits at the right Hand of God.

2. Mind the Things above, not the Things on the Earth.

3. For you are dead, and your Life is hid with Christ in God.

4. When Christ our Life shall be made manifest, then you also will be made manifest with him in Glory.

5. Put to death therefore your Members on the Earth, Whoredom, Uncleaness, ill Affection, evil Desire, and Covetousness, which is Idolatry ;

6. For which Things the Wrath of God comes on disobedient Persons.

7. In which also you walked once, when you lived in them.

8. But now too put you away all the Things, Anger, Wrath, Mischief, Blasphemy, filthy Talking from your Mouth :

9. Do not lye one to another, as you have put off the old Person with his Deeds ;

10. And have put on the new, that is renewed in Knowledge, according to the Similitude of him who created him :

11. Where there is not Grecian and Jew ; Circumcision and Uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bound, free ; but Christ all Things, and in all.

12. Put on therefore, as the chosen ones of God, holy and beloved, Bowels of Mercies, Kindness, Humility, Meekness, Forbearance ;

13. Bearing with one another, and forgiving each other, if any one has a Complaint against any ; even as Christ forgave you ; so ye also :

14. But above all these Things Love, which is the Bond of Perfection.

15. And let the Peace of God rule in your Hearts, into which also you are called in one Body, and be thankful.

16. Let the Word of God dwell in you richly, in all Wisdom ; and do ye teach and admonish each other, with Psalms, Hymns and spiritual Poems, by Grace singing in your Heart to the Lord.

17. And let all, whatever ye do, in Word or in Work, be in the Name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him.

18. Wives, be subject to your Husbands, as is convenient in the Lord.

19. Husbands, love the Wives, and be not bitter to them.

20. Children, obey the Parents according to all Things : for this is well-pleasing to the Lord.

Ver. 18. who would] which is a Participle in the Gr. and must belong to none, cannot to Humility.

Ib. Religion] translated so in all other Places, viz. Acts xxvi. 5. James i. 26, 27. besides which worshipping of angels reads as if it was to worship Angels.

Ib. not seen] The mere Obscurity of the Place took up the Particle of Denial, Mills says, that being not in four or five Codes, &c. A little Matter !

Ver. 19. Bonds] *I*vest. ligaments.

Ver. 20. therefore] several omit.

Ver. 23. being not in any Credit] viz. the Things, to be clear.

Ver. 5. Covetousness, which is Idolatry] In the ancient Epistle of Polycarp (a Disciple of the Apostle John) to the Philippians is, Si quis non abstinuerit se ab avaritia, ab idololatria coinquinabitur (this Part being wanting in the Greek) If any one does not keep himself from Covetousness, he will be polluted by Idolatry.

Ver. 12. Mercies] Several Mercy, changed into the plur. by Mills's Notion because of that in Phil. ii. 1. Pr. 637. which is distinct from Bowels, and in another Case ; nay it is easy to see the Probability of Mercies being turned sing. to be like the following, while the contrary is utterly improbable.

Ver. 16. by Grace singing in your Heart] as the Words lie in the Original, and agreeable to Eph. v. 19. see also on Gal. i. 6.

Ver. 18. your] some want.

Ver. 20. according to all Things] according as the Lawfulness of them admit of it, and thus the Gr. not in all Things : for should Asa have obeyed his Mother, 1 Kings xv. 13. or Abaxiab his 2 Chr. xxii. 3. or Jonathan his Father, 1 Sam. xx. 31. or Samson his Parents ; Judges xiv. 3, 4 ?

Ib. to the Lord] A pretty many have in the Lord, which Mills reckons to be right, but Whithyours better ; nay in may seem taken from Eph. vi. 1. and might be designed to belong to obey, or it might come from Ver. 18. here.

21. Fathers,

21. Fathers, do not provoke your Children, that they may not be discouraged.

22. Servants, obey according to all Things the Masters after the Flesh; not in Eye-service, as pleasing Men, but in Simplicity of Heart, fearing God.

23. And all, whatsoever ye do, perform from the Mind, as to the Lord, and not to Men:

24. Because you know that you will receive from the Lord the Reward of the Inheritance; since you serve the Lord Christ.

25. But he who does injury, will receive for what injury he has done; and there is not Respect of Persons.

C H A P. IV.

MASTERS, yield what is just and equal to the Servants; as you know that you also have a Master in Heaven.

2. Continue in Prayer, and watch in the same with Thanksgiving:

3. Praying withal for us too, that God would open to us a Door of Speech, to speak the Mystery of Christ, for which I am bound;

4. That I may make it manifest, as I ought to speak.

5. Walk in Wisdom towards those without, redeeming the Time.

6. Let your Speech be always in Grace, seasoned as with Salt, that you may know how you ought to answer each one.

7. All the Things about me will Tychicus make known to you, a beloved Brother, and faithful Minister, and Fellow-servant in the Lord:

8. Whom I have sent to you for this same Thing, that he might know the Things concerning you, and comfort your Hearts;

9. With Onesimus, a faithful and beloved Brother, who is one of you. They will let you know all the Things here.

10. Aristarchus my Fellow-prisoner salutes you, and Mark the Nephew of Barnabas (concerning whom you have received Commandment; if he comes to you, receive him)

11. As also Jesus called Justus, that are of the Circumcision: these alone being my Fellow-workers for the Kingdom of God, who have been a Comfort to me.

12. Epaphras one of you, a Servant of Christ, salutes you, always striving for you in Prayers, that ye may stand perfect and full in all the Will of God.

13. For I testify in his behalf, that he has much Zeal for you, and those both in Laodicea and Hierapolis.

14. Luke the beloved Physician salutes you, as also Demas.

15. Salute the Brethren in Laodicea, with Nymphas, and the Church at his House.

16. And when this Epistle is read with you, appoint that it should be read too in the Church of the Laodiceans, and that you likewise should read that from Laodicea.

17. Moreover say to Archippus, Look to the Ministry which thou hast received in the Lord, that thou mayest fulfil it.

18. The Salutation of Paul with my own Hand. Remember my Bonds. Grace be with you: so let it be.

It was written to the Colossians from Rome, sent by Tychicus and Onesimus.

Ver. 22. according to all Things—after the Flesh] according to Mills a marginal Explanation, Pr. 1216. tho' the first is wanting but in one Copy and the Ethiop. and the latter only in the Eth.

Ib. fearing] as fearing.

Ver. 2. with Thanksgiving] This crept according to Mills from Ch. ii. 7. or Phil. iv. 6. where is Nothing of watching.

Ver. 3. of Speech] Mills turns off on the poor Authority of two Writers, Pr. 637. as at 1 Cor. i. 10.

Ib. Speech] as rendered Ver. 6.

Ver. 5. redeeming the Time] which those waste, and spend amiss.

Ver. 10. my Fellow-prisoner] wanting but in the Eth. Transf. yet Mills says it seems to have crept from Phil. 23, 24. Pr. 1216. Monstrous! as may be seen by looking there.

Ver. 12. Epaphras one of you] So that Paul might conceal to them he was a Prisoner, that some might not know it, but tell it to Philemon, Ver. 23.

Ver. 13. Zeal] Vulg. Labour; which Mills exclaims against (tho' his favourite Clar. and Ger. Copies have it) with, What need of an Explanation of the Meaning? for Labour is no other, Pr. 576. He representing the Lat. Translator of this Epist. indolent, and more unlearned than the rest, Pr. 573. for which I see Little or Nothing.

Ver. 16. that] not the epistle in Gr.

Ib. from Laodicea] Of the various Opinions what this was, may be read with Wake's Genuine Epistles, Ch. ix. and there being a very short one, as of Paul to the Laodiceans (published besides what he mentions singly in Eng.) he rejects it, saying it is made up of several Parcels of his Genuine Epistles, which I do not find to be so, having a Copy of it by me; see also at Ephes. on the Tit.

Ver. 18. with my own] not of me; and the Expression differs Nothing from that in 2 Thes. iii. 17. where it is thus translated, nor from the foregoing in 1 Cor. xvi. 21. where me is added in Ital.

NOTES upon the First Epistle of PAUL to the THESSALONIANS.

CHAP. I.

PAUL, Silvanus and Timothy, to the Church of the Thessalonians, in God the Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ. Grace be to you, and Peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

2. We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our Prayers;

3. And do not leave off to remember your Work of Faith, as also Labour of Love, and Patience of Hope, in respect of our Lord Jesus Christ, before God and our Father:

4. As we know, beloved Brethren, the Choice of you from God.

5. Since our Gospel was not to you in Word only, but also in Power, nay in the Holy Spirit, and in much Assurance; as you know what we were among you, for your sake.

6. Nay you became Imitators of us, and of the Lord; receiving the Word in much Affliction, with the Joy of the Holy Spirit.

7. So that you are become Patterns to all who believe, in Macedonia and Achaia.

8. For from you is sounded out the Word of the Lord, not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but also in every Place your Faith towards God is come forth, so that we have no Need to speak any Thing.

9. For they tell concerning us, what Kind of coming in we had to you, and how ye turned to God from Idols, to serve the Living and True God;

10. And to wait for his Son from Heaven, whom he raised up from the Dead, Jesus who delivered us from the Wrath to come.

CHAP. II.

FOR ye your selves, Brethren, know our coming in to you, that it was not in vain.

2. But even when we had suffered before, and had been abused, as you know, at Philippi, we were bold through our God, to speak to you the Gospel of God in much Striving.

3. For our Exhortation was not from Error, nor from Uncleanness, nor in Deceit.

4. But as we were proved by God, to be intrusted with the Gospel; so we speak, not as pleasing Men, but God who proves our Hearts.

5. For neither were we any when with flattering Speech, as you know, nor with a covetous Pretence, God is Witness.

6. Nor did we seek Glory of Men, whether from you or others; when we could have been burdensome, as the Apostles of Christ.

7. But we were gentle amongst you, as a Nurse cherishes her Children:

8. So being desirous of you, we were pleased to impart to you, not only the Gospel of God, but also our own Souls, because you were dear to us.

9. For you remember, Brethren, our Labour and Fatigue: since working Night and Day, not to burden any of you, we preached to you the Gospel of God.

10. You are Witnesses, and God, how holily, righteously, and unblameably we were to you that believe:

11. According as you know, how as a Father his own Children, we exhorted each one of you, and comforted;

12. And testified that you should walk worthy of God, who called you to his own Kingdom and Glory.

13. For this Cause also we leave not off giving thanks to God, because you received the Word you heard from us for God's, and did not receive the Word for Men's; but (as it is truly) God's Word, which also works in you that believe.

14. For you became Imitators, Brethren,

Tit. First] This according to Mills (and who has examined it more thoroughly?) was written not only the first of all Paul's Epistles that we have, but likewise of all the Books of the New Testament, about the vulgar Year of Christ 52. Prolegom. ad Init. see more particularly at the End of it.

Ver. 1. from God &c.] to the End of the Ver. the Vulg. and a few omit, and Whitby rationally supposes because of the like before.

Ver. 3. in respect of] being the Gr. Genitive Case,
VOL. II.

Ver. 7. are become] Wall, as I had put it before.

Ib. Patterns] with the Vulg. and some a Pattern.

Ver. 2. when] after being uncouthly redundant with before, and after that more so.

Ver. 4. proved] as after in this Ver.

Ver. 6. whether] the proper English, for which either, with or after, would have been better than neither.

Ver. 7. gentle] by the Vulg. and several little Children, or O little Children, but even Mills rejects it, of the Churches of God, that are in Judea in Christ Jesus; since you also suffered the same Things from your own Countrymen, even as they from the Jews:

15. Who killed both the Lord Jesus, and their own Prophets, and persecuted us; nay while they did not please God, were contrary to all Men;

16. And to fill up their Sins always, they forbade us to speak to the Gentiles, that these might be saved: thus Wrath is come upon them to the End.

17. Now we, Brethren, being deprived of you for the Space of a little while, in Presence, not in Heart, have endeavoured the more abundantly to see your Face with much Desire.

18. Therefore we would have come, I Paul indeed, both once and twice, but Satan hindered us.

19. For what is our Hope, or Joy, or Crown of Glorying? Are not even you before our Lord Jesus Christ in his Presence?

20. Because you are our Glory and Joy.

C H A P. III.

Therefore when we no longer bore, we thought well to be left at Athens alone;

2. And sent Timothy our Brother, a Minister of God, and our Fellow-worker in the Gospel of Christ, to establish you, and comfort you concerning your Faith;

3. That Nobody might be moved in these Afflictions: for you your selves know, that we are put to this.

4. For even when we were with you, we foretold you, that we should be afflicted; even as it came to pass, and you know.

5. For this cause, and when I no longer bore, I sent to know your Faith; lest the Tempter should any how have tempted you, and our Labour should be in vain.

6. But now as Timothy is come to us from you, and has declared well to us of your Faith and Love, and that you have good Remembrance of us always, desiring to see us, according as we also you;

7. For this cause we have been comforted Brethren, in you, in all our Affliction and Necessity, by your Faith:

8. Since now we live, if you stand fast in the Lord.

9. For with what Thanksgiving can we recompense God concerning you, in all the Joy that we rejoice with for you before our God;

10. Who pray Night and Day very highly to see your Faces, and to fit up the Things wanting of your Faith?

11. Now God himself and our Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ direct our Way to you.

12. And the Lord make you increase and abound in Love one to another, and to all, according as we also to you;

13. To establish your Hearts faultless in Holiness, before God and our Father, in the Presence of our Lord Jesus Christ with all his Saints.

C H A P. IV.

FURTHER therefore, Brethren, we intreat you, and exhort in the Lord Jesus, as you received from us, how you should walk, and please God, that you would abound more.

2. Since you know what Orders we gave you by the Lord Jesus.

3. For this is the Will of God, your being holy, for you to refrain from Whoredom;

4. That each of you may know how, to possess his own Vessel in Holiness and Honour;

5. Not in the Affection of Lust, according as the Gentiles who know not God;

6. That none may over-reach, and so get gain of his Brother in a Matter: because the Lord will be a Revenger for all these Things, as we have also said before to you, and testified.

7. For God has not called us to Unclean-ness, but into Holiness.

8. Wherefore he that rejects, does not reject Man, but God, and him who gives us his Holy Spirit.

9. But concerning brotherly Friendship, ye have no Need I should write to you; for ye your selves are taught by God to love one another.

Ver. 15. their own] Though Tertullian writes that Marcion added this, yet his own Prejudice in disputing perhaps made him think so; and it may be owing to the Vulgate that a few other Copies want it, for which also the Prejudice of Mills might induce him to imagine it added by some orthodox Person, Pr. 324, 683.

Ver. 1, 5. bore] Beza adds, hoc desiderium, this desire or longing, and vestri desiderium, the desire of you. Not forbear, nor could, which is particularly expressed in the Gr. by a Verb for that Purpose.

Ver. 2. and our Fellow-worker] Mills reckons came from Rom. xvi. 21. as wanting with four or five.

Ver. 4. even] the same in the Beginning of the Ver. as after.

Ver. 9. in] the same as twice in Ver. 7.

Ver. 10. Who pray] How obscure in our Language participially?

Ver. 6. for all these Things] by which it is plain to be understood; but our last Translators have put out Things that was before both in Tyndal's and the Gen. Bib. so making it obscure whether Things or Persons are to be understood.

Ver. 8. rejects] as translated Mark vi. 26. & vii. 9, 30. John xii. 48. which seems rightest.

10. And indeed ye do it to all the Brethren in all Macedonia: but we beseech you, Brethren, to abound more;

11. Moreover to endeavour to be quiet, and do your own Affairs, nay to work with your own Hands; as we ordered you:

12. That you may walk comely towards those without, and have Need of none.

13. And I would not have you be ignorant, Brethren, concerning those who are asleep, that you may not be sorry, even as others who have no Hope.

14. For if we believe that Jesus died, and rose up; so also those who are asleep through Jesus, God will bring with him.

15. For this we tell you by the Word of the Lord, that we who shall be left alive till his Coming, shall not be before those who are asleep:

16. Since the Lord himself will come down from Heaven, with Acclamation, with the Voice of the chief Angel, and with the Trumpet of God; when those dead in Christ will rise up first:

17. Next we who shall be left alive, shall be caught up along with them into the Clouds, to meet the Lord in the Air; and so shall be always with him.

18. So then comfort one another with these Words.

CHAP. V.

BUT concerning the Times and Seasons, Brethren, you have no Need I should write to you.

2. For ye your selves know thoroughly, that the Day of the Lord comes just as a Thief in the Night.

3. For when they shall say, Peace and Security, then sudden Destruction will come on them, as Pangs on a Woman with Child, and they will not escape.

4. But you, Brethren, are not in the Darkness, that the Day may catch you as a Thief.

5. You are all Children of the Light, and those of the Day; we are not of the Night, nor of Darkness.

6. Therefore indeed let us not sleep, even as others; but let us watch, and be sober.

7. For they that sleep do it in the Night, and such as are drunk are so at that Time.

8. But let us who are of the Day be sober, putting on the Breast-plate of Faith and Love, and for a Helmet the Hope of Salvation:

9. Since God has not put us for Wrath, but for obtaining Salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ;

10. Who died for us, that we might live together with him, whether we watch or sleep.

11. Therefore comfort one another, and build up one the other, even as you do.

12. Moreover we intreat you, Brethren, to know those who labour among you, as also rule over you in the Lord, and admonish you;

13. And to esteem them very highly in Love, for their Work. Be at peace among your selves.

14. We further beseech you, Brethren, admonish the Disorderly, comfort those of little Courage, support the Weak, be forbearing to all.

15. See that none render Evil for Evil to any one; but always pursue after Good, both for one another, and for all.

16. Be always joyful.

17. Leave not off praying.

18. At every Thing be thankful, for this is the Will of God in Christ Jesus to you.

19. Do not quench the Spirit.

20. Do not despise Prophecies.

21. Prove all Things, hold the Good.

22. Refrain from every Appearance of Wickedness.

23. Now the God of Peace himself sanctify you wholly; and let your entire Spirit, Soul and Body, be kept unblameable in the Presence of our Lord Jesus Christ:

Ver. 11. own] the latter Mills says crept from 1 Cor. iv. 12. some with the Vulg. being without it, Pr. 886.

Ver. 13. I would] In a pretty many Copies, &c. is we would, what Wonder when the Epistle was written in the Name of two others besides Paul, Ver. 1. and is accordingly here Ver. 10, 11, 14, 15. yet not without the sing. intermixed Ver. 9. Ch. iii. 5. & v. 1, 27. The Pretence of Mills I confess is ingenious (whose Capacity as well as Pains I admire) for the other, that it might be altered to I would, because I would not have you be ignorant was familiar to our Apostle; which however I find but four times, and is with we 2 Cor. i. 8.

Ver. 15. we who shall be left alive] Grotius says, Mundi totius exitium quasi de proximo imminens opperirentur, quod et ipsorum et sequentium Christianorum scripta apertissimum faciunt: They expected the Destruction of the whole World as if it were near approaching; which both their own Writings and those of the following Christians make very plain, producing this as the principal Text for it, De Veris. Relig. Chris. Lib. ii. 6. The latter I shall not deny; nor readily own the former, since Paul spoke it he says by the Word of the Lord, and declares otherwise, 2 Epist. ii. 2, 3. the like I find with Whitby since.

1b. be before] prevent being wrong, or very obscure.

Ver. 6. watch, and be sober] by West. awake, and keep awake.

Ver. 13. your selves] according to some it is them, by leaving out e, that it might be those mentioned before, as is apparent enough; see also Mills Pro. 578. and Eslus in Whit. Exam.

Ver. 15. both] a small Number leave out, if worth mentioning with Whitby.

Ver. 17. Leave not off praying] or more strictly to the Gr. Pray not leaving off, which is not to pray without ceasing, and wants the forced Interpretation of being always prepared for it; but is not to desist from the Practice of that Duty: so the same Word in Ch. i. 3. & ii. 13. Rom. i. 9. the rest of the Places where it is.

Ver. 23. Spirit] By this, as distinct from Soul, may be understood the Mind, or the Disposition of the Soul.

24. He

24. He is faithful that has called you, who also will perform that.

25. Brethren, pray for us.

26. Salute all the Brethren with a holy Kiss.

27. I charge you by the Lord, that the Epistle may be read to all the holy Brethren.

28. The Grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you: so let it be.

The first to the Thessalonians was written from Athens.

Ib. in the Presence] the same as in Chap. iii. 13. though rendered so differently by our Translators, and both wrong, unless Christ was to come to those Thessalonians.

Ver. 24. perform that] namely the sanctifying them wholly in Ver. 23. and according to Beza.

Ver. 27. holy] three or four Copies and a Verf. are without, and Mills says, if it were not for the Consent of Copies, he should hold it for an Insertion, Pr. 1395.

Subscr. Athens] As the ιστορικόν to Paul's Epistles, were confessedly not put by himself, but by others afterwards; so Mills and Whitby shew this was not written from Athens, but at Corinth, as Ham. also supposes; being after the Return of Timothy, Ch. iii. 6. Acts xviii. 1, 5. I suppose his being sent from Athens occasioned the Mistake, Ch. iii. 1, 2. and not consulting Acts.

NOTES upon the Second Epistle of PAUL to the THESSALONIANS.

CHAP. I.

PAUL, Silvanus and Timothy, to the Church, of the Thessalonians, in God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

2. Grace be to you, and Peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3. We ought to give thanks to God always for you, Brethren, as it is deserving; since your Faith, increases exceedingly, and the Love of each one of you all to one another abounds.

4. So that we our selves glory of you in the Churches of God, for your Patience and Faith, in all your Persecutions and Afflictions which you bear :

5. A Manifestation of the righteous Judgment of God, that you may be counted worthy of his Kingdom, for which also you suffer.

6. Forasmuch as it will be righteous of God, to recompense Affliction to those that afflict you;

7. And Ease with us to you who are afflicted, in the Revelation of the Lord Jesus from Heaven, with his powerful Angels,

8. In flaming Fire, rendering Vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ :

9. Who will be punished with the Judgment of everlasting Destruction, from the Face of the Lord, and from the Glory of his Might;

10. When he shall come to be glorified in his Saints, and to be wonderful in all who believe (since our Testimony among you was believed) at that Day.

11. For which we also pray always concerning you, that our God would make you worthy of the Calling, and fulfil all the good Pleasure of the Goodness, and the Work of Faith in Power :

12. That the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ may be glorified in you, and you in him ; according to the Grace of our God, and of the Lord Jesus Christ.

CHAP. II.

AND we intreat you, Brethren, by the Coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and our assembling together in him,

2. That you would not quickly be moved from the Sense, nor be troubled, neither by Spirit, nor by Word, nor by Letter, as of us, as that the Day of Christ is near at hand :

3. Let none deceive you after any Manner ; since not unless there comes a falling away first, and the Man of Sin be revealed, the Son of Destruction :

Tic. Second] so computed too of all that our Apostle wrote now extant, and while he was at Corinth, Acts xviii. 11. being also the second of the New Testament Writings.

Ver. 2. our] Mills fancied this crept from the foregoing Verse on weak Grounds, Pr. 488.

Ver. 6. Forasmuch as] Vulg. If notwithstanding, ill and absurdly, says Mills, Pr. 579. and though he adds, they mended it before the Times of Hilary the Deacon, in the 4th Century ; yet it is in that Transf. now, even without Mention of any different Reading in the Lovain Edit.

Ver. 7. from Heaven] See at Mat. xxiv. 29, 30.

Ver. 8. Christ] Some omit.

Ver. 9. the Judgment of] omitted in our com. Transf.

Ver. 10. believe] with divers have believed.

Ib. since] meaning he said so (to comfort and encourage them) since they were such as believed.

Ver. 11. make you worthy] so the former Eng. Translations.

Ver. 12. Christ] the former some omit.

Ver. 1. by] Ham. says it will be best rendered concerning, and then Wall insinuates that the Original should have another Word for it ; but what he says intimates better that ours is not to be so rendered, and it has Authority enough to keep its Place.

Ver. 2. from the Sense] Wall writes, Nūc with St. Paul does frequently signify the Sense or Meaning of a Thing, as 1 Cor. xiv. 15, &c. and τὸ νόον can never signify the Mind, Crit. N. Whitby paraphrases it from the Sentence (Ham. your Opinion) and the Prep. is certainly from, not in.

Ib. Christ] but the Lord by some, the Day of the Lord being a Scripture Term, tho' Mills has put it among his right Readings, Pr. 684.

Ver. 3. a falling away] from Primitive Christianity.

Ib. the Man of Sin] The Pope particularly, with whom it so much agrees, and must be or continue to be in the latter Times, Ver. 2, 8. Hammond's expounding it of Simon Magus and the Gnosticks, seems little and weak, as Whitby's does of the Jews, unapplicable and wild.

Ib. Sin] by a few Iniquity.

4. Who is opposite, and exalted on high above all that is called God, or worshipped; so that he as God, sits in the Temple of God, shewing that himself is God.

5. Do not ye remember, that while I was with you, I told you these Things?

6. And now ye know what with-holds, for him to be revealed in his own Time.

7. For the Mystery of Iniquity works already; only one now with-holds, till he is out of the Way.

8. And then will the unrighteous one be revealed, whom the Lord will consume by the Spirit of his Mouth, and abolish by the Appearance of his Presence;

9. Him whose Presence is according to the Working of Satan, with all Power, Signs, and Wonders of Falsehood;

10. As likewise with all Deceit of Unrighteousness in those who perish, because they did not receive the Love of the Truth, that they might be saved.

11. And for this reason God will send them the Working of Error, for them to believe Falsehood;

12. That they may all be condemned who do not believe the Truth, but are pleased with Unrighteousness.

13. But we ought to give thanks to God always for you, Brethren, beloved by the Lord; since God chose you from the Beginning to Salvation, in the Sanctification of the Spirit, and Belief of the Truth:

14. To which he called you by our Gospel, to the obtaining of the Glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.

15. Therefore indeed, Brethren, stand fast, and hold the Things delivered which you have been taught, whether by Word or our Epistle.

16. Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God even our Father; who has loved us, and given everlasting Comfort, and good Hope, by Grace;

17. Comfort your Hearts, and establish you in every good Word and Work.

C-H A. P. III.

FURTHER, Brethren, pray for us, that the Word of the Lord may run, and be glorified, even as with you;

2. And that we may be delivered from absurd and wicked Men: for all have not Faith.

3. But the Lord is faithful, who will establish you, and keep from Wickedness.

4. Nay we are confident in the Lord about you, that ye both do, and will do, the Things which we order you.

5. So the Lord direct your Hearts into the Love of God, and into patient Waiting for Christ.

6. However we order you, Brethren, in the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that you should be withdrawn from every Brother who walks disorderly, and not according to that delivered, which he received from us.

7. For ye your selves know, how ye should imitate us; since we were not disorderly among you:

8. Neither did we eat Victuals with any one for nothing; but did work with Labour and Fatigue, Night and Day, not to burden any of you:

9. Not that we have no Authority; but that we may make our selves a Figure for you to imitate us.

10. For even when we were with you, this we ordered you, that if any one would not work, neither should he eat.

11. For we hear some walk among you disorderly, not working, yet being busy.

12. Now such we order, and exhort, by our Lord Jesus Christ, that they should work with Stillness, and eat their own Victuals.

Ver. 4. as God] omitted by some, and Mills thinks should be, Pr. 684. his Reason he gives in the Note, because it is not extant in so many ancient Copies and Writers, viz. six or seven of the former, which appear too attendant on the Vulg. and seven or eight of the latter, of which see on 1 Cor. i. 10.

Ver. 7. one now with-holds] The Heathen Roman Empire, as generally interpreted by the Primitive Writers and Protestants; see Fulke's and Whitby's Notes on Ver. 6. and Wall's Pref. to Crit. Notes, p. 43.

Ver. 8. the Lord] the Vulg. and some add Jesus.

Ib. Appearance] turned every where else appearing by our Translators, namely 1 Tim. vi. 14. 2 Tim. i. 10. & iv. 1, 8. Tit. ii. 13.

Ver. 9. of Falsehood] belonging to the Power, and Signs, as well as Wonders.

Ver. 11. And] according to Mills prefix'd by Somebody for Connection, Pr. 488. Somebody indeed! for almost all to follow him; and who likelier than Paul himself?

Ib. will send] sends with a few, yet preferred for genuine by Mills, but quoted wrong, Pr. 683.

Ib. send] permit to be sent, according to Whitby, &c.

Ver. 17. Comfort] Vulg. Lat. Exhort, though its Noun is there turned Comfort in the Ver. before; see Mil. Prol. 579. The Rhemists, to smooth it up, write, This Word of exhorting (how could exhort be otherwise? if that is proper) implieth in it (not out of it surely) comfort and consolation (which two are of the very same Meaning.)

Ver. 1. Further] not Finally, either in the Meaning of the Gr. Word, or Matters of the Epistle.

Ver. 4. order you] Mills will have the you added to finish the Sentence, Pr. 488. when it is not at the End in the Gr. How came he not to say it crept from Ver. 6?

Ver. 6. our] is added by the Verdict of Mills, and that only because the two Copies mentioned at Col. ii. 5. have it not, Pr. 488.

13. And

13. And as for you, Brethren, be not slothful in doing well.

14. Nay if any one does not obey our Word by the Epistle, note that Man, and keep not company with him, that he may be ashamed :

15. Yet do not esteem as an Enemy, but admonish him as a Brother.

16. Now the Lord of Peace himself give you Peace, always in every Manner. The Lord be with you all.

17. The Salutation of Paul with my own Hand, which is the Sign in every Epistle : so I write.

18. The Grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all : so let it be.

The second to the Thessalonians was written from Athens.

Ver. 16. Manner] A few have Place, by topo for trope, which tho' Gretius likes, yet not Mills, albeit the Vulg. has so.

NOTES

NOTES upon the First Epistle of PAUL to TIMOTHY.

C H A P. I.

PAUL, an Apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the Command of God our Saviour, and of the Lord Jesus Christ our Hope.

2. To Timothy, a real Child in the Faith. Grace, Mercy, Peace be from God our Father, and Christ Jesus our Lord :

3. According as I besought thee to abide at Ephesus, when I went into Macedonia ; that thou mightest order some not to teach otherwise ;

4. Nor to give heed to Fables and endless Pedigrees, which yield Questions, more than godly Management that is in Faith.

5. But the End of the Precept is Love, from a pure Heart, a good Conscience, and unfeigned Faith :

6. Which some missing of, are turned aside into vain Talk ;

7. Who would be Teachers of the Law, not understanding either the Things they speak, or concerning which they affirm.

8. However we know that the Law is good, if any one uses it lawfully ;

9. As he knows this, that the Law is not put for a righteous Person, but for lawless and unruly ones, for the Impious and Sinners, for the Unholy and Profane, for them who beat a Father or Mother, for Murderers,

10. For Whoremongers, Buggerers, Makers of Slaves, Liars, forsworn Persons, and any other Thing if opposite to sound Teaching ;

11. According to the glorious Gospel of the Blessed God, which I am intrusted with.

12. And I am thankful to Christ Jesus our Lord, who strengthened me ; since he esteemed me faithful, and put into the Ministry :

13. Whereas I was before a Blasphemer, Persecutor, and Doer of Damage ; but obtained Mercy, since I acted ignorantly in Unbelief :

14. So the Grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant, with Faith and Love in Christ Jesus.

15. It is a faithful Saying, and worthy of all Acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the World to save Sinners ; of whom I am a chief one.

16. But for this reason I obtained Mercy, that in me first Jesus Christ might shew all Forbearance, for a Pattern to those who should afterwards believe on him to everlasting Life.

17. Now to the King of Eternity, the Incorruptible, Invisible, only Wise God, be Honour and Glory, for evermore : so let it be.

18. This Order I commit to thee, Child Timothy, according to the Prophecies which went before about thee, that thou by them mayest make a good War :

19. Since thou hast Faith, and a good Conscience ; which as some have cast away, they have made shipwreck concerning Faith :

20. Of whom is Hymeneus, and Alexander ; whom I have delivered to Satan, that they may learn not to blaspheme.

Tit. Epistle] In the vulg. Year of Christ 65 written, by Mills's Proleg. as also by both Usher and Pearson.

Ver. 4. Management] For edifying Mills thought is without all Faith of MS. Copies, tho' the Vulg. has it.

Ib. so do in the com. Transf. Whit. objects to, as making Timothy to be at Ephesus then, which is uncertain, Pres.

Ver. 5. But] of which see Gall's Essay, p. 682.

Ver. 6. vain Talk] so vain talkers, Tit. i. 10. nor does the Gr. denote jangling.

Ver. 10. Buggerers] so the Gen. Vers. it being but one Word in Gr.

Ver. 14. exceeding] One Copy and two Versions being without this Augment, probably by a Lapse of the Writer, or the Translators thinking of Nothing suitable for it in those Languages ; yet Mills on so weak Grounds deems ours a Marginal Gloss.

Ver. 15. I am a chief one] So Hermas gives himself a very bad Character, Shepherd, B. 2. Com. 3. and two of the Sibyls speak grievously ill of themselves, B. 2, & 7 at the End.

Ver. 16. first] Mills vehemently suspected, he says, this was put in, for the Clermont Copy had it not, Pr. 490.

Ver. 17. Wise] crept, says Mills, from Rom. xvi. 27. since four Transf. and about as many Copies want it ; but look in Whit. Exam.

Ver. 18. by them] is, Mills declares, of some Scholiast, not of our Apostle, Pr. 1217. when left out of none but the Eth. Transf.

CHAP. II.

I EXHORT therefore, that first of all there may be made Supplications, Prayers, Intercessions, Thanksgivings for all Men;

2. For Kings, and all who are in Superiority; that we may live a quiet and still Life, in all Piety and Veneration.

3. For this is well and acceptable, before God our Saviour:

4. Who is willing all Men should be saved, and come to the Knowledge of the Truth.

5. For there is one God; and one Mediator of God and Men, the Man Christ Jesus:

6. Who gave himself a Ransom for all, a Testimony in their respective Times:

7. To which I am put a Preacher, and an Apostle (I speak the Truth in Christ, do not lye) a Teacher of the Gentiles, in Faith and Truth.

8. I would therefore have Men pray in every Place, lifting up holy Hands, without Anger and Reasoning:

9. And Women in like Manner to dress themselves in a decent Habit, with Bashfulness and Sobriety; not in Curls, or Gold, or Pearls, or costly Apparel;

10. But, what is becoming Women professing Godliness, by good Works.

11. Let a Wife learn in Stillness, in all Subjection:

12. But I do not permit a Wife to teach, nor to have Authority over a Husband, but to be in Stillness.

13. For Adam was framed first, afterwards Eve.

14. And Adam was not deceived, but the Wife being deceived was in the Transgression.

15. Yet she will be saved by breeding Children, if they remain in Faith, Loye and Holiness, with Sobriety.

Ver. 2. Veneration] being only besides in Ch. iii. 4. Tit. ii. 2. where it is translated gravity in the com. Bib. see likewise Gell, Es. p. 566.

Ver. 4. is willing] what the Gr. Word signifies, ill express'd by will.

Ver. 6. a Testimony] as the Gr. is, and according to Isa. lv. 4. But what due time was the foregoing to be testified in, when the Apostle testified it now?

Ib. their respective Times] The Gr. being plural. Thus Christ not only died for all Persons, but spiritually testifies to them, at the Times of each one's Call or Visitation, what belongs to their being saved: so performing the two Parts of his Mediatorship, or Reconciliation of God and Man, according also to 1 John ii. 1, 2, 3.

Ver. 7. put] not ordained.
Ib. in Christ] lacking in thirteen MSS. with five Verf. &c. and supposed by Estius to be from Rom. ix. 1. as if the Apostle must not use the same Expression, which is so very common in Scripture.

Ver. 8. Reasoning] I find not that the Greek ever bears the Sense of Doubting, but always imports in the New Testament, either inward Reasonings, or tumultuating Thoughts, writes Whitby.

Ver. 9. On which Baxter in his Paraphrase, as if to contradict it, And for Women I forbid them not all Ornaments, especially [mind] when they come to the sacred Assemblies.

Ib. Bashfulness] Some of the common Books have shamefastness, though our Translators seem not to allow of Apostrophes, others shamefacedness, but the former Editions of the pres. Transf. had it shamefastness, how improper soever that may be.

Ib. Curls] broidered, which is now in our Books, and signifies embroidered, as figured Needle-work is termed, appears to be a Corruption of the Printers (but what is that the better to the Readers who know no other?) for the Editions of our last Transf. in 1613, 1624, and 1634 have broided, as the Genuea Verf. broyded, the Bishops Transf. braided; with Tynd. and Coverd. the like, and in the Marg. of our present is plaited, the Meaning of the other. The Gr. Word is plural, and occurs only here. So wretchlessness in the 17th Article is erroneously (as Johnf. in Dict. observes) for recklessness, carelessness.

Ver. 11. Wife] as she is to be in all Subjection, and to have Children, Ver. 15. agreeable to the like, 1 Cor. xiv. 34, 35. excepting that this is spoken of her Behaviour in the Family: and our Translators render the same Word wife and wives three times in the next Chap. viz. Ver. 2, 11, 12. and elsewhere; since I know of no other Gr. Word for Wife used in any Book of the New Test. besides once in 1 Pet. iii. 7.

Ib. Stillness] accordingly translated quietness in the com. Bib. 2 Thes. iii. 12. and the Adjective from it peaceable in this Chap. Ver. 2. and quiet, 1 Pet. iii. 4. where it is only; as likewise its Verb is rested, Luke xxiii. 56. ceased, Acts xxi. 14. and be quiet, 1 Thes. iv. 11.

Ver. 12. Husband] as in 1 Cor. xiv. 35. and the Chap. following this; being also the only Gr. Word found in Scripture for it.

Ver. 15. by breeding Children] after Ham. by bearing the Messias, according to Whitby through the Sorrow of Child-bearing; but they refute one another's, with what might be added, besides both making [if] useless as belonging to the Children, which is sufficiently denoted in the Gr. compound Word; and who will believe Ham. that Children must have a Verb singular? Our Translators mistranslating the Prep. in needs no Remark. And how unforced is the Sense, for the Virtue of Children from a Mother's good Education, to contribute to her Salvation, and so her bearing them, of which that Education is an Effect; and that the Apostle should write thus, to promote it! On the other hand how insignificant (if not absurd) is it for they to mean she? For what Consequence is either her Salvation, or Virtue, of her Child-bearing?

C H A P. III.

FAITHFUL is the Saying, If any one longs for the Office of Overseer, he covets a good Work.

2. An Overseer then must be unblameable, the Husband of one Wife, serious, sober, decent, hospitable, ready to teach;

3. Not given to Wine, not a Striker, not for filthy Gain, but gentle, not quarrelsome, not covetous;

4. One who rules his own Family well, having the Children in Subjection with all Veneration;

5. (But if any one does not know how to rule his own Family, how shall he take care of the Church of God?)

6. Not lately converted; lest being puffed up, he should fall into the Condemnation of the Devil.

7. Nay he must also have a good Testimony from those without; lest he should fall into Reproach, and the Snare of the Devil.

8. Ministers in like Manner should be venerable, not Double-speakers, not addicted to much Wine, not for filthy Gain;

9. Such as have the Mystery of the Faith in a pure Conscience;

10. And let these too be proved first; afterwards let them minister, if they are blameless;

11. The Women in like Manner should be venerable, not Slanderers, sober, faithful in all Things.

12. Let the Ministers be the Husbands of one Wife, ruling the Children and their own Families well.

13. For those who minister well obtain for themselves a good Degree; and much Boldness in the Faith that is in Christ Jesus.

14. These Things I write to thee, as I hope to come to thee soon;

15. But I should delay, that thou mayest know how thou shouldest be conversant in the House of God, which is the Church of the Living God, the Pillar and Settlement of the Truth.

16. And confessedly the Mystery of Piety is great; that God has been manifested in Flesh, justified in Spirit, has appeared to Angels, been preached among the Gentiles, believed on in the World, received up into Glory.

C H A P. IV.

NOW the Spirit says expressly, that in the latter Times some will depart from the Faith, and give heed to seducing Spirits, and Doctrines of Devils;

2. Through the Hypocrisy of false Speakers, who have their own Conscience seared,

3. Who bid not to marry, to refrain from Meats which God has created to be received with Thanksgiving, by those who believe and know the Truth.

4. Since every Creature of God is good, and Nothing to be rejected, if it be received with Thanksgiving.

5. For it is sanctified by the Word of God, and Intercession.

6. By laying down these Things to the Brethren, thou wilt be a good Minister of Jesus Christ, nourished up in the Words of Faith, and of good Doctrine, which thou hast followed.

Ver. 2. one Wife] at the same Time; but as Polygamy was not allowed or used among Christians, Ham. supposes it is meant of divorcing a Wife, and taking another, which Christ forbade, Mat. v. 32. and is corroborated by Ch. v. 9.

Ib. sober] this Gr. being so translated, Ver. 11. Tit. ii. 2. and is no where else.

Ver. 3. not for filthy Gain] not in several Copies and Versions, and might be taken from Tit. i. 7. especially as here it is synonymous to not covetous.

Ib. gentle] so rendered Tit. iii. 2. James iii. 17. 1 Pet. ii. 18.

Ib. not covetous] This is also the second of the eleven Commandments which Zoroastres gave for the Priests in particular, Lord's Religion of the Perses, in 4to. p. 32.

Ver. 6. Condemnation] Hence it is thought the Devil fell through Pride.

Ver. 8. Ministers] according as translated Ch. iv. 6. and its Kindred-word ministry, Ch. i. 12.

Ver. 11. The Women] that are Ministers, Ver. 8. as the Context shews.

Ver. 15. the Pillar &c.] This Wesley, following no Copy, but following the audacious Author of the New Version in 1729, has removed, and joined thus to the next, The mystery of godliness is the pillar and ground of the truth, and a great Thing; for which the mystery of godliness should properly be at least four Words back in the Original, and begin with a Conjunction, besides the Alteration of the Points.

Ver. 16. God] For this some have which; but though Mills does not join with them, the Vulg. Lat. and Clement Copy, that so often, even separately guide his Judgment, both have it; with the Syriack and Ethiopic Versions, as also Ambrose, Hilary, and the Scholast under the Name of Jerome, which four or five when not so conjoined he particularly follows in other Places.

Ver. 1. and] Mills would sling out, through his partial Deference to a few, Pr. 490.

Ver. 2. This Bp. Jewel illustrates in an Epist. to Q. Eliz. before his great Defence of the Apology of the Church of Eng. thus, that have given themselves over into reprobate and wilful Minds, and have despised the Wisdom of God within themselves.

Ib. Through the Hypocrisy &c.] according to the Gr. Beza, Doddr. &c.

Ib. seared] which is burnt with a hot iron; so that the Addition in the com. Transl. is both superfluous and improper, besides unsuitable to conscience.

Ver. 3. bid] which will connect with to refrain.

Ver. 5. the Word of God] in the Liberty of the Gospel.

Ver. 6. laying down] as it signifies (but not put in remembrance) and is translated in the other Place where it is, Rom. xvi. 4.

Ib. followed] as rendered Mark xvi. 17. and not elsewhere attained.

7. But

7. But profane and old Women's Fables, refuse, and exercise thy self in Piety.

8. For bodily Exercise is profitable but little; whereas Piety is profitable for all Things, since it has the Promise both of the present Life, and of the future.

9. The Saying is faithful, and worthy of all Acceptation.

10. For we both labour and are reproached for this; because we hope in the Living God, who is the Saviour of all Men, especially of the Believers.

11. These Things order, and teach.

12. Let none despise thy Youth; but be a Figure of the Believers, in Speech, in Conversation, in Love, in Spirit, in Faith, in Chastity.

13. Till I come, give heed to Reading, to Exhortation, to Doctrine.

14. Do not neglect the Gift in thee, which was given thee by Prophecy, with the putting on of the Hands of the Elders.

15. Study these Things, be in them; that thy Progress may be manifest among all.

16. Give heed to thy self, and to the Doctrine, remain in them: for doing this, thou wilt both save thy self, and those who hear thee.

CHAP. V.

AN Elder do not rebuke, but exhort as a Father, the Younger as Brothers;

2. The elder Women as Mothers, the younger as Sisters, in all Chastity.

3. Respect Widows, who are poor ones.

4. But if any Widow has Children or Grandchildren, let them learn first to be pious at their own Home, and to render Requital to their Parents: for this is good and acceptable before God.

5. Now she who is a poor Widow, and left alone, hopes in God, and abides in Supplications and Prayers, Night and Day.

6. Whereas she that is wanton, is dead while alive.

7. And these Things order, that they may be unblameable.

8. But if any one does not provide for his own, and especially for those of the Family, he has denied the Faith, and is worse than an Unbeliever.

9. Let a Widow be chosen in not younger than sixty Years old, who was the Wife of one Man;

10. Testified of by good Works, if she has nourished Children, if received the Strangers, if washed the Saints Feet, if assisted the Afflicted, if followed after every good Work.

11. But the younger Widows refuse: for when they become wanton against Christ, they would marry;

12. Having Condemnation, because they have abolished the first Faith;

13. And withal learn to be lazy, going about to Houses; nay not only lazy, but also Tattlers, and busy, speaking Things not fit.

14. I would therefore have the younger Women marry, breed Children, managed a Family, give no Occasion to an Opposer to rail for nothing.

15. For some are already turned aside after Satan.

16. If any believing Man or Woman has Widows, let him assist them, and not burden the Church, that it may assist such as are poor Widows.

17. Let the Elders who rule well, be counted worthy of double Honour, especially they that labour in the Word and Doctrine.

18. For the Scripture says, The Ox that treads out the Corn thou shalt not muzzle; and, The Workman deserves his Reward.

Ver. 12. in Spirit] not with Some, and Mills says, strange as it is, crept from 2 Cor. vi. 6. Prol. 637.

Ver. 14. Elders] as frequently elsewhere.

Ver. 15. be in them] directly to the Gr. and as in the next Verse.

Ver. 16. remain in them] Mills imagines was first written to the Marg. and at length passed into the Context; why? Because the Eth. Trans. is without it.

Ver. 2. in all Chastity] entirely with decent Words and Behaviour.

Ver. 4. Grandchildren] according to the Context and Gr. and particularly to Parents following.

Ib. good and] One Quarter of the Copies, by Wetsten's Note, leave this out, and we may doubt, tho' not believe (but Mills says scarce doubt) it crept in from Ch. ii. 3.

Ver. 6. is wanton] as translated in its other Place James v. 5.

Ver. 7. they] the Children and Grandchildren; Ver. 4. though Doddr. writes that some would refer this to the Widows, which the Gender disallows, and he father either to the Deacons, or to Timothy's Hearers in general.

Ver. 9. of one] not divorced from one, and married to another while the former was living; see Ch. iii. 2.

Ver. 10. the Strangers] who came thither to preach the Gospel.

Ver. 11. would marry] not will actually, as the fut. Tense: by Wesley, want to marry.

Ver. 14. for nothing] omitted in the com. Eng.

Ver. 16. Man or] A few being without this, Mills puts it down for prefixed by some Reader; but a few also leave out or Woman, having Man.

Ib. let him] or such a one singular, and as the Concord of Grammar requires with or: so Num. vi. 2, 3. and elsewhere in the Law.

Ib. poor] In the Gr. Phrase truly a Widow, as at Ver. 3, 5. and here; signifies clearly to me a poor Widow, as Widows were frequently poor; like other such Idioms in different Languages, which will not bear to be translated strictly, without being absurd or unintelligible. So we say, such a one is a right—viz. according to the general Character of that which is mentioned.

19. Against an Elder do not receive an Accusation, unless by two or three Witnesses.

20. Convict those who sin before all, that the rest may be in Fear.

21. I charge thee before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the chosen Angels, to observe these Things without Prejudice, and do Nothing according to Partiality.

22. Put Hands quickly on Nobody, nor partake of others Sins : keep thy self chaste.

23. Drink Water no longer, but use a little Wine, by reason of thy Stomach and thy frequent Weaknesses.

24. The Sins of some Men are evident before, going before to Judgment ; but of some too they follow after.

25. In like Manner also good Works are evident before ; and those that are otherwise cannot be hid.

C H A P. VI.

WHATEVER Servants are under the Yoke, let them esteem their own Masters worthy of all Honour ; that the Name of God, and the Doctrine may not be spoken evil of.

2. And let those who have believing Masters not despise them, because they are Brethren ; but serve the rather, because they are believing and beloved, who receive the Benefit : these Things teach, and exhort to.

3. If any one teaches otherwise, and does not come to sound Words, those of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the Doctrine that is according to Piety ;

4. He is puffed up, and knows Nothing, but is distempered concerning Questions and Contests about Words ; from which come Envy, Quarrelling, Reviling, wicked Imaginations,

5. Wranglings of Men of corrupt Mind, and destitute of the Truth, who suppose a Révenue to be Piety : depart from such.

6. But Piety with Sufficiency is a great Revenue.

7. For we having brought Nothing into the World, it is evident that we cannot carry any Thing out.

8. So while we have Food and Raiment, let these be sufficient for us.

9. Whereas those who would be rich, fall into Temptation, and a Snare, with many foolish and hurtful Desires, which sink Men into Destruction and Ruin.

10. For the Love of Money is the Root of all Evils ; which some longing for, have erred from the Faith, and pierced themselves through with many Sorrows.

11. But thou, O Man of God, flee from these Things ; and pursue Righteousness, Piety, Faith, Love, Patience, Meekness.

12. Strive with the good Striving of Faith, take hold of everlasting Life ; to which also thou art called, and hast made a good Profession before many Witnesses.

13. I order thee before God, who made all Things live, and Christ Jesus, who testified a good Confession to Pontius Pilate ;

14. For thee to observe the Commandment, unstained, unblameable, till the Appearance of our Lord Jesus Christ :

15. Which in his own Times he will shew, the Blessed and only Powerful One, the King of those that reign, and Lord of such as have dominion ;

16. Who only has Immortality, and dwells in inaccessible Light, whom no Man has seen, nor can see ; to whom be everlasting Honour and Might : so let it be.

17. Order those that are rich in the present World, not to be high-minded, nor to hope on uncertain Riches, but in the Living God, who affords us richly all Things for Enjoyment ;

18. To act well, to be rich in good Works, to be distributing well, ready to impart ;

Ver. 19. unless by two or three Witnesses] Mills thrusts all this away, as a marginal Addition, because of the Omission of some Writers, but supported by the Authority of no Copy.

Ver. 21. the Lord] did creep, says Mills, from 2 Tim. iv. 1. forasmuch as not found with some, Pr. 638. Are parallel Passages thus to be expounded away? What Work might be made among the numerous ones in the Books of the Old Test. at this Rate? However, 'tis manifest this was not taken thence, because it has there and not here the Article ; and several also omit it there, the chief of them the same as here.

1b. Partiality] Several Copies have Faction according to Mills, which he puts for genuine ; but it might be only written for us, as Mills himself observes on Acts v. 36. is done every where.

Ver. 3. those] not the words.

Ver. 4. distempered concerning Questions] by West. sick of questions, but that may signify weary of them.

Ver. 5. Wranglings] This Word is differently spelled in the Gr. Copies, μαχαν and μα the former Parts of it being transposed, with the great Criticks Grotius for one, and Mills for the other.

1b. Revenue] as the Gr. Word signifies properly, and not gain.

1b. depart from such] added to fill up the Sense, according to Grotius and Mills, though deficient but in three or four Copies, and three Versions.

Ver. 6. Sufficiency] as translated 2 Cor. ix. 8. being no where else.

Ver. 9. foolish] Vulg. useless, from a various Reading by the Addition of a Letter, which even Mills dislikes.

19. Treasuring up for themselves a good Foundation for the future, that they may take hold of everlasting Life.

20. O Timothy, keep what is deposited, and turn from profane vain Talkings, and Oppositions of Science falsely named :

21. Which as some profess, they have missed concerning the Faith. Grace be with thee : so let it be.

The first to Timothy was written from Laodicea, which is the chief City of Phrygia Pacatiana.

Ver. 20. what is deposited] Some spell the Gr. Word shorter than the common, which though Mills is for, I think the Abridgment is most likely the Alteration, especially as Curtailing is so much used in the Various Readings.

Sub. Laodicea] But according to Mills Philippi : for I may add, that Laodicea seems too near to Ephesus, where Timothy then was, Ch. i. 3. see also Ham. Pref.

NOTES upon the Second Epistle of PAUL to TIMOTHY,

C H A P. I.

PAUL, an Apostle of Jesus Christ, by the Will of God, according to the Promise of Life in Christ Jesus ;

2. To Timothy, a beloved Child. Grace, Mercy, Peace be from God the Father, and Christ Jesus our Lord.

3. I am thankful to God, whom I worship from my Parents with a pure Conscience, how I have continual Remembrance concerning thee, in Supplications Night and Day ;

4. And long to see thee, being mindful of thy Tears, that I may be filled with Joy :

5. As I recal to Mind the unfeigned Faith in thee, which dwelt first in thy Grandmother Lois, and thy Mother Eunice, and I am persuaded that in thee also.

6. For which Cause I put thee in remembrance, to stir up the Gift of God, which is in thee by putting on of my Hands.

7. For God has not given us the Spirit of Fearfulness, but of Power, Love and Sobriety.

8. Be not ashamed therefore of the Testimony of our Lord, nor of me his Prisoner ; but suffer harm with the Gospel, according to the Power of God :

9. Who has saved us, and called with a holy Calling, not according to our Works, but according to his own Purpose and Grace, given us in Christ Jesus before the ancient Times ;

10. And is now made manifest by the Appearance of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who indeed abolished Death, and caused Life and Immortality to be light, by the Gospel :

11. To which I am put a Preacher, Apostle, and Teacher of the Gentiles.

12. For which Cause also I suffer these Things, yet am not ashamed : for I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded that he is able to keep till that Day what I have deposited.

13. Hold the Pattern of sound Words, which thou hast heard from me, in the Faith and Love that is in Christ Jesus.

14. The good Thing committed keep, by the holy Spirit that dwells in us.

15. Thou knowest this, that all who are in Asia are turned away from me ; of whom are Phygellus and Hermogenes.

16. The Lord grant Mercy to the Family of Onesiphorus, because he often refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my Chain.

17. But when he was at Rome, he sought for me very carefully, and found.

18. The Lord grant him to find Mercy from himself on that Day : for in how many Things too he ministered at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

Tit. Epistle] his last, written by him as computed An. 67. see Wall's Gr. Not. p. 333, 334, 335. and Mill. Prel.

Ver. 7. Sobriety] West. sobriety, but I make this small Distinction as in the Gr. from that in 1 Tim. ii. 9, 15.

Ver. 9. ancient] The Gr. Word being an Adjective, and signifying thus, like the Heb. עתיק as well as everlasting ; which it cannot here, because, according to Beza, Nothing can be imagined before Eternity : the Substantive too is Times. Cross would have them translated the Ages of Time, which began, he says, after the first Week of Time, Tagh. Art. p. 116. and Beza the like.

Ver. 11. of the Gentiles] according to Mills is of 1 Tim. ii. 7. Pr. 1354. although no more than barely two Copies are without it.

Ver. 12. what I have deposited] The old Geneva Note may still stand for the best, Which is my self : for was his Life, as Ham. expounds it, to be kept to that Day ? And Whit. in his Paraph. has Soul and Life, but drops the latter in Annot. shewing by Quotations that the Soul is the Depositum of God, or deposited by God, in Man ; whereas that being just contrary, to help it out he says, which they dying, commit into the Hands of God, notwithstanding Paul had done this already. Well considered, it may appear to others as to me, a sublime Expression of the Apostle.

Ver. 13. Pattern] as the same Word is translated 1 Epist. i. 16. where it only is besides ; and as I since see Wesley translates it.

Ver. 15. all] On this Ham. writes, The Doctors or Bishops have generally rejected my Authority, &c. and in his Pref. to 2 Epist. of John, So of the Bishops of Asia we find S. Paul complain, 2 Tim. i. 15. that they had turned aside from him.

Ver. 17. sought for] for sought out may pass for found.

C H A P. II.

THOU therefore, my Child, be strong by the Grace that is through Christ Jesus:

2. And what Things thou hast heard from me by many Witnesses, these commit to faithful Men, who shall also be sufficient to others.

3. Thou therefore suffer harm, as a good Soldier of Jesus Christ.

4. Nobody who goes to war is entangled with the Affairs of Life, that he may please him who has chosen him for a Soldier.

5. And if any one also contest, he is not crowned except he contend lawfully.

6. The Husbandman who labours ought first to receive some of the Fruits:

7. Mind what Things I say; for the Lord give thee Understanding in all Things.

8. Remember that Jesus Christ, one of the Offspring of David, was raised up from the Dead, according to my Gospel:

9. In which I suffer harm even to Bonds, as a Malefactor; but the Word of God is not bound.

10. For this reason I endure all Things for the chosen ones, that they also may obtain the Salvation which is in Christ Jesus, with everlasting Glory.

11. The Saying is faithful; For if we are dead with him, we shall also live so;

12. If we endure, we shall also reign with him; if we deny, he will also deny us;

13. If we do not believe, he remains faithful, he cannot deny himself.

14. Bring these Things to remembrance, and testify before the Lord, not to contest about Words, for no Use, nay to the Overthrow of the Hearers.

15. Be careful to present thy self approved to God, a Workman not ashamed, rightly dividing the Word of Truth.

16. But profane vain Talkings avoid; for they will proceed to more Impiety.

17. And their Word will be eating as a Gangrene; of whom is Hymeneus and Philetus:

18. Who have erred concerning the Truth, saying that the Resurrection is come to pass already; and subvert the Faith of some.

19. Nevertheless the Foundation of God stands firm; and has this Seal, The Lord knows those that are his; and, Let every one who names the Name of Christ depart from Unrighteousness.

20. Now in a great House, there are not only gold and silver Utensils, but also wooden and earthen; and some indeed for creditable, but some for vile Use.

21. If any one therefore cleanse himself from those Things, he will be an Utensil for creditable Service, sanctified, and very useful to the Master, ready for every good Work.

22. Flee also from youthful Desires; but pursue after Righteousness, Faith, Love, Peace, with them who call on the Lord from a pure Heart.

23. But foolish and unlearned Questions refuse, as thou knowest that they beget Contentions.

24. And a Servant of the Lord should not contend; but be gentle to all, ready to teach, bearing with Ill;

25. One who in Meekness instructs those that do contrary; if perhaps God will give them Repentance, to the Acknowledgment of the Truth;

26. And that they may become sober from the Snare of the Devil, who are caught alive by him at his Will.

Ver. 1. by] according as on Gal. i. 6. by Beza rendered per, and so by Cass. with an Ablative, as likewise in the Arab. see also on Gal. i. 6.

Ib. through] being the same as translated by, and thus turned with Eras. the Syr. Arab. and Tigur. Vers.

Ver. 3. suffer harm] the same Ver. 9.

Ver. 4. who goes to war] The Vulg. and some Authors add for God, or as the Rhemists translate it being a souldiar to God; which smells sadly of the Priest, and they accordingly make their Advantage of it in a Note; but see Mills's Note, and Pr. 669.

Ib. chosen for a Soldier] West. with more Liberty enlisted.

Ver. 7. for] Gr.

Ib. give] Some have it will give.

Ver. 8. Remember that Jesus &c.] Doddridge translates, and pleads for, Remember Jesus &c. ignorant it seems that to be so, three Gr. Words should be genitive, which are accusative.

Ver. 10. everlasting] The Vulg. &c. heavenly, which Mills inclined at last to think was right.

Ver. 16. proceed] so translated Chap. iii. 9.

Ver. 19. Christ] A Parcel of the MSS. &c. have the Lord; I guess because it was thought to be quoted from some Book of the Old Test. and supposed to be so there; but both Mills and Whitby say that is genuine.

Ver. 21. those Things] spoken of in Ver. 16, 17, 18, 19, not these [Vessels] Ver. 20. as these alone implies.

Ver. 24. bearing with Ill] as the Gr. distinctly signifies.

Ver. 26. become sober] or be sober again, from the Things mentioned before, with which they were as drunk; so the simple Verb is translated 1 Thes. v. 6, 8. 1 Pet. i. 13. & iv. 7. & v. 8.

Ib. at his Will]. As well Whitby and Hammond, as Beza, refer this to God, not the Devil; whereas if that had been Paul's Meaning, to my thinking he would have joined it with become sober; and if we render it to the Will of him, what Difference will it make?

C H A P. III.

KNOW this further, that in the last Days there will be mischievous Times.

2. For Men will be Lovers of themselves, Lovers of Money, Braggers, proud, Blaphemers, disobedient to Parents, unthankful, unholy,

3. Without natural Affection, irreconcilable, Slanderers, in Excess, surly, not Lovers of the good ones,

4. Betrayers, rash, puffed up, Lovers of Pleasure more than Lovers of God,

5. And have the Form of Piety, but deny the Power of it: turn from these.

6. For some of these are they that creep into Houses, and take captive silly Women, with Sins heaped on, led with various Desires,

7. Who though always learning, can never get to the Knowledge of the Truth.

8. Now as Jannes and Jambres resisted Moses, so do these also the Truth, being Men of corrupt Mind, reprobated as to the Faith.

9. But they will proceed no farther; for their Madness will be evident to all, as the others also was.

10. Whereas thou hast traced out my Teaching, Behaviour, Purpose, Faith, Forbearance, Love, Patience;

11. The Persecutions, the Sufferings, which came upon me at Antioch, at Iconium, at Lystra, what Persecutions I endured: and the Lord delivered me out of them all.

12. Nay and all those who would live piously in Christ Jesus, will be persecuted.

13. Whereas wicked Men and Impostors, will proceed to be worse, that mislead, and are misled.

14. But do thou remain in the Things which thou hast learned, and been persuaded of, knowing from whom thou hast learned;

15. And that from a Child thou hast known the holy Scriptures, which are able to make thee wise to Salvation, by Faith in Christ Jesus.

16. All the Scripture being divinely inspired, and profitable for Teaching, for Convincement, for Amendment, for Discipline in Righteousness;

17. That a Man of God may be perfect, accomplished to every good Work.

C H A P. IV.

I CHARGE therefore before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, who will judge the Living and Dead, at his Appearance and Kingdom;

2. Preach the Word, come seasonably, unseasonably, convince, rebuke, exhort, in all Forbearance and Doctrine.

3. For there will be a Time when People will not bear with sound Teaching; but according to their own Desires will heap up Teachers to themselves, itching to hear,

4. And indeed will turn away from hearing the Truth, and be turned aside to Fables.

5. But do thou watch in all Things, suffer harm, do the Work of a Preacher, give assurance of thy Ministry.

6. For I am now about to be offered up, and the Time of my Release is near by.

7. I have striven with a good Strife, have accomplished the Course, kept the Faith.

8. Further, there is laid up for me a Crown of Righteousness, which the Lord the righteous Judge will render to me on that Day; and not to me only, but likewise to all who love his Appearance.

9. Be careful to come to me quickly.

10. For Demas has forsaken me, as he loved the present World, and is gone to Thessalonica; Cresces to Galatia, Titus to Dalmatia.

Ver. 3. irreconcilable] rendered Rom. i. 31. implacable, being no where else.

Ib. surly] or morose.

Ver. 8. Jannes and Jambres] Of these may be seen Ainsworth on Exod. vii. 11.

Ver. 9. no farther] Ver. 13. being of those there mentioned in general.

Ver. 10. traced out] or according to others followed, as it is also translated Mark xvi. 17. but not fully known otherwise than consequentially.

Ver. 13. and Impostors] that is who are Impostors, as I understand it.

Ib. that mislead] in the present Tense.

Ver. 15. from a Child thou hast known the holy Scriptures] In Pierce Plowman's Vision, Pallus 12. is,

Wel may the barne ben blesse, that him to boke set that living after lecture, saweth him both by'e and soule

as it stands in my Edition of 1562.

Ib. Faith in Christ Jesus] as Discipline in Righteousness in the next Verse; which is making it also too full, since Faith exists in the Believer.

Ver. 16. the Scripture] Scripture being Writing, the Article restricts it to its proper Bounds.

Ib. being] and so connective with the foregoing, as this is comprehended in Participles.

Ib. and] some leave out, and Mills thought inserted after; by which, and supplying it, it will have a different Turn.

Ver. 2. convince] properly, and so translated elsewhere; whereas reprove is like rebuke.

Ver. 4. will] so read, says Wall.

Ver. 8. all who] them who by leaving out a Gr. Word, as a few do, with Mills's Liking.

Ver. 10. Cresces] Gr. only some Copies have Crispus: so Pudes, Ver. 21. Crescens and Pudens being from the vulg. Lat. and perhaps the same how there, from the Gr. which is for c.

11. Luke only is with me. Take Mark, and bring with thee ; for he is very useful to me in the Ministry.

12. And Tychicus have I sent to Ephesus.

13. The great Coat, which I left at Troas with Carpus; when thou comest bring, and the Books, especially the Parchments.

14. Alexander the Brasier shewed much Harm to me ; the Lord render to him according to his Works.

15. Of whom do thou also take heed ; for he has greatly withstood our Words.

16. At my first Defence Nobody was with me, but all forsook me ; may it not be reckoned to them.

17. However the Lord was present with me, and strengthened me ; that by me the Preaching might be assured, and all the Gentiles might hear : and I was delivered out of the Mouth of the Lion.

18. Nay the Lord will deliver me from every evil Work, and save for his heavenly Kingdom ; to whom be Glory for evermore : so let it be.

19. Salute Prisca and Aquila, with the Family of Onesiphorus.

20. Erastus remained at Corinth, but Trophimus I left at Miletum sick.

21. Be careful to come before Winter. Eubulus salutes thee, with Pudes, Linus, Claudia, and all the Brethren.

22. The Lord Jesus Christ be with thy Spirit. Grace be with you : so let it be.

The second to Timothy, chosen the first Overseer of the Church of the Ephesians, was written from Rome, when Paul stood before Nero Cesar the second time.

Ver. 14. render] by some will render, which Whitby speaks for, and Mills against, contrary to their Wont : I think the latter of them takes the more probable Side (tho' the other wrote after him) not only as of more Authority, but for the Reason he gives of its being changed because imprecatory.

NOTES upon the Epistle of PAUL to TITUS.

CHAP. I.

PAUL, a Servant of God, and an Apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the Faith of God's chosen ones, and the Acknowledgment of the Truth that is according to Piety ;

2. In the Hope of everlasting Life, which God who is without Falsehood promised before the ancient Times ;

3. And made manifest his Word at his own Times, in the Preaching which I was intrusted with, according to the Command of God our Saviour ;

4. To Titus, a real Child according to the common Faith. Grace, Mercy, Peace, be from God the Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ our Saviour.

5. For this Cause I left thee in Crete, that thou mightest rectify the Things which were wanting, and appoint Elders throughout the Cities, as I ordered thee ;

6. If there is any blameless, the Husband of one Wife, having faithful Children, in no Accusation of Luxury, or unruly.

7. For an Overseer must be blameless, as a Steward of God ; not pleasing himself, not apt to be angry, not given to Wine, not a Striker, not for filthy Gain ;

8. But hospitable, loving Good, sober, just, holy, temperate ;

9. One who cleaves to what is according to the Doctrine of the faithful Word, that he may be able, both to exhort in sound Teaching, and to confute such as speak against it.

10. For there are many and unruly vain Talkers, and Cheats, especially those of the Circumcision :

11. Whose Mouths should be stopped, who subvert whole Families, teaching Things that they should not, for the sake of filthy Gain.

12. One of them, a Prophet of their own, said, The Cretians are always Liars, evil Beasts, lazy Greedy-bellies.

13. This Testimony is true : for which Cause reprove them sharply, that they may be found in the Faith ;

14. And not give heed to Jewish Fables, with Commandments of Men who turn from the Truth.

15. All Things indeed are clean to the Clean ; whereas to the Defiled and Unbelievers Nothing is clean, but both their Mind and Conscience is defiled.

16. They profess to know God, but in Works deny, being abominable, disobedient, and to every good Work reprobate.

CHAP. II.

BUT do thou speak the Things that become sound Teaching :

2. The aged Men to be serious, venerable, sober, found in Faith, Love, Patience ;

3. The aged Women after the same Manner in Behaviour as becomes Holiness, not

Tit. Epistle] written, as Mills guesses, in the 64th Year of the com. Æra.

Ver. 2. before the ancient Times] no more than which the Phrase of it self signifies, says Ham. who supposes this promised obscurely to Abraham, Note and Paraph. by Wall, long ages ago ; and Whitby writes, it cannot properly be rendered before the world began.

Ver. 4. Mercy, Peace] Some have and Peace, without Mercy, which Erasmus and Mills thought added, but Whitby vindicates.

Ver. 7. pleasing himself] the more primary and proper Signification of the Gr. Word than self-willed, and suiting very well, as opposite, to being a Steward of God, nor ranked amiss so with the foregoing in 2 Pet. ii. 10. in which Place and in this it only occurs. Beza takes in both as it were, but chiefly this, by sibi pertinaciter placentem, obstinately pleasing himself.

Ver. 8. loving Good] being singular.

Ver. 9. according to the Doctrine] thus, and thus posited is the Original.

Ver. 10. and unruly] Thus the Gr. stands, vain Talkers being one Word, a Noun-substantive.

Ver. 12. said] Epimenides, according to Broome's Note on Pope's Odyssey, B. 14. 431.

1b. lazy Greedy-bellies] Westl. lazy gluttons. The Adjective is twice in 1 Tim. v. 13.

Ver. 2. sober] according as the com. Transl. Ver. 4, 6, 12. & Ch. i. 8. where temperate is quite another Gr. Word.

Ver. 3. as becomes Holiness] This is an Adjective in Gr. to aged Women, but a few by taking away a Letter make it so to Behaviour, with whom Mills joins, a ready Helper of the Weak ; whereas I, who choose in these Cases to be of the stronger Party, when they have an equal, or as commonly a better Claim, take it to belong rather to the Persons, than to their Appearance.

Slanderers, not subject to much Wine, teaching well ;

4. That they may make the young Women sober, to be Lovers of the Husbands, Lovers of the Children,

5. Sober, chaste, Keepers of the House, good, subject to their Husbands, that the Word of God may not be spoken evil of.

6. Young Men in like Manner exhort to be sober :

7. About all Things shewing thy self a Figure of good Works, in Teaching Integrity, Veneration, Incorruptness,

8. Sound Speech not to be condemned ; that he who is of the contrary Party may be shamed, and have Nothing bad to say concerning you :

9. Servants to be subject to their Masters, to be well-pleasing in all Things, not contradicting,

10. To take Nothing away, but shew all good Faithfulness ; that they may adorn the Doctrine of God our Saviour in all Things.

11. For the Grace of God that brings Salvation, has appeared to all Men ;

12. And teaches us, that by denying Impiety and worldly Desires, we should live soberly, righteously and piously, in the present World ;

13. As also should look for the blessed Hope, and the glorious Appearance of the great God, and our Saviour Jesus Christ :

14. Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all Iniquity, and purify for himself a peculiar People, zealous in good Works.

15. These Things speak and exhort to, moreover reprove with all Authority : let Nobody despise thee.

C H A P. III.

PUT them in remembrance to be subject to Principalities and Authorities, and obedient, to be ready for every good Work,

2. To speak evil of none, not be quarrelsome, but gentle, and shew all Meekness to all Men.

3. For we were also once foolish, disobedient, seduced, and served various Desires and Pleasures, nay lived in Mischief and Envy, were spiteful, hating one another.

4. But when the Kindness and Affection of God our Saviour appeared ;

5. Not by the Works in Righteousness which we had done, but according to his Mercy, he saved us, through the Bath of being born again, and the Renewing of the Holy Spirit :

6. Which he poured out on us richly, through Jesus Christ our Saviour ;

7. That being justified by his Grace, we might become Heirs according to the Hope of everlasting Life.

8. The Saying is faithful, and concerning these Things I would have thee affirm, that those who believe in God should take care to excel in good Works : these Things are good, and profitable, to Men.

9. But foolish Questions, Pedigrees, Contentions, and Debates about the Law avoid : for they are unprofitable, and vain.

10. A Man who is a Heretick, after the first and second Admonition, reject :

11. As thou knowest that such a one is turned away, and sins, being condemned in himself.

12. When I send Artemas to thee, or Tychicus, be careful to come to me at Nicopolis : for there have I determined to winter.

13. Zenas the Expounder of the Law, and Apollos conduct carefully, that Nothing may be wanting to them.

14. And let ours also learn to excel in good Works, for necessary Uses, that they may not be unfruitful.

15. All who are with me salute thee. Salute them that love us in the Faith. Grace be with you all : so let it be.

It was written to Titus, the first Overseer of the Church of the Cretians, from Nicopolis of Macedonia.

Ver. 5. Sober] the same Word as in Ver. 2. & Ch. i. 8. rendered in three such different Meanings, so near together, by our Translators.

Ver. 7. Incorruptness] Mills supposes was first marginal, to explain Integrity, Net. and Pr. 1208. some not having it.

Ver. 8. Party] from μαρτὶς, I suppose, understood.

Ver. 9. contradicting] as the Gr. signifies, and not answering again.

Ver. 5. Bath] Wess. laver ; but the Gr. Word being only once more in Scripture, he does not render it so in Eph. v. 26.

Ver. 10. and second] some have left out, which may be supposed through their Sharpness against such.

Sub. Nicopolis] Not so, as is apparent, by [there] in Ver. 12. of this last Chap. but Mills says Colossæ, because Tychicus now with Paul, Ib. had been sent thither, Subscr. to Col.

NOTES upon the Epistle of PAUL to PHILEMON.

PAUL a Prisoner of Christ Jesus, and Timothy a Brother; to the beloved Philemon, and our Fellow-worker,

2. As also to the beloved Apphia, and Archippus our Fellow-soldier, with the Church at thy House.

3. Grace be to you, and Peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

4. I give thanks to my God, making mention of thee always in my Prayers.

5. As I hear of thy Love and Faith, which thou hast to the Lord Jesus, and towards all the Saints:

6. That the Fellowship of thy Faith may be effectual, by the Knowledge of every good Thing, which is among you towards Christ Jesus.

7. For we have much Joy and Comfort in thy Love, because the Bowels of the Saints have been refreshed by thee, Brother.

8. Therefore though I have much Freedom in Christ, to command thee what is convenient:

9. I rather beseech for Love, being such a one as aged Paul, and now also a Prisoner of Jesus Christ:

10. I beseech thee for my Child, whom I have begot in my Bonds, Onesimus;

11. Once useless to thee, but now very useful to thee and me:

12. Whom I have sent back; and do thou receive him, to wit my own Bowels.

13. Whom I was willing to keep to my self, that he might have ministered to me instead of thee, in the Bonds of the Gospel.

14. However I would do Nothing without thy Opinion, that thy Good might not be as according to Necessity, but according to Willingness.

15. For perhaps for this reason he departed for a little while, that thou mightest receive him for ever;

16. No more as a Servant, but above a Servant, a beloved Brother, especially to me, and how much more to thee, both in the Flesh, and in the Lord?

17. If therefore thou hast me for a Partner, receive him as my self.

18. If he has done thee any Injury, or is in debt, reckon that to me:

19. I Paul have written with my own Hand, I will pay; not to tell thee, that thou art in debt even for thy self to me.

20. Yes, Brother, let me have joy of thee in the Lord: refresh my Bowels in the Lord.

21. Being confident of thy Obedience, I have written to thee; as I know that thou wilt do, even above what I say.

22. But withal get ready a Lodging too for me; since I hope that by your Prayers I shall be given to you.

23. Thee salute Epaphras, my Fellow-prisoner in Christ Jesus,

24. Mark, Aristarchus, Demas, Luke, my Fellow-workers.

25. The Grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your Spirit: so let it be.

It was written to Philemon from Rome, sent by Onesimus a Servant.

[Tit. Epistle] Look at Philippians.

Ver. 1. the beloved] as Ver. 2. and standing in the same Manner.

Ver. 2. the beloved] But Mills counts Sister the right Reading, which about half a Score, Versions, Copies, and Writers together, have. How little to weigh against the Whole!

Ib. Apphia] supposed to be Philemon's Wife.

Ver. 5. which thou hast] viz. Faith to the Lord Jesus, and Love towards all the Saints, as Col. 1. 4. according to Whitby.

Ver. 6. Fellowship] One might suppose our Translators had made a Mistake of communication for communion, but that the vulg. Lat. has communicatio, whom they were so ready to follow: for in other Places they use communication, as it might be taken here, for discourse, or would be doubtful without other Help.

Ib. Knowledge] of others concerning them, according to Beza.

Ib. you] by divers us.

Ib. towards] as in the Ver. before: so the Bishops Transf. and Erasmus has erga.

Ver. 20. Instead of the latter the Lord, some have Christ.

NOTES upon the Epistle of PAUL to the HEBREWS.

CHAP. I.

GOD having spoken many times and many ways of old, to the Forefathers by the Prophets;

2. In these last Days has spoken to us by the Son, whom he put the Heir of all Things, by whom also he made the Worlds.

3. Who being the Brightness of the Glory, the Mark of his Substance, and supporting all Things with his powerful Word; when he had made a Cleansing of our Sins by himself, sat down at the right Hand of the Majesty on high:

4. And became so much better than the Angels, as he inherited a more excellent Name than they.

5. For to which of the Angels said he at any Time, Thou art my Son, to Day have I begotten thee? And again, I will be to him a Father, as he shall to me a Son?

6. Nay again when he brings his First-born into the World, he says, And let all the Angels of God worship him.

7. Whereas he says relating to the Angels, Who makes his Angels Spirits, and his Ministers a flaming Fire.

8. But of the Son; Thy Throne, O God, is for ever and ever, the Scepter of thy Kingdom is a right one.

9. Thou hast loved Righteousness, and hated Wickedness: therefore God, thy God has anointed thee, with the Oil of Joy above thy Companions.

10. And, Thou at the Beginning, O Lord, didst found the Earth, and the Heaven was the Work of thy Hands.

11. They will perish, but thou wilt remain; and will all decay like a Garment:

12. And as Cloaths wilt thou fold them up, and they will be changed. Whereas thou art the same, and thy Years will not fail.

13. But to which of the Angels did he say at any time, Sit at my right Hand, till I make thy Enemies thy Footstool?

14. Are not they all ministring Spirits, sent to minister for those who will be Heirs of Salvation?

CHAP. II.

FOR this Reason we ought the more abundantly to give heed to the Things we have heard, lest at any time we should let them flow away.

2. For if the Word spoken by Angels was firm, and every Transgression and Disobedience received a just Recompence;

3. How shall we escape, should we neglect so great Salvation? Which when it had received a Beginning to be spoken by the Lord, was confirmed to us from the Hearers:

4. As God gave Evidence together, both with Signs and Wonders, nay with various powerful Things, and Distributions of the Holy Spirit, according to his Will.

5. For he has not put the World hereafter, concerning which we speak, in subjection to Angels.

6. But one testifies in a certain Place as follows; What is Man, that thou shouldest remember him? Or the Son of Man, that thou shouldest visit him?

Tis. of Paul] Though it has been doubted whether Paul was the Author of this Epistle, inasmuch that these Words were left out of the Gen. Transf. yet Whitby in Pref. shews it to be his distinctly, and Mills writes, Auctorem habet hac Epistola, si qua usquam alia, D. Paulum: This Epistle, if ever any, has St. Paul for its Author; and he fixes the Date of it about An. Christi 63, in which Pearson places it, the Year after this Apostle was set at liberty, and after the Conclusion of the Acts of the Apostles, while he was yet in Italy, as at the End.

Ib. to the Hebrews] Jewish Christians that were in Judea; see Whit. Pref.

Ver. 2. these last] with divers the last of these, put in a List by Mills as genuine, Pr. 684. but Whitby does not doubt ours is genuine, being used by the 70 Interpreters.

Ver. 3. Substance] so translated Ch. xi. 1: as likewise by Tyndal and in the Bishops Bib. here, by Eras. also and Cast. see Wall Not. and to Ch. xi. 1. Ham. and Whit have it Subsistence.

Ib. our] by some left out, but not therefore added in by the many more, as Mills rashly pronounces, Pr. 496.

Ib. by himself] inserted, says Mills, for the sake of Interpretation, not all having it.

Ver. 6. Angels] The Septuag. so translating Psa. xcvi. 7. and after that the Vulgate, the former also have these very Words in Deut. xxxii. 43.

Ver. 12. fold up] A few have it change, as appears to be like the Heb. yet Grot. conjectures that the Sept. had it change Psa. ciii. 26. where now they have not; from whom this is cited, which we are therefore to follow; and they might thus translate to avoid a Tautology by the following changed, especially as נָחַת is of different Signification, unless they could mistake this for נָחַת.

Ver. 3. Salvation?] Here being the Gr. Note of Interrogation.

7. Thou hast made him but a little less than the Angels, crowned him with Glory and Honour, and appointed him over the Works of thy Hands,

8. Putting all in subjection underneath his Feet: for in putting all in subjection to him, he left Nothing that was not to be subjected; notwithstanding we now do not yet see all put in such subjection.

9. But we behold Jesus crowned with Glory and Honour, who was made a little less than the Angels, for the Suffering of Death; that by the Grace of God he might taste Death for every one.

10. For it became him, for whom are all, and by whom all Things, in bringing many Sons to Glory, to make the Prince of their Salvation perfect by Sufferings.

11. Since both the Sanctifier, and the Sanctified, are all of One: for which Cause he is not ashamed to call them Brethren,

12. Saying, I will declare thy Name to my Brethren; among the Church will I sing praise to thee;

13. And again, I will trust in him; nay again, Behold I and the Children that God has given me.

14. Forasmuch as the Children therefore were partakers of Flesh and Blood, he himself also in like Manner partook of the same; that by Death he might abolish him who had the Power of Death, that is the Devil;

15. And might deliver those who by the Fear of Death, were through all their Life obnoxious to Servitude:

16. For verily he did not take that of Angels, but did of Abraham's Offspring.

17. Whence he ought in all Things to be like the Brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high Priest in Things belonging to God, to make atonement for the Sins of the People.

18. For by that which he himself suffered, when he was tried, he is capable to help those who are tried.

C H A P. III.

WHENCE, holy Brethren, Partakers of the heavenly Calling, consider the Apostle and high Priest of our Profession, Christ Jesus;

2. Who was faithful to him that appointed him, even as Moses was in his whole House.

3. For he was counted worthy of more Glory than Moses; as much as he has more Honour than the House, who makes it ready.

4. For every House is made ready by Somebody; but he who made all Things ready is God.

5. And Moses indeed was faithful in his whole House, as a Servant, for a Testimony of the Things to be spoken;

6. But Christ as a Son over his House: whose House we are, if we hold the Confidence, and Glorifying of the Hope, firm to the End.

7. Therefore according as the Holy Spirit says, To Day if you will hearken to what he says;

8. Do not harden your Hearts, as in the Provocation, according to the Day of Temptation in the Wilderness:

9. When your Fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my Works forty Years.

10. Therefore I was displeased with that Generation, and said, They always err with the Heart, and they have not known my Ways:

11. As I sware in my Anger, They shall not come into my Rest.

12. Look, Brethren, lest at any time there

Ver. 7. and appointed him over the Works of thy Hands] wanting in 13 Copies by Mills; and Whitby says, Add in Oecum. & Theophyl. but neither of these Criticks depose it.

Ver. 9. Jesus crowned &c.] This undeniably belongs one to the other, and by putting them together, as Beza does, is seen clearly which for the Suffering of Death unites with; besides as the concluding Part depends on that last mentioned, and not on crowned with Glory and Honour, the Transposition is of more Advantage for Perspicuity in our Languages.

Ver. 14. were partakers] Wall.

Ver. 16. that] Flesh and Blood together, Ver. 14.

Ver. 18. by that which] in that, as Johns. expounds it, meaning because.

Ib. capable] rather than able; he understanding how to help, by his own Experience in Sufferings and Trials.

Ver. 3. makes it ready] By keeping close to the Gr. thus, is shut out the Interpretation of those who would have it order or govern; while our Translators going wide one Way, they took the same Liberty to do so another. And this useful Hint may be applied to numerous other Instances.

Ver. 6. his House] Being as in the [Ver. before, and so may seem to be God's like that, though Beza quarrels with Castalis for so rendering it (which he would for a small Matter) and would have the Word αὐτοῦ be αὐτῶν, nay says amended Copies read so; but understand that he himself amended them, since neither Mills nor Kuster found any such; see also Castalis's Defence, p. 146. and the Transf. of Erasmus.

Ib. firm to the End] Notwithstanding all, have these Words, besides the Eth. Vers. and Lucifer Calaritanus, Mills in the Fulness of Imagination tells us, that Somebody put them in the Marg. opposite to Confidence for the sake of Explanation; which as belonging to the Text, a Scribe at length put wrong. But what could not the Exuberancy of his Conceit furnish him with?

Ver. 9. The first me a few want.

should be in any of you a wicked Heart of Unbelief, in departing from the Living God.

13. But exhort each other every Day, while that to Day is said; that none of you may be hardened by the Deceit of Sin.

14. For we are become Partakers of Christ, if we hold the Beginning of the Confidence firm till the End;

15. While it is said, To Day if you will hearken to what he says; do not harden your Hearts, as in the Provocation.

16. For some when they had heard, did provoke, but not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17. Now with whom was he displeased forty Years? Was it not with them that sinned, whose Corpses fell in the Wilderness?

18. And to whom did he swear they should not come into his Rest, but to them that believed not?

19. Thus we see that they could not enter in, by reason of Unbelief.

C H A P. IV.

LET us therefore fear, lest at any time, though a Promise be left of entering into his Rest, any of you should be deficient.

2. For even we are those who have been preached to, as well as they; but the Word heard did not profit them, since it was not mixed with Faith in the Hearers.

3. And we who have believed enter into Rest, according as he said, As I swore in my Anger, that they should not come into my Rest; though the Works were done from the founding of the World.

4. For he spoke in a certain Place concerning the seventh Day thus, And God rested on the seventh Day from all his Works;

5. And in this again, They shall not come into my Rest.

6. Since therefore an entering into it is left for some, and they who were first preached to, did not enter in by reason of Unbelief;

7. He again determines a certain Day, saying in David, To Day after so long Time: according as it is said, To Day if you will hearken to what he says, do not harden your Hearts.

8. For if Jesus had made them rest, he would not after these Things have spoken concerning another Day.

9. There is left therefore a keeping of Sabbath to the People of God.

10. For he that is entered into his Rest, has himself also rested from his Works, as God from his own.

11. Let us therefore be careful to enter into that Rest, that none may fall by the same Instance of Unbelief.

12. For the Word of God is living and effectual, as also sharper than any two-edged Sword, and not only reaches to the Dividing even of the Soul and Spirit, even of the Joints and Marrow, but is a Judger too of the Thoughts and Intents of the Heart.

13. And there is not a Creature unseen before him; but all Things are bare, and disclosed to his Eyes, with whom the Word is to us.

14. As we have therefore a great high Priest who is gone into Heaven, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast the Profession.

15. For we have not a high Priest who cannot be affected with our Weaknesses, but was tried in all Things in like Manner, being without Sin.

16. Let us therefore come with Boldness to the Throne of Grace, that we may receive Mercy, and find Grace for seasonable Help.

Ver. 13. that to Day] in Ver. 7. with τὸ here for that, which makes the Sense clear, that it was while they were thus divinely called to.

Ib. hardened] parallel to that of Ver. 8. in Consequence of the foregoing.

Ver. 14. firm till the End] lacking only in the Etb. Vers. yet declared by Mills to creep from Ver. 6. though not there at first, Pr. 1217.

Ver. 1. you] Doddr. has us, which he says some Copies read; that is, as I find, one or two Gr. ones, and of what Regard that? But he adds, the Authority is evidently confirmed by the Connection, and refers to Mills; whereas Mills says it was by reason of what follows, in which is us. Of what Encouragement might such be when no more evident than this, to unknown Damage elsewhere!

Ver. 2. Word heard] not preached.

Ib. it was] with divers they were, but refused by both Mills and Whitby, as deservedly for the Obscurity and poor Sense it makes.

Ver. 3. that they should] It is the same as in Ch. iii. 11. as is the following in Ver. 5. and quoted from Psa. xcv. 1. where our com. Transl. has these very Words.

Ib. the Works were done] viz. those of entering into Rest, as Ver. 4, 6, 9, 10. and just before in this Ver. &c.

Ib. from the founding of the World] as in Ver. 4. and so on after that. Beza writes, This Place is, perobscurus, very obscure. And have not he and others, who do not expound it according to the Words, lest it too much so? While the principal Difficulties, let me call it, of literal Interpretation may thus be surmounted.

Ve. 5. They shall &c.] the same as in Ch. iii. 11.

Ver. 12. For the Word of God is living] There is one Scrap left like this of the Book called The Acts of Paul, written as supposed the Year after his Death, and to be near twice as big as The Acts of the Apostles; and this preserved in Origen's Περὶ Ἀρχῶν B. i. Ch. 2. translated into Latin by Rufinus; of which see more particularly in Mill's Prolegom.

Ib. reaches] not piercing.

Ver. 13. with whom the Word is to us] so the Gr. literally, and according as the Apostle John begins his History of Christ, Ver. 1. the Word also being the same here as in the Ver. before.

C H A P. V.

FOR every high Priest taken from Men, is appointed for Men in Things belonging to God, that he may offer both Gifts and Sacrifices for Sins:

2. Who can in measure be affected with the Ignorant, and Seduced; since he himself also is compassed about with Weakness:

3. And for this reason he ought, as for the People, so also for himself, to offer for Sins.

4. And none takes this Honour to himself, but he that is called by the Lord, even as Aaron:

5. Thus also Christ did not glorify himself, to become a high Priest; but he did who said to him, Thou art my Son, to Day have I begotten thee.

6. According as he speaks also in another Place, Thou shalt be a Priest for ever after the Order of Melchisedec.

7. Who in the Days of his Flesh, when he offered both Supplications and Intreaties, with strong Cries and Tears, to him who was able to save him from Death, so that he was hearkened to for his Reverence;

8. Yet though he was a Son, he learned Obedience by the Things which he suffered.

9. And as he was perfect, he became the Author of everlasting Salvation to all that obey him;

10. Moreover was called to be a high Priest by God, after the Order of Melchisedec.

11. Concerning whom we have much Discourse, and difficult to speak, forasmuch as you are become slow of hearing.

12. For when you ought to be Teachers for the Time, you have Need to be taught again what are the first Rudiments of the Oracles of God; and are become those who have Need of Milk, and not of solid Meat.

13. For every one that partakes of Milk, is unskilful in the Word of Righteousness; since he is a Babe.

14. Whereas solid Meat is for the Perfect, who by Habit have the Senses exercised to the Judging both of Good and Evil.

C H A P. VI.

THEREFORE leaving the Rudiments of the Word of Christ, let us bring to Perfection, and not lay again the Foundation of Repentance from dead Works, and of Faith to God,

2. Of the Doctrine of Baptisms, and of putting on of Hands, as likewise of the Resurrection of the Dead, and of everlasting Judgment.

3. And this we will do, if God permits.

4. For it is impossible, that those once enlightened, and who tasted of the heavenly Gift, nay became Partakers of the Holy Spirit,

5. As also tasted the good Word of God, and the Powers of the World hereafter;

6. And then are fallen away, should be renewed again to Repentance, since they crucify afresh the Son of God to themselves, and expose to shame.

7. For the Earth that drinks in the Rain which comes often upon it, and bears Herbs fit for them by whom also it is manured, receives Blessing from God.

8. Whereas that which brings out Briers

Ver. 7. for his Reverence] Cass. pro sua religione, for his Piety; concerning which see his Def. pag. 212, 213. And this not only seems to be that mentioned before, viz. his Praying, or reverential Worship of God, but for that Reason, if it had been otherwise, may appear unlikely to be expressed in the Original by a Word which also signifies so, when there are other Words for Fear, as phobos, doxos, &c. that have not such a double Meaning. Nay Beza, and others who would have it Fear, may seem to have thought this other was preferable with for, which Sense is not to be denied to the Preposition, by their turning it in the following Manner, was heard from his Fear, meaning in being delivered from it; but how unintelligible and forced is that? Which Cass. modestly and mildly refuses to admit, unless some other such Example should be produced. But that is not attempted by Beza in one of the longest Notes which he has on all the Books of the New Test. fol. in Answer to it, and is far from convincing me it should be rendered Fear, while he owns the Gr. Word signifies Reverence, but brings Instances wherein it also signifies Fear. Our Translators however appear to have made in that be feared, from taking it to be from Fear; which is not defensible, either one Way or the other: unless it was made from and for the former Eng. in that which he feared, which thus is worse, and so the Meaning doubtful, besides the Gr. not signifying in or that which. And to prove that Christ had Fear, which Beza labours with so much Tautology to do, is short of the Matter, since he had certainly Reverence to his Father; and was not this the more worthy of Regard, as the other is human Weakness? The vulg. Lat. and Montan. have exactly thus, pro sua reverentia, with the Arab. and so Eras. without sua, his, Tynd. because of his godliness, which by the Ethiop. is righteousness. It is omitted in the Syr. both that of the Pol. Bib. and Trem. though not remarked by Mills, and notwithstanding Fulke says, "The Syrian Translation is from fear."

Ver. 1. lay] The Clar. Copy, as Mills relates only in Prol. 590. has contrarily throw down, and no Wonder since the Gr. Word has that Meaning.

Ver. 3. will do] In several Copies should have done.

Ver. 6. are fallen away] a Participle of the 2 Aor. a past Tense, rendered thus by Wall; who blames our Eng. for altering it, with and into if.

[b. crucify &c.] as in Ch. x. 29.

Ver. 7. also] Is not this in the Original now, although not in our Eng. Trans. if so, why not at first there, tho' wanting in some other Versions? And if one Gr. Copy is without it, that might be from them. Probably it seemed to some others as to our Translators a little redundant, and so was dropped; for who would add it for Emphasis? see Mills, Prol. 496.

and

and Brambles, is rejected, and near to Cursing; whose End is for Burning.

9. But we are persuaded of better Things concerning you, Beloved, and those that have Salvation, if we do even thus speak.

10. For God is not unrighteous, to forget your Work, and Labour of Love, which you have shewn to his Name; as you have ministred to the Saints, and do minister.

11. And we desire each of you would shew the same Carefulness, for the fulfilling of Hope, till the End:

12. That you would not become slow, but Imitators of those who by Faith and Forbearance inherit the Promises.

13. For when God made Promise to Abraham, since he could swear by no greater, he swore by himself as follows;

14. I will indeed thoroughly bless thee, and multiply thee abundantly.

15. Who when he had born long, thus obtained the Promise.

16. For Men indeed swear by a greater, and to them an Oath is the confirmed End of all Contradiction.

17. In which as God was willing more abundantly to shew, to the Heirs of the Promise, the Immoveableness of his Counsel, he interposed with an Oath:

18. That by two immoveable Things, wherein it was impossible for God to tell an Untruth, we might have strong Comfort, who flee to take hold of the Hope laid before.

19. Which we have as an Anchor of the Soul, both certain and firm, and which enters into that within the Veil;

20. Whither the Forerunner for us is entered, Jesus become a high Priest for ever, after the Order of Melchisedec.

C H A P. VII.

FOR this Melchisedec, King of Salem, Priest of the Supreme God, who met Abraham as he returned from the Slaughter of the Kings, and blessed him;

2. To whom also Abraham distributed the Tenth of all; first indeed by Interpretation King of Righteousness, and next also King of Salem, which is King of Peace;

3. Without a Father, without a Mother, without Pedigree, who had neither Beginning of Days, nor End of Life; but being like the Son of God, remains a Priest continually.

4. Now see how great he was, to whom even the Patriarch Abraham gave the Tenth of the main Stores!

5. And those indeed of the Sons of Levi, who receive the Priesthood, have a Commandment to take Tithes of the People according to the Law, that is of their Brethren, though they proceed forth from Abraham himself.

6. But he who was not in the Pedigree from them, received Tithe of Abraham, and blessed him that had the Promises.

7. Now without all Contradiction, the inferior one is blessed by the better.

8. And here indeed Men who die receive the Tithe, but there he who is testified of that he lives.

9. And as it may be said, even Levi who received the Tithe, gave Tithe by Abraham.

10. For he was yet within his Father, when Melchisedec met him.

11. If therefore indeed Perfection was by the Levitical Priesthood (for under it the People had the Law) what Need for another Priest yet to rise up after the Order of Melchisedec, and not said to be after the Order of Aaron?

12. For as the Priesthood is removed, there becomes of Necessity also a Removal of the Law.

13. For he of whom those Things are spoken, was Partaker of another Tribe, from which none applied to the Altar.

14. For it is evident that our Lord arose out of Juda, of which Tribe Moses spoke nothing about the Priesthood.

15. And it is yet more abundantly evident, that after the Likeness of Melchisedec there rises up another Priest;

16. Who is not made after the Law of a carnal Commandment, but after the Power of an endless Life.

17. For he testifies, Thou shalt be a Priest for ever after the Order of Melchisedec.

18. For there becomes indeed an Abolishing of the foregoing Commandment, by reason of its Weakness and Unprofitableness.

Ver. 10. Labour of] some want, so that Mills asserts it crept from 1 Thes. i. 3. Pr. 886. as if the Apostle could not say the same twice, quoth Whitby.

Ver. 16. the confirmed End] Gr. the End to Confirmation, the Position of the Words not admitting of the common Rendition.

Ver. 11. and not said to be after the Order of Aaron]

Mills counts was at first a marginal Comment, merely because not in the Eth. Transl.

Ver. 15. that] which the Gr. Particle may signify, and Whitby says often does; but who can prove it ever of so that, or even shew any good Sense of it here?

Ver. 18. For] I have but little Notion of this being put in afterwards, notwithstanding what Mills says in his Notes, and Pro. 496.

19. For the Law made Nothing perfect; but it was the bringing in of a better Hope, by which we draw near to God.

20. And as much as it was not without Swearing,

21. (For they indeed were made Priests without Swearing; but he with it, by the same who said to him; the Lord has sworn, and will not repent, Thou shalt be a Priest for ever after the Order of Melchisedec)

22. So much was Jesus made the Surety of a better Covenant.

23. And they indeed were made many Priests, for being hindered to remain by Death.

24. Whereas he, by his remaining for ever, has a continuing Priesthood.

25. Whence also he is able to save to the utmost, those who come to God by him, as he always lives to intercede for them.

26. For such a high Priest was becoming us, holy, harmless, undefiled, separated from Sinners, and made higher than the Heavens;

27. Who has not Necessity daily; as the high Priests, to offer up Sacrifices first for his own Sins, and next for the People's: for this he did once, in offering up himself.

28. For the Law appoints Men high Priests, that have Weakness; but the Word of Swearing, which is after the Law, the Son, who is accomplished for ever.

CHAP VIII.

NOW the Sum of the Things said is; We have such a high Priest, as sat at the right Hand of the Throne of Majesty in Heaven;

2. Being a Minister of the Sanctuary, and of the true Tabernacle which the Lord pitched, and not Man.

3. For every high Priest is appointed to offer Gifts and Sacrifices: whence there is Necessity this should also have Something which he may offer.

4. Nay if he were indeed on Earth, he would not else be a Priest; as they are Priests that offer Gifts according to the Law:

5. Who worship by the Pattern and Shadow of heavenly Things, as Moses was divinely admonished, when he was about to make the Tabernacle: for, See, says he, thou makest all Things according to the Figure shewn thee on the Mountain.

6. Whereas he has obtained a more excellent Service, as much as he is also the Mediator of a better Covenant, which was made the Law on better Promises.

7. For if the first had been faultless, there would not have been a Place sought for the second.

8. And finding fault with them, he says: Lo the Days are coming, says the Lord, when I will make a new Covenant with the Family of Israel and that of Judah;

9. Not according to the Covenant which I made with their Forefathers, at the Time that I took hold of their Hand to bring them out of the Country of Egypt; since they did not remain in my Covenant, and so I neglected them. says the Lord:

10. Because this shall be the Covenant which I will make with the Family of Israel after those Days, says the Lord; I will put my Laws into their Mind, and write them in their Hearts, and will be a God to them, as they shall a People to me.

11. And they shall not at all teach each one his Neighbour, or each his Brother, that he should know the Lord: because they shall all know me, from the least to the greatest of them.

12. Since I will be merciful to their Unrighteousness, and remember their Sins and their Iniquities no more at all.

Ver. 21. after the Order of Melchisedec] not in the Vulg. and one Gr. Copy at least; missed, as Mills computes, by reason of the same Gr. Word beginning the next as this.

Ver. 2. pitched] West. fixed.

Ib. and] If five are more to be credited than above five times so many, we may allow Mills's Assertion, that this latter is of the Scribes, Pr. 496.

Ver. 4. as they are] Ham. those being, which makes the Sense plain; and so Wall comments, He would not be a Priest on Earth without Something to offer.

Ib. Priests] the Vulg. and three Copies are without, whereupon Mills says that Somebody wrote it at the Side of the Book for Explanation, from whence at length it crept into the Context, Pr. 1354.

Ver. 5. See] with which the Quotation begins.

Ver. 11. not teach] As Ham. on John vi. 45. gave away what he contended for, in this Passage, which is the next he animadverts upon in his Past. of New Light, he contends for what must not be given to him, viz. that these Words are not to be literally understood, but indeed belong to a matter very distant. They are, quoth he, a description of Christ's easy and gracious yoke, Mat. xi. 30. that is to say, by teach is not to be understood teaching; whereas the Meaning extends no farther, than that there should not be a Necessity of it.

Ib. Neighbour] Many have Citizem, after the Septuagint.

Ib. he should know] the Gr. being sing. and the Heb. plur. Jer. xxxi. 34.

Ib. of them] which the Original has twice, though the com. Transf. not once, and it is also whence quoted Jer. xxxi. 34.

Ver. 12. and their Iniquities] two or three Copies, and the Vulg. with two more Versions omit; Mills supposes as at Ch. vii. 21. because of the same Word ending this as the foregoing, for their stands after the Nouns in Gr. and so the Transcriber having written the first their, went on by mistake from the last. But how carelessly must the 13. In saying, A new, he has made the first old; now that which is old, may become ancient, nearly disappears.

C H A P. IX.

THE first therefore indeed had also Ordinances of Service, and a worldly Sanctuary.

2. For there was a Tabernacle made ready being the first, wherein was the Candlestick, Table and Presence-bread; which is called the Sanctuary.

3. And after the second Veil, the Tabernacle which is called the very holy Place;

4. That had the golden Censer, and the Ark of the Covenant covered over all round with Gold, at which was the golden Pot that had the Manna, and the Staff of Aaron which budded out, with the Tables of the Covenant,

5. As also up above that the Cherubs of Glory which overshadow the Atonement-covering; about which Things there is not to be spoken now particularly.

6. And these Things being thus made ready, the Priests go indeed always into the Tabernacle, and accomplish the Service;

7. But into the second the high Priest alone once a Year, not without Blood, which he offers for himself, and the Mistakes of the People.

8. The Holy Spirit declaring this, that the Way to the Sanctuary has not yet been made manifest, as the first Tabernacle is yet standing:

9. Which was a Similitude for the Time as it was present, at which are offered both Gifts and Sacrifices, that are not able to make him who does the Service perfect as to the Conscience;

10. Being only of Meat and Drink, with different Baptisms, and carnal Ordinances, laid on till the Time of Reformation.

11. But Christ being come a high Priest of future good Things, by a greater and more perfect Tabernacle, not made with Hands, that is not of this Building.

12. Not by the Blood of Goats and Calves, but by his own Blood, entered once into the Sanctuary, and got everlasting Redemption.

13. For if the Blood of Bulls and Goats, and the Ashes of a Heifer which sprinkles the Polluted, does sanctify to the Purity of the Flesh;

14. How much more will the Blood of Christ, who by the everlasting Spirit offered himself without Blemish to God, purify your Conscience from dead Works, to serve the Living God?

15. And for this reason he is the Mediator of the new Covenant, that as there was Death for the Redemption of the Transgressions in the first Covenant, those who are called may receive the Promise of everlasting Inheritance.

16. For where there is a Testament, it is necessary the Death of the Testator should come to pass.

vulg. Lat. thus be made, continued, and often written, for the Authentick Transf. of the Christian Church!

Ib. at all] by a double Gr. Negative.

Ver. 13. made old] by West. antiquated, and again for old; but is that fitter for unlettered Men?

Ver. 1. first] Most Copies have Tabernacle to it; yet the Criticks do not approve of it, with whom I join, because the Tabernacle was the Sanctuary, Ver. 2. and so it would be, The Sanctuary had a Sanctuary. Notwithstanding which Whitby says, For there was a Tabernacle made ready, the first put it entirely out of all Doubt, that Tabernacle here is the genuine Reading; which I do not at all perceive.

Ver. 2. Sanctuary] Some have it plural by the Accent differently placed, but far less suitable.

Ver. 4. at which] For the Pot of Manna, and Aaron's Rod or Staff were not in the Ark, Exod. xvi. 34. Num. xvii. 10. 1 Kings viii. 9. and for the Meaning to be, that they were in the Tabernacle, as Ribera &c. expound, there is [and] wanting before this.

Ver. 6. go] in the present Tense, which is a Sign, as Wall rightly remarks, that the Epistle was written while Jerusalem and the Temple stood, of which see also Beza on Ch. v. 1. and this would make the Labour of the Apostle here far more necessary: so the following accomplish, offers, are offered, are able, does the Service, and offer, Ch. x. 1. with sanctifieth in the com. Transf. Ver. 13. are purged, Ver. 22. entreth, Ver. 25. & Ch. xiii. 11.

Ver. 8. has not yet] to those under the Law.

Ib. standing] West. subsisting.

Ver. 9. as it was present] being in the preterperfect Gr. Tense, so not the present Time when the Apostle wrote, as by Doddr. and the Tabernacle being then not so properly a Similitude or Figure, when that Use of it was fulfilled or ended.

Ib. at which] A few by Alteration of the Gender refer it to Tabernacle, and Mills declares that to be entirely right.

Ib. as to the Conscience] Mills would turn out on the bare Credit of the Eth. Vers. but see him after expounding both these according to the received Reading, Pr. 1355.

Ver. 10. and carnal Ordinances] three Copies leave out [and] two of them with two or three Transf. have Ordinances in another Case, to be the Gifts and Sacrifices, and those two Mills says are entirely right. As for his saying that otherwise laid on would be like able, agreeing in Gen. with Sacrifices; I say No, but it does with Ordinances.

Ib. till the Time of Reformation] made by Christ, as in the following Verses.

Ver. 11. Building] West. creation.

Ver. 13. Purity] not purifying; see the Lexicons, and Gell's Essay, p. 525.

Ver. 14. everlasting] for which some have holy, but not accepted by Mills.

Ib. purify] as Ver. 23.

17. Since a Testament is firm to the Dead ; though it is not of force at any time when the Testator is alive.

18. Which neither was the first dedicated without Blood.

19. For when every Precept was spoken according to the Law, by Moses to the People, he taking the Blood of Calves and Goats, with Water, scarlet Wool and Hyssop, sprinkled as well the Book, as all the People ;

20. Saying, This is the Blood of the Covenant which God has commanded to you.

21. Both the Tabernacle also, and all the Instruments of the Service, he sprinkled in like Manner with Blood.

22. Nay almost all Things are purified with Blood according to the Law, and there is not Forgiveness without shedding of Blood.

23. It was therefore necessary indeed for the Patterns of Things in the Heavens to be purified by these ; but the heavenly Things themselves by better Sacrifices than these :

24. For Christ is not entered into the holy Places made with hands, the Models of the true ; but into Heaven it self, now to appear in the Presence of God for us ;

25. And not that he should offer himself often, as the high Priest enters into the holy Places yearly, with Blood of others ;

26. (Since then he must have suffered often from the founding of the World) but now once in the End of Ages he has appeared, for the putting away of Sin, by the Sacrifice of himself.

27. And according as there is appointed for Men once to die, and after that the Judgment :

28. So Christ being once offered up to bear the Sins of many, will be seen the second time without Sin to Salvation, by those who wait for him.

CHAP. X.

FOR as the Law has but the Shadow of future good Things, not the Image it self of the Matters, it can never make them who come to it perfect, by those Sacrifices which they yearly offer continually.

2. Since would not they then have ceased to be offered ? by reason the Worshipers once cleansed, would have had Consciousness of Sins no more.

3. Whereas in these there is Remembrance of Sins yearly.

4. For it is impossible, that the Blood of Bulls and Goats should take away Sins.

5. Therefore as he should come into the World, he says ; Sacrifice and Offering thou didst not desire, but didst fit up a Body for me ;

Ver. 18. dedicated] West. originally transacted.

Ver. 22. almost] omitted only in two Versions, whence Mills takes Occasion to say it was put in afterwards, Pr. 1255.

Ver. 23. the heavenly Things] Those that belonged to Heaven, or divine Matters, and the Persons who were to go thither.

Ver. 25. And not that] connective with It was necessary &c. Ver. 23. and the intermediate Verse as in a Parenthesis. But what does not yet that accord with ? The Gr. also not having yet.

Ver. 26. End] West. at the consummation of the ages.

Ver. 1. can] Some have it plur. of the Sacrifices, and that Whitby says is more likely, Exam. L. 2. 3. which may be wondered at.

Ver. 2. would not they] Doddr. says They would &c. is supported by many Copies. Whereas one, or at most two Copies have it one Way, two another, and two more in a third Manner ; of which only one Sort can be genuine, and what is that to ballance against the common, when the Sense is the same ? I suppose our ms. not being joined to the following av in transcribing, and so making no Word, a was after left out, and then now being not well, a was afterwards omitted too.

1b. Consciousness] so Wesley.

Ver. 4. take away Sins] Thus Diogenes the Philosopher seeing one sprinkling himself with Water, as Diogenes Laertius relates, said to him, Wretch, dost not thou know ; thou canst no more free thy self from the Errors of Life by Sprinkling ; than from those of Grammar ?

Ver. 5. as he should come] according as it was, and suitable to that in Ver. 7. whereas when he cometh is either the present or future Time of the Author's writing this, as it is no Part of the Quotation from Psa. xl. 6. nor is it free from another Absurdity, as it brings he saith to the same Time.

1b. fit up a Body for me] from the Transl. of the Septuag. Psa. xl. 6. but how they turned it so widely seemed hard to say, especially as to Ears ; so that I intended rather to say Nothing how it came to be, than with others Nothing to the Purpose ; when at the Time of printing I found Doddr. thus express his Sentiment, ' After having deliberately considered the various Interpretations which have been given of this Text, I find none so probable ' as that of Mr. Pierce, who supposes that the original Reading of the Hebrew which the Seventy follow, instead of וּמִי was וּמִי ; and that כִּרְחֹק sometimes signifies to procure, as well as to dig. ' And is the Expression then in Psa. to be given up as false and corrupt ? I hope not. ' If such an Alteration had been made, those who made it must have understood Hebrew to make it right for Ears ; and can any rational Person on mature Consideration believe that such not only mistook two Words, but all the three Letters of the latter Word ? And that the LXX did not translate those Words is manifest, since the first of them would have been toti then, not de but, neither did they render the Verb procure, which in the other Sense is rather purchase. ' It appears to me most likely now on Reconsideration, that because digging the Ears was obscure and doubtful to them, they changed the Expression, which other Translators as well as they frequently do, and as Belly and Loins are elsewhere changed into Body. So as duggeth the Ears for me, as the Heb. Phrase is, they might understand made them as they are, viz. hollow that they might hear ; and that David mentioned this, as a Part for the Whole, that God fitted or framed up his Body for him, as dug is also used for the Body being made, Isa. li. 1. and the Gr. Word which does not

6. Since thou wast not pleased with Burnt-sacrifice, and that for Sin.

7. I then said, Behold I am coming (it being written of me in the Volume of the Book) to do thy Will, O God.

8. When he said above, Sacrifice, Offering, Burnt-sacrifices, and those for Sin thou didst not desire, nor wast pleased with (which are offered according to the Law;)

9. Then said he, Behold I am coming to do thy Will, O God: taking away the first, that he may set up the second.

10. In which Will we are sanctified, by the Offering of the Body of Jesus Christ once.

11. Now every Priest indeed stands ministering daily, and offering often the same Sacrifices, which can never take away Sins.

12. Whereas when he had offered one Sacrifice for Sins, he sat down continually at the right Hand of God;

13. Waiting further till his Enemies are made his Footstool.

14. For with one Offering he has made perfect continually the sanctified ones.

15. Nay the holy Spirit testifies to us: for after he had said before,

16. This is the Covenant which I will make with them after those Days; the Lord declares, I will put my Laws in their Hearts, and write them in their Minds;

17. And will remember their Sins and Iniquities no more.

18. Now where Forgiveness of these is, there is Offering no more for Sin.

19. As we have therefore Boldness, Brethren, for entering the Sanctuary by the Blood of Jesus,

20. By the fresh and living Way which he has dedicated for us through the Veil; that is his Flesh,

21. And a great Priest over the House of God;

22. Let us approach with a true Heart, in Assurance of Faith, having Minds sprinkled from a wicked Conscience, and the Body washed with clean Water.

23. Let us hold the Profession of Hope without wavering (for he is faithful who promised)

24. And consider one another, in order to provoke to Love and good Works:

25. As also not leave the assembling of our selves together, as the Custom of some is, but exhort to it; and so much the more as you see the Day drawing near.

26. For when we sin wilfully after receiving the Knowledge of the Truth, there is no more left a Sacrifice for the Sins;

27. But some fearful Expectation of Judgment, and fiery Zeal, that will consume the Adversaries.

28. He who rejected the Law of Moses, died without Mercy by two or three Witnesses;

29. Of how much worse Punishment do ye think him to be counted deserving, that trod on the Son of God, and has esteemed the Blood of the Covenant which he was sanctified with common, and railed at the Spirit of Grace?

30. For we know him who said, To me belongs Vengeance, I will recompense, says the Lord; and again, The Lord will judge for his People.

31. It is a fearful Thing to fall into the Hands of the Living God.

32. But remember the former Days, in which when you were enlightened, you endured much Contest of Sufferings:

33. Partly indeed as you were made a Show of, both in Reproaches and Afflictions; and partly as you became Partakers with those who were accustomed to be so:

signify prepared, is rendered perfecisti in the Pol. Bib. from the ancient vulg. Lat. that is completed, or completely made. Nay this Interpretation is so pertinent, especially as the Apostle makes use of it directly for his Argument here, on which the Stress of the Argument lies; and it has such an Evangelical Appearance, which might possibly drop from those ancient Interpreters like that in John xi. 49, 50, 51. from Caiph; that for these Reasons it may have a Claim with the other Sense which I have given to the Heb. on Psa. in the Manner exhibited in 1 Pet. i. 10, 11, 12. which also appears in several Gospel Prophecies of the Old Test. Books, that the Person inspired understood his Words one Way in Relation to himself or others then, and the Spirit of Christ, by which he was inspired, Ver. 11. intended it to be also further concerning Christ. Hence the next probable Solution of Mr. Saurin, as Doddr. ranks it, that the Seventy explained the Phrase of bearing the Ear, by that of preparing the Body for Service, is inconclusive or incoherent, both in the Premises and Inference; since no bearing nor preparing is expressed, neither did the former denote the latter.

Ver. 9. O God] which has been inserted, says Mills, from Ver. 7. Pr. 1317. because not with seven or eight:

Ver. 10. once] for all may be thought added unawares by our Predestinarian Translators.

Ver. 11. Priest] by eleven high Priests, which Gratius saying is clearer; does but make it more suspicious.

Ver. 23. Hope] the com. Original Reading, Faith being but in two Copies; Doddr. says only a single one, but they are Barb. 1. and Bodl. 5. and our is added thrice in this and the preceding Ver. by the English Translators.

Ver. 26. wilfully] as particularly shewn how in Ver. 29. and the Sins here mentioned described there. What the Scripture is given for may be read in 2 Tim. iii. 16. and is not to be misconstrued to make tender Minds despair, and to assist the Tempter in his Temptation, as he himself used it, Mat. iv. 6.

Ver. 30. says the Lord] Some omit; and why seems apparent, because it might be spared; and therefore not likely to be from Rom. xii. 19. where it cannot; as both Mills and Whitby report.

Ver. 33. accustomed to be] for used in the com. Transl. may be taken for treated, which is not the Meaning.

34. For you were affected too with my Bonds, and took with Joy the Pillage of the Things you had; since you knew in your selves that you have in Heaven better Goods, and continuing.

35. Cast not away therefore your Boldness, which has great Recompence.

36. For you have Need of Patience, that when you have done the Will of God, you may receive the Promise.

37. For in a very little while the Comer will come, and not delay.

38. But the Righteous shall live by Faith; and if he draws back, my Soul will not be pleased with him.

39. However we are not Persons of Drawing back to Destruction, but of Faith to saving the Soul.

CH A P. XI.

NOW Faith is the Confidence of Matters to be hoped for, the Proof of those not seen.

2. For in this the Elders were testified of.

3. By Faith we understand that the Worlds were framed by the Word of God, so that the Things seen were not made out of them which appear.

4. By Faith Abel offered to God a better Sacrifice than Cain, whereby he was testified of to be righteous, since God testifies of his Gifts; and thereby though he is dead, he still speaks.

5. By Faith Enoch was removed not to see Death, and was not found, because God removed him: for before his Removal, he was testified of to have pleased God.

6. Whereas without Faith it is impossible to please him: for he who comes to God, must believe that he exists, and is a Recompenser of those who seek after him.

7. By Faith Noe when he was divinely admonished about Things not yet seen, feared, and made ready an Ark for the Saving of his Family; whereby he condemned the World, and became Heir of the Righteousness that is according to Faith.

8. By Faith Abraham when he was called, obeyed to go forth into a Place which he should afterwards receive for an Inheritance; and went forth, without knowing whither he went.

9. By Faith he sojourned in the Country of Promise as a strange one, and dwelt in Tents with Isaac and Jacob, Heirs together of the same Promise.

10. For he waited for a City which has Foundations, whose Artificer and Maker is God.

11. By Faith also Sara her self received Power for Conception of Offspring, and did bear past the Time of Age; since she esteemed him faithful who promised.

12. Therefore even from one, and he deadish, there were born as the Stars of Heaven in Multitude, and numberless according as the Sand at the Sea-shoar.

Ver. 34. affected] West. sympathized with; but better with a Person, than with bonds.

Ib. my] Some Books are without, which though Mills, Whitby, and Wall reckon to be right, it might rather be left out to accord more with the following, for which two have their, and most of them Prisoners for Bonds; but the latter, notwithstanding other Criticks approve of it, Mills counts an Exposition from Ch. xiii. 3.

Ib. in Heaven] Mills supposed did creep in from the Marg. as the Vulg. and some others are without it.

Ver. 38. Righteous shall live by Faith] four have my with Righteous, six with Faith, which latter Mills reckoned right.

Ib. he draws back] the Gr. having no other Subject but the Righteous; and of this see Gell, Essay, p. 607.

Ver. 1. the Confidence of Matters to be hoped for, the Proof of those not seen] Mills in Prok. 590. not in the Notes, nor noted by Kuster, as at Ch. vi. 1. tells of the Clar. Copy having it, the Substance of those that breathe, the Accusation of Things not seen; taking I perceive the Latin spero for i, spero being hope, and spiro breathe, of the same Conjug. with the other Gr. Word in an ill Sense.

Ib. Confidence] as our great Commentators here interpret, and Translators render it, Ch. iii. 14. 2 Cor. xi. 17. and the like ix. 4. by West. subsistence.

Ver. 4. still] for yet may be taken for a Conjunction.

Ib. speaks] The far greater Part of Copies have it passively, is rehearsed or spoken of, which to me seems genuine, though in Deference to our Reading I retain that: for the Reason which Mills, or Theophylact before, brings for ours, that it agrees better with what is said in Gen. iv. 13. (which should be 10.) and Hebr. xii. 24. is the Reason that seems to have induced the Alteration, and what could have caused the contrary? Not even contracting the Word, or missing some of it in transcribing, which might make the other, since the Passive is a Syllable the longest at the End; and I may add it makes good Sense, not unworthy of the Apostle's Pen: good did I say? Yes better, for what does Abel speak here? Indeed what did he speak in the other Texts? Nothing, only his Blood spoke for Vengeance on Cain, by the Appearance of it on the Ground; but what is spoken here is Abel's Commendation, therefore passive.

Ver. 7. became Heir of the Righteousness that is according to Faith] This is right St. Paul's way of expression, says Wall; and so Ch. xiii. 9. very likely to be said by him.

Ver. 9. By Faith] Two Copies having And instead of this, Mills feared ours crept from the White of the Book, meaning the Margin, Pr. 1458.

Ver. 10. for a City] See of this also the Beginning of the 3d Book of Hermas.

Ver. 11. did bear] A few with the Vulg. omit, but as to Gretna's saying well, would it be well to omit all that the Expressions of Scripture will bear, and deprive it of those Marks of Antiquity? Why are not the Classical Writings then in the same Manner?

13. These all died according to the Faith, without receiving the Promises, but as they saw them far off, believed, and saluted, as also professed that they were Strangers and Foreigners on the Earth.

14. For those who say such Things, make it appear that they seek after a Country.

15. And indeed if they had been mindful of that from which they came forth, they might have had a Time for turning back ;

16. But now they long for a better, that is a heavenly : therefore God is not ashamed of them to be called their God ; for he has prepared a City for them.

17. By Faith Abraham offered Isaac, when he was tried : and he who had received the Promises, offered the only begotten one ;

18. To whom it was said, Of Isaac it shall be called thy Offspring :

19. As he counted that God was able to raise up even from the Dead ; whence he also received him in a Similitude.

20. By Faith Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau, concerning future Things.

21. By Faith Jacob when he died, blessed each of the Sons of Joseph, as well as worshipped on the Top of his Staff.

22. By Faith Joseph at his Decease, mentioned about the going forth of the Israelites, and gave command concerning his Bones.

23. By Faith Moses upon being born, was hid three Months by his Parents, because they saw the Child beautiful ; so they were not afraid of the King's Order.

24. By Faith Moses when become big, refused to be called the Son of Pharaoh's Daughter ;

25. And chose rather to be ill treated with the People of God, than to have the Enjoyment of Sin for a time ;

26. Since he esteemed the Repröach of Christ greater Riches than the Treasures in Egypt : for he looked to the Recompence.

27. By Faith he left Egypt, having not been afraid of the King's Wrath : for he had Courage given, as seeing the Invisible One.

28. By Faith he made the Passover, and the Sprinkling of the Blood ; that he who destroyed the First-born might not touch them.

29. By Faith the People passed through the Red Sea, as by dry Ground ; of which the Egyptians receiving Trial, were swallowed up.

30. By Faith the Walls of Jericho fell down, when they were compassed for seven Days.

31. By Faith the Harlot Rahab did not perish with the Unbelievers, as she received the Spies peaceably.

32. And what shall I say more ? For Time would fail me to tell concerning Gedeon, Barak, Sampson, Jephthae, David also, and Samuel, with the Prophets :

33. Who through Faith conquered Kingdoms, wrought Righteousness, obtained the Promises, stopped the Mouths of Lions,

34. Quenched the Power of Fire, escaped the Edge of the Sword, were strong from Weakness, became stout in Battle, turned back the Camps of the Strangers.

35. Women received their Dead by Resurrection ; and some were tortured, not accepting Redemption, that they might obtain a better Resurrection ;

36. As also others received Trial of Scoffings and Whippings, nay further of Bonds and Imprisonment :

Ver. 13. believed] or and were persuaded of them in the com. Transf. so many are without, that not only Mills but even Whitby proclaims it added.

Ib. saluted] the proper Meaning of the Gr. Word ; besides that embraced them afar off seems incongruous.

Ver. 18. To] not Of.

Ver. 19. in a Similitude] Of the Resurrection of the Faithful, Nary ; or it might be of that Resurrection of Isaac.

Ver. 23. beautiful] How he was proper may be mistaken, and Johns. gives no other Quotation like it.

Ib. The Clermont and St. Germain's Copies have next after this Verse, By Faith Moses becoming great, slew the Egyptian, considering the Grief of his Brethren ; as for the two Copies Zegerus mentions, they might be the same, and it may be looked on as an Interpolation made from Exod. ii. 11, 12. and as being mentioned Acts vii. 24. tho' Mills counts it genuine ; look at Col. ii. 5.

Ver. 24. become big] so the Gr. which I see no Need to exchange for come to years.

Ver. 25. than to have the Enjoyment of Sin for a time] See Young's three Letters on Pleasure in The Centaur not Fabulous, at the End of the 2d there being nearly these Words ; He that will not fear, shall feel the Wrath of Hea- ven. He that lives in Sense, will die in Sorrow. He does not truly enjoy his present Hour, who thinks not on his last.

Ver. 27. having not been afraid] to do as in Exod. ii. 12. notwithstanding Doddr. refers it to Ch. x. 28. & xi. 5. for he did not leave Egypt before he made the Passover as here in the next Ver. besides his being represented as a single Person.

Ib. had Courage given] passive, and to the Meaning of the Gr. Word.

Ver. 34. were strong] West. was made strong, tho' both the Gr. Words are plural.

Ver. 35. by Resurrection] with the same Word as after, and thus shewing what better there refers to, tho' so much mistaken by Commentators.

Ver. 36. Whippings] In the Epist. of the Church of Smyrna concerning the Martyrdom of Polycarp, it is related of the Primitive Christians, they were so flea'd with Whipping, that the frame and structure of their Bodies were laid open to their very inward Veins and Arteries ; nevertheless they endured it, without so much as a Sigh, or a Groan ; according to Wake's Transf. from the Gr. (the Lat. being paraphractical and wide) which see, as the best Edition, published by Pearson and Smith, at Oxf. 1709.

37. They were stoned, sawed asunder, tried, died by the Slaughter of the Sword; they went about in Sheep in Goat Skins, being in want, afflicted, ill dealt with.

38. (Of whom the World was not worthy;) and wandered in Deserts, Mountains, Caves, and Holes of the Earth.

39. Now all these being testified of through Faith, did not receive the Promise:

40. While God provided Something better for us, that they might not be made perfect without us.

CH A P. XII.

WHEREFORE as we have too so great a Cloud of Witnesses compassing us about; let us, by putting away every Weight, and the Sin that easily surrounds, run with Patience the striving Race set before us:

2. And look to Jesus, the Prince and Perfecter of Faith; who for the Joy set before him, endured the Cross, despised the Shame, and sat down on the right Side of the Throne of God.

3. For consider him who endured such Contradiction of Sinners to himself; that you may not be tired, and faint in your Minds.

4. You have not yet resisted to Blood, in striving against Sin.

5. And you have forgot the Exhortation, which is expressed to you as Sons; My Son, do not slight the Discipline of the Lord, nor faint when thou art reproved by him.

6. For whom the Lord loves he disciplines, and scourges every Son whom he receives.

7. If you endure Discipline, God deals with you as Sons: for what Son is there, whom the Father does not discipline?

8. But if you are without Discipline, of which all become Partakers; then are you Bastards, and not Sons.

9. We have further indeed had Fathers of our Flesh that disciplined, whom we did reverence; shall we not much rather be subject to the Father of Spirits, and live?

10. For they indeed disciplined for a few Days, according as it seemed well to them; but he for profiting, that we may receive his Sanctification.

11. However all Discipline at the present does not seem to be with Joy, but Grief; yet afterwards it yields the peaceable Fruit of Righteousness to those who are exercised by it.

12. Therefore lift up the Hands that are let down, and the slack Knees.

13. And make straight Tracks to your Feet, that what is lame may not be turned out, but rather cured.

14. Pursue after Peace with all, and Holiness, without which none will see the Lord:

15. And overlook that there may not any one be deficient from the Grace of God; that not any Root of Bitterness may spring up, and trouble, by which many may be defiled;

16. That there may be none a Whoremonger; or profane, as Esau, who for one Meal sold his Birth-right.

17. For you know, that afterward also when he would have inherited the Blessing, he was rejected: for he found no Place of Repentance, though he sought after it with Tears.

18. For you are not come to the Mountain which might be touched, and that burned with Fire, as also to the Dimness, Darkness, Tempest,

19. The Trumpet's Sound, and the Voice of Words, which those who heard intreated the Speech might not be proceeded in to them.

20. For they could not bear what was commanded; and if a Beast should touch the Mountain, it was to be stoned, or pierced into with a Dart.

Ver. 37. sawed asunder] which has been thought to be the Prophet Isaiah by King Manasseh.

Ib. tried] There is a deal of Cavilling at the Gr. Word, it being almost in Letters like the foregoing; but as Mills, who is so very ready to object against the com. Reading, pleads for this, we may rest with it.

Ver. 1. too] Doddr. blames our Translators for not taking tau as an Expletive; whereas Erasm. Benz. and Cast. render it by queque, to which likewise his own —ing in Being is equivalent, while he has omitted translating the Gr. Pronouns for we and us.

Ver. 5. Exhortation] Vulg. Comfort, contrary to what it was in two or three Places mentioned before, and both there and here to the Sense of the Text.

Ib. Sons] as translated Ver. 7, 8, &c.

Ver. 12. lift up the Hands] rather to work or labour, than pray, as lift up belongs also to Knees.

Ib. the Knees] to go on or travel, according to the next Verse.

Ver. 15. that not any Root of Bitterness may spring up, and trouble] Mills would have it, that there may not be any

Root of Bitterness springing up with Gall, from the Verf. of the Sept. Deut. xxix. 18. with there—be understood, the Difference being only τροχλῆ and ἐν τροχῇ but without any Copy, Translation, or Quotation that has it so here; and why might not the Apostle vary a little from that, as well as he does more in leaving out may be in you, and of Bitterness, with and Wormwood? besides with Gall being a Tautology to of Bitterness, and so not both there.

Ver. 17. also] not how in any Sense.

Ib. Repentance] in or by his Father, according to Whitby and Wall.

Ver. 18. which might be touched] Wall suspects, without any Copy or Transf. for it, that there should be not; but surely it might possibly be touched, as it was forbid, Exod. xix. 12. but the heavenly Mountain cannot, Ver. 22. which clears up the Matter.

Ver. 20. was to] oblique Expression being here more proper than direct, and shall requiring it was said.

Ib. pierced into] A Dart being thrown, not thrust; and through needful, as well as improbable.

21. Nay so fearful was the Sight, that Moses said, I am terrified, and tremble.

22. But you are come to the Mountain of Sion, and to the City of the Living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to ten thousands of Angels,

23. To the universal Assembly and Church of the First-born that are enrolled in Heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the Spirits of the Righteous made perfect,

24. And to Jesus the Mediator of the new Covenant, and to the sprinkling Blood which speaks better than Abel's.

25. See you do not refuse him who speaks: for if they did not escape that refused him who divinely admonished on the Earth, much less we that turn away when from Heaven:

26. Whose Voice then shook the Earth; but now he has promised thus, Yet once I move not only the Earth, but also Heaven.

27. Now the yet once declares the Removal of the Things shaken, as having been appointed, that those not shaken may remain.

28. Therefore as we receive an immovable Kingdom, let us hold Grace by which we may worship God well-pleasingly, with Reverence and Fear.

29. For our God is even a consuming Fire.

10. We have an Altar, of which they have not Power to eat, that serve at the Tabernacle.

11. For of those living Creatures, whose Blood is brought into the Sanctuary for Sin by the high Priest, the Bodies are burnt without the Camp.

12. Therefore Jesus also, that he might sanctify the People by his own Blood, suffered without the Gate.

13. Let us therefore go forth to him without the Camp, and carry his Reproach.

14. For we have not here a remaining City, but seek after a future one.

15. By him therefore let us offer up the Sacrifice of Praise always to God, that is the Fruit of the Lips making confession to his Name.

16. But Well-doing and Fellowship do not forget: for with such Sacrifices God is well pleased.

17. Obey them who are the chief of you, and be subject: since they watch for your Souls, as those who will render Account; that they may do the same with Joy, and not be lamenting; for this would be unprofitable to you.

NOTES upon the General Epistle of JAMES.

CHAP. I.

JAMES, a Servant of God, and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve Tribes that are dispersed, Salutation.

2. Esteem it all Joy, my Brethren, when you fall into various Temptations.

3. Knowing that the Proving of your Faith works Patience.

4. But let Patience have a perfect Work; that you may be perfect and entire, wanting in Nothing.

5. If any one of you also want Wisdom, let him ask from God, who gives to all freely, and without reproaching; and it will be given him.

6. But let him ask in Faith, not at all doubting: for he that doubts is like a Wave of the Sea, which is driven by the Wind, and blown about.

7. For let not that Person imagine, that he will receive any Thing from the Lord.

8. A double-minded Man is unstable in all his Ways.

9. Nay let a lowly Brother glory in his Highness;

10. And a rich one in his Lowness, since he will pass away as the Flower of the Grass.

11. For the Sun having risen with Scorching, and withered the Grass, its Flower is fallen off, and the Comeliness of its Appearance perished; so also will a rich one fade away in his Ways.

12. The Man is blessed who endures

Temptation; because when he is proved, he will receive a Crown of Life, which the Lord has promised to those that love him.

13. Let Nobody who is tempted say, I am tempted by God: for God cannot be tempted with evil Things, and he tempts none.

14. But each is tempted, when he is drawn away by his own Desire, and enticed.

15. Afterwards Desire conceiving, bears Sin; and Sin being accomplished, begets Death.

16. Do not mistake, my beloved Brethren:

17. Every good Gift, and every perfect Thing bestowed is from above, and comes down from the Father of Lights; with whom there is not Change, or turning Shadow.

18. He begat us willingly by the Word of Truth, for us to be some First-fruit of his Creatures.

19. So then, my beloved Brethren, let every Man be quick in hearing, slow in speaking, slow in Anger.

20. For the Anger of Man does not work the Righteousness of God.

21. Therefore putting away all Filthiness, and the Abundance of Wickedness, receive in Meekness the Word that springs up within, which is able to save your Souls.

22. But become Doers of the Word, and not Hearers only, beguiling your selves.

23. Since if any one is a Hearer of the Word, and not a Doer, he is like a Man that views his natural Face in a Glass.

Tit. Epistle] The Author suffering Martyrdom presently after the Death of Festus, as Josephus relates, Antiq. B. 20. Ch. 16. which Pearson computes to be A. D. 62; Mills, to whose Suffrage we need not scruple to subscribe, counts it written in the Year 60.

Ver. 3. Faith] Mills first stigmatized on the Trust of a single Copy, and that left unknown what it is, afterwards in Prolog. he mentions another, and repeats that it seems to be from 1 Pet. i. 7. but are all parallel Expressions of Scripture to be thus excluded? On the contrary they strengthen one another.

Ver. 11. having risen] The Verbs being past Tenses, changing from the 1st to the 2d Aorist.

1b. Comeliness] grace of the grass in the com. Eng.

Ver. 15. begets] according as translated Ver. 18.

Ver. 17. Every good Gift] Those of Geneva comment well, notwithstanding their rigid Tenet of Predestination, Seeing all good things come of God, we ought not to make him the author of evil.

1b. Thing bestowed] or Donation, the Word being not the same as the foregoing.

Ver. 19. So then—let] instead of which Mills puts for genuine Know—and let, Pr. 1355. but for that there is small Authority, and very little for the latter.

Ver. 21. springs up] The primitive Verb being thus rendered in each of the three Places where it is, which are Luke viii. 6, 8. Heb. xii. 15. and not signifying to graft.

Ver. 23. views] Gr. considers, which mere beholding does not include.

24. For

24. For when he has viewed himself, and is gone away, he presently forgets what Kind of one he was.

25. But he who looks into the perfect Law of Freedom, and remains therein; the very same being not a forgetful Hearer, but a Doer of the Work, will be blessed in his Deed.

26. If any one seems to be religious among you, that does not bridle his Tongue, but deceives his Heart, the Religion of the same is vain.

27. Pure and undefiled Religion, with God and the Father, is this; to visit the Fatherless and Widows in their Affliction, to keep himself unstained from the World.

C H A P. II.

MY Brethren, do not hold the Faith of our glorious Lord Jesus Christ with Respect of Persons.

1. For if there come into your Assembly a Man with a gold Ring, in gay Apparel, and there come in also a poor one in vile Apparel;

3. And you have respect to him that wears the gay Apparel, and say to him, Sit thou here well; and say to the poor one, Stand thou there, or sit here under my Footstool:

4. Are you then not partial in your selves, and become Judges with evil Reasonings?

5. Hear, my beloved Brethren, has not God chosen the Poor of this World, being rich in Faith, and Heirs of the Kingdom which he has promised to those who love him?

6. Whereas you disgrace the Poor: do not the Rich overpower you, and themselves drag you to be judged?

7. Do not they speak ill of the good Name by which you are called?

8. However if you accomplish the royal Law according to the Scripture, Thou shalt love thy Neighbour as thy self, you do well.

9. But if you respect Persons, you commit

Sin, and are convicted by the Law as Transgressors.

10. For he that keeps the whole Law, besides offending in one Thing, becomes guilty of all.

11. Since he who said, Thou shalt not commit Adultery; said also, Thou shalt not murder: now if thou shouldest not commit Adultery, yet shouldest murder, thou becomest a Transgressor of the Law.

12. So speak, and so do, as being hereafter to be judged by the Law of Freedom.

13. For to him that does not shew Mercy, will be Mercy without Judgment; and Mercy glories against Judgment.

14. What Profit is it, my Brethren, if one say, he has Faith, and has not Works? Is Faith able to save him?

15. Suppose now a Brother or Sister were naked, and were wanting daily Food;

16. And one of you should say to them, Go away in Peace, be you warmed and filled, but should not give them Things convenient for the Body; what Profit would it be?

17. Even so Faith, except it has Works, is dead of it self.

18. But one might say, Thou hast Faith, and I have Works; shew me thy Faith without thy Works, and I will shew thee my Faith by my Works.

19. As thou believest that there is one God, thou doest well; yet the Devils believe, and tremble.

20. But wilt thou know, O vain Man, that Faith without Works is dead?

21. Was not our Father Abraham justified by Works, when he offered up his Son Isaac on the Altar?

22. Dost thou perceive that Faith wrought with his Works, and by Works Faith was made perfect?

23. And the Scripture was fulfilled which says, Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned to him for Righteousness; and he was called the Friend of God.

24. Do you see therefore, that by Works a Man is justified, and not by Faith only?

Ver. 24. when he has viewed &c.] of the Time past.

Ver. 25. the same] Mills supposes inserted from the latter tr this, Pr. 1248. being not in four Exemplars and two Versions.

Ver. 26. seems] according to that damnable Art of Seeming, as pious Gell says in Essay, p. 228.

Ib. among you] which entirely seems added, says Mills, as wanting in four Translations and as many Copies; but what are these to all the rest?

Ver. 2. vile] West. dirty.

Ver. 18. without] Far the greater Number of Copies have by as in the latter Part, for which Mills strenuously pleads, and Wall holds.

Ver. 20. vain] West. empty.

Ib. Faith without Works is dead] Of which in The Vision of Pierce Plowman, that old approved Book, Pass. prim.

For James the sence, lodged in his bookes

That faith without the seate, is right nothing worth

And as dead as doze tre, but if the deede follow

Ver. 24. Do you] It being a Question, like the 22 Verse.

Ib. therefore] the Vulg. and a few omit.

25. Nay in like Manner also was not the Harlot Rahab justified by Works, when she received the Messengers, and sent them out another Way?

26. For according as a Body without a Spirit is dead, so is also Faith without Works.

C H A P. III.

DO not become many Teachers, my Brethren, knowing that we shall receive greater Judgment.

2. For we all offend in many Things: if any one does not offend in Word, he is a perfect Man, and can also bridle the whole Body.

3. Behold we put Bridles into Horses Mouths, for them to obey us; and we turn about their whole Body.

4. Behold also the Ships, though they are so great, and driven by hard Winds, are turned about by a very small Rudder, whithersoever the Impulse of the Director will.

5. Even so the Tongue is a little Member, and brags greatly: behold how much Fuel a small Fire kindles up!

6. And the Tongue is a Fire, a World of Unrighteousness: so is the Tongue made among our Members, which stains the whole Body, and puts in a flame the Course of Nature, nay is put in a flame by Hell.

7. For all the Faculty both of Beasts and Fowls, both of creeping Things and those of the Sea, is tamed, and has been, by the Faculty of Man.

8. But the Tongue no Man can tame; as it is an unrestrainable Evil, full of deadly Poison.

9. With it we bless God and the Father; and with it we curse Men, made according to the Likeness of God.

10. Out of the same Mouth comes Blessing and Cursing: these Things, my Brethren, ought not so to be.

11. Does a Fountain from the same Cavity, produce what is sweet and bitter?

12. Can a Fig-tree, my Brethren, yield Olives, or a Vine Figs? So no Fountain can yield salt and fresh Water.

13. Who is wise and knowing among you? Let him shew by a good Conversation, his Works in Meekness of Wisdom.

14. But if you have bitter Jealousy and Quarrelling in your Heart, do not glory, and lye against the Truth.

15. This Wisdom does not come down from above, but is earthly, sensual, devilish.

16. For where Jealousy, and Quarrelling is; there is Tumult, and every bad Matter.

17. Whereas the Wisdom from above is indeed first pure, next peaceable, gentle, obliging, full of Mercy and good Fruits, impartial, and not hypocritical.

18. And the Fruit of Righteousness is sown in Peace, by those who make Peace.

C H A P. IV.

WHENCE are Fightings and Contentions among you? Are they not hence, from your Pleasures that make war in your Members?

2. You desire, yet do not have; you kill, and are zealous, yet cannot obtain; contend, and fight, yet have not, by reason ye do not ask.

3. You ask, and receive not, because you ask amiss, that you may spend in your Pleasures.

Ver. 1. Teachers] so the Gr. as in many other Places.

Ib. Judgment] agreeable to Heb. xiii. 17.

Ver. 2. we] personating the many as in the Verse before, and as our great Young now does in Cent. not Fab. and others.

Ib. we all offend] In the com. Transf. all reads like the Object, or Persons offended.

Ib. all] left out of J. Wesley's New Testament, probably by Oversight.

Ver. 4. Rudder] so translated Acts xxvii. 40. being only used in these two Places; but the Helm is the Ship, whereby the Rudder is turned, is a long Handle; Lewis therefore in his Hist. of Eng. Translations, p. 370. charges the anonymous Translator who has it helm, with mistaking the helm for the rudder; but Ham. may be said to mistake more, having it helm or stern, the stern being the hinder Part of the Ship.

Ib. Director] Wesl. steersman; but in Sea-language is called the Mate.

Ver. 5. a small] But Mills judges how much is here also the right, which the Vulg. and three or four Codes have; though it thwarts the Apostle's Argument, and might be written by looking at the other, and then altering one Letter of James to James, rather than deface the Copy with exaggeration.

Ver. 6. and] the middle one Mills puts off merely for the Vulg. being without it, Pr. 498. when if half the Copies and Versions had it not, it might be thought rather left out there, than put into the other half, since the leaving out has more the Claim of Elegance.

Ver. 14. Jealousy] Wesl. zeal.

Ver. 15. sensual] Wesl. animal.

Ver. 16. Jealousy] Wesl. bitter zeal, by Mistake of bitter, as it seems, from Ver. 14.

Ver. 17. impartial] I know not how, says Wall, Marg. Eng. can make the Word signify without wrangling. The Gen. have without judging, and this valuable Note on it, And examining things with extreme rigour as hypocrites (according to the next) who only justify themselves, and condemn all others.

Ver. 18. by] Wesl. for.

Ver. 3. ask amiss] Diogenes blamed Men about their Prayers, that they asked for Things which seemed good to them, and not for those that were really so, D. Laert. in his Life.

Ib. spend] Wesl. expend.

4. Adulterers and Adulteresses, do ye not know, that the Friendship of the World is Enmity to God? Whoever therefore would be a Friend of the World, is made an Enemy of God.

5. Do ye think that the Scripture says in vain, The Spirit which dwells in us longs towards Envy.

6. But he gives greater Grace: therefore it says, God opposes the proud, but gives Grace to the humble ones.

7. Be subject therefore to God; resist the Devil, and he will flee from you.

8. Draw near to God, and he will draw near to you; cleanse the Hands, O Sinners; and purify the Hearts, you Double-minded.

9. Be sorrowful, lament and weep; let your Laughter be turned into Lamentation, and Joy into Sadness.

10. Be humble before the Lord, and he will exalt you.

11. Do not speak one against another, Brethren: he who speaks against a Brother, and judges his Brother, speaks against the Law, and judges that; whereas if thou judgest the Law, thou art not a Doer of it, but a Judge.

12. There is one Law-giver, who can save and destroy: who art thou that judgest another?

13. Come now you that say, To Day or to Morrow we will go into such a City, and be employed there a Year, and merchandise, and gain;

14. Who know not what will be to Morrow: for what is your Life? It is even a Vapour that appears for a little while, and then vanishes away.

15. On the contrary you should say, If the Lord will, and we shall live, and do this or that.

16. Whereas now you glory in your Bragging: all such Glorifying is wicked.

17. To him therefore who knows how to do well, and does not, it is Sin.

CHAP. V.

COME now, rich ones, weep and wail, for your Miseries that are coming on.

2. Your Riches are rotten, and your Cloaths become moth-eaten;

3. Your Gold and Silver is rusted, and their Rust will be for a Testimony to you, and eat your Flesh as Fire: you have treasured up for the last Days.

4. Behold the Wages of the Workmen, who reaped your Fields, kept back by you cries out; and the Cries of the Reapers are entered into the Ears of the Lord of Armies.

5. You have taken delight on the Earth, and been wanton; have nourished your Hearts as on a Day of Slaughter.

6. You have condemned, have killed the Righteous One; who does not oppose you.

7. Bear long therefore, Brethren, till the Coming of the Lord: behold a Husbandman waits for the precious Fruit of the Earth, and bears long for it, till he receives the early and late Rain.

8. Do ye also bear long, establish your Hearts; since the Coming of the Lord draws near.

Ver. 4. and Adulteresses] four Versions being without this, Mills says, And so without all Doubt the Apostle, he following Estius a Popish Writer, and the Vulg. being one of those; when Adulterers might be deposed by the greater Authority of two very ancient noted Copies.

Ver. 5. towards] But by West. against; which is taking great Liberty indeed, to turn both the Meaning of the Gr. Word, and the Sense of the Passage, so contrary.

Ver. 6. it says] What he?

Ib. God opposes &c.] from the Septuagint, Pro. 3. 34. only with God instead of The Lord.

Ver. 11. against] so the Gr. and not evil.

Ib. judges his Brother] in what the Law allows, which makes the following clear.

Ib. his] which the Gr. has here.

Ver. 12. Lawgiver] Some increase it with and Judge; to suit perhaps with destroy, as they imagined the other did only with save.

Ver. 13. be employed] Gr. do, as in Ver. 15, 17. not continue.

Ver. 14. Who] not Whereas.

Ver. 17. how to do] perhaps came from the Margin, Mills writes, Pr. 1487. for the Absence of it in two Copies and a Transf.

Ver. 4. kept back] by fraud added by the Translators.

Ver. 5. taken delight] Young in The Cent. not Fab. Let. 2. writes, None can deny that the Love of Pleasure is the Root of every Crime. Theft, Murder, Perjury, are a few of its fatal Fruits; nor the worst. I suppose he had his Eye on Infidelity before. A few Pages after he has, Pleasure is in some Sort more pernicious than direct Vice, &c.

Ib. as on a Day of Slaughter] seems Commentary, not Text, with Mills, only for being not in the Ethiop. which Transf. especially may in some Places be reckoned an Abridgment.

Ib. Slaughter] West. sacrifice, tho' scarce signified by the Gr. Word.

Ver. 5, 6. Pleasure and Infidelity reciprocally generate each other, Young's Centaur not Fabulous, Let. 1.

Ver. 6. Righteous One] the same as in Acts iii. 14.

Ib. who does not oppose you] but lets you go on in your own Ways, as we say, which removes the Difficulty that some have found in it.

Ver. 7. Rain] some Reader added, being ignorant that the former and late is said of the Fruit of the Earth, writes Mills; but how feeble is the Foundation of this Criticism, its not being in two Versions and a Copy or two, and the Use of those Epithets with Fruit so rare!

9. Repine not one at another, Brethren lest you should be condemned: behold the Judge stands before the Door.

10. Take, my Brethren, for an Example of suffering harm, and bearing long, the Prophets, who spoke in the Name of the Lord.

11. Behold we count them blessed who endure. You have heard of the Patience of Job, and seen the End from the Lord, that he is very pitiful, and merciful.

12. But before all Things else, my Brethren, do not swear, neither by Heaven, nor by Earth, nor by any other Oath; but let Yes for you be Yes, and No for you be No, that you may not fall under Condemnation.

13. Does any one among you suffer harm? Let him pray: is any one chearful? Let him sing praise.

14. Is any one sick among you? Let him call thither the Elders of the Church, and let them pray over him, as also anoint him with Oil in the Name of the Lord.

15. And the Prayer of Faith will save him who is ill, and the Lord will raise him up; nay if he has committed Sins, it will be forgiven him.

16. Confess Offences one to another, and pray for one another, that you may be cured: the operating Supplication of a righteous Person is of much Force.

17. Elias was a Man affected like us, and he prayed with a Petition that it might not rain; and it did not rain on the Earth, three Years and six Months.

18. Then he prayed again, and the Heaven gave Rain, as also the Earth yielded forth its Fruit.

19. Brethren, if any one among you err from the Truth, and one convert him;

20. Let him know, that he who converts a Sinner from the Error of his Ways, will save a Soul from Death, and cover a Multitude of Sins.

Ver. 10. suffering harm and bearing long] To these have been added Labour and Patience, which the vulg. Lat. retains, having dropped the other and right Meaning of the Greek Words, as our Transl. has done with the last of them.

Ver. 12. before all] Why such a Charge, but because Swearing would be generally allowed and promoted, among the Professors of Christianity?

Ver. 15. it will] viz. the committing Sins, this Verb. being singular.

Ver. 16. operating] Whitby says, Gr. inspiring.

Ver. 20. a Soul] Some have his Soul.

NOTES upon the First Epistle of P E T E R.

CH A P. I.

PETER, an Apostle of Jesus Christ; to the chosen Foreigners, dispersed in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia and Bithynia,

2. According to the Foreknowledge of God the Father, by Sanctification of the Spirit to Obedience, and Sprinkling of the Blood of Jesus Christ. Grace to you, and Peace be increased.

3. The God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ be blessed, who according to his great Mercy has begotten us again to a living Hope, through the Resurrection of Jesus Christ from the Dead;

4. To an Inheritance incorruptible, undefiled, and unfading, reserved in Heaven for you:

5. Who are kept in the Power of God through Faith, to the Salvation that is prepared to be revealed at the last Time.

6. At which you are joyful, though now a little while (if it is needful) grieved by various Temptations;

7. That the Proving of your Faith, which is much more precious than that of Gold, which perishes, notwithstanding it is proved by Fire, may be found to Praise, Honour and Glory, at the Revelation of Jesus Christ:

8. Whom, not beholding, you love; through whom, not now seeing, yet you believe, and are joyful with inexpressible and glorious Joy:

9. And do receive the End of your Faith, the Salvation of Souls.

10. Concerning which Salvation the Prophets sought after, and searched out, who prophefied about the Grace there would be to you:

11. And searched in relation to whom, or what Time, the Spirit of Christ declared in them, which testified before the Sufferings belonging to Christ, and the Glories after them.

12. To whom it was revealed, that not to themselves, but to us, they might minister those Things, which now have been told you, by them that preached to you, with the Holy Spirit sent from Heaven; into which Things the Angels desire to look.

13. Therefore gird up the Loins of your Mind, be sober, hope perfectly for the Grace to be brought to you, at the Revelation of Jesus Christ:

14. As obedient Children, not fashioned to the Desires before in your Ignorance.

15. But according as he who called you is holy, do ye your selves also be holy in all Conversation:

16. Because it is written, Be you holy; since I am holy.

17. And if you call on the Father, who without Respect of Persons judges according to each one's Work, be you conversant in Fear the Time of your Sojourning:

18. Since you know that you were not redeemed with corruptible Things, with Silver or Gold, from your vain Conversation, delivered by the Fathers;

19. But with the precious Blood of Christ, as a Lamb without Blemish and Stain;

20. Who was foreknown indeed before the founding of the World, but made manifest in the last Times for you:

Tit. Epistle] computed to be written in the Beginning of the Vulgar Year 61. Mills, Prol.

Ver. 1. chosen Foreigners] The Gr. Word for chosen stands as here, and not in the next Ver. which Wall complains of.

Ver. 2. by Sanctification of the Spirit] The great Principle of all true Obediences, Whitby's Annot.

Ver. 5. in the Power] agreeable to Eph. vi. 10. 1 Thes. i. 5. 1 Cor. iv. 20.

Ib. Salvation] By having a Comma here in the com. Transf. and in the Bish. Bib. before, it is they were ready to be revealed, which the Gr. Participle being plur. and fem. does not admit of.

Ib. prepared] for ready may be mistaken to mean about.

Ver. 7. Revelation] thus the Gr. and as in Ver. 13.

Ver. 8. love] with Polycarp and Irenaus believe; see the next.

Ib. through whom, not now seeing] omitted in Polycarp, Irenaus, the Syriack, all ancient; but the latter might follow them, and they quote not strictly, because differently. Yet Mills proclaims both this and the preceding to be genuine, Pr. 285, 499.

Ver. 13. perfectly] So the Eng. Marg. tells us the Gr. is.

Ver. 16. Be you] Some You shall be, as it appears from the Sept.

Ver. 18. or] not and.

Ver. 20. foreknown] for so is the Signification of the Original; and now translated every where else, see in Acts xxvi. 5. Rom. viii. 29. & xi. 2. 2 Pet. iii. 17. and its Derivative, Ch. i. 2. Acts ii. 23. and thus I see since here by Wesley.

21. That by him believe in God, who raised him from the Dead, and gave him Glory; so that your Faith and Hope should be in God.

22. Since you have purified your Souls, through Obedience of the Truth by the Spirit, to unaffected brotherly Friendship; love one another earnestly from a pure Heart:

23. As you are born again, not from corruptible Seed, but incorruptible, by the Word of God, that lives and remains for ever.

24. Because all Flesh is as Grass, and all the Glory of Man as the Blossom of it. The Grass withers, and the Blossom of it falls off;

25. But the Word of the Lord endures for ever. And this is the Word preached to you.

CH A P. II.

PUT away therefore all Mischief, with all Deceit, Hypocrisies, Envyings, and all Disparagings;

2. And desire as new-born Infants, the sincere Milk of the Word, that you may grow by it:

3. Forasmuch as you have tasted, that the Lord is kind.

4. To whom the Living Stone, rejected indeed by Men, but chosen, precious with God, when you come;

5. Your selves also, as living Stones, are built a spiritual House, a holy Priesthood, to offer up spiritual Sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.

6. Therefore it is also contained in the Scripture, Behold I lay in Sion a chief corner Stone, chosen, precious; and he who believes on him shall not be ashamed.

7. To you therefore that believe it is an Honour: nay to the Disobedient, the same Stone which the Builders rejected is become the Head of the Corner;

8. As likewise a tripping Stone, and a stumbling Rock; since those that stumble at the Word are disobedient, to which also they have been put.

9. Whereas you are a chosen Race, a royal Priesthood, a holy Nation, a People obtained; that you may publish the Virtues of him, who has called you out of Darkness, into his wonderful Light:

10. Who once were not a People, but now the People of God: who were not had compassion upon, but now are.

11. Beloved, I beseech, as Sojourners and Foreigners, refrain from fleshly Lusts, which make war against the Soul:

12. And have your Conversation well among the Gentiles; that in what they speak against you as those who do Evil, they may by looking on the good Works, glorify God in the Day of Visitation.

13. Be subject therefore to every human Magistrate, for the Lord's sake: whether to the King, as being above;

14. Or to Governors, as sent by him, for the Punishment indeed of them that do ill, and the Praise of those who do well.

15. Since so is the Will of God, in doing well to stop the Ignorance of foolish Men:

16. As being free, and not having the Freedom as a Cloak of Wickedness, but as the Servants of God.

17. Respect all. Love the Brotherhood. Fear God. Honour the King.

Ver. 21. so that] which the Gr. signifies.

Ver. 22. the Truth] In the com. Lat. Charity, veritatis some how shifting into charitatis.

Ib. by the Spirit] of some Scholiast, says Mills, being not in three Vers. and so many Copies.

Ib. unaffected] the Vulg. not having, Mills declares is Comment from Rom. xii. 9. or elsewhere; which I am sure we are not bound to believe.

Ver. 24. Man] by some it, which Mills deems ours a marginal Exposition of, although the Sept. have Man, Isa. xl. 6. but this it is easy to see they made conformable to the Heb.

Ver. 2. grow by it] several with the Vulg. subjoin to Salvation, which Mills disapproves of to be genuine, since such might be put in, not left out; see besides his Note Pro. 594, 647.

Ver. 3. Forasmuch as] So in 2 Thes. i. 6.

Ib. kind] The Gr. Word being Chrestos, some have Christos, Christ.

Ver. 5. living] as in the Ver. before.

Ib. The latter spiritual seemed to Mills to have crept from the Marg. though with all but the Syr. Transl. Pr. 1255.

Ver. 6. chosen] the same as in Ver. 4.

Ver. 7. an Honour] a Substantive so signifying, and a proper Antithesis to ashamed.

Vol. II.

Ib. the same Stone &c.] to the End of our Ver. being only not in the Syriack, Gretius writes it was brought hither from Mat. xxi. 42. and does not belong to this Place; his imagining the latter being with him a Reason for the former.

Ib. is become] How, it may be asked, to the Disobedient? I answer, By their being convinced it was so.

Ver. 8. put] as the Gr. is, and even Reza translates it, Castalis, from the other's rightly advising, as he says, the foregoing should be turned, not obeying that to which they were, argues that the Verb belongs but to obeying, producing Luke vii. 30. for it: but perhaps this is more ingenious, than right: nor is there Necessary for it, since put might not be by God, or else as in the Case of Pharaoh, Exod. ix. 16. or rather may belong to Word, not to disobedient, which latter may be considered as in a Parenthesis. Ham. and Whit. labour also ineffectually at some good Meaning.

Ver. 9. Virtues] so Doddr.

Ver. 12. in what] as Ch. iii. 16. where see.

Ver. 13. Magistrate] Gr. Creature, or one created; so concurrent with King, &c.

Ver. 16. Wickedness] and West. thus.

Ver. 17. Respect] If this was the same as to the King, the King would be included in all.

18. Servants, be subject to Masters in all Reverence, not only to the good and gentle, but also to the froward.

19. For this is of Favour if any one for Conscience to God endure Grief, when he suffers unjustly.

20. For what is the Glory, if when you are beat on doing amiss, you bear it? But if when you suffer on doing well, you bear it, this is of Favour with God.

21. For to this you were called; since Christ also suffered for us, and left to us a Pattern, that you should follow after his Steps:

22. Who did not commit Sin, nor was there Deceit found in his Mouth:

23. Who when he was railed at, did not rail again; when he suffered, did not threaten, but yielded up to him that judges justly:

24. Who himself carried up our Sins in his Body on the Tree, that as we were dead to Sins, we might be alive to Righteousness; by whose Wheals you were healed.

25. For you were as Sheep that went astray; but are now returned to the Shepherd and Overseer of your Souls.

C H A P. III.

IN like Manner, Wives be subject to your Husbands; that if any are disobedient to the Word, they may, even without it, be gained by the Conversation of the Wives;

2. As they look on your chaste Conversation in Reverence:

Ver. 18. froward] The Vulg. Lat. has it by a Gr. Word, and not the same that is in the Original, which the Rhemish Translators render waiward, and Nary froward, which might nearer be difficult or cross. Mills supposes that was the right Word; perhaps it was in some Copy, but must all now give way to it? Yet that Translator might put dyscolis, a Word of like Import, to avoid the double Vowel in fcolis, or some other might afterwards.

Ver. 20. of Favour] the same with that in the Ver. before.

Ver. 21. suffered for us, and left to us] Notwithstanding a few Copies have you for us both times, and others fewer, with which is the Vulg. instead of the latter; since Mills sticks to the Received, giving good Reason for it, we may be secure therein.

Ver. 23. judges justly] Vulg. judged him unjustly, viz. Pilate; but as neither the Original Copies, nor Mills admit it, Pr. 594. the Roman Catholicks may keep it to themselves.

Ver. 24. Wheals] the Marks made on the Flesh by Whipping.

Ver. 1. Conversation] by West. department.

Ver. 3. outward] an Adverb.

Ver. 4. incorruptible] viz. Adorning, Ver. 3.

Ver. 5. who hope] viz. holy Women indefinitely, the Gr. being in the pres. Tense, and is, I think, a fine Elegancy.

1b. who hope in God] Mills suspected for not being in the Eth. only.

3. Whose Adorning let it not be outward, of plaiting the Hair, putting on of Gold, or wearing of Cloaths;

4. But the hidden Person of the Heart, in the incorruptible one of a meek and still Spirit, which is valuable before God.

5. For so formerly also holy Women, who hoped in God, dressed themselves; and were subject to their Husbands:

6. As Sara obeyed Abraham, and called him Lord: whose Daughters you are in doing well, and not fearing any Consternation.

7. Let the Husbands in like Manner live together according to Knowledge, and render Respect to the Wife as a weaker Vessel, as being also Heirs together of the Grace of Life; for your Prayers not to be hindered.

8. Finally, be all alike minded, be affected together, be in brotherly Friendship, compassionate, courteous:

9. And not render Evil for Evil, or Railing for Railing, but on the contrary Blessing; as you know that you were called to this, that you should inherit Blessing.

10. For he who would love Life, and see good Age; let him make his Tongue cease from Evil, and his Lips not speak Deceit;

11. Let him turn aside from Evil, and do Good; seek Peace, and pursue it.

12. Since the Eyes of the Lord are on the Righteous, and his Ears towards their Supplications; but the angry Countenance of the Lord is on them that do Evil.

Ver. 6. Consternation] according as our Translators turn its Verb terrified, Luke xxi. 9. & xxiv. 37. where these Words only occur.

Ver. 7. Respect] Doddr. describes τιμή as signifying Subsistence or Maintenance to be fully confirmed by Tim. v. 17. yet renders it there Honour himself; and here allowing an honourable Subsistence to the Woman, as if they were to live apart.

1b. hindered] Though divers have this, and Mills is for it, yet he puts cut off in the Text as the general Reading, which I doubt not is the right, for two more Reasons; 1. Because cut being unusual is much likelier to be altered to cut off that is common, than the contrary; 2. For that cut off does not seem so easy a Sense, and who would change it into harder? I may add, that frustrated, according to the extensive Signification both of the Heb. and Gr. Words for cutting off, would make an agreeable Meaning.

Ver. 8. courteous] The Vulg. has it double modest, humble, the latter to explain the other, and then the former was left out of some Copies, according to Mills in Not. and Pr. 594. if not rather, to do the Vulg. Justice, that was made from the two Readings.

Ver. 10. Age] agreeable to Psa. xxxiv. 12. from whence it is quoted.

Ver. 12. on them] on being here the same as before in the Gr. so that the Difference may be between Eyes and Countenance; the latter being taken for Anger in the Heb. Manner according to Beza, noting for and the other against.

13. And who will hurt you, if you are Imitators of Good?

14. Nay if you also suffer for Righteousness, you are blessed: so do not fear as they do, nor be troubled.

15. But sacredly reverence the Lord God in your Hearts; and be prepared always for a Defence, to every one that asks you for the Reason concerning the Hope in you, with Meekness and Awe;

16. And have a good Conscience; that in what they speak against you as those who do Evil, they may be ashamed that molest your good Conversation in Christ.

17. For it is better if that would be the Will of God, to suffer by doing well, than doing ill.

18. Since Christ also suffered once for Sins, the Righteous One for the Unrighteous; that he might bring us to God, as he was put to death indeed in the Flesh, but made to live in the Spirit:

19. In which also he went, and preached to the Spirits in Prison;

20. Who were formerly disobedient, when God's Forbearance once waited in the Days of Noe, when the Ark was making ready, in which few (that is eight) Persons were kept safe by the Water.

21. Whose Model Baptism does also now save us, not the putting away the Filth of the Flesh, but the Demand of a good Conscience to God, by the Resurrection of Jesus Christ:

22. Who is at the right Hand of God, gone into Heaven, and Angels, Authorities, and Powers are subject to him.

C H A P. IV.

CHRIST therefore having suffered for us in the Flesh, be you also armed with the same Mind: since he who has suffered in the Flesh, has ceased from Sin:

Ver. 13. Imitators] By some Emulators or Zealous, Mills believed from Tit. ii. 14.

Ver. 16. in what] the same as in Ver. 19. Ch. iv. 4.

Ib. as those who do Evil] being not in the old Lat. Mills after Estius, supposes it came from Ch. ii. 12. but is not it likelier Peter used his own Phrase in this, as well as that in what they speak against you?

Ver. 18. suffered] died in the Vulg. at the Will of the Translator; see Mills Pr. 594.

Ver. 19. he went] not by any local Motion, but by the Manifestation and Power of his Spirit. See Chap. iv. 14. Gen. vi. 3. Assembly's Annot. and see the like Eph. ii. 17.

Ib. preached to] as Gen. vi. 3. and also by Noah, 2 Epist. ii. 5. according to Hammond's Paraph. but more notably and largely in Whitby's Annot.

Ib. the Spirits in Prison] This is the 4th and last of the Texts that Edwards made a Book of Enquiry into, and has handled the worst and most improbably of all, interpreting this Preaching of Christ to be after his Ascension by his Apostles, p. 249. though Calvin having expounded it of Christ's ascending into Heaven (as more do of his descending into Hell) Edwards says, The main Thing which hinders my Assent to his Interpretation is this, that the Words have relation to Noah's Days, and the particular People of that Time, p. 235. but he has a Salvo for his own Scheme, though it might be applied also to Calvin's and others, if it would bear applying to any, that the People in the Apostles Days may be said to be sometime disobedient, because they are included in their Forefathers. Or rather this may be meant of the former Lives and Manners of those individual Persons who then lived, p. 239. if he had said of Mankind it would have been a little more plausible, for it could not be before Noah's Flood of those individual Persons who lived in the Apostles Days; and sensible himself, we may suppose, that this would not hold, he relinquishes it for the Addition of as before when in the next Verse, which may do the Business, if granted; but it is very unlike the Instances which he produces for it: there is indeed some Resemblance of Colour in as, but the Matter is quite different; for to mention one of them, Flee a Bird, Psa. xi. 1. who can misse of understanding as there? And how can it mean otherwise in such Cases? But let any give a parallel one to this.

Having set aside his Interpretation, as he has others, the foregoing will stand confirmed, that these Spirits in Prison were the Antediluvians; as Grotius also and divers others held: whether it is meant they were Spirits in Prison when living, or now dead, is of less Consideration; and those who understand this Passage of Christ's preaching to them then, do, I think, take them for such at that Time, of which see Whitby; yet if the latter Sense be likewise included, the Expression may be more fully accounted for, according to 2 Pet. ii. 4, 5.

Ib. in Prison] The famous Commentator Nicholas de Lyra, in his 4th Vol. on the Scripture, which I have, printed so early as 1497 at Nuremberg (an Edition that I find neither in Mattaire's Annals of Printing, nor the Harleian Catal.) expounds this, legati consuetudine peccandi, &c. bound by the Custom of sinning, according to that of Prov. v. 22.

Ver. 20. God's Forbearance—waited] Vulg. they waited for God's Patience, quite contrary to the Mind of the Apostle, says Mills, Pr. 595. and I don't find upheld by any Copy or other Version.

Ver. 21. Model] figure, in the Sense used by our Translators, appearing odd; and Resemblance, signifying Likeness, with Emblem, obscure Likeness, not suiting well. It would likewise be odd to render the Gr. antitypon by Type, which also does not seem so proper either at Heb. ix. 24. or here, where the Word only is. But Model, a little Made or Pattern will agree well in both. And if the Meaning of anti is taken separately, it is contrary to, or opposite, not like. The particular saving of a Person by Baptism may rightly be a Model of the general at the Flood.

Ib. saves us] agreeable to Tit. iii. 5. Isa. iv. 4. & xlv. 22. Jer. iv. 14. Prov. xxviii. 18. Mark xvi. 16. 1 Pet. i. 22. Heb. ix. 13, 14.

Ib. Demand] or Enquiry, not answer, from the Verb to ask, or ask for; and according to Job x. 6. Job iii. 20, 21. Eph. v. 13. as Noah's Water saved some, and drowned others.

Ib. By the Resurrection of Jesus Christ] which introduced the spiritual Baptism, Acts i. 5.

Ver. 22. God] The Vulgate inserts, swallowing Death, that we might be made Heirs of everlasting Life; but unsupported by sufficient Authority of the Greek.

Ver. 1. suffered in] This Gr. Prep. a few are without, for whom Mills pleads, because the foregoing is not inserted; which affords a contrary Reason to me, that Somebody left it out here to be like the other. As for his saying the very Sense and Arguing of the Apostle indicates it, Pr. 984. he has left out informing us how, with an Amusement of Words,

Ib. suffered in the Flesh] to the Death of the fleshly or carnal Part, as opposed to the spiritual, and as in Rom. vi. 6, 7. to agree with this before and after.

2. For him to live the rest of the Time in the Flesh, no more to the Lusts of Men, but to the Will of God.

3. Since the Time past of Life was sufficient for us to work the Will of the Gentiles; when we went in Wantonness, Lusts, Excess of Wine, Revelling, Drinking, and unlawful Idolatries:

4. In which they think it strange, and speak evil, that you do not run together into the same extravagant Luxury;

5. Those that will render Account to him who is ready to judge the Living and Dead.

6. For there was preaching to the Dead also for this, that they might be judged indeed according to Men in the Flesh, but live according to God in the Spirit.

7. But the End of all Things draws near; be therefore sober, and watch to Prayer:

8. Before all Things having also earnest Love to each other; since Love will cover a Multitude of Sins.

9. Be hospitable one to another without Murmuring:

10. Every one according as he has received a Gift, ministering to each other, as good Stewards of the various Grace of God.

11. If any one speak, let it be as the Oracles of God; if any one minister, as from the Might which God supplies: that in all Things God may be glorified, through Jesus Christ; to whom there is Glory and Strength for evermore: so let it be.

12. Beloved, do not think strange of the Burning in you, made for your Trial, as a strange Thing come to pass on you.

13. But rejoice, as you are Partakers of Christ's Sufferings; that at the Revelation of his Glory, you may also rejoice for Joy.

14. If you are reproached for the Name of Christ, you are blessed; since the Spirit of Glory and of God refreshes you: according to them indeed he is spoken evil of, but according to you he is glorified.

15. For let none of you suffer as a Murderer, or Thief, or Criminal, or as a Spy over others;

16. But if as a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but glorify God in this Respect:

17. Because the Time is for Judgment to begin at the House of God; and if first at us, what will be the End of them that disobey the Gospel of God?

18. And if a righteous one will scarce be saved, where will an impious one and a Sinner appear?

19. So then let them also who suffer according to the Will of God, commit their Souls in doing well, as to a faithful Creator.

Ver. 2. To live] The Gr. Verb being infinitive, without any he, which appears ill applied to Christ in the com. Transl. see Gell in Essay, p. 432.

Ver. 3. of Life—for us] Mills writes were both inserted for Clearness, Pr. 1209. when so unlikely, since it would have been clear enough without, though not so full; and but few Copies omit them, with three Versions.

Ib. we went] But the Vulg. has is sufficient for those who have walked, which Wall affirms is the true reading, and has most authority from copists, and from fathers, though it does not appear any Copy has it (unless he imposes on us by meaning the Lat. ones of the Vulg.) or that he knew of any such Father; three or four Copies indeed have a Part. of the pres. Tense, which might rather belong to the Gentiles, but that is not what he says.

Ver. 4. evil] by adding you, the who following may seem to belong to it, which the Gr. shews it does not.

Ver. 5. Those that] who alone leaving it doubtful of which this is spoken.

Ver. 6. there was preaching to the Dead] as Castalis renders it, writing in the Marg. This Place I don't understand, and therefore translate literally; yet I see no Difficulty in this Part, though our Translators misapprehended it to put are dead, as if bodily dead when Peter wrote it, instead of spiritually dead when they were preached to; for this latter Sense read Whitby, with Edwards's Enquiry, p. 246. who says it hath mightily puzzled Expositors, and Tyndal in his 2d Edit. 1534. has the following Note on it; The dead are the ignorant of God, Lewis's Hist. of Transl. p. 85.

Ib. according to Men] viz. as such Men in a natural State, condemned for their Evils, which might be illustrated by other Scriptures: so I understand it, nor have found any great Operosity in the same; notwithstanding I find Wall saying, how to fit the Words hardly any one knows. Beza tried at explaining, Grotius tried, and Hammond. It is hard to guess what κατὰ ἀνθρώπους (according to Men) stands here for, Grit. Notes. As for the Meaning which Hammond, Edwards and Whitby concur in, that to be judged according to Men in the Flesh, signifies for them to mortify their own Flesh, &c. I look upon to be forced beside what the Words will bear.

Ver. 8. to each other] just as in Ver. 10.

Ver. 11. there is] so the Gr. therefore not by as elsewhere.

Ver. 12. Burning] as West. also translates; see 1 Cor. iii. 13, 15, 16.

Ib. in you] omitted in the com. Transl.

Ver. 14. Glory] I may mention that there are Books which have put in, and of Power.

Ib. and] Wall says, It is natural to surmise that the καὶ τὸ has been put in by Scribes, and that the Words should be, or at least the Sense is, The Spirit of God's Glory. What shall be done with such Criticks? How do they weaken their Credit in other Things that are right!

Ib. refreshes] thus translated, 1 Cor. xvi. 18. 2 Cor. vii. 13. Philem. 7, 20.

Ib. according to them &c.] As far as the End of the Ver. is not in four Copies, with that Number of Translations, and some Writers, which therefore Mills says seems imported from some Gloss. Rash Judgment!

Ver. 15. Spy over] being elsewhere rendered Overseer or Bishop. The List. Covetor and Eng. busy-body may go together, for Something of the Translators devising; of the former see Mills, Pr. 597.

Ver. 16. Respect] The Vulg. and several others have Name; but see Mills in Prol. 595, better than 924, referred to by Kuster.

Ver. 17. By Barton in Verse, for Want of better, though some of his best,

The Time is come that Judgment must

At God's own House begin:

And if it first attack the Just,

What Case are Sinners in? Hymn 93.

C H A P. V.

THE Elders among you I exhort, who am an Elder too, and a Witness of the Sufferings of Christ, who shall also be a Partaker of the Glory to be revealed hereafter;

2. Feed the Flock of God among you, and overlook not constrainedly, but willingly; not for filthy Gain, but readily;

3. Nor as though you were Lords over the Inheritance, but become Representatives of the Flock.

4. And when the chief Shepherd appears, you will receive an unfading Crown of Glory.

5. In like Manner, younger ones, be subject to the elder; nay all being subject one to another, wear Humility: since God opposes the proud, but gives Grace to the humble ones.

6. Be humble therefore under the mighty Hand of God, that he may exalt you in Time:

7. And cast all your Care upon him, because he takes care concerning you.

8. Be sober, watch; since your Adversary the Devil, as a roaring Lion, goes about, seeking whom he may devour:

9. Whom resist, being solid in Faith; as you know the same Sufferings to be accomplished on your Brotherhood in the World.

10. Now the God of all Grace, who has called us to his everlasting Glory in Christ Jesus, when you have suffered a little while, compleat you himself, establish, enable, fix:

11. To him be Glory and Might, for evermore: so let it be.

12. By Silvanus, a faithful Brother to you (as I think) have I written by reason of a few Things; and exhort, as also bear witness, that this is the true Grace of God in which you stand.

13. She at Babylon chosen together salutes you, and Mark my Son.

14. Salute one another with a Kiss of Love. Peace be to you all who are in Christ Jesus: so let it be.

Ver. 1. who shall] as just before, not and.

Ver. 2. and overlook] The Consent of Copies scarce hindered Mills, as he says, from counting this a marginal Gloss, being not in two only, Pr. 1502.

Ib. overlook] by Doddr. against, if not more for, Episcopacy, discharge the Episcopal Office.

Ib. willingly] There being added to it by the Vulg. and some, according to God, see Mills's Pr. 596, 598.

Ver. 3. Flock] to which is put in the Vulg. from the Mind or heartily, though only a Comment, Mills Pr. 596.

Ver. 5. being subject] a small Number are without, and Somebody added Mills says for a Supplement, Pr. 1502. like which are Instances enow elsewhere.

Ib. but] as Jam. iv. 6.

Ver. 6. Time] of Visitation with the Vulg. and several; for which I may send the Reader, if he wants Satisfaction, to the Note of Mills, and his Pr. 596, 801.

Ver. 8. goes about] See Job i. 7.

Ver. 12. by reason of a few Things] according to the Gr. Words; there being not iv but di.

Ver. 13. She] This has been taken to be Peter's Wife, or some other Woman, Wall supposes first by Mills: as on the contrary the Lady a John 1. is conjectured by Whitby to be some Church; so it may be best to render both just as they are.

NOTES upon the Second Epistle of P E T E R.

C H A P. I.

SIMON Peter, a Servant and Apostle of Jesus Christ; to those who have obtained the like precious Faith with us, by the Righteousness of our God, and Saviour Jesus Christ.

2. Grace and Peace be increased to you, by the Knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord;

3. As all Things belonging to Life and Piety, are of his divine Power that is given us, through the Knowledge of him who has called us, by Glory and Virtue:

4. Whereby very great and precious Promises are given us; that by these you may become Partakers of the divine Nature, in fleeing from the Corruption in the World through Lust.

5. Nay and by employing all Carefulness on this same, make a Supply in your Faith of Virtue, in this of Knowledge,

6. In this of Temperance, in this of Patience, in this of Piety,

7. In this of brotherly Friendship, and in this of Love.

8. For while these Things are in you, and increase, they will make you not idle, nor unfruitful in the Knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9. And he in whom these Things are not present is blind, being short-sighted, and got unmindful of the Cleansing of his Sins formerly.

10. Therefore rather, Brethren, be careful to make your Calling and Choice firm: for by doing these Things you will never offend.

11. For thus there will richly be furnished to you, an Entrance into the everlasting Kingdom of our Lord, and Saviour Jesus Christ.

12. Therefore I will not neglect to put you always in Remembrance concerning these Things, notwithstanding your having known, and been established in the present Truth.

13. Nay I esteem it righteous, as long as I am in this Tabernacle, to stir you up in Remembrance:

14. Since I know that there will be a speedy putting off my Tabernacle, according as our Lord Jesus Christ also has made manifest to me.

15. So I will be careful too, that you may continually have, after my Decease, the making mention of these Things.

16. For we did not follow after Fables cunningly made, when we made known to you the Power and Presence of our Lord

Tit. Tyndal in his Prologe writes, The fyrst Chapter sheweth howe it shulde go in the tyme of the pure and true gospell. The seconde how it shulde go in the tyme of the pope and mennes doctrine. The thyrde how at the last men shulde beleue no thyng nor feare God at all. A notable Observation, and may seeme little lesse than prophetick, as the Name of Deismus was scarce known then.

Ib. Epistle] Written anno 67, as Mills computes.

Ver. 3. the like precious] Vulg. equal, which Mills observes does expresse but Part of the Gr. Word, Prol. 597.

Ib. our God] our in the last Eng. Transf. being inadvertently, it seems, placed wrong.

Ver. 3. all Things belonging &c.] Let any one try whether he can make the Greek otherwise, besides all Things of his divine Power that is given us, belong to Life and Piety, which must be less eligible; bating however Beza's Distortion of it, as if the genitive Case was absolute with as, and the passive Participle active, and governed an Object.

Ib. by Glory] the same by as before the Knowledge; and if dia be changed into idia, as with a few, it will be, by his own Glory.

Ver. 4. are given] a Passive of the same Verb as that in the foregoing Verse, which may indicate that one as well as the other is to be taken in its proper Signification.

Ver. 5. Nay] Here is Nothing for besides, says Wall; but that for samo seems wildly rendered so.

Ib. Virtue] West. courage, following Dodd. in his Fashion; whereas this might be general with some special Particulars after.

Ver. 8. and increase] seems added Mills says, for the mere Eth. not having it, Pr. 1218. yet see how poorly he speaks of that Transf. Pr. 1188.

Ver. 9. being short-sighted] in the Vulg. Lat. and groping with the Hand, wide from the Meaning of the Gr. Word, Mills Pr. 598. and no Wonder, since and is entirely added.

Ver. 10. be careful] by good Works in some Copies.

Ver. 13. up in] for by putting should be Ital. as well as you in the com. Transf.

Ver. 15. have] so the Gr. as likewise make mention. Ward, the Papist, Author of that vile Hudibrastick Poem called England's Reformation, in another broad Book which he intitles Errata to the Protestant Bible, printed 1737, would have this Verse mean that Peter would remember them after his Death, by his Intercession for them in Heaven; though it be contrary both to their own nonsensical Rhemish Transf. and to their other by Nary, which is thus, But I shall take care that even after my death, ye may often remember these things; see p. 59. of the said Errata to &c. a pedantick Title of Lat. and Eng. together, with is improper.

Ver. 16. Fables cunningly made] in some Copies of the Vulg. learned, in others unlearned Fables, both wrong, Levain Edit. and Mills, Pr. 598.

Jesus Christ; but were Spectators of his Majesty.

17. For he received from God the Father Honour and Glory, when such a Voice was brought to him from the magnificent Glory, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am pleased.

18. And this Voice brought from Heaven we heard, when we were with him on the holy Mountain.

19. We also have a firmer Word of Prophecy; to which when you give heed ye do well, as to a Light that appears in an obscure Place, till the Day dawns, and the Morning-star rises in your Hearts:

20. As you know this first, that there is not any Prophecy of the Scripture of its own Exposition.

21. For Prophecy was not carried on formerly by the Will of Man, but holy Men of God spoke, as they were carried on by the Holy Spirit.

C H A P. II.

BUT there were also false Prophets among the People; as there will too be false Teachers among you, who will bring in Heresies of Destruction, and denying the Lord who bought them, will bring to themselves speedy Destruction.

2. And many will follow after their destructive Things, through whom the Way of Truth will be spoken evil of.

3. Nay in Covetousness with feigned Words they will make merchandice of you; for whom Judgment of old is not idle, and their Destruction does not slumber.

4. For if God did not spare the Angels that sinned, but put them into Hell in Chains of Gloominess, and delivered up to be kept for Judgment;

5. And did not spare the ancient World, but preserved Noe the eighth Person, a Preacher of Righteousness, bringing the Flood to the World of the Impious;

6. Moreover reduced the Cities of Sodom and Gomorra to Ashes, and condemned with an Overthrow, making an Example to them that should afterwards do impiously;

7. And delivered righteous Lot, who was fatigued by the Ungodly in the Wantonness of Conversation;

8. (For the righteous Man by seeing and hearing, as he dwelt among them, tormented his righteous Soul, Day after Day, by the unlawful Deeds:)

9. The Lord knows how to deliver the Pious out of Temptations, and to keep the Unrighteous for the Day of Judgment to be punished;

10. But especially those that go after the Flesh in Lust of Defilement, and despise Dominion, are daring, as also please themselves, and fear not to speak evil of the Honourable:

11. Where Angels, who are superior in Might and Power, do not bring reviling Judgment against them with the Lord.

Ver. 19. the Day dawns] of the Destruction of the Jews, according to our great Hammond, and the Morning-Star he interprets to be the Forerunners of it, as also in our Hearts the Consideration of the Predictions as such; was there ever much stranger Exposition?

Ib. Morning-Star] The Light of the Spirit of God, Cast in Defen. p. 217. and by Whitby, The internal Gifts and Illuminations of the Holy Spirit.

Ver. 20. of its own Exposition] but of the Holy Spirit's, Ver. 21. and thus the Gr. So Wm. Tyndal in his Parab. of Wicked Mammon says, The Scripture is Nothing else but that which the Spirit of God hath spoken by the Prophets and Apostles, and cannot be understood but of the same Spirit.

Ver. 21. as they were carried on] a Participle from the Verb before, and in the Meaning of the Gr. and as they were instead of being, so not Italick.

Ver. 1. will] So Wall bids us read.

Ib. of Destruction] the same Word as the last in this Verse.

Ver. 2. destructive Things] In some Codes Wantonneſſes, the received Reading being thought not so proper, and therefore altered, as I conjecture with our ingenious as well as laborious Mills, tho' Whitby is for that.

Ver. 4. Gloominess] For this the vulg. Lat. having Hell, Veleſus as it seems framed Greek to it, as if he had found the Original so, the like to which may be seen in other Places.

Ib. delivered up to be] according to the Pointing in the best Gr. Editions of Mills and Wetſen.

Ver. 6. and condemned] as after the foregoing, to be an Example to future Ages, by the Overthrow still to be seen.

Ver. 7. Wantonneſſe] as translated Ver. 18. Rom. xiii. 13. every where else I think lasciviousneſſe, an old Word to the same Purpose. The Vulgate has thrust in before it [Injury and] Mills, Pr. 599. and our Eng. follow him in translating, by putting with to this which it does not belong to, and leaving out in.

Ver. 8. tormented] Vulg. they tormented, beside the Text, says Mills, Pr. 599. but possibly n has slipped into cruciant.

Ver. 10. daring] so West.

Ib. and fear not to speak evil of the Honourable] The Vulg. has, they fear not to bring in Sects blaspheming, but old Copies of it as well as the Gr. without to bring in; of which clearly in his Pro. 599, 600. disserts Clarissimus Millius, as cited by the Latin Writers (which Epithet in the literal Meaning he may claim beyond many of his Fellow-Authors on the Scripture) the very (not to say most) clear Mills.

Ver. 11. Where] with or among the Honourable, Nothing of the Sense of Whereas.

Ib. with the Lord] two Copies and four Versions being without, Mills says it is a Gloss, not Text.

12. But these as irrational natural Brutes, made to be caught, and be corrupt, that speak evil of the Things in which they are ignorant, will perish in their Corruption;

13. And receive the Reward of Unrighteousness, as they esteem Pleasure in the Day to be Delight, are Stains and Faults, moreover sport in their Deceivings, when they feast with you:

14. Who have Eyes full of Adultery, and without resting from Sin, as also entice unsteady Souls, and have a Heart exercised in Covetings, are cursed Children;

15. That leaving the right Way, are gone astray, and follow after the Way of Balaam Son of Bosor, who loved the Reward of Unrighteousness.

16. But he had the Reproof of his own Iniquity; as the dumb Ass spoke with human Voice, and forbade the Madness of the Prophet.

17. These are Fountains without Water, Clouds driven by the Whirlwind, for whom the Gloom of Darkness is kept for ever.

18. For while they speak Things too haughty of Vanity, they entice in the Lusts of the Flesh by Wantonness, those who really escaped from them that were conversant in Error.

19. And promise those Liberty, when they themselves are Servants of Corruption; since to whom any one is brought under, to the same also he is become a Servant.

20. For if when they have escaped from the Pollutions of the World, by the Knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, yet they are again entangled with the same, and are brought under; the latter Things become worse to them than the former.

21. For it would have been better to them not to have known the Way of Righteousness, than when they knew to turn from the holy Commandment delivered to them.

22. But that of the true Proverb is come to pass with them; The Dog is turned to what he vomited himself, and the Sow that was washed into rolling about in the Dirt.

C H A P. III.

THIS second Epistle now, Beloved, I write to you, and in them stir up your sincere Mind in Remembrance;

2. To remember the Words said before by the holy Prophets, and the Commandment of us the Apostles of the Lord and Saviour:

3. As you know this first, that Scoffers will come in the latter Days, who will go on according to their own Desires;

4. And say, Where is the Promise of his Coming? For since the Fathers have slept, all Things continue so as from the Beginning of the Creation.

5. For they are willing this should be concealed from them, that the Heavens were of old, and the Earth standing together out of the Water and through it, by the Word of God.

6. By which Things the World then, being overflowed with Water, perished.

7. But the Heavens and Earth now, by the same Word, are laid up in store, and kept for Fire to the Day of Judgment, and of the Destruction of impious Men.

8. However let not this one Thing be concealed from you, Beloved, that one Day is with the Lord as a thousand Years, and a thousand Years as one Day.

9. The Lord does not delay the Promise (as some think it Delaying) but is forbearing to us, as he is not willing any should perish, but all come to Repentance.

Ver. 12. natural] The Vulg. in this Manner, naturally to be caught, leaving out made; of which see Mills, Pr. 600. not cited as often by Kuster.

Ib. made] being not in the Vulg. and a Copy or two, Erasmus supposes added.

Ver. 13. Faults] in Society, or Company.

Ib. Deceivings] Wall is positive, after Hammond was suspicious, the Word should be as in Jude 12. but two or three Copies only and two Vers. seem too weak to support it.

Ver. 15. leaving] The Greek that abundantly uses Participles instead of Verbs, having three, sometimes four together, and in Heb. vi. 4, 5, 6. & xi. 13. five, as I observed, has this here the eighth.

Ver. 17. for ever] A few being deficient in, Mills, with Estius vindicating the Vulg. says it crept from Jude 13. Pr. 500.

Ver. 18. really] Vulg. and some a little.

Ver. 20. if] But three Books having they instead of this, Grotius writes that is the true Reading, as if the major Authority of Copies was Nothing.

Ver. 22. that of] not according to.

Ib. and the] not two Proverbs as in the com. Transf. or rather this but a Piece of one.

Ver. 1. This &c.] Elegantly in Gr. by Position thus, This now, Beloved, second to you I write Epistle; and in Eloquence Peter seems to exceed Paul himself.

Ib. in] I know not why our Translators changed this into by way of, and to the same added by putting you, Ch. i. 13.

Ver. 2. holy] Mills suspects was brought from Chap. iv. 21. of this Epist. meaning perhaps Ch. i. two Copies being destitute of it.

Ver. 3. according to] for after may signify otherwise, such as the Gr. does not allow of.

Ver. 4. Promise of] Vulg. Promise or; and I don't see how it was done so likely, as by mistaking the Gr. Article α before Promise to be behind it, which might then stand for or, without the Aspiration and Accent, as formerly written. The mere adding or with Mills, Pr. 500. labours under Improbability.

Ver. 6. which Things] plur. viz. the Water and the Heavens, Gen. vii. 11. with the Earth's standing so; if not also their Infidelity and wilful Ignorance, such as in the two foregoing Verses.

10. The

10. Yet the Day of the Lord will come as a Thief in the Night; in which the Heavens will pass away with a Noise, nay the Elements be scorched, and demolished, as also the Earth with the Works on it be burnt up.

11. Since all these Things then will be demolished, what Sort of Persons ought you to be, in holy Conversation and Piety;

12. Waiting for, and making haste to the Coming of the Day of God, by which the Heavens will be on fire and be demolished, as likewise the Elements be scorched and dissolved!

13. Nevertheless according to his Promise, we wait for new Heavens and a new Earth, in which Righteousness dwells.

14. Therefore, Beloved, as you wait for these, be careful to be found by him in Peace, without Stain and Blemish.

15. And esteem our Lord's Forbearance to be Salvation; even as our beloved Brother Paul, according to the Wisdom given him, has written to you;

16. As likewise in all the Epistles, who speaks therein concerning these Things: wherein are some difficult to be understood, which the Unlearned and Unsteady twist, as also the rest of the Scriptures, to their very own Destruction.

17. Since you therefore, Beloved, know before, take heed that in being taken away too by the Error of the Ungodly, you may not fall from your own Stedfastness.

18. But grow in Grace, and the Knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ; to him be Glory, both now, and to the everlasting Day: so let it be.

Ver. 10. in the Night] Some have not, and therefore has been thought transcribed from 1 Thes. v. ii. but Whit. says, there is no Cause why this should not be joined to Thief here, as well as there, and Mat. xxiv. 23. Luke xii. 39.

Ver. 16. wherein] so seven Copies and two Versions, but others among which viz. Things.

Ver. 17. Ungodly] old Lat. simple, as Mills may rightly suppose, from unlearned in the last Verse, Pr. 600.

NOTES upon the First Epistle of JOHN.

CHAP. I.

WHAT was from the Beginning, what we have heard, what we have seen with our Eyes, what we have looked upon, and our Hands have felt concerning the Word of Life;

2. (Which Life has been made manifest, and as we have seen, we testify, and tell you of the everlasting Life, that was with the Father, and has been made manifest to us)

3. What we have seen and heard, we tell you, that you also may have Communion with us; and our Communion is even with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ.

4. And these Things we write to you, that your Joy may be full.

5. Now this is the Message which we have heard from him, and rehearse to you, that God is Light, and there is not any Darkness in him.

6. If we say that we have Communion with him, and go in Darkness; we lye, and do not according to the Truth.

7. But if we go in the Light, as he is in the Light; we have Communion one with another, and the Blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanses us from all Sin.

8. If we say that we have not Sin; we seduce our selves, and the Truth is not in us.

9. If we confess our Sins; he is faithful and righteous, to forgive us the Sins, and cleanse us from all Unrighteousness.

10. If we say that we have not sinned; we make him false, and his Word is not in us.

CHAP. II.

MY little Children, these Things I write to you, that ye may not sin; and if any one sin, we have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the Righteous;

2. And he is an Atonement for our Sins, nay not for ours only, but also for the whole World's.

3. And by this we are sensible that we know him, that it is if we keep his Commandments.

4. He that says, I know him, and does not keep his Commandments; is a Liar, and the Truth is not in him.

5. But he who keeps his Word; in him truly the Love of God is made perfect: by this we know that we are in him.

6. He that says he remains in him, ought himself also so to walk, as he did.

7. Brethren, I write not a new Commandment to you, but the old one which you have had from the Beginning: the old Commandment is the Word that you have heard ever since.

8. Again I write a new Commandment to you, which Thing is true both in him and you; because the Darkness is passed away, and the true Light already shines.

9. He that says he is in the Light, and hates his Brother, is in Darkness till now.

10. He who loves his Brother, remains in the Light, and there is not Offence in him.

11. Whereas he that hates his Brother is in Darkness, and walks in it; nay does not know whither he is going, because Darkness has blinded his Eyes.

12. I write to you, little Children, because the Sins are forgiven you for the sake of his Name.

13. I write to you, Fathers, because ye have known him who was from the Beginning. I write to you, young Men, because ye have overcome the wicked one. I write to you, Children, because ye have known the Father.

Tit. John] These three Epistles of his are each stated by Mills, to be written about the Year 91 or 92, being 24 or 25 Years after the last of Paul's and Peter's; and this at the City of Ephesus, according to the Subscriptions of some Copies.

Ver. 6. do not according to the Truth] after the Expression of Christ recorded by him, Book iii. 21.

Ver. 7. one another] Some Manuscripts read him, says Whitby, which either is the true Reading, or gives the true Sense of the other; but by Mills it appears that only a Copy of Curcellæus has that, which may be doubtful whether it was any, he was so uncertain a Collector.

Ib. his Son] seems added says Mills, only for the Eth. not having it.

Ver. 9. righteous] as Unrighteousness after it.

Ver. 10. we have not sinned] which is directly all one with we have not Sin, says Ham. and he expounds [we] not to be the Apostle and pious Christians, but those that walk in Darkness.

Ver. 3. that it is] See also Ch. v. 2.

Ver. 5. his Word] So the Gr. and so the Vulg. of which Mills says Nothing, yet Whitby in Examen. Mil. L. ii. 3. that it is not to be called a various Reading in the Vulg. but we are subject to dote sometimes.

Ver. 7. Brethren] The Vulg. and some have Beloved.

Ver. 13. Children] As ἡμῶν is little Children, Ver. 1. 12, 28. and other Places of this Epist. being the Diminutive of ἡμῶν Children; so παῖδα here and Ver. 18. Children or little Boys from παῖδα Boys.

14. I have written to you, Fathers, because ye have known him who was from the Beginning. I have written to you, young Men, because ye are strong, and the Word of God remains in you, and ye have overcome the wicked one.

15. Do not love the World, nor the Things in it: if any one loves the World, there is not the Love of the Father in him.

16. Since every Thing that is in the World, the Desire of the Flesh, the Desire of the Eyes, and the Haughtiness of Life, is not of the Father, but is of the World.

17. And the World passes away, with the Desire of it; but he who does the Will of God remains for ever.

18. Children, it is the last Season: and according as you have heard that Antichrist would come, even now there are many Antichrists; whence we know that it is the last Season.

19. They went out from us, but were not of us: for if they had been of us, they would have remained with us; but it was in order to be made manifest, that all are not of us.

20. Moreover you have an Anointing from the Holy One, and you know all Things.

21. I have not written to you, because ye do not know the Truth; but because ye know it, and that there is not any Lye of the Truth.

22. Who is a Liar, unless he that denies that Jesus is the Christ? This is Antichrist, that denies the Father and the Son.

23. Every one who denies the Son, has not the Father.

24. Let what you have heard from the Beginning therefore remain in you: if that does, ye also will remain both in the Son and the Father.

25. And this is the Promise which he has made to us, everlasting Life.

26. These Things have I written to you, concerning those who are seducing you.

27. And the Anointing which you have received from him remains in you, and ye have no Need that any one should teach you; but as the same Anointing teaches you concerning all Things, and is true, and is no Lye: and according as it has taught you, shall ye remain in him.

28. And now, little Children, remain in him; to the end that when he is made manifest, we may have Boldness, and not be ashamed at him in his Presence.

29. If you know that he is righteous, you know that every one who does Righteousness is born of him.

CHAP. III.

SEE what Sort of Love the Father has given us, that we should be called the Children of God: for this reason the World knows us not, because it did not know him.

2. Beloved, we are now the Children of God, and it is not yet made manifest what we shall be; but we know that when he is made manifest, we shall be like him, since we shall see him according as he is.

Ver. 14. I have written to you, Fathers, because ye have known him who was from the Beginning] not in the vulg. Lat. and two or three Gr. Copies, plainly because of the like in Ver. 13. and not by reason of this and the next Beginning with the same, as Mills would: for who can think such a Chasm would prevail in those Copies by Oversight?

Ver. 16. Desire] The Use of the Word Lust being now commonly restricted to that of the Sexes, but here it is to be understood general as far as unlawful, and to comprehend Intemperance and Passion of several Kinds. Against which, under the Term of Pleasure, see the manly exuberant Reasoning of our Nation's present and justly admired Sage, in about half his Centaur not Fabulous.

Ver. 23. Father] Several Copies have what is Italic in our com. Version, excepting but, no fewer than fourteen which Mills found, and the Vulg. with three other Versions besides Authors, yet that Part was not thought by our Translators sufficiently established, and if it had been in at first, it appears unlikely to be left out after, but on the contrary is easily seen that it might be put in for its Analogy with the foregoing and John viii. 19. and not therefore cut off, as Estius to vindicate the vulg. Lat. pleads against Sense, and Mills seems tacitly to yield to him.

Ver. 27. ye have no Need that any one should teach you] Nary in his Marg. says, John here alludes to John xvi. 12, 13. & xiv. 26. and calls the Holy Ghost the Unction which shall teach them all Things, so as that they need not to be taught by any Body else.

Ib. the same] For this the Vulg. and some others have his, by autē instead of autē.

Ib. Anointing teaches you] Hammond in his Procedure as at Act ii. 17. relates that the full meaning of this is, their having been instructed by those on whom the Holy Ghost had descended, and confirmed by the gift of miracles. But mind it is at the present Time, and so continuing; and had not he been determined to get rid of the plain Meaning at any Rate, he would scarce have interpreted the Anointing by having been instructed, that is the having been taught teaches, which is as good Sense as a Book's having been written writes all the Things in it; thus confounding Passive with Active, and Past with Present. Whereas Whitby, though he opposed the Quakers by Name, would not throw away the Truth so, nor use such Sophism, but says on Ver. 20. "That Unction is the Holy Spirit which he hath given to them that believe." However Hammond's Interpretation running a small Stream in New Light, Sect. 14. where he purposely treats of it, he says it hath been shewed at large on Act x. a. but there I find it no more than on the Back of my Hand, both before my Eyes. Not content with putting it aside thus, he expounds all things to be that Jesus was the Christ; to which the Reader may expect no Answer.

Ver. 1. he called] added in the vulg. Lat. and some Copies, and by Mills, Pr. 601. but misquoted for Ch. ii. 28.

3. And every one who has this Hope in him, purifies himself, according as he is pure.

4. Every one that does Sin, does also an unlawful Thing; as Sin is an unlawful Thing.

5. And you know that he was made manifest, in order to take away our Sins; and there is no Sin in him.

6. Every one who remains in him, sins not: every one that sins, has not seen him, nor known him.

7. Little Children, let Nobody seduce you: he who does Righteousness, is righteous, according as he is righteous:

8. He that does Sin, is of the Devil; since the Devil sinned from the Beginning. For this was the Son of God made manifest, that he might demolish the Works of the Devil.

9. Every one who is born of God, does not commit Sin, because his Seed remains in him; nay he cannot sin, because he is born of God.

10. In this the Children of God, and those of the Devil are made manifest; every one that does not Righteousness, is not of God, and he who loves not his Brother.

11. For this is the Message which you have heard from the Beginning, that we should love one another:

12. Not being as Cain was of the wicked one, and slew his Brother: and for what Cause did he slay him? Because his Works were wicked, and those of his Brother righteous.

13. Do not wonder, my Brethren, if the World hates you.

14. We know that we have departed from Death to Life, because we love the Brethren: he who loves not a Brother, remains in Death.

15. Every one that hates his Brother, is a Murderer; and you know that no Murderer has everlasting Life remaining in him.

16. In this we have known Love, that he yielded up his Life for us; and we ought to yield up our Lives for the Brethren.

Ver. 14. a Brother] is of some Reader, not of the Apostle himself, Mills writes, Pr. 1357. as the Vulg. is without it, and a few more; and when I thus mention the Vulg. it is for the Reader to understand, that the same might be the Occasion of the rest.

Ver. 16. have known] just as in Ch. iv. 16. 2 Cor. v. 16. not perceive either in Meaning or Tense.

Ib. Love] of God being but in very few Copies, and not the principal, since Spirit of it self may signify so.

Ver. 17. remain] as often in this Epistle.

Ver. 19. by this] I understand it of the following, as in Ver. 16. Ch. iv. 2, 13. & v. 2. not the foregoing as Ham. viz. by the inward divine Witness condemning or clearing we know, being not may know; as in Whitby's Paraph. and as the foregoing would require, [That] with which the next Ver. begins demanding also the other.

Ib. know] shall be known by some, to be like the following Verb it may be supposed, though Mills with a weaker Cord pulls the other Way.

Ver. 20. That] It is not to be allowed for Ort to begin a Sentence, nor do I allow it to signify for; and it is here the same which is rendered that in the Ver. before.

17. But whoever has the Livelihood of the World, and sees his Brother having Need, and shuts up his Bowels from him, how does the Love of God remain in him?

18. My little Children, let us not love with Word, nor Tongue; but with Work, and Truth.

19. And by this we know that we are of the Truth, and shall be confident in our Hearts before him:

20. That if our Heart condemn us, God is greater than our Heart, and knows all Things;

21. And Beloved, if our Heart does not condemn us, we have Boldness towards God.

22. And whatever we ask for, we receive from him; because we keep his Commandments, and do Things pleasing before him.

23. And this is his Commandment, that we should believe in the Name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, according as he has given us Commandment.

24. Now he who keeps his Commandments, remains in him, and himself in the other; and by this we know that he remains in us, through the Spirit which he has given us.

CHAP. IV.

BELOVED, do not believe every Spirit, but prove the Spirits whether they are of God; since there are many false Prophets gone forth into the World.

2. By this you know the Spirit of God; every Spirit that confesses Jesus Christ come in the Flesh, is of God.

3. And every Spirit that does not confess Jesus Christ come in the Flesh, is not of God; and this is Antichrist's, which you have heard that it would come, and it is now in the World already.

Ib. our Heart condemn us] on which Ham. paraphrases, Our Hearts condemning us, is a sure Argument that God will do so too.

Ver. 21. And] As Ver. 20. seems to belong to the first Part of Ver. 19. thus, we know that we are of the Truth, because the inward Evidence which we have in our own Consciences is according to that of God, though in a less Degree; so this Verse appears to belong to the latter Part of that.

Ver. 24. the Spirit] Hammond interprets this to be the Temper, or pious Disposition of Mind, PS. concerning New Light, Sect. 13. but does not tell us, as requisite to such Interpretation here, that the Temper is God, nor yet invalidate be abideth in us.

Ver. 2. you know] For know ye reads as if it were imperative. Some Copies have is known, unless an is there put for is, as sometimes.

Ver. 2, 3. come] Some have to be come, which Mills thought genuine, Pr. 501. but I suppose was only an Attempt to mend John's Expression, which seemed to want that is after confesses.

Ver. 3. for does not confess Jesus Christ come in the Flesh, the Vulg. and some of the old Writers have dissolves

4. You

4. You are of God, little Children, and have overcome them; because he that is in you is greater, than he that is in the World.

5. They are of the World; for this reason they speak of it, and that hearkens to them.

6. We are of God: he who knows God, hearkens to us; he that is not of God, does not hearken to us. By this we know the Spirit of Truth, and the Spirit of Error.

7. Beloved, let us love one another: since Love is of God; and every one who loves, is born of God, and knows him.

8. He that does not love, knows not God; since God is Love.

9. In this was the Love of God made manifest to us, that God sent his only begotten Son into the World, in order for us to live through him.

10. In this is Love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be an Atonement for our Sins.

11. Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.

12. Nobody has ever seen God: if we love one another, God remains in us, and his Love is made perfect in us.

13. By this we know that we remain in him, and he in us, because he has given us of his Spirit.

14. And we have seen, and do testify, that the Father sent his Son to be the Saviour of the World.

15. Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God remains in him, and he in God.

16. And we have known and believed the Love which God has to us: God is Love; and he who remains in Love, remains in God, and God in him.

17. In this is Love made perfect with us, that we may have Boldness on the Day of Judgment; since according as he is, we are also in this World.

18. There is not Fear in Love, but perfect Love casts that out, since Fear has Torment: he who fears is not made perfect in Love.

19. We love him, because he loved us first.

20. If any one say, I love God; and hates his Brother, he is a Liar: for he that does not love his Brother, whom he has seen; how can he love God, whom he has not seen?

21. And this Commandment we have from him, that he who loves God, should also love his Brother.

CHAP. V.

EVERY one who believes that Jesus is the Christ, is born of God; and every one that loves him who begat, loves him also who is begotten by him.

2. By this we know that we love the Children of God, that it is when we love God; and keep his Commandments.

3. For this is the Love of God, that we keep his Commandments; and his Commandments are not heavy.

4. Since every Thing that is born of God, overcomes the World; and this is the Victory which does it, our Faith.

5. Who is it overcomes the World, but he who believes that Jesus is the Son of God?

6. This is he who came by Water and Blood, Jesus Christ; not with Water only, but with Water and Blood: and it is the Spirit testifies, because the Spirit is Truth.

7. Since there are three that testify in Heaven, the Father, the Word and the Holy Spirit; and these three are one.

Jesus; and Mills shews how it was made, not by the Hereticks, but against them; but what then becomes of the Authentickness of that Lat. Bible? Wall thinks St. John means, confesseth not that Jesus is the Christ, who came in the Flesh, as very few did deny Jesus to have come in the Flesh; but this may be too curious, since many denied Christ to be so come, and make who came in the Flesh superfluous.

Ver. 4. them] Vulg. him, and by Mills cordially, but with too much Sophism: for is it to be thought some Reader made him into them, lest it should be referred to God? Would it be understood that they overcame him whom they were of, and who was in them? Surely such a Scribe must either have very little Sense himself, or else think others had. John might say them, as there were many Antichrists, Chap. ii. 18. or for the Antichrist he spoke of being not a single Person; better than because they follows, the Reason that Mills gives to his fancied Corrector; but that they is of great Force to shew this them is genuine.

1b. he that is in you is greater, than he that is in the World] i. e. that good Spirit which dwells in pious Men, is more powerful in them than Satan is in wicked Men, Whitby's Append. to 2 Cor. vi.

Ver. 16. and God in him] If it were not for the unanimous Agreement of the Greek, Mills says he should think this brought from the Verse before, as not being in the Syrinck, Pr. 1255.

Ver. 5. but he who believes [Sc.] signifying that he who will not believe this, does not overcome the World: for no more can be made of it; therefore not what Whitby pretends in Presf. to Galat. and on 2 Tim. iii. 16. (tho' here, and in the Presf. to this, he writes otherwise) that our Belief only that Jesus is the Son of God, is the Victory over the World.

Ver. 7. Some Copies have not this Verse; others differently, more particularly, as Mills says, who examined them closely, and treats of it largely; omittunt codices plurimi, most Copies (viz. MSS.) omit, in this and the next Verse, what is between, Since there are three that testify—the Spirit, and the Water, and the Blood, joining these together; yet he counts it authentick. But Clerc in his Epist. concerning Mills's Edit. says, what he has for it seems light and weak; and Wall that he has so

8. And there are three that testify on Earth, the Spirit, and the Water, and the Blood; and the three are for one Thing.

9. If we receive the Testimony of Men, that of God is greater: since this is the Testimony of God, which he has testified concerning his Son.

10. He who believes in the Son of God, has the Testimony in himself: he that does not believe God, has made him false; because he has not believed in the Testimony which God testified concerning his Son.

11. And this is the Testimony, that God has given to us everlasting Life; and this Life is in his Son.

12. He who has the Son, has Life: he that has not the Son of God, has not Life.

13. These Things have I written to you who believe in the Name of the Son of God, in order for you to know that you have everlasting Life, and in order to believe in the Name of the Son of God.

14. And this is the Boldness which we have in him, that if we ask for any Thing according to his Will, he hears us.

15. And if we know that he hears us, in whatever we ask for, we know that we have the Requests which we ask from him.

16. If any one see his Brother sin a Sin not to Death, he shall ask, and he will grant him Life for them who sin not to Death: there is Sin to Death; I do not say that he should pray for it.

17. All Unrighteousness is Sin, and there is Sin not to Death.

18. We know that every one who is born of God, does not sin; but he who is born of God, keeps himself, and the wicked one does not meddle with him.

19. We know that we are of God, and the whole World lies in Wickedness.

20. Nay we know that the Son of God is come, and has given us Sense that we might know the True One; and we are in the True One, in his Son Jesus Christ: he is the True God, and everlasting Life.

21. Little Children, keep your selves from Idols: so let it be.

defended it, that he who thought it genuine before, will now conclude it to have been interpolated by some Latin Scribe first. However the Argument of Hammond seems of some Weight, that the Hereticks had more Cause to leave it out, than the Orthodox to put it in. Wesley transposes this and the next Verse.

Ver. 8. the Water, and the Blood] Doddr. says this is a difficult Text; when these are apparently the same as in Ver. 6. and according to Beza, &c. where is also the Spirit as here, and there Doddr. himself paraphrases well to the Matter on these Words as follows, "whose great Design it was both to cleanse and purify his People, and to make an Atonement to God for their Sins." Accordingly this Water is that of Regeneration, as in John iii. 5. Tit. iii. 5. 1 Cor. vi. 11. & xii. 13. to which the Spirit is joined in each Place. But it is said these bear witness or testify. And do they not eminently testify both to and for the Servants of God?

Ib. for one Thing] viz. Salvation; the Gr. having to for Thing, but Nothing for agree.

Ver. 10. the Testimony in himself] Whit. in Par. that Spirit of God which gives this Testimony to Christ.

Ib. believe God] For God five or six Copies and four Vers. have the Son, and Grot. says more rightly; but Whitby answers, that the following confirms ours; and I may add, that the Son seems substituted from the same before.

Ib. has made him false] i. e. according to that Unbelief.

Ib. God testified] One Copy and the Eth. have only the Verb he testified, at which Mills says God was written in, according to his imaginary Process of Marg. and Text, to make it plain; what could not be wanting.

Ver. 12. of God] the Vulg. has not, which would not be worth mentioning, did not Mills speak for it, Pr. 503. whereas it was evidently omitted, to make this Part concurrent with the preceding; and if added, would much likelier have been there.

Ver. 13. to you who believe &c.] No less than five Versions, and as many Copies, have it thus, to you, in order for you to know that you have everlasting Life, who believe in the Name of the Son of God; whereby these two Members of the Period are transposed, and the last in ours is cut off as it seems, and so is in Whitby's Pref. to Gal. tho' then the [&c.] after Θεῷ in Mills's Note will be wrong; the latter by reason of the following and, Mills talks, Prel. 501. like what he did of Ch. ii. 14. but the true Cause as more apparent is, the Difficulty of written to you who believe — that you may believe, and that in the same; yet may believe being future, will not if even taken rigorously interfere with the other, and may mean continue to believe, or believe more. Those that are acquainted with this Apostle's Style, not adapted to curious Ears, may like it the better as undoubtedly his own.

Ver. 17. not] Mills is for casting off, as being absent from two Versions, and an Author or two, though present in all Copies: his Reasoning is of a Piece with it; taking it as granted that John had not this, he relates it was put in by Somebody, because otherwise the Saying would seem superfluous, since the Apostle had said so in the Ver. before; but did not our Criticiser consider that it would first have seemed thus to John himself?

Ver. 18. he who is born] according as the very same is translated where it occurs besides, viz. Gal. iv. 29. Heb. xi. 23. Vulg. the Generation of God preserves him; but see the Prel. of Mills, 601, 602.

Ver. 19. Wickedness] West. the wicked one.

Ver. 20. the True One] Jesus Christ; so the True God. Ib. his] God's before.

Ib. Jesus Christ] is of the Scribes, not of the Apostle, the Vulg. has not it, says Mills magisterially, Pr. 755. when he might have said more authoritatively, the Alexandrine Copy has it not! but how unavailing both!

Ver. 21. Idols] By Tyndal, Babes keep your selves from images, which Sentence we are told was set at the Top of the Doors within the Churches, by the primitive Protestants here; and Bp. Benner in Q. Mary's Reign ordered such to be abolished.

N O T E S upon the Second Epistle of J O H N.

THE Elder, to the chosen Lady, and her Children; whom I love in the Truth, and not I only, but also all who know the Truth;

2. By reason of the Truth which remains in us, and will be with us for ever.

3. With you be Grace, Mercy, Peace from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ the Son of the Father, in Truth and Love.

4. I rejoiced greatly, that I found some of thy Children going in the Truth; according as we received Commandment from the Father.

5. And now I intreat thee, Lady, not as writing a new Commandment to thee, but that which we had from the Beginning, that we may love one another.

6. And this is Love, that we should walk according to his Commandments: this is the Commandment, according as you heard from the Beginning, that you should go in it.

7. Since many Seducers are come into the World, who do not confess Jesus Christ is come in the Flesh: this is a Seducer, and an Antichrist.

8. Look to your selves, that we may not loose the Things which we wrought, but may receive a full Reward.

9. Every one that transgresses, and does not remain in the Doctrine of Christ, has not God: he who remains in the Doctrine of Christ, the same has both the Father and the Son.

10. If there come any one to you, and does not bring this Doctrine, receive him not into the House, nor speak a Salutation to him.

11. For he that speaks a Salutation to him, partakes of his wicked Deeds.

12. As I have many Things to write to you, I would not with Paper and Ink; but I hope to come to you, that our Joy may be fulfilled.

13. The Children of thy chosen Sister salute thee: so let it be.

Ver. 5. Lady] West. Kuria, for her proper Name.

Ver. 8. we] With several you in the three Verbs, by reason of the foregoing, as Mills remarks.

Ver. 10. Salutation] the Word rendered greeting in our

com. Bib. Acts xv. 23. & xxiii. 26. James i. 1. and God speed is old uncouth English.

Ver. 11. There is added at the End, Behold I have foretold you, that in the Day of the Lord you will not be ashamed; possibly made from 1 Epist. ii. 28.

NOTES upon the Third Epistle of JOHN.

THE Elder, to the beloved Gaius; whom I love in the Truth.

2. Beloved, concerning all Things I pray thou mayest prosper, and be well, according as thy Soul prospers.

3. For I rejoiced greatly, when the Brethren came, and testified of thy Truth, according as thou goest in the Truth.

4. I have no greater Joy than these Things, that I hear my Children go in the Truth.

5. Beloved thou doest faithfully, whatever thou performest both to the Brethren, and Strangers;

6. Who have testified of thy Love before the Church: whom by conducting, as is worthy of God, thou wilt do well.

7. For they went forth for his Name, and took Nothing of the Gentiles.

8. We ought therefore to receive such, that we may become Workers with the Truth.

9. I wrote to the Church; but Diotrephes, who loves to be the chief of them, did not receive us.

10. For this reason if I come, I shall remember his Deeds which he does, prating against us with wicked Words; and not satisfied with these, receives not the Brethren himself, nay those who would he hinders, and casts out of the Church.

11. Beloved, do not imitate Evil, but Good: he who does well, is of God; but he that does ill, has not seen God.

12. Demetrius is testified of by all, and by the Truth it self; nay even we testify, and you know that our Testimony is true.

13. I have had many Things to write, yet I would not with Ink and Pen write to thee.

14. But I hope to see thee quickly, and that we shall speak Mouth to Mouth. Peace be to thee. The Friends salute thee. Salute thou the Friends by Name.

Ver. 1. Gaius] This seems to be Gaius of Corinth, Rom. xvi. 23. says Whitby. But Wall writes as follows, Some make him a Bishop of Pergamus. There is no body named whom they do not make a Bishop. With West. Gaius, and elsewhere, though it begins with the Letter Gamma.

Ver. 5. and Strangers] Vulg. and this to Strangers by Interpolation, Mills, Pr. 602.

Ver. 6. worthy of God] as 1 Thes. ii. 12. Col. i. 10,

Ver. 7. his] is but of little Authority, that of two MSS. and the Vulg. Because it was understood, Mills says, the Transcribers brought it into the Text.

Ver. 9. I wrote] but with the Vulg. I should have written perhaps, corrupt, M. Pr. 603.

Ver. 9, 10. The very Apostles, as Wall remarks, found continual Oppositions in the Churches.

Ver. 14. The Friends] with no Our.

NOTES upon the Epistle of JUDE.

JUDE, a Servant of Jesus Christ, and the Brother of James; to the called ones, who are sanctified in God the Father, and preserved by Jesus Christ.

2. Mercy to you, with Peace, and Love be increased.

3. Beloved, as I used all Carefulness to write to you concerning the common Salvation, I had Need to write to you, to exhort ye should strive earnestly for the Faith once delivered to the Saints.

4. For there are got in some Men, who were written of before formerly for this Condemnation, impious ones, who have turned away the Grace of our God into Wantonness, and denied the only Master God, and our Lord Jesus Christ.

5. And I would put you in remembrance, as ye once knew this, that when the Lord had saved the People from the Country of Egypt, he next destroyed them who did not believe.

6. Nay the Angels that did not keep their own Original, but left their Habitation, he has kept for the Judgment of the great Day, with eternal Bonds under Gloominess.

7. As Sodom and Gomorra, with the Cities about the same, which were given up to Whoredom in Manner like them, and went away after other Flesh, are laid before for an Example, as they suffer the Judgment of everlasting Fire.

8. In like Manner notwithstanding these Dreamers also defile indeed the Flesh, reject Dominion, and speak evil of the Honourable.

9. Whereas the chief Angel Michael, when he debated with the Devil, and discoursed concerning the Body of Moses, did not dare to bring against him Judgment with Reviling; but said, The Lord rebuke thee.

10. But these indeed speak evil of whatever Things they know not; yet whatever Things they know naturally, as irrational Brutes, in these they are corrupt.

11. Wo is to them, because they are gone in the Way of Cain, are rushed out into the Error of Balaam for Reward, and are perished in the Contradiction of Core.

12. These are Stains in your Love-feasts, when they feast with you, who feed themselves without Fear; are Clouds without Water, carried about by the Winds; Trees withered as in Autumn, without Fruit, twice dead, rooted up;

13. Wild Waves of the Sea, that foam up their own Shame; wandering Stars, for which the Gloom of Darkness is kept for ever.

14. And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these as follows; Behold the Lord comes in ten thousands of his Saints;

15. To execute Judgment against all, and to rebuke all the Impious of them, concerning all their Deeds of Impiety which they have done impiously, and concerning all the hard Things which impious Sinners have spoken against him.

16. These are Murmurers, Finders of fault, who go on according to their Desires; and their Mouth speaks Things too haughty, while they admire Persons for the sake of Profit.

Ver. 1. Jude] Gr. Judas, as Luke vi. 16. Acts i. 13. John xiv. 22. and he appears to be the 3d Brother, Mark vi. 3. Mat. xxvii. 56. if not the 4th, Mat. xiii. 55. but being put so; perhaps he and Simon were Twins. Mills conjectures he wrote this about the Year 90, and has it for certain between the Years 67 and 95.

Ib. sanctified] beloved with some; and ours, Mills says, crept in from 1 Cor. i. 2. Pr. 684. where the Expression is different.

Ver. 4. written of before] by the Prophets; so Wm. Tyndal, of which it was written afore tyme: the Gr. undeniably signifying written, and not ordained, as in Rom. xv. 4. Eph. iii. 3. read Whitby and Wall. But the pres. Transf. followed the Geneva, which in Certaine questions and answers, put to some Editions, has, Quest. Are not all ordained unto eternall life? Answ. Some are vessels of wrath ordained unto destruction; and in the Note here, The contemners of religion and apostates are appointed thereunto by the determinate counsell of God. Dodd. has registered.

Ib. turned away] as being both nearer the Gr. and the Truth or Propriety of Expression, than turning.

Ver. 5. next] Gr. secondly.

Ver. 7. them] left out of the com. Transf.

Ver. 8. notwithstanding] viz. the Judgments on those before, as Beza observes; but this is omitted in our Transf.

Ib. Dreamers] without filthy, and so not with respect to natural Dreams; but conceited Notions.

Ver. 12. Trees withered as in Autumn] according to the Original; and how could their Fruit be withered, when they had none?

Ver. 14. comes in ten thousands] invigorating them to his Work, for so the Original as here rendered.

Ver. 16. Finders of fault] according as the Verb is every where turned, i. e. Mark viii. 2. Rom. ix. 19. Heb. viii. 8.

Ib. Desires] The Gen. add in the Marg. in ungodlineffe and iniquitie, tho' found only in one Copy, or rather but the Complutensian Edition.

Ib. they admire] not the mouth, or uncertain which.

17. But do ye, Beloved, remember the Words said before by the Apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ ;

18. That they told you, that in the latter Time there would be Scoffers, who would go on according to their own Desires for Impieties.

19. These are Separaters of themselves, sensual, and have not the Spirit.

20. But you, Beloved, building up yourselves in your most holy Faith, praying by the Holy Spirit ;

21. Keep yourselves in the Love of God, and look for the Mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ to everlasting Life.

22. However shew mercy indeed to some, making a difference :

23. And by Fear save some, catching out of the Fire, while you hate even the Garment stained by the Flesh.

24. Now to him who is able to keep you without falling, and to make you stand before his Glory without Blemish in Joy ;

25. To God only wise, our Saviour, be Glory and Majesty, Might and Authority, both now and to all Ages : so let it be.

Ver. 19. sensual] which is misprinted sensually in my Oxf. Bible, but perhaps to make the Eng. grammatical, as was wanting.

Ver. 22. shew mercy—making a difference] But the vulg. Lat. with a few Gr. Copies, reprove them that are judged; and with more after catching out of the Fire in the next Ver. and to others shew mercy in Fear.

Ver. 24. before] as translated 2 Cor. xii. 19. Eph. i. 4. without adding the presence of.

Ver. 25. wise] crept as it seems, says Mills, from Rom. xvi. 27. for some leave it out; but as there is no where To the only God, and as this also is in 1 Tim. i. 17. I suppose it should be here.

NOTES upon the REVELATION of JOHN the Divine.

CHAP. I.

THE Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave him, to shew his Servants the Things that must come to pass quickly; which he signified, and sent by his Angel to his Servant John:

2. Who testified the Word of God, and the Testimony of Jesus Christ, with whatever Things he saw.

3. Blessed is he that reads, and they who hear the Words of the Prophecy, and keep the Things written in it: for the Time is near.

4. John, to the seven Churches that are in Asia. Grace be to you, and Peace, from him who is, and who was, and who is to come; and from the seven Spirits that are before his Throne;

5. And from Jesus Christ, the faithful Witness, the First-born from the Dead, and the Ruler of the Kings of the Earth: to him who loved us, and washed us from our Sins with his Blood,

6. Nay has made us Kings and Priests to God and his Father; to him be Glory and Might for evermore: so let it be.

7. Behold he is coming with Clouds, and every Eye will see him, even they who pierced him; and all the Tribes of the Earth will lament at him: yes so let it be.

8. I am A and Z, the Beginning and the End, says the Lord, who is, and who was, and who is to come, the Almighty.

9. I John, who am also your Brother, and a Partaker in Affliction, and in the Kingdom and Patience of Jesus Christ, was in the Isle called Patmos, for the Word of God, and for the Testimony of Jesus Christ.

10. I was in the Spirit on the Lord's Day, and heard behind me a great Voice, as of a Trumpet,

11. Saying, I am A and Z, the First and the Last; and what thou beholdest write in a Book, and send to the seven Churches in Asia, to Ephesus, and to Smyrna, and to Pergamos, and to Thyatira, and to Sardis, and to Philadelphia, and to Laodicea.

12. Whereupon I turned to behold whose Voice spoke to me; and being turned, I saw seven golden Candlesticks;

13. And in the midst of the seven Candlesticks one like the Man, cloathed with a Garment to the Feet, and girded about at the Breasts with a golden Girdle.

14. Moreover his Head and Hairs were white as if it were Wool, white as snow; and his Eyes as a Flame of Fire;

15. His Feet too like fine Brasse, they burning as if in a Hearth; and his Voice as the Sound of much Water.

Tit. Revelation] seen An. Dom. 95. Euseb. Eccles. Hist. B. 3. Ch. 18. and published as appears A. D. 96, at Ephesus, whither the Apostle John returned, by the Death of the Emperor Domitian, Ver. 9. Euseb. Id. Ch. 20 & 23. Ier. L. iii. 1. Epiph. Har. li. 12.

Ver. 1. come to pass quickly] Ham. strenuously insists on this and the like, interpreting the Book accordingly; but the Meaning seems begin to come to pass, or that the first of the Things would be soon.

Ver. 2. with] Mills tells was inserted afterwards, several, and among them the Vulg. not having it.

Ver. 5. from the Dead] The Vulg. indeed and some more have not from, but only the Gen. Case, whereupon Mills says it is from Col. i. 18. but Ham. puts [from,] which, Wall also says, is more likely to be the true Reading, and that it should be translated here as there.

Ib. washed] Three or four Copies having ἀραιον for ἀραιον, i. e. let loose or set free, instead of washed, Mills counts that entirely true and genuine; but Kuster otherwise, as washed agrees so well with Blood.

Ver. 6. Kings] but by several a royal Family, which Mills says is the genuine Reading.

Ver. 7. coming] Look back to Mat. xxiv. 29, 30.

Ver. 8. A and Z] Alpha and Omega being the first and last Greek Letters, and put thus single in the Original; nor is that counted the primitive and holy Tongue, for Christ to be called by those Letters, and no other; but rather the first and last of all in each Language, according to Ver. 11.

Ver. 9. also] by some omitted, and so turned off by Mills, as if put for Emphasis, Pr. 684.

Ib. in the Kingdom] This in is left out by a few, as not with Patience I suppose, though Mills seems to think otherwise, Pr. 685.

Ib. Christ] the last Mills says was added from Ver. 2. tho' absent only in two Codes, the Vulg. and 1 Author.

Ver. 11. seven] Several with the Vulg. indeed have this, which Mills enumerates; but how many more then have not? inasmuch that he does not put it in the Text.

Ib. Ephesus, &c.] Brightman interprets these to be quite other People, as Ephesus the Primitive Church before the Time of Constantine, Sardis the first reformed Church of Germany, Laodicea that of England; whose wild Reveries Hammond exposes.

Ver. 15. they burning] Some have this a Participle to the Brass, but I look on it to be an Attempt at such Refinement as should be avoided in the Original Scripture; and see Ch. x. 1.

16. He having also in his right Hand seven Stars, and a sharp two-edged Sword going out of his mouth, and his Face was as the Sun shines in its Power.

17. And when I saw him, I fell down at his Feet as dead; and he put his right Hand on me, saying to me: Do not fear; I am the First and the Last,

18. As likewise he who am alive, and was dead, nay behold I am alive for evermore, so let it be; and I have the Keys of Hell and Death.

19. Write what Things thou hast seen, and what there are, and what are about to be after these.

20. The Mystery of the seven Stars which thou hast seen in my right Hand, and the seven golden Candlesticks is; the seven Stars are the Angels of the seven Churches, and the seven Candlesticks which thou hast seen, are the seven Churches.

CH A P. II.

TO the Angel of the Church of Ephesus write: These Things says he who holds the seven Stars in his right Hand, who walks in the midst of the seven golden Candlesticks;

2. I know thy Deeds, and thy Labour, with thy Patience, and that thou canst not bear the evil ones: nay thou hast tried those who say they are Apostles, and are not, and hast found them Liars.

3. Moreover thou hast born, and had Patience; as also for my Name hast laboured, and not been tired.

4. But I have against thee, that thou hast left thy first Love.

5. Remember therefore whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first Deeds; but if not, I will come to thee quickly, and move thy Candlestick out of its Place, except thou dost repent.

6. Yet this thou hast, that thou hatest the Deeds of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate.

7. He that has an Ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the Churches, To him who overcomes I will give to eat of the Tree of Life, which is in the midst of the Paradise of God.

8. And to the Angel of the Church of the Smyrnians write: These Things says the First and the Last, who was dead, and is alive;

9. I know thy Deeds, Affliction, and Poverty (yet thou art rich) with the Blasphemy of those who say they are Jews, and are not, but are the Synagogue of Satan.

10. Fear none of the Things which thou wilt suffer: behold the Devil will throw some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; and ye will have Affliction ten Days: be faithful till Death, and I will give thee a Crown of Life.

11. He that has an Ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the Churches, He who overcomes shall not be hurt by the second Death.

12. And to the Angel of the Church in Pergamos write: These Things says he who has the sharp two-edged Sword;

13. I know thy Deeds, and where thou dwellest, where the Throne of Satan is; yet thou holdest my Name, and hast not denied my Faith, even in the Days wherein Antipas was my faithful Witness, who was killed with you, where Satan dwells.

14. But I have a few Things against thee, that thou hast there such as hold the Doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balac to throw an Offence before the Israelites, to eat Things offered to Idols, and to commit Whoredom:

15. So hast thou also them that hold the Doctrine of the Nicolaitans, which I hate.

16. Repent; but if not, I will come to thee quickly, and fight against those with the Sword of my Mouth.

Ver. 18. so let it be] The Gr. amen Mills says is of Ver. 6. Pr. 685. unlikely, and foreign to the Matter!

1b. Hell and Death] transposed by several, probably because Death is in Time before Hell, as likewise put so Ch. xx. 13, 14. by West. are death and of Hades.

Ver. 3. Patience] From hence to the Verse's End Mills would have it be right thus, for my Name, and not been weary; of which he gives this Account, according to his Conception of it, that by reason of he knows not what Repugnancy, when the Ephesian Church which is praised for Labour, Ver. 2. is here said, not to have laboured (being the more usual Signification of the Word than been weary, according to its Noun before for Labour) some studious Person wrote over against the Verb, to explain it, ours for been tired; this the Transcriber thinking belonged to the Text, put it in (which is to make the former write, or the latter think, incredibly wrong) rasing out the not

(but who would do that?) whereas if the Vulg. with its three Fellow-Versions, and nine Copies are to be followed, the two first Verbs must also be transposed, contrary to his putting them.

Ver. 4. that] so translated in the same Sense, Ver. 6.

Ver. 8. of the Smyrnians] like that in Ch. iii. 14. but but some Copies have in there and here, which Mills shews.

Ver. 14. Things offered to Idols] Mills speaks in behalf of this being out of the Vulg. only, as brought afterwards from Ver. 20. but besides that such Evidence is little to be regarded, it might rather have been put here, and understood after.

Ver. 15. which I hate] The Gr. ἡ μωὴ may be found in a few Exemplars changed into ἐμωὴ likewise; for that being much the same as the first Word in the Verse, is not to be thought the right.

17. He that has an Ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the Churches, To him who overcomes I will give to eat of the hidden Manna, as likewise will give him a white Stone, and on the Stone a new Name written, which Nobody knows excepting the Receiver.

18. And to the Angel of the Church in Thyatira write: These Things says the Son of God, who has his Eyes as a Flame of Fire, and his Feet like fine Brass;

19. I know thy Deeds, and Love, and Ministry, and Faith, with thy Patience, nay thy last Deeds to be more than the first.

20. But I have a few Things against thee, that thou permittest the Woman Jezebel, who says she is a Prophetess, to teach and seduce my Servants, to commit Whoredom, and eat Things offered to Idols.

21. And I gave her Time that she might repent of her Whoredom, and she did not.

22. Behold I will throw her into a Bed, and them who commit Adultery with her into great Affliction, except they repent of their Deeds.

23. Nay I will kill her Children with Death; and all the Churches shall know, that I am the Searcher of the Reins and Hearts: and I will give each of you according to your Deeds.

24. But to you I say, even to the rest in Thyatira, Whoever have not this Doctrine, and who have not known the Depths of Satan, as they speak, I will put on you no other Burden.

25. Nevertheless what you have, hold fast until I come.

26. And to him who overcomes, and keeps my Deeds till the End, I will give Power over the Nations.

27. And he shall manage them with an iron Rod, as Potters Vessels shall they be broke in pieces; even as I received from my Father.

28. Moreover I will give him the Morning Star.

29. He that has an Ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the Churches.

C H A P. III.

AND to the Angel of the Church in Sardis write: These Things says he who has the seven Spirits of God, and the seven Stars; I know thy Deeds, that thou hast a Name that thou art alive, yet art dead.

2. Be watchful, and establish the rest of the Things which are about to die: for I have not found thy Deeds compleat before God.

3. Remember therefore how thou hast received and heard, then keep, and repent. If therefore thou wilt not watch, I will come on thee as a Thief, and thou shalt not know what Hour I will come on thee.

4. Thou hast a few Names even in Sardis, that have not defiled their Cloaths, and they shall walk with me in White, since they are worthy.

5. He who overcomes, the same shall be clothed in white Cloaths; and I will not blot out his Name from the Book of Life, but will confess it both before my Father and his Angels.

6. He that has an Ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the Churches.

7. And to the Angel of the Church in Philadelphia write: These Things says the Holy, the True One, he who has the Key of David, who opens and none shuts, and shuts and none opens;

8. I know thy Deeds: behold I have put before thee an open Door, and none is able to shut it; since thou hast a little Ability, and hast kept my Word, and not denied my Name.

Ver. 17. to eat of] the Vulg. and Ethiop. Tr. have not, and Mills, who on such Authority denies it to be John's, adds a Copy with Curcellanus and Veslingius; which might be the same, and not only so but made, or even no more than imagined, according to the revered Vulg. Lat.

Ver. 19. last Deeds] Divers having not the [and] between, which are particularized by Mills and Kuster; and the Sense requires it, to avoid a mere Tautology, and what is worse, very improper Expression of the same Meaning; so that Wall says and seems interpolated.

Ver. 20. the Woman] Several have thy Wife, and Grotius says all the Ancients, who supposes it was the Bishop's Wife; which I think not unlikely, and that her Children, Ver. 23. might be those whom she seduced: for I think thy (the other being the same in the Gr.) more likely to be left out than put in.

Ver. 23. your] in the Vulg. alone his, to accord with each, which stands after you in the Gr. yet Mills is for that, Pr. 508.

Ver. 24. even] as is apparent, if this Conjunction is authentick; for ten Copies and four Versions are without it, and Hammond is against it on Ch. i. 20.

Ver. 26. to him] the same as in Ver. 7, 17.

Ver. 28. give him the Morning Star] according to Nary, He shall shine in Heaven as bright as that doth in the Firmament.

Ver. 1. that thou art alive] A few instead of that have and, which, says Mills, is a little obscurer, and therefore, as it seems, genuine; so preferring that which is both worst, and of least Authority.

Ver. 2. compleat] so West. I since find.

1b. God]. West. my God, as some Copies have, and particularly the vulg. Lat. which he has commonly on his Side when he leaves our received Reading.

9. Behold I will cause those of the Synagogue of Satan, that say they are Jews, and are not, but lye; behold I will make them come, and reverence before thy Feet, and know that I have loved thee.

10. Since thou hast kept the Word of my Patience, I will also keep thee from the Hour of Trial, which will come on the whole World, to try them who dwell on the Earth.

11. Behold I am coming quickly; hold fast what thou hast, that none may take thy Crown.

12. Him who overcomes I will make a Pillar in the Temple of my God, and he shall go out no more; besides I will write on him the Name of my God, and that of his City, new Jerusalem which comes down out of Heaven from my God, and my new Name.

13. He that has an Ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the Churches.

14. And to the Angel of the Church of the Laodiceans write, These Things says the So let it be, the Faithful and True Witness, the Beginning of the Creation of God;

15. I know thy Deeds, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would rather thou wast one or the other.

16. Thus because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I am about to spew thee out of my Mouth:

17. Since thou sayest, I am wealthy, and become rich, and have need of Nothing; and dost not know thou art wretched, miserable, poor, blind and naked.

18. I counsel thee to buy Gold of me refined from the Fire, that thou mayest be rich: and white Cloaths, that thou mayest be clothed, and the Shame of thy Nakedness may not appear: as also anoint thy Eyes with Salve, that thou mayest see.

19. As many soever as I love, I rebuke, and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent.

20. Behold I stand at the Door, and knock: if any one will hear my Voice, and open the Door; I will come in to him, and sup with him, and he with me.

21. To him who overcomes I will give to fit with me in my Throne, as I also overcame, and sat with my Father in his Throne.

22. He that has an Ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the Churches.

CHAP. IV.

AFTER these Things I looked, and behold a Door was opened in Heaven; and the first Voice which I heard was as of a Trumpet thus speaking to me, Come up hither, and I will shew thee what Things must be after these.

2. And presently I was in the Spirit; when behold there was a Throne placed in Heaven, and one sitting on the Throne.

3. Now he who sat was to the Sight like a Jasper and a Sardine Stone; and a Rainbow was round about the Throne, to the Sight like an Emerald.

4. Round about the Throne too were twenty four Thrones; and on the Thrones I saw twenty four Elders sitting, clothed in white Cloaths; and they had on their Heads golden Crowns.

5. And out of the Throne there came Lightnings, Thunders, and Voices; and seven Lamps of Fire were burning before the Throne, which are the seven Spirits of God.

6. Before the Throne also was a Sea of Glass like Crystal; and in the midst of the Throne, as well as round about it, four living Creatures full of Eyes before and behind.

7. Moreover the first living Creature was like a Lion, and the second like a Calf, and the third had a Face as a Man, and the fourth was like a flying Eagle.

8. Besides the four living Creatures had each on himself six Wings apiece round about, and were full of Eyes within; and they have not Rest Day and Night, saying, Holy, holy, holy is the Lord God Almighty, who was, and is, and is to come.

9. And when the living Creatures give Glory, Honour, and Thanksgiving to him that sits on the Throne, who lives for evermore;

Ver. 9. reverence] not worship thee certainly, which would be Idolatry; and what else should it be before for?

Ver. 17. rich] as the same Word is turned in the next Verse.

1b. miserable] Wess. pitiable from Doddr. in his pitiful Manner, and a pitiful Word this.

Ver. 18. By Kennett, along with his Psalms in Verse,

I guide thee to thy better Claim,

Substantial Treasures, Gold refin'd and pure,

And spotless Robes to shroud thy Shame,

And Heav'nly Balm to thy mortal Sight to cure.

Ver. 20. at the Door] of Men's Hearts, says Nary in the Margin.

Ver. 21. give] as before, & vii. 2. & ix. 5.

Ver. 6. living Creatures] which the Gr. properly signifies, and beasts is too contemptible; nay one of them was like an Eagle, and another had a Face as a Man; besides there is another Word for Beasts, Ch. vi. 8. and often sing. in this Book, so that Wall at the Beginning blames the Eng. Translation for confounding these Names.

Ver. 7. as a Man] by few of a Man, which Mills notwithstanding thought authentick, and says was changed into ours.

Ver. 8. and were] that is, the living Creatures were full of Eyes, as Ham. shews from the Gr. and not the Wings, as they in our com. Reading intimates.

Ver. 9. sits] the pres. Tense, as proper.

10. The

10. The twenty four Elders fall down before him that sits on the Throne, and worship him who lives for evermore, and cast their Crowns before the Throne, saying,

11. Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive Glory, Honour and Power; because thou hast created all Things, and for thy Will they exist, and were created.

CHAP. V.

AND I saw in the right Hand of him that sate on the Throne, a Book written within and without, sealed with seven Seals.

2. I likewise saw a strong Angel proclaiming aloud, Who is worthy to open the Book, and to undo the Seals of it?

3. And Nobody was able in Heaven, on the Earth, nor underneath it, to open the Book, nor to look on it.

4. Upon this I wept much, because there was Nobody found worthy to open and read the Book, nor to look on it.

5. But one of the Elders said to me, Do not weep; behold the Lion who is one of the Tribe of Juda, the Root of David, has prevailed to open the Book, and to undo the seven Seals of it.

6. Next I looked, and behold in the midst of the Throne, and of the four living Creatures, and in the midst of the Elders, was a Lamb standing as if it were slain, that had seven Horns, and so many Eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God sent into all the Earth.

7. Moreover he came, and took the Book out of the right Hand of him who sate on the Throne.

8. And when he had taken the Book, the four living Creatures, and the twenty four Elders fell down before the Lamb, having each golden Harps, and Vials full of Perfumes, which are the Prayers of the Saints.

9. And they sung a new Song as follows; Thou art worthy to take the Book, and to open the Seals of it; because thou hast been slain, and hast purchased us to God by thy Blood, out of every Tribe, Tongue, People and Nation;

10. As also made us Kings and Priests to our God, so that we shall reign on the Earth.

11. Besides as I looked, I heard the Voice of many Angels round about the Throne, and of the living Creatures and Elders, the Number of whom was a hundred Millions, and a Million,

12. Saying aloud, The Lamb that has been slain is worthy to receive Power, Riches, Wisdom, Strength, Honour, Glory and Blessing.

13. Nay every Creature that is in Heaven, on the Earth, and underneath it, with those who are in the Sea, even all that are in them, I heard say, To him who sits on the Throne, and to the Lamb, be Blessing, Honour, Glory and Might, for evermore: so let it be.

14. The four living Creatures too said, So let it be; and the twenty four Elders fell down, and worshipped him who lives for evermore.

CHAP. VI.

AND I looked when the Lamb opened one of the Seals, and heard one of the four living Creatures say as the Sound of Thunder, Come, and see.

2. Accordingly I looked, and behold a white Horse; and he who sate on him had a Bow, there was also a Crown given him; thus he went out overcoming, and that he might overcome.

Ver. 11. exist] For are may be taken wrong, as belonging to created.

Ver. 4. and read] Mills says crept from the Marg. because some have it not.

Ver. 5. who is] see Mills and Weston.

Ib. to undo] crept from Ver. 2. as Mills determines, Pr. 685. if not too hastily, by some being without it.

Ver. 6. looked] as Ch. iv. 1. & vi. 8. & xiv. 1, 14.

Ver. 11. looked] not beheld—the voice.

Ib. a Million] as in Dan. vii. 10.

Ver. 14. twenty four] Mills thinks was brought from Ver 8. because some are without it.

Ib. him who lives for evermore] seemed to Zeger added from some other like Place, forasmuch as not here with some; but such over-hasty condemning the established Writing may better be spared.

Ver. 2. a white Horse] Although this may pretty plainly denote the Gospel, which the primitive Christian Preachers went out to declare, and prevailed with; I would not attempt what may lessen my Interpretation of other Scripture Prophecies, by a particular Application of John's Visions to the Series of History, or what would be far more uncertain to that of Futurity. How have some of great Name checked the Esteem of their Capacity by it! What a Croud of Commentators, particularly in the last Century, has Time it self confuted! And how little Certainty is to be expected in what is referred to hereafter, by others who make less Appearance of Judgment and diligent Search, than some of the foregoing! But if the circumstantial fulfilling of Things here be unknown, the Descriptions are truly divine and noble; with the Usefulness of which on many Occasions, and the peculiar Discoveries the Servants of God have had, and may have, let us be humbly contented. Doddridge, as one of our latest Commentators of Note and Credit, prefers the Scheme of Lowman, which has the Accomplishment of these Matters to the End divided into seven Periods, the third of which extends to A. D. 2016, and the fourth to 3005, yet Doddr. on Ch. xi. 18. writes, This represents the Judgment-day as now nearly approaching. It may perhaps be rightly remarked, that the various Years computed by many, for the Completion of the great Affairs here predicted, being passed over with a silent but full Answer to their laboured Hypotheses; others of late

3. Moreover when he opened the second Seal, I heard the second living Creature say, Come, and see.

4. And another Horse went out red: and to him who sat on him was given to take Peace from the Earth, and that they might slay one another, and there was given him also a great Sword.

5. And when he opened the third Seal, I heard the third living Creature say, Come, and see. Whereupon I looked, and behold a black Horse; and he who sat on him had a Ballance in his Hand.

6. I further heard a Voice in the midst of the four living Creatures say, A Measure of Wheat for a Penny, and three Measures of Barley for a Penny; and thou must do no injury to the Oil and Wine.

7. And when he opened the fourth Seal, I heard the Voice of the fourth living Creature say, Come, and see.

8. So I looked, and behold a pale Horse; and the Name to him who sat upon him was Death, and Hell followed with him: there was also Power given to them to kill on the fourth Part of the Earth, with the Sword, Famine and Death, as likewise by the Beasts of the Earth.

9. And when he opened the fifth Seal, I beheld underneath the Altar the Souls of those who were slain, for the Word of God, and for the Testimony which they had.

10. They also cried out aloud as follows, How long, O Lord, Holy and True, dost thou not judge and revenge our Blood, from them that dwell on the Earth?

11. Whereupon white Robes were given to each one, and it was said to them, that they should rest yet a little while, until their Fellow-Servants also, and their Brethren should be filled up, who would be killed even as they.

12. Next I looked when he opened the sixth Seal, and behold there was a great Earthquake, the Sun became as black as

Sackcloth of Hair, the Moon became like Blood;

13. And the Stars of Heaven fell to the Earth, as a Fig-tree casts its unripe Figs, when it is shaken by a great Wind.

14. Nay the Heaven departed away, as a Book rolled up; and every Mountain and Isle were moved out of their Places.

15. At which the Kings of the Earth, the Grandees, rich Men, Commanders, and powerful Persons, as likewise every one bound and free, hid themselves in Caves and Rocks of the Mountains;

16. And said to the Mountains and Rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the Face of him who sits on the Throne, and from the Wrath of the Lamb:

17. Because the great Day of his Wrath is come; and who will be able to stand.

C H A P. VII.

AND after these Things I beheld four Angels standing on the four Corners of the Earth, who held the four Winds of it; that they might neither blow on the Earth, the Sea, nor any Tree.

2. I likewise beheld another Angel coming down from the eastern Sun, who had the Seal of the Living God; and he cried out aloud to the four Angels, to whom it was given to do injury to the Earth and Sea,

3. Saying, Do no injury to the Earth, Sea, nor Trees, till we have sealed the Servants of our God on their Foreheads.

4. And I heard the Number of those who were sealed, there being sealed a hundred and forty four thousand, of all the Tribes of the Israelites:

5. Of the Tribe of Juda were twelve thousand sealed, of the Tribe of Ruben twelve thousand sealed, of the Tribe of Gad twelve thousand sealed, have avoided this Refutation, by placing the grand Moments long hence to come. But as Expectation has such great Ascendency over the human Mind, People on one hand are apt to look for Things too near, and on the other to expect what is already past, as the Coming of the Messiah by the Jews, whom may God in his great Mercy pity and convince. And I modestly suppose the blessed Reformation from Popery has gone far into this Revelation; yet as Mahometanism and Popery are still in high Power, the Jews not restored, &c. there seem signal Matters yet to come, and by the Check already given to those Powers not very far distant. So Beza from Ch. iii. to the End has mostly few and small Notes, unlike what he has to other Books, though more able Commentators are scarce to be found.

Ver. 3. opened] as in Ver. 1.

Ver. 5. a Ballance] which is not a pair as Scales are; nor is the Gr. Word here either dual or plural.

Ver. 6. Barley] three having it plur. Mills thought that genuine.

Ver. 8. Sword] West. scimitar.

Ver. 17. great] One Copy and an Author being without, Mills says, if it was not for the very great Consent of Copies, he should believe it crept hither from Acts ii. 20.

Ib. his] the Lamb's strictly, to whom Wrath is ascribed before; but the Vulg. and Syr. have their, as was imagined, we may suppose, to be more grammatical, and Mills hugs it up, Pr. 508. However his vilifying ours, that is rose from the Ignorance of the Sense of this Place, is not to be suffered, and the less as it is quite unsupported; on the contrary is not God and Christ one, John x. 30.

Ver. 2. Sun] left out by our Translators.

Ver. 5. Ruben] the Gr. for α being as in Juda, which also in the Books of the Old Test. is Judah, &c.

6. Of the Tribe of Aser twelve thousand sealed, of the Tribe of Nephthalim twelve thousand sealed, of the Tribe of Manasses twelve thousand sealed,

7. Of the Tribe of Symeon twelve thousand sealed, of the Tribe of Levi twelve thousand sealed, of the Tribe of Isachar twelve thousand sealed,

8. Of the Tribe of Zabulon twelve thousand sealed, of the Tribe of Joseph twelve thousand sealed, of the Tribe of Benjamin twelve thousand sealed.

9. After these Things I looked, and behold a great Company, which Nobody was able to number, of all Nations, Tribes, People, and Languages, stood before both the Throne and the Lamb, cloathed with white Robes, and Palm-branches in their Hands.

10. And they cried out thus aloud, Salvation belongs to our God who sits on the Throne, and to the Lamb.

11. All the Angels too stood round about the Throne, the Elders and four living Creatures, then fell down before the Throne, and worshipped God,

12. Saying, So let it be: Blessing, Glory, Wisdom, Thanksgiving, Honour, Power and Strength, be to our God for evermore; so let it be.

13. Then one of the Elders spoke as follows to me, Who are these that are cloathed with white Robes, and whence do they come?

14. And I said to him, Lord, thou knowest. Whereupon he replied to me; These are they that are come out of great Affliction, and have washed their Robes, and whitened them in the Blood of the Lamb.

15. For this reason they are before the Throne of God, and serve him Day and Night in his Temple; and he who sits on the Throne will inhabit among them.

16. They will be hungry no more, nor thirsty any more; neither will the Sun's nor any Heat fall on them.

17. Since the Lamb that is at the midst of the Throne will feed them, and guide them to springing Fountains of Waters; and God will wipe off all Tears from their Eyes.

CHAP. VIII.

AND when he opened the seventh Seal, there was Silence in Heaven as it were half an Hour.

2. I also beheld seven Angels who stood before God, and seven Trumpets were given them.

3. Another Angel too came, and stood at the Altar, who had a golden Censer; and much Incense was given him, that he might render it with the Prayers of all the Saints, on the golden Altar which was before the Throne.

4. And the Smoak of the Incense went up, with the Prayers of the Saints, out of the Hand of the Angel, before God.

5. Besides the Angel took the Censer, and filled it from the Fire of the Altar, and threw into the Earth; upon which there were Sounds, Thunders, Lightnings and an Earthquake.

6. The seven Angels moreover, who had the seven Trumpets, got themselves ready to sound.

7. And the first Angel sounded, when there was Hail and Fire, mixed with Blood, and they were thrown into the Earth; so that the third Part of the Trees was burnt up, as was likewise all green Grass.

8. In the next place the second Angel sounded, and there was as it were a great Mountain burning with Fire thrown into the Sea; whereupon the third Part of the Sea became Blood:

9. Nay the third Part of the Creatures in the Sea that had Life died, and the third Part of the Ships perished.

10. Then the third Angel sounded, and there fell down from Heaven a great Star, that

Ver. 9. Palm-branches] For palms are the whole Trees; and here especially is amiss, because there are palms of the Hands in them.

Ver. 14. whitened] as if by washing clean, not as being of another Colour before.

Ver. 16. Sun's] the sun light on them may be mistaken for his giving light, and is otherwise very odd.

Ver. 17. and God will wipe off all Tears from their Eyes] Two printed Books only being without this, or any Part of it, Mills asserts it is indeed of Ch. xxi. 4. than which he has perhaps no rather Assertion among his numerous rash ones.

Ver. 5. Sounds, Thunders] inverted by Beza after the vulg. Lat. and not remarked by Mills.

Ver. 7. was] and not followed.

Ib. into] as Ver. 5. & 8.

Ib. so that] Several have here besides the following with us, the third Part of the Earth was burnt up, and; which might be left out, because of the Difficulty in conceiving how the Earth was to be burnt up, exclusive of the Wood and Herbage; when the latter might be but a more explicit Account of the former, and might be connected to it with [even,] and so the other may the better be spared.

Ib. the third Part of the Trees] as it was not violent enough to destroy them all like the Grass.

Ver. 9. perished] Mills found but three or four Copies that have it plur. like our Eng. yet he says rightly; but if so in some Sense, it is the sing. which is to be allowed right.

burnt as a Lamp; and it fell on the third Part of the Rivers; and on the Fountains of Waters.

11. And the Name of the Star is called Wormwood: so the third Part of the Waters became Wormwood, and many Men died of the Waters, because they were bitter.

12. The fourth Angel likewise sounded, and there was smitten the third Part of the Sun, and the same both of the Moon and Stars; that the third Part of them might be darkened, and the Day not shine a third Part of it, and the Night in like Manner.

13. I also beheld, and heard one Angel flying in the midst of Heaven, say aloud, Wo, wo, wo is to them that dwell on the Earth, from the other Voices of the Trumpet of the three Angels, who are about to sound.

CHAP. IX.

AND the fifth Angel sounded, then I beheld a Star fall from Heaven into the Earth; and there was given him the Key to the Well of the Deep.

2. Upon this he opened the Well of the Deep, and Smoak went up from the Well as the Smoak of a great Hearth; so that the Sun and Air were darkened by the Smoak of the Well.

3. Moreover there came Locusts out of the Smoak into the Earth; and Power was given them, as Scorpions of the Earth have Power.

4. And it was said to them, that they should do no injury to the Grass of the Earth, nor any green Thing, nor any Tree; but to the Men only who have not the Seal of God on their Foreheads.

5. However it was given them, that they should not kill these, but that they should be tormented five Months; and their Torment was as that of a Scorpion, when he strikes a Man.

6. So that in those Days Men will seek Death, and not find it: as likewise will desire to die, and Death will flee from them.

7. And the Likenesses of the Locusts were like Horses got ready to Battle; on their Heads too were as Crowns like Gold, and their Faces were as those of Men;

8. They further had Hair as that of Women, and their Teeth were such as Lions;

9. And they had Breast-plates like iron ones, with the Sound of their Wings as that of many Horses running to Battle;

10. As they had also Tails like Scorpions, and there were Stings in their Tails, and their Power was to do injury to Men five Months.

11. And they had a King over them, the Angel of the Deep, to whom the Name in Hebrew is Abaddon, but in Greek has the Name Apollyon.

12. One Wo is gone, behold there are yet coming two Woes after these Things.

13. The sixth Angel also sounded, and I heard a Voice from the four Horns of the golden Altar before God,

14. Saying to the sixth Angel who had the Trumpet, Let loose the four Angels that are bound in the great River Euphrates.

15. Accordingly the four Angels were let loose, who were got ready for an Hour, Day, Month and Year, that they might kill the third Part of Men.

16. Now the Number of the Warriors, being Horsemen, was two hundred Millions: for I heard the Number of them.

17. And thus I beheld the Horses in the Vision, and those that sat on them, having Breast-plates of Fire, Jacinth and Brimstone; the Heads too of the Horses were as Lions

Ver. 13. Angel] supposed by Mills to creep in instead of Eagle, which the Vulg. and several have; but it seems too strange, and dissimilar from the rest.

Ib. of the Trumpet] by the Vulg. Interpreter omitted, and in some pretended Gaps from Pelagius; the Noun (as it were of the Sound) being left out by reason of its Verb. This Mills catches at in vain: Pr. 508.

Ver. 1. into] see Ch. viii. 7. where it is the same.

Ver. 2. Upon this he opened the Well of the Deep] These Words seven or eight have not, and so seemed to Mills to be of some Scholiast, not John's own.

Ib. from the Well] with the Vulg. and there only, the Smoak of the Well went up; whereupon Mills says ours is of a Scholiast. Pr. 508. Supposing his Hypothesis of the Well, would People by that not have known the Smoak was from or out of it, without this Help of the imaginary Scholiast?

Ib. great] For this some have burning, which Mills puts among his genuine Readings.

Ver. 3. Locusts] the Mahometans, as Mrs. Mede and all do judge, writes Wall on Ch. xiii. 5.

Ver. 4. but] as Doddr. also renders, yet comments,

The Use of the Particles, as in, here, is very remarkable; and it is apparently necessary, it should be rendered only, rather than except. But what [it] should be so rendered, the Use of the Particles? And it is mon, which is rendered only, and as in but, as Doddr. himself has; and who has ever rendered it here except? Though this is common, and the rest may be ascribed to Oversight.

Ver. 7. Crowns like Gold] Some have golden Crowns, and Mills says rightly; but it seems rather to avoid as and like being thus together, and for more usual Expression.

Ver. 10. and there were Stings &c.] for which some have, and Stings; and in their Tails they had Power to do injury; and that Wall favours.

Ver. 14. who had] with some be having, which Mills counts to be according to the Autograph, saying, This is certainly amiss among that Greek of John which Nobody else can settle.

Ib. Euphrates] Wall at the Beginning gives this and the following, with Ch. xvi. 12. as an open and plain Prediction of the Turks.

Heads; and out of their Mouths there came Fire, Smoak and Brimstone.

18. By these three the third Part of Men was killed, through the Fire, Smoak, and Brimstone which came out of their Mouths.

19. For the Power of the Horses is in their Mouth, and in their Tails: for their Tails were like Serpents, they having Heads, and with them they do injury.

20. Yet the rest of the Men who were not killed by these Plagues, did not repent of the Works of their Hands, that they might not worship Devils, and Idols of Gold, Silver, Brass, Stone and Wood; which can neither see, hear, nor go:

21. Nay they did not repent either of their Murders, Witchcrafts, Whoredom, or Thefts.

CHAP. X.

AND I saw another strong Angel come down from Heaven, cloathed with a Cloud, and a Rainbow on his Head, with his Face as the Sun, and his Feet as Pillars of Fire.

2. He also had in his Hand a little Book open; and he put his right Foot on the Sea, and the left on the Earth.

3. Besides he cried out with a loud Voice, according as a Lion roars; and when he had cried out, seven Thunders uttered their Voices.

4. Which they having done, I was about to write; whereupon I heard a Voice from Heaven say to me, Seal up the Things which the seven Thunders uttered, but do not write them.

5. Moreover the Angel whom I saw standing both on the Sea and Earth, lifted up his Hand to Heaven;

6. And swore by him who lives for evermore, who created the Heaven and the Things in it, with the Earth and the Things in that, and the Sea with the Things therein, that the Time should be no longer;

7. But in the Days of the seventh Angel's Voice, when he would sound, the Mystery of God should be accomplished, as he had declared to his own Servants the Prophets.

8. And the Voice which I heard from Heaven spoke to me again in this manner, Go, take the little Book that is open in the Hand of the Angel, who stands both on the Sea and Earth.

9. So I went to the Angel, saying to him, Give me the little Book. And he answered me, Take, and eat it up; and it will make thy Belly bitter, but will be in thy Mouth as sweet as Honey.

10. Accordingly I took the little Book out of the Angel's Hand, and eat it up, and it was in my Mouth as sweet as Honey; and when I had eat it up, my Belly became bitter.

11. And he said to me, Thou must prophesy again concerning many People, Nations, Tongues and Kings.

CHAP. XI.

THERE was further given me a Cane like a Rod, and the Angel stood, saying: Rise up, and measure the Temple of God, with the Altar, and them who worship in it.

2. But the Court which is without the Temple throw out, and do not measure it, since it is given to the Gentiles; and they will tread down the holy City forty two Months.

3. And I will cause my two Witnesses, that they shall prophesy a thousand two hundred sixty Days, cloathed with Sackcloth.

4. These are two Olive-trees, and two Candlesticks, which stand before the God of the Earth.

Ver. 19. of the Horses] The Copies, &c. that have Power sing. with all but two and in their Tails, have this (one excepted that has Places for Horses) which are under twenty; the other Reading that Mills puts in the Text is, For their Powers are in their Mouth; without and in their Tails; so that our com. Eng. is according to no Copy, nor ancient Version.

Ver. 20. Brass] is of the Transcribers, not St. John, Mills affirms, though he found but six without it, and Kuster one since.

Ver. 1. Pillars] in three Versions a Pillar, which Mills approves of, as genuine; but it is feasible that columna, Pillars in the old Lat. might degenerate to columna, and the other follow it; more likely too, I presume, than the Apostle's putting it Pillar.

Ver. 6. Time] which Ham. and Wall expound to mean Delay.

Ver. 7. would] not shall begin.

Ver. 8. again] as here follows.

Ver. 11. concerning] as Ham. and Wall shew; to the

Gr. strictly upon, and before is improbable for Johns being now very ancient, and this but about three Years before his Death.

Ver. 1. and the Angel stood] Beza says he restores this from the Complutensian Edition, when in others there is written only saying; but Mills produces three Copies and the Syr. also that have it, yet adds the MS. Copies gain-saying with a great Consent, as likewise himself, who also sufficiently answers Beza; so that it appears put in for the sake of Perspicuity, though that seems to me much wanted without these Words:

Ver. 2. without] Mills has within in the Text, as he found but about seven or eight Copies, &c. with ours, which however both he and Beza take to be the right Reading.

Ver. 4. which stand] A few have it masc. who stand, agreeing with these and Witnesses, which Mills counted genuine; but I fancy it was rather altered to that.

1. Ib. God] by some Lord, because so in Zech. iv. 14. I suppose.

5. And if any will do them injury, Fire comes out of their Mouth, and devours their Enemies; so that if any one will do them injury, thus must he be killed.

6. These have Power to shut Heaven, that it may yield no Rain in the Days of their Prophecy; nay have Power over Waters to turn them into Blood, and to smite the Earth with any Plague as often as they will.

7. And when they have accomplished their Testimony, the Beast that comes up out of the Deep, will make War with them, overcome them, and kill them.

8. Then their dead Bodies will be in the Street of the great City; which is spiritually called Sodom and Egypt, where our Lord also was crucified.

9. Whereupon they of the People, Tribes, Tongues and Nations, will see their dead Bodies three Days and a half, and will not permit their dead Bodies to be put into Graves.

10. Nay those that dwell on the Earth will rejoice at them, be merry, and send Gifts one to another; because these two Prophets tormented them that dwelt on the Earth.

11. But after three Days and a half, a living Spirit from God entered into them; so that they stood on their Feet, and great Fear fell on those who saw them.

12. They also heard a great Voice from Heaven, saying to them, Come up hither; accordingly they went up to Heaven in a Cloud, and their Enemies saw them.

13. And in that Hour there was a great Earthquake, so that the tenth Part of the City fell down, and the Names of Men killed in the Earthquake were seven thousand; the rest frightened at this, gave Glory to the God of Heaven.

14. The second Wo is gone away, behold the third Wo will come quickly.

15. And the seventh Angel sounded, at which there were great Voices in Heaven, that said, The Kingdoms of the World are become our Lord's, and his Christ's, and he will reign for evermore.

16. The twenty-four Elders likewise, who sat on their Thrones before God, fell down on their Faces, and worshipped him,

17. Saying; We give thanks to thee, O Lord God Almighty, who art, and who wast, and who art to come; because thou hast taken thy great Power, and hast reigned.

18. And though the Nations were in a Wrath, thy Wrath is come, and the Time for the Dead to be judged, and to give Reward to thy Servants the Prophets, and to the Saints, with those who fear thy Name, little and great, and to destroy them that destroy the Earth.

19. Besides the Temple of God was opened in Heaven, and there appeared the Ark of his Covenant in his Temple; and were Lightnings, Voices, Thunders, an Earthquake, and great Hail.

CHAP. XII.

AND a great Sign appeared in Heaven, a Woman clothed with the Sun, and the Moon was underneath her Feet, as likewise on her Head a Crown of twelve Stars.

2. Now she was with Child, and cried out, as she brought forth, and was in pain to be delivered.

3. There also appeared another Sign in Heaven, which behold was a great red Dragon, that had seven Heads, and ten Horns; and on his Heads seven Diadems.

4. Moreover his Tail haled the third Part of the Stars of Heaven, and threw them to the Earth; this Dragon stood before the Woman who was about to be delivered, that when she was, he might devour her Child.

5. And she was delivered of a male Child, who should manage all Nations with an iron Rod; so her Infant was caught up to God and his Throne.

6. The Woman likewise fled into the Wilderness, where she has a Place got ready by God, that they may nourish her there, a thousand two hundred sixty Days.

7. So there was Fighting in Heaven; Michael and his Angels fought against the Dragon, who fought and his Angels.

8. However he did not prevail, nor was there a Place found for them any more in Heaven.

Ver. 8. our] Several have their, and Mills says rightly; but the Vulg. might turn it that Way, together with the Antecedent.

Ib. also] a few mis, as Mills supposes they should; but the little Need of it might be likelier the Occasion.

Ver. 15. Kingdoms—are become] by some Kingdom—is become, and Mills writes were made plural by some Reader. As Probability leans that Way, and Authority this, I must leave it doubtful; disliking also to be dogmatical, which the many [ways] I have used may convince my Readers of.

Ver. 19. Thunders] not in the Vulg. and without Mills's Approbation, Pr. 507.

Ib. an Earthquake] not with half a dozen, and Mills says he knows not whether it crept from Ch. viii. 5. which is what I should not suspect at all, since one Sentence has not the Countenance of being copied from the other.

Ver. 1. Sign] as translated Ch. xv. 1.

Ver. 2. was with Child] Gr. had in the Womb.

Ver. 4. she was] not only by the Meaning of the Word in the Original, but its Position there in a Member of the Sentence before that wherein her Child is.

Ver. 6. may] the present Tense, as well as what that before requires;

Ver. 8. Place—for them] to be in there, not their place where they had been.

9. Thus

C H A P. XIII.

9. Thus the great Dragon was cast out, the ancient Serpent, called the Devil and Satan, that seduces the whole World: he was cast out to the Earth, as were his Angels with him.

10. Then I heard a loud Voice say in Heaven; Now there is come to be Salvation, Power, the Kingdom of our God, and the Authority of his Christ; since the Accuser of our Brethren is cast down, that accused them before our God Day and Night.

11. Him they overcame by the Blood of the Lamb, and by the Word of their Testimony; without loving their Lives till Death.

12. For this reason be glad, O Heavens, and those that dwell in them: wo is to the Inhabitants of the Earth and Sea; since the Devil is come down to you, having great Wrath, as he knows that he has but a little Time.

13. And when the Dragon saw that he was cast to the Earth, he persecuted the Woman who was delivered of the Male.

14. Whereas there were given her two Wings of a great Eagle, that she might fly into the Wilderness, to her Place; where she is nourished there a Time, and Times, and half a Time, from the Face of the Serpent.

15. And the Serpent cast after the Woman, Water as a Flood out of his Mouth, that he might make her be carried away by the Flood.

16. But the Earth helped the Woman, since that opened its Mouth, and swallowed up the Flood which the Dragon cast out of his Mouth.

17. Upon this the Dragon was in a Wrath at the Woman, and went to make War with the rest of her Offspring, who keep the Commandments of God, and have the Testimony of Jesus Christ.

NOW I stood on the Sand of the Sea, and saw a Beast come up out of the Sea, which had seven Heads, and ten Horns; and on his Horns ten Diadems, as also on his Heads the Name of Blasphemy.

2. And the Beast which I saw was like a Leopard, with his Feet as a Bear's, and his Mouth as that of a Lion; to whom the Dragon gave his Power, his Throne, and great Authority.

3. I saw further one of his Heads as it were cut to Death; but his deadly Wound became cured, and the whole Earth wondered after the Beast.

4. And they worshipped the Dragon that gave Authority to the Beast, as they did also the Beast, saying, Who is like the Beast? Who is able to fight with him?

5. There was likewise given him a Mouth, that spoke great Things and Blasphemies; besides Authority was given him to act forty two Months.

6. And he opened his Mouth in Blasphemy at God, to blaspheme his Name, his Tabernacle, and those who dwell in Heaven.

7. Nay it was given him to make War with the Saints, and to overcome them; even Authority was given him over every Tribe, Tongue and Nation.

8. So all that dwell on the Earth will worship him, whose Names are not written in the Book of Life of the Lamb that has been slain, from the founding of the World.

9. If any one has an Ear, let him hear.

10. If any one carries to Captivity, he will go into Captivity; if any one kills with the Sword, he must be killed with the Sword: here is the Patience and Faith of the Saints.

Ver. 14. there] The Gr. has this Pleonasm.

Ver. 1. I stood] by a few he stood, though not he saw, which to Wall following Mede seemed probable to be the true Reading; but the Authority is too weak.

Ib. Beast] West. wild beast.

Ib. Name] Names by some, as I suppose by reason of the Heads, the contrary being altogether unlikely: nor is it a mere verbal Disparity, since Name denotes the same on each Head, Names implies Variety, or makes it uncertain; yet Wall favours that Reading.

Ver. 2. his Throne] the Vulg. is without, and some Copy of Veslefus framed or feigned, it seems, according to it.

Ver. 4. Authority] the same rendered so, Ver. 2.

Ib. as they did also the Beast] A Copy or two and the Syr. have not, whereupon Mills as often says, that without the very great Agreement of Books, he should esteem it inserted from the Marg. where it was written for the sake of Explanation, though, adds he, (to give it another Pull) the Coherence would be better to what follows without this; but must such Arguments prevail over Authority?

Ver. 5. to act] as the Gr. is, not continue. Mills on the Authority of two Writers, if that be any Authority, especially as they are both at second Hand, rejects this; while some Copies have another Gr. Word, to be to make war.

Ver. 7. Nay it was given him to make War with the Saints, and to overcome them] All this two Copies and one Author are without, at which Grotius says, it is indeed enough comprehended in the Words before; but how can that be true? Or if it was, it would not be sufficient Reason for leaving this out.

Ib. Tribe] Some Copies add here and People, these Words being all sing. in the Original.

Ver. 8. has been] preterperfect.

Ib. from the founding of the World] Ham. here, and Whit. at John xvii. 5. &c. represent as certain that this belongs to written (as also Cost. translates) not to slain, by Ch. xvii. 8. yet it does not seem to quadrate well with the pref. Tense, and especially with the fut. and will accord better with the Book of Life that was from the Esc.

Ver. 10. If any one] the same as in the Ver. before.

Ib. here is the Patience and Faith] i. e. the Effect thereof, as Nary expounds, with a strict Regard to the Words, and in his intelligent Manner, both very commendably.

11. Afterwards I beheld another Beast come up out of the Earth; and he had two Horns like a Lamb. and spoke as a Dragon.

12. And he exercises all the Authority of the first Beast before him, and causes the Earth, with them that dwell in it, to worship the first Beast, whose deadly Wound became cured.

13. He moreover does great Miracles, so that he even makes Fire come down from Heaven to the Earth before Men.

14. Thus he seduces them that dwell on the Earth, by reason of the Miracles which were given him to do before the Beast; ordering them that dwell on the Earth, to make an Image to the Beast, who had the Wound of a Sword, and did live.

15. And it was allowed him to give a Spirit to the Image of the Beast, that it might even speak; and to cause that whoever did not worship the Image of the Beast should be killed.

16. Besides he causes all, little and great, both rich and poor, both free and bound, that there should be given them a Mark on their right Hand, or on their Foreheads;

17. And that none should buy or sell, excepting he that had the Mark, or the Name of the Beast, or the Number of his Name.

18. Here is Wisdom: let him who has Sense count up the Number of the Beast; for it is that of a Man, and his Number six hundred sixty six.

A GAIN I looked, and behold a Lamb, stood on Mount Sion, and with him a hundred forty four thousand, who had the Name of his Father written on their Foreheads.

2. I also heard a Voice from Heaven, as the Sound of many Waters, and as that of great Thunder; besides I heard the Sound of Harpers playing on their Harps.

3. And they sung as it were a new Song before the Throne, as likewise before the four living Creatures and the Elders; which Song none could learn, excepting the hundred forty four thousand, who were redeemed from the Earth.

4. These are they who were not defiled with Women, for they are Virgins: these are they who follow the Lamb whithersoever he goes: these were redeemed from Men, the First-fruits to God and the Lamb.

5. And there was not Deceit found in their Mouth; for they are without Blemish before the Throne of God.

6. Besides I beheld another Angel flying in the midst of Heaven, who had the everlasting Gospel to preach to them that dwell on the Earth, even to every Nation, Tribe, Tongue and People;

7. Saying aloud, Fear God, and give Glory to him, since the Hour of his Judgment is come; and worship him who made Heaven, Earth, the Sea, and Fountains of Waters.

Ver. 14. of a Sword, and did live] by a small Number and did live from the Sword, which Mills says he can scarce but reckon among the genuine, adding, the Obscurity of the true Reading (so he calls that) begot the present; yet various other Causes have produced various Readings.

Ver. 15. allowed] Gr. given, as West. also renders it.

Ver. 16. both] This is added in once, and left out twice, by our last Translators.

Ver. 18. Here is Wisdom] in the following Mystery.

Ib. 666] Nary writes, St. John gives us to understand that the Letters which make up this Number, will be those of the Name of Antichrist: what then is more likely than xarivw, as Protestants urge, and even Irenæus exhibited, Lib. v. Cap. 30? The Letters of which stand for 30, 1, 300, 5, 10, 50, 70 and 200.

Ver. 1. who had the Name] Between is with some his Name and, which Mills thought authentick, saying it slipt out by an easy Fault because of the other Name, Pr. 686. which indeed would be easier in the Gr. than Eng. yet it might on the contrary be taken from Ch. iii. 12. and this the Multitude of Copies without it may induce us to think.

Ver. 2. many Waters] or much Water, as Ch. i. 15. John iii. 23. where it is plur. also, as Water is throughout the Writings of the Old Test. but I have conformed to Ch. xix. 6. though Thunder is sing. here: either Way it denotes the Greatness of the Sound; but does not justify a confused Noise which a numerous Congregation makes with their Responses, as in the Pref. to Holy David clear'd:

for Worship should be orderly, and Singing harmonious, nor did Christ answer himself.

Ib. I heard the Sound] from some the Sound which I heard (with was wanting) as, and that Mills ranks as right, Pr. 686.

Ib. Harps] The Author of that before insists hereon, Ib. We may be sure the Scripture would never have decyphered to us the Church of God, either in Heaven or Earth, as worshipping God with any Thing, in the Use of which would be any Fault; but would that of a Censer, Incense and Altar, Ch. viii. 3, 4. now be none? Besides this Church was the Jewish, Ver. 1. Ch. vii. 4. Nay if this proves the Use of any Thing, it must be Harps themselves.

Ver. 5. Deceit] By some Copies Falschood, as thought perhaps more suitable to Mouth, with Respect also to Ch. xxi. 27. but Mills says ours is a Scholium from 1 Pet. ii. 22. Pr. 686.

Ver. 6. dwell] Mills calls fit the true Reading, as some have it, Pr. 686. but though it is not likely to be changed from dwell to fit, yet as the latter Word in Gr. denotes also to dwell, and as Mills informs us that is fitly to the Style of the Sept. the Change might be so, and ours stand good. Erasmus, &c. putting both Readings may shew the Difficulty of choosing, but not which is right, however further than in their Judgment.

Ver. 7. God] Some have the Lord, and according to Mills aright, Christ being meant; but that Distinction is without Proof, however Somebody might think so, and make it the Lord.

8. And another Angel followed, saying, Babylon, the great City, is fallen, fallen down; because she made all Nations drink of the Wine of the Wrath of her Whoredom.

9. A third Angel likewise followed them, saying aloud; If any one shall worship the Beast, and his Image, and receive the Mark either on his Forehead, or Hand;

10. Then he shall drink of the Wine of God's Wrath, poured out unmingled into the Cup of his Anger; and shall be tormented with Fire and Brimstone, before both the holy Angels, and the Lamb:

11. Nay the Smoak of their Torment goes up for evermore; and they have not rest Day and Night, that worship the Beast and his Image, and if any one receives the Mark of his Name.

12. Here is the Patience of the Saints: here are they who keep the Commandments of God, and the Faith of Jesus.

13. And I heard a Voice from Heaven say to me; Write, The Dead are blessed who die in the Lord henceforth. Yes, says the Spirit, that they may rest from their Labours, and their Works do follow with them.

14. Next I looked, and behold a white Cloud, and on the Cloud one sitting like a Man, who had a golden Crown on his Head, and a sharp Hook in his Hand.

15. And another Angel came out of the Temple, crying out aloud to him who sat on the Cloud, Put in thy Hook, and reap; because the Hour for thee to reap is come, since the Harvest of the Earth is become dry.

16. Accordingly he who sat on the Cloud, thrust in his Hook on the Earth; and the Earth was reaped.

17. Moreover another Angel came out of the Temple in Heaven, who had likewise a sharp Hook.

18. And another Angel came out from the Altar, who had Authority over Fire, and called with a loud Cry to him that had the sharp Hook thus, Put in thy sharp Hook, and pick the Bunches of the Vine of the Earth; since the Grapes of it are ripe.

19. So the Angel thrust his Hook into the Earth, and picked the Vine of the Earth, and cast into the great Wine-press of the Wrath of God.

20. And the Wine-press was trod without the City, so that the red Juice came out of the Wine-press to the Bridles of the Horses, for a thousand six hundred Furlongs.

CHAP. XV.

AND I beheld another Sign in Heaven, a great and wonderful, seven Angels having the seven last Plagues; since the Wrath of God is accomplished in them.

2. I further beheld as it were a Sea of Glass, mixed with Fire; as also the Overcomers of the Beast, and his Image, and his Mark, of the Number of his Name, standing on the Sea of Glass, who had the Harps of God.

3. And they sung the Song of Moses the Servant of God, and the Song of the Lamb, as follows; Thy Works are righteous and wonderful, O Lord God Almighty: thy Ways are great and true, O King of Saints.

4. Who shall not fear thee, Lord, and glorify thy Name? Since thou only art holy: for all Nations shall come, and worship before thee; since thy righteous Things are made manifest.

5. Now after these Things I looked, and behold there was opened the Temple of the Tabernacle of the Testimony in Heaven.

6. And the seven Angels, who had the seven Plagues, came out of the Temple, clothed with pure and clear Linen, and girded about the Breasts with golden Girdles.

7. Then one of the four living Creatures gave to the seven Angels, seven golden Vials full of the Wrath of God, who lives for evermore.

8. And the Temple was full of Smoak, by means both of the Glory of God and his Power; so that none was able to enter into the Temple, till the seven Plagues of the seven Angels were accomplished.

Ver. 8. of the Wrath] wanting but in a few printed Books, which are of small Authority, yet to Mills seemed taken from Ver. 10. How unlikely!

Ver. 13. with] in Gr. so for present Reward.

Ver. 14. a Man] see on Ezek. ii. 1.

Ver. 18. pick] West. lop, as if to cut off Limbs of a Tree with the sickle, or as though that was the Manner of taking in Grapes. But the Bunches might be cut off with a Hook, though a different one from that in Ver. 15.

Ver. 20. a thousand six hundred Furlongs] just 200 Miles.

Ver. 3. Saints] Divers have Nations, but Mills thought that of two Translations genuine, viz. Ages (rendered by the Rhemists, worlds) or with the other Noun everlasting King; whereas he supposing the other was taken wrong from Jer. x. 7. gives a fair Occasion to remark, so might his from the same Chap. Ver. 10. while he is put to it only say, the received Reading is a marginal Explanation. But what did it explain? Was it either of the other Readings? Would any be so senseless as to pretend it? Or does either of them want explaining?

Ver. 6. out of the Temple] Mills says he can scarce but think this is a Gloss here and at Chap. xvi. 1. taken from the foregoing Ver. The Support he had for it was five or six Copies.

1b. Linen] Vulg. Lat. absurdly Stone, from a Corruption of the Gr. λίον into λίον.

Ver. 8. by means of] If from had been intended, it is likely it would have been done, according to the Genius of the Gr. Tongue.

C H A P. XVI.

I ALSO heard a great Voice from the Temple, which said to the seven Angels, Go, and pour out the Vials of God's Wrath into the Earth.

2. So the first went, and poured out his Vial on the Earth; whereby there became a bad and grievous Sore, on the Men that had the Mark of the Beast, and that worshipped his Image.

3. And the second Angel poured out his Vial into the Sea, and it became Blood as of one dead; so that every living Animal died in the Sea.

4. The third Angel likewise poured out his Vial into the Rivers and Fountains of Waters; and they became Blood.

5. And I heard the Angel of the Waters say; Thou art righteous, Lord, who dost and who didst exist, and who art holy, because thou hast judged thus:

6. Since they have shed the Blood of Saints and Prophets, so thou hast given them Blood to drink; for they are deserving of it.

7. And I heard another from the Altar say, Yes, O Lord God Almighty, thy Judgments are true and righteous.

8. Next the fourth Angel poured out his Vial on the Sun; upon which it was given him to scorch Men with Fire.

9. Thus Men were scorched with great Heat, and blasphemed the Name of God, who has Authority over these Plagues; and they did not repent, to render Glory to him.

10. And the fifth Angel poured out his Vial on the Throne of the Beast; whereupon his Kingdom became dark, and they gnawed their Tongues for Pain;

11. As also blasphemed the God of Heaven, for their Pains and Sores, and did not repent of their Deeds.

12. The sixth Angel too poured out his Vial on the great River Euphrates; upon this the Water of it became dry, that the Way of the Kings from the eastern Sun might be got ready.

13. And I beheld out of the Mouth of the Dragon, the Mouth of the Beast, and that of the false Prophet, three unclean Spirits, like Frogs:

14. For they are the Spirits of Devils, that do Miracles, and go forth to the Kings of the Earth, nay of the whole World, to gather them together to the Battle of that great Day of God Almighty.

15. Behold I am coming as a Thief: he who watches, and preserves his Cloaths is blessed, that he may not walk naked, and People see his Shame.

16. And he gathered them together into a Place, called in Hebrew Armageddon.

17. Lastly the seventh Angel poured out his Vial into the Air; and a great Voice came out from the Temple of Heaven, from the Throne, saying, It is done.

18. Besides there were Sounds, Thunders and Lightnings; as there was also a great Earthquake, such as was not since Men were on the Earth, such a mighty Earthquake, so great.

19. And the great City became into three Parts, as likewise the Cities of the Nations fell; and great Babylon was remembered before God, to give her the Cup of the Wine of the Wrath of his Displeasure.

20. Every Isle moreover fled away, and the Mountains were not found.

21. And great Hail as Weights came down from Heaven on Men; and they blasphemed God for the Plague of Hail, because the Plague of it was exceeding great.

Ver. 2. became] as Ver. 3, 4. not fell, nor was isom.

Ver. 5. holy] shall be only on Beza's slender Authority, that being not in all the various Readings of Mills, Kuster, Wetsten, &c. though Doddr. says other Copies have it so, which however he does not follow. By West. the Gracious one, but wrong.

Ver. 8. given] without power.

Ver. 10. became] as Ver. 3, 4. and so not was full.

Ver. 13. like] Some have as, but it being differently, I am for keeping what we are in Possession of, notwithstanding Mills's Writ of Ejectment.

Ver. 16. be gathered] Doddr. writes as if it must be God who did this, yet how contrary to Ver. 14! and even Beza, so far from understanding it thus, has they gathered. Perhaps the three Spirits acting together might be considered as one, otherwise the united Mouth or Call of the Dragon, Beast and false Prophet, Ver. 13. might gather the Kings together by means of those Spirits. But there is not Necessity for such grammatical Niceness, when be or it gathered them may only mean they were gathered, as a Verb active is put for passive, Lev. xiv. 5, 42. Num. xv. 9. 1 Kings xviii. 26. and elsewhere.

Ib. Armageddon] Mount Megiddo by Beza, with Probability.

Ver. 17. great] being not with a few, seemed to Mills brought from Ver. 1.

CHAP. XVII.

AFTERWARDS there came one of the seven Angels, who had the seven Vials, and spoke to me, in this manner; Come, I will shew thee the Judgment of the great Whore, that sits on many Waters:

2. With whom the Kings of the Earth have committed Whoredom, and its Inhabitants have been drunk by the Wine of her Whoredom.

3. So he carried me away into the Wilderness, in the Spirit; and I beheld a Woman sitting on a scarlet Beast, full of Names of Blasphemy, it had also seven Heads and ten Horns.

4. And the Woman was cloathed with Purple and Scarlet, nay decked with Gold, precious Stone; and Pearls, having a golden Cup in her Hand, full of the Abominations and Uncleaness of her Whoredom.

5. On her Forehead also was a Name written, A Mystery, Babylon the great, the Mother of Harlots, and Abominations of the Earth.

6. And I beheld the Woman drunk with the Blood of the Saints, and with that of the Witnesses of Jesus; so that I wondered a great deal, at beholding her.

7. Then the Angel said to me: For what reason dost thou wonder? I will tell thee the Mystery of the Woman, and of the Beast that bears her, which has seven Heads and ten Horns.

8. The Beast that thou beheldest, was, and is not; and will hereafter come up out of the Deep, then go into Destruction; and they will wonder that dwell on the Earth (whose Names are not written in the Book of Life from the founding of the World) at seeing the Beast that was, and is not, though he is.

9. Here is the Mind that has Wisdom: the seven Heads are seven Mountains, where the Woman sits on them.

10. There are likewise seven Kings: five are fallen, and one is, the other is not yet come; and when he comes, he must remain but a little while.

11. And the Beast that was, and is not, even he is the eighth, as also is one of the seven, and goes into Destruction.

12. The ten Horns too which thou beheldest, are ten Kings, who have not yet received the Kingdom, but receive Authority as Kings a very little while with the Beast.

13. These have one Mind, and give their Power and Authority to the Beast.

14. These will fight with the Lamb, but he will overcome them: since he is the Lord of Lords, and King of Kings; and they who are with him are called, chosen and faithful.

15. He says further to me; The Waters which thou beheldest, where the Harlot sits, People and a Multitude are, with Nations and Tongues.

16. And the ten Horns which thou beheldest on the Beast, these will hate the Harlot, as also make her desolate and naked, nay eat her Flesh, and burn her in the Fire.

17. For God has put into their Hearts to do his Mind, as likewise to act with one Mind, and to give their Kingdom to the Beast, till the Words of God shall be accomplished.

18. And the Woman whom thou beheldest, is the great City, which has a Kingdom over the Kings of the Earth.

Ver. 4. Uncleaness of her Whoredom] With a very few, which yet Mills declares genuine, being the Uncleanesses of the Whoredom of the Earth; but I am not so easily persuaded to believe, since that is as near to ours, as ours to that in the Gr. and so might as easily be made from ours.

Ver. 8. at seeing] Some have of them who see, and Grot. not disliking, Mills likes so much as to tell us the common was of some Student.

Ib. though he is] by Hammond, although it be, according as the Conjunction signifies, Mills would have an Addition, though it may be rather an Omission in the two Translations he mentions, because of a seeming Inconsistency, and with several is and is to come, which Wall counts sure; but by taking is not as before in the present Time of the Angel's speaking it, and though he is in the present Time of their seeing him, the Difficulty will be removed.

Ver. 9. seven Mountains] There is scarce any Thing in these Prophecies more clear, than that this Place is Rome; being so situated, Virg. Geor. 2. & Æn. 6. Propert. Lib. 3. Eleg. 10.

Ver. 16. on the Beast] But half a Score MSS. three Versions, and an Author have it and the Beast, concerning which Mills himself says, Aqua mihi hæret, that he is at a stand; let Authority then decide it, viz. that of Copies, to which it belongs. But Wesl. has and.

Ver. 17. as likewise to act with one Mind] the Vulg. Lat. and a Copy or two are without, whence Mills gives us his Sentiment, that were it not for the Unanimity of Copies, he should believe it intruded in from Ver. 13. where the Word is indeed the same as in both Places here; but we are not to part with the holy Scripture so lightly.

Ver. 18. over the Kings] What can this be but Papery?

MOREOVER after these Things I beheld another Angel come down from Heaven, who had great Authority, and the Earth was enlightened by his Glory.

2. And he cried out mightily with a loud Voice thus; Babylon the great is fallen, fallen down, and is become the Habitation of Devils, with the Prison of every unclean Spirit, as likewise that of every unclean and hateful Fowl;

3. Because all Nations have drunk of the Wine of the Wrath of her Whoredom, nay the Kings of the Earth have committed Whoredom with her, and the Merchants of the Earth are enriched by the Power of her Delicacies.

4. And I heard another Voice from Heaven as follows: Come out of her, my People, that you may not partake of her Sins, and that you may not receive of her Plagues;

5. Because her Sins have followed on to Heaven, and God has remembered her Injuries.

6. Render to her, even as she rendered to you, nay do it to her double, according to her Deeds: in the Cup which she has poured out, pour out double to her.

7. As much as she has glorified her self, and been delicate, so much Torment and Lamentation give her; since she says in her Heart, I sit a Queen, and am not a Widow, nor shall see Lamentation.

8. For this reason her Plagues will come at one Time, Death, Lamentation and Famine, besides she will be burnt in the Fire; since the Lord God is strong who judges her.

9. And the Kings of the Earth, who have committed Whoredom and been delicate with her, will bewail her, and lament at her, when they see the Smoak of her Burning;

10. While they stand far off for Fear of her Torment, saying, Alas, alas, the great City Babylon, the strong City; since thy Judgment is come at once.

11. And the Merchants of the Earth will weep, and lament at her; since none buys her Cargo any more:

12. The Cargo of Gold, Silver, precious Stone, Pearl, fine Linen, Purple, Silk, Scarlet, all Thyine Wood, all Instruments of Ivory, all those of most precious Wood, of Brass, Iron and Marble,

13. Cinnamon, Incense, Ointment, Frankincense, Wine, Oil, Flour, Wheat, Beasts, Sheep, Horses, Chariots, Slaves, and Persons of Men.

14. And the Fruits of thy Soul's Desire are gone from thee, as are all Things dainty and brilliant, so that thou wilt not find them at all any more.

15. The Merchants of these Things, who have been enriched by her, will stand far off for Fear of her Torment, where they will weep and lament,

16. As also say, Alas, alas, the great City, that was cloathed with fine Linen, Purple and Scarlet, and decked in Gold, precious Stone and Pearls; since so much Wealth is made desolate at once.

17. Every Master likewise, and all the Crew in Ships, with the Sailors, and whoever used the Sea stood far off;

18. And cried out thus, at seeing the Smoak of her Burning, What is like the great City?

19. Besides they threw Earth on their Heads, and cried out, weeping and lamenting, as follows, Alas, alas, the great City, in which all who had Ships in the Sea were enriched by her Excellency; since she is made desolate at once.

20. Rejoice at her, Heaven, with holy Apostles and Prophets; since God has executed your Judgment on her.

21. And one strong Angel took up a Stone, as a great Millstone, and threw down into the Sea, saying; Thus with Violence will Babylon the great City be thrown down, and not be found at all any more.

Ver. 2. with a loud Voice] which Mills reckons spurious, being not in the printed vulg. Lat. (tho' in MSS.) and one obscure Writer, Prod. 510.

Ver. 5. followed in] viz. one another, which some not understanding, and thinking perhaps they could not follow her to Heaven, put it as otherwise read joined; which is harder, and wants the same Interpretation: yet Mills puts that down for right.

Ver. 6. rendered] properly, and rewarded is as if they were the first Aggressors.

Ib. double] for the Heinousness of her Deeds to you, or her wicked Deeds otherwise; not double what she deserved, as the following Words demonstrate.

Ver. 8. judges] Some judged, which Mills thought genuine, because not so proper, Pr. 655.

Ver. 12. Stone] being sing. as Chap. xvii. 4.

Ver. 13. Cinnamon] Mills, from a few that have it, reckoned and Anonum followed.

Ver. 16. Stone] sing. as before, but not Pearls.

Ib. since] being in this Verse.

Ib. made desolate] the same as in Ver. 19.

Ver. 17. all the Crew in Ships] By some Copies, every one that sails in Ships, by others—in a Place, with the vulg. Lat. in lacum, into a Lake; but Grotius thought it should be locum, a Place; yet there is little Colour for either of these Readings to be preferred, and Mills has Vulg. wrong to the former.

Ver. 18. Smoak] in the Vulg. and two or three Copies, Place, so that ours seemed to Mills to have crept from Ver. 9. What a Wilderness of Uncertainty and Confusion would that Way lead into!

22. The Sound too of Harpers, Musicians, Pipers, and Trumpeters will be heard no more at all in thee, and every Tradesman of every Trade will be found no more at all in thee, as will the Sound of a Millstone be heard no more at all in thee;

23. The Light of a Candle likewise will shine no more at all in thee, and the Voice of the Bridegroom and Bride will be heard no more at all in thee: because as thy Merchants were the great Men of the Earth, all Nations were seduced by thy Witchcrafts.

24. In her also the Blood of the Prophets and Saints was found, even of all who were slain on the Earth.

C H A P. XIX.

AND after these Things I heard a great Voice of much Company in Heaven, saying; Praise the Lord; Salvation, Glory, Honour, and Power be to the Lord our God:

2. Because his Judgments are true, and righteous; since he has judged the great Harlot, that corrupted the Earth by her Whoredom, and has revenged the Blood of his Servants on her Hand.

3. And the second time they said, Praise the Lord; then her Smoak went up for evermore.

4. There further fell down the four and twenty Elders, with the four living Creatures, and worshipped God who sat on the Throne, saying, So let it be; praise the Lord.

5. And a Voice came out from the Throne, which said, Praise our God, all his Servants, and those that fear him, little and great.

6. I heard likewise as if it were the Voice of a great Company, even as the Sound of many Waters, and like that of strong Thunders, saying, Praise the Lord; since the Lord God Almighty reigns.

7. Let us be glad and joyful, and render Glory to him; since the Marriage of the Lamb is come, and his Wife has got her self ready.

8. And it was given her, that she should be clothed with pure and clear fine Linen:

for the fine Linen is the righteous Things of the Saints.

9. Then he says to me; Write, They are blessed who are called to the Marriage Supper of the Lamb. Moreover adds he to me, These are the true Words of God.

10. And I fell down before his Feet, to worship him; whereupon he said to me, See, do not; I am a Fellow-servant of thee, and of thy Brethren who have the Testimony of Jesus; worship God: for the Testimony of Jesus is the Spirit of Prophecy.

11. Next I beheld Heaven opened, and lo a white Horse; and he that sat on him was called faithful and true, who judges and fights in Righteousness.

12. And his Eyes were as a Flame of Fire, and on his Head many Diadems; he had also a Name written, which none knew excepting himself.

13. Besides he was clothed with a Garment dipt in Blood, and his Name is called The Word of God.

14. And the Warriors that were in Heaven followed him on white Horses, wearing white and pure fine Linen.

15. Out of his Mouth too goes a sharp Sword, that he may smite the Nations with it, whom he himself will manage with an iron Rod; and he himself treads the Winepress of the Wrath, and Displeasure of Almighty God.

16. He has moreover the Name written on the Garment, and on his Thigh, The King of Kings, and Lord of Lords.

17. I beheld also one Angel standing in the Sun; and he cried out aloud, saying to all the Fowls that fly in the midst of Heaven; Come, and gather together to the Supper of the Great God;

18. That you may eat the Flesh of Kings, the Flesh of Commanders, the Flesh of strong Men, the Flesh of Horses and of those who sit on them, nay the Flesh of all, free and bound, both little and great.

19. Upon this I beheld the Beast, the Kings of the Earth, and their Armies gathered together, to make War with him who sat on the Throne, and with his Army.

Ver. 22. The Sound] as proper, and as after in the Verse.

Ver. 24. even] as is apparently the Sense, however it was that the Translators did not perceive it.

Ver. 2. on her Hand] with which she persecuted.

Ver. 7. joyful] For ἀγαλλώμεθα in the middle Voice, three have ἀγαλλώμεν act. apparently to be like the preceding Χαίρομεν; yet Mills puts that for genuine.

Ver. 8. righteous Things] being plural, and by Doddr.

rendered righteous Acts; who also zealously pleads for it.

Ver. 15. and Displeasure] Some of the Displeasure, and Mills says rightly, as Ch. xvi. 19. but might it not more likely be made to that?

Ver. 16. the Garment] without his here.

Ver. 17. Supper of the Great God] with some great Supper of God, changed into ours Mills says; it is however an Objection that they have it differently.

20. And the Beast was apprehended, and with him the false Prophet, that did Miracles before him, with which he seduced them who received the Mark of the Beast, and such as worshipped his Image: these were both thrown alive into the Lake of Fire burning with Brimstone;

21. And the rest were killed by the Sword of him who sat on the Horse, which went out of his Mouth; and all the Fowls were filled with their Flesh.

CHAP XX.

AFTERWARDS I beheld an Angel come down from Heaven, who had the Key of the Deep, and a great Chain in his Hand.

2. And he took hold of the Dragon, the old Serpent, which is the Devil and Satan, and bound him a thousand Years.

3. Then he threw him into the Deep, and shut him in, nay sealed him up; that he might seduce the Nations no more, till the thousand Years should be accomplished: and after these Things he must be let loose a little while.

4. I also beheld Thrones, with those that sat on them, to whom there was Judgment given; as likewise the Souls of them that were beheaded for the Testimony of Jesus, and for the Word of God, who also had not worshipped the Beast nor his Image, and had not received the Mark on their Forehead and on their Head; so they lived and reigned with Christ a thousand Years.

5. But the rest of the Dead did not live again, till the thousand Years were accomplished: this is the first Resurrection.

6. He is blessed and holy, who has a Part in the first Resurrection; over such the second

Death has no Authority, but they will be Priests of God and Christ, and reign with him a thousand Years.

7. And when the thousand Years shall be accomplished, Satan will be let loose from his Prison.

8. Upon which he will go out to seduce the Nations, that are in the four Corners of the Earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together to War; whose Number is as the Sand of the Sea.

9. And they went up on the Breadth of the Earth, and compassed about the Camp of the Saints, and the beloved City; but there came down Fire from God out of Heaven, and consumed them.

10. The Devil too that seduced them, was thrown into the Lake of Fire and Brimstone, where the Beast and the false Prophet are, and will be tormented Day and Night for evermore.

11. Moreover I beheld a great white Throne, and him who sat on it; from whose Face the Earth and Heaven fled away, and there was not a Place found for them.

12. And I beheld the Dead, little and great, standing before God, and the Books were opened; as also another Book was opened, which is of Life; and the Dead were judged by the Things written in the Books, according to their Deeds.

13. And the Sea gave up the Dead in it, as did likewise Death and Hell the Dead in them; and they were judged according to their respective Deeds.

14. Next Death and Hell were thrown into the Lake of Fire: this is the second Death.

15. And if any one was not found written in the Book of Life, he was thrown into the Lake of Fire.

Ver. 20. both] not in the Ethiop. only, so Mills says was inserted for Explanation; but since that was not wanting, we may conclude it not inserted as he means at all.

Ver. 4. with those] for the sake of Propriety, as he must also behold them.

Ver. 13. the Sea gave up the Dead in it] For it three printed Books have them, and Mills declares very rightly; when it is so manifestly taken (probably by Oversight) from the following, and the other Prints copying the first. But was not this great Author, may my Reader say, wise enough to know that the Sea was not them? Yes, he was too wise for that, wise enough to interpret them to be the Water and Sea, tho' Simplicity would have done better.

In their respective] A common Hebraism; but the only one of this Kind in the Writings of the New Testament.

Ver. 14. Death and Hell were thrown] If John saw some Appearances which represented these, he might suitably see this done; and the Signification may be, that as they had given up their Dead, they should then receive no more. What Doddr. mentions from Archbishop Davenant, that 'to talk of Hell being cast into a Part of itself, is 'downright Nonsense;' does not appear to be unexceptionable Sense it self, nor very reverent to the Scripture: for Hell as it was before, and it is that must be spoken of, might be thrown into another Hell now, according as it is thought the Punishment will differ. So that Doddr. need not have substituted that hard Gr. Word Hades, which in the preceding Ver. he renders the unseen World, which as it comprehends Heaven makes bad Sense here indeed; and on Ch. xxi. 1. he argues from it as it is in the com. Transf.

CHAP. XXI.

I ALSO beheld a new Heaven and Earth : for the first Heaven and Earth were passed away, and there was Sea no more.

2. And I John beheld the holy City, new Jerusalem, come down from God out of Heaven, got ready as a Bride adorned for her Husband.

3. Besides I heard a great Voice out of Heaven say ; Behold the Tabernacle of God is with Men, and he will dwell with them, so that they shall be his People, and God himself will be with them their God.

4. And God will wipe off all Tears from their Eyes, and there shall be Death no more, nor Lamentation, nor Crying, nor will there be Pain any more ; since the first Things are gone away.

5. As likewise he who sat on the Throne said, Behold I make all Things new : and he said to me, Write ; since these Words are true and faithful.

6. He said further to me ; It is done : I am A and Z, the Beginning and the End ; I will give to him that is thirsty, some of the Fountain of the Water of Life for nothing.

7. He who overcomes shall inherit all Things, and I will be a God to him, as he shall a Son to me.

8. But on the other hand for the Fearful, Unbelieving, Abominable, the Murderers, Whoremongers, Sorcerers, Idolaters, and all Liars, their Part is in the Lake that burns with Fire and Brimstone ; which is the second Death.

9. And there came to me one of the seven Angels, who had the seven Vials full of the seven last Plagues, and spoke to me as follows, Come, I will shew thee the Bride, the Lamb's Wife.

10. So he carried me away in the Spirit, upon a great and high Mountain, and shewed me the great City holy Jerusalem, coming down out of Heaven from God ;

11. Which had the Glory of God, and the Light of it was like a very precious Stone, as a Jasper Stone like Crystal ;

12. It had also a great and high Wall, that had twelve Gates, and at the Gates twelve Angels, with Names written on, which are of the twelve Tribes of the Israelites.

13. At the East were three Gates, at the North three Gates, at the South three Gates, at the West three Gates.

14. And the Wall of the City had twelve Foundations, and on them the Names of the twelve Apostles of the Lamb.

15. Moreover he who spoke to me, had a Cane like Gold, that he might measure the City, its Gates, and the Wall of it.

16. And the City lies four-square, with the Length of it as much as the Breadth ; and he measured the City with the Cane at twelve thousand Furlongs : the Length, Breadth, and Height of it are equal.

17. Next he measured the Wall of it a hundred forty four Cubits, by the Measure of the Man, that is of the Angel.

18. And the Building of its Wall was Jasper ; the City was also pure Gold like clear Glass.

19. Nay the Foundations of the Wall of the City were adorned with every precious Stone : the first Foundation was Jasper, the second Sapphire, the third Chalcedony, the fourth Emerald,

20. The fifth Sardonyx, the sixth Sardius, the seventh Chrysolite, the eighth Beryl, the ninth Topaz, the tenth Chrysoprasus, the eleventh Jacinth, the twelfth Amethyst.

21. And the twelve Gates were twelve Pearls, each particular Gate was of one Pearl ; and the Street of the City was pure Gold, as transparent Glass.

22. However I did not behold a Temple in it : for the Lord God Almighty is the Temple of it, with the Lamb.

23. And the City had not Need of the Sun nor Moon, that they should shine in it : for the Glory of God did enlighten it, and the Lamb is the Lamp of it.

Ver. 9. seven Vials] This seven being omitted only in the vulg. Lat. as understood by the other sevens, Mills says it was taken from the last, Proh. 310. which was miss'd in his Notes. Might he not as well have said that seven, because omitted in the Arabick, was taken from this ?

Ver. 10. shewed me] This may seem a visionary Description of the Place of everlasting Happiness, as that mentioned in Ver. 8. is the Place of Misery.

Ib. The latter great some with the Vulg. having not, Mills judges to be of an ill-knowing Scholiast ; but how does it appear that he himself was well-knowing in so judging ?

Ver. 13. at the West]. Some Copies have and before each of the three last.

Ver. 16. twelve thousand Furlongs] 1500 Miles.

Ib. Height] as suited to heavenly Spirits, who want not a Support for their Being, like earthly Bodies.

Ver. 17. Cubits] thick.

Ver. 18. like] namely the City was, but with some the Gold by a Difference of Gender, which latter Mills would have the right ; but I am for the strongest Party.

Ver. 19. second] Our Translators are here liberal of their Points.

Ib. Chalcedony] not with a, as if the Foundation was but one Stone.

Ver. 20. Jacinth] after the Gr. Spelling, like the rest, and being also called Hyacinth, as in Johnson's great Dictionary.

24. The Nations of those too that are saved will walk in the Light of it; and the Kings of the Earth do bring their Glory and Honour into it.

25. And the Gates of it will not be shut at all by Day; though no Night will be there.

26. Besides they will bring the Glory and Honour of the Nations into it.

27. And there will not enter into it at all any Thing that pollutes, or uses Abomination or Falschood; but they who are written in the Lamb's Book of Life.

CHAP. XXII.

AND he shewed me a pure River of the Water of Life, as clear as Crystal, which came out of the Throne of God and the Lamb.

2. In the Middle between its Street and the River, that were at each Side, was the Tree of Life, which yields twelve Fruits, and renders its Fruit each Month; and the Leaves of the Tree were for the Healing of the Nations.

3. And no Curse will be there any more; but the Throne of God and the Lamb will be in it, and his Servants will serve him.

4. Nay they will see his Face, and his Name will be on their Foreheads.

5. Moreover no Night will be there, and they will have no Need of a Candle, or the Light of the Sun; since the Lord God enlightens them, and they will reign for evermore.

6. And he said to me; These Words are true, and faithful; besides the Lord God of the holy Prophets has sent his Angel, to shew his Servants the Things which must quickly be done.

7. Behold I come quickly: he is blessed who keeps the Words of the Prophecy of this Book.

8. Now I John saw these Things, and heard; and when I had heard and seen, I fell down to worship before the Feet of the Angel, who shewed me these Things.

9. Whereupon he says to me, See, do not; for I am a Fellow-servant of thee, and of thy Brethren the Prophets, and of them who keep the Words of this Book; worship God.

10. And he says to me; Do not seal up the Words of the Prophecy of this Book, because the Time is near.

11. Let him that is unrighteous be yet unrighteous, and him that is filthy be yet filthy; as also let him that is righteous be yet righteous, and him that is holy be yet holy.

12. And behold I come quickly; and my Reward is with me, to render to each as his Work shall be.

13. I am A and Z, the Beginning and the End, the First and the Last.

14. They are blessed who do his Commandments, that there may be a Privilege to them in the Tree of Life, and they may enter in at the Gates into the City.

15. For without are Dogs, Sorcerers, Whoremongers, Murderers, Idolaters, and every one that loves and makes a Lye.

Ver. 24. The Nations of those that are saved will walk in the Light of it] But Mills puts for authentick, There will walk the Nations by the Light of it, as some have, and he says of those that are saved is a marginal Exposition; which he knew as much of as another may guess from these Readings, and that might be left out because there is no such to the Kings of the Earth: yet I confess I incline to his Opinion, since Nations may seem transposed to begin this Part, as Kings the next, and to hinder the latter from belonging to walk, in also might be thought more proper than by, tho' in the spiritual Signification it is not.

1b. do bring] by being saved, and coming into this celestial City; as if they honoured it by their Presence, and it was honoured by the saved ones of the Nations (who are truly glorious and honourable) coming thither, Ver. 26.

Ver. 25. though] Since the following can be no Reason for the foregoing, as it is in Ver. 23.

Ver. 1. a pure River of the Water of Life] Hammond says, Baptism is sure exprest by this; which he proceeds to expatiate on, that it was typified in Ezek. xlvii. viz. 5. the being baptized first in any great Pool, where they might be put under Water; afterwards with Fountain Water running into the Font; and so lastly, as we may understand, by Sprinkling, according to Ezek. xlvii. 4, 3. but which unluckily falls out to be backward, and so contrary. In Concurrence with the above he goes on in these Words,

The Throne of the Lamb is that Power which is by Christ enstated on the Governours of the Church, of which the Power of Baptizing being one special Part, this River by which Baptism is exprest is fitly said to proceed out of the Throne. Astonishment, great as it is, will however suffer me to make a small Remark or two, that this is sitting in the Seat of God with a Witness, as in Ezek. xxviii. 2. 2 Thes. ii. 4. for surely Hammond D. D. must be allowed a substantial Witness as here; and that such Exposition of the Scripture required the Authority of no less a Man, and a Governour of the Church, for it to be believed.

Ver. 2. In the Middle between its Street and the River] as Ham. shews, and thus the Gr. stands, with Middle governing and belonging to River as well as Street, and they at each Side like the two Thieves, John xix. 18. where the Gr. is the same; indeed how could the Tree be of either (for each) side of the river? And that there was but one Tree of Life, we may understand by the Figure of it, Gen. ii. 9.

1b. for the Healing] as if invigorating, and supplying with eternal Life.

Ver. 6. has sent] as Wall notes.

Ver. 10. he] God last mentioned; see also Ver. 12, 13, 16.

Ver. 14. do his Commandments] but wash their Robes by a few, and that Mills takes to be genuine, as in Ch. vii. 14. yet how much likelier fetched hither from thence!

16. I Jesus have sent my Angel to testify these Things to you in the Churches : I am the Root and Race of David, the bright and Morning Star.

17. And the Spirit with the Bride say, Come ; let him also who hears say, Come : and let him who is thirsty come, nay let him who is willing receive the Water of Life for nothing.

18. For I testify to every one that hears the Words of the Prophecy of this Book ; If any one shall put to these Things, God will put on him the Plagues written in this Book :

19. And if any one shall take away from the Words of the Book of this Prophecy, God will take away his Part from the Book of Life, and out of the holy City, and of the Things written in this Book.

20. He who testifies these Things says, Yes, I come quickly ; so let it be. Yes, come, Lord Jesus.

21. The Grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all : so let it be.

Ver. 17. receives] as being given ; not take, as if in his own Power.
